QUARTET OF JAILBREAKERS BEING SOUGHT

DALLAS, June 14.—Search for four of the five men who escaped from the county jail at Waco yesterday centered here today after police found abandoned the car in which the fugitives fled.

Police revealed that the automobile, with the motor and tires still warm, was found on a downtown Dallas street at 1:30 a. m.

Detective Lieutenant Will Frits expressed opinion that the fleeing fugitives were followed by confederates in another car, to which they transferred.

This theory was strengthened by the fact no automobiles were reported stolen here. City, county and state officers banded together in a search of farms and suburbs in the belief the quartet was hiding near Dallas. A fifth man, who escaped, did not accompany the others from Waco, but fled on foot.

MANAGERS OF SOFT BALL CLUBS MEET

Managers of soft ball clubs in the Twilight league met in the office of the Chamber of Commerce Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock, on call by Dr. Harry A. Logsdon, soft ball commissioner, and established rules for the second half season that are expected to make the game more sportsmanlike, and voted on the date for opening the second half season.

The first business taken up was the opening date of the second half, and since the present schedule will not end until Wednesday, June 20, because of two games raised out in the first week of the first half that have not as yet been played, Monday, June 25, was voted as the beginning of the second half.

After considerable discussion it was voted that the Spalding rule book be adopted and that the national rules governing soft ball games, as carried in the book, be adopted and enforced strictly throughout the season.

This morning he spoke upon "The Great Possessions of the Christian."

Tonight he will deliver one of his most powerful messages. Come early if you want a seat. Don't miss any of the few remaining services.

On motion by A. N. Larson, Service Club, and seconded by Mickey Sloan, Elks, it was unanimously voted that no gloves could be used by players except the catcher and first baseman, as in the past.

The 20-year-old killer was sentenced to death last night by a Walker county jury.

HULCY STILL ON STAND IN GAS RATE SUIT

AUSTIN, June 14.—State attorneys examining D. A. Hulcy, head of the accounting system of Lone Star Gas company in the state rate case, today drew an admission that company books do not reflect a true division between capital investment and operating costs.

The admission, however, does not help the state. Hulcy explained the policy has been to charge to operating figures that really are a part of capital investment. This reduced the amount of investment upon which the company is entitled to a return.

Hulcy was cross-examined so minutely that many of the questions could not be answered without sending for more records, though 10 steamer trunks of them have been brought to Austin.

Jacoby, Bridge Star, Takes Up Tennis In Serious Way

DALLAS, Tex.—Oswald Jacoby whose home is well decorated with bridge trophies already, announced grimly as he swung his tennis racket on a court here that he's going to make cards a secondary pastime until he masters tennis and wins a tournament.

When Jacoby married Mary Zita McHale, Dallas tennis star, he promised to win a tennis tournament if she would take first prize in a bridge tourney. Since Mary Zita had only dabbled at auction and never played contract at all, it looked like Oswald's promise was safe, but his wife fooled him by taking first in one of the biggest bridge tourneys in the country.

"Mary Zita lived up to her part of the bargain, and now I've got to learn how to play my trumpets right on a tennis court," her husband said. "It's going to be tough and I don't know how many times I'll lose before I win, but I've got to keep on till I get a prize."

WILLIAM L. CLAYTON AS A "PROPHET OF DISASTER"

William L. Clayton of Houston is rated as one of the world's largest cotton factors. He has broadcast an article on "our national cotton policy" in which he discusses the various governmental schemes being tried to raise the parity price in cotton. He has sounded the warning (running true to form) that these governmental plans "are likely to bring disaster rather than improvement in the condition of the cotton growers of the South." He submits his facts and figures. There are 51 cotton producing countries. Forty per cent of the world's cotton acreage is under American skies, and the remaining 60 per cent is harvested by the other 50 cotton growing nations. The United States exports about 60 per cent of its production, "but this 60 per cent comprises only about 40 per cent of the consumption of cotton outside of the United States." Hence he argues that the price of cotton is fixed on the basis of supply and demand in the world markets and cannot be fixed by any decree or policy of our government. Then he tells of "the real troubles" facing the cotton industry, speaking of the producers as well as the exporters, "Blocked channels of trade, caused by tariffs, war debts, unstable currency and quotas are responsible for the plight of the cotton farmer. The situation can only be put right by clearing away the barriers which now stand squarely in the cotton growers' road to markets."

Of course, the plain English of this is that the ports of the world are closed to American cotton. Mr. Clayton is an exporter, as has been stated and one of the largest in America. He would tear down tariff barriers. He would give the cotton farmer the benefit of the domestic allotment plan as provided in the agricultural adjustment act, "free of any condition of acreage reduction," and it is his viewpoint "this would give the farmer parity prices for the domestically consumed portion of his crop and leave him to follow his own inclination in the matter of producing cotton for export at the world price." His conclusion is, speaking of foreign marketing of the fleecy staple, "It cannot be sold for export at anything over the world price . . . All experience should teach us that we can only hold our export market on a basis of quality and service and product."

All of which is a reminder that the marketable crop of American cotton of the yield of the year of 1934 is limited to 10,000,000 bales with a possible carryover of 12,000,000 bales. Really, the cotton grower has his own troubles. There is no foreign market today for his large surplus or carryover. He furnishes the land, the seed, the labor, and does the sweating. A bumper crop of cotton makes his pockets lean. A lean crop of cotton makes his pockets fairly fat. Makers of things in America made the tariff laws. They are the real beneficiaries. Cotton for 150 years has been produced by cheap labor, in many states by the toiling hands of women and children.

Rev. George W. Treceit said in his baccalaureate address that "the problems facing the young men and women of the hour are the greatest confronting civilized man since time began." They are. Now when will their solution come to create a fair share of prosperity for the growers of things and the control or production and marketing of the natural heritage treasure wealth of the Texas of Stephen F. Austin and Sam Houston?

FINAL RITES OF THE DEAN OF TEXAS JURISTS

More than 7000 persons paid tribute to Judge William S. Fly at funeral services in the Scottish Rite cathedral in the shadows of the Alamo Sunday afternoon. An excerpt from the funeral sermon: "Judge Fly has a noble memorial in his life work. His passing is not comparable with the passing even of a flower, beautiful though it may be, for he was made in the image of God and the spirit is paramount. He stood head and shoulders above most of his fellows, because he was a brother in Christ. His life was an open book and men took knowledge of him that he had been with Jesus. They now rise up to call him blessed, even as they did during his lifetime."

And then the dust of the dean of Texas jurists, who had held his post 42 years, was placed under the sod in Mission burial park. On the same day came the announcement that the governor had appointed John H. Bickett, Jr., of San Antonio to fill the unexpired term of the chief justice of the fourth court of civil appeals. John H. Bickett will serve until January, 1935. His successor will be elected next November. He will be a candidate for the Democratic nomination. He is 41 and has practiced law 10 years. He is a member of the San Antonio, Texas and American Bar associations and is widely known the state over. He was born in Milam county and according to James E. Ferguson, has been almost unanimously endorsed by the San Antonio bar. "Dust to dust" is in accordance with the eternal law. But the machinery of the social order goes round and round forever.

It is strange that a newspaper man should be compelled to solicit advertising. It is stranger still that he should have to offer any reason why a business should be advertised. The business man who thinks newspaper advertising does not pay needs the services of a brain specialist and needs him right now.

Public Schools Are Aid To Recovery

By United Press
HOUSTON. — Public schools are due great credit for the intelligence with whom the American people have viewed the serious economic conditions of the depression, President H. Y. Benedict of the University of Texas said here.

If the majority of the people had not had the benefits of public schools, Dr. Benedict said, they would have "busted the works."

Speaking at the annual commencement exercises of the Houston public schools, Dr. Benedict said he believed the public schools, "from top to bottom," are doing a fine job.

Pageant of the Wedding Gown

Something bizarre, unique and very beautiful will be presented in "The Pageant of the Wedding Gown," to be staged under auspices of the Women's Missionary Society of the Methodist church, and for the purpose of using the free will offering to meet their local budget.

Everyone knows the sentiment attached to the "Wedding Gown" and this beautiful trend will be outlined in the stately and unique procession of "Brides" to be represented, or in person, in their own wedding gown, of many years ago, to the ultra modern wedding gown of today.

Unusual and beautiful music will be provided for the wedding marches, to be heralded by a group of winsome flower girls, who will scatter petals in the bride's pathway, and who will have in their entourage a group of popular girls as bridesmaids, and several young men as ushers.

The production will be very elaborate, with the name of the bride and date of wedding announced, also place of birth and residence.

The pageant will undoubtedly be one of the most unique, original and most gorgeously produced scenes that Eastland has so far experienced.

The pageant will be given Thursday, June 28, and place will be announced later.

Legislators Say Special Session to Be In September

AUSTIN.—Legislators visiting Austin invariably answer "September" when queried about the likely time for another legislative session. They do not profess to have information from the governor more than her statement that she will call a session if needed to prevent hunger. Present available relief funds are expected to last into September.

Expert Traces the Evolution of The Entire Bird Family

WASHINGTON.—Although it was a complicated job to trace the evolution of bird from the grotesque, toothed flying creature of 150,000,000 years ago to the toothless little songbird of today, Dr. Alexander Wetmore, assistant secretary of the Smithsonian Institution, has succeeded in classifying their family trees.

HOW WOMEN
CAN WIN MEN
AND MEN WIN

The Favor of Other Men
Unless two pints of bile flow daily from your liver into your bowels, your food digests in your bowels. This poisons your whole body. Movements get hard and constipated. You get yellow tongue, reddened skin, pimples, dull eyes, bad breath, and taste, etc. Distention, headache, etc.
have become an ugly-looking, foul-smelling, non-thinking person. You have your personal magnet. Everybody wants to run from you.
Put away the salt, mineral water,
oil, laxative pills, laxative candies or cleansing gums and expect them to get rid of this poison that poisons your personal magnet. They can't do it for they only move out the fat and oil of your bowels and that doesn't take away enough of the poisoned poison. Consistent with health at all times. Only a free flow of your bile juice will stop this danger poison in your bowels. The one mild vegetable medicine which starts a free flow of your bile juice is Carter's Little Liver Pills. No calomel (mercury) in Carter's. Only fine, mild vegetable extracts. If you would bring back your personal magnet to its own start taking Carter's Little Liver Pills according to directions today. Get at drug stores.
Refuse "something just as good" for it may gripe, loosen teeth or scald restum.
Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name and get what you ask for. ©1933, C.M.C.O.

VACATION
DAYS are here
ARE YOU all ready for your vacation? All set to go?
Have you figured out how much you will have to pay for railroad or bus fare—or steamer? Have you arranged for a place where you are to stay and how much the accommodations will cost?
Don't let these matters go until the last moment. Do your planning now. Read the advertisements for news of tours and rates. Send for booklets telling about the vacation spots you'd like to visit. And then, be sure you have everything you'll need for the trip.
The stores are full of vacation necessities at attractive prices. Dresses, lingerie, sportswear, shoes, hats, bathing suits, tennis racquets, golf clubs and balls, cosmetics, etc., etc. Make up a list of the things you need —then watch the advertisements. They tell you where to get quality goods at savings that will give you extra money for your vacation.
