PEEPING THRU THE KNOTHOLE

with BILL MAYES

It looks as though the United States is going back to the ideas and pastimes of the "Gay Nineties" as rapidly as possible. We may be wrong, but present trends seem to be in that direction.

Within recent months there has been a movement toward horseback riding that has not been recalled in the memory of the younger generation and even some of those who cannot be classed in that group.

Bicycle riding, roller skating, and many other of the diversions of the late 19th century are also in vogue now, reports from some cities stating that bicycle sales are larger now than they have been in many years, and the same is made to adults more than to children.

Now, the pendulum is swinging in the other direction. Even women's styles are going back to the sunny looking hats and the puffed sleeves of grandmother's day.

Repeat is the order of the day. Repeal of prohibition, repeal of the laws, repeal of horse racing, repeal of all laws that were passed in an age gone by for the purpose of improving morals.

Like anything else, this repeal movement probably could go too far. At any rate every state that has voted on the repeal of the prohibition amendment to date has voted in favor of the repeal.

LOWER GRAIN FREIGHT RATES BEING SOUGHT

AUSTIN, May 29.—A battle to force a reduction of at least one-fifth in the railroad freight rates on grain for the present season, was opened here today before the Texas Grain Dealers Association.

The Texas Grain Dealers Association asked for a cut of not less than 25 per cent.

Word has been received by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation committee in Ranger that all men applying for work must be re-registered and a thorough investigation made of all applying for work.

It was pointed out by the state committee that on the first registration 923 men registered, while the second registration showed 600, and it was thought that not more than 150 to 200 of this number were entitled to the work.

A total of 130 men were sent to work this morning and these will be retained until Wednesday, when they will be paid off. Work will be shut down the remainder of the week, while the registration is carried on and those who are not entitled to the work under the rules eliminated.

Denison Case Is Affirmed by Court
AUSTIN, May 29.—The Third Court of Civil Appeals here today affirmed the decision of the 98th district court holding that Frank Denison of Temple is not entitled to serve as chairman of the state highway commission.

As the 1933 World Fair Opened

A quarter of a million visitors moved into the grounds of the Century of Progress exposition, Chicago's 1933 World Fair, after it was officially opened Saturday. This view down the Avenue of Flags from the main entrance to the Hall of Science shows some of the spectators.

Baptist Revival Started Sunday With Good Crowd

The revival which began at Central Baptist church Sunday had a good first day, which was largely in organizing for the meeting.

Mr. Maddox has a fine orchestra and choir ready for the campaign, with a collection of new song books installed. Again an invitation is extended to those who play to bring your instrument and get in the orchestra.

FINANCIAL AID FOR VALLEY CONTROL

A Washington correspondent in his daily review of events predicts inclusion of the lower Rio Grande valley flood control project in President Roosevelt's $3,000,000,000 public works program appears almost certain, following Secretary Cordell Hull's recommendation that the proposed emergency work be approved by Budget Director Lewis Douglas for incorporation in the program.

The budget commissioner has indicated that he is ready to accept the proposed project. According to the plans outlined, approximately $1,000,000 would be spent immediately to complete the emergency flood protection of the valley, with future expenditures to bring the total cost to approximately $4,700,000.

Self-liquidating projects are the ones which would be put across in the public works program. These projects afford employment to labor at living wages "until good times roll in again," and in addition to this it will be money well invested.

FARM MORTGAGES AND THEIR HOLDERS

According to Henry Morgenthau, Jr., federal farm board chairman, insurance companies hold about 23 per cent of the farm mortgage debt of the nation of approximately $8,500,000,000.

Speaking of the new law, it was explained that when a mortgage holder accepts the scale down price, and amount in bonds less than the face of the mortgage taken in exchange, he would not be permitted to take a second mortgage for any part of the debt. Paul Bestor, federal farm loan commissioner, said the purpose of the act is that the farmer borrower "shall get the benefit of any reduction in principal that may be made by this process." Well, machinery is moving, and the plan will be given the acid test. If it is a failure, then another plan will be substituted.

CHILD LABOR AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION

Michigan has a democratic governor and a democratic legislature. The legislature ratified the child labor amendment to the constitution. This happened when the house completed action by a vote of 2 to 25, the senate having previously given its approval.

Someday it may be possible to keep children out of the sweatshops and many of the factories and the mines of America. It is a tough problem at best, but it is a human problem and in future a partial solution is certain to come. Evolution is the eternal order of life and living and in its flight the evolutionary eagle overturns governments, changes civilizations and eliminates all structures, economic or otherwise, of dead ages.

Drastic measures are required if the vicious circle of over-taxation, stifled enterprise and unemployment is to be broken, but it can't be done by drastic economy which takes buying power away from millions of people.

People are intensely interested in reading newspaper advertisements when what they have to spend must be carefully spent, because the ads tell them where to find the bargains.

Every city has a few men who are only half human when it comes to cooperating in building the home city. They might change and become nearly human and believe in the home city.

The success of a business is to a large extent dependent on public sentiment toward a business or articles of merchandise. Newspaper advertising brings favorable attention to a business.

I was amazed to see the whole five drop off, one after another, with what ought to have been mild and easily curable diseases. On comparing my experience with that of other physicians, I found that they were all having similar luck with confirmed beer drinkers. My practice since has heaped confirmation upon confirmation."
 He continues: "Any physician who cares to take the time will tell you that the beer drinker seems incapable of recovering from mild disorders and injuries not usually regarded as of a grave character. Pneumonia, pleurisy, fevers, etc., seem to have a first mortgage on him, which they fore-

The Biggest News Since Fresh Gas...

That Good Gulf Gasoline is now lubricated!

Gulf stations from Maine to Mexico are now offering a motor fuel that surpasses everything that has gone before.

This great fuel is new in everything but name. It actually gives greater mileage and cuts repair costs—because it lubricates the upper cylinder and valves.

The new lubricating Good Gulf Gasoline contains an upper cylinder lubricant made by an exclusive Gulf process. This lubricant—correctly blended with that Good Gulf Gasoline, the famous fresh gas—makes today's greatest non-premium fuel for modern motors!

It lubricates the intake valves, prevents sticking, and forms little or no carbon!

If you want to get more and lower cost miles out of a gallon of gas, try the new Good Gulf Gasoline today. It doesn't cost a penny more.

THAT GOOD GULF GASOLINE IT'S FRESH—NOW LUBRICATED

GULF

ANSWERS

to today's THREE GUESSES

Lubricated Gas Now Offered By All Gulf Stations

HOUSTON, May 29.—Lubricated gasoline, a distinct innovation in motor fuels, was announced today by the Gulf Refining Company through O. H. Carlisle, district sales manager.

The new product is the result of extensive experimentation in the Gulf Refining Company laboratories, and the answer to the problems presented by lubrication engineers by the increased demand of the motoring public for high speed motors.

The new product is being marketed under the slogan "That Good Gulf Gas—Now Lubricated" at no extra cost.

Salient features of the new gas, according to Mr. Carlisle, are: correct lubrication of the motor with smaller clearance between piston and cylinder wall; no use of tighter-fitting oil rings; in some cases two oil rings are used, all of which reduces crank case motor oil consumption.

Ease of starting with lubricated gasoline is believed assured by the fact that when combustion chambers are flooded with lubricated gasoline in choking the motor, valves are less apt to stick, while use of "That Good Gulf Gasoline—Now Lubricated" assures longer life for certain parts of the motor such as valves, guides and piston assembly.

With reference to the lubrication of gasoline, Mr. Carlisle quotes C. B. Veal, research manager, Society of Automotive Engineers, as follows:

"We are now facing a rather new type of automobile engine... the tendency for the past few years has been to increase the speed of our engines."

"At first we encountered excessive oil consumption above certain critical speeds, but blow-by and other features of ring and piston functioning have so improved as to prevent excessive oil consumption even at the high speeds now common... personal experiences and reports from others lead me to believe that some of these engines may come close to experiencing a deficiency in oil supply at moderate speeds."

"If the oil supply actually failed, I agree that lubricated fuels would not solve the problem, but if some of these new engines are coming close to the danger point in the meagerness of the oil supply at moderate speeds it seems reasonable that a lubricated fuel would offer a sufficient panacea to bring about satisfactory car operation."

In Germany and England lubricated gasoline has been used widely for as long as two years with notable success, Mr. Carlisle pointed out. Also, the lubrication of overhead motors is taken care of through mixing lubricating oil with the gasoline. Many large truck and gas operators have been using lubricated gasoline for some time even though it was necessary for them to purchase a proper oil to mix with their gasoline.

Manufacturers recommend mixing lubricating oil with gasoline during at least the first 2,000 miles of driving the new car.

"I would like to state," Mr. Carlisle said, "that in using 'That Good Gulf Gasoline—Now Lubricated,' automobile owners may be assured of correct special upper-cylinder lubrication under normal driving conditions and at the ordinary driving speeds. No extra charge is made for our new product."

'Young America', New Organization

By United Press FORT WORTH.—Young America, an organization of youths unmarked by blue, black or brown shirts, has been created here with President Roosevelt's "Looking Forward" as its text-book.

Young America has a three-point program according to Henderson Van Zandt, 18, freshman in T. C. U. and student of economics:

- 1. To bring youth to a clearer realization of conditions existing in the state and nation, and the perils that lie ahead if those conditions are not altered.
2. To right injustices and the wrongs.
3. To create for youth a foundation of practical as well as theoretical knowledge by which to judge the differences of the social, political and economical order.

One Texas Movie 'Natural' Is Lost

ARCHER CITY, Texas.—A roaring, seething and spectacular movie "natural" was lost to cinema fandom when a gang of bootleggers, a sheriff's posse, 300 hounds, a squadron of fox hunters, 100 Jersey cattle, three coyotes, a number of jackrabbits, several jugs of "white mule" and a quantity of "three-point-two" became inextricably embroiled on the dusty plain near here one recent moonlight night.

The fox hunters, participants in the program of the Texas Fox and Wolf Hunters' convention, were following the hounds in search of game. The Jerseys were seeking peace and grass. The posse was on the trail of bootleggers, and the bootleggers were looking for refuge.

All came together on the Abernethy and Taylor ranch. For a time no one knew who was bootlegger, officer or hunter. Each element sought to disentangle itself.

The net result was three coyotes for the hunters, the illicit liquor for the posse, an extension of liberty for the bootleggers, and a stampeding herd of cattle.

Aged Mayor Drinks Ocean Water Daily

SANTA CRUZ, Cal.—The old saying of the shipwrecked sailor, "Water, water everywhere, and not a drop to drink," fails to hold true in the case of Mayor Fred Swanton of Santa Cruz.

The mayor, who is nearly 70 years old, but looks about 45, has been drinking ocean water for many years. He tributes his healthy old age to it. Swanton drinks a glass of ocean water every day as a tonic.

He is planning a trip to Europe this summer, and will take a big bottle of ocean water with him to be used on the continent. On shipboard he doesn't anticipate much trouble obtaining his daily glass of salt water.

Food Rations Are An Aid To Soviet In Sowing Plans

By United Press MOSCOW.—Food rations are being used in the North Caucasus, the most recalcitrant province in agrarian Russia, as a weapon to keep the peasantry at work during the spring sowing campaign.

Additional rations of 3 1/2 ounces of cereals and equally microscopic increases in other products were promised officially to exceptionally hard-working peasants in a decree.

In the same way, food allotments were ordered reduced and other punishments imposed on those who fail to accomplish the assigned quota of sowing.

The same decree declared that "obviously there is not a sufficiently strong fight against elements which sabotage the sowing and its quality" in North Caucasus. It cited particularly the Kuban Cossack regions—the same districts from which mass expulsions of the entire population occurred this year—as the most backward.

Four large districts were punished for backwardness in sowing by the withdrawal of seeds loaned to them by the government. In effect, this leaves the affected districts without possibility of sowing at all and face to face with serious food shortage during next year.

From such decrees reaching Moscow an outside observer pieces together a picture of sowing under conditions of food shortage of official threats and unstinting force in places like the Kuban region. Elsewhere the picture is far more favorable, with sowings considerably further advanced than last year at this time.

CALL FOR GOLD ADDS TO INCOMES

NEW YORK.—As the domestic gold rush continues, millions of families are discovering a new source of income, in old jewelry, dental plates and trinkets long forgotten. The addition of several hundred million dollars worth of gold to the government store will materially strengthen the gold reserve.

The town of Blaine, Wash., is issuing dollars made of wood. It ought to be an easy matter to float a loan there.

Food Rations Are An Aid To Soviet In Sowing Plans

By United Press MOSCOW.—Food rations are being used in the North Caucasus, the most recalcitrant province in agrarian Russia, as a weapon to keep the peasantry at work during the spring sowing campaign.

Additional rations of 3 1/2 ounces of cereals and equally microscopic increases in other products were promised officially to exceptionally hard-working peasants in a decree.

In the same way, food allotments were ordered reduced and other punishments imposed on those who fail to accomplish the assigned quota of sowing.

The same decree declared that "obviously there is not a sufficiently strong fight against elements which sabotage the sowing and its quality" in North Caucasus. It cited particularly the Kuban Cossack regions—the same districts from which mass expulsions of the entire population occurred this year—as the most backward.

Four large districts were punished for backwardness in sowing by the withdrawal of seeds loaned to them by the government. In effect, this leaves the affected districts without possibility of sowing at all and face to face with serious food shortage during next year.

dance at one of the new night places—the Club Casanova or something like that?

MONNIE liked Arthur Mackenzie now—wasn't afraid of him any more. Maybe his dark eyes had lost that predatory look...

"You look lovely, as always," she was bowing over her hand. She was whisked into the most luxuriously motor car that...

"Well, anyhow we've got to be starting. I'm perishing for food. The Tower of London was very interesting but I'm a wreck."

"That's one of the many things I like about you," he continued with gravity. "Your youthful enthusiasm I've known so many jaded people—sated with life."

"I had a cup of the coffee myself, so I know it wasn't a trick. YOU HAVE BEEN FOOLED AGAIN, ELLIE."

"I must be true—the gossip she'd heard—that Corieth and Mackenzie had been in love with each other although he was almost twice her age."

Mystery Cave In Miss. Unexplored

WAYNESBORO, Miss., May 29.—Subterranean wonders, rivaled only by the famous Mammoth Cave and Carlsbad caverns, await adventurous explorers at Pitts Cave, three miles northwest of here.

Situated on the Pitts' plantation, its contrasting natural beauty and legendary trenchery provide awesome thrills to visitors. A maze of winding passages, "bottomless" pits, phantasmic stalactites and ghostly vaulted domes add to its mysteries.

The Short Route

Pitts delights in showing visitors through the short route and relating legends connected with the cave.

The entrance, on the side of a hill, resembles somewhat the mouth of a gaping prehistoric monster. A flight of steps preceded by Mother Nature guides the visitor into a vestibule about 10 feet wide, approximately the same height and extending 20 feet into the hill 40 feet.

BOONVILLE, Mo.—Heavy winds that picked up dust in western Kansas—more than 500 miles away from here—carried the dirt to Boonville. A recent rain, coming the day following the Kansas dust storm, showered this section with a mud bath.

IT'S FUN TO BE FOOLED. Coffee—Hot and Delicious—Out of Thin Air!

Comic strip illustrating a magic trick with coffee. The magician claims to produce coffee from nowhere. The audience is fooled. A diagram shows the coffee pot being telescoped into a tank under the stage. The magician raises the pot, and coffee is pumped up through a rubber tube in the leg of the stand. The audience reacts with surprise and amusement.
