HOUSE VOTES BILL TO CUT COTTON CROP

WASHINGTON, March 19.—The House today passed the Bankhead cotton control bill in the face of Republican warnings the measure marked the first step in efforts to regiment all American agriculture.

The bill limits the next marketable crop to 10,000,000 bales and places taxes on all cotton in excess of allotment which moves into state commerce.

The bill won by a majority of 251 to 114.

The tax imposed in the bill is collectable at the gin. If finally enacted, the bill would work out like this:

The agriculture department will work out state production quotas. The state in turn will make allotments to counties.

When the farmer receives his quota the county board gives him certificates exempting from taxation the amount of cotton allotted him.

After the crop is harvested, the farmer ships it to the gin and presents his tax exemption certificate. If he desires to gin more cotton than is called for by the certificate, he must pay a tax of 50 per cent of the market price.

The bill does not prohibit a farmer from growing any amount of cotton, but before any cotton which is produced in excess of his quota can be ginned, the tax must be paid on the over production.

The Times is glad to announce that the Falk Grocery and Market handle Gold Chain and this flour is being used exclusively in the Times' 11th annual Cooking School, beginning tomorrow at 2:30.

The women of Ranger and surrounding trade territory are invited to be present.

INSULL FEARS KIDNAPING AS HE SAILS SEAS

ATHENS, Greece, March 19.—Samuel Insull, seeking a refuge from American law in the little tramp steamer Maiotis, was understood today to have instructed influential friends in the United States to intercede with President Roosevelt in his behalf.

Free for the time being as he steamed across the Mediterranean, Insull was beset by fears of being kidnaped.

Before he left here yesterday, Insull expressed the fear that American authorities might charter a ship to kidnap him or to exterminate him in a simulated collision.

There were reports here Insull's fears of kidnaping might be justified. These reports were an American yacht, manned by gangsters, sought to intercept the ship? It was said a yacht set out from Istanbul, Turkey, in search for the ship. Authorities at Istanbul believed that any such yacht, or any American yacht at all, had been there recently.

Sales Tax Goes Begging Among State Candidates

By GORDON K. SHEARER AUSTIN, March 19.—The sales tax, hailed as a political panacea for state financial ills in the last campaign, goes begging for support among this year's candidates for governor.

C. C. McDonald, Ferguson-endorsed candidate, in his platform favors taxes on mortgages, on capital stock, on intangible assets and on labor-saving machinery, but omits the sales tax.

Tom Hunter mentions it in his campaign documents. He favors a sales tax only on articles brought into the state to compete with home-produced goods. How this sort of an interstate tariff will get by the federal constitution is not explained.

Maury Hughes and L. H. Middleton, Fort Worth contractor-candidate, both declare against the sales tax. They agree with President Roosevelt that the people with incomes less than $2,000 a year do two-thirds of the country's buying. The sales tax would hit such people.

Strangely enough, the state income tax, once the rival of the sales tax, is being defended.

Four Men Held In Clovis Deny Part In Bristow Robbery

CLOVIS, N. M., March 19.—Four men held here as suspects in the killing of Deputy Marshal R. J. Hammers, Clearwater, Kan., today denied any connection with the recent robbery of a bank in Bristow, Texas.

The suspects refused to waive extradition and were being held in jail here in default of $2,000 bail as fugitives from justice.

Texas is demanding extradition on the strength of a description of the bank robbers which tallies with that of the men held here. The sheriff of Bristow sent half of a button found on the floor of the bank and authorities here found the other half on a coat in the car of the suspects.

Delay Is Asked In C. E. Heidingsfelder Embezzlement Trial

GEORGETOWN, Mar. 19.—Illness of a defense attorney brought a move today to delay the second trial of C. E. Heidingsfelder, Houston attorney, on a charge of embezzling $34,500.

J. F. Faulber, member of the defense counsel, is ill at his home here. A verbal defense motion for a delay of three or four weeks was made and the judge ordered that the motion be made in writing.

J. A. Lash, Former Eastland Man Is Dead At Cisco

J. A. Lash, 63, of Cisco, passed away at his home in that city, Saturday, following an illness of a month.

The decedent left a widow, Mrs. Ida Lash, and daughters, his only children, Mrs. Florence (William) Graham of Dallas, and Mrs. Sarah (George C.) Cross of Eastland, and three grandchildren.

Funeral services were held this afternoon at 3:00 o'clock in the Presbyterian church in Cisco, with Rev. Pierce officiating. Interment was in the Cisco cemetery. Many Eastland friends attended the services.

The late Mr. Lash lived in Eastland for a number of years, when he was associated with the States Oil Corporation.

He was a genial man and had a large circle of friends throughout the oil fields.

FAMOUS GREAT LAKES SCHOONER BURNED

STURGEON BAY, Wis.—The Mary Ellen Cook, one of the most famous of the old lumber-carrying ships of the Great Lakes, was burned here recently "to rid the shore of trash." The three-masted schooner once approached Chicago loaded with lumber in one of the worst storms known on Lake Michigan. The storm blew the ship over the breakwater on a wave and she landed right side up safely in the inner harbor.

INDUSTRY AND GOVERNMENT IN LABOR FIGHT

The federal government today locked horns with two imminent dangers to industrial peace that threatened the entire national recovery program.

In New York, the code authority of the automobile industry met under the eye of Administrator Hugh S. Johnson to work out a formula for collective bargaining. If the meeting fails, a strike in the automobile factories of the middle west probably will follow Wednesday may spread to the steel industry.

The outcome was problematical. In Washington, representatives of railroad management and labor met to consider a compromise wage proposal.

DETROIT, March 19.—The automobile industry will contract on behalf of its employes with the American Federation of Labor, the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce announced today.

There is only one fundamental issue, namely, whether the automobile industry is to be run by the American Federation of Labor, the N. A. C. C. declared.

The industry does not intend to recognize the A. F. of L. as such, nor to enter into any contracts with it on behalf of the its employes.

Army Tacks Safety First to Slogan As Air Mail Resumes

WASHINGTON, March 19.—The army tacked the words "safety first" onto the cherished slogan that the mail must go through and today resumed the service interrupted after 10 young men had given their lives in sacrifice to the original creed.

An eleven flier was killed late Saturday near Cheyenne while while seeking to familiarize himself with a route he was assigned.

As the first planes roared to their takeoffs, administration advisors were busy redrafting the bill which will retire the army from its mail carrying service and restore the function to private hands.

In most parts of the country weather was favorable. Only the most experienced pilots were assigned to the first runs.

Bishop in his confession to District Attorney Ben J. Dean, Stephens county, also admitted stealing two cars in Breckenridge, one of which belonged to C. A. Martin, Eastland, the officers said.

Saturday Sheriff Morrow of Stephens county, accompanied by the manager of the Texas Electric Service company of Breckenridge, went to Fort Worth to return the stolen wire.

CROP DAMAGE IS LARGE OVER STATE TODAY

DALLAS, Mar. 19.—A belated blast which brought sub-freezing temperatures to Texas over the week-end brought losses to farmers and stockmen, it was feared today as the mercury began an upward climb.

According to Victor Schöffel-mayer, agricultural editor of the Dallas News, damage to commercial orchards in North and East Texas may have been averted by the dry fall which held back the growth of peach, plum and pear trees.

Degree of damage to commercial peach orchards may not be known for several days.

Early gardens were seriously hurt. Young corn was killed or badly hurt. Spring oats also suffered. Fall oats were badly hurt and cut back.

Panhandle wheat was blown out of the ground in many parts of that region and, unprotected by a sufficient blanket of snow, was hard hit by temperatures of 15 degrees or less.

HARLINGEN, Mar. 19.—Frost in the lower Rio Grande Valley last night ruined half of the vegetable crop, it was estimated today. It will be several days before accurate figures are obtained.

Railway Managers Deliver Ultimatum To Their Employes

WASHINGTON, March 19.—Railroad managers today threatened to press demands for a 15 per cent reduction in basic wages if the railway unions continue their refusal to accept present wages for another six months.

The conference committee of railway managers informed the union leaders meeting with them in the Willard hotel that if they refused "to co-operate with the President of the United States in order to aid in affecting a national recovery during the year 1934," the railroads would have to withdraw their compromise offer, which was suggested by Mr. Roosevelt.

SAN MARCOS, Mar. 19.—The defense rested in the murder trial of Mateo Cuellar and Julian Ybarra shortly before noon here today. Rebuttal testimony was to be heard this afternoon.

MEETING WILL BE STAGED AT ELKS' ARENA

Entire Citizenship Is Invited To Be Present To Hear Project Talked.

An invitation was issued today by R. F. Holloway, superintendent of schools, L. H. Fiewellen, president of the school board and Dr. P. M. Kuykendall, president of the Chamber of Commerce, to all the citizens of Ranger to attend the big mass meeting to be held at the Elks Club Arena tonight at 7:30 for the purpose of discussing plans for the completion of the city auditorium and gymnasium, work on which started last week.

All business men, club women, school children, the laborers, and the entire citizenship of the city were issued a cordial invitation to be present in order that the plans for the completion of the building might be discussed.

It was pointed out that this was not a meeting for the purpose of raising funds or selling bonds, nor was it a meeting for any particular group, but it was a city-wide call for all the citizens interested in the upbuilding of the schools and the town.

Word has been received that the CWA would be discontinued in Texas on April 1, but that immediately another setup would be installed which would likely continue all projects underway with the possible exception of those instigated for the purpose of supplying work only.

Mr. Holloway stated this morning that these plans, as announced by Federal Relief Administrator Harry Hopkins, were in line with the plans for the gymnasium-city auditorium project in Ranger because it was of a constructive and permanent nature and would likely be included in the first of the projects to be furnished by labor.

According to the announcement made by Harry Hopkins, the change will be simply a change from a federal to a state bookkeeping system and would not delay the work underway to any material extent.

"This would work to the advantage of the auditorium plans," Mr. Holloway stated today, "because it would put it close to the head of operations, which will be in Austin instead of in Washington and a closer check can be kept on the needs of the projects."

L. H. Fiewellen, president of the school board, will act as chairman of the meeting, at which a concrete outline of the plans will be given for the information of all and at which new suggestions will be accepted for consideration by the committee in charge.

Former Eastland Oil Man Is dead

Garrett Donnelly, prominent Texas oil operator, died this morning at his home in Fort Worth, according to information received in Eastland. Funeral services and burial will take place in Fort Worth Wednesday.

Mr. Donnelly, with three of his brothers, and other associates, organized the Eastland Oil company and in 1922 brought in the first well in the Martin pool just south of Eastland. They developed the field into one of the heavy producing sections of this part of the state.

Some years ago Mr. Donnelly moved from Eastland to Fort Worth and has since made his home there.

"BACK TO THE LAND," ADVISES HENRY FORD

For years and years Henry Ford has had a favorite subject nearest to his heart—"farming and back to the soil." He has not changed his viewpoint. Fact is, he is more enthusiastic than ever as back-to-the-land for the millions who invaded the industrial centers in wartime when mass production was the order of the day.

All of which is a reminder that the New Deal administration is expected to inaugurate a movement before the coming of the summer for the actual purchasing of acreage in its program of land utilization. Indeed, it is said experts who have been studying the problem since long before Franklin D. Roosevelt became President estimate that between 25,000,000 and 40,000,000 acres of land is definitely sub-marginal.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK

By EDSON R. WAITE, Shawnee, Oklahoma

In the lobby of a hotel the other night I met a gentleman who has just returned from a visit to Washington, D. C. During his visit he spent many hours watching the United States Senate in action and he described many of the senators to me.

He described one as the most convincing senator this country has ever seen; another who loved his job but detested speech-making; another who had much to say, and said it; another most charming; another who was a medicine man and a tireless worker; another whose remarks were full of cunning humor and delightful sarcasm; another who was steeped in seriousness; another with a gift of dry humor which was of an entertaining nature; another with a gift of deep and winning sincerity and others who he called "yes men."

The ROMANTIC RUNAWAY

BEGAN HERE TODAY

FABBITO, a handsome youth, works at the national Florida bank at million-dollar Jim Fields. Lottie, a girl who lives in the same building, notices Fabbitto falls in love with her.

CHAPTER XVI

A FEW hours later Marcia Treadway, in Havana, entered the Ritz Hotel. Here, as darkness settled on the Prado and the outline of Morro Negro vague, she rubbed her face with cold cream and settled on a chaise longue to think and decide what to do next.

"Now call in one of those dusky rubber boys and ask him where we can get some coats and whether we can rent a river to take us to Havana. Beas ordered when they had finished their meal." Fabbitto turned to single out a keen-faced boy wearing a perpetual smile in his chocolate brown eyes.

"Where we goin' from here, Beau?" Lottie leaned across the table. "Havana," he answered. "Never hide when you're supposed to. It's always a give-away—hidin'." "We're goin' to Havana and goin' to the carnival tomorrow. We'll get enough here to start. There's no danger here. I'll bet they don't get more than one newspaper a week in this town and the man who gets it is probably too sleepy to read anything except who won the lottery. Look active and alert, don't they?" he ended as he glanced toward the line outside, crowding and jostling one another in order to see the strangers better.

"Are you scouting the country of the new government?" the boy queried, his eyes suddenly becoming even brighter. "I will let you judge that, Senor," Fabbitto replied. "Ah, real the wise man is silent," the boy said, nodding.

THEN he stood up. He himself, he said, making a ceremony of a courtesy as to most Latins, he himself would escort them to the shop of Sancho who sold the apparel of value both for the tourists and the señoras. He himself would awaken Sancho who slept early, and then he himself would take them to the house of Pedro who owned an automobile which in time—God being perfectly willing—would deliver them in safety in Havana, the beautiful city of laughter and gaiety.

the West Texas division and winners will be certified to the National band contest without further elimination. All inquiries for details are being addressed to Mr. Wiley. Awards are to be given school and individual winners.

Championship Bout Only Month Away

By United Press
FIGHT WORTH.—With the world's championship junior welterweight prizefight only a month away, followers have started sizing up the two fighters in what promises to be the classic lower weight fight in recent boxing history.

Both fighters are easily the top-notchers of the nation, with perhaps only Tony Canzoneri in the class with either Barney Ross, the defending champion, or Tony Herrera, the challenger.

Both employ much the same style of fighting and from that standpoint, as well as the fact that Herrera has been seeking a try for the title for several years, the fight should be a "natural."

Ross has a reputation for being able to do everything in the ring and do it well. He can hit from any angle with either hand and is rated one of the cleverest fighters at his weight in ring history.

Although he does not pack a devastating knockout wallop, the 24-year-old Chicago fighter possesses a stiff punch, capable of putting an antagonist to sleep.

Ross won the title from Tony Canzoneri, a masterful and colorful boxer who still is considered far from through. He twice beat Canzoneri on decisions.

Fans are minimizing a decision rendered in San Francisco recently in which Frankie Kluck was awarded a draw with Ross. News papers on the coast were consistent and vociferous in disputing the decision.

Virtually all of them said Ross won by an easy margin. Herrera is an El Paso product and his ring prowess is familiar to Texas fight fans. He is considered Ross' watch in boxing ability, stamina and ring generalship.

Both are master boxers and the fight should be a battle of wits, as well as gloves.

The Scotch-Mexican's chief weapon is his "flicking" left jab, which keeps his opponents at a distance and although not exceedingly damaging serves to upset an opponent's mental equilibrium as well as paving openings for Herrera.

Herrera also has stinging right which he has not used frequently because of a hand injury. He used the right to a minimum in defeating Tracy Cox and Lew Wallace to earn the chance to meet Ross for the title.

The right fist, however, is healed, after careful guarding for two years, and Herrera has indicated he will bring it into play in his effort to realize his ambition.

A broken rib, which caused cancellation of recent matches, also is healed.

Both fighters are to arrive here about April 15 to polish off training for the fight which is to be held April 20, on the eve of the Texas derby, feature event of the annual Arlington Downs spring horse racing meet.

Land Adjacent to Famous Graves Is Donated to State
By United Press
HUNTSVILLE, Texas.—Crowds who visit the grave of Gen. Sam Houston and other illustrious Texans in Oakwood cemetery here have had a five-acre tract in which to rest at the end of their pilgrimage.

The tract adjacent the cemetery will be deeded to the state for a park. W. O. B. Gillaspie, owner of the land, has watched crowds gather about the small cemetery with its inadequate parking space and decided to present the acreage for a park.

School buses loaded with children particularly attracted the attention of Gillaspie and prompted him to offer the space for visitors to the shrine.

Last April Gillaspie and his two sisters unveiled a monument in San Jacinto battlefield to their father, Capt. James A. Gillaspie and his men who fought there.

January and February and this year the figure was raised to $412,920.

Apartment houses and moderate priced dwellings are particularly increasing, the building permits revealed.

Wet Territory Now Spreading In Texas

By United Press
AUSTIN.—Wet territory is continuing to expand through local option elections. Beer sale permit applications have come to the office of State Comptroller George Sheppard from 19 counties that were dry when the state beer law became effective last September.

Some of the 19 counties have voted to permit beer in all parts of the county; some have permitted sales only in particular cities, towns or precincts.

The added wet territory has been in Smith, Willacy, Freestone, Stonewall, Lipscomb, Maverick, Trinity, Terry, Calhoun, Hale, Eastland, Haskell, Runnels, Burnet, Childress, Young Nolan, Motley and Palo Pinto counties.

Beer was permitted in 1932 counties upon adoption of the beer amendment and beer act.

Gun Collection Was A Popular Exhibit

By United Press
FORT WORTH.—One of the most frequented exhibits of the Southwest Exposition and Fat Stock Show this year was a collection of guns of notorious bandits.

Perhaps the most attractive was the machine gun on which the notorious Harvey Bailey slept when he was captured near Paradise Texas, in the famous Charles I. Urschel kidnaping case.

Machine guns, automatic pistols, sawed-off shotguns, son artificial, lined the exhibit case.

One real pistol that created large amount of curiosity was the allegedly used by Joe Newton the daring $2,000,000 mail robbery at Roundout, Ill., in 1927. The pistol reportedly was the one used to guard mail clerks when the Lindberghs' pouches.

 se-banded North Side High School student that someday he would be-head football coach at Indiana University, the youth's response would have been equivalent to the modern "Oh, Yeah?"

Yet this spring that same tounse-banded youth, none other than A. N. (Bo) McMillan, will take over the Big Ten post, climaxing a football career that reeks with fame and glamor.

In 1912 McMillan's name became a football talisman in Texas high school circles. As halfback on the North Side high school team his name was on the tongue of every follower of high school football.

In 1914, as captain, he led one of the greatest high school football teams ever assembled in Texas, a team which produced several national football figures.

Beside him played Buck Weaver, later to become an All-American star at little Centre College in Kentucky, where Bo himself whirled into national prominence as All-America quarterback on the famous team that beat Harvard.

On that same team were Roscoe Minton, now a high school coach here, who became an All-America star at Indiana, and Matty Bell, until this spring coach of football at Texas A. & M. College.

McMillan was not able to win the state title with his team. It was defeated in the finals by Austin. Nevertheless the passing arm that carried him to wider fame at Centre College was in evidence.
 His courage and daring made him a hero of Texas high school eleven.

Through his final years in high school, according to an account in the North Side annual for that year, McMillan directed the team pipe, although he was suffering from injuries.

"Bo McMillan held his team up to championship class through sheer grit and force of will," is the tribute paid him in the annual.

 It was the same grit and brain power that carried him to college success, believes Sully Montgomery, teammate at Centre College with McMillan and a former heavyweight pugilist.

"He was the smartest football player I ever saw on a football field," Montgomery said. "He had a lot of running ability, and it was like playing the Brain Trust to encounter Bo in a game of witness. Sure he'll make the grade at Indiana."

Remaking Field At Gettysburg

GETTYSBURG, Pa.—Approximately a half million dollars is being spent by three federal agencies, the civilian conservation corps, the public works administration and the civil works administration, to restore the Gettysburg battlefield to something like its condition in 1864.

James R. McConachie, who is in charge of the reforestation and restoration work, said today that more than 400 members of the CCC and 37 public works employes are engaged in removing thousands of dead trees and tangled underbrush from the battlefield.
 McConachie is federal director of parks in Pennsylvania and Maryland. The work is being directed by a group of tree surgeons and landscape architects.

"A mistaken impression is that we are modernizing the battlefield," McConachie said. "On the contrary we are working to restore it to something of its condition in 1864."

"Under the emergency appropriations we have engaged a staff of historians to study the field thoroughly and when their report has been completed, the work of restoring buildings and earthworks will be started."

The restoration plan includes the construction of 19 miles of foot paths so that many historical places heretofore inaccessible to visitors may be visited; rebuilding of stone walls; resurfacing of roads; repairing of bridges and construction of stations at the various park entrances.

EFFICIENCY," said Aesop 4,000 years ago, "is coaxing a cat across the room instead of pulling him by the tail."

If you've been taking hours to bake the morning biscuits and fry the dinner chicken, and wind up feeling as though every kitchen in the world ought to be at the bottom of the South Atlantic—we have a most pleasant surprise in store for you. For intriguing, delicious foods can be "coaxed" together in hours less time than you ever imagined. There are all sorts of little time-savers and wife-savers on your pantry shelves, in the spice-cans in your cabinet in scraps that you've always thrown away.

And these efficiencies are so simple, practical and easy! That's why we've planned our cooking school—just to show them to you. We know you'll enjoy every minute of the cooking school, and we urge you not to miss a single second. Come as our guest.

Automobile Drivers License Law Being Urged For Texas

DALLAS, Tex.—Movement for statewide automobile drivers license law is underway here.

Interest in the movement gained momentum during arguments before the Dallas city council for passage of an ordinance to regulate the speed of automobiles.

A resolution, urging the passage of a statewide drivers license law, was passed by the Dallas Chamber of Commerce during a recent meeting of the Accident and Prevention Association here.

Copies of the resolution were mailed to other chambers of commerce throughout the state to assist in promotion of the movement.

The document urged that some step be taken definitely to eliminate the "careless and indifferent attitude toward traffic regulations within the state."

Charles A. Miller, president of the Accident Prevention Association, said that the state-wide campaign for the drivers' license would continue until something is done about it in the legislature.

Miller said that letters urging support of the project also were sent to more than 300 insurance agents in Texas.

He called attention to House Bill No. 20, which provided for issuing of automobile drivers license.

The bill was tabled at the special session recently ended. It did not come up again for consideration until 1935.

"We are not advocating a bill," Miller said, "but instigating a campaign that will eventually result about state-wide interest in the passage of House Bill No. 20."

"High Finance" in a Penthouse

A "floating policy bank," making $10,000 a day profit on money collected from glibble gamblers wagging on lucky numbers, was confiscated by New York police in one of the largest raids ever conducted in the city.

In addition to arresting two women and 12 men, police seized the adding machines and sacks of policy slips—worth a potential $1,000,000—which you see pictured here in the "bank's" penthouse quarters.

Federal Grant For Irrigation of Valley Asked

HARLINGEN, Texas.—A $4,600,000 federal grant has been asked for the construction of a gigantic network of canals and ditches to drain 2,969 square miles in the "Magic Valley" of the Lower Rio Grande.

The drainage program calls for 491 miles of ditches, of which 351 miles would be in Hidalgo and Willacy counties. The complete project would affect also Starr and Comeron counties.

Counties have agreed to furnish right-of-way and maintain the drainage system, including ditches, siphons, flumes and bridges, if the federal government can be persuaded to finance construction.

In Cameron county alone, through which many canals would lead surplus water to the gulf, approximately 200 acres will be needed for the 140 miles of ditches. Engineers have estimated the annual maintenance cost there at $14,000.

The project contemplates digging series of master ditches throughout the valley, into which lateral or feeder ditches would empty. Siphons or flumes would be used to conduct the waste water over or under existing irrigation canals.

The system would require the excavation of more than 19,000,000 cubic yards of earth, according to present plans.

Irrigation and drainage district directors have estimated that right-of-ways for the ditches will average $100 per mile.

The state legislature appropriated $15,000 for preliminary surveys and negotiations for federal aid. Of that sum less than $3,000 had been spent up until March.

Much of the area involved in the drainage project was wrecked by hurricane and typhoons from the gulf last fall. The drainage system will avert similar disasters in the future, it is believed.

The huge portion of Texas annually supplies thousands of carloads of citrus fruits and vegetables to the metropolitan districts of the industrial north and east. A large cattle raising industry flourishes on the uplands.

Murders Father In Radio Dispute

Inflamed when his father turned off the radio because it disturbed his sleep, Russell A. Graham, 17-year-old high school sophomore of Oil City, Pa., murdered his parent with a hammer and butcher knife. The youth is shown above after confessing the crime.

Repeal Will Be Only One of The Changes on Ballot

AUSTIN.—Prohibition repeal will be only one of the several constitutional changes the regular session of the state legislature will be asked to pass on to popular vote in 1935.

A movement already has been put under way to authorize issuance of state bonds to be substituted for the numerous county and district road bond issues, in the retirement of which the state now is assisting.

James C. Tucker, executive secretary of the board of county and district road indebtedness, which handles the state's participation in bond retirement is sponsoring the state bond plan. Briefly it provides that instead of contributing to retire existing county and district bonds, the state shall issue enough new state bonds to retire them all at once.

Its advantage is that the average rate of interest on the outstanding district and county bonds is 5.1458 per cent. State bonds, Tucker says, can be floated at 4 per cent, if backed by an allocation of part of the state gasoline tax for bond retirement. The reduced interest, Tucker figures, would save $2,200,000 a year. If the state bonds were sold at 4 1/2 per cent, he has calculated, the saving still would be $1,200,000 a year over the present system.

A new tax plan also may be submitted to the people. It would permit allowance of a discount on payment of taxes in advance of the time they become delinquent. Besides being an incentive to tax payment, Senator John W. Hornsby, Austin, father of the plan, points out that it would distribute the tax collection work over months and so make unnecessary extra forces in tax collection offices during January.

Tokio Wants to Know How Officials Dress

RUFFALO, N. Y.—The mayor of Tokio, Japan, wants to know what the well-dressed Buffalo city officials wear.

A letter received by Mayor George J. Zimmermann, read:

Dear Sir:

It is my honor to beg your kind answer about the matters as follows:

If there is any

- (a) City flag or mayor's flag.
- (b) Official uniform for mayors or deputy mayors.
- (c) Official uniform for municipal officers or employees.
- (d) Badge for municipal officers and employees in your city, please instruct me as its size, color or various rules and customs referring to its cases or using, and if possible send me any catalogue or pictures of them.

Expecting your quick return, I remain,

Yours very sincerely,

Toralar Ushiguki,

Mayor of Tokio.

Officials agreed that the Tokio mayor meant "badge" instead of budge in his fourth inquiry. Mayor Zimmermann declared he would make a "quick return."

New History of Crockett's Life Has Been Written

DALLAS, Tex.—Davy Crockett, slayer of the old west lawless exploits have come down in legend and myth, died a true hero in the Alamo with his back to the wall and his famous rifle "Betsey" in his hand, according to a new biography of the great Texan by Constance Rourke.

Published almost exactly 98 years after Crockett lost his life fighting for Texas independence, it is the first full length biography of the man from Tennessee.

It is based on painstaking research in which a great number of letters and others turned over by available scraps of information the author. The book clears up a number of important details, among which is the fact that Crockett was slain in the assault on the Alamo, rather than captured and then put to death by Santa Anna.

The route followed by Crockett from Tennessee to Texas at the end of 1835, long clouded in mystery, is satisfactorily cleared up by the biographer. The frontiersman now seen to have made two entries into Texas only a few weeks apart. Arriving at Fulton, Ark., an important early day crossing the Red River, he scouted for several weeks through Northeast Texas, visiting the present sites of Clarksville and Honey Grove.

The testimony of Mrs. Caroline Clark, famous pioneer settler and founder of Clarksville, who met Crockett on this Northeast Texas sojourn, is one of Miss Rourke's most interesting contributions to early Texas history. The outlines of this incident were furnished by Clark's grandson, Judge Pat Clark of Clarksville, and the book substantiates incidents long

Says Slang Is Here to Stay

MILWAUKEE.—Slang is inevitable and some of it will endure, according to Prof. James M. Purcell of the English department of Marquette university.

"A slang word, if it is to last," said Prof. Purcell, "must contain an idea not contained in the word for which it is substituted. For instance, 'apple-sauce' will endure because we have no other word to express flattery which is uncomplimentary, while 'lettuce' and 'spinach,' words used sometimes in place of 'money,' and will not last because they do not add anything to the meaning of 'money.'"

The Marquette professor pointed out that the slang word "jitney," used to denote a cheap car employed by an individual to transport people to and from work in post-war days when street car rates were raised, has passed into oblivion because the "jitneys," in most cases were legislated out of business.

"Pussyfoot," the professor thinks, is the language to stay. It was originally a name for a noted dry worker, but now the term refers to anyone who goes about his business in a quiet and secret way, and usually denotes a little underhandness. Terms describing nationalities are likely to disappear because their inference usually is uncomplimentary.

"Balmey" and "Chisler" are a part of the language, according to Prof. Purcell, because they have been dignified through use by noted men.

A French scientist says those sea monsters washed up on the shore of France are nothing but sharks. They might have been among those that inhabited the stock exchanges up to 1929.

Like the dachshund of former years, the Scotch terrier is losing favor in this country—and so we can repeat, every dog has his day.

Car Registrations Above Last Year

AUSTIN, Tex.—New passenger car registrations in the 16 most populous counties of Texas totaled 3,237 in February against 1,851 in January and 1,793 in February, 1933, gains of 73 per cent and 81 per cent respectively, according to the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research.

Registrations for January and February combined totaled 5,088 against 4,281 during the corresponding period last year, a gain of 20 per cent.

The difficulties which many automobile companies had in getting their production schedules under way during January seem to have been largely overcome, and with the big backlog of orders which now prevails, registrations should continue to make highly favorable comparisons with the past three years, the Bureau's report said.

Mrs. McDonald Is Preparing For the Big Cooking School

With the completion of all arrangements for the Happy Kitchen School of Cookery, Mrs. Martha McDonald, noted food economist and lecturer is scheduled to open her first session of the Happy Kitchen Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the auditorium. The School of Cookery will be conducted for four days, and is for the women of this city and vicinity as a compliment from this newspaper and the local and national advertisers participating.

New receipts, ways to make the old dishes look different, better—little tricks to brighten and lighten the home-maker's task—all will be given. And if there is any question bothering you concerning cooking, such as baking cakes and pies, preparing tasty salads and other appetizing dishes, you are invited to bring them all to the Happy Kitchen.

Mrs. McDonald, famed throughout the South for her knowledge of cookery and her insight into the everyday problems of the housewife, will be in charge of the programs. She arrived here Monday to complete final plans for the Happy Kitchen, and declared she is looking forward to her appearance here as "one of the best schools ever!"

"We're just going to show you a 1934 fashion revue in foods," says Mrs. McDonald, "for fashions in foods do change, you know."

Each day's program will be entirely different and no housewife should miss a minute of the entertaining demonstrations. Some forty distinct and separate dishes are to be made by the culinary artist during the school, and each day's work will be correlated with the next program of the following day.

Arctic Riches Are Prize of Explorers

MONTREAL.—A grim and silent war, which has already cost the lives of many men, is being waged by Canada and Soviet Russia for the possession of a vast snow-covered empire in the Arctic.

The prize is supremacy over 2,000,000 square miles of land and a mastery of secrets which may revolutionize the future of the world. The battle is being waged, not by troops and guns, but by groups of intrepid explorers and scientists.

Until recently the Arctic was regarded as a land of frozen waste. Today it is known that some of the so-called barren lands are among the richest of the world.

Oil, gold, silver, lead, zinc, coal, radium, great reserves of fish, game and timber, are being found in increasing quantities. It has been learned too, that in the Arctic are the solutions of many weather problems which have so far baffled meteorologists.

Many of the discoveries made to date have been made on land already in Canadian or Soviet territory. But hitherto unknown islands are now being found by each country and quietly annexed. Airplane bases, settlements and methods of communication with the outside world are being established, for it is believed that the Arctic may in time dominate the world's mineral supplies and monopolize highly important air routes between Europe and the Far East.

By Cowen

Stalin Backs Move
 The battle for possession of the Arctic was started five years ago when Stalin decreed that "the Arctic must become Soviet Arctic," and ordered a five-year-plan for the purpose.

Canada took up the challenge. Since then both countries have accomplished miracles in the vast Arctic wastes, which hitherto had been regarded as useless and uninhabitable.

Russia's five-year plan has just ended, and a report has been issued showing what she has achieved in the polar regions during the past few years, this is what the Russians have done:

Sailed from the Arctic coast of Russia, down through the Bering Straits and into Vladivostok in one season—a feat never before accomplished. Covered 60,000 miles by sea, 40,000 miles by land, and 16,000 miles by air.

Established towns on land hitherto regarded as uninhabitable. One of these is Igarka, which already has 15,000 inhabitants, and holds the key to the Kara Sea, one of the most important areas in the Arctic.

Increased by systematic migration the population of another key position, the island of Navaya Zemlya, and organized it on military lines.

Mapped and plotted navigation routes along the whole of Russia's northern borders.

Established on Frans Josef Land the most northerly radio station in the world. It is powerful enough to communicate with the Antarctic.

Settled a permanent post on Wrangel Island.

Canada's activities in the Arctic have been less spectacular than those of Russia, but just as successful.

Canada is not driving whole populations into remote territories, but is concentrating on extending her knowledge of the geography of the Arctic. Year by year she is increasing her hold.

The population of the 1,258,217 square miles of land of which Canada has taken over is less than 13,000, but she knows every inlet of their country, and has established for their benefit a vast wireless network.

Already Canada is working the most northerly mines in the world. In a short time she will be selling radium from the shores of the Great Bear Lake.

Recently she established a regular air service further north than Russia has yet attempted.

To insure food supplies, her scientists are now working in laboratories in Ottawa to produce wheat which will germinate in a far shorter period than any yet evolved, and enable grain to be grown well within the Arctic circle.

One of the most remarkable treks in history has just been finished. Four years ago the Canadian Government bought 3,000 reindeer from the United States, and has just moved the whole herd from Alaska to the mouth of the Mackenzie River to form the basis of supplies of food and clothing for a possible great population.

Every year Canada sends ships to visit her settlement in the Arctic, with relief doctors, hospital supplies and the like.

Canada has another secret. In the far north there are mighty rivers, which are ice free for short periods. She intends to harness these for electric power.

Former Kaiser Wilhelm may have to return to Germany to retain his income. And, oh, how he dreads it!

Educator Criticizes Grandmother Rule

By United Press

PHILADELPHIA.—Grandma came in for her share of criticism in a recent address by Dr. Garry Cleveland Myers, head of the division of Parent Education at Cleveland College, Western Reserve University.

In a talk before the Second Institute on Parent-Child Relationships he said: "Young married couples would do better to go on public relief than to remain under the thumb of a grandmother."

"The depression has increased grandmother dominance, since so many couples have moved in with either the woman's or man's mother. She has generously made a home for them, but just because she has, she is more inclined to interfere with the management of their children," he asserted.
