West Texas—Fair, not much change in temperature tonight and Wednesday.

They're changing the rules of bridge again—apparently in hopes of competing with the great game of football.

HIGHWAY IN JUNCTION HEARING IS SET

Breckenridge Man Is Wounded In Gun Battle

PEEPING THRU THE KNOTHOLE

with BILL MAYES

Gripin' Gus Coleman comes back at us for saying he predicted the winner of the Eastland-Breckenridge game would be Oil Belt champions, and goes on to say that the Buckaroos outplayed, out-passed, outslugged, and outran the Bulldogs, that the only thing the Bulldogs did was to get the most scores. If it means anything to Gus we will admit the Buckaroos looked better, smiled more sweetly and had prettier teeth than the Bulldogs.

However Gus goes on to say that any predictions he made last January or February didn't go now, which reminds us that we promised to quote another prediction. Here it is to the best of our memory—we haven't found that clipping yet.

Prexy Anderson, after calling us to find out about a basket ball game, wrote in his column that we said the fans here were not much interested in basket ball right at that time. Prexy advised the town to go basket ball-minded, because a town the size of Ranger could never hope to get anywhere with football. He said that it was not likely Ranger would ever have a strong enough team to win the district again, much less go far in the state race, or words to that effect. We have our fingers crossed in case we have misquoted Prexy too much.

Anyway, here is another prediction—This from Bloddy Cross of San Angelo, and which we have been saving for an occasion of this kind. Bloddy said, just after Abilene beat San Angelo 9 to 7.

"It was an accident that Abilene beat San Angelo, but it probably won't be an accident when Abilene beats the Oil Belt."

"Bet you Abilene beats Lubbock tonight. Also, lay you the elephants struggle through to another Oil Belt championship this year. The Mayhew mastodons have started even slower than has been their custom. They'll be up there throwing punches from all directions when the district goes rings."

The bi-district games will all be played this week-end, four of the games being played on Friday and four on Saturday. The complete schedule is as follows:

On Friday, Sherman will play at Vernon; Greenville at Athens; Harlingen at Corpus Christi and Austin (El Paso) at Sweetwater.

The Saturday games will be between Amarillo at Ranger; Woodrow Wilson (Dallas) at Masonville (Fort Worth); Breckenridge (San Antonio) at Corsicana; and Beaumont at John Reagan (Houston).

Considerable work is being done at Lillard field. On the Hodges Oak Park side water had rotted away the foundation of the stands on that side of the field. A drainage ditch has been dug, the stands jacked up and the foundation underlaid with rock. The same is being done on the end zones and new boards are being put in on the seats where others had broken or rotted.

Banquet Tickets Are Going Fast

J. C. Smith, who has charge of the arrangements for the turkey banquet that is to be given for the Ranger Bulldogs in the green room of the Ghoslon hotel on Wednesday night, announced today that many reservations had already been made by fans who intend to attend.

The price for a plate at the banquet will be only 50 cents and a large number of fans, in addition to the football team, is expected to be on hand. Those who intend to go to the banquet are urged to get in touch with Mr. Smith before Wednesday noon and let him know if they are to be present.

A good speaker has been assured for the banquet and a good time is in store for all who attend.

Sleepyhead Excuse Draws Fat Fine

VIRALBA, Cal.—Frank Cusis, dairyman, explained in justice court that the reason his children, Frank, 15, and Mary, 13, didn't get to school was that he could not get them up early enough.

Then it came out that what he meant was that he could not get the children up early enough to milk a herd of cows before school time.

He was fined $10.

WOUNDED MAN WILL RECOVER

DOCTORS SAY

Officer Shoots Six Times After He Is Fired Upon.

By United Press.
BRECKENRIDGE, Nov. 29.—J. P. Gilchrist, 40, superintendent of the Hanlon Gasoline company of Breckenridge, was in a local hospital today, suffering from three pistol bullet wounds received in a gun battle three miles south of Breckenridge late Monday afternoon.

The shooting occurred after Constable L. D. Slaughter had served the wounded man with some civil papers. Slaughter was accompanied by Deputy Constable Jack Ellington when the shooting occurred.

According to the officers a charge of buckshot, alleged to have been fired by Gilchrist, entered the door of the car just under the glass on the side on which Ellington was seated. Ellington drew his gun and fired six shots, three hitting Gilchrist, who was wounded in the left side, left arm and in the fleshy part of the knee.

Doctors at the hospital said today that the wounded man would recover. No charges had been filed this afternoon.

Ranger Retail Merchants Plan Christmas Season

At a meeting of the Ranger Retail Merchants association, held in the office of the secretary on Monday night, plans for Christmas decorations and the official opening of the Christmas shopping season were worked out and committees appointed to take care of the details.

It was decided to have the Christmas lights put up again this year as on previous years and to have the stores decorated for Saturday night. Santa will pay his official visit to the city at 8 o'clock on the night of Saturday, Dec. 3, when he will distribute candies to the kiddies. The Ranger High school band will play for the occasion, appearing on Main street shortly before 8 when a short concert will be rendered.

A committee was appointed to take care of the street decorations, and it was pointed out that this work could be done much cheaper this year than in previous years.

It was voted at the meeting not to close the stores of the city during the night of Saturday, Dec. 26, in celebration of Christmas. Monday was selected because with Christmas coming on Sunday, Saturday was expected to be a big day for the merchants. No action was taken on closing on the Monday following New Years as it has no custom for the city to close for the New Year celebration.

The committee which will have charge of the arrangements is composed of Roy Gilbreath, F. D. Hicks, H. L. Killingsworth, R. V. Galloway, A. N. Larson and W. C. Hickey.

Ranger Board of Equalization Meets

The board of equalization of the Ranger Independent school district, which went into session on Monday, was continuing its deliberations today in the office of the school tax collector on Main street.

It was said today that the board would probably complete their work on Wednesday or Thursday of this week.

Those on the board are W. S. Adamson, C. E. May, G. D. Chastain, A. N. Larson and Roy Speed.

Motherhood Ages Show Wide Range

SACRAMENTO, Cal.—Registration here of mothers' ages, along with birth certificates, show that motherhood ages range from 13 to 51 years, according to Mrs. Marie B. Stringer, state registrar of vital statistics.

Although such age limits represent the extremes, Mrs. Stringer said state records show that 13-year-old mothers are reported "everywhere in a while."

U. S. Youth Exiled in Geneva Riots

Above, Karl Herroshoff of San Diego, Cal., was deported from Switzerland after the recent Communist riots at Geneva in which, police claimed, he was a leader. He was photographed in Paris, after deportation, and denied having a part in the outbreak in the world peace center.

RANGER ARENA SCENE OF GOOD BOUTS MONDAY

The Ranger Elks Lodge opened its season of athletic shows at the Elks' Arena on Main street Monday night with a good wrestling and boxing card.

Art (Kid) Dula, 155, of Brownwood and Duke Trammel, 152, of Fort Worth fought in the main boxing event, which was an eight-round affair which ended in a draw. Trammel and Dula each got two knockdowns and the fight was one of the best seen in the local arena.

In the main wrestling event Sgt. Bill Angus, 155, Ranger, won from Bloddy Crane, 155, of Abilene, taking the second and third falls after Crane had won the first.

The first fall went to Crane when he threw Angus with a head scissor after 15 minutes of wrestling. Angus took the second fall with a headlock in 5 minutes and took the third in 9 minutes, 10 seconds. This was about the best exhibition of wrestling ever seen in the Elks arena, through some experienced wrestlers have been on the card from Los Angeles.

In the preliminary Woody Cole, of Strawn, knocked out Baffling McManus in the first round, the fight going but one minute, 35 seconds. Cole easily had the edge over his opponent in this fight and had little trouble in securing the only knockout of the evening.

In the other preliminary, between Lawson Acuff of Ranger and Pat Slay of Olden, which was scheduled to go six rounds, Referee Dick Bowers called the match at the end of the third round, declaring it no contest because the two were not fighting.

A curtain raiser between two negro boys, introduced as "Fudge" Lewis and "Tarzan" Nealy, who weighed in at 118 pounds, was declared a draw after three furious rounds which drew the applause of the crowd.

All the net proceeds of the show will go to the Elks Christmas fund, which will be used to furnish Christmas baskets for the needy.

New York Election Head Sentenced

President S. Howard Cohen, above, of the New York City Board of Elections has been sentenced to 30 days in the Federal House of Detention for refusing election for review by a federal grand jury. Cohen's refusal was based on his belief that the records in question—concerning balloting in two districts—were property of the state and could not be removed from that jurisdiction.

ALLOWABLE FOR STATE NOW SET BY COMMISSION

AUSTIN, Nov. 29.—The state railroad commission today announced the East Texas oil field allowable production will be 325,600 barrels a day, under new production orders being drafted.

It was said that this flat allowable will be 37 barrels a well per day.

Allowables for other fields and the total state allowable will be announced later today.

A preliminary totaling of figures upon which the allowable oil production of the state will be fixed for a 60-day period, indicated a total state production of 839,460 barrels a day. The figures were being re-checked before the order is issued.

APPEALS COURT WILL GET CASE ON SATURDAY

State Willing To Submit The Matter Without Briefs.

By United Press.
AUSTIN, Nov. 29.—The third court of civil appeals here today announced it will hear a motion to dissolve former Governor James E. Ferguson's injunction suit against the state highway commission Saturday at 9 a. m.

"The state is willing to submit the matter without briefs," said Attorney General James V. Allred. "We think a general demurrer will dispose of the entire matter in view of its great importance, the earlier we have a ruling the better."

In urging haste, Attorney General Allred told the judges that if the contention of Ferguson about highway appropriations is correct, then there is no money to pay highway employees or for the department to do anything. "If that is so, we want to know it at once," said Allred.

Allred declared, in his motion, that it was necessary to place under contract immediately the emergency unemployment relief funds of which the state has been allotted $7,664,621, about which more than $2,500,000 was to have been expended under contracts advertised for letting here this week.

"Thousands of people in various counties, including 50 in which projects were advertised for award, are walking the street unemployed," said Allred's petition. "In an effort to alleviate the sufferings of the people the highway commission has proposed to make available, at once, the vast sums allocated to Texas."

Funeral arrangements were under the direction of Killingsworth, Cox & Co., with interment in the Evergreen cemetery immediately following the services at the church.

Ranger Firemen Receive Praise for Work at Carbon

The Ranger fire department is in receipt of a letter from W. A. Tate, mayor of Carbon, in which he expresses the appreciation of the citizens of the town to the department for their work in extinguishing the blaze at the Carbon peat plant on Sunday, Nov. 29.

The letter reads, in part: "We wish to take this method of expressing to your most efficient department our most grateful thanks and appreciation for your prompt response to our call for help in extinguishing the conflagration to our Carbon peat plant on Sunday, Nov. 29 and to assure those firemen and your city that if you should ever require any assistance in a like manner or otherwise from us you may feel free to call upon us and we will readily and gladly respond."

"Our citizens who watched these firemen handle their equipment and spray two streams of water for over an hour from a distance of 1,000 feet under a pressure of 200 pounds are firmly convinced you would be able to save any building in our little city if you could reach it in time."

Man Surrenders in Ambush Death

LUFKIN, Texas, Nov. 29.—Archie Pottin, oil field worker and son-in-law of Constable Bob Davis, surrendered to authorities today, two hours after the slaying of former Deputy Sheriff Henry Massingill, 50.

Massingill was shot five times from ambush as he stepped from his residence to go downtown. He died instantly.

Massingill's wife and several children were in the house at the time. They rushed outside and found his body.

Success Is Seen For Roosevelt By One Hoosier

SYRACUSE, Ind.—A successful and powerful administration for President-elect Franklin D. Roosevelt is predicted by W. L. Ballard on the basis of "a scientific forecast—not fortune telling," centered on the fact that Roosevelt's father was 51 when Franklin was born.

Ballard called attention to the fact that many leaders in public life were born of middle-aged fathers and young mothers.

Jefferson Davis, he said, was 52 when the Confederate states' president was born; Robert E. Lee and Benjamin Harrison were born to fathers who were 51; William Pitt the younger's father was 54; President Taft's was 47, and Queen Victoria's 52.

Even the fact that Woodrow Wilson's father was only 37 when the World war president was born does not detract from his theory, Ballard said, because that age is considerably above the average of 30.

Such offspring as cited, Ballard said, apparently inherit certain qualities and characteristics. Roosevelt he said is no exception.

"This definitely warrants," Ballard explained, "a scientific forecast of a possible, probable, new administration that will be well organized, well managed and powerful, because of the calm, deep personality at its head, who can quietly move the unmovable, without apparent effort, whether it be a New York mayor, sheriff or legislator, or maybe our broader, deep-seated semi-chronic depression."

"Tras, brains" do not always imply "goodness," yet the knowledge is that this law (of heredity) engenders healthy humility that predisposes to right conduct."

Witness in Bank Robbery Trial Is Shot From Ambush

LUFKIN, Texas, Nov. 29.—Two witnesses in the trial of three men involved in an attempted robbery of the bank at Huntington were fired upon and one was wounded late last night, authorities revealed today.

Cal Jones, night watchman, was shot in the arm by one of three bullets fired. Another witness was not hurt. Jones appeared today as a witness, regardless of his injury.

The robbery was one in which a Texas ranger arrested a deputy sheriff, a church deacon and another man as the Huntington bank safe was about to be carted away. The safe contained $10,000 in cash and securities.

Rockies Are Young Geologists Reveal

BUTTE, Mont.—The Rocky Mountains are more youngsters in age when compared to other portions of the earth's surface, a geological survey of northwestern Montana by Dr. C. H. Clapp, president of the University of Montana, has revealed.

The Rockies were formed during the late Mesozoic Age, when life had advanced to the reptilian stage, and giant dinosaurs were beginning to hold fantastic sway over the region, Dr. Clapp said.

CONGRESSMAN DIES.

MARION, Va., Nov. 29.—Congressman James C. McLaughlin, 74 years old, republican of Michigan, dropped dead of a heart attack in his hotel room here today.

MAN ADMITS KIDNAPING OF 'BABY LINDY'

BEAUMONT, Texas, Nov. 29.—Rico Fottino, 19, who introduced himself as a Chicago beer peddler, walked up to a policeman here today and "confessed" he helped kidnap Charles A. Lindbergh Jr.

At headquarters he said his conscience forced him to surrender.

Police placed little credence in his story but ordered him held.

Fottino said the kidnapers were aided by a woman accomplice who worked in the Lindbergh home and that Harry Fleisher, Detroit gangster, also was a member of the kidnaping party.

Search for Slayers of Lindbergh Child In Active Stages

(Copyright by United Press.) TRENTON, N. J., Nov. 29.—Search for the kidnapers and killers of Charles Augustus Lindbergh Jr. is now in its most extensive and active stage, the United Press learned authoritatively today.

Much water has flowed under the bridge since the spring afternoon a woodschopper found the Lindbergh baby four miles from the Hopewell home where he was stolen the night of March 1.

Now only Col. H. Norman Schwarzkopf and his New Jersey state police remain in active pursuit of the thief, almost non-existent trail, left by the kidnapers.

Schwarzkopf has been tracing ransom money Dr. John Condon tossed over the wall of a cemetery. Police have little doubt but that the men who stole the baby were the men who got the money. Schwarzkopf has received several of the bills. He hopes, his associates say, that one of the bills will provide him a powerful clew.

Schwarzkopf has kept his other clews a profound secret from all but a few associates. A half dozen of his track troopers now work on the Lindbergh investigation exclusively.

Stolen Car Found Near Breckenridge

Hal Hunter, employe of the Lone Star Gasoline company, who reported a company car had been stolen from Marston street, in Ranger, reported today that the car had been found two miles southeast of Breckenridge.

The tires had been stripped from the car, but otherwise it was not damaged. After considerable search for the keys they were found under the radiator cap, Mr. Hunter said.

The car was stolen on Wednesday night of last week.

Book May Change Monument Location

HARVE, Mont.—A monument erected to mark the spot where General Custer died in his famed "last stand" at Little Big Horn may be located far from the place he was killed, according to a new book by Frank B. Linderman, a Montana author.

Linderman's book, "Red Mother," tells the life story of Pretty Shield, an aged Crow Indian woman still living.

Pretty Shield, according to Linderman, said her husband, Goes-Ahead, was with Custer when he was killed, and that he fell from his horse into the Little Big Horn River. The monument supposed to mark the place he died is located some distance from the river, on a hillside. Custer's body was said to have been found there, and was removed to West Point for burial.

HOUSTON—Headquarters for Shell Petroleum corporation's operations in New Mexico, Louisiana and Texas will be established here about Dec. 15.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—A congressional investigation of the treasury department, centering around heavy tax refunds to large corporations, will be sponsored in the coming session by Representative Patman, democrat, of Texas, he announced today.

MERCY ASSURED: He that covereth his sins shall not prosper; but whoso confesseth and forsaketh them shall have mercy.—Proverbs 28: 13.

SENATOR BARKLEY AND THE R. F. C.

U. S. Senator Allen W. Barkley of Kentucky is getting a close-up of Texas. He is vacationing in the Alamo City. He was interviewed by press representatives. He declared that some branches of the agricultural credit corporation, using Reconstruction Finance corporation funds, are charging agricultural borrowers 7 per cent while railroads and banks are getting the same funds at 3 1/2 per cent. Furthermore, the Kentucky statesman declared that he took the matter up with the R. F. C. in Washington before coming to Texas and that Col. Jesse H. Jones, member of the R. F. C., "apparently agreed with him that such discrimination should not be practiced;" that such practices, also the circumventing of congressional efforts with legal opinions, were slowing up relief measures enacted by congress. He deplored the fact that the home loan bank had not yet got to functioning as the "homes" included farm homes under the act. As to the proposed national legalization of beer the Kentucky statesman ventured the opinion that cooperation of states would be necessary before the government could realize anything from beer as a revenue measure. His viewpoint: "If the government found that three per cent beer is not intoxicating, the states that maintain anything above one per cent is intoxicating would have to change their laws. There are about 30 states that would have to change their statutes along with the federal laws." As for tariff revision he admitted that something must be done, because it stands in the way of world trade and at the same time tends to depress local or domestic prices. Kentucky democrats and independents rolled up the largest majority in the history of the commonwealth on Nov. 8. They elected a solid delegation of representatives and returned Barkley to the senate for another term of six years. This is his first close-up of the commonwealth known as the "paradise of the Lord" and where Kentuckians were among the makers of the early history of the republic and later the state.

FRANK SIMONDS AS PROPHET

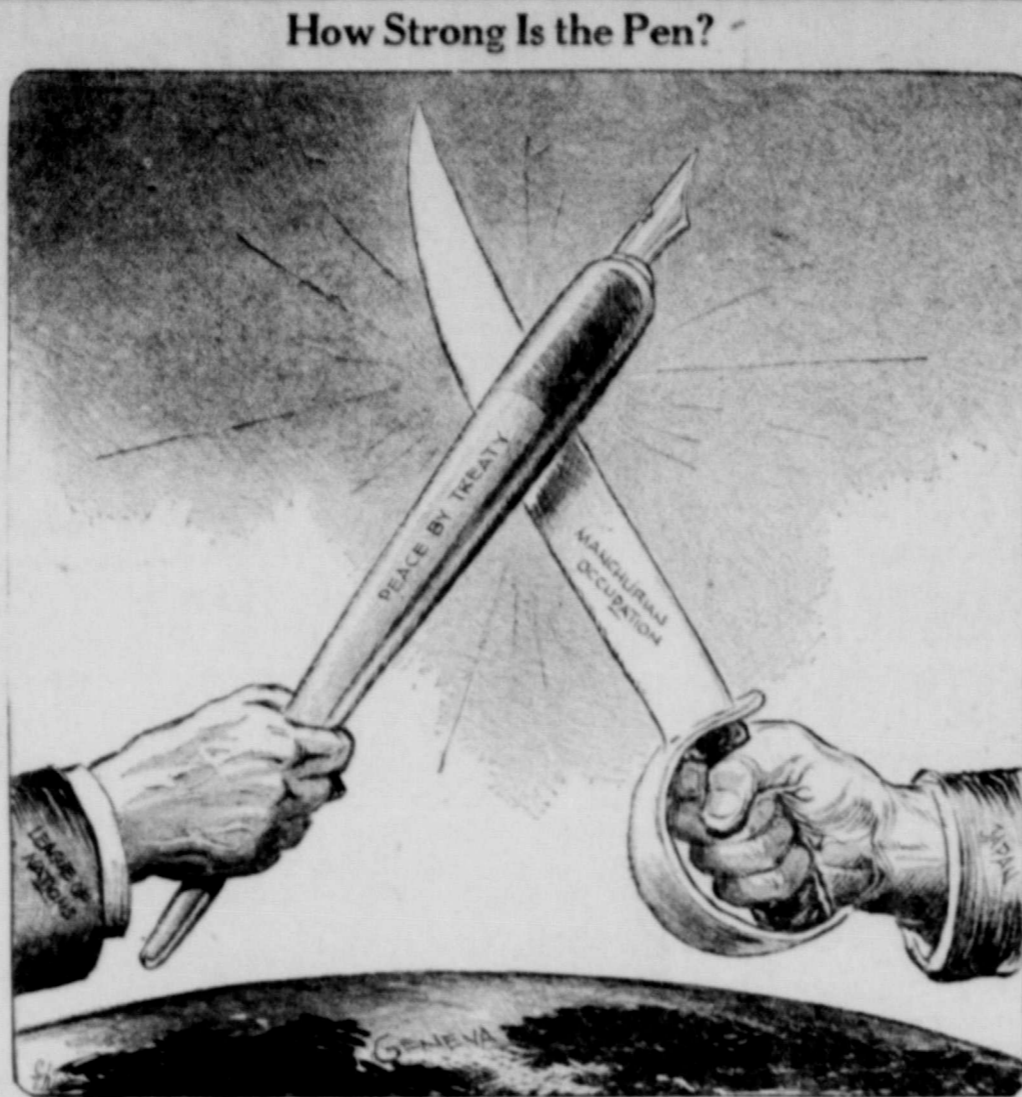

Frank H. Simonds was a prophet in war time, a fascinating chronicler of events in after the war time, and he is a prophet today on the subject of cancellation. His latest is that the Allies must either pay Uncle Sam the war loans or repudiate the war loans. He is positive there is no other way open. He is very pro-emptory in handing out the viewpoint or opinion "that debts will never be settled through diplomatic channels is an established fact." So there you are. The Great War writer has declared himself. It is pay or repudiate. Indeed, he says that our government will not accept territory in exchange for cancellation that it is impossible to trade with our recent allies and a waste of time to hope for a settlement via the diplomatic route. Of course, an American president and an American congress may have the temerity to set aside the decree of this very wise man of three continents by the formulation of a plan that will be acceptable all around. There is an ancient saying. "Man proposes; God disposes." Perhaps the eternal ruler may overrule or set aside the verdict of War Correspondents Simonds.

STATE TEACHERS CONVENTION RESOLUTES

Six thousand teachers attended the annual convention of the Texas State Teachers association. Resolutions adopted included endorsement and suggestion of the appointment of state and county superintendents; protested against repeal of the 18th amendment; asked authority of school boards to issue interest bearing pay warrants to teachers instead of script requiring discounts; certification of teachers by the state board of education; aid from the Reconstruction Finance corporation for schools suffering from insufficient tax collections; and gave sweeping endorsement to the proposed Texas centennial and the world court. All this is a reminder that the teachers are having their own troubles under the skies of the Lone Star.

FRITZ LANHAM HAS OPEN MIND

Congressman Fritz Lanham of the Fort Worth district a distinguished son of a grand old father, was given a handsome vote of confidence and returned as a member of the new congress. He will go to Washington to sit in the lame duck memorial services, and he has let it be known that he has "an open mind" as to beer. Fritz Lanham is a general favorite in Texas, but how can he have an "open mind?" It is a matter of record that he never buried his nose in a foaming tankard in boyhood or manhood. It is impossible for a statesman who never tasted the juice of Gambrinus to keep "his mind open." Let it go at that.

How Strong Is the Pen?

DERRICK SHADOWS

By V. MARIE STEPHENS

This column is used as a feature and should not be construed as representing the editorial views of the paper. The expressions contained in the column are the views of one individual and do not reflect the policy of the paper.

I agree thoroughly with the Boston Evening Transcript: "To read 'Parnassus on Wheels' is to be glad there are books in the world. . . Mr. Morley knows where to begin, and when to stop, and he mixes sentiment and adventure, comedy, and drama, with a hand that relaxes none of its cunning from the beginning to the end." The little book is one of the most entertaining I have read this season. . . brief, light, clever. It adds another to the many stars in Christopher Morley's literary crown. It is named among a library full of charming material, and Ranger may well boast of such a library in her high school.

According to the president of the Texas Women's Press Association, every journalist should remember that unless he or she is more thoroughly interested in journalism than anything else and unless that one feels capable of producing something, he or she should work at something else. That is true not only in the literary field, but in everything within the bounds of the term "profession." First of all there must be interest present. A battle was never won half-heartedly. Such an interest should develop into love for the work, even infatuation. Of course there must be talent, but even this essential should be secondary to interest. . . it being safe to say the two go hand in hand. You can't fight if your heart isn't in it. It takes love to withstand the hard-knocks, and often hard-knocks to create love.

But there are two sides to every question. I believe it is well for every person to be able to do more than one thing. . . with reference to a profession, job, or position. For when the depression hit, your own chosen field is sure to be overrun, and remain so while you search for the advertising section of your favorite paper for a job or cool your weary heels in a bread-line. If you are a born salesman you'd better learn the art of making patent medicines popular as well as perfumes and overcoats. I know a girl whose ambitions waver between a book shoppe and a tea room. . . and she teaches school. I'm sure she'd be a charming hostess and her location would no doubt be surrounded with her own personality. . . but children must learn to spell and read even in '32 with hard times pressing down upon us, and tea rooms can't wait. Perhaps by the time her dreams are realized tea will be no longer the rage. . . she may own a beer garden some day. Yes, one must be versatile. Conditions change, you know. . . as well as parties and laws.

We meet all sorts of people: kind, clever, sophisticated, natural, gruff. . . oh, just all sorts. We like most of these people we meet. Most of them we dislike, we never meet. . . really meet. Some souls are blessed with a winning personality, drawing you immediately into their realm of friendship. Others must necessarily be known before that spirit of companionship can be brought to the surface. But it's there, the desire for love and understanding, in even the strangest, most distant human. Friends are like fortunes; some may be won over night; others must be worked for. All are worth having.

League Facing Women's Ire on Ratification

By STEWART BROWN, United Press Staff Correspondent. GENEVA.—The League of Nations has another and very embarrassing war on its hands. It is disconcerting and unpleasant because it is. . . with women. Women delegates, representing 45,000,000 women in all parts of the world, have launched a campaign against ratification of the Hague nationality convention. The recent league assembly recommended ratification. American women are playing a leading part in the fight against the Hague convention, which they insist discriminates against women in matters of nationality. Mrs. Lillian von Matsch, of Washington and Vienna, has launched an appeal against ratification, supported by Miss Alice Paul, of Washington, and Miss Madeleine Doty, of New York. At a recent meeting of their propaganda committee, headed by Mrs. Von Matsch, the women voted to enlist the support of women in all countries against ratification. Their appeal requests women's deputations to wait on prime ministers and foreign ministers in each country "to express the keen dissatisfaction of women in your country with the Hague nationality convention as it now stands." They are to ask parliaments to ratify the convention before the next league assembly when the women hope to force the league to recommend a revision of the statutes to give women equal nationality rights. A large and efficient group of women workers lost their fight before the last assembly. They kept the matter before the assembly for several days, only to be voted down. Many of them expressed bitter dissatisfaction and threatened feminine boycott of the league.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK

By EDSON R. WAITE, Shawnee, Oklahoma. I note that Mrs. Grundy is in strong evidence in a long list of regulations for an Australian bathing beach. For instance, they say that bathing, except in prescribed areas, is prohibited and that people in bathing costumes must either remain continually in the water or retire to the bathing sheds. There must be no sitting, lying or running about on the beach or the playing of any games whatever, and sun basking will be allowed only if the bathing costumes be covered by short knickers, kimonos, or other suitable covering. Bathing is allowed only from dawn to sunset. Some regulations! I imagine such regulations would not last long at Atlantic City, Miami, Coney Island, San Diego, or any bathing beach in the United States. Reminds me of a visit I made to the many beaches in San Diego county, California, where they have no such ridiculous regulations. At Oceanside, I visited with my old friend, Harold Beck, editor of the Blade-Tribune. Visited the wonderful beach and strand. Oceanside is a beautiful city. Its citizens are very progressive and forward thinking. At La Jolla, Al Fairbrother, editor of the Light, spent some time in telling me of the aims and ambitions of that city. Its beaches are known the world over, and I was told that La Jolla is the best place in the world in which to live and enjoy life. Nor shall I forget the trip I had with W. F. Raber, president of the San Diego California club, who took me on a trip to famous Coronado, just across the bay from San Diego, and back to Ocean Beach and Mission Beach. As I left San Diego county I reflected, "Surely the beaches of this county are a playground for the world." The application of unpractical theories in the present economy wave may do more harm than good.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON

BY RODNEY DUTCHER, NEA Service Writer. WASHINGTON.—The next administration will have plenty of gusto. Gusto, for better or worse, may even be a sort of unofficial keynote under Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt becomes president. Gusto, in fact, was that quality which Roosevelt displayed more than anything else during his memorable visit to Washington for the purpose of conferring with President Hoover on the all-important question of war debts. All Washington was apace. It was his first important appearance here since his days as assistant secretary of the navy under Wilson and Secretary Daniels, when no one paid more attention to him than his now paid to Assistant Secretary of the Navy Ernest Lee Jahncke. The president-elect smiled and laughed his way through two very busy days. Even in reference to his attitude toward the debts in his conference with Hoover he was jovial, according to Democratic congressional leaders who quoted him: "That's not my baby!" And he never lost his gusto. So many persons have been asking just what Roosevelt said in his "off the record" address to the National Press Club whose dinner guest he was, that your correspondent is moved to write the answer and distribute copies. After the manner of most great statesmen who talk "confidentially" to large social gatherings of newspapermen, he said nothing at all. He smiled—that devil-may-care, rollicking, captivating smile of his. He allowed it to be known that he appreciated the party and intimated that he would like to stay all night but would have to get along. He said that he was going to talk "off the record," that it was mighty nice to be able to talk "off the record" for a change and that he hoped to be able to talk "off the record" often in the future. And he told a couple of funny stories and everybody laughed and cheered. THE president-elect was equally discreet at his formal press conferences, which nevertheless provided additional gusto. Occasionally the governor led the crowd of correspondents in a gale of hearty, infectious laughter after a sparkling sally which deftly warded off a leading question. He had a fine wide-mouthed laugh which is in sharp contrast with President Hoover's rare chuckle, or single-some call it. He was wearing a soft collar, which is much safer for the sort of laugh which Roosevelt laughs. Mr. Hoover always wears a stiff collar. After sitting in two or three sessions with the next president all most anyone would be convinced that, in the words of the song "Happy Days Are Here Again!" Roosevelt thinks so, anyway. And if gusto has anything to do with it, he's right.

Oil Field Soon To Yield Mineral

By United Press. TYLER, Texas.—The East Texas oil field, largest underground petroleum storehouse of the mid-continent field, will soon yield a new mineral. Iron ore leases (totaling about 5,000 acres in Upshur, Marion and Cass counties) have been taken by the Midcontinent Iron and Steel corporation of Dallas. The iron ore strata, ranging from three to 27 feet in thickness, are said to lie just under the earth's surface in places. During the Civil war a large smelter was operated near Jefferson, in Marion county. Science informs us that more than 300 trillion stars are out yonder in space—more than enough to give a separate sun to every human being who ever lived. If you want to hitch your wagon, here's your chance. SEATTLE, Wash.—A woman who thought her husband had been dead 22 years, learned here that he had "sprung to life two and a half years ago." In being given an uncontested divorce, Mrs. Jessie Fleury, mother of six grown children, testified she gave to her husband both an automobile and a home, which she bought, when he "coerced her" in June, 1930, to turn them over to her. They were married Oct. 17, 1892, at West Desere, Wis. They came west with six children to Olympia, Wash., in 1908. He assertedly deserted her and did not reappear until two and a half years ago. He gave no reason for his desertion. A Harvard professor says spinach contains few calories, after all. We've known it to have sand, however.

Warner College Entertains Young People's Convention

The state convention of the Young People of the Church of God was held in Eastland at Warner college Saturday and Sunday morning at 8 o'clock.
An informal game contest in the gymnasium, for the convention, was the preliminary feature of Friday night.
Aubrey Lee Forrest, president of the state convention, presided Saturday morning, and Miss Mary E. Bank, secretary of college, acted in that capacity.
Following the devotional the annual election of officers was held, naming: Aubrey Lee Forrest, student Abilene college, president; John McAllister, Warner college, vice president; L. L. Gaylord, of Gorman, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. E. O. Bailey, chairman of music.
Theme of convention, "A Constructive Young People's Work for 1933," was developed. Following the devotional period and business session, the keynote address was delivered by Rev. H. H. Ward of Big Spring. A conference on evangelism followed and a talk, "Ways and Means," by Elmer Kawiatke of Warner college.
The report of the leaders opened the afternoon session, and a discussion on young people's organizations, as a co-operative line of the church, was led by President Forrest. A conference, "Organizing a Young People's Group for Greater Efficiency," was presided over by Mrs. E. O. Bailey.
Recreational period and supper followed.

The evening session opened with a talk by Rev. C. S. Moad of Cisco on tithing, based on the Scripture lesson, an introductory to a playlet, "How Mrs. Gray Learned to Tithes," put on by six women from Cisco, under the direction of Mrs. Cart Daniels of Cisco.
A sunrise prayer service Sunday morning, held on the campus, was conducted by Miss Fannie Hagan, dean of women of Warner college.
Prayer service at the Church of God opened 10 a. m., with President Forrest officiating. Following Sunday school period, L. L. Gaylord presented an address, "Importance of Daily Christian Living."
A dry watering through and a broken hitching rail are the last vestiges of the old west in Loveland.
The trough and hitching rail once occupied places of prominence, down by the depot. Now they are decaying on a back street, forgotten and unused.

The Sunday afternoon session opened at 2 o'clock with a conference on "Young People's Problem," conducted by Prof. Charles Vilhauer of Missouri.
Conference, "Young People's Social Affairs," led by Mrs. Marie Vilhauer, was followed by the third conference, Intermediate Young People," by Mr. Numm of Big Spring, young people's director of that city.
A fine address was given by Rev. J. W. Batorf of the Church of God, on "Our State Young People's Work," in which a map of Texas, showing locations of such work, was demonstrated.

"The Stool Pigeon Speaks"

The other day someone asked Elmore Cleveland if she believed in love at first sight. "Yes," Elmore replied, "but I see too many people at once."
No doubt Ella Mae Smith is a bit angry with Anderson, that is if she saw him riding around with Voncel Strong. Speaking of Voncel, she has been hanging on to Donald Finkle in the halls lately.
Lal Bryan says he is becoming quite addicted to the Brown home and offers a reward to anyone who can coax off May Joe's parents for an evening.
It has been reported that Carlos Turner has never heard that "the early bird gets the worm." Or either has found out that none of the junior college teachers give away worms, because he was about half dressed when school time rolled around Monday morning.
After at six weeks Latin exam papers were handed out the first period today, some of the students made note that the sun was not shining so bright.
Anyone wanting to make $10 might send the following "believe it or not" to Ripley: Jack Davenport made 95 on a Latin six weeks test.
The editor of this column seems to have got a "ditch" with the editor "Scoutin' School" of the Taylor Daily Press over his name. I apologize, Walter Johnston.

Books

I do not wonder that a great many students in Ranger high school never find time to follow up on the tips I am generous enough to volunteer occasionally concerning worthwhile books to be found in our high school library, for in September they are entrusted with four books belonging to the state of Texas and any leisure time they have between then and the close of school is spent searching out student lockers for the one of the group that was misplaced last. And if you see by fourth year English book on your rounds, you would do me a favor to start it home too.
That with holidays and getting back to the grind after holidays, our lockers have collected a coating of dust and been re-bound in coverlets and probably someone in the locker next door has spilled a bottle of ink all over your locker, and it takes nerve to begin the job of cleaning up spilled ink. Drawing from my unimpaired memory of things literary, I will mention a few new books which have been recommended by the librarians connected with the literary work in high school: "The Bent Twig," is recommended highly by the librarians, however, Daisy Maud Hobbs says she has re-checked it twice and has not read half of it yet so I am referring you to Daisy Maud for the good and bad points concerning this book.
"Franklin Roosevelt's Autobiography" is one of the most interesting books on modern great man I have ever read. In case this book is not in your locker you will probably find Dandeline Pate with it. Dandeline has just decided she has many of the traits which Roosevelt points out, go to make successful people.
If I were a freshman, I would not let the year pass without reading Dickens' "Oliver Twist" and "David Copperfield," Stevenson's "Treasure Island" and "Kidnapped," and Cooper's "The Last of the Mohicans."
I would read them anyway if I were a senior and had missed them.

Pythian Sisters

The Pythian Sisters session Monday night was opened by Most Excellent Chief Adlai Slaughter, with officers, Mmes. J. F. McWilliams, J. A. Ross, Blanche Nicols, Williams, E. S. Ditchard, L. G. Summers, Richard Jones, J. F. McWilliams, W. H. Muston, John Bishop, A. O. Cook, Eugene Tucker, W. C. Fuller, J. B. Overton, J. T. Cook, Lee Bishop, D. B. Roark, J. P. Truly, John Matthews, H. A. McCanliffe, Misses Opal Hunt, Royanna Cook, Irene Williams, Alaine Williams, and Rev. O. E. Darby.
Rehearsal was held by the degree staff, directed by Mmes. Ross and Nicols, in preparation for initiation next Monday night for candidate, Mrs. Richard Jones.
Hospitality committee appointed for that date, named, Mmes. Ross, Taylor, Hayden, Frye, and Herbert Reed.
A called meeting will be held Friday at 7:30 p. m., for practice.
Others in attendance were Mmes. H. C. Davis, D. B. Roark, and T. M. Johnson.
A letter of thanks was received from Mr. Hefner, in charge of the Pythian home at Weatherford, who acknowledged the box of linens sent by the temple to the home as a Thanksgiving offering.

Recovering From Illness

Mrs. R. L. Rowe, 112 North Seaman street, who was taken ill a week ago, being unconscious for a day or more, is now improving slowly, though she has been very ill. Her daughter, Mrs. Harry Wood, greatly appreciates the messages of sympathy the family has received.
Karl Tanner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth E. Tanner, underwent an operation for appendicitis Friday morning in Austin, where he is a student in Texas university. His parents were with him, and E. O. Bailey, chairman of music.
Theme of convention, "A Constructive Young People's Work for 1933," was developed. Following the devotional period and business session, the keynote address was delivered by Rev. H. H. Ward of Big Spring. A conference on evangelism followed and a talk, "Ways and Means," by Elmer Kawiatke of Warner college.

Recreational period and supper followed.

Dinner and Theatre

Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Russell entertained with dinner at 7:30 o'clock Sunday evening, and the Connelley theatre afterwards. Judge and Mrs. O. C. Funderburk, Mr. and Mrs. Scott W. Keen, Mrs. Rula B. Connelley, and Mr. Sam Butler.
The dinner table, laid for eight covers, was centered with a beautiful bouquet of old-fashioned blossoms, and a menu in three courses served.

Letters Say Western City Is Changed

LOVELAND, Col.—Loveland just "ain't" what she used to be," according to some of the oldest inhabitants.

If a cowboy should ride his horse into Loveland today he would find no welcome. There would be no place to tie his cow pony. He would have to carry water to his horse in a bucket or let him drink at a fire hydrant. There would be no livery stable where the tired steed could rest while his master went to the corner drug store for a couple of quick "sodies."

The trough and hitching rail once occupied places of prominence, down by the depot. Now they are decaying on a back street, forgotten and unused.

Twenty-five members were present at the Church of Christ, Monday afternoon for the Bible lesson given by the pastor, Rev. D. W. Nichol, bringing to a close an interesting course of Bible instruction taken from the entire chapter of Exodus.
According to the full group of members this has proven one of the most profitable courses they have completed thus far.
Interesting plans are going forward for the remodeling and repairing to be done on the interior of the church sometime in the near future.
The usual business period of the program was omitted from this lesson yesterday.

DIVORCE NOT WANTED

CHICAGO.—It took Gordon Patchen, of Wilmette, six years to get a divorce from his wife, Barbara, and now she has asked Superior Judge Kelly to set aside the decree. Her attorney asserted Judge Desmet signed the decree last July while sitting in the criminal court and so did not have the proper civil jurisdiction. But Judge Kelly said she'd have to go to the appellate court.

DELICIOUS CEREAL OVERCOMES COMMON CONSTIPATION

ALL-BRAN Provides "Bulk," Vitamin B and Iron

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN meets a basic need of the American dietary. It supplies "bulk"—so helpful in correcting common constipation. In eleven years, ALL-BRAN has won millions of satisfied users.

New tests show added reasons for the success of ALL-BRAN. Laboratory experiments prove that, in addition to "bulk," it provides vitamin B to help tone the intestinal tract.

The headaches, loss of appetite and energy that so often result from constipation can be overcome by this pleasant cereal. How much better than using pills and drugs.

ALL-BRAN is mild. Its "bulk" is much like that of lettuce. Within the body, it absorbs moisture and forms a soft mass, which gently clears the intestines of wastes.

Two tablespoonfuls daily are sufficient to overcome most types of constipation. Chronic cases, with every meal, if not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Another benefit of ALL-BRAN is that it has twice as much blood-building iron as an equal amount by weight of beef liver.

Muffs Make Movie Debuts

Muffs, big, little or medium, are the thing for winter, and the movie stars have been quick to seize the new vogue. At the left is Colleen Moore, who likes her muff small. At the right is Norma Shearer, who goes for a large one. And there were lots of medium-sized ones at the Los Angeles premiere they attended.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Arnold have returned from a visit spent in Greenville and Dallas.
Horace Adams is confined to his home, suffering from flu.

FLEECES PARISHIONERS

CHICAGO.—A "very refined" girl has happened into several churches on the south side looking for her brother or mother. While awaiting the arrival of her relative, she has helped with the cooking. At one church she peeled potatoes and helped bake pies before she found she had to hurry home. And when she left, parishioners discovered most of their money was gone, too.

Build Up Health and Pains Go Away

WOMEN who suffer from weakness often have many aches and pains which a stronger state of health would prevent.
Women in this condition should take Cardui, a purely vegetable tonic that has been in use for over 30 years.
