A BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

THE TWO GREAT COMMANDMENTS: Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy mind; and thy neighbour as thyself.—Luke 10: 27.

JOHN D. ROCKEFELLER SAYS "BETTER DAYS ARE COMING"

John D. Rockefeller is 94. He celebrated Thanksgiving in his home away down in Florida. He is one of the most remarkable men the world has known. He was the first American billionaire. He has given to charity and education and welfare and philanthropic movements and the abolition or elimination of the ills which afflict mortal man more than $700,000,000. He is enjoying life. He will spend the winter under the sunny skies of Florida. On Thanksgiving morning he declared that he was at peace with all mankind. Place his message to the living world in the record: "As I stated on my birthday I have just begun to live. Let us not forget that America has always been the land of plenty and opportunity, and that better days are coming. I have always been optimistic. This is the happiest Thanksgiving I have ever had."

John D. Rockefeller was a full grown man when Abraham Lincoln issued his proclamation striking the shackles from the limbs of slaves. He has lived in two or three civilizations. He was born in the civilization that came in with the birth of the American republic. He became one of the greatest industrial captains the world has known. He saw another civilization shot to death on Flanders' Field. He witnessed the passing of the ancient monarchies of the European as well as the world of the Orient. "Yes, "better days are coming." And the new civilization promises to be the most humane and justice loving mankind has known.

COUZENS OF MICHIGAN ON THE WARPATH

Sen. James Couzens of Michigan, an independent republican and one of the real battlers of the American congress, is on the warpath again. President Roosevelt has named Martin Conboy district attorney for Southern New York. Conboy is a noted leader of the New York bar. He is an independent democrat. He was a first and last supporter of President Roosevelt and his policies. He has been a regular in all the national and state campaigns. Senator Couzens will fight confirmation of Conboy. He has announced the reason why. Conboy has been attorney for Albert H. Wiggin, former chairman of the Chase National Bank. Conboy visited Washington. His friends, including many senators, congratulated him. Well, the Michigan warrior did not congratulate him. He very bluntly and very emphatically said as he shook hands with the New Yorker, "I shall certainly oppose your confirmation by the senate." Postmaster Gen. James A. Farley and Conboy have been close personal and political friends throughout the years. Senators Copeland and Wagner of New York are personal and political friends of the noted lawyer and leader. Now, just how far will Couzens go, or rather how far will he get, in his crusade against the choice of the President for the very important office of federal district attorney for the southern district of New York.

This hard-worked word, Inflation, is used in so many ways nowadays that one has to define it before talking about it. Some say that inflation means a rise in prices due to an increase in the volume of money. Our politicians have scores of ideas about inflating the currency. Some, no doubt, good—some bad—while the average citizen hardly knows what it is all about or what is going to happen.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK

By EDSON R. WAITE, Shawnee, Oklahoma

R. E. ROBERTS, editor of the Louisville (Ky.) Herald-Post, says:

"Did you ever stop to think that advertising is NEWS? "It is just as important to the woman reader as the front page headlines. True, she probably reads the headlines first, but she doesn't consider she has really finished the paper until she has read the advertisements. And that goes for a great number of men, too. This is not fiction, it's fact, borne out by direct questioning of both men and women subscribers.

"Too often the advertiser does not take this into consideration when planning his advertising. He looks upon it as just another ad in the paper, when, as a matter of fact, his copy, handled properly, can be as attractive and interesting as the story which gets the eight-column headline on page one.

"There's romance in advertising just as there is in the day's news. There's human interest in every piece of well-written advertising copy. Just as the ad telling the story of modern home furnishings appeals to the woman, so does the proper presentation of Mickey Mouse or the Three Little Pigs appeal to the child.

Mummies Found In Oklahoma Are Of Much Interest

By United Press
 AMARILLO, Tex.—Anthropologists are finding Cimarron County in the western section of the Oklahoma panhandle a fertile field for their work.

The theory rapidly is growing that some 2,000 years ago the district was populated by a highly civilized race of Indians of Mongoloid extraction.

A mummy discovered May 13 by W. E. Baker, county agent of Cimarron county, has done much to advance this theory. The mummy has engaged the attention of archaeologists and anthropologists in various sections of the southwest and the nation.

Baker discovered the mummy, apparently that of a nine or 10 year old child, while searching caves along the Cimarron river. The mummy measured 47 inches in height and was in splendid state of preservation.

The hair was of Oriental texture unlike the hair of the modern American Indian; the eyes were of an Oriental type; the top of the head had been removed, and the brain taken out, and the top of the skull then replaced.

There were incisions in the arms and thighs, where flesh had been removed and embalming fluids used. The vital organs had been removed and the space filled with spices, similar to the Egyptian method of mummification.

Recently another mummy, a larger one, was found near the first. Enthusiastic but unexperienced workmen damaged it in their zeal to bring it from its burial place.

Evidence unearthed to date indicates the tribe that lived in that section was similar in appearance and mannerisms to the tribe of picture drawing Indians known to have lived in South Dakota.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
 NEA Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON — "Young liberals" of the Roosevelt administration are girding for a finish fight. And the president himself has brought the matter of their revolt to a head.

The big issue, ramifying through NRA and other emergency agencies, is whether there shall be greater social control for industry, with safeguards against profiteering, or self-control for industry, without safeguards, under suspension of the anti-trust laws.

President Roosevelt, the other day, slipped the word to the AAA that it must rush through the food industry codes for his approval. That meant one thing to Assistant Secretary Guy Tugwell and other AAA liberals.

Previously they had been able to block codes from the food industries when they felt they were not fair to farmers or consumers. Now these codes, with price-fixing features and no provision for standards, would be jammed through over their disapproval.

So the "young liberals" decided that while they might be steam-rollered, it would not be without a fight. So, there will be fireworks.

PLAIN and fancy epithets aren't winning any battles under this administration.

Gen. Hugh S. Johnson of NRA has been kicked definitely in his ambitious attempt to "crack down" on Henry Ford. Johnson is the administration's champion bestower of epithets, but the Ford flaccid only made him look silly.

On the other side, there's Al Smith, the opposition's most accom-

MYSTERY EXCURSIONS
 MALMOE, Sweden. — While excursions by train "into the trivium" that is with unknown destination will be tried in Sweden nearly two weeks ago, the management of the railroad has announced that extra travelers, each train's B and th grad, are to be sold out in advance, and the system is expected to attract more. The advantage over other excursion trains with known routes is that no one can take advantage of the low rate to paying for a regular ticket definite locality.

Transportation on Verge of Notable Operation Change

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Declaring that "this country is on the threshold of very notable and important changes in transportation," Joseph B. Eastman, Federal Coordinator of Transportation, today directing a large army of investigators, scientists and engineers in their work of placing transportation on a basis which will insure speed and recovery.

Acting as the clearing house for all innumerable ideas related to improving past transportation methods, Mr. Eastman and his research staff investigate every suggestion offered. Two such recent suggestions as "taxi-train" and "taxi-bus," whereby a traveler takes an airplane to his own private train station, wherever he must travel, and a "taxi-bus" which provides that railway admits night cars equipped with auxiliary rubber tired wheels for operation on highways as well as rails, are not too fanciful for careful study into their potentialities.

Of modern the principal trends in modern transportation, that of air and in some-line trains, airplanes, automobiles and ships for greater economy, speed and stability, is receiving a large share of attention by Mr. Eastman's investigation staff. With its advantages "promoted" by such authorities as Dr. L. Dryden, chief of the Aerodynamic Section of the Bureau of Standards, and Professor Alexander Klemin, director of the Guggenheim School of Aeronautics at New York University, streamlining is more and more occupying the minds of scientist-engineers. It is on speeding up transportation and minimizing resistance.

Dr. Eastman points out that it is still too early for his organization to correlate all the ideas which have been gratuitously showered upon it, other than those developed by its own research group, but that strides are being made in the direction.

Adversity is one of the most powerful stimulants known, and it is having its effect. There is a steady flood of transportation proposals, but I believe that this avalanche will leave a residuum of sound and usable new methods and inventions.

While the Federal Coordinator is striving with his staff to revitalize American transport, independent working scientists have made progress which proves that as an aspect of transportation's greatest problems is overcoming wind resistance. Dr. Dryden, of Uncle Sam's Bureau of Standards, has shown that rounded models tapering gradually toward the rear, situated over modern transports, encounter but 50 per cent of the resistance can take rate to far ticket.

Bridges Crashes in Twisted Heap

Tons of steel, brick, and timbers crashed 40 feet into a twisted heap, carrying two street cars, loaded with sand and slag, and an oil truck with them, when 150 feet of this bridge approach in Pittsburgh gave way. The wreckage fell on the R. & O. railroad tracks, injuring four men. At the upper right is shown the level from which the span fell.

Santa Claus Letters

Dear Santa Claus: I am a little girl 22 months old and for Christmas please bring me a big doll and a little rocking chair and a little wagon, and if you have any little boots that will fit me please bring me a pair of boots too, and some candy and fruit. Yours truly, Arrietta Jean Key.

11 years old. I happened to be down town last night and I saw you, and got two pieces of candy. It sure was good. Santa I want you to bring me a violin case, football and tennis racket and lots of fruit and nuts. Please do not forget the other little children. Your friend—Eloise Packwood. P. S.—Please do not forget my mother and daddy.

Dear Santa Claus: I am a girl about the

New Ford V-8 for 1934

Greater power at still lower cost through new Dual Carburetion . . . Increased motoring comfort because of simplified Clear-vision Ventilation . . . Easier riding through more flexible springs, deeper seat cushions and softer cushion springs . . . Distinctive new appearance . . . Many other features

1 More Miles Per Gallon—More Power, Speed and Efficiency with Dual Carburetion—Greater Oil Economy

The performance and economy of the 1933 Ford V-8 have been the talk of thousands of motorists. Owners said: "Leave it alone, don't change it." Dealers said: "Impossible to improve it!" But we have improved it—in every direction. We started with the engine. The Ford V-8 for 1934 is more powerful, more efficient, easier to start in cold weather, yet it is the most economical Ford to operate ever built—largely because of the new Dual Carburetor and Dual Intake Manifold. Even in the coldest weather the V-8 engine warms up quickly and maintains an efficient operating temperature because of new thermostats in the waterline.

Added engine refinements—get the details about all of them from the nearest Ford dealer—reduce oil consumption and further reduce operating and maintenance costs.

2 Clear-vision Ventilation—and the Windshield Opens

There's nothing to obstruct the view in the new Ford system of Clear-vision

Put It to the Test

Ride in this New Ford V-8 for 1934 and find out—personally—what it can do. It is the one sure way to find out which car gives you the most for your money.

Ventilation. It's built-in—simplicity itself. The same handle that raises the window glass also slides it back horizontally to the ventilating position, and then the forward motion of the car draws the air out of the body. Drafts are eliminated, passenger comfort is assured, and windshield will not fog in cold weather. Another interesting feature of the Ford system—the windshield can be opened! This, and the cowl ventilator, provide the additional air needed for hot-weather comfort.

3 Greater Beauty—New Radiator Shell and Grille—Fenders in Color

A car to be proud of, the Ford V-8 for 1934 has newly designed chromium-plated radiator shell and grille, and other distinctive features. Interiors are more attractive, with new tufted upholstery, new mouldings, new cove-type headlining, new instrument panel, new armrests and new hardware. Swivel-type sun visors in De Luxe bodies prevent glare from front or side.

Fenders on all De Luxe cars are in color to harmonize with body colors. New enamel finish on all bodies and fenders has greater wearing quality and more enduring luster.

4 Transverse Springs—Comfort with Stability and Safety

Ford transverse springs provide the utmost stability and safety. Placed crosswise, they tend to prevent the body from tilting on uneven roads, and turns can be taken safely at relatively high speeds. Free and easy action of all four wheels is permitted because the outer flexible tips of the springs are attached to the axles. Thus the most sensitive parts of the springs receive road shocks first and absorb them before they reach the body. The advantages of the solid axle are retained.

Boy Scout Troop Formed at Olden

J. E. Meroney, scout commissioner for this section, has announced formation of a Boy Scout troop at Olden, with an initial membership of 18 boys.

Bob Steele, scoutmaster of Troop 9, Ranger, and Meroney were present to help form the troop, which makes the fourth in the Ranger territory, two being in Ranger, one at Colony and one at Olden.

It is also planned to form a troop at Yellow Mound, where much interest is being shown in the movement.

It is anticipated that the membership of the Olden troop will be increased to a membership of 25 in the near future.

It's great to feel fit!

Everybody has days when every waking hour is packed with rest of living. Why not make every day like this? A frequent drawback to fitness is constipation. It may dull your energy, steal your appetite, lower your vitality. Yet it is so easy to overcome.

Try eating Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. Science shows this delicious cereal supplies "bulk" to exercise the intestines, and vitamin B to promote appetite, and tone the intestinal tract.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that of lettuce. How much safer than taking patent medicines—so often harmful. Two tablespoonfuls daily will correct most types of constipation. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

ALL-BRAN has iron for the blood. At all grocers. In the red-and-green packages. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

HELPS KEEP YOU FIT

FRECKLES and HIS FRIENDS—By Blosser

And although there may be nothing you can do about it, Because you are broke, too, At least you can be gay! And thankful, And glad, There aren't five tiny little children in your home crying for a Santa Claus to bring them food... And a grandmother with no one to work for her... And you have a shirt... And maybe a couple of oranges around the house somewhere. And whether you like this kind of thing or not, It's right here in your home town, and If you're an optimist, Now is the time to be glad. And, like the little letter we just received... Say "Thank you."

MOTHER OF MAYORS

BOONVILLE, Ind.—Mrs. Elizabeth Heinze Nester, who celebrated her 90th birthday Nov. 22, is known as the "mother of mayors." Her oldest son, John F. Heinze, was elected Mayor of Boonville in 1905. Her second son, Fred Heinze, was named Mayor of Tell City in 1909, and in 1929, her third son, Floyd H. Nester, was elected Mayor of Boonville.

Queen of Iraq, married to the king by proxy last September, will meet him finally for the first time. A mistake. Now she'll be just his wife.
