RANGER'S OLD CLOTHES DRIVE TO BE STARTED

Mrs. H. C. "Andy" Anderson, general chairman of the Child Welfare old clothes drive, has completed plans for the collection of old clothing from the homes in Ranger. The drive will start on Monday morning at 8 o'clock and it is expected that it will be completed by noon on Tuesday.

The drive is being held in conjunction with "smile day" which is being celebrated over the state today and the civic organizations of the city are co-operating with the movement to secure clothing for the needy for the coming winter.

The Ranger Rotary club, Elks club, American Legion post, and Chamber of Commerce will assist in the collection of clothing, each organization donating two cars to be used in the drive.

The cars, with drivers, are to meet at the office of the Ranger Chamber of Commerce promptly at 8 o'clock Monday morning and each will be assigned a section of the town to work.

Each team will be responsible for the collection of clothing in their territory and the public has been urged to have any old clothing they might have on hand ready for the collectors when they arrive on Monday morning.

Each member of the Child Welfare club is expected to be on hand in order that one member may go with each car and help in the collection of the clothing. When a car is filled with the territory assigned to the team thoroughly covered, the clothing will be taken to the Sam Houston Life Insurance building, where storage space has been provided.

CLOTH DISTRIBUTION PLANS MAKE FIRST WEEK OF WORK ONE FULL OF ACTIVITIES

Ranger's Red Cross cotton cloth distribution headquarters, under the direction of Mrs. W. D. Conway, completed a most successful week of work on Saturday afternoon.

The records at the headquarters today showed that 100 people had applied for cloth and that more than 90 families had received garments. Mrs. Conway has been busy all day with the ladies of the various churches of the city, and slightly more than 900 yards of material had been given to the needy.

Each day the record of the number of yards of cloth made into garments, cut and given to the needy to make into garments or given to the applicant in the form of whole cloth is kept. Where no means of making the garment is available to the applicant they are made up at the headquarters and presented to the applicant.

To date children's clothing has been given preference in order that the school children might be taken care of out of the first shipment.

The requisitions are made out at the office of the chamber of commerce, where a table, showing the number of yards needed for making the various garments has been kept on hand in order that the correct amount of cloth might be issued. The requisition is then taken to the headquarters, where either the cloth, the cut garment or the finished product is given to the applicant.

On Monday the ladies of the Episcopal Church, Catholic Church and the Church of God were in charge of the work; Tuesday was allotted to the ladies of the First Baptist Church; Wednesday the ladies of the First Methodist Church were in charge; Thursday the Presbyterian and Church of

TROOPS SENT TO EAST TEXAS ON SATURDAY

Hearing To Be Called For November 3 for Oil Orders.

AUSTIN, Oct. 29.—Governor Ross S. Sterling today announced the dispatch of 25 additional soldiers to the East Texas oil field and the closing of every well down to the allowable 40 barrels a day production.

"I do not say I will not call a special session of the legislature," said the governor, "but at this time I do not think the situation calls for a special session."

They were talking about getting out high-powered rifles, he said, "but that is over now, I think," he said.

A hearing has been called for Nov. 3 by the railroad commission preparatory to issuing new oil orders. The governor was asked if he would defer a decision about a special session to see if the commission drafts an order meeting the situation. He refused to commit himself to a delay until that time, saying he did not know what might arise.

When asked about the statement of State Agricultural Commissioner J. E. McDonald that a special session of the legislature is held an attempt should be made, also, to cure the cotton acreage reduction law. The governor said there is a difference between the oil and cotton situations.

"If a man does not get the oil from under his land some other fellow does," said Governor Sterling. "The cotton land is still there to grow cotton now."

Captain C. E. Williams and two sergeants from Mineral Wells left today for East Texas with medical supplies for 65 men.

EASTLAND RED CROSS WORK TO BE STARTED

The cotton materials received by Eastland from the Red Cross and which has been on hand for some days will be opened and assorted preparatory to work on garments, the cutting and making of which will be under supervision of Mrs. W. E. Stallter, the chairman for this work, who stated, will be begun at 2 o'clock on Monday.

All those who have signified their intention of assisting with this work are requested by Mrs. Stallter, and Dr. H. B. Tanner, secretary of Chamber of Commerce, to report at the hour designated, at the Chamber of Commerce rooms, where the work will be done.

As previously stated in this paper, furnishings have already been provided in long cutting tables, and three sewing machines now in readiness for the work.

The materials include shirtings, prints, cottons, and outing flannels, and total 4,510 yards of stuff.

There has been contributed for the making of garments, the cutting of which will be in care of Mrs. Stallter.

Club women and church women have signified their intention of assisting with the sewing, and it was understood that the members of the Women's Auxiliary of the Church of God, would give their afternoon; Monday, to the Red Cross work instead of holding their usual study session.

Many applications have already been received by Dr. Tanner for these garments.

It is considered advisable to do all the sewing in the Chamber of Commerce rooms, under supervision of the chairman in charge.

V. Galloway of the Chamber of Commerce, and D. W. Johnson of the American Legion post as committeemen.

This committee has been appointed to work in Ranger in connection with the annual West Texas Chamber of Commerce city beautification contest, for which prizes are to be awarded this year.

The purpose of the contest by the West Texas regional organization is to promote the beautification of the West Texas landscape and appearance of the West Texas communities by stimulating competition between the cities in beautification and cleanliness.

Site of Eastland Postoffice To Be Selected Soon

Postmaster A. H. Johnson now has all the necessary blanks to be filled out by those desiring to submit their property to the government for site of the federal building for Eastland.

The treasury department will select the most suitable property for their needs from the real estate offered for sale by the owner.

The proposal must be accompanied by a diagram or plat, setting out the city, county and state, together with the name of the tract, with dimensions in feet and inches of each side, counting only clear building space, exclusive of all sidewalks or any other decrease.

No title papers need be submitted with proposals, though if title to property is in such condition that conveyance cannot be made by deed, the facts should be briefly stated.

The owner of the site finally selected will be notified in writing of the acceptance of his proposal and will then be required to furnish without additional cost to the United States all requisite abstracts, official certifications, deeds of conveyance, evidence of title, and maps, which may be necessary in the opinion of the attorney general for the proper execution of title.

The building, if any on the site, should be reserved by the vendor to be removed upon 60 days' notice, usually after payment for the land has been made.

It will not be necessary to discharge liens upon the property until the transfer of the title to the United States is about to be made.

Bids covering the site will be opened in Washington, Nov. 25, and selection of the most suitable property will be made as soon as practical thereafter.

By V. MARIE STEPHENS. The life of a poet must surely be a fascinating one. I often wonder how Columbus, Washington, Lincoln, and other celebrities got along and made their respective marks in the world without the aid of an automobile. ## HERE-- AND THERE

In the national and international organizations established for purposes of mercy, that of the Red Cross stands out as perfectly the northern star, that, in its steadfast place in the firmament, and its unfailing light that rules supreme over all the heavenly bodies for the mariner, wanderer and traveler who can look up to that star from any place or in any direction on this globe, and be guided aright is the one dependable light of the world. The Red Cross movement is thought to have had its origin in the battle of Calverley in the Italian War of 1859, and was first conceived by Henri Dunant of Geneva, who described the sufferings of the wounded soldiers in that battle. The large loss due to proper care of the wounded men, suggested the thought of civilized countries establishing permanent societies of volunteers, which in time of war would aid the wounded, without distinction or nationality. The idea was taken up by a small Geneva society devoted to local charities and to the relief of all European governments, and nobilities in all countries for an international conference at Geneva, in 1863. The Red Cross organization came into being, at this time, and the first Red Cross Society was organized in Wurtemberg in 1863. The Geneva convention provided neutrality of ambulances and military hospitals, and adopted the Red Cross as emblem, and as a distinctive sign of sanitary assistance, food, fire, and other necessities that could be deemed national in extent. In 1905 a stricter business organization was incorporated by congress, with William H. Taft, then secretary of war as its president. In all the wide world there is no organization that is as useful, as wide in its operations, and as merciful as the Red Cross. This wonderful body is to other organizations, as the north star is to its galaxy of heavenly bodies. Founded in our country through the instrumentality of a noble, self-sacrificing and unselfish woman, who gave her life to the cause of humanity, the Red Cross organization of the United States, stands out in beauty and glory. Established on the foundation of love and mercy, the Red Cross is unique in its firm position. "Beloved, let us love one another; For love is of God, and every one that loveth is born of God, and knoweth God. For God is love. Beloved, if God so loved us, we ought also to love one another." The Epistle St. John. Red Cross sewing for the needy will be opened in the Eastland of Commerce on Monday afternoon. Materials have been supplied by the Red Cross.

Battle To Scoreless Tie In Midfield Most of the Game.

The Ranger Junior college Texan Rangers and the McMurry College Indians battled to a scoreless tie at Lillard field Saturday afternoon, with neither team making a serious threat to score. The Indians tried two field goals, both from the 8-yard line, but both were wild and on one other occasion were within the 10 yard line, but a sturdy Ranger forward wall held and the Indians lost the ball on downs. Both teams, after playing the entire game between the two 30-yard lines, opened aerial attacks that clicked at times and made the crowd think that a touchdown might be in the making at any time, but the offenses failed short of the goal line. C. Smith at quarter, Green at full and Foster at left half showed up well for the visitors on the offense, as did McKenzie at the other half and Johnson, who substituted for Green in the last quarter. The Indian line was able to hold well on the defense, but on the offense did not look so good. Murray, Bumbers and King breaking through time after time to throw the ball carriers for long losses. At one time the count was fourth down and 25 yards to go. The Rangers' most serious bid for a score was in the second quarter when they took Weaver on their own 31 yard line and on three plays crossed the midfield stripe. They then crossed up the defense when Hubbard tossed a pass to Weaver for 10 yards and a first down and a pass to King and a yard gain by Weaver carried the ball to the 17 yard line with two yards to go for a first down. Townsend was elected to gain the two yards but was stopped and the ball went over. Outstanding players for the Rangers were: Stevens, King, Weaver, Hubbard and Faircloth, while King, Murray and Bumbers turned in fine games on the defense, helping to spill many of the McMurry players before they got underway. McMurry got the break of the game, recovering the ball on their own fumbles and recovering one blocked kick for a gain and a first down and receiving five penalties throughout the game. They were outplayed a good part of the game, though they made 17 first downs to nine for the Texas Rangers. The starting lineups—Ranger: Mills and Landers, ends; Mitchell and Murray, guards; Blackwell and Bumbers, guards; Horton, center; Hubbard, quarterback; Stevens and Faircloth, halves; and Townsend, full. Substitutes—Weaver, Aishman, King, Reese and Campbell. McMurry: F. Smith and Daniels, ends; Hamrick and P. Smith, tackles; Jeffries and Wadlock, guards; Carroll, center; C. Smith, quarterback; Foster and McKenzie, halves and Green, full. Substitutes—John, Bell and Weatherman.

was instrumental in the re-organization of the Red Cross Society in the United States. The National Red Cross was incorporated under the laws of the District of Columbia, and re-incorporated in 1905 for the relief of suffering by war, pestilence, famine, flood, fire, and other calamities that could be deemed national in extent. In 1905 a stricter business organization was incorporated by congress, with William H. Taft, then secretary of war as its president. In all the wide world there is no organization that is as useful, as wide in its operations, and as merciful as the Red Cross. This wonderful body is to other organizations, as the north star is to its galaxy of heavenly bodies. Founded in our country through the instrumentality of a noble, self-sacrificing and unselfish woman, who gave her life to the cause of humanity, the Red Cross organization of the United States, stands out in beauty and glory. Established on the foundation of love and mercy, the Red Cross is unique in its firm position. "Beloved, let us love one another; For love is of God, and every one that loveth is born of God, and knoweth God. For God is love. Beloved, if God so loved us, we ought also to love one another." The Epistle St. John. Red Cross sewing for the needy will be opened in the Eastland of Commerce on Monday afternoon. Materials have been supplied by the Red Cross.

Now comes an interesting bit of history in connection with Clara Barton, an American philanthropist, who was born at Oxford, Mass., in 1821, and after graduating from college at Clinton, N. Y., founded a free school at Bordentown, N. J., opening it with six pupils. When she was 24 years of age, this school had grown to 600 pupils. At this time she became a clerk in the patent office in Washington. When the Civil War was declared Miss Barton volunteered as a nurse in army hospitals and on the battle field. When 40 years of age, she could look back over years of disinterested mercy and aid given the suffering and helpless and it was natural for her aid. Grand Duchess of Baden, in establishing military hospitals, during the Franco-Prussian War of 1870. Assisted by the Red Cross society this work was accomplished. She was asked to act as superintendent of distribution of work to the poor of Strasbourg the next year, and in 1872 did similar work in Paris. At close of war she was decorated with the Golden Cross of Baden, and the Iron Cross of Germany. She was the first president of the American Red Cross Society, organized in 1881. Her work in mercy continued through the years and in 1889, Miss Barton had charge of Red Cross work in behalf of sufferers of the Johnstown flood in Pennsylvania. Through the following years she controlled distribution relief to Russian famine sufferers and personally directed relief measures during the horrible Armenian massacres. She took relief to the Cuban Concentrados, in 1898 and in 1900, when 70 years of age, attempted direction of relief of sufferers at Galveston, but had to relinquish the work on account of failure of health. Three years later however she

CALL of the WEST

BY R. G. MONTGOMERY

BEGIN HERE TODAY
STAN HALL, accused ASPER DELTO, timber king, of having men shot who attempt to check up on his activities. Hall says he is making a check. Delo says he will go to prison and prevent it. Upon leaving the office Hall sees DONA, Delo's daughter, from kidnapers. He tells her he is STANLEY BLACK.
DUDLEY WINTERS, in love with Dona, goes with her to Three Rivers to get her father to give up the fight with Hall. Dudley gets a marriage certificate. But out, which he hopes to use. Hall is accused of killing a ranger and of wounding Delo from ambush. Dona has to show him the certificate and tell him she is married to Dudley to get him to promise to leave.
The offer is rated of valuable papers and a pass headed by SWERGIN. Delo's timber boss, surrounded Hall. Dona goes out and is captured after trying to shoot Hall. He takes her to a cave. Swergin finds the cave and rescues Dona. He waits for Hall, who is out, and captures him. Swergin's men start a lynching while taking him in. Dona stands them off with her gun and frees Hall. He lets her take his horse and promises to come for it that night. He says he is leaving the country. Dudley follows Dona and tries to shoot Hall. After his escape, Dona promises to marry Dudley. Dona rides out to investigate queer workings over the ridge. Her horse is shot from under her. She remains consciousness to find Swergin bending over her accusing Hall of the shooting. Dudley has been riding a lot alone and cannot be found.
NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY
CHAPTER XL
ASPER waited fully 15 minutes at the corral before Dudley arrived. Malloy rode away at a lope without looking back, or saying a word regarding his destination or when he would return.
Dudley came riding in at a trot. He was as spotless and unruffled as though he had just come from his room. The old timber king's asper almost choked him as he watched his son-in-law slide from his saddle. "Where have you been?" Asper demanded.
Dudley looked at his father-in-law in a surprised manner.
"I got here just as soon as I heard about it," he protested.
His face flushed as he met Asper's glare.
"You are a fine one! Come along with me, she's been asking for you." Asper gripped Dudley's arm and propelled him toward the main building.
"Where is Dud?" Dona asked, anxiously.
"If you act like a man she'll pull through," Asper snapped.
Dudley's face showed a great deal of concern and he seemed to be very nervous. "You have the doctor with her?" he asked.
"The doctor will stay with her all night and so will you," Asper spoke shortly.
Dudley nodded. "Of course," he said, slowly.
Dudley entered Dona's room and went straight to her side. He stood looking down upon her still form, then dropped to his knees beside her.
Taking one of her slender hands in his, Dudley held it and gazed silently upon the softly moving lips. A queer light shone in his eyes as he bent forward, but he did not speak.
BEFORE noon the next day Dona opened her eyes and looked around. The familiar surroundings of her room brought her back to what had happened. The doctor got up and smiled down at her. He mentioned to Asper who was standing beside an open window, instantly the old timber man was at the bedside. Dona smiled up at him and stretched out her hand. Asper pressed it gently as he bent forward.
"Sorry, dad," she murmured.
"Never mind, D, you are all right and I'll get that fellow, Hall," Asper's big jaw set hard.
Dona shook her head. "I must tell you something else." She stirred as though to sit up.
The doctor lifted a warning hand. "That will be all of the talking for this morning," he said as he motioned Asper away from the bed. The medic did not intend to take any chances with his patient.
Asper backed off. "I'll be in after dinner and have a little talk with you. Better go to sleep now."

Dona laughed softly. "I'll be up this afternoon, Dad."
The doctor smiled, but not without a trace of irritation.
"Where is Dud?" Dona asked, as though she had remembered him for the first time.
"He'll be in in a minute," Asper promised. "I'll hike out and tell him you are awake."
Dona held out a hand weakly. "First tell me, what happened to the roan?" There was real concern in her eyes.
Asper cleared his throat and looked at the floor.
"He was killed!" Dona faltered.
Asper brightened suddenly as he remembered that Malloy had ridden out on an errand of his own making. "Malloy went out to get him and that boy can sure take care of a horse."
"Malloy is a good fellow, Dad," Dona murmured.
THE doctor stepped outside and Asper followed him. "She ought to go back to sleep and rest an hour or so more before Winters talks to her," the doctor said gravely. "She will be sitting up tomorrow. I never saw more vitality." He shook his head. "She will not stay in bed."
Asper grunted and looked about the big main room. Dudley was so where in sight, but his door was open. Asper walked over and looked in. Dudley was standing before the mirror, smoothing back his hair. He was as fresh as a newly-opened rose. Asper snorted disapprovingly. Dudley dropped the brushes he had been running through his hair and stepped forward.
"Has she wakened?" he asked.
Asper nodded. "Doc says you'll have to wait until she has had another sleep of an hour or so. She's pretty excitable and wants to talk. When you do see her don't talk about this business."
Dudley laid a hand on the older man's arm. "I'll be very careful," he said.
Asper and Dudley went down to the corral to see if the roan had been brought in. Malloy was not to be found but a young helper was on hand.
"Did they find the roan?" Dudley asked.
The boy nodded toward a saddle that lay on the ground at the door of the harness room. "Had two bat-

FAMOUS FOOTBALL PLAYS

NOTRE DAME'S SPINNER BUCK
NOTRE DAME'S spinner buck is a deception play and worked from a formation that is tricky, because either a thrust into the line or a lateral pass can be worked from it.
At left are two sketches showing how these plays can be worked. The upper sketch shows the spinner thrust into the line between end and tackle. The ball is snapped from center to the back No. 1. He whips to the rear and fakes a pass to back No. 2. Instead of passing, however, he completes his spin and dives off tackle, fak- ing back No. 3 who has gone before to open a hole.
Back No. 4 goes through the line to take out the opposing half, and No. 3 goes on to take out the left end.
The lower sketch shows how a lateral can be worked from the same formation, back No. 1—lateral to back No. 2.

Fidels Matrons Enjoy Party
Mrs. George Harrell of South Seaman street, opened her attractive home Friday afternoon, to the Fidels Matrons class of the Baptist church, hostesses by Group No. 1, under the direction of Mrs. W. A. Stiles, group captain.
A Hallow'en atmosphere of darkened rooms, with soft lights glimmering through jack-o-lanterns greeted the guests.
Hallow'en emblems, in silhouette of witches, bats and cats, were festooned on window draperies, and low bowls filled with yellow cosmos were used in decoration.

Mrs. Harrell and Mrs. Stiles received informally. A brief program of devotional opened the afternoon.
Song ensemble, "What a Friend We have in Jesus," with Mrs. H. A. McCantles at piano, and Mrs. Frank V. Williams, as song leader, preceded prayer by Mrs. W. H. Muston.
A short business session was conducted by Mrs. Harrell, president. The devotional following, presented "Spiritual Growth," given by Mrs. W. A. Owen.
A series of clever games was led by Mrs. Williams. The initiation into the "Royal Order of Donkey," introduced a blindfold game and a threading exercise proved that needles are not always easy to handle.
Timely refreshments of pecan-pumpkin pie with whipped cream topping, and coffee, were served by Mrs. Stiles and hostess group at close of a pleasant afternoon, to Miss Wilbert Irons, J. A. Stover, J. H. Fulcher, Eugene Tucker, Earl T. Williams, J. T. Drake, Charles Seed, W. P. Fuller, Lily Herndon, A. O. Cook, L. G. Summers, A. J. Campbell, H. A. McCantles, W. A. Owen, E. L. Young, Frank V. Williams, W. H. Muston, J. L. Lambert, E. W. Gurley, W. D. R. Owen, W. A. Stiles, S. C. Walker, and George Harrell.
Enjoys Hallow'en Party.
The Neetopew group of Camp Fire Girls had a hilarious time at their Hallow'en party Thursday night when they were received at the home of Mrs. Tom Harrell, their guardian, who was assisted by Mrs. W. K. Hyer, Mrs. Joe H. Jones, Mrs. N. N. Rosenquist, and Mrs. W. E. Coleman, in entertaining the jolly young crowd.
The Harrell home was decorated with Hallow'en devices and bowls of yellow chrysanthemums adorned the living-room, where a style revue was held, as a curtain raiser to the fun program.
Everybody was in masquerade and wore some kind of costume of witch, Spanish belle, tuck, clown, or petrol.
A prize was offered for the one who could maintain their identity the longest without becoming known, and as all were masked this was rather difficult. The prize was awarded Ida Lee Foster, who represented a lady of 1890, and who was presented a Hallow'en noise maker.
Mrs. Harrell was assisted by Mary Jane Harrell, in snappy red costume and black face, a typical "bellhop."
Maxine Coleman was awarded the prize, a fortune telling set, for the most beautiful costume. A Katrina Lovelace carried off a horn as honors in the weird class, and Geraldine Russell was awarded a roll of confetti, for the most comical outfit.
Stunt games were played in the clubroom, which was wonderfully decorated in plants, witches, bats, cats, and pumpkin lights. Fun novelties were presented in reading, tap dancing, acrobatic stunts, and cake walking.
Refreshments of ginger bread with whipped cream topping and hot chocolate were served after a hilarious evening to Maxine Coleman, Jeanne Johnston, Olivette Killoff, Jackie Bellew, Alice Jones, Marzelle Wicks, Clara Clarke, Francis Lane, Mildred McGlamery, Doris Lawrence, Gladys Gates, Ida Lee Foster, Betty Weigand, Edith Rosenquist, Ruby Lee Pritchard, Sileen Mays, Helen Rosenquist, Lucie Coy Stover, June Hyer, Janie May Cottinham, Betty Hyer, Gladys Harsh, Katrina Lovelace, Mary Helen Armstrong, and Mary Jane Harrell.
Football Boys Lunched.
A special lunch was served at 11:30 a. m., to the Eastland high Mavericks, 27 in all, by Mrs. C. C. Ligon, Friday morning in cafeteria of the Eastland high school.
The game was played in Breckenridge by the boys Friday afternoon.
Young People's Department Baptist Church.
Thursday night the young people's department and the Senior Baptist Young People's union, enjoyed a Hallow'en party in the lower assembly room of the Baptist church, which was colorfully decorated in seasonable emblems and devices, and vases of yellow chrysanthemums.
Floor games were diversion, and many Hallow'en romps and fortune telling devices passed a merry evening, led by Mrs. W. G. Wright, Bruce Butler, Misses Irene Williams, and Ruth Butler.
A dainty refreshment plate of sandwiches, cake and hot chocolate with plate favors of naive mache cats, was served Misses Thelma Woods, Beulah Drake, Rowena Cook, Irene Williams, Emma Hunt, Aileen Williams; Mrs. and Mrs. Bruce Butler, Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Murphy, Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Wright, Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Lambert, Mrs. O. B. Durby, J. A. Thomas, James Bell, John Frank Williams, and Harvey Basham.
Thursday Afternoon Study Club "In Politics."
The Thursday Afternoon Study club presented a very fine program last Thursday afternoon, with papers and discussions centering about the major topic, politics.
The hostess and leader of lesson, Mrs. Wilburne B. Collier, presented Mrs. W. H. Mullings, who gave an unique interpretation of the "Political Boss."
Mrs. W. P. Leslie had an involved, interesting paper on "Taxation," and the book that has created so much interest in political circles and gossip, "More Meggy Go Round," was given a book review, quite exhaustive, by Mrs. Grady Pipkin.
The program proper closed with an article on Walter Lippman, written by Mrs. A. H. Johnson.
Prior to program roll call was answered with assigned subjects, and these brought many interesting items to the club's attention.
Mrs. W. A. Whitely was greeted as a new member. The business session preceding the program was devoted to the usual routine, the club was formally notified of (Continued on page 6) proposed amendment to the constitution, whereby an increase in membership of clubhouse board would be authorized.

Following this notice given two weeks prior to voting thereon, the amendment will be taken up at the next meeting, and presented for vote at that time.

Announcement was made that the club will meet on Nov. 10, with Mrs. J. M. Perkins as hostess and leader of program, at clubhouse.

Those present, Misses B. M. Collier, Dan Childress, J. E. Hickman, M. C. Hays, Horace Conley, Leslie Gray, C. U. Connelley, W. B. Collier, James Horton, Hubert Jones, F. M. Kenny, Julius B. Krause, W. P. Leslie, Ray Larson, W. A. Martin, J. R. McLaughlin, W. H. Mullings, J. M. Perkins, W. D. R. Owen, W. B. Pickens, Grady Pipkin, R. E. Sikes, M. J. Pickett, Carl Springer, E. Roy Townsend, and W. A. Whitley.

Informal Evening.
Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Whitley entertained a small group of friends very informally at their home, Thursday night, with "84" a game played with two dozen sets of dominoes, by eight persons about one table.

Following a delightful evening, refreshments of ginger cake with whipped cream topping, coffee and Hallowe'en candies were served by the hostess to Judge and Mrs. J. E. Hickman, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Childress, Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Porter, and Mr. Whitley.

This little group meets occasionally for this interesting game, but has no stated time for assembling.

Masquerade Party Enjoyable Event.

Perhaps never in the history of Eastland has there been so many Hallowe'en parties held as has been the case this season. Groups and little folks, clubs, church organizations, and individuals, have all been having various kinds of Hallowe'en parties for several days past.

Among those given for children, one of the most attractive was that of Friday night, when Mrs. J. A. Stover entertained with a masquerade party at the family home, 805 West Moss, for their young daughter, Janie Coy Stover.

All kinds and sorts of costumes were noted, and everyone was masked, which made the interest quite acute. A prize was awarded for the most novel costume.

The home was literally transformed into a Hallowe'en interior, lighted by jack-o-lanterns with soft rays glimmering through jack faces. The corners of the room were filled with autumn boughs, intermingled with corn and maize, and cat and witch silhouettes brought an eerie decoration in keeping with the witch's tent, in which the witch (Mrs. Rosenquest) brewed her incantations over a kettle, beneath which glowed a fire, lighting the interior as she told weird ghost stories, and read the fortunes of the young people.

Trays of rosy cheeked apples, white popcorn, roasted peanuts, and hot cocoa were passed among the gay little crowd. Music throughout the evening and many Hallowe'en games made a delightful party for Edith Rosenquest, Jeanne Johnston, Eileen May, Eleanor Harper, Maxine Coleman, Helen Adams, Fern Lee Frost, Jennie Tolbert, Christine Kelly, Ruth Knight, Louise Cook, Ruth Agnes Harwell, Doris Lawrence, Katherine Garrett, Eugene Gage, Junior Lovett, Jay Francis, Howard Adams, Walker Fuller, Eugene Harris, Charley Griffin, Charles Van Geem, Carroll Franklin, Warren Lane, and Jim Connelley.

Dance-a-Month Club Presents Brilliant Entertainment.

The Elks club ballroom presented a characteristic interior Thursday night on the occasion of the Hallowe'en dance given by the Dance-a-Month club of the Leon Lake power plant organization.

A rustic interior emphasizing the harvest month was artistically developed in decorations of tall sheafs of corn and maize, with brilliant fall foliage, that massed the corners of the ballroom, and formed a pyramid in the center of the spacious floor. About the base, colorful arrangements in yellow pumpkins, and golden harvest fruit, encircled the mound, which stood under a canopy of streamers in the harvest shades, extending from the ceiling lights to the pyramid.

Each cluster of bulbs was dimmed with pumpkin faces of papier mache. Spaced between the windows stood tall pillars of hay, topped with lighted pumpkin lanterns. The harvest idea was further indicated by the wagon wheels here and there, against the walls, and the atmosphere throughout preserved the old-time barn dance life.

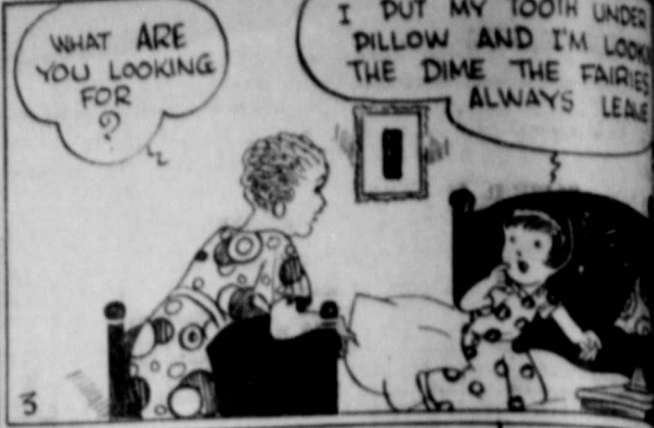

Wonderful music was furnished by the Ray Judia orchestra of six pieces from Cisco.

Those not dancing and as on-lookers, enjoying the luxury of the lounge-room were happily entertained by the charming music, and the unique and characteristic decorations, which added a great charm to the spacious Elks club home.

Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. F. T. Hightower, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Pickens, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. McDonald, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Collier, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Birmingham, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Harrison, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kilbough, Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Collier, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Stephen, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. McLaughlin, Mr. and Mrs. James Horton, Mr. and Mrs. C. U. Connelley, Mr. and Mrs.

SCOUT NEWS
 BOY SCOUTS OF AMERICA

Scouts. Encouraging reports come from all parts of the council. Such activities and advancements are being realized by each individual troop, due largely to the enthusiastic planning and conscientious scoutmasters.

The scoutmaster's job is to see how many boys he can give an opportunity to receive the scouting program in an adequate way. He sometimes gets very much discouraged over things, but is pepped up to continue when he realizes he has made a score by the actions and the conduct of some particular boy.

Although the scoutmaster gets to cash in on some of the dividends during the life of the troop, many of the older ones now are reaping joy and benefit from seeing scouts of yesterday grown to manhood and making real participating citizens. The scoutmaster being the man who comes in direct contact with the boy, is known as the key-man in scouting. All of the set-up as far as organization is concerned is primarily for aiding the scoutmaster in getting the program over to the scouts.

Our hats are off to the scoutmaster who takes his job seriously and equips himself with all possible tools that are necessary in carrying out a well rounded troop program.

Goldthwaite.

The troop was re-organized in Goldthwaite last Thursday night with Marvin Hodges, chairman, and R. L. Steen Jr., O. H. Yarbrough, J. A. Palmer and M. Y. Stokes as members of the troop committee. The troop committee selected Judge James O. Marberry as scoutmaster of the troop. The troop was formerly known as Troop No. 17, but has been changed to 16. We wish for this troop a most enjoyable scouting year.

Troop No. 5.

The scribe of Troop 5 of Brownwood reports a general get-together meeting of the troop lining up some new members, playing lots of games, a talk by the scout executive, and a good story by Rev. Foster ending all with a chili supper. George A. Reiff Jr. is scoutmaster of the troop.

A big scout rally will be held in Ranger Friday night, Oct. 28. Troops participating in this rally will come from Breckenridge, Cisco, Ranger, Eastland, Caddo and Parks. Various contests in scoutcraft will take place. This rally is similar to the one held in Breckenridge during the spring when Ranger carried off first place.

Bernard Shaw declares patriotism is a "pernicious, psychopathic form of idocy." But probably his words will be wasted on American politicians.

Sixty Guests Attend Delightful Halloween Party

Never has there been a more colorfully celebrated holiday than has Halloween of this year, with clubs and parties of various kinds holding full sway in the social fiction.

Folks arriving at parties in rags and tatters have been sufficiently disgruntled to make all affairs more than a delightful success.

All good Halloween games have been enjoyed with renewed interest and Ranger as a whole has observed the fun to a very pleasant extent. Every one with masks on, and dressed in gaily combined costumes gave the necessary finishing touch to each party.

Sixty guests were invited to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin George, Jr., Tee Pee Camp, Thursday evening, entertaining members of the Young Married Peoples class of the Church of Christ, taught by the Rev. D. W. Nichol.

As each guest ascended the steps of the George home they were greeted with Mowse from a black cat sitting behind a cluster of ruminative vines.

Mrs. George and Mrs. O. G. Lanier, program chairman, received the guests and presented them with pencils and paper, on which they wrote their names and deposited them in an attractively built wishing well.

In one corner of the living room attracting outstanding attention was that of a tent with its interior effecting an Egyptian background, with colors revealed through dimly shaded lights entwined through leaves suggesting all of autumn's colors.

Each person's fortune was told by Madame X, who wore a fancy costume for the occasion. When Madame X was revealed as the clock struck the hour for all to unmask the interesting lady who told one's future so cleverly was none other than Mrs. F. E. Martin, who has grown quite popular for such diversion.

The entertainment, checked full of gaiety and merry-making was made even more gay with games in the form of "Imagine," Game Hunting, led by Rev. and Mrs. Nichol, when Cats, Owls and Bats were found in mysterious places. At the close of these games the party members were escorted to the upstairs rooms in groups, where Spooky Land was visited in complete darkness.

What could be more of a surprise to the visitors than to find a mournful white-faced witch with hinky hair standing behind the door to greet them?

During the serving of a delicious and well carried out refreshment plate, emphasizing the colors of Halloween, sandwiches made of pimiento cheese and pumpkin pie, topped with whipped cream and black coffee. Edwin George, Jr., Herring, and E. L. Nelson, furnished a musical program well in keeping with the party.

Those present included:

Mrs. Inez Vaughn, Mrs. O. G. Lanier, Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Herring, Mrs. Fannie Williams, Mrs. Elie Peterson, Mrs. Marie Wheel, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hise, Leola Myers Martin, William Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Myers, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Davenport, Velma Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Lanier, Miss Eunice Clemmer, Mrs. B. C. Moran, Miss Evelyn Ivy, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. # SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

BY SISTER MARY NEA Service Writer

LEFT-OVERS, so often the bane of the cook's thrifty soul, can be used so cleverly that the second dish is quite as attractive as the original one. The average man likes well-made hash and gravy and this liking well may be the inspiration for appetizing dishes that are created from the accumulation in the icebox.

No matter how left-over meats are used, infinite care should be taken that all bits of fat and crusts are trimmed away and discarded. Reheating will not make these parts any more palatable than they were after the first cooking. The finding of undesirable morsels in hash or other "rechauffe" dishes soon teaches a family to regard left-overs with distrust and suspicion.

Sandwiches, meat pies, timbales and croquettes provide variety and are rather more elaborate and impressive than the proverbial hash. Timbales are an economical dish, since they offer an opportunity to use up a number of different kinds of meat to suit individual tastes. A bit of fish may go into one timbale, a left-over lamb chop into a second, and a slice of cold roast beef or veal into the third.

Sandwiches, too, are economical. They may be hot or cold, are easy to make and furnish unusual means for savory combinations. Raw vegetables such as celery, carrots, cabbage and tomatoes combine well with meats and add to the wholesomeness of the sandwich.

Every business and social session was conducted in such a manner that an unusually delightful hospitality prevailed throughout the entire week.

The local chapter was splendidly represented at this prominent fall event which has been much in the Fort Worth calendar's time light of well rounded out happenings.

ARRITTA'S SHOPPING

To be just a bit personal and individual is quite in vogue with fall and winter here to visit us for several months. So! Changes in our homes and in our personal appearances are necessary to maintain that essential outlook on the present situation, times and things. Take a short trip with me and enjoy the rare values I had for you Saturday.

It's loads of fun and will make every member of your family happy, too, if you plan having a bit of remodeling or painting done in your home. The familiar saying isn't it really surprising what a touch of paint will do, will truly prove true if you pay a visit to the Pickering Lumber Company, and see for yourself the wonderful supply of paints and varnishes, to be had at such shockingly low prices. For $1.25 one may buy a quart of cabinet paint and give a bright retouch to various places about your home. In looking over the pretty patterns in wallpaper, Mr. Brown showed me the very designs appropriate for your living, living and bedroom. Their supply of paints, yes, they're True's necessities, cannot be excelled in price and quality.

Yes, "happy days are here again," when one can find in Ranger so beautiful and well selected furniture at prices anyone can afford to pay. A peculiar thing but it's true, every person who enters your home immediately feels a hospitable welcome or a rather cool and uncomfortable feeling that you just aren't comfortable. Due to what? Your furniture and the taste in choosing it. I visited the furniture department at Montgomery Ward & Co., Saturday afternoon and became wholly absorbed in the lovely and richly combined living room suits. They are perfectly beautiful and will be surprised and glad for another breath and add a few cools and saabs when they give the unusually low prices. There's no reason on earth why you can't have an adorably furnished rose-covered bungalow, love nest or even a blue heaven, if you go to Montgomery Ward & Co. and ask Mr. Fox or Mr. Walker to show you these gorgeous suits.
