GOV. STERLING'S SUIT DENIED BY COURT

PEEPING THRU THE KNOTHOLE

with BILL MAYES

Election verdicts of juries and decisions of district executive committees are about as uncertain as the cotton market or the outcome of a football game.

Last Saturday, over in district 2 the district committee ruled that Red Sheridan of Sweetwater would be ineligible this year because he played on the Sweetwater Roosters of 1928. Yesterday the district committee of district 2 met in Eastland and decided that Glenn Wyatt would be eligible this year because he played on the Sweetwater Roosters of 1928. Today the committee of district 2 are to meet again to decide whether they were right or wrong in deciding that Red Sheridan was ineligible for playing four years of football.

Roy Heideron says he is. Committees of district 2 say he is not. Committees of district 3 said that they had what chance to change their minds, if any.

One big advantage the Ranger Junior College Texas Rangers have is that there is little, if any, chance of anyone protesting the eligibility of any player. This may mean the death of high school football and the growing popularity of junior college contests. Ranger may have to get their football in the future, from the junior college, because there have been dire threats from the interscholastic league that the league might be abandoned. It is more than a threat. It is a statement of facts, provided certain things are not done by the courts of the land. It is a deplorable condition, but one that cannot be blamed on the district committee or the state committee, but directly up to the officials of the Cisco public schools. Everyone would hate to see an end of high school football, but the end has been in sight for some time.

The Rangers, by the way, are anxious for their contest with Cisco on Friday.

Regardless of the right or wrong of the Cisco controversy, the Lobos will present some stiff competition for the Rangers. The good game is in prospect in Ranger Friday afternoon. Real football weather is upon us, and should hold out until Friday Coach Bull Elkins' Lobos and Coach Ward's Rangers should be in fine shape for the game. The Rangers are the strong A. C. G. freshman team at Cisco Saturday night by a score of 7 to 0 and reports indicate that they looked like contenders in the Oil Belt, when and if they get back in the league.

Yesterday afternoon we went to Eastland to try to find out something about when, who, why and where the Mavericks are to play this week-end. We found the ball park locked so tightly that we could find nary a knothole large enough to get a good insight on anything. We saw a large squad of rather husky looking players standing around someone we imagined was Coach Gibson, but were unable to find out anything. The secrecy with which the Mavericks are practicing is not going to help late receipts of backing of the team to any great extent as we could find no one who knew what they were doing or seemed to be much interested. Watching the practice sessions lends interest to the game and keeps many fans anxious to see the team in action. However, we presume Coach Gibson knows best. Anyway, we intended writing a story about where they play this week and were unable to get any dope of my kind.

The Rangers should draw a large crowd for their first game or two or three reasons. In the first place it will be the first game of the season for Ranger. It will also be the first game for the junior college this year. It will also be the first opportunity the fans of this section will have of seeing the Lobos in action, and here is always much interest in the Lobos, both in Cisco and Ranger.

If you don't go out Friday you will be one of the few who miss a game that is hoped to be one of the best to be played in Ranger this year.

5 CENT TACKLE NETS FISH
FORT WORTH—Jack Flanagan's return on his 15 cent investment was good. For the three fish he bought a hook and line, and then went fishing. He caught a 5-pound channel catfish, and added it to a croppie hook.

ATHENS—United Compress & Warehouse Co., under local management of Wilson Alexander, 214 headquarters here, opened a storage shed for purpose of having bonded warehouses.

SUPERSEDEAS BOND SET BY BO DAVENPORT

Bond was set at $5,000 by Judge George L. Davenport in the case of Cisco versus the executive committee of the third district of the interscholastic league. The action of the court was accepted by attorneys for the committee who stated that the bond would be filed and the appeal will be prosecuted. This procedure on the part of the committee means that the Cisco football team will not take part in any conference games until the case is finally decided or not for one year in case the decision should go against Cisco. Another possible result is that the higher court might fail to reach the case before the season is over and of course Cisco would have to remain out until the case is acted upon by that court.

The case was called at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. The financial records of the district for last year were placed in evidence by E. J. Woodward, superintendent of the Brownwood schools; O. G. Lanier of the Ranger high school; L. E. Dudley, principal of the Abilene high school; J. S. Bailey, principal of the Breckenridge high school; W. P. Palm, principal of the Eastland high school and W. F. Walker, secretary for the board of the Cisco schools. This evidence tended to show that the net proceeds of the Cisco high school from the football season of 1931 would have been about $1,500.

Taking this evidence as a basis, and the further fact that the price of tickets had been reduced from 75 cents to 50 cents this year, V. T. Seaberry and Robert Holloway, attorneys for the committee, argued that $1,500 would be a reasonable expectation for Cisco for this season and that the bond should be set in a sum not to exceed this amount.

Earl Conner, attorney representing the interest of Cisco, placed before the court the argument that, since all the conference games except one would have been played in Cisco this year and since there was a possibility that Cisco might go into the semifinals or finals of the contest and since there was evidence by L. E. Dudley that participation in these finals increased the net proceeds of the team, the bond should be set at a higher figure.

At the conclusion of the argument Judge Davenport remarked that he would not like to lessen the dignity of the case by making the bond too small, therefore he would set the amount at $5,000. Attorney Seaberry accepted the decision on the part of the committee, thanked the court and proceeded to complete arrangements for the bond to supersede the former judgment of the court, and to prosecute the appeal in the higher courts.

Heister Returns From Veteran Meet
J. B. Heister, district deputy commander of the 17th district of Spanish American War Veterans, has returned to Ranger from a trip with Col. A. A. King, state commander of the organization in which they visited the Breckenridge and Mineral Wells camps.

A meeting of Spanish war veterans of this section was held in Breckenridge, at which a good attendance was present. The meeting was held on Monday night.

On Tuesday night the officials of the veterans' organization were entertained by the Kiwanis Club of Mineral Wells, at which a good crowd of veterans was present.

BANK CALL MADE.
AUSTIN, Oct. 5.—The state banking department today issued a call for conditions of state banks to be filed and including the close of business on Sept. 30.

ART CARNIVAL SUCCESS.
KANSAS CITY, Mo.—An open-air art carnival held by Kansas City artists declared a success, even though it netted only $850 in pictures and statues. It gave Kansas Citizens an appreciation of local talent, sponsors said. One artist traded a landscape in oil for 40 rose bushes. A lover of art, artist's work got painting for nothing. He stole it.

POTATOES AT 16¢ A BUSHEL.
ALLIANCE, Neb.—George Miller, large scale western Nebraska potato grower, has announced he will sell his crop at 10 cents per bushel to anyone who will come to his farm and pick up the potatoes plowed out of the ground. Miller states he has 10,000 bushels of the tubers to be dug.

A Real "Mud Pack"—Not for Beauty!

Plenty of mud baths were given, but little beauty came out of them, when the first and second semester boys in Los Angeles Junior College met in their annual tangle on the campus. The youth at the bottom of the pile on the left seems to be getting more than his fair share of the ooze, although there was enough for all.

AL SMITH AND ROOSEVELT IN ACCORD NOW

ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 5.—Alfred E. Smith, grinning, fighting and happy, shook hands with Franklin D. Roosevelt last night, urged his election as president and dramatically ended a personal feud that also may reunite party factions in New England and elsewhere before Nov. 8.

The two men had been battling for two days in behalf of a mutual friend, Col. Herman H. Lehman, the lieutenant governor they wish to have Roosevelt elected.

Governor Roosevelt was seated on the platform, just returned from a campaign tour in the west. Smith came to the platform to make the speech placing Lehman in nomination.

"The happy warrior" grinned, stepped across the platform, extended his hand to the governor and shook it vigorously. "How are you, you old potato!" a characteristic affectionate greeting the 1928 candidate saves for old friends.

The crowd roared. The cheering, stamping and whistling continued for 10 minutes. The two men stood still.

"Al, this is from the heart," Roosevelt offered.

"Frank, that goes for me, too." The cameramen's flashlights boomed.

LONESOME COWBOY IS A VISITOR IN RANGER
Roy McDaniel, the Lonesome Cowboy, who presented a program at the Ranger High school chapel last week, was a visitor in Ranger again this morning.

He said that he was enroute to Abilene and would return through Ranger tomorrow enroute to Mineral Wells, where he had engagements to play and sing on Thursday and Friday nights.

Mrs. Jack Rapp Dies While On Visit Back Home

Word was received in Ranger this morning that Mrs. Jack Rapp, wife of Jack Rapp, manager of the United States Torpedo company of Ranger, had died at Tunnelton, Pa., this morning at 9 o'clock.

Mr. Rapp said this afternoon that he was leaving for Tunnelton immediately and funeral services would probably be held Friday, after his arrival.

Mrs. Rapp had been visiting in Pennsylvania for about six weeks and her death came as quite a shock to her friends in Ranger.

Cold Adds to the Suffering in Valley

BROWNSVILLE, Texas, Oct. 5.—A north wind, whipping down off middle-western states and carrying temperatures in the southwest below normal, added today to the suffering of hundreds in the flooded Rio Grande valley.

The wind added to the woes of levee guards, who patrolled 20 miles of buttresses in the neighborhood of McAllen and Mercedes. Waves pounding for the last 24 hours against the levees weakened the protecting wall but a survey at noon showed no serious breaks.

Water was encroaching the little town of Lyford in Willicy county, northeast of here, from three sides. It was feared the town would be inundated this afternoon.

WATERMELON WEIGHED SIXTY-FIVE POUNDS

MARYSVILLE, Cal.—A watermelon of the Tom Watson variety, weighing 65 pounds, has been produced on the J. J. Simpson ranch, near here. It is believed to be the largest ever produced in Northern California.

RANGER READY FOR BIG OPENING OF FREE TRADES CARNIVAL ON MAIN STREET

The streets of Ranger have been decorated with bunting and flags, booths have been erected and there are in process of construction and a big time is being planned for tonight when the Ranger Free Trades Carnival gets under way.

GARNER RAPS HOOVER FOR STATEMENTS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5.—Speaker John N. Garner, democratic vice presidential candidate, today challenged President Hoover's Des Moines speech, asserting that the president had blocked measures which would have prevented farm mortgage foreclosures.

"In view of Mr. Hoover's former promises," Garner said, "either his sincerity or his ability to make good his latest promises is seriously open to question."

Garner said the president had not informed him last spring of the treasury report that the nation was in danger of being driven off the gold standard within a fortnight.

"He is still using those long range glasses which reveal nothing except what occurs in foreign lands," Garner continued. "It seems impossible for him to focus then upon his own country in an effort to ascertain the real cause and effect of the depression."

Junior College Has 116 Students

H. S. Van Reeder, dean of the Ranger Junior college, announced today that the enrollment had reached 116 with the matriculation of Mrs. W. D. R. Owen of Eastland and Miss Myrtle Stiles of East City.

Enrollment crossed Monday and other students will be taken into the college for the present term, Mr. Van Reeder said.

BULLINGTON WILL RESUME HIS ITINERARY

Announcement was made over long distance today from Orville Bullington's headquarters that he would resume his speaking tour on Thursday morning and would appear in Eastland and Ranger at the scheduled time.

The candidate cancelled several speaking dates on receipt of word that his mother was seriously ill at Weatherford. This morning his mother was showing improvement and he planned to leave Weatherford early Thursday morning, driving through to Anson, where the regular itinerary would be taken up.

The speaking engagement at Abilene tonight was cancelled, but will be filled at a later date. The Abilene engagement was postponed because of a revival meeting and because of the illness of Mr. Bullington's mother.

Thursday morning the candidate will appear in Anson at 9 o'clock; at Stamford at 10; Albany at 11:30; Baird at 1:30; Putnam at 2:30; Cisco at 3:30; Eastland at 5 o'clock and will make the principal address of the day at Ranger at 7:30.

When the candidate appears in Ranger he will be met by a delegation of citizens who have been instrumental in getting him to include Ranger on his itinerary. The speaking will be held at 7:30 on Main street on the grounds being used by the big trades carnival.

The candidate will speak, for the first time during his campaign, on the oil situation, outlining his views on how matters pertaining to the industry should be handled to the best advantage. Henry Zweifel, campaign manager for Bullington, and a number of oil men from Fort Worth and other sections of the country are planning on meeting the candidate in Ranger to hear his talk touching upon this subject.

On leaving Ranger the candidate will make short talks at Carbon, Gorman, DeLeon, Dublin, Coscinche, Santa Anna, Coleman and Brownwood on Friday, making the principal address of the day at Brownwood.

Cars Needed to Take Ranger Band To Ft. Worth Game

R. L. Maddox, director of the Ranger High School Band, announced today that about five cars were needed to furnish transportation for the band to the Ranger-Fort Worth football game Friday.

Anyone who has a car for one or more of the members of the band is urged to get in touch with Mr. Maddox so that arrangements can be made to take the band boys to Fort Worth. Half the car expenses are being paid by the band for anyone who gives a ride to a member of the organization, Mr. Maddox said.

ECLIPSE IMPAIRS EYESIGHT

BOSTON.—The Massachusetts Eye and Ear infirmary has treated several cases of impaired sight, traceable to the total eclipse of the sun of Aug. 31. Victims are those who, unheeding warnings, gazed for several minutes at the sun without the protection of smoked glass prior to and immediately after totality. According to Dr. Frederick H. Verbeek, in some extreme cases the impairment may be permanent.

15,824 PERSONS SEEK OFFICE.

BOSTON.—No less than 15,824 candidates sought public office in the recent Massachusetts primaries. The record number was attributable to the depression, it was believed, since the names of many jobless appeared on the ballots. In the third district, 52 persons—25 republicans and 24 democrats—sought a single seat in the house of representatives.

HARD LUCK RECORD CLAIMED

PONCA CITY, Okla.—Marion Edis still claims the hard luck record of the high school. Last year at the start of football season Marion broke his leg in scrimmage; this year he received a broken in the season's first practice.

CHILD DIES FROM BURNS

DETROIT.—For 140 days 6-year-old Phyllis Augustiniak fought an apparently winning battle against burns received while playing with matches. Then she was told she couldn't return to school. She died a few days later.

Insull, Jr., Sails; Avoids U. S. Quiz

On the eve of the inquiry by state and federal authorities in Chicago into the two bankrupt Insull investment trusts he headed, Samuel Insull, Jr., son of the utilities magnate, suddenly sailed for Paris. Friends of the family reported that his mother is seriously ill there. Young Insull is the fourth member of the family to leave the United States. An uncle, Martin Insull, is in Canada.

HOOVER ON WAY BACK TO WASHINGTON

EN ROUTE TO WASHINGTON, D. C., WITH PRESIDENT HOOVER, Oct. 5.—President Hoover launched a fighting campaign for re-election today, encouraged by the tumultuous reception given in the corn belt capital of Des Moines to his fight against the crucial economic situation.

The president's address took up three broad subjects: The battle waged by the administration in defense of the gold standard, an attack on policies of the democratic party, and a plan for continued rehabilitation of the nation, with special emphasis on agriculture.

The democratic party, he said, must be judged by a record of "reckless disregard for the safety of the nation. All hope of recovery will end if the democratic program of the bonus and 'rubber dollars' prevails," the president charged.

Under his program of aid for agriculture, President Hoover would apply war debt payments toward expansion of farm markets for agriculture. He would widen the protective tariff for farm products, provide easier farm credit and repeal the price stabilizing feature of the farm marketing act.

For the first time President Hoover revealed that at one time the nation was nearly forced off the gold standard. He told, then, of the reconstruction program, set up to halt demoralizing influences.

"We won this battle to protect our people a throne. The world today has a chance. Let that man who complains that things could not be worse thank God for this victory and make reverent acknowledgment of the courage and stamina of a great democracy," the president declared.

Rotarians of Four Cities Meet At Breckenridge

About 175 Rotarians from Eastland, Ranger, Cisco and Breckenridge met in Breckenridge Tuesday night at one of the regular inter-city gatherings sponsored by the four Rotary clubs in this section.

H. C. "Andy" Anderson of Ranger, district governor of the 41st district, acted as toastmaster at the banquet.

Ray Nichols, past district governor of the district, was the principal speaker of the evening. He delivered a fine talk, which was well received by the Rotarians from the four cities.

The program of the meeting follows:

Toastmaster—H. C. "Andy" Anderson.

Rotary Song—America. Invocation—Rev. C. A. Collins. Music—Buckaroo Orchestra. Introduction of Rotarians and visiting guests. Sing-song, led by Eastland club. Novelty skit—Cisco club. Quartet—Eastland club. Address—Ray Nichols, past district governor.

JUDGE SAYS JURISDICTION IS LACKING

Decision Placer, Mrs. Ferguson's Name on General Election Ballot.

AUSTIN, Oct. 5.—District Judge W. F. Robertson this afternoon overruled a motion for rehearing filed in his court by attorneys for Gov. R. S. Sterling in his contest of the nomination of Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson.

Robertson of 126th district court today ruled his court did not have jurisdiction in the Sterling-Ferguson election contest over the democratic nomination for governor.

Judge Robertson dismissed the contest petition filed by Governor R. S. Sterling. The court held that only the legislature had the right to pass on qualifications of anyone for governor.

Judge Robertson further ruled that the primary election on which the contest was based, is a part of the whole election system and that the contest was filed prematurely before the election was completed. The election is not complete, he ruled, until the general election is held.

M. M. Crane, attorney for Governor Sterling, gave notice he will ask a rehearing. Judge Robertson instructed him to present his plea this afternoon.

There was no demonstration in the courtroom as the judge announced the decision which makes Mrs. Ferguson next governor of Texas, barring possible republican victory in the general election.

The order restraining Mrs. Jane Y. McCallum, secretary of state, from certifying the name of Mrs. Ferguson to local election officers as a democratic nominee, necessarily fell with the court's ruling.

Eastland Lions Hold Meeting Noon Tuesday

The Lions club enjoyed their usual regular meeting Tuesday at noon, when during luncheon, on Connelley roof, George M. Harper, president, introduced Mr. McClain, superintendent of schools of Sweetwater, and guest of Joe A. Gibson and Mrs. Lowen, with the state department of agriculture, guest of J. C. Patterson and Lee Bowles, new member, coach for Warner university.

V. Tanniciffe, a lamb returned to the fold, was formally welcomed after his long disappearance.

An extravagant initiation was conducted by Donald L. Kinnard and Joe H. Jones for Bowles and Tanniciffe, the judges taking turns, putting the two on the stand as witnesses.

The program announced to be in charge of Horace Conley was set aside for the initiation and will be presented next meeting.

Brother Lowen made a fine talk on sweet potatoes and their commercial possibilities.

Three present included the two guests and 28 Lions.

A BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

HE LEADETH ME: I will bring the blind by a way that they knew not; I will lead them in paths that they have not known: I will make darkness light before them, and crooked things straight. These things will I do unto them, and not forsake them.—Isiah 42: 16.

WALTER TEAGLE AND HIS RECOVERY PLAN

Walter C. Teagle is president of the Standard Oil company of New Jersey. He is the head of the conference on unemployment named by President Hoover. He has a very active brain—as well as a heart. He hews to the line. His contention is that there is just one way out. He calls it "the share-the-work movement."

As national chairman of the share-the-work movement, he said that he was sure that all Americans agreed that neither charity nor the dole—for that is what most of the made work virtually amounts to—is not a permanent or satisfactory solution of the unemployment problem, from the standpoint either of the community or the individual.

His plan is to decrease unemployment by a wider spreading of work now available among a large group working longer periods. He reminded his Boston audience that we face the winter with at least 10,000,000 men and women out of work and that the share-the-work movement is the most practical, the most humane, the most satisfactory as well as the most sensible of all the plans, advanced for the re-employment of those who are idle through no fault of their own.

Yes, Teagle has the brain; he has a heart; he has vision. His share-the-work plan should appeal to the employers of America as well as to their employees who have been kept on their jobs during a period of three years of depression and—idle ness and poverty for a large army who would prefer a half loaf to no bread. Pride is not head in America and the wage earner of America muchly prefers to earn his own bread to the acceptance of a dole if there is a way provided for him to do his own digging.

CHAIRMAN ELY AND THE ROAD BOND LAW

Chairman W. R. Ely of the state highway commission has let it be known that the commission necessarily will not be able to do as much work as formerly with $6,000,000 annually of the gasoline tax diverted to pay off county road bonds but gave as his opinion that if the legislature makes no further deduction from the gasoline income "a satisfactory program of construction and maintenance will be observed."

Furthermore, he predicted that between $20,000,000 and $22,000,000 in highway construction contracts will be let by Jan. 1; that the federal aid law requires the work get under way as rapidly as possible for the added $8,000,000 federal aid is essentially an unemployment relief advance. All this is a reminder that the state also receives $7,000,000 in federal aid annually. In the enactment of the federal relief aid the national lawmakers limited a single employe to 30 hours a week five hours daily for six days. It was a wise precaution. Hundreds of unemployed will be carried through the winter under the federal plan.

PRESIDENT PEW AS A PESSIMIST

J. Howard Pew is well known to all Texans and to all who are connected directly or indirectly with the petroleum industry. He is the chief executive of the Sun Oil company. He visited the capitol. This is what he predicted: "Eventual control of the American oil industry by gangsters and racketeers is inevitable unless existing high taxes levied on the petroleum industry are lowered."

TEXAS HOME BANK MEASURE NOW A LAW

Life insurance companies and building and loan associations of Texas are authorized under bills signed and filed by Governor Sterling to invest in stock of home loan banks. A reminder that the laws in effect before the governor signed these bills prevented insurance companies and building and loan associations from making investments in the federal home loan bank and it was necessary to pass new laws so as to give relief to home owners, under the federal act. Modern civilization comes high, and regardless of the railing of pessimists and practical politicians, "It is worth the price."

for FLAVOR for AROMA

These tiny tender leaves of "spicy" Turkish tobaccos —and just enough of them!

ENOUGH TURKISH BUT NOT TOO MUCH

Turkish tobacco sometimes runs hundreds of little leaves to the pound. In cigarettes it is used much as seasoning is in food, for flavor and better taste. You know that seasoning has to be used right . . . just enough of it, not too much. Chesterfield puts in just the right amount of Turkish tobacco—the best kinds—Xanthi, Cavalla, Smyrna and Samsoun. These are not merely blended, but cross-blended with ripe, mellow Domestic tobaccos. Enough Turkish, not too much—that's one reason why Chesterfields taste better—why they have a delicacy of aroma you do not find in other cigarettes.

Expedition Finds White Woman As Member of Tribe

What would you find in the heart of a white woman who was the captive bride of a cave-dwelling savage? Would you find tragic sorrow? Maddening disquiet? Or would you find a peaceful happiness?

Dr. Whittington, of Harvard and now of the University of Hawaii, traveled ten thousand miles by water, land and air from San Francisco to the lonely northern shore of Australia to find a living, human replica of a bust of Neanderthal man of fifty thousand years ago that stands in the Museum of Natural History in New York. And he found not only the face he was looking for, but the face of a woman with blue eyes, fair skin tanned and blonde hair bleached white by the tropical sun!

A white woman the wife of an aborigine! Living without clothes, or any creature comforts of civilization, in a cave home! Squatting before a fire roasting kangaroo and wallaby among living descendants of the oldest living race in the world!

"White man, I'm a white woman," she told Dr. Whittington, slowly, haltingly, she spoke her first English words in how many years? She did not know! Time had passed without reckoning! she was the widow, she said, of a pearl-encrusted captain—a Captain Stevenhage of Thursday Island—but was quite vague about it, the long years among the wild people of the Timor Sea having left her somewhat uncertain as to the past.

Her husband's pearling schooner had been dashed on the reefs of this wild coast in a storm. She alone survived. When the boat was pounded to pieces the waves threw her on the beach. The aborigines found her there, half dead. Because she was white they thought her a ghost. When several warriors claimed her as the spirit of their dead wives, there were bitter boomerang duels, and the best man won her!

The blonde captive and her powerful, bearded and long-haired husband of the wild Australian bush, lived apart from the tribe. When the great day came for the annual ceremonial Crow-dance, the big fellow distinguished himself from his fellow bushmen by wearing the white, embroidery-trimmed step-ins that were all his wife had left of the garments of civilization.

Dr. Whittington saw himself in the role of rescuer of a woman whose fate seemed almost tragedy. The wife of the lowest, most primitive form of human life—the wife of a descendant of the cave man of fifty thousand years ago—living the ways of the cave dwellers of the Stone Age. Surely this was tragedy! The explorer and scientist offered to take her back to Thursday Island—to her own people—to clothes, a home, theatres, friends, laughter!

What was her answer? What did she decide? Had she found the primitive moral code easier to cope with than that of civilization? Did she fear the struggle for existence in the land of her birth? Perhaps, even, she had learned to love her primitive bushman!

"The Blonde Captive," a Columbia picture produced by Northern Australia Expedition Syndicate, under the auspices of the National Research Council of Australia, is the attraction today at the Columbia theatre, Ranger. It tells its strange story along with a great variety of other interesting real life facts that are stranger than fiction. Australia is not only the backwash of primitive men, but of primitive animals, and Dr. Whittington proves it by showing curious freaks of nature.

'Jewel Robbery' Stars Powell and Francis

A two-fold interest and importance attaches to Warner Bros. "Jewel Robbery," the brilliant Viennese romantic melodrama which opens at the Arcadia theatre Thursday.

First, and foremost, it marks the reunion of William Powell and Kay Francis after a lapse of many months.

Secondly, because "Jewel Robbery" has fascinated and amused the theatre-goers of two continents with its wit, its suave, subtle satire, and its gay, polished casuality.

In translating this unusual drama to the screen, Warner Bros. have stopped at nothing to surround their two stars with a perfect cast.

William Powell and Kay Francis are each stars in their own right. Yet so enthusiastic were both, over the leading roles of "Jewel Robbery," that they fairly cheered the suggestion of the production heads of the studio that they co-star in the picture.

A BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

HE LEADETH ME: I will bring the blind by a way that they knew not: I will lead them in paths that they have not known: I will make darkness light before them, and crooked things straight. These things will I do unto them, and not forsake them.—Isiah 42: 16.

WALTER TEAGLE AND HIS RECOVERY PLAN

Walter C. Teagle is president of the Standard Oil company of New Jersey. He is the head of the conference on unemployment named by President Hoover. He has a very active brain—as well as a heart. He hews to the line. His contention is that there is just one way out. He calls it "the share-the-work movement." He told the fourth annual Boston conference on retail distribution "that we are emerging from the depression, definitely and on a basis which gives promise of real stability."

As national chairman of the share-the-work movement, he said that he was sure that all Americans agreed that neither charity nor the dole—for that is what most of the made work virtually amounts to—is not a permanent or satisfactory solution of the unemployment problem, from the standpoint either of the community or the individual.

His plan is to decrease unemployment by a wider spreading of work now available among a large group working longer periods. He reminded his Boston audience that we face the winter with at least 10,000,000 men and women out of work and that the share-the-work movement is the most practical, the most humane, the most satisfactory as well as the most sensible of all the plans, advanced for the re-employment of those who are idle through no fault of their own.

Yes, Teagle has the brain; he has a heart; he has vision. His share-the-work plan should appeal to the employers of America as well as to their employees who have been kept on their jobs during a period of three years of depression and—idle ness and poverty for a large army who would prefer a half loaf to no bread. Pride is not head in America and the wage earner of America muchly prefers to earn his own bread to the acceptance of a dole if there is a way provided for him to do his own digging.

CHAIRMAN ELY AND THE ROAD BOND LAW

Chairman W. R. Ely of the state highway commission has let it be known that the commission necessarily will not be able to do as much work as formerly with $6,000,000 annually of the gasoline tax diverted to pay off county road bonds but gave as his opinion that if the legislature makes no further deduction from the gasoline income "a satisfactory program of construction and maintenance will be observed."

Furthermore, he predicted that between $20,000,000 and $22,000,000 in highway construction contracts will be let by Jan. 1; that the federal aid law requires the work get under way as rapidly as possible for the added $8,000,000 federal aid is essentially an unemployment relief advance. All this is a reminder that the state also receives $7,000,000 in federal aid annually. In the enactment of the federal relief aid the national lawmakers limited a single employe to 30 hours a week five hours daily for six days. It was a wise precaution. Hundreds of unemployed will be carried through the winter under the federal plan.

PRESIDENT PEW AS A PESSIMIST

J. Howard Pew is well known to all Texans and to all who are connected directly or indirectly with the petroleum industry. He is the chief executive of the Sun Oil company. He visited the capitol. This is what he predicted: "Eventual control of the American oil industry by gangsters and racketeers is inevitable unless existing high taxes levied on the petroleum industry are lowered." Why should gangsters and racketeers be permitted to rule any industry, and community or any commonwealth? Is it possible that a gangster is more powerful than the government? High taxes are in evidence everywhere, which is a reminder that the people of all the states and all the counties and all the cities are largely responsible for the burdens they bear. When times were flush, when money was easy, when a gambling riot covered the world, bond issues were piled to the sky; billion dollar utility companies were organized; bureaus and commissions of government were created, and the millions or hundreds of millions who could obtain credit proceeded to go the limit. Then the so-called civilization frame-work broke down and now those who were responsible for the heavy load of debts are facing pay day and they groan from the overload. Really, the world is going back to solid foundations, sane thinking, sane living, sane investment, sane laws and sanity of judgment on the part of all who read and think.

TEXAS HOME BANK MEASURE NOW A LAW

Life insurance companies and building and loan associations of Texas are authorized under bills signed and filed by Governor Sterling to invest in stock of home loan banks. A reminder that the laws in effect before the governor signed these bills prevented insurance companies building and loan associations from making investments in the federal home loan bank and it was necessary to pass new laws so as to give relief to home owners, under the federal act. Modern civilization comes high, and the wisdom of the railing of pessimists and practical politicians, "It is worth the price."

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK

By EDSON R. WAITE, Shawnee, Oklahoma

Those with a quiet mind and an observant eye must find the present of surprising interest. We seem to be at the end of everything that is old and the beginning of everything new. This new brand of politics, as preached over the radio, is indeed confusing. I have listened to quite a few of our politicians lately and have found some amazing statements among them. I heard, as near as I could understand: That Democracy has come to the end of her road, and unless we elect a certain party there is only emptiness and a howling wilderness ahead. The next night another politician said that the other party gave us freedom with one hand and bound us in chains with the other. I heard, among other things: That one party gives us liberty, but works us so hard in order to pay for it that we are a sorry lot of slaves. That our governments for the past few years have been no governments at all, but mere corks riding on an aimless, restless, mindless sea of natural instinct. That the lessons of these post war year with their upheavals and internal disruptions are that no people are capable of governing themselves without a strong directional power whose stability is unassailable, and the air is full of names of the only ones to do this work. It seems that the politicians do not call upon the people to govern themselves, but only to choose among the spell-binders those who will govern as they see fit. We are indeed bewildered over the radio talks and hope that our political parties will buy space in our newspapers and tell their stories there so we can read their promises carefully and study them over. It would be more satisfying to the voters.

Turkish tobacco sometimes runs hundreds of little leaves to the pound. In cigarettes it is used much as seasoning is in food, for flavor and better taste.

You know that seasoning has to be used right . . . just enough of it, not too much.

Chesterfield puts in just the right amount of Turkish tobacco—the best kinds—Xanthi, Cavalla, Smyrna and Samsoun. These are not merely blended, but cross-blended with ripe, mellow Domestic tobaccos.

Enough Turkish, not too much—that's one reason why Chesterfields taste better—why they have a delicacy of aroma you do not find in other cigarettes.

Expedition Finds White Woman As Member of Tribe

What would you find in the heart of a white woman who was the captive bride of a cave-dwelling savage? Would you find tragic sorrow? Maddening discontent? Or would you find a peaceful happiness?

Dr. Whittington, of Harvard and now of the University of Hawaii, traveled ten thousand miles by water, land and air from San Francisco to the lonely northern shore of Australia to find a living, human replica of a bust of Neanderthal man of fifty thousand years ago that stands in the Museum of Natural History in New York. And he found not only the face he was looking for, but the face of a woman with blue eyes, fair skin tanned and blonde hair bleached white by the tropical sun!

ants of the oldest living race in the world!

"White man, I'm a white woman," she told Dr. Whittington. Slowly, haltingly, she spoke her first English words in how many years? She did not know! Time had passed without reckoning! she was the widow, she said, of a pearl-pearling captain—a Captain Stevenson of Thursday Island—but was quite vague about it, the long years among the wild people of the Timor or Sea having left her somewhat uncertain as to the past.

Her husband's pearling schooner had been dashed on the reefs of this wild coast in a storm. She alone survived. When the boat was pounded to pieces the waves threw her on the beach. The aborigines found her there, half dead. He cause she was so white they thought her a ghost. When several warriors claimed her as the spirit of their dead wives, there were bitter boomerang duels, and the best man won her!

Miss Allen's Winter Recipes Draw Pleasing Comment From Large Crowd

Many Ranger and out-of-town ladies took advantage of the Times Free Cooking School's opening which was held in the lower floor of the Masonic building Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

As Miss Allen stepped to the platform she was greeted with a warm round of applause. A large number of ladies forming the pleasing audience were those who made the acquaintance of Miss Allen during her school which she conducted here in April, and heartily approved her return visit, at such an opportune time for housewives.

Welcome was extended the school's guests by the Times manager, F. D. Hicks, who expressed his appreciation for the presence of each and gave an outline of the week's program for the Fall Trade Carnival which formally opens today.

With the cool, crisp fall mornings and evening, all housewives are turning to new and heavier menus for the health sake of family members.

Miss Allen, noted expert, has a most rare and economical selection of menus which she offers each afternoon.

Delicious party foods making a neatly and colorful appearance are also included in this group of recipes.

Working in a kitchen equipped with a De Soto range, convenient cabinet and General Electric refrigerator, the demonstrations are given with all modern appliances.

The school was made profitable yesterday through the baking of Sunshine cake, with mint cream filling, stuffed potato cups, sweet notatoes, turnip cups, filled with English peas, jellied tomato salad, drop biscuits, baked in muffin pan, and cake and ice cream combination dessert.

Sunshine Cake Recipe.
One cup of sugar, beat constantly with 1 cup of water, and add 1 teaspoon of vanilla. Fold in 2½ cups of Gold Chain flour and sift with 3 teaspoonful of K. C. baking powder, sifted three times, 1 cup of sugar with whites of three eggs folded in. Bake at 350 degree for 1 hour and 15 minutes.

Mint Cream Filling.
Mix ¼ cup of sugar (reserve 2 tablespoonful), 3 tablespoon cornstarch, and ¼ teaspoon salt in top of double boiler. Add slowly 1 cup water and cook over hot water until very thick, stirring constantly. Add 2 egg yolks mixed with the 2 tablespoon sugar. Cook 3 minutes longer and beat until smooth. Add 3 teaspoon butter and cool slightly. Add mint extract to suit taste and color delicate green with vegetable coloring.

Stuffed Pork Chops.
Four chops, 1 inch thick with pockets cut in sides, 1 teaspoon salt to ¼ teaspoon pepper, 1 egg and 2 cups of bread crumbs; ¾ cup sliced pineapple. Season meat inside and out and fill pocket with sliced apple, fasten with toothpicks. Add 1 teaspoon of water and beat slightly. Roll chops in egg, then in crumbs and repeat. Brown on both sides. Add 1 cup water, finish cooking in moderate oven, 350 degrees, and bake 45 minutes. If chops become to dry in cooking, add a little more water, a slice of pineapple put on top just before removing from oven supplies a nice garnish.

Other delicious foods were cooked with complete recipes given. Thursday afternoon Miss Allen will bake and give recipes for the following menu: Fricassee chicken with noodles, savory potatoes, orange bread, and date cake, together with another choice dish.

Singles Champ Gets License for Life "Doubles"

Henry Ellsworth Vines, Jr., the world's singles champion at tennis, had to get his mother's written permission when he entered the doubles. His partner is Julia Verle Lowe, with whom he is honeymooning. Vines, not yet 21, had to have his mother sign the marriage license application in Pasadena. Here you see, left to right, Mrs. Vines, her tennis-champion son and his bride, as they return with the important paper. They were married Friday.

The contest offered through the Burton-Lingo and Pickering Lumber companies offers a great inducement for all ladies to enter.

House dresses worn by Miss Allen are pretty and neat and present a refreshing appearance for the kitchen, to be found at J. C. Penney's for 50 cents or two for $1.

Hose of the sheerest texture, full-fashioned, from Hassen company, were very pretty with Enna Jettick shoes from Joseph Dry Goods store. The finishing touch to any woman's appearance, the hairdress and care of the hands, were also noticed with admiration, as Miss Allen had all her work done at the Graziola Beauty shop. The flour was furnished by A. J. Ratliff, the famous Red Chain brand, with milk not to be excelled comes from the Oakwood dairy.

The neat kitchen furnishing are supplied from Montgomery Ward & Co., Killingsworth, Cox & Co., Texas-Louisiana Power company, and William N. McDonald.

At the close of each demonstration the A. & P.'s famous Eight o'clock coffee is served, much to the delight of the ladies.

If any previous engagement kept you away from the school Tuesday afternoon you are cordially invited by the co-operating merchants, Miss Allen and the Ranger Times, to be present the remainder of the wonderful demonstrations.

Friday afternoon, which will draw the cooking school to a climax, a beautiful lamp and set of silver, the former furnished by Killingsworth, Cox & Co., and the latter by J. C. Penney, will be given away. These two lovely prizes are rare compliments and will lustily adorn any home.

With fall and winter here, new entertainments loom on the social calendar each day. Take advantage of these new menus offered for your individual use. Be a guest each afternoon at the cooking school.

The hour was honored yesterday with a group of out-of-town visitors which are listed in another part of this paper. We are too happy to have with us these housewives who are interested in garnishing new hints for their homes.

Hat Hints From Hollywood

Their hats are in the ring of fashion leadership and voters may find it difficult to make their choice. Always welcome and inspiring in the talk which Mrs. C. E. Maddocks may give. Her talk on "The Origin and Development of Texas Congress of Mothers" aroused such interest that the mothers are already making plans for the Parent-Teacher association to attain the standard of excellence.

Very attractive yellow and white handbooks for the year were handed out. They disclosed a plan for the year's work that is most acceptable and promising in helpfulness.

Thanks was extended by the president to the mothers who have so graciously assisted her in the varnishing and painting which has so greatly improved the appearance of the school building.

The association voted to employ the invaluable services of Mrs. George Armstrong as school nurse for one-half day a week.

PARIS STYLES
By MARY KNIGHT, United Press Staff Correspondent.

PARIS.—Suitcases never have had such an easy life in all their family history. No more are they stuffed so full that they cry out in agony.

Instead of waiting because there isn't enough room in the family baggage to carry all the needs of the debutante daughter off for a week-end, she goes around the house wondering what she can put in the extra corners to keep her accessories from rolling around. One dress with its changes of collars, cuffs, bibs, belts, gilets, and finally, the removal of its sleeves and the substitution of a velvet capelet for evening, or a wee ermine jacket, is the foundation piece of a happy holiday. Accessories may fill the cracks, but a couple of sets should be sufficient at that, if you include as accessories, shoes, purses, hats, hose and handkerchiefs.

Reversible and convertible necklaces are week-end joys, the former wearable for day-time and evening simply by turning over the beads or disks and the latter convertible from necklaces into bracelets by snapping in half and wearing at each wrist.

High School Assembly.
High school assembly was held at 8 o'clock Tuesday in the high school auditorium.

The assembly was called to order by Principal H. S. Von Roeder, who introduced Rev. Nichol.

Rev. Nichol spoke to the student, choosing as his subject "Your Friends." This interesting talk was enjoyed very much by both the students and faculty.

The opening song was led by R. L. Maddox.

Fire Drills to Begin Soon.
H. S. Von Roeder, principal of the high school, announced today that the fire drills will begin soon.

Mr. Von Roeder explained the way of exit for each room.

Cars Needed to Make Fort Worth Game.
R. L. Maddox, band director, announced today that anyone who is planning to make the trip to Fort Worth and can possibly take hand members please get in touch with him.

Mr. Maddox also states that the band will share the expenses.

Too bad. With all these pink slips going out, some of the boys are going to have to ride on the fender or else carry a pillow to Fort Worth.

We must compliment Voncell Strong and Louis Sharp on the harmony they got yesterday while singing "High School Swing" at pep meeting.

Pep Squad Holds Practice.
The high school pep squad held practice yesterday afternoon. Drills were not practiced, the entire time being devoted to songs and yells.

Fashion Notes.
Some of the high school pep squad members, noting the excellent job did by Fire Chief Murphy and his boys of dressing the Ranger streets for the coming carnival, are wondering if Fire Chief Murphy could be persuaded to help them select their new winter suits.

Rhymettes to Sing in Trade Carnival.
The Rhymettes, well known quartet, will entertain Friday and Saturday nights at 8 o'clock in front of the Gholson hotel.

This quartet is composed of Marjorie Clark, Crystelle Head, Merie Stewart, Pauline Head, and pianist, Mrs. Vera Watt.

Their program will also feature Johnny Shearer of Eastland.

There are about 30 students in the band who are going to Fort Worth and it seems as if they are all planning to ride over with Jimmy Stagg. Fellow citizens, lend a car!

The next morning when public employees returned to remove the tree, they found nothing left of it.

THE FERGUSONS—MA AND JIM

EDITOR'S NOTE—Herewith is one of a series of six articles on James E. and Miriam A. Ferguson written by Gordon K. Shearer, staff correspondent of the United Press Associations and chief of the Austin bureau. Shearer's word picture of the Fergusons, their rise to power after years of disfavor, is intimately pictured by a writer whose acquaintanceship with them and political leaders of Texas has been of long standing.

By GORDON K. SHEARER
Fuller's proclamation set out 13 charges—the last one that the governor had sought to influence him in his duty by offering to lend him money without security, coupled with a statement he need never pay it.

Putter On—

Some golfers, it seems, reserve their socks for before and after the game. To protect her precious clubs from rain and dew, Peggy Whitfield, British golfer, is shown covering a driver with one of the knitted novelties. This is one instance when a golfer is not anxious to make a hole-in-one.

One was a proclamation by Speaker F. O. Fuller convening the House for the purpose of preferring impeachment charges. The other was the governor's proclamation calling the legislature to enact a new university appropriation.

The original charges became of minor interest as the proceedings went forward. The charge of attempt to influence the speaker was not included in the voted impeachment articles. Instead there had come into prominence a loan of $156,000, the source of which Governor Ferguson refused to disclose.

Ferguson said in effect: I had a good estate. I had worked like a dog for a lifetime. It was not yet out of debt. Simply because of agitation it looked like I must go on the rocks of bankruptcy because I couldn't raise $150,000.

Friends made the loan on condition that I not reveal their identity. "I gave my word and I expect to respect my word. If the price of the governor's office must be that I break my word and disclose my friends' names in a private business transaction—then I must suffer and pay the price," he said.

Nine other of 21 impeachments charges were sustained by the Senate most of them dealing with banking transactions in which it was charged he profited by handling of state funds.

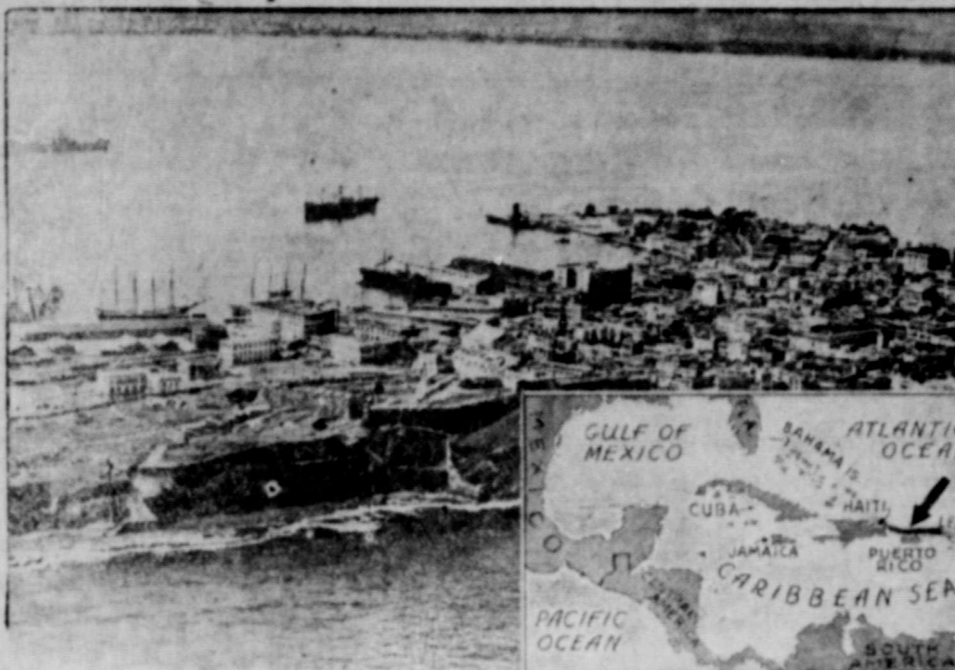

Regarding the University of Texas controversy the Senate found him guilty on three charges. One was that he attempted to effect his "own autocratic will" by seeking expulsion of faculty members after they had been exonerated of charges by the board of regents.

Ferguson resigned. The Senate nevertheless issued its impeachment judgment Sept. 25, 1917, a part of which was a bar against holding further state office.

M. M. Crane of Dallas, a former attorney general and of the counsel in Gov. Ross S. Sterling's contest of the legality of "Ma" Ferguson's nomination had been elected by the "Board of Managers" of the impeachment proceedings to appear as its counsel when testimony was taken by the House sitting as a "committee of the whole."

Chester H. Terrell of San Antonio, a former speaker of the House and Will C. Harris, assisted Crane, W. A. Hanger, Fort Worth, R. L. Henry, Clarence Martin and

Is Education Too Expensive?

(From an article by F. Ben Pierce, Principal Texarkana High School)
Every person who is a native Texan is proud of that fact. No state in the union has had a more eventful history than the state of Texas and all Texans are justly proud of the achievements of the grand old state. As a part of the United States, Texas stands out as one of the foremost states in the industrial and economic phases of the life of the country. Does Texas ever stop and consider the educational situation within its own boundaries in the light that it should be considered?

In these so-called times of "depression" much is heard about the slashing of expenditures in governmental affairs, particularly that of education. Let us consider some very pertinent facts and then decide if we should slash our educational expenditures and

B. Y. Cummings acted as counsel for Governor Ferguson. Early proceedings dealt with the technical details of banking operations. On the third day University of Texas affairs were reached and interest picked up. There were many sharp quips. Cooking instruction had been discussed. Governor Ferguson made this proposition:

"I will end over and we will get five bushels of eligentia peaches. I will furnish the sugar and I will furnish the jars, and I will donate a scholarship in the university for two poor girls if he (President Vinson) will furnish five girls out of the sororities of the university that can cook peaches that will keep sixty days."

"That's your proposition?" asked General Crane.
"That's my proposition," replied the governor.
"Well, I'll take it up with Dr. Vinson, and I think probably you may regard yourself as 'on,'" said General Crane turning to another phase.

House journals of the 35th legislature carry all the testimony and arguments.
Clarence Martin closed for the governor saying: "In the future the historian will point to James E. Ferguson as the tall sycamore who, standing in the political strife, with the lightning of passion flashing around him, and yet came out unscathed."

Crane closed for the House managers: "Let's not have a governor a soliciting agent for his private institutions, and particularly, let's not have a governor who uses his office to fill his pockets by the use of state funds."
"The verdict went against the governor."

Norris Stumps for Roosevelt

Senator George D. Norris, above, Nebraska's famed independent republican, will tour the country as a campaigner for Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt beginning Oct. 15. Norris has formed the National Progressive league. Its speakers for the democratic presidential ticket will include Mayor Frank Murphy of Detroit, Bainbridge Colby, member of President Wilson's cabinet, and Amos Pinchot of New York. Senator Edward P. Costigan of Colorado is associated in the league.

thereby lower our standards back to where they were a quarter of a century ago. According to a compilation of statistics by the research division of the National Education association, the average expenditures per pupil enrolled in the public elementary and secondary schools in continental United States was $90.38, while this same expenditure in Texas was $59.55.

Only 12 states of this great nation of 48 states of ours, spent less money per pupil than did Texas, while New York spent $168.81 per pupil. This amount is almost three times as what Texas spent. Do the children of the state of New York mean more to them than the children of Texas mean to this state? With the compilation of statistics which was referred to above again used as a basis, the average cost of education per child for one day is slightly above 41 cents. Not all of this 41 cents goes to the teacher. This amount includes all school costs. Should Texans not bear in mind the fact that Texas schools are run so economically that they give its children books, classrooms, equipment, playgrounds, and a day's instruction under a well trained teacher for less than the price of a golf ball or a box of candy?

Do parents of the younger Texans owe it to their children to consider very carefully the many proposed methods of saving in school expenditures? The coming year will bring forth many more serious problems and a false step here can ruin the schools. Children improperly trained cannot solve these problems as they should be solved. May the people, not only of Texas, but of all America as well, wake up and see the crisis that education is now facing and take steps to uphold our standards so that our children will be able to qualify as the type of citizens that America demands.

Rock Wool makes Better Pies

.....Says Miss Allen

"STRANGE as it may sound, rock wool makes better pies and cakes," says Miss Allen. "Not as an ingredient in the recipe, of course, but as a factor in assuring proper baking."

"Rock wool, you know, is the trade name for the asbestos oven insulation used in modern gas ranges. It is this insulation that keeps oven heat uniform, without hot spots or cold corners, thus assuring more accurate baking results."

"Proper insulation also saves money and promotes better working conditions. All heat is sealed inside of the oven. It cannot escape to waste gas or over-heat the kitchen."

RANGER JUNIOR COLLEGE AND CISCO LOBOES TO PLAY FRIDAY

GAME TO START AT 3 O'CLOCK IN RANGER

Good Crowd Is Expected for First Game of Season At Home.

The first football game of the current season will be played in Ranger on Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock when the Ranger Junior College Texas Rangers and the Cisco Lobos clash on Lillard field. Both teams have been working hard, pointing toward the game, and a stiff contest is anticipated by the fans of this section.

The Lobos, who have been having difficulties with the state and district committee, are rated as one of the best schoolboy teams in this part of the country. Coach Bull Elkins, who starred on the University of Texas football team for three years as a quarterback, is coach of the Lobos. He has given them but comparatively few plays so far, but has drilled them so thoroughly in those that he has one of the smoothest working football machines in the high school class.

The junior college squad, which was organized this year, has many of the former stars of the Bulldog team on its roster and the team has been working out each day, getting in readiness for the first game of the season.

Can You Get a Laugh Out of the Fact That—

OWNERS of teams participating in the world series declare they really do not make an awful lot of money out of the games?

Seats in the reserved sections of the grandstand during the world series are sold only in blocks of three, which means a fan has to part with either $14.50 or $19.50?

THE shift in football is illegal unless the players come to a stop for at least one second before the center releases the ball, and a pause of only 9/10 of a second is supposed to draw a 15-yard penalty?

The Yankees refused to pose for a group picture, even after the pennant was clinched, until they got back to New York (probably fearing a railroad wreck)?

Dizzy Dean complains that he can't get enough work?

Brooklyn fans were afraid that Dazzy Vance, the year's bust as a pitcher, would be a holdout last spring?

LOU LITTLE, coach of Columbia, says he fears Princeton?

The headline "Stagg Pears Purdue" is a joke nowadays when every coach in the Big Ten has very good reasons for shivering in his boots at mention of the Bollermakers?

Wes Ferrell said he no longer cared to pitch for Peckinpah after the manager had suspended him, and that he has pitched some of the best ball of his career since getting back to the team?

Johnny Goodman, rejected by the Walker Cup committee, walked up, down, across and over every Walker Cup player he met in the National Amateur?

The probable starting lineup for the Rangers will be: Ends, King, 180, and Mills, 190; tackles, Murray, 180, and Mitchell, 170; guards, Bumpers, 165, and Ashman, 160; center, Horton, 183; of Reese, 185; backfield, Stevens, 180; Hubbard, 155; Flahie, 170; and Townsend, 185.

Spanish Army Now Totals 111,000

MADRID—Spain's military contingent for 1933 has been fixed at 111,000 men, or about one soldier for every 200 inhabitants, by Minister of War Don Manuel Azana. The population of Spain is now nearly 23,000,000.

This number is exclusive of officers, who total about 7,661, and who are organized on a different basis from the men.

The army is nearly exclusively an army of youths, the contingent being filled with boys 21 performing their year of military service. The officers are professional soldiers, either graduates of the various military academies, or from the ranks. This year the total strength of the soldiers and non-commissioned officers is 105,367.

Fortune Awaits Claimants In State Bank

By PAUL H. KING, United Press Staff Correspondent ALBANY, N. Y.—More than 3,000,000 mostly American dollars that could purchase cotton, shoes, build bridges and create jobs, remain unclaimed in New York banks—strange as it seems.

The dollars have been forgotten by depositors over a period of years.

Secretary of State Edward Flynn has sent out a "SOS" to the rightful owners to get them around, obtain them—then sort them into circulation.

Thousands of persons, including a prince, a former inmate of Sing Sing prison and the Brothers of Bulls, have forgotten they had money in the banks.

Flynn says the situation is simply perplexing, but that a lot cannot be done about it.

Prince Lei Lan, of what apparently doesn't know, but formerly lived in Coney Island, has money in the bank, but doesn't know it.

Then there is the Hungarian Free Burial association, which forgot to claim its deposits.

The Down and Out club, Brooklyn has forgotten funds in the bank, despite its name.

Annie Roosevelt, who is apparently no relation to the democratic presidential nominee, is among those who apparently do not need their dollars.

Savings bank accounts in New York have become dormant after 10 years, while unclaimed deposits to trust companies and state banks are published after five years.

Quite a buyers' drive, however, started should the money be thrown into circulation, Flynn declared. He said scores of people could be provided if the money was utilized to that end.

HERE--- AND THERE

By Elvie H. Jackson
Have you ever felt blue or discouraged? If so, don't stop to think about anything that may be worrying you, but get busy. Do something!

There is a woman who is a capable housekeeper in more ways than merely keeping house, that is to say, she knows how to keep her mind.

One day this woman laughingly said in our hearing, "Whenever I begin to worry or bother about anything, or feeling depressed, I go into my kitchen and make a cake."

When the eggs are broken, the separation of the yolks from the whites tells a story and teaches a lesson. For if you allow the white to be smeared with the yolk, the whites of the eggs will not whip to a froth your cake demands.

Have a steady hand in breaking eggs, and keep the yolk and the white distinctly separated and you will find it will make a better cake.

Oh yes, she laughed, "my husband had a diet of cake last week, different kind of cake every day, until they called, Halt! But I confess I felt much better for making the cakes, as I took out of the ill feeling out in beating the eggs."

STAN BALL accuses ASPER DUDLEY, timber king, of crooked practice and of having men shot who try to check up on his activities. Ball says he is making a check for cattle interests. He says he will present it in person. Upon leaving Delo's office Ball says DUNA, Asper's daughter, from a hideout but cannot be kept in bed. Dudley produces a marriage certificate that they had never presented from asking by DUNA's being unsure of herself. They tell Asper they are married. Ball overrules this announcement while in for food. He is caught by SWEETMAN, Asper's timber boss, who has been a leading Scrooge in the hunt. Ball is taken to a cabin while Sweetman goes out to gather a mob for a teaching. He surprises his master and escapes. A wild hunt takes place. DUNA goes down to the horse corral to wait the return of the bandit. NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XIX THE horsemen halted before Malloy, who stepped forward. His voice was hard. "Get him!" he demanded. "No. He shot Sweet." The rider who held the limp figure before him slid to the ground and pulled his burden from the saddle. Malloy bent over the prostrate man while DUNA edged closer. "The rest of the boys are hot on him and will get him," the man added. He knelt and watched Malloy's fingers exploring for the wound. "Is he dead?" he asked. Malloy shook his head. "Nicked," he grunted. Finally he straightened. "You said Ball shot him?" "Sure, slugged him from beside the trail." DUNA felt a tightening at her throat as the man stirred and groaned. She felt a little sick, too, as she watched Malloy wipe red stains from his hands with a handkerchief. The tall cowboy grunted. "Ball never shot this man. He's plugged with a rifle bullet. Soft nosed," Malloy lifted the man's head as he spoke. "Sure, Ball plugged him," the rider snapped. "We see it." "You lie like a coyote, but get him over to the Doc and have him fixed up." Malloy slipped his arms under the wounded man's shoulders as he spoke. DUNA slipped away and ran toward the main building. Ball was dangerous. That was plain to her. He was a real killer, and so Malloy stood up for him. She would have to see Swergin and have Malloy fixed. It was like having a traitor in camp. DUNA slipped into her own room and locked the door, but first she made sure her father was sleeping. Then she lay thinking for an hour, although she was tired. Finally she fell into a troubled sleep. SHE was awakened by someone pounding on her door. Sleepily she called out, "Come!" Then she remembered that she had locked the door. Slipping a silk gown around her, DUNA poked her feet into dressing slippers and unlocked the door. Dudley's head appeared around the door. "Can you let a poor husband in?" he demanded with a grin. All trace of sulkiness was gone from his face. "You know I can't," DUNA answered in an exasperated voice. "It would look a bit more natural," Dudley insisted. "Folks will expect me to come out of this room in the morning." Suddenly DUNA realized that it was early. The clock on her dresser said six. Dudley put a hand on the door but DUNA held it tight. "I need your help, lady!" he went on. "I want to get properly dressed up for the first day of married life." DUNA noticed that her father's door was open across the hall. "You opened it?" she asked accusingly. Dudley grinned. "I just looked in and forgot to close it. Your Dad is liable to be waking up any minute now." DUNA pushed him back and closed the door. "I'll be dressed in a minute. Then you can come in," she called. Dudley moved down the hall to his room. DUNA dressed hurriedly. She would have to make a decision, that was certain. If her father was well enough to be left alone she would have to go with Dudley to find Sam Dean. It was plain that Asper Delo would become suspicious if Dudley kept up his actions, and it would not do to have him discover the trick she had played. He was beginning to mend

Admiral Saved By Ship's Run Tells How To Avoid Winter Motor Troubles

DALLAS, Oct. 5.—"Almost human in their ability to obey the will of their owners, modern motor vehicles also have the human attribute of being susceptible to changes in the weather," J. M. Marnan, chief of the technical department, Magnolia Petroleum company, said in warning automobile owners to prepare for winter driving. "People are warned of the approach of winter and instinctively put on heavier clothing and change their diet to assure their personal comfort and well-being in the cold months ahead," Mr. Marnan said. "Our automobiles need the same kind of care and protection, but they cannot provide for themselves. About the only way they can let us know they are suffering from neglect is by refusing to start easily on cold mornings and consume more fuel than they have been in the past summer. They have no way of telling us that their working parts are wearing out and deteriorating rapidly on account of our neglect. When the symptoms appear much harm may already have been done, so the prudent car owner prepares his car for winter driving at the same time he puts away his straw hat and begins to sleep under a blanket. "With the approach of winter a complete check-up of the motor car is often advisable and certain mechanical adjustments may be necessary," Mr. Marnan said. "But the first thing to do is to make certain that the proper cold weather 'diet' gasoline which may have given satisfactory service in summer is never suited for winter use and is often the cause of hard starting, crankcase dilution, loss of power and engine misfiring. Magnolia provides in its new Mobilgas the added property of climatic control which assures the highest usable level of performance under winter driving conditions by reason of the readjustment of manufacturing specifications before delivery. "A change in the grade of the lubricants used is also necessary with the change in the seasons. For cold weather driving lighter lubricants are recommended by auto-
