ATHER OF JOHN GARNER DIES AT NOON

END CAME AS WHOLE FAMILY WAS PRESENT

Aged Mother of Speaker Had Been Ill For Some Time.

DETROIT, Sept. 20.—Mrs. Sarah Jane Garner, 81-year-old mother of John Nance Garner, democratic candidate for vice president, died here today at 12:25 p. m., after a lingering illness.

The aged woman, feeble and frail, lay in a coma several hours before the end came. She died peacefully.

All of her children were at the bedside. Speaker Garner, her first born, sat beside the four possible heirs to the presidency. Mrs. Garner and Jolly Garner, her other two sons, and Mrs. Maud Blair and Mrs. John Wright, her daughters, all kept a vigil at the family residence when it was learned the end was near.

Speaker Garner had hurried here from Washington when he learned, late last Friday, of his mother's serious illness.

Pluffy, a pet poodle dog, of Mrs. Garner's remained under her sickbed, refusing to eat, during her entire illness.

As Goes Wisconsin?

Wisconsin holds the political stage's center as its voters go to the primaries today. For "kick out the ins" is the result three conservative will replace progressives and the state might lose its national political rating as "the off-ox." In a comeback effort, former Governor Walter Kohler (top right) is opposing Governor Philip LaFollette (top left). The veteran Senator John J. Blaine (below left) has as his opponent John B. Chapple, young editor (below right).

THREE STATES ARE HOLDING PRIMARIES

The last state primaries before the presidential election were held today in Wisconsin, New York and Massachusetts.

National political interest centered on Wisconsin, where contests will determine the strength of the progressive LaFollette organization. In New York the prohibition issue played a prominent part of many of the fights for party nominations.

Gov. J. B. Ely, democratic governor of Massachusetts was unopposed for re-nomination.

Today's climax to the series of state primaries, which have given an insight into the political sentiments of American voters, during this presidential year, will leave the stage free for the national election.

Doctors sought permission of relatives for a post mortem examination of Smith's body. They attributed his death to formic acid, which paralyzed the entire nervous system.

With Roosevelt in West

By United Press.
AUSTIN, Sept. 20.—By resolution, the House of Representatives today called upon the State Highway commission to drop the $1,500,000 "Mineral Wells Cut-Off" and other cut-offs until gaps in state highways are filled and communities without state roads get them. The vote was 66 to 47.

The resolution is a concurrent one and was sent to the Senate for its approval.

The cutoff designated as Highway 89, has been the subject of repeated protests before the highway commission and was a controversy of the recent state political campaign.

Advocates of the cut-off say that it will shorten the Bankhead highway crossing the State from Tetsakana to El Paso, more than 14 miles. Opponents say that if a short route across the state is wanted it should traverse Highway No. 1 through Mineral Wells, follow Highway 1-A through Breckenridge and Albany and Highway 75 through El Paso.

Highway 89 would leave Highway 1 at Millspie and rejoin it three miles south of Strawn. It would leave off the direct route Mineral Wells, Palo Pinto, Strawn, Gadsden, Breckenridge and Albany.

After repeated protests before the highway commission and was a controversy of the recent state political campaign.

Both critics and defenders of the highway department supported the resolution. Rep. E. D. Davis, Brownwood, asserted that the commission was going ahead with cut-offs while counties that had voted bonds to assist in road construction, could not get orders for their work to be done.

Rep. Tom Cunningham of Eastland, Rep. B. J. Forbes of Weatherford and Rep. Walter Beck of Fort Worth, opposed the resolution.

Mahatma Gandhi On Hunger Strike

BOMBAY, India, Sept. 20.—The Mahatma Gandhi, an 84-pound man in a loon cloth, staked his trail, brown body and his life against edicts of the British government today in a "hunger strike."

Gandhi started his strike "unto death" after his most recent trial. The little, brown man, worshipped as a saint by millions, regarded his strike as a call from God.

He has rejected proposals of the Indian government to remove him from his cell and place him in a bungalow under conditions he considered "humiliating."

GRIPINGS

By GUS
The long, drawn out Cisco football suit cost the taxpayers of Grand county something near $200, according to figures compiled by myself.

Twelve jurors drew $27 each for services. The plaintiff, Cisco, is $5 of this amount and the $219 is paid by the county.

A court stenographer, drawing a salary from the county of $250 a month, spent about one-third of a check on the case, making a net of $80. Thus we have $399.

It is assumed that the other $1 and easily has been used up in electric power for the courthouse and for the lights and the heat of the litigation?

H. Flewellen has a new story for the "Blitzkrieg" of one of our state executives.

It seems that he went on a fishing trip and forgot his gun. He phones back to his secretary to get it to him, but couldn't make himself understood over the telephone. After repeated attempts the secretary understood that he wanted his gun, he tried calling it for him.

"Gun" he shouted, "G-U-N."

As in Jesus, U as in onion, N as pneumonia.

Robert Murphy and I worked by side for several years in a radio horn-tooting organization.

Our friendship we formed went on rocks when he opened a sandwich shop and wouldn't let me in.

He named it the Shamrock over my protest. I wanted to call it Murphy's Joint. He refused it because he wanted to call it Murphy's Joint.

Chief Murphy says they are going to give away free sandwiches this week to high school students under the age of three.

McGeehan Is On Trial For Ranger Burglary

Chester McGeehan is being tried in the 91st district court, Eastland, on a charge of burglary in connection with the taking of a truck load of groceries from Vernon McEheeh's garage in Ranger on May 13, 1932.

A jury was selected Monday and the testimony was taken.

The testimony will show that a car was out in the sheet-iron building housing the Deffebach garage and the prowlers took a truck loaded with groceries belonging to Waples-Platter Grocery company which had been loaded and stored during the night in order to get an early morning start.

The truck and some valuable goods were taken from the Deffebach garage.

The truck was found near the Deffebach garage and the next day its contents missing and the tire taken off.

The next night the Woods filling station was entered and shortly before the latter robbery a car was seen nearby. The car was described and located the next day.

Officers went to the owner of the car, Albert Kellar, and conducted an investigation from which they obtained clues as to the location of the foot of the previous night's robbery.

Both county officers at Thursday were notified and they went to the house of Charlie McGeehan, who lives from Thibault, where the groceries "rising from the Waples-Platter truck were found.

Man Is Held On Charge of Entering Box Car

A man giving his name as Fred Spears and his residence as Fort Worth was charged with burglary in Justice of the Peace McFatter's court in Ranger this morning after his arrest in the Texas & Pacific freight yards in Ranger.

Spears was found opening a box car that had been sealed and which contained automobiles on interstate shipment. He was captured by Brakeman Hawks and held until Officers Pledger and Kouch arrived. He was turned over to John Barnes this morning and lodged in the county jail for safe-keeping.

Special Officer Bates of the Texas & Pacific railroad, was in Ranger this morning investigating the case. He had fingerprints taken of the suspect, which were sent to Fort Worth for identification.

The man denied the charge of burglary.

Bullington to Be Invited to Speak in Ranger

Efforts are being made by local Republicans to have Orville Bullington, Republican candidate for governor of Texas, to make a speaking date for Ranger during the merchants carnival that is being planned for the first week in October.

W. D. Gansay and J. E. Meroney have gotten in touch with republican headquarters at Fort Worth in an effort to have speaking dates changed in order that Mr. Bullington might appear here during that week.

Many Democrats, who have never heard a talk by a Republican candidate, are as enthusiastic over the prospect of getting the candidate as are the Republicans, and an invitation for him to speak in Ranger is being forwarded to his campaign headquarters.

Singing School to Be Held in Ranger

GENERAL MITCHELL ON THE JOB

Attorney General William D. Mitchell is on the job. He made an investigation. He reported results to President Hoover. He declared a big percentage of the bonus marchers driven out of Washington by the regular army were criminals, that they had police records as well as communistic records. Place this excerpt from the Mitchell report in the records: "The bonus army which gathered here last summer probably brought into the city of Washington the largest aggregation of criminals that have ever been assembled in the city at one time."

There were thousands of American Legionnaires in the city of Portland, in far away Oregon. Fifty thousand will attend a national convention. Secretary of War Patrick Hurley was there. Captain McSwain of the United States secret service was there. According to the press dispatches, the gallant captain was placed in charge of a detail of federal officers that guarded Secretary Hurley during his visit to the Legion convention. Why armed guards for a cabinet officer or any other political functionary? This isn't Russia. This isn't Mexico. This is a democracy and its government is made by a free people.

How is it that the reds never appear in America except in presidential election years? It is easy to make short work of a red. There are lamp posts in every American city. There are national guardsmen, sheriffs and constables and police in all the cities and towns. On the front page daily appears a record of crimes and criminals. They are not red-flaggers. They do not owe allegiance to foreign governments. They are, for the most part, made in America - are naturalized Americans.

A RUSH TO COTTAGES IS PREDICTED

Edward M. Craig of Chicago is a genius. In addition, he is a very imaginative person. He holds down the job of secretary of the Chicago Building association. After reading the stars, he predicts that an American crop of babies this year will stimulate the building industry. "As a measure of economy," he said, "many young couples are living in furnished rooms, but before long, especially when the baby crop is harvested, there is going to be a rush to cottages and apartments and this means building." Secretary Craig thus contributed to "The Cheerful Little Earful" column of the daily newspaper.

TEXAS A PRODUCER OF COTTON

There has been a forecast made by the federal-state crop reporting service. Texas cotton yield this year is placed at 141 pounds applied to 30,908,000 acres for harvest thus giving the state's production 4,092,000 bales. Commissioner of Agriculture McDonald predicts a consumption of 12,500,000 bales. He sees no reason why there should have been a slump in the price of cotton and charges it up to the manipulators. He didn't name the manipulators but he said with a lot of emphasis on his words that they were responsible for the slump. Really the goat crop is very large this year.

San Diego, Calif., has adopted a novel way of attracting the attention of the world that she is to hold a centennial exposition in 1934. It is done by using a photograph of a charming telephone operator for the San Diego Consolidated Gas & Electric Company and using it on posters and advertisements and advertising matter under the caption "Fair Booster." This idea will bring much profitable publicity to San Diego and her centennial exposition.

In 1850 the world was exceedingly large. News from Washington reached California weeks after it happened. Today the world is exceedingly small. News reaches there often before those a mile from Capitol Hill hear it.

Live business men are always busy even in dull seasons, because they ADVERTISE!

If you mean business, tell about your business by advertising!

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK

By EDSON R. WAITE, Shawnee, Oklahoma

E. L. McKINSTRY, editor of the West Chester (Pa.) Daily Local News, says:

"Did you ever stop to think that advertising is the polite introduction between buyer and seller?"

"In this field no other factor can take the place of the newspaper, which enters the home as a regular essential feature of the family, and is also a part of the commercial life of the neighborhood."

"Under present day conditions a chief object is to make the process of advertising easy. Most merchants and other men who handle large sums of money are too much concerned with the actual sales and collections to study the fine art and detail of advertising, but one thing they do understand to perfection is its stimulating effect upon trade. On this account the newspaper gives special aid when the advertiser would express himself to the public."

"Many papers belong to the Audit Bureau of Circulation, a system under which guarantee is given regarding the paper's 'coverage,' showing how many copies are actually circulated and among what classes of readers. At a glance the business man can be shown just what the newspaper offers to do for him and, when convinced, he expresses a willingness to try."

"Mat service, including illustrations, especially arranged type faces and a complete layout of his particular line of business are submitted to him free of charge, showing just how his advertisement will look when it appears in the paper. This enables him to present his case clearly and effectively before the reader, stressing those facts and prices which are most impressive."

"Thus the newspaper invites and assists the upturn of business, and from every quarter of the nation word comes just now, when business is generally regarded as picking up, that there is a wholesome influence on the commercial man's cash drawer and bank account."

R. J. C. SQUAD WILL START PRACTICE

TWENTY-FIVE MEN EXPECTED TO COME OUT

Plans Made For Team, Suits And Equipment Will Be Ready Soon.

Coach Tricky Ward of the Ranger Junior College football team, which as yet has not been given an official name, announced Monday night after a meeting in the office of the chamber of commerce that football practice for the team would start this afternoon, either on the grounds outside the Bulldog field or on the baseball diamond on Caddo road.

The team will be made up of a number of former high school stars who are now registered in the Ranger Junior college and others who are expected to enroll within the next few days. Tentative games have been matched with other schools in this part of the country and the team is expected to be ready to start its schedule within a comparatively short time as many of the players have been keeping in training in expectation of the organization of the team.

Suits were to be ordered today and will be in Ranger in time for the team to have scrimmage practice in the very near future. For the time being the men will work out in old clothes, Coach Ward said last night, and signals will be practiced and exercises given to keep the men in good condition. At the meeting Monday night it was pointed out that the prospects for the team were good since there were a number of good players left in school. A squad of approximately 25 men is expected to start working out right away with others added in the next few days.

Coach Ward was enthusiastic over the prospects of the team, even though this will be the first season the junior college has maintained a team.

Dean Van Roeder said that he was very hopeful for the good the team will do to the school because he knew, personally, of several football players who would have registered in the school this year if the college had been in operation for the football team earlier. He predicted that the enrollment would be increased as much next year as it had increased this year, because of the additional advertising the school will receive through the football team.

Plans were also discussed at the meeting for ways and means of helping the athletic committee support the band this year. It was recommended at the meeting that the athletic committee of the high school donate $50 for the year to ward the support of the band because of the fact that the band was such an important part of the football games. This recommendation was to be carried back to the athletic committee for consideration.

It was voted that an athletic committee, composed of one member from the Lions, Rotary, and Elks clubs, American Legion, Chamber of Commerce and the Retail Merchants association be appointed by the president of each organization to function as a permanent athletic committee for the Ranger Junior college.

A committee was at work Monday afternoon and again this morning soliciting funds from the merchants and business men of the town to make by the initial payment on the uniforms, and it was reported that the committee was meeting with wonderful success. It was estimated that the equipment for the schools would cost about $500, part of which could be taken care of by the receipts from the games to be played.

It has not been announced, as yet, which games will be first on the Ranger Junior college schedule, but as complete a schedule as possible is to be worked out with the various junior colleges of this section of the country.

Judge Davenport's Opinion In Cisco Case, Giving the Loboos Right To Take Part in Oil Belt

The Cisco Loboos will be a contender in the 1932 race for the high school football championship of Texas according to a ruling given yesterday by Hon. George L. Davenport, judge of the 91st district court.

Cisco was suspended from the league by the state committee after a series of hearings in connection with the playing of Fred Hightower, passer and ball carrier formerly of Corsicana. The committee satisfied itself that Hightower was not in school in Cisco for a period of 30 days prior to the game Cisco played with Breckenridge on Oct. 23, 1931, in which Cisco was victorious and used the challenged player.

The district committee composed of representatives of schools in the Oil Belt district met on the evening of Nov. 19 and the evidence presented before that indicated that Hightower was eligible and the results of the game were left in status quo.

Later, more evidence came to light and on Dec. 4 the committee met and heard and examined the evidence and ruled that Hightower was ineligible and reversed its former decision, awarding the game to Breckenridge.

The district committee held another meeting on Feb. 27, 1932, at which time a resolution was passed which recommended to the state committee that Cisco be suspended from the league for a period of one year. The state committee, after a private investigation conducted by Roy Henderson, secretary of the interscholastic league, during which Henderson made visits to Cisco and to Tyler and satisfied himself as to the true facts concerning certain conflicting statements made by the officials of the Cisco and Tyler schools, voted to suspend Cisco according to the recommendations of the district committee.

The Cisco independent school district then filed suit in the 91st district court asking for $10,000 damages and requesting the court to issue a mandatory injunction to force the district committee to include the Cisco team in its playing schedule for the 1932 season. The suit came to trial on Sept. 5 and has been before the court until yesterday. A jury heard the evidence and the arguments of the attorneys and 13 special issues were given the jury for decision. The jury was able to agree on only five of these special issues and was discharged last Tuesday. The court took the case under advisement and agreed to hear the arguments of opposing attorneys on last Saturday. The day was consumed by the opposing arguments, each citing references and reasons why the case should be decided in their favor.

Monday afternoon, Judge Davenport rendered judgment in the case, reinstating Cisco and charging the costs of the suit against the defendants, L. E. Dudley et al., meaning the other members of the district committee and members of the state committee. In his formal ruling on the case, Judge Davenport gave a brief resume of the evidence presented by both parties and concluded with this statement:

Judge Davenport Gives Opinion.
"By me of the opinion from all the evidence before me that the action of the district board on Feb. 27, 1932, wherein it recommended to the state board the suspension of Cisco was without legal effect, and that the board was acting without jurisdiction of the subject matter; and that by reason of the district committee had no authority or jurisdiction to make such recommendation to the state board; and that since the state board had no jurisdiction in the absence of such recommendation by the district board, in turn the state board acquired no jurisdiction over the matter in controversy, and that at the several hearings before the state board, the state board was acting without jurisdiction or authority; and hence the order of that board was of no legal force or effect."

"It has been contended that Cisco, having participated in the hearings before the state board, would of itself be sufficient to give the state board jurisdiction. I am unable to concur in this contention, but from the rules quoted above (in his resume of evidence the rules are recited), I am convinced that a recommendation from the district board, acting without authority, was the only act that could give the state board jurisdiction."

"Many of the issues discussed before the court, in my opinion, and not necessary for the determination of this suit, and will not be given further consideration. There are charges of unfair dealing among the various members of the district board which, in my opinion, are not sustained by the evidence, and at this time I desire to make the statement that in my judgment and opinion, every member of the district board throughout the entire transaction has acted in perfect good faith, with the interest of the district at heart, and that at no time was there any effort on the part of any member of the board to deal unfairly with the Cisco school."

"The decision I have reached is based upon the irregularities of the board in dealing with this matter, and not upon the theory that any was sought or taken against the Cisco school. It is not surprising that such errors have been pointed out were made by the district board, as the board is made up of school superintendents over the district, who are busy with school affairs, which is a serious responsibility and requires the time and attention of those who are charged with this responsibility. This board, too, was acting without sufficient guide from the state board, as is quite apparent from the rules offered in evidence, and many of the matters with which this board is required to deal are not covered by or included in the printed rules. A revision of these rules should unquestionably be made by the state board. . . . In fairness to the district boards and to the schools of the league."

"It is therefore the judgment of this court that Cisco independent school district be reinstated in the Interscholastic League, with all the privileges incident thereto, and that it have the relief prayed for in connection with its reinstatement; that the plaintiff recover nothing in its suit as against the members of the state and district boards for alleged damages, and that the plaintiff recover its costs against the defendants herein.

"GEO. L. DAVENPORT.
"Judge of the 91st District Court."

SPEAKING OF SPORTS

By GEORGE KIRKSEY, United Press Staff Correspondent, Veteran Cubs Play Part In Success of Club.

Seven members of the pennant-winning 1929 Chicago Cubs are important cogs in the 1932 team. They are Charlie Grimm, now manager of the team, Woody English, Riggs Stephenson, Kiki Cuyler, Charley Root, Guy Bush and Pat Malone.

Those seven players helped win the flag for the Cubs in 1929 and they are doing the same thing in 1932. They are now out of baseball. Wilson is now out of baseball. Wilson is now managing the New York Yankees.

The most important additions to the Cubs since they won the pennant in 1929 are Lon Warneke, Billy Herman, Johnny Moore, Bob Smith, Burleigh Grimes, Bill Jurgens and Mark Koenig.

The pitching staff in 1929 was composed of Root, Bush, Malone, Carlson, Blake and Nehf. The 1932 pitching staff is made up of Warneke, Root, Bush, Malone, Smith, Grimes and Tinning. Root with 13 victories and nine defeats, was the team's pitching ace in 1929, while Warneke, ace of the 1932 team, has a chance to win 23 or 24 games.

The only change in the Cubs' outfield is in center where Johnny Moore and Frank Demaree alternate against right and left hand pitching, respectively. In the infield English has moved from short to third, and Koenig, a recent acquisition from the Coast League, has won the shortstop berth from Bill Judges. Billy Herman is filling in at Hornsby's old position.

Gabby Hartnett, who was laid up in 1929 with an injured shoulder, has caught most of the Cubs' games, with occasional help from Rollie Hemsley. In 1929 Zach Taylor, now ball-pen catcher, Gonzales, Schulte and Grace performed behind the bat.

P. B. Bittle, superintendent of the Eastland schools, said in connection with the reinstatement of Cisco in the interscholastic league, that no move would be made to make out a new playing schedule until this district committee had conferred with the state committee. According to news dispatches from Cisco, Coach Elkins is standing to let the playing dates stand as arranged with the other teams in the district and will play on the dates that other teams in the district have open already.

The announcement of the ruling of Judge Davenport was received in Cisco with great joy. An impromptu parade was organized and players and fans drove up and down the streets in the business district of town shouting and blowing sirens.

Alice—Household Furniture formally opened its store here on Main street.

PEEPING THRU THE KNOTHOLE with BILL MAYES

This Cisco eligibility business is getting as complicated as a democratic primary election in Texas. In other words we can't figure it out ourselves and have not been able to find anyone who can.

Judge Davenport has ruled that Cisco is entitled to cavort upon the gridirons of the Oil Belt. The district and state executive committees have ruled that Cisco can't. Does the court have jurisdiction over the case, and if so, what is the next step? Those are the questions that have been hurled at us from every side and we have the same answer for all. "Who knows?"

If the appeal is filed and the ruling of the court is sustained will the state committee be in contempt of court if a new schedule is not worked out with Cisco included? Will the whole mess be straightened out in time for the opening of the Oil Belt schedule early in October, and if so when?

Does the ruling of the judge have any bearing on future games? In other words can we team go ahead and play a man whether he is declared eligible or not? Our answer to all these questions, asked us in the last few hours, is the same. We don't know and do not know anyone who does.

It is freely predicted that the case will be appealed by the state or the district committee. As this is written we have been trying to find a knothole through which we could peep and find something bearing on the subject. Prof. Holway or Prof. Bittle of Eastland have not passed our favorite long-fingering plan and we have not been able to find out anything from them. One or two members of the school board have predicted that the case will be appealed immediately, though their opinions are guesses, just as ours would be.

But to get back to something about which someone knows something.

The Ranger Junior College is to have a football team real soon. The committee met last night and announced that definite plans had been made, suits and equipment is to be ordered today and the members of the team are to start working out under the direction of Tricky Ward this afternoon, either outside Lillard field or on the baseball field on Caddo road. The first workouts will be done in work clothes until the uniforms arrive and will be in the nature of exercises and preliminary signal practice. Coach Ward has not announced what system he will advocate, but he had plenty of good material on hand to make a good team.

H. S. Von Roeder is enthusiastic over the prospects of a good team and predicts that the team will add much to the enrollment of the college in the next year or two. He says that he met several players of high school teams that passed up the junior college because they would not be able to participate in football and other athletics.

The list of former football stars from the high school gridirons who have already enrolled makes a pretty good paper team. There will be James Steed, Weaver Aishman, Onus Mills, Roy Stevens, Dick Murray, Scott Key Jr., Sid Fairchild, Cecil Townsend, Don Fahie, Roymond Buchanan, Evis Landers, Roy Weaver, Weldon Rains, Bob King, Estes Horton, Seth Hubbard, and probably several others who have intimated they would enter Ranger Junior College if a team was organized.

We watched Bob King and Roy Stevens work out one day last week and they both look better than they ever did when in high school. Many of the others will

by R. G. MONTGOMERY

Stan Ball, an agent for cattle interests, faces Asper Delo in his office in the city. Asper is accused by the cattle men of infringing on their range with his timber cutting. Ball accuses Delo of crooked work at his Three Rivers camp. He accuses Delo of having used the who try to check up on him. Ball says he is going up to make a check himself. Delo retorts that he will personally see that Ball does not.

Standing before the office building Stan Ball sees kidnapers slip a girl into a car. He catches the car and saves Dona Delo, Asper's daughter. When he learns who she is he slips away after telling her he is Stanley Black.

Dudley Winters, in love with Dona, agrees to assist Delo back off his wild trip to Three Rivers if she will marry him. She gives him some encouragement.

Dona goes with Dudley. They stop at Seth Doby's place. Doby refuses to help Dona but says Asper has been there and that he was ready for a killing.

Dudley puts a plan to Dona. She is to marry him at Doby's place. Asper can hardly go on with a manhunt under those circumstances. Reluctantly, Dona agrees. Dudley has been there and that he was ready for a killing.

Dona rose and faced Swergin. "There is more than a desire for a report back of all this. What is the assembly of boys and girls play the violin and saxophone."

The session comes as one of the largest attended and profitable thus far in the early fall season.

"Nature in the Raw is seldom MILD"
—and raw tobaccos have no place in cigarettes

They are not present in Luckies... the mildest cigarette you ever smoked

WE buy the finest, the very finest tobaccos in all the world—but that does not explain why folks everywhere regard Lucky Strike as the mildest cigarette. The fact is, we never overlook the truth that "Nature in the Raw is Seldom Mild"—so these fine tobaccos, after proper aging and mellowing, are then given the benefit of that Lucky Strike purifying process, described by the words—"It's toasted". That's why folks in every city, town and hamlet say that Luckies are such mild cigarettes.
