DECISION ON 'PHONE CHECKS' IS AWAITED

At a meeting of the directors of the Ranger Chamber of Commerce, held in the office of the secretary Monday night, a discussion of the action of the telephone company in requesting subscribers to take up checks on their old accounts, which were given for telephone service, was held.

After some discussion P. Pettit, district manager for the company, agreed to take the matter up with his superior officers and to have a decision handed down as soon as possible. He promised Dr. P. M. Kuykendall, president of the Chamber of Commerce, to telephone the decision of the officers of the company as soon as possible.

At this afternoon Dr. Kuykendall received a telephone call from Mr. Pettit stating that the Dallas office had refused to pass on the matter and had passed it on to the St. Louis office. As soon as word is received from the St. Louis office, the committee will be notified. In the meantime the telephone committee urges all subscribers to pay no attention to the requests of the company to take up the checks, until the matter is finally adjusted.

STATE CODE TO CUT BUREAUS TO 19 TOTAL

AUSTIN, May 9.—An "administration code" setting up a state government of 19 departments, the heads of which will form a governor's cabinet, was sent to the senate today with house approval. The bill was finally passed by the house by vote of 101 to 24. If passed by the senate also and approved by the governor it will not become effective for two years.

Meantime appropriations under the present system of 138 bureaus, commissions and board are being cut 25 per cent. Departments in the new state government will be state, law, taxation and revenue, finance and administrative service, buildings and grounds, education, public welfare, public health, public safety, militia, labor, banking, insurance, agriculture, forest, fish and game, water, supply and reclamation, lands, highways and public service.

$75,000 Is Texas Quota Of National Campaign Deficit

AUSTIN.—Definite results are beginning to be obtained in the campaign to raise Texas' share of the deficit of the democratic national campaign in 1932. Seventy-five thousand dollars or nearly 10 per cent of the national committee's deficit was assigned to the Texas organization directed by Roy Miller and Santor Margie Neal, of which Frank Scowfield is director of finance.

The best showing to date has been made in the sixteenth congressional district, which is represented by Representative Ewing Thomas. W. E. Burgess, committee member from Del Rio, has committed the quota in full for Val Verde, his home county, and the counties of Kenedy, Edwards and Jeff Davis. The amounts allotted to each county were on the basis of a dime for every democratic vote cast in each county.

Navarro county, for which A. A. Allison is finance chairman, is the first of the larger counties to have its quota guaranteed. The democratic organization there was given a quota of $800, of which more than $700 has been raised and the balance pledged. Wood county was the first county in the 12th district to complete its quota, represented by Representative Fritz G. Lanham. In the 11th district, Bosque county has practically completed its quota, and the chairman of several other counties in the district say that the amount expected of them is in sight.

Statement Issued By Sandefer On Oil Conditions

J. D. Sandefer Jr. of Breckenridge, president of the West Central Texas Oil & Gas association, composed of 300 independent producers and royalty owners, today issued the following statement for the association:

"Due primarily to the failure of the enforcement agencies of the state of Texas to enter and enforce valid proration orders limiting production in the East Texas oil field to the bona fide market demand and to the failure of the legislature to create a new commission to administer the proration laws of the state, the oil and gas industry in Texas and elsewhere is now in the most deplorable condition of its history. We have continued to hope that vigorous action in Texas would be taken which would render direct federal control of oil production in the United States unnecessary. We have now lost hope that any effective action will be taken by the state authorities and it is our conclusion that the only possible relief for the situation in Texas and in the United States lies in direct federal control and supervision of production of oil. The consequences of the latest order of the railroad commission in giving the East Texas field in substance, a virtual demand for the entire state of Texas have been far more than may be generally understood. Production from other portions of the state is being shut down daily and thousands of employees are being thrown out of employment, resulting in widespread want and distress. These facts in our judgment justify the drastic action of federal dictatorship.

A BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

TEXAS AND ITS SALT QUARRIES

Grand Saline is a flourishing town in the county of Van Zandt. Experts have whispered it to Associated Press correspondents that the deposits of saline ore are considered to be sufficient to last for 2400 more years. Also that Belgium, once the salt center of Europe, required more than 1000 years of mining to deplete its salt dome.

Now one of the largest salt domes in the world is located at Grand Saline, where the deposit is over two miles in length and over one mile wide. Its surface is underlaid with 99 per cent pure white rock salt to a depth of about 300 feet. It is estimated the dome contains over 20,000,000 tons of pure salt. Indeed, the experts say salt will be produced from the Grand Saline dome long after the oil and gas resources of Texas have been depleted. Then they say unless a synthetic substitute is developed salt mining should take first place among Texas' natural resources. At present average prices for salt, the potential value of the Grand Saline dome is over 400 billion dollars.

Texas has the largest sulphur deposits in the world. There are phosphate beds in certain West Texas counties whose value some day will be staggering to the mind. There are beds of iron ore in East Texas awaiting development.

Wise men say that the iron kings of Pennsylvania are the owners of the land or hold options.

Texas has the largest natural gas reservoirs in the world. Its supply is being depleted at a rapid rate. It is piped for domestic purposes to thousands of outside cities and towns, and for fuel purposes for the industrial centers of the North and West and perhaps the East. Its oil wells today are more than staggering to the mind. It has millions of acres of tillable land untouched by hoe or plow or tractor. It has all the chalks and the clays. It has millions and millions of tons of lignite. It has asphalt beds. Now just why should the government of Texas be poverty-stricken?

NATIONAL AID FOR INSURANCE COMPANIES

Now the senate has passed and sent to the house the Fletcher bill to permit the Reconstruction Finance corporation to increase its borrowing power by $50,000,000 to purchase or lend on preferred stock of insurance companies. Loans to any corporation paying salaries in excess of $17,500 are barred. This measure was recommended by the R. F. C. to strengthen the taxable structures of weakened insurance companies and the benefiting companies would be required to furnish new capital equal to that for which application is made to the corporation. It is significant that the salary feature was extended to all corporations under an amendment by Sen. David I. Walsh, democrat of Massachusetts.

Lest we forget, the senate likewise adopted a resolution calling for an investigation of the activities and loans of the R. F. C. Why an investigation?

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK

By EDSON R. WAITE, Shawnee, Oklahoma

CHARLES A. GUY, publisher of the Lubbock (Texas) Morning Avalanche and Evening Journal, says: THAT the classic sign "Don't shoot the professor. He's doing the best he can," which hung over the piano in the wild west dance hall of a generation ago, has its theoretical replica in the problems of today.

It should now be changed to read "Don't raise hob with the honest, conscientious, capable public official. He's trying to get a hard job done!"

Ragged nerves, growing out of troublous times, have fomented widespread dissatisfaction everywhere in this land of ours. This dissatisfaction encompasses both private and public business but because the average man has no one to criticize, save the public officials whom he had a hand in electing, he turns upon them with savage glee. The first public servant who comes within his line of vision becomes his target; he scratches and claws, regardless of personalities.

For the lazy, shiftless, incapable or grafting public official, no decent man has sympathy.

But for the honest, efficient and hardworking fellow in public post, all men should have respect and admiration.

Let's not shoot until we see the whites of their eyes—the "whites of their eyes" in this case meaning their trifling with public trust.

There is a long row to hoe before equilibrium can come in the channels of both private and public business. There are few enough good servants as it is, without our going out of our way to force into retirement any of that slim number.

"Don't shoot the professor" is always good advice.

AND IN TIMES LIKE THESE, IT'S BETTER THAN

THIS CURIOUS WORLD

The PORPOISE IS BELIEVED TO HAVE BEEN THE CAUSE OF THE ANCIENT SEA SERPENT STORIES! PORPOISES, SWIMMING IN SINGLE FILE, RESEMBLE A HUGE, WINDING SERPENT.

ONE OF THE WORLD'S MOST DANGEROUS JOBS IS THAT OF FILLING NEEDLES FOR HOSPITAL USE. AFTER THREE MONTHS EMPLOYED AT THIS TASK, A WORKER MUST TAKE THREE MONTHS VACATION.

THE PORPOISE travels in schools of from six to twelve, and a single file of six or more of these creatures could easily be mistaken for a great monster, 50 or 60 feet long, looping its way through the sea. The porpoise is not a fish, but a mammal, and many of its curious, rolling antics are done in the spirit of play.

DAILY WASHINGTON LETTER

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
 NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON — The hedge-podge of opinion on the 30-hour week bill has piled up in great contrast with the simplicity and ease which marked its consideration and passage by the Senate.

An enormous field of controversy has been opened by such related questions as federal regulation of hours, the minimum wage provision, import embargo proposals, the "production control" feature, constitutionality, effects on purchasing power, ability of industry to regulate itself, minimum wage fixing by localities rather than industries, sweatshop competition, peculiar problems of particular industries, anti-trust law revision.

Even the labor movement and its friends became all mixed up and unable to agree.

The committee was distinctly pre-labor, kind to labor leaders and relatively severe with manufacturers—although sometimes its members weren't quite bright enough to handle the industrialists successfully.

Small, bald-headed, spectacled Conroy, the ex-vaudeville actor, said little except for occasional wisecracks, and his persistent demand for the witness's opinion on his pet wovion for an embargo on imports produced by foreign labor not on 30-hour schedules. The best cross-examiner, if any, was Wood, whose special delight was to shoot holes in the numerous unworkable proposals and to point out that industry had maintained trade associations for years without doing anything that would re-employ the 12,000,000 or more persons now out of work.

The manufacturers seemed to feel themselves on the defensive for the first time, since they all agreed that something should be done to create employment and that regulations of trade associations should be subject to government approval.

President William Green of the A. F. of L., favoring the 30-hour week and opposing minimum wages on behalf of the skilled trades as against the desire of unskilled, underpaid and sweated labor for minimum wages, plodded through his testimony like an able old sleighhorse. Sometimes committee members tried to help him out, but he didn't seem to realize it.

In contrast was the urbane, fast-thinking Gerard Swepe, president of General Electric, a man with an aquiline nose, deep set eyes and irony in every line and corner of his face. Swepe had a definite plan of his answers ready before the questions were half out of a committeeman's mouth.

President Henry F. Harriman of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce appeared a scholarly, gracious New Englander with a touch of the paternalistic. He was willing to grant the president power to control industry, but couldn't stand for the Black bill with the Perkins amendments.

Few witnesses were more impressive than white-haired Edward F. Cassidy, head of the "Big Six" typographical union in New York and a man of great dignity and poise. Supporting the original Black bill, Cassidy told how a third of his 11,000 members were unemployed.

Statement Issued

(Continued from page 1) rived from oil production state will be greatly curtailed thousands of businesses will depend upon the oil and gas for their support will suffer. "We feel that we cannot emphasize the seriousness of the situation and that it constitutes an emergency as we justify drastic measure of control until the state realizes its responsibility in and gas business and can make a political football of industry. "We are against control, feeling that the major companies and detrimental to dependent producers. Due large amount of oil now in it looks like the only way through proration. This accomplished only through limitation of current production market demand, restriction pools, restriction in counting to the United States allocations of demand as pools and producers in the price for oil in this section, well production. A very important matter that faces us at the is tax evasion. As long as is producing millions of barrels in disregard of conservation laws and the railroad companies, we can never get a price for oil in this section, is simply too much oil and is prorated fairly and unprepranded handling in this 8,000 wells in our district survive."

Travelax-ation

TRAVELAX-ATION is that freedom from driving strain, that feeling of comfort, security, safety, and relaxation which comes to motorists when they drive on Concrete Highways.

you will make frequent trips in your car this Summer—some long ones and some short ones.

Regardless of why, when, or how far you drive you want comfort, safety, and speed at the lowest cost per mile. These motoring pleasures come with Travelax-ation, which you can enjoy only on Concrete Highways.

Concrete Highways provide smooth, firm and positive traction for tires in wet and dry weather alike. The road surface is flat like a floor—no center peak. This tends to do away with "center-of-the-road" driving. There are no bumps, no chug holes, no ruts to cause the sudden swerving of a car which so frequently results in unfortunate or fatal accidents.

There are more than 3,000 miles of these safe, economical Concrete Highways in Texas. Wherever you are going find out if there is a Concrete (Travelax Route) Highway that will take you. You will enjoy your drive ever so much more... and you will save about a cent per mile for gasoline, tires and repairs over what it would cost you to drive on chuggy, bouncy, unsafe roads.

We have prepared a Special Edition of the Official Map of the Texas Highway System, showing all highways, particularly Concrete Highways. Let this Map guide you to economical and enjoyable motoring.

Romance Found In Consul's Life

HOUSTON.—Dig deep enough into the past history of any man in the consular service and romance will be found.

It is not lacking in the case of Fernando Rueda, Mexican's acting consul here. Rueda is only 35 years old and is often mistaken for Hollywood's Ramon Novarro.

At the age of 20 years Rueda was a lieutenant in the army of Francisco I. Madero, the revolutionary. Three times he was blown up by the enemy. Once in a cavalry charge in the state of Michoacan his horse was shot from under him.

DERRICK SHADOWS

By V. MARIE STEPHENS

The Drag:

There were four of them, covered wagons with bony beasts attached to the front and back, and dangling legs and arms protruding from the billowiness of the vehicles themselves, the latter unmistakably indicating children.

There were thin, ragged mamas and papas observing the world through dazed eyes. And there were three dogs trotting contentedly in the midst of the caravan. As for the dogs, I saw utter happiness. As for the rest of the cavalcade: I hated myself for anything I might have said concerning the picnic.

Eight boys sat on the curb. They were high school fellows, hotly discussing this year's football prospects. I caught the familiar terms of the game as I went by snatches, reminding me of the season itself.

And she was neither a blond nor a brunette, a sort of in-between. Anyhow, when she stroled emphatically past them, there just wasn't any football anymore. The coaches have my sympathy. Their worshippers are such a fickle lot.

Another one! Ranger is shamefully proud of her women. I heard a man say it, so can authentically print the fact. She is a beautiful girl, but every time I see her I am reminded that a few drinks too much at a dance one time and thereby made herself well known.

These out-of-town men are hard souls to deal with. Better watch them. One drove by with his familiar smirk. He makes the town at regular intervals. The Drag knows him.

And so for the Drag, we might say: People come and people go and nothing ever happens, because life merely goes on being, which is a philosophy within itself, which we do not understand and cannot explain.

Glimpse-Glances: It seems that something has happened to our news. There haven't been any sensational murders in a long time and all the interesting trials have ceased and the kidnaped returned. Silence for a few hours.—Remember the old tune, "John Brown's body lies a-mouldering in the grave. . . ta-da-de-um-dum. . . of-cetera." Were we more emotional, we might celebrate his birthday today. For John Brown, that most extreme abolitionist, lived a somewhat scant existence. For his 20 children he made but a meager living, and died at the end of the hangman's rope.

"Expansion Felt," "Business Better," "Men Employed"—These are the headlines the world wants. We aren't begging for war news and murder plots and suicide tales. We've had four years of them, without hope for anything except hope itself.

Now that we have a new president who is fast becoming old and steady at the job, and that we've consulted the other nations and decided prosperity is the thing for humanity, we want happiness.

Hendrix, Gotch Win at Elks Club Wrestling Show

Woodle Windham, Anson battler, defeated Cliff Wickham of Strawn in six seconds of the first round of their scheduled six-round fight at the Elks club last night.

As Jack O'Brien's head was still in bad shape after a doorkeeper hit him over the head last week with a club, O'Brien was unable to wrestle last night although he appeared. O'Brien meets Tiger Billy McEun here next week.

Fred Gotch substituted for O'Brien and beat Wild Nick Carter the first and third falls with a top body scissors and a double Japanese toe hold. Carter took the second fall with his famous chiropractic headlock.

Handsome Jack Hendrix of Chicago won from Manuel Lopez of Spain. Hendrix won the second and third falls with a falling cradle hold and the double Japanese grapevine and body pin. Loper took the first fall with a step over toe hold. All the matches were very fast and the large crowd that attended enjoyed the matches.

Many ladies were present last night with their husbands and are fast becoming better fans than friend hubby.

Next week's matches will be exceptionally good with Jack O'Brien and Tiger Billy McEun headlining the card.

Court Fight Over Goat Was Dropped

WICHITA, Kan.—A court fight here centering around "Billy," a gentleman goat, was dropped when the judge in moving the animal was worth $25.

Binner Ansel White, Billy's owner, then sought $25 damages for the goat's value had a similar sum for punitive damages. Attorney for the defendant insisted the valuation be proved.

White decided that was too hard a task and dismissed the action.

The new way—the right way—the swiftest way to take out all inflammation and misery from your feet is to give them a joyous Radox bath tonight—in the morning sturdy healthy feet—or money back—dance a jig if you want to.

Ask Paramount Pharmacy or any progressive druggist for a 45 cent box of Radox—put 3 table-spoonsful in a gallon of water and soak your weary feet for 20 minutes—this draws from the thousands of foot pores the poisonous acid that causes your foot distress—hard skin on bottom of foot and toes is rubbed right off—clean feet—sturdy feet or money back.

Advice Offered Brides Sister Mary Gives Useful Hints On Equipping Kitchen

This is the first of three articles by Sister Mary giving advice to young brides on how to begin housekeeping.

BY SISTER MARY NEA Service Writer

IT'S put up on her mettle and must "earn her spurs" so to speak and unless her equipment is adequate and suitable she will be handicapped to achieve perfect results. If the necessary tools are not at hand she will find it twice as difficult to serve meals that do her credit.

This is as true for the bride who will not do her own cooking as for the one who will. The kitchen is the workshop of every home and its efficiency is determined by its equipment.

Strike a Medium

Undoubtedly, most of your cooking will be done for two. Materials are wasted and success cannot be assured if saucepans and spiders and baking dishes are too large. A cup of sauce made in a two-quart saucepan is lost. Two rashers of bacon and eggs cooked in an eight-inch spider are next to impossible. The same holds true regarding pudding pans and baking dishes.

You will find a rather bewildering array of materials offered in all kinds of utensils. Glass, steel, enamelware, cast and sheet aluminum, wood and earthenware all find places in the kitchen. In many articles the materials can be used interchangeably, personal preference being the deciding factor.

Economy in Quality

Standard equipment that will be in daily use will prove most satisfactory and economical if made of a material that will withstand heat and rough usage. Iron, steel and cast aluminum are practically indestructible, and utensils made of these materials will actually "last a lifetime."

Steel does not hold the heat as the other two metals do, but it is quick to heat through and excellent for quick cooking and hurry-up dishes. It is also light to handle and easy to care for.

Tomorrow's Menu

BREAKFAST: Shredded fresh pineapple, cereal, cream, sour cream waffles, sirup, milk, coffee.

LUNCHEON: Asparagus cream salad, toasted cheese sandwiches, spice cup cakes, milk, tea.

LUNCHEON: Salmon loaf, potatoes au gratin, new beans, ginger ale salad, strawberry sandwiches, milk, coffee.

Sheet aluminum, enamel ware, glass and the heat-proof pottery are not affected by heat—unless they are abused—but they will not stand hard knocks. Aluminum will dent, glass and pottery will break and enamel ware will crack and chip if carelessly handled. However, these materials are easy to keep clean, light to use and the case of pottery and glass can be sent straight from the oven to the table.

The copper utensils are durable and make a beautiful kitchen. They are easy to care for and a joy to use.

Veterans Hospital To Have Birthday

WACO, Texas.—The U. S. veterans' hospital here, rounding out its first year of service during May, will celebrate the anniversary with an open-house the afternoon of May 12.

Dr. Harry Rubin, medical officer in charge, said the entire plant would be opened for public inspection. Located a short distance south of the city limits, the institution is complete even to landscaped grounds and a new athletic field.

The hospital has had 473 patients admitted during the year, of which number 142 have been discharged (including eight deaths), and 28 veterans are on trial visits now.

San Angelo Will Start Fox Farm

SAN ANGELO.—An experiment in fox raising, which Dr. R. E. Windham believes will prove profitable as sheep and cattle raising, is in progress at the physician's home near here.

The one acre fox farm began three years ago with a pair of registered black silver foxes. Today Dr. Windham has 40 foxes and anticipates an annual production of 120 pelts beginning next year.

Now that the Presbyterian Board of Foreign Missions has accepted Mrs. Pearl Buck's resignation, it is probably just as well. They couldn't very well pass the buck, could they?

TEXAS ELECTRIC SERVICE COMPANY

"Kid From Spain" Wins Acclaim For Comedian Cantor

Eddie Cantor, in "The Kid From Spain," began his engagement at the Arcadia theatre yesterday.

In "The Kid From Spain," Eddie marches out, neither bravely nor willingly, to show his skill and grace as a matador. Escape from the police who are pursuing him, protection from the Mexican thugs about to put him on the spot, the adoring eyes of the elongated blonde sex maniac, and solving his roommate's difficult love affairs are all among the reasons that thrill Eddie into the arena in the thrilling, colorful climax to the story.

Cantor tops himself as the bouncing, bubbling minstrel. Lydia Roberts is a wonder as a refrain for his song and as a second for his comedy. An easy grace marks the playing of Robert Young and Ruth Hall as the romantic leads. Sidney Franklin, as himself, is an exciting novelty to Americans who have followed his career in the Spanish arenas in which the bullfighting of the world centers. He appears at the head of the procession and gives a demonstration of the grace and skill that go into the noble sport.
