CLEANING UP AIR CORPS IS BEING URGED

WASHINGTON, June 18.—A house-cleaning in the army air corps, beginning with removal of Major General Benjamin Foulois as head of the flying personnel, was demanded by a house committee today in a report filled with charges of inefficiency and law violation.

The acid worded document, bristling with denunciations of Foulois for favoring negotiated plane contracts and for his attitude for the army flying the air mail was construed as a challenge to the war department to overhaul the corps.

The committee report is the result of a four-month investigation into army plane purchase methods.

Baptist Revival Ended Sunday With Good Record

The revival meeting at Central Baptist church which has been in progress two weeks closed with last night's services. This proved to be one of the greatest revivals in the history of Ranger, the entire little city feeling its influence. There were souls saved from the first service and continued through the last service. All Central congregated in making this a reaping season.

The prayer bands under Morris Jefferies were a great aid in preparing all hearts for the evening messages. These bands were largely attended and splendid programs were rendered each evening.

The music under Robert Maddox was composed of old time gospel hymns and the great congregation sang them with a spirit thru every service.

The day services were given to quiet soul-talks and were spiritual food for those attending. Every night service was largely attended from the beginning to the close of the meeting.

Rev. Dunlap was faithful in preaching the whole gospel as a Baptist believe it. He stayed close to God's Word, and preached it in all its purity.

Yesterday was the best day of the revival in both attendance and interest. The Sunday school reached 315 in attendance. Services were held in various departments and conversions were had in a number of departments.

At the morning hour Rev. Dunlap preached on "Heaven" depicting glories of the heavenly home. Seven came accepting Christ and one by letter. At the evening hour the pastor spoke on the "Baptism" upon the invitation eight came forward for membership, four upon profession and four by letter. The evening service was used largely as a baptismal service, 49 being baptized.

The results to church meeting are: Additions to church by profession for baptism, 71; additions by letter, 17; additions by statement, 3, making a total of 91 additions to church.

Those making professional but not joining church 23 making a total of 114 taking a standard for Christ during the revival.

Central is rejoicing in an old time revival of oil time religion.

STEEL UNIONS TO SEND PLAN TO PRESIDENT

PITTSBURGH, Pa., June 18.—Steel union labor leaders will hand the administration a four-point strike settlement ultimatum tomorrow.

It will emphasize the demands for collective bargaining, declare for appointment of a three-party industrial board, insist on immediate election to establish the union right to bargain for workers and stipulates final decision on worker's grievances rest with the board.

In most respects the program ignores administration compromise, consultation labor legislation passed by congress Saturday night and now awaiting President Roosevelt's signature.

State Auditors Say Relief Distribution Is "Questionable"

AUSTIN, June 18.—State auditors today said it was "questionable if relief funds have been fairly distributed over the state" after completing a report on Texas relief for three months ending Feb. 28, 1934.

The report showed the amount expended for direct relief per destitute person varied by population groups.

"Due to the fact that relief applications from counties are not all compiled on a uniform basis and are inflated in many instances, it is difficult to allocate relief funds on all relief subjects over the state will receive the same proportionate amount of their needs," it was pointed out.

An oral of $6,413,791 was allocated, and advanced to Texas counties for relief during the three months.

Lon A. Smith Is Eastland Visitor

Lon A. Smith, present member of the Texas Railroad commission and a candidate for re-election, was an Eastland visitor Saturday for a short time.

Commissioner Smith formerly opened his campaign for re-election some ten days or two weeks ago, but due to the fact that a member of the commission has been critically ill he found it necessary to remain much of the time in the office and the visit through this section was the first campaign trip he has made.

Two Men Stabbed Sunday in Ranger

Two men, one a Mexican and the other a white man, were stabbed Sunday in Ranger in two attacks, one in the early morning and the other in the afternoon.

Sunday afternoon John Ames, who was attending a rodeo about three miles from Ranger on the Breckenridge road, was stabbed about the abdomen and was taken to the City-County hospital, where his wounds were dressed. It was reported today that he had been badly cut, but that he was doing nicely and was expected to recover unless complications set in.

Just before dawn Sunday morning Chief of Police Jim Ingram was called to a Mexican dance, where a fight had ensued, and arrested Felix Gonzales, a Mexican, who was charged with fighting. The name of the other Mexican was not obtained, though it was reported that he was cut about the throat with a pocket knife.

Depression Helps Professor Claims

FORT WORTH.—The popular idea that a business depression injures the country is a fallacy, believes Dr. R. H. Montgomery, professor of economics at the University of Texas.

"A depression hurts some but it helps others," Dr. Montgomery explained to members of the Woman's Club here.

For instance, he said, 25 commodities have not declined in price during the depression and some actually have gone higher.

JOE PALMER IS IN HUNTSVILLE PRISON TODAY

HUNTSVILLE, June 18.—Joe Palmer, fugitive from Eastham prison farm, who was recaptured at St. Joseph, Mo., was brought back to the Texas penitentiary today.

Palmer said he had not had a moment of pleasure since he, Raymond Hamilton, and three other convicts, escaped from the prison last Jan. 16.

Palmer told questioners at Dallas he attended the funeral of Clyde Barrow, the outlaw who engineered the Eastham delivery. He said he watched the burial unrecognized by officers seeking him.

Walker county officials said they will attempt to send him to the electric chair.

Bank Deposits Bill Is Signed

WASHINGTON.—President Roosevelt Saturday signed a bill providing for a one year extension of temporary insurance of bank deposits and raising the amount guaranteed in full from $2,500 to $5,000.

The permanent law would guarantee deposits up to $10,000 and partially insure bigger accounts.

Under a compromise between the House and Senate on bank "payoff" legislation, the law will authorize the Reconstruction Finance Corporation to lend more liberally on the assets of closed banks, or purchase them.

James Jones, RFC chairman, estimated to congressional conferees the corporation had a fund of $1,000,000,000 available for this purpose, but indicated it would be used cautiously.

Other provisions of the law will: Authorize the RFC to lend $250,000,000 to the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation on demand of the latter.

Give banks until July 1, 1937, instead of July 1, 1936, to become members of the Federal Reserve System in order to remain in the Deposit Insurance Corporation.

Extend the deposit insurance to Hawaii and Alaska.

Galveston Faces Vegetable Shortage

GALVESTON.—Galveston county truck and fruit crops and pastures have been hard hit by the drought, according to farmers here and a general shortage of most products is feared.

Galveston Island watermelons and cantaloupes, due to reach the market around June 20, will be almost a total loss unless rain is received within the next few days.

The only farmers who have escaped the effects of the drought here are those who have their own irrigation systems.

The Gulf coast fig crop is now in a critical condition, it was reported and unless the drought is broken it is expected that production will be limited to about 1,000,000 pounds instead of the 3,000,000 to 4,000,000 expected.

Excessive heat and dry weather brought the local strawberry season to a close earlier than usual this year. Young berries are now ripening but the crop will be short if dry weather continues, farmers said.

Other fruits also are suffering from lack of moisture.

Senators Voted Deficiency Bill This Morning

WASHINGTON, June 18.—The senate today adopted the conference report on the $1,117,000,000 deficiency bill, removing one of the obstacles to adjournment.

The bill carries $525,000,000 for drought relief and a potential $2,000,000,000 for relief under guidance of the President. It now goes to the President.

Senate leaders beat down a filibuster against adjournment today as the house adopted a resolution to bring the 23rd congress to an end.

The senate showdown came on a vote to consider final legislative action on emergency deficiency bills. Twenty-three democrats deserted the administration by the proposal squeezed through 41 to 39.

The house resolution did not establish the day of adjournment. It stipulated adjournment should come at the "end of this legislative" day, but by parliamentary device the current legislative day could be continued indefinitely without regard to the calendar.

State Lets Capitol and Grounds Run Down While Credits Are Not Kept In Businesslike Condition

By GORDON K. SHEARER
AUSTIN, June 18.—Texas would have a poor rating with a credit bureau if it were treated like the citizen who runs bills.

Take the matter of rewards. Clyde Barrow, Bonnie Parker and Ray Hamilton were so badly wanted that the state offered payment for them. Dead or alive the state wanted them. Clyde and Bonnie are dead. Hamilton has been captured alive. Have the rewards been paid?

Late last week they had not.

The private citizen who insisted on having 2 per cent knocked off his bill if he paid it, would find that demand chalked up against his credit rating. But state employees, with the exception of a few, paid from special funds, have had to discount their pay warrants for many months in order to cash them.

When national guard appropriations became exhausted by Gov. Ross Sterling's use of citizen-soldiers in the East Texas oil field, I. O. U.'s with his signature and that of the then adjutant general were issued to owners of property used for national guard armories.

The legislature recognized justice of the claims for payment of the I. O. U.'s. It authorized their payment and made an appropriation for the purpose. Whether the legislature had the authority to take this action still is in litigation.

Texas returning from visits in other states complain of the "run-down" condition of the Texas state capitol and its grounds. Denver's spotless Colorado capitol, and Sacramento's beautifully kept capitol grounds frequently are cited in contrast.

Here is the all. Penurious legislatures have failed to provide a tenth of the amount architects estimated would be needed for proper upkeep of the capitol, which was the world's seventh largest building when completed.

B. E. Giesecke repeatedly has made estimates for the state board of control on costs to put the building in good shape. Legislators always postponed the repairs.

The delay has run the needs to a staggering cost. "It would take about $120,000 to replace the worn tiling on the capitol's acres of floors," Giesecke said in illustrating the cost involved.

Needed repairs and fireproofing were estimated at $1,000,000 when a PWA loan for the purpose was proposed.

Capitol grounds extend three blocks in one direction and two and a half in another. The area presents unusual gardening difficulties.

Elective and appointive officers of the Ranger Council No. 334, Royal and Select Masters, and of the Ranger Chapter No. 394, Royal Arch Masons, have been announced after an election held Thursday night, June 14.

The elective officers of the council are F. O. Buchanan, three illustrious master; D. L. Jameson, illustrious deputy; J. P. Donley, illustrious principal conductor of work; R. O. Bundick, treasurer, and B. C. Johnson, recorder. The appointive officers are B. E. Bigby, captain of guard; J. W. Harman, conductor of council; R. H. West, steward, and John McCleary, sentinel.

The elective officers of the chapter are F. O. Buchanan, most excellent high priest; D. L. Jameson, excellent king; J. P. Donley, excellent scribe; B. C. Johnson, secretary, and R. O. Bundick, treasurer. The appointive officers are A. W. Hubbard, captain of host; R. H. West, principal scribe; J. W. Harman, master of first veil; R. E. Harrell, master of second veil; F. M. Moffett, master of third veil; J. P. Dreinhof, royal arch captain, and John McCleary, guard.

Officers, both elective and appointive, will be stilled on Thursday night, July 12.

SENATE VOTES DEFICIENCY BILL THIS MORNING

WASHINGTON, June 18.—The senate today adopted the conference report on the $1,117,000,000 deficiency bill, removing one of the obstacles to adjournment.

Moral Paralysis Charged In Talk At Dry Meeting

HOUSTON, June 18.—Paralysis of the moral conscience of American citizens is worse than the wave of banditry, murder and gambling, Dr. Joseph N. Dawson of Waco said here today.

Dr. Dawson addressed approximately 200 delegates to the state-wide convention of the anti-saloon league, the W. C. T. U., the emergency dry committee and the United Forces for Prohibition.

Landlady Spoiled Settlement

CLEVELAND.—Sheriff's deputies sought Alex Mellinger, three married, because he failed to appear before Common Pleas Judge Lee E. Skell to straighten out accounts with his second wife. His excuse for failure to turn over furniture to Mrs. Clara Mellinger, wife No. 2, was that his former landlady was holding it for him back. Mellinger's first two wives have become fast friends and are living together.

Longer Interval Time

AUSTIN.—An enlarged college campus with greater distances between buildings has forced the University of Texas to add two minutes to the five minute interval formerly allowed pupils to get from one class to another.

The Horned Frogs Buff Bluffdalers

By CHAS. E. LAFON
The Horned Frogs regained their winning stride Sunday afternoon at Welch Field, when they humbled the Bluffdale Buffs 12 to 3. It was a very loosely played game and a free hitting contest on the part of the Frogs who have hit their stride under the new managerial reins of Buddy Brothers. The club as a whole did not seem to be weakened any by the change in policy.

Onus Dick pitched his first full game since he injured his arm in an early season contest. Dick pitched very effective ball keeping the Buffs eight hits well scattered. He seems to have regained his old form and will be in there bearing down the rest of the season for the Frogs.

The game started off with all appearances of being a good ball game, each side being retired minus runs in the first two innings but the Frogs got to the slants of Hall, the Buffs pitcher for three runs in the third inning. The Frogs scored three more in the fifth and sixth innings, putting the game on ice for the Frogs.

N. Day, who relieved A. Wallace at third for the Frogs in the 7th was the shining light in the fans' eyes, hitting a triple out of one trip to the plate, also handling a very hard hit ball that was a delight to all present. Slim Pope, the wiry first sacker of the Frogs pulled the fielding stunt of the day when he let a ground ball get by unmolested and unnoticed for a base hit, much to the amusement of the fans.

Dentist Shot By Two Farm Buyers

EL DORADO, Ill., June 18.—Dr. Homer Myers, prominent and wealthy dentist, who was reported kidnapped last night, today was found shot to death on a farm he was attempting to sell to a stranger.

The body was found by a deputy sheriff, a photographer and a newspaper reporter who went to the farm in search of clues.

Myers was shot twice in the back, according to a report to the sheriff's office.

He was believed kidnapped yesterday when he disappeared after announcing he had an appointment with two men who wanted to buy his farm.

Man Wants Term In County Jail

AMARILLO, Texas.—A self-accused vagrant is spending 23 days in the Potter county jail because of the willingness of Justice J. V. Pottinger to grant the man's wishes.

The man explained to Justice Pottinger he had "been on dope," was a vagrant and wanted to be locked up where he couldn't get to the "staff."

The justice obliged with a $50 fine and costs, which it will take 23 days to "lay out."

Peony Show Drew Crowds

VAN WERT, O.—Van Wert's third annual peony festival drew throngs from throughout Ohio and neighboring states. In addition to viewing the blooms crowds saw: a parade, a queen's coronation, jubilee children's party, queen's ball, Mardi Gras, with round and square dancing.

SAYS A WRONG WAS DONE BY GRAND JUR

Former Attorney General Claude Pollard, indicted on a charge of consent to the sale of counterfeit stamps today denounced the charge as unjust and a great wrong to him.

The charge grew out of his representing a wholesale tobacco jobbing organization.

State Comptroller George Spard was notified of the grand jury action by telephone.

"If the comptroller does a right thing he will go to the right attorney and ask the charge be quashed," Pollard said.

"I was engaged as attorney to represent the wholesale tobacco jobbers in enforcement of stamp tax act.

"Some time ago a San Antonio member of the organization of me. The state comptroller forces had charged him with selling cigarettes with counterfeit stamps.

"Later this client told me he had bought the stamps from one connected with the action. I upbraided him for telling me all when he first told me to be represented.

"I declined to represent further," Pollard said.

Carlos Specht, head of the art tax enforcement division, declined to make any statement about the matter until the act of Comptroller Sheppard.

Earlier it had been reported that the state's plate for postage stamps had been taken to St. Louis and counterfeit there. It was pointed out, however, that if the state owned the stamps it would have been possible to detect the counterfeit.

FACTS AND FIGURES WHICH THE PEOPLE SHOULD KNOW

There is a campaign on in Texas—one of the most important of the years. Major and minor posts will be filled. A legislature will be elected. Judges of major and minor courts will be chosen by the people. There is a lot of rot distributed in all campaigns. There is a lot of "wild talk and wild guessing." There is a lot of "mis-information" handed out to the voters of the commonwealth. Well, exans should be told the truth. They should be given the facts as to law enforcement and the records established by those who serve them in high or low place. This newspaper seeks to place all the facts and figures before the public. This editorial is placed in the files as well as the records and spread before the people. The law requires that each clerk report to the attorney general the number of criminal cases filed in the various district courts of the state and the disposition made of the cases. In addition the attorney general is required by law to prepare and publish in his biennial report the information obtained through the reports of the clerk.

In the biennial report for the period beginning Sept. 1930, and ending Aug. 31, 1932, at pages 126-134 there tabulated and printed the information that came to Attorney General James V. Allred. He made a splendid job of it, according to well informed lawyers and laymen of exas. In the summary of the report, at page 134, it appears that during the period mentioned there were 10,780 trials, 10,117 convictions and 633 acquittals. It also appears from the report that the total number of indictments led were 20,403, of which 9625 were dismissed in the strict courts, leaving as above stated 10,780 cases tried. If the cases tried 8 per cent reached the court of criminal appeals on appeal. During the same period mentioned above there were filed in the court of criminal appeals 733 cases, appeals from the trial courts, of which appeals 71 were decided in favor of the state, either by affirmance or by dismissal of the appeal, and 462 cases were reversed and returned to the trial courts for retrial.

A summary of the figures is to the effect that of the appeals filed in the court of criminal appeals for the two years mentioned "26 per cent were reversed for new trial." The total reversals compared with the number of convictions in the trial courts during the period of comparison amounted to two and one-half per cent, which is vastly different from the impression conveyed to the public from many sources—"that most cases of conviction are reversed." The figures also show that such 26 per cent of the reversals of the cases appealed amounted to two and one-half per cent of the cases in which there were convictions in the lower courts.

"Justice is sacred and not the judge." And the facts and the figures given in this news editorial should be read and then thoroughly digested by the voters of the commonwealth. "Justice is sacred" and accuracy should be the thing on the part of lawyers and laymen and practical politicians "who are peddlers of promises" as well as those of the fourth estate who spread information for the edification as well as the education of the reading public.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK?

By EDSON R. WAITE, Shawnee, Oklahoma

W. ANGUS, Editor of the Chatham (Ontario) News, says:

"Did you ever stop to think what would happen if newspapers appeared without advertising?"

"The first impression of the male members of the family is that it would be great—as it would provide more news for sport and financial news and other information and views so eagerly sought from day to day.

"But what about the thrifty housewife? Surveys prove that women constitute the vast majority of newspaper readers, and what would they do if there were no advertisements?"

"They would lose both time and money, for which there would be no possibility of compensation.

They would have to personally visit every store in the city to find goods to satisfy their needs. They would have to spend practically all of their time in the shops and, they wouldn't be able to get around to all of them, they would be in constant danger of missing the opportunities offered to thrifty buyers. They wouldn't know what they wanted to buy, and there would be only a limited chance to discover their desires in this respect because newspaper advertising not only informs people where to buy, but also what to buy.

"And the male members would not escape. Women are the big buyers—and the wise man is perfectly content at this should be so—and with no advertisements to rely on in the evenings, the whole household would suffer.

"The primary business of a newspaper is the publishing of news, but if the advertisements were left out, the most valuable news of the day would be missing."

Open-handed dealings should be employed on all public questions, large and small, which may arise.

OUT OUR WAY

WHY MOTHERS GET GRAY

Old Silk Dresses Are Still Wearable

MANCHESTER.—Silk dresses manufactured before 1870 are sound today as they were then, whereas those made since that date are extremely short-lived.

This, at any rate, is the discovery made by those who are getting up an exhibition here of women's clothes since 1650.

They have borrowed from the London Museum several gowns worn by royalty. The silk dresses belonging to Queen Victoria and dating before 1870 still are serviceable, whereas the silk dresses made for Queen Alexandra in the '80's of the last century are officially pronounced "untouchable" and must be kept in a glass case.

Bill Cummings Plans Active Race Season

Fresh from his victory in the "500" at the Indianapolis speedway, Bill Cummings is already busy with plans for carrying out a strenuous program of racing for the balance of the season at the various tracks. For nothing dims the ardor of this youthful veteran for the motor racing game!

Discussing his victory after the race, Cummings said, "thirty-three drivers started the Indianapolis classic this year... searching the bricks over that 2 1/2-mile track. For 200 grueling laps... nearly five hours of it... we kept up the blistering race. I had to average 104.863 miles an hour, the new world's record for the '500'... sometimes hitting it up to over two miles a minute... to win. Four hours and 46 minutes of this wrings the vitality out of a man and you can bet that I felt pretty well played out at the end of the race."

Cummings' first request after the race was for a Camel. "Any time I'm 'all in,'" he explained, "Camels give me a 'lift' in energy. I smoke them steadily."

In view of the known preference for Camels of champions in various fields of sports, such as Cummings, Ellsworth Vines Jr., Bill Horn, winner of the Gold Cup

Speedboat event, Miss Helene Madison, Olympic champion swimmer and holder of many world swimming records, and others whose endurance and energy is constantly tested to the limit, Camel advertising now stresses the "energizing effect" in Camels which has been experienced by millions of smokers, and recently confirmed by scientific studies carried out in a famous New York research laboratory.

ROBINS CLOSE FRONT DOOR

CLEVELAND.—The back door is the front door nowadays at George Bartholeme's home. A pair of robins, taking a liking to the front screen door, built a nest there. Now, four young robins peer out from their oddly located nursery. The Bartholemes, who have one more child than the robins, use the back door.

HOLSTEIN SETS NEW RECORD

KINGSTON, Ont.—A new North American milk and butter record has been set by a six-year-old Holstein cow bred and owned by Byrdon Rath, of Mossley, Ont. The cow produced 28,138 pounds of milk containing 1,311.25 pounds of butter during the period May 2, 1933, to May 2, 1934.

BILL CUMMINGS FOUGHT OFF a fast field of daring drivers for over 4 1/2 exhausting hours of nerve-racking, record-breaking speed to take the 500-mile classic at the Indianapolis Speedway. Press wires flashed: "Cummings, after stretching himself, first requested a cigarette. It was a Camel! For Bill is a Camel smoker of 12 years' standing, and knows that smoking a Camel gives you a quick "snap-back" in energy!

TRY THIS EXPERIENCE in increasing energy quickly when worn out!

If you have ever tried to clock 300 or 400 miles in one day's drive you can imagine the terrific output of energy a racing driver crowds into "the 500" at Indianapolis. As Bill Cummings said himself after the race: "For 200 grueling laps... I had to average 104.863 miles an hour, the new world's record for the '500'... sometimes hitting it up to over 2 miles a minute... to win. 4 hours and 46 minutes of this wrings the vitality out of a man. I felt pretty well played out at the end of the race. My mechanic and I turned to Camels for the first luxurious smoke that always chases that tired feeling away. Any time I'm 'all in' I know that Camels will give me a 'lift' in energy. I smoke them steadily, too, because I know that Camels will never jangle healthy nerves."

This "energizing effect" in Camels, long recognized by Camel smokers, has recently been studied and confirmed by a famous research laboratory in New York. It is harmless, refreshing. You'll like Camels—a matchless blend of costlier tobaccos. You can "get a lift with a Camel" as often as you wish. Camels never get on your nerves, no matter how many you smoke.

Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE TOBACCOS—Turkish and Domestic—than any other popular brand

Oil Price Cut Is Feared As Well In Cherokee Comes In

By United Press
HOUSTON.—Will the discovery well in southern Cherokee county bring into production another vast East Texas field that will further reduce the price of oil, which at present is held up shakily by extreme proration measures? And how big is the new Rusk oil pool? These are two questions that are causing worry to the oil industry and considerable expense to oil operators since Dick Young and T. J. Wood brought in a wildcat well near Rusk recently.

The oil men are sure of one thing. That is that another field anywhere near the size of the East Texas field would be a serious blow to the oil business.

Another field of that size would transform the petroleum industry into a highly competitive, low-profit business that would demand more stringent supervision than that offered by the state railroad commission or the proposed, but now tabled, federal oil control bill, operators agreed.

Geologists, paleontologists, petroleum engineers and old-style "well men" who believe drilling is the only solution to the oil problem, hesitate when asked to forecast the type of field struck by the Houston operators.

They reluctantly admit, however, the only answer to these questions is some 5,000 feet under ground in Cherokee county.

Very little is known of the Wood-Young well. And very little oil has been produced from the well. But that which has been produced tested 40 degree gravity and is the same greenish, foul-odored oil that comes from the Woodbine sand of the East Texas field, where nearly one-fourth of the nation's daily oil supply is produced.

The experts said the field could be of any size, since only two directions are limited—the south and the west.

The Cranfill & Reynolds company drilled a dry hole to 5,170 feet five miles west of the discovery well.

The Mustang Oil company drilled five miles south of the discovery, found the Woodbine at 5,178 feet, but reported the well dry.

Recent surveys made by geologists shows the trend to be north and northeast. Operators said the Young-Wood well conceivably could be the southwest corner and the field could exceed the size of the East Texas pool, the largest yet discovered.

$81,000,000 Loaned By Federal Land Bank of Houston

HOUSTON.—Loans totaling $81,921,400 have been closed in the 12 months from June 13, 1933 to June 14, 1934, by the Federal Land Bank of Houston for itself and as agent for the Land Bank Commissioner, according to A. C. Williams, president. This amount represents 26,897 loans and is more than 16 times the total of loans closed by the bank in 1932.

Before loans can be made, Mr. Williams pointed out, the farms offered as security must be appraised by a land bank appraiser appointed by the Land Bank commissioner, Washington, D. C. The basis of appraisal in all cases is the normal value of the land for agricultural purposes and its earning power for agricultural purposes is a principal factor.

Land bank loans may not exceed 50 per cent of the appraised normal value of the land mortgaged and 20 per cent of the appraised value of the permanent, insured improvements thereon. The amount of the mortgage to the land bank commissioner, together with all prior mortgages or other prior evidences of indebtedness secured by the farm property, may not exceed 75 per cent of the appraised value thereof.

Since the passage of the Emergency Farm Mortgage Act in May, 1933, Mr. Williams declared, the working forces of the various units of the Farm Credit Administration in Houston have been doubled and trebled in order to keep up with the large volume of applications. A force of 194 land bank appraisers now is in the field.

Beer Boycott Said To Be Effective

By United Press
FORT WORTH.—Members of the Morris Sheppard chapter of the W. C. T. U. here say their boycott against beer-selling merchants in Rosen heights residential sector has been highly successful.

A year ago the 45 members of the chapter signed a resolution that they would patronize no merchant who sold beer.

"Most places that sell beer have signs up," the president of the chapter said. "If we don't see any sign we always ask them point blank: 'Do you sell beer?' If they do, we walk right out. Consequently there is no beer in Rosen heights."

KERRVILLE, Texas.—To supply an extra diversion for vacationists and campers, the City of Kerrville this summer is operating a $20,000 concrete swimming pool. The pool not operated last year, is privately owned, and was opened after no other promoter sought it. Labor by regular city workmen and water from the city-owned water works reduce the upkeep cost. A chlorinating and filtering plant keep the water purified.

DONNA GABRIEL, circus performer, falls from the trapeze and is injured. To please her partner, MADELINE SIDDAL, Donna goes to Madeline's home in recuperation, pretending to be the other girl. She is ashamed of the deception but keeps it up, even when BILL SIDDAL, Madeline's cousin, asks her to marry him. Bill and Donna are married.

MRS. PLANTER, housekeeper discharged by Donna, is her enemy. Madeline who has married CON DAVID, animal trainer, is killed. Con knows of Donna's deception and decides to blackmail her. He comes to the nearby town and Donna meets him secretly. Con threatens to cause trouble for her. Mrs. Planter leaves the marriage and writes Bill an anonymous letter.

Bill goes to see Con and during his absence Grandfather Sidal dies. Bill, believing Donna has committed bigamy, tells her he "knows the truth" and will leave immediately after the funeral. Donna steals away and boards a train for Chicago.

CHAPTER XLVI
DONNA heard the familiar voice almost before she saw who was speaking. "Well, look who's here! I didn't expect to see you."

She stared into Con David's blurred, bloodshot eyes. For some reason she was not surprised. Donna's lips were stiff and dry. "You win!" she mumbled.

"Kicked you out, did he?" "No, I left—before he did."

"That's what I thought he'd do. Tough customer, that husband of yours. But if you'll listen to me you'll forget him and go back where you belong. A farm's no place for a girl like you. Maybe you're out of training now but you'll soon get your stride again."

He took her hat from the seat and sat down beside her. Donna was not conscious of irritation. "Going to Chi, I suppose?" "Yes," she agreed.

"So'm I. Decided I'd better go while the going's good. Sidal might get nasty after he thinks over what I said."

"You chose a bad time to leave," Donna said slowly, laboriously. "As long as you came to Lebanon to get Grandfather Sidal's money you should have stayed until his will was read."

"Will! What do you mean?" "He's dead. He died this morning."

"I'll be damned! So you didn't get to make good your threat?" "My threat?" "I mean get him to change his will in favor of your precious husband?" "No. He didn't change the will."

"I said that I married Madeline Sidal and showed him the certificate. I rather imagine he believes that you committed bigamy, my dear, when you went through the ceremony with him."

"Oh, my God!" she cried. "I wonder he acted the way he did. What a scoundrel you are, Con David! I didn't know a man could be so vile! And you know that I loved him. You knew—I'm going back to tell him the truth—all of it! He'll kill you for this!"

FORT WORTH.—Sixty-four-year-old Ben Harris takes a two-mile swim in Lake Worth daily "just for exercise."

Some days, when he "feels the urge," he stretches his exercise to six miles. He is employed at the Lake Worth Casino and the Lake is convenient, he explained.

"Nothing to it," he said. "I've been swimming for 55 years."

Harris once held the world's record for the 15 mile swim, he said. His time was four hours, forty-seven and one-half minutes.

Before coming here in 1917, he was a Red Cross life saver at Galveston, where he also dived for oysters in 100 feet of water "on the side."

Harris is the only Red Cross life saver here who is exempt from taking a yearly examination. He also was the first swimmer to pass the Red Cross examination in Tarrant county.

Popular Young People Marry

Vawter-Crossley
A lovely home wedding at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon united in marriage William Vawter, and Miss Faye Crossley, with wedding rites spoken by Rev. E. R. Stanford.

The ceremony took place at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. James R. King Jr., in Eastland, and was attended only by immediate friends and relatives.

The bride and groom entered arm in arm and took their places before the mantel in the large living-room, banked with ferns and pink and white roses, an improvised altar, very charming in effect.

The impressive ring ceremony was used. The bride wore a shell pink ensemble with a pink and orchid, sweetpeas and rose corsage.

After the ceremony, iced fruited punch was served by Mrs. Morgan Myers and Mrs. John Burke from a big silver bowl on a lace-laid table, decorated in pink and white roses.

The bride's going away suit was a black and white crepe romaine, with white accessories and a white hat.

The happy couple left immediately in their car for a two weeks honeymoon with visits in Dallas, Paris and Fort Worth.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Crossley, unable to attend the wedding on account of her father's serious illness, having just left the sanitarium in Temple, where he still is recuperating with his wife in attendance.

Mr. Vawter came here from Paris about 18 months ago, as an employe of the Lone Star Gas company.

Congratulations of a host of friends are extended the happy couple.

ONLY WHITE HOUSE BABY REVEALED AS WIFE OF BRITISH WORLD WAR HERO

By MILTON BRONNER

NEA Service Staff Correspondent
REDCAR, Eng.—The only real White House baby, born the daughter of a president in the White House itself, is today a British citizen, wife of a distinguished soldier, and mother of two fine young girls.

She is Mrs. W. S. B. Bosanquet, and 40 years ago her arrival at the White House as Esther Cleveland set thousands of Americans humming a popular song whose refrain went: "The pride of the White House is Grover's baby."

Her proud father was Grover Cleveland, then serving his second term in the presidency, and so fully occupied with the press of national affairs that he had to leave his wife's bedside shortly after the birth, with the doctor's assurance that all was well with

FUNDS HALTED OIL CELEBRATIONS

By United Press
TOMBALL, Tex.—Discovery of oil a year ago brought riches to this section of the state. Citizens of Tomball and vicinity planned an anniversary celebration this month. Announcement was made that the celebration had been called off indefinitely because the citizens' committee was unable to raise money.

If Secretary Ickes can spare a little time from cabinet, public works and oil administration duties, he might umpire a few world series games.—San Antonio Evening News.

Any light but white will make a person nervous, says New York University scientists—red especially, if it stays on too long.

Her husband, Capt. William Sydney Bence Bosanquet, is general manager of the Skinningrove Iron and Steel Co., into which business he went after long and distinguished service with the British army in some of its hardest fighting on the western front during the World War.

Little Esther Cleveland was only 3-1-2 when her father left the White House at the end of his second term. But she still keeps little fragmentary impressions of that day:

Memories of Departure
"It's queer what things stick in a child's mind," she says. "I can still remember where we used to have our supper, and the general plan of that part of the White House where we were allowed to play."

"I can also remember our last day there, when we were waiting for the carriage to convey us to the railway station."

"I remember the satisfaction with which I wore my little gloves in preparation for the journey."

"There is one thing I do not remember, but which members of the family have told me. I was sitting there very primly, waiting to leave the White House, when one of the attaches said, teasingly: 'Why are you leaving us?'"

"I am supposed to have replied: 'Cause there can't be two presidents!'"

Works For War Wounded
The Cleveland moved to Princeton, N.J., where the ex-president became a trustee of the university and of a great life insurance company. Esther Cleveland went to a private school in Princeton, and on the death of Cleveland, to Switzerland with her mother and sisters.

Then she went to a finishing school, made her debut in 1912, and returned to Europe with her mother just when the war broke. At St. Moritz she met her future husband, just out of Cambridge.

Then the war came, and Bosanquet rushed home to join the colors. He went to France as an officer of the famous Coldstream Guards.

Miss Cleveland and her mother managed to get home, but the

If these young Montanans find a certain gene, they may put more money into the pockets of Montana farmers. Somewhere in this world is a plant whose genes would improve the state's alfalfa crop. Now the Emerald Green fodder has a tendency to fold up and wither. Bacteria is the cause of it all.

The United States Department of Agriculture wants to find a plant with "that certain something" that, when combined with to her home, her family, her parents, and to personal service work among the unemployed of Yorkshire.

Nevertheless she is a loyal, if passive, supporter of the Conservative party. She muses thoughtfully over this apparent change from the democratic politics of her distinguished father.

"Yet I don't think father would mind," she muses. "After all, what did he stand for. Sound money, a dollar's worth of governmental service for a dollar's worth of taxes."

"He insisted that public office should be a public trust. The best of British conservatives stand for the same things. And though the conservatives are a protective tariff party, while he gave us the slogan 'tariff for revenue only'—well, if he were alive today, he would probably change his mind."

Justifies Her Stand
"With the whole world fighting for trade, with every country trying to 'keep its own people employed,' he would probably agree that in 1934 theories of free trade have gone into innocuous desuetude—to use his own celebrated phrase."

But the woman who as a little girl sat on the lap of the daddy a nation knew as President Grover Cleveland; and smudged ink on the papers in his study, turns now not to politics, but to her gardens, her soldier husband, and her own two bonny daughters.

The peaceful, 200-year-old mansion known as "The Old Hall" seems, somehow, a lovely setting for the mature years of the only real White House baby.

Mrs. Bosanquet takes no active part in politics, devoting herself to the alfalfa plant, will bolster its backbone.

The department, each year, hires a number of young college graduates as "plant hunters." Their territory includes and spot on earth. They scrutinize the world's vegetation, searching for plants whose genetic characteristics will improve known strains of standard crops.

Several June Bachelors of Sciences at Montana State College here are seeking these jobs. All that is lacking is the incidental hiring by the department.

Thinking, says a Harvard professor, caused the depression, but it wasn't so much what we thought as how.
