HORNED FROGS DEFEAT SIMMS OILERS 2 TO 1

By Chas. F. Lafon
EASTLAND, Texas, May 28.—In probably one of the best played and exciting ball games of the year was enacted Sunday afternoon at Welch Park when the Frogs nosed out the Sims Oilers, a strong semi-pro nine from Abilene 2 to 1. It was a fast game and one that was not won until the last man was out in the 9th inning. The game more than made up for the past loose contests as was manifested by the several hundred fans present.

Too much credit cannot be given Odell, the pitching ace of the Frogs, who went the route allowing only six hits and three of those were bunched in the 4th inning for the Oilers' lone tally. Odell was master of the situation and kept the Oilers' six hits well scattered.

The Horned Frogs tallied first in the second inning off a single by Wright, sacrifice by Lafon, Watson advanced him to third on a ground ball and Amis singled, scoring Wright. The Frogs scored again in the 4th inning when Morris, the first man up, hit a slow grounder to third and Myers threw wide permitting Morris to take second. Morris made third on a wild pitch and came home when the second baseman fumbled Wright's ground ball.

The Frogs had another good chance to score in their half of the 8th when Odell led off with a triple to deep center and would have made a home run but due to his crippled condition was only able to make a triple. Morris, who ran for Odell from third was out at the plate on a close decision. That was rather a break for the Oilers as Wallace drove a line drive over the right fielders head for another triple, but died on third as Pope grounded out retiring the side.

The Oilers made their tally in the 4th. Myers led off with a popped out to pitcher; Leverett flew out and W. Amis singled, scoring Myers. Dobbs flew out retiring the side. The Oilers missed another good chance in the 6th to score. Myers walked, Harston drove a line drive into center field for what looked like a sure home run but the ball hit the bleachers and bounced back into the hands of Brothers, the center fielder, who threw the ball home in time to force Myers back to third and Harston was thrown out before he could return to second. Bailey struck out and Leverett grounded out to first retiring the side.

The Oilers have one of the best teams in West Texas as they have defeated the fastest teams in West Texas. They had the best club that has appeared on Welch Field this year as was demonstrated by the close contest. The side were retired in order in other than one or two innings. Jennings, who started for the Oilers, was replaced by Harston in the 4th. Harston allowed only two hits and struck out six batters in 5 innings. Brothers throw home in the 7th in time to catch the runner for the third out was main defensive feature of the game, not overlooking Pope's able assistance to Odell when he dropped a pop fly and Pope happened to be close enough for it to fall in his glove. The entire Frogs nine were in there on their toes and hustling all the way.

Harston was the shining light for the visitors getting three hits out of four trips to the plate. He was the main stay both at bat and afield, holding the Frogs in hand after getting their runs off the slants of Jennings, the starting pitcher for the Oilers.

The Horned Frogs will be at home next Sunday to another strong semi-pro club, either Perrin or Mineral Wells. The manager has received offers from clubs all over the state and the fans (Continued on page 4)

WHEREABOUTS OF H. METHVIN ARE NOT KNOWN

DALLAS, May 28.—Although a subpoena for Henry Methvin was reported to have been sent from Fort Worth to the Dallas county sheriff's office, local officers today denied knowledge of his whereabouts.

The man, who escaped from Eastham prison and who was reported to have aided officers in trapping Clyde Barrow and Bonnie Parker in Louisiana last week, was wanted in Fort Worth to testify in a hearing for Mrs. Billie Mace, sister of Minnie, held on a murder charge in the slaying of two highway patrolmen.

Both Sheriff Schmidt and Deputy Bob Akern, one of the killers of Clyde and Bonnie, insisted they did not know where Methvin was. Both officers declared they had had no dealings with him and that, so far as they knew, Methvin had no part in putting the bandit pair "on the spot."

SECTIONS OF SEVERAL CODES ARE KILLED

WASHINGTON, May 28.—Acting in accord with President Roosevelt's executive order, Administrator Johnson today suspended fair trade practice sections of codes for seven industries, including cleaning and dyeing.

Other so-called service trades affected were motor vehicle storage and parking, barber shops, shoe rebuilding, bowling and billiards, advertising display installation and advertising distribution.

Under the order the trades will continue to be bound by provisions regulating maximum hours and minimum wages, collective bargaining guarantees, banning child labor and reserving to the President the right to cancel or modify any code or agreement.

The suspension marked NRA's first major retreat in the regulation of small business. It was seen as a careful readjustment of NRA to eliminate unworkable features.

As Johnson's orders were handed down, Rep. Fred Britten, Rep. III, speaking in the House, called the President's service code pronouncement a definite indication that "cracking up the NRA has started."

He predicted NRA's next step would be to "announce the steel, oil and practically every other important code is operating in violation of the law in direct promotion of monopolies."

Machado Is Blamed In Cuban Trouble

HAVANA, May 28.—Agents of Gerardo Machado, deposed president now sought in the United States for extradition, were blamed by the government today for an attack on a squad of soldiers near the American embassy—perhaps part of a plot to assassinate American Ambassador Caffrey.

"It was undoubtedly the work of Machadistas," the secretary of the treasury said. "They are doing their utmost to antagonize Americans toward Cuba."

HAVANA, May 28.—Another assassination threat against the U. S. diplomatic corps was made today in the wake of an attack yesterday against Jefferson Caffrey, ambassador.

Four young white men in a car without license plates crowded the car owned by Freeman Matthews, first secretary of the embassy, to the curb. They carried a machine gun. They told Charles Taylor, American negro driver: "You've got two weeks to get out."

The secretary himself was not in the car. Caffrey revealed today that an attack was made on his house about three weeks ago about midnight, when the occupants of a passing car fired a dozen shots.

The monoplane, bearing Lieut. Paul Codos and Lieut. Maurice Rossi, landed at 2:37 p. m., EDT, after a flight of 38 hours and 27 minutes. The only other westward flight from Paris to New York was the journey of Dieudonne Coste and Maurice Bellante, in 1930.

General Strike Is Feared In Toledo

TOLEDO, Ohio, May 28.—Threats of a general strike which would paralyze Toledo industry, spurred representatives of the NRA today in efforts to bring peace in the warfare that has held the city in a bloody grasp for almost a week.

Negotiators feared labor troubles dwarfing those of the last few days would result unless they arrive at settlement of the strike at Electric Auto Light company, where rioting between national guards and strikers turned the region into a bloody battleground.

SPEAKING OF VAST GAINS IN BANK DEPOSITS

Uncle Sam is feeling cheery. Confidence on the part of his sons and daughters may be responsible.

A billion dollar increase in national bank deposits in the first two months of 1934 and a gain of $2,000,000,000 since last June was shown May 17 by the reports in response to the March 5 bank call. Yes, the money rolled in. Fear had been driven from the hearts of the people.

Confidence was on the high road to restoration, but despite the rise in deposits "the banks were shown to have continued to reduce their loan accounts despite urging by governmental officials that they lend money to help promote recovery." Why blame the bankers?

In the wonderful era of gambling, including land speculation, thousands of bankers loaned the money of depositors. Then the republican crash came and thousands of banks were closed. They had great piles of frozen assets in the form of collateral but the cash boxes were lean. Really, the banker was taught a lesson. He must be shown now. If you don't believe it, "put yourself in his place" by starting a new bank.

Life is made up of a lot of things we don't like and some things we do like.

Science reveals important new Facts for Smokers!

YOUR ENERGY VARIES DURING THE DAY

Camel Smokers can verify these facts!

A famous New York research laboratory announces a basic discovery that throws new light on our past knowledge of cigarettes. It embodies an "energizing effect" — a quick restoration of the flow of natural body energy... an experience well known to Camel smokers. When you smoke a Camel you feel an almost immediate relief from fatigue. What has actually happened is that you have released and made available the latent energy in your body. You've helped your body to help itself. During the day your energy curve hits certain low points. Camels raise your flow of energy... quickly, conveniently and without jangling your nerves.

There's a "Lift" in CAMELS that drives away Fatigue and Irritability

Feel "all in"? Then's the best time to light a Camel. It's cool and fragrant and delightful... but far more important than that, it brings your flow of energy up from the depths! You feel fatigue vanish. Irritability seems to slip away. And you go back to work — or play — with the energy and cheerfulness that are naturally yours.

YOU'VE HAD THE EXPERIENCE... HERE'S THE EXPLANATION:
This experience is no news to Camel smokers. But the explanation is news — and good news — to everyone. The "lift" you get from smoking Camels is simply a release of the natural latent energy in your body. In other words you have helped your body to help itself... easily, naturally, and without the slightest strain. Remember this explanation when your energy curve is "down"... times when you're irritable and your brain just doesn't seem to work and you feel too tired to move. At such times... "Get a lift with a Camel!"

AND CAMELS NEVER JANGLE YOUR NERVES!
Camel fans smoke frequently — and they can — as often as they like. Camel's costlier tobaccos never get on the nerves. Keep your flow of energy at a higher level with Camels.

CAMEL'S Costlier Tobaccos never get on your Nerves

Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE TOBACCOS — Turkish and Domestic — than any other popular brand.

KNOW THIS FEELING? The feeling of being too "all in" to respond to the gaiety of the crowd? No taste for the pleasure and fun of the sort of social evening that you would ordinarily look forward to? That's one of the many times to light a Camel, enjoying its rich flavor while your flow of natural, healthful energy is restored. You'll like Camels — a matchless blend of costlier tobaccos!

"Get a LIFT with a Camel!"

The first advertisement in this new and impressive series proclaims in large size display type, "NEWS! Science Reveals Important New Facts for Smokers!" accompanied by a chart showing the variable energy curve which people experience during the day. The illustration depicts an attractively gowned girl, all ready for a party but "Too Tired for Fun," followed by the caption "And Then She Smoked a Camel," and a picture showing her refreshed and ready for the gaiety and fun of a social evening.

Present plans call for frequent appearance of this striking new campaign, which embodies interesting and informative news from the field of science.

New Discovery Is Featured By Camels In New Campaign

The R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company has just released an intensive new nation-wide campaign of new advertising for Camel cigarettes. As revealed in the first advertisement appearing in this newspaper this week, the new campaign embodies important facts for smokers which throw a new light upon our past knowledge of cigarettes.

A basic scientific discovery has been made in a famous New York research laboratory concerning Camel cigarettes and their "energizing effect"--which means that the flow of normal, natural energy is restored. Thus, an almost immediate relief from fatigue is accomplished by smoking a Camel.

During the day one's "energy curve" varies a great deal--frequently drops below normal. That's when fatigue and irritability put in their appearance. The "energizing" effect of Camels has long been recognized by Camel smokers, but even science hasn't been able to explain it until now.

Summing up with a popular slogan, each advertisement carries the reminder that you can "Get a Life With a Camel"--at any time, as often as you like--because the finer, more expensive tobaccos

DONNA of the BIG TOP by BEULAH POYNTER

BEGIN HERE TODAY

DONNA GABRIEL, circus performer, falls from the trapeze and is injured. To please her partner, MADLINE SIDDAL, Donna goes to Madeline's home to recuperate, pretending to be the sister girl she is ashamed of this description but keeps it up, even when Bill SIDDAL, Madeline's cousin, asks her to marry him. AMOS SIDDAL, Madeline's grandfather who owns the farm, is killed by a PLANTER, housekeeper discharged by Donna, in her nervousness and will be murdered. Meanwhile Madeline has married CON DAVID, circus animal trainer, and takes part in the animal act.

Amos Sidal has a stroke. In New Orleans Madeline goes into the cage alone with the gorilla. The tiger springs and she is killed. Renfro blames Con for the accident and discharges him.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XXVIII

In his first anger over Con's callousness and the shock of Madeline's death Renfro had meant the animal trainer. Soon, however, showmanship dominated sentiment and after three performances with out Con's animal act Renfro had reason to repent his hasty action. He therefore sent word for Con to return.

A message from the hotel where the animal trainer had stayed brought the information that he had checked out immediately after his wife's funeral and that he had left no forwarding address.

Renfro made a round of the hotels but could find no trace of the performer. When the circus left New Orleans, therefore, it departed minus several lions, tigers and their trainer.

A period of rainy weather set in. Everyone in the troupe was downcast and ridden with the superstition that had luck was haunting the show. Since expenses were eating up all profit and there were only a few more dates to be played before closing for the winter, Renfro posted a notice that these engagements had been cancelled. Hence the circus did not reach Montgomery and Con failed to receive the letter Donna sent there.

Though Con had managed to elude Renfro, he was still in New Orleans. He had become a victim of remorse, finding (now that she was dead) that he had really cared for the girl who had given him her whole-hearted devotion.

He had checked out of the hotel where he and Madeline had stayed because the walls seemed to echo his dead wife's voice and he could see her in the shadows and in every hallway. Always she looked as she had that last night--white faced and terrified, about to enter the cage with the tigress. Over and over again Con could hear Renfro's accusation, "You killed her!"

HE knew that it was true. It had been nothing more than a desire to punish Madeline for her part in the trip to New Orleans, laughing and gay. She had said, "If we could only go on like

Instruments For Stratosphere Hop Will Weigh a Ton

DAYTON, O.—A mass assembling of scientific instruments to pierce and fathom the secrets of the upper air, many of them provided with "electric brains" and "photographic eyes," is going on here at Wright Field in the machine shop and laboratory of the United States Army Air Corps.

This load of nearly a ton of apparatus is being made ready for the most ambitious stratosphere expedition yet planned. The flight is sponsored by the National Geographic Society and the Air Corps. It will be sent 15 miles up in the air early this summer from the Black Hills of the West under the direction of Major William Kepner, pilot of the balloon, and Capt. Albert W. Stevens, scientific observer, both of the Army Air Corps.

Stevens Supervising Work
 All of the work here on the devices to gather scientific data is being done under the supervision of Capt. Stevens who has himself designed some of the instruments. Since Capt. Stevens is one of the foremost aerial photographers of the world, photography is cast in important roles as detective, recorder and labor saver in the stratospheric scientific work.

An important piece of completed apparatus here is a large aerial camera to rest in the bottom of the gondola with its lensing mounted directly into an airtight opening in the metal shell itself. A motor driven train of gears, will automatically make pictures straight down, one every minute and a half. The photographs at the ceiling of the flight exposures will show an area of 150 square miles.

Smaller Cameras

At the same time the master mechanism makes exposures by the aerial camera, it will set off three other small cameras inside the gondola by means of electric solenoids. These exposures will record instrument readings.

One of the small cameras will be mounted so as to slide up and down in front of the barometer box. It will photograph two barometers, the face of a watch, a compass and a thermometer.

Another small camera inside the gondola will take pictures of the electrically operated pointers of two thermometer meters—and again a watch face. The thermometers themselves will be outside to record the temperature of the cold stratospheric air.

Records Light
 Before the lens of a third recording camera will be assembled a group of spirit levels, dials showing brightness of sunlight and skylight and a third watch. Each time the master mechanism makes a contact—four photographs will be made and twelve instrument dials will be read.

Two units, built here, will be mounted on arms to indicate the temperature of the outside air. Copper wires almost as fine as human hair are wound on a skeleton cone to form a resistance coil. This is included in a tube within a tube to shield it from the sunlight. The two units will be held by their brackets seven feet from the gondola to protect them from the possibility of radiated heat.

Reduce Errors
 In order to reduce errors due to heat losses and to cut down current consumption a number of very small motors have been built by employing a newly developed magnetic alloy. The efficiency of these motors is extremely high and they are capable of speeds of more than 7,000 revolutions per minute.

Capt. Stevens has built a balloon valve which will be opened by means of a long rubber hose into which compressed gas will be admitted. When the air pressure is released the valve closes. The principle is like that used for operating air brakes.

Bigamy Charged to Youth of 18

Bigamy experts gasped when Joseph L. Redman, right, was brought into Los Angeles court. Though Redman is only 18, he is accused of wedding Wilhelmina Dilger, 18, of Los Angeles, left above, when he already was married to Silvia A. Davis, 29, of Detroit, right above. The mother of Wilhelmina filed the charge declaring that Redman never had obtained a divorce from the Detroit girl.

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

BY MARY E. DAGUE
 NEA Service Staff Writer

Washing blankets is not an easy task, even with an electric washing machine, but it is a satisfying sort of business because all the effort and care put into the work show in the clean, fluffy blankets.

Moths dislike clean fabrics, too, so if you put your blankets away carefully, you'll foil the creatures. A very good inexpensive container that is moth-proof can be improvised from a 50-pound lard can.

There are a few rules to keep in mind when washing all wool or part wool blankets. If careful attention is paid to these simple precautions there is little danger of shrinkage and stiffening.

Lukewarm Water Needed
 Lukewarm water must be used for both washing and rinsing. Heat and cold both have a tendency to shrink woollens and heat discolors as well as shrinks them. A mild soap thoroughly dissolved in the water before the blankets are put in does much to restore the softness as it cleans. Force the suds through the fabric. Do not rub soiled spots.

If the blankets are badly soiled, put them through two or three waters, always of the same temperature, rather than washing them for an extra long time in one water. Eight or ten minutes is as long as one period of washing should last.

One big double blanket or two single blankets are all that should be washed at one time in the average-size washer. The machine must not be so full as to crowd the blankets.

The rinsing also is important. Rinse through two clear waters of the same temperature as the sudsy water. Then add enough dissolved soap to make the water look milky and rinse again. This

RANGER WINS FROM DELEON BY 10-7 SCORE

Ranger won a closely contested baseball game from DeLeon at Ranger Sunday afternoon before a good crowd by a score of 10 to 7, after overcoming a big lead made by DeLeon in the first few innings.

Ranger took an early lead in the second half of the first inning when Dinmore doubled and scored on a hit by Vinsavage. In the DeLeon half of the second, however, Ranger ran into trouble and DeLeon batted around to make five runs on five hits, two of which should have been outs, but fell in right field untouched, one for a double. One error and one walk helped DeLeon.

DeLeon made two more in the third, but when Eno Visentin went onto the mound for Ranger in the fourth the scoring stopped. He allowed but two scratch hits for the remainder of the game and was never in trouble.

Ranger got her bats working well after the second inning and trapped out one home run, two triples and two doubles, scoring in every inning after the second except in the eighth. Scott, who started for DeLeon, was hit hard and was relieved after one was out in the sixth by R. Joiner, who had been catching.

Blackwell, Ranger catcher, had a good day at bat with four hits in four trips to the plate, one a double, while Dinmore got a triple and a double in three times up. He was hit by a batted ball on one trip and laid down a good sacrifice bunt on another trip. Pace's triple would have gone for a home run had he not fallen as he rounded second. He got up in time to make it to third, however, scoring on a beautiful bunt laid down by Stark. A play was made for Pace at the plate, but he slid home under the ball and Stark was safe on first on the play.

Vinsavage and Kitchens each stole one base, while Stark led in that department, stealing second on two occasions.

DeLeon ran in two pinch hitters in the first of the ninth, one being caught out on a beautiful running catch in right field, while the other grounded out, Weaver to Dinmore to end the game.

Arcadia Feature Is Outstanding Talkie

Red-blooded drama, with the glamour of New York night life as kaleidoscopic background; romance, excitement, and three great stars together for the first time—That's "Manhattan Melodrama," new Clark Gable-William Powell-Myrna Loy starring vehicle for Metro-Mayer-Goldwyn which opens today at the Arcadia theatre.

To say that the picture is excellent entertainment is merely stating the emild truth. To say that it is a modern classic that could be expected from the producer and director who made many hits, is hitting more nearly at an idea of this new picture's entertainment qualities.

Gable in "Manhattan Melodrama" at last returns to the type of role the fans have wanted since "A Free Soul." He plays a big-shot gambler, lucky at cards and lucky at love, willing to bet a dollar or his life on the turn of a card—a powerful and dramatic figure of the metropolitan demimonde.

Fitted against him in William Powell as his life-long friend, now district attorney and ambitious for further political advancement. Between them, loved by both, is Myrna Loy. It is she who fights for Gable's life when his pal, Powell, is forced to prosecute him for murder.

There is not a full moment in "Manhattan Melodrama" from the first scenes, in which are dramatically re-enacted the General Slocum horror of 1904, an excursion steamer fire in which more than 1,000 lost their lives. After that comes a re-creation of the Harry Thaw-Stanford White killing of 1906. Then the Dempsey-Firpo fight of 1923, and then into the present day for the body of the story.
