AINS AGAIN FALL OVER A WIDE SECTION

By United Press
ALANREED, Gray County, Tex., Aug. 23.—With the long drought in the Texas Panhandle again by rain which fell yesterday, additional rainfall last night brought benefits estimated at $50,000 to farmers.
Rainfall of from one half to one inch was recorded last night in the Eastern half of the Panhandle. The benefit was to cotton, and fall pastures and water supplies.
Amarillo had a downpour last night as did Shamrock. More than one inch of rain fell at Canyon. Trains were ordered to use extreme caution as railroad men were fearful of the sudden rains, after months without moisture, which weaken roadbeds.
Precipitation figures for the 24 hours ended at 8 a. m. today included:
Big Spring, 1.64 inches; Clarissa 1.5; Miami, 1.12; Memphis, .82; Amarillo, .78; Lamesa, .24; Spur, .14, and Spur .02.

150 Arrested In Germany Since Recent Elections

By United Press
BERLIN, Aug. 23.—The government admitted today that 150 persons had been arrested since the recent elections, but denied the arrests were because the suspects voted "no" to Hitler's policies.
It was explained the arrested persons were "communists, charged with treasonable activities." The government denied mass arrests of Catholics and Jews who voted against Hitler.

Man Is Held In Death of Co-Ed At Birmingham

By United Press
BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Aug. 23.—Harold Taylor, 28-year-old unemployed son of a former city comptroller, was jailed today on murder charges in the brutal slaying of Faye New, 19-year-old Howard college co-ed.
Police Chief Luther Hollums said he would ask a warrant charging Taylor with choking and then stabbing the young woman to death because she refused his advances.
A. B. Cain, close friend of Miss New, who admitted to police he followed the girl and her companion and a ride in which she never returned, was released after more than 36 hours of questioning.

Car Resembling a Stolen One Causes Driver Some Delay

The Ranger police were on the alert for a stolen car Wednesday night, and while on the lookout for the stolen automobile ran down one that answered the description, but which proved to be the wrong car.
A call from Mineral Wells after midnight informed the police that a Chevrolet sedan, 1929 model, painted red, with three green and one red wheel, had been stolen and it was thought the thieves were headed in the direction of Ranger.
Some time after the call was received Guy Pledger, in making his rounds, saw a car that answered the description. It was a red Chevrolet sedan of the same model and he noticed that some of the wheels were red and some green.
He pursued the car for several blocks and overtook it on the east side of town.
When he approached the car he found that it had a New Mexico license plate and on closer examination found that it had two red and two green wheels. Still not satisfied he checked the motor number and found it did not correspond with the one telephoned from Mineral Wells.
"You will probably be stopped a half dozen times between here and Fort Worth," he told the two men in the car, "because a description of the stolen car has been sent to every town along this highway and officers will be looking for it. Your car so nearly answers the description sent out that you will likely have to prove it isn't the stolen car several times."
The men went on their way prepared to be delayed several times because of the resemblance of the two machines.

TEXTILE HEADS FORM PLANS FOR A STRIKE

By United Press
WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—Cotton textile union leaders today advanced their plans for a general strike before Sept. 1.
They dispatched strike workers to important centers throughout the country so that should the strike be called their campaign would be uniform.
The special strike committee, headed by Francis Gorman, first vice president of the United Textile Workers, was still hopeful that President Roosevelt or "someone else in the government with real authority" might be able to avert the walkout, which would be the biggest under the new deal.
Gorman said, however, that until the government took definite action or the industry met the demands of workers, his committee stood ready to order the strike.
He discussed his fruitless conferences with various divisions and boards of the NRA and said he was through conferring.

Officers Are Still Seeking Bandits In Brooklyn Robbery

By United Press
NEW YORK, Aug. 23.—An extraordinary search for bandits who made off with $427,950 from an armored car in Brooklyn, swung back to run-running gangs of the prohibition era today.
A few minutes after a council of war at police headquarters of officials directing the 18,000 uniformed and detective forces, an alarm was broadcast for detention on sight of Jack McCarthy and another man, both allegedly former lieutenants of the slain Vannie Higgins, run-running star and kin of the late Jack "Legs" Diamond.
Both are wanted for questioning.

Penn Jackson Is Allred Speaker In Ranger Wednesday

Penn Jackson, district attorney of Johnson county, spoke in Ranger Wednesday night before a small crowd in the interest of James V. Allred, candidate for governor, opposing Tom F. Hunter.
Judge W. S. Adamson, in a few well chosen words, introduced the speaker, who soon launched into some of the campaign issues and urged the voters to cast their ballots for Allred in the election next Saturday.
Considerable interest was thrown into the rally when some heckling was started after the speaker read from the records part of a case against Tom Hunter, who, it was asserted, was charged with carrying a pistol some years ago.
The speaker was requested to read the rest of the record, not letting the subject drop with only a partial reading, and he then read the remainder of the record, which showed that the charge had been thrown out.
The speaker goes to Cisco today, where he will make another talk in the interest of the candidate and will speak at the courthouse in Eastland Friday evening at 8 o'clock.

PROOF OF HIS FISH STORY

Officers Puzzled Over Identity of Two Wreck Victims

By United Press
TUCUMCARI, N. M., Aug. 23.—Authorities today attempted to sift through clues surrounding two dead men and a stolen, wrecked car discovered near here yesterday, that formed one of the most perplexing mysteries to confront New Mexico police in years.
Fingerprints of the men have been forwarded the federal bureau of identification. The men were government boots and officials believe they may have been connected with a government agency of some kind. One body was in the wreckage of an automobile stolen Sunday night from a salesman near Littleton, Colo. Apparently the man was killed instantly when the car crashed into a bridge. The other was in a clump of bushes near the crash.

BIG HUNTER RALLY WILL BE HELD TONIGHT ON RUSK STREET

A big rally for Tom F. Hunter, candidate for governor, will be held on Rusk street tonight with Hon. John Lee Smith of Throckmorton as the principal speaker.
The speaking will start promptly at 8 o'clock on Rusk street between Main and Walnut streets, where all political speakings have been held this year, both during the first campaign and during the run-off campaign, which is now drawing to a close.
Arrangements were made for the Hunter rally last week when Hal Hughes and P. S. Kendrick of Abilene visited in Ranger and arranged for the speaking date. On the same trip speaking dates for Judge Smith were made at Breckenridge and Eastland, the latter speaking engagement being held Tuesday night, at which time a large crowd of voters assembled on the courthouse lawn and heard Judge Smith.
The speaker is considered one of the most able political speakers in this part of the state and was selected for the three engagements in this section during the last week of the campaign because he can so forcefully present the issues of the campaign to the voters and can answer the points brought out by other speakers campaigning for Allred in an able and satisfactory manner.
Arrangements locally for the Hunter rally have been completed by local supporters of Hunter, who have provided seating arrangements for a large crowd to hear the speaker bring out some of the most important issues of the campaign.
Judge L. H. Flewelling will preside as chairman of the meeting and will introduce the speakers. Besides the principal address by Judge Smith there will be several other short talks made, it was announced.
Those in charge of the arrangements stated today that the speakers would answer some of the accusations made by Penn Jackson, who spoke in behalf of Allred last night and the voters were invited to be present so that they could hear the other side of the story before making up their minds as to how they will vote Saturday.

LOTTERY KING SAYS SUPPORT IS WITH LONG

By United Press
NEW ORLEANS, La., Aug. 23.—Senator Huey P. Long, who has assumed the role of guardian of public morals since the start of his war with the New Orleans city administration, found himself in an embarrassing position today.
A. G. Rickerfor, alleged king of the lottery ring of New Orleans, announced his political support was with the "Kingfish."
Long immediately cried "foul play" and accused the city administration, led by Mayor E. Semmes Walmesley, with hatching a deep dark plot to sully his reputation and dignity.
"I don't see why he didn't say that Walmesley and other city officials were with us, too," Long said.

A similar arrangement was made during the second primary campaign and the committee selected Friday night for the speaking engagement in Ranger.
Although the ticket will be short and there will be contests in only a few of the races, much interest has been manifested in the local races and a good crowd is anticipated in Ranger as there have been large crowds at almost all of the previous meetings.

ANOTHER OF JAILBREAKERS ALSO CAUGHT

Noted Desperado, Thought To Be With Hamilton, Easily Captured.
By United Press
KATON, N. M., Aug. 23.—A sheriff's posse today captured two men who escaped from the Lubbock jail on June 24, one of them a condemned murderer, at Thermo 68 miles southwest of here.
Ed (Perchmouth) Stanton, condemned killer, was taken on the streets of Thermo. One of his companions in the break, Andrew H. Nelson, was seized in a stolen car a short distance from Thermo.
In the week following the Lubbock escape numerous filling station robberies and other crimes committed in West Texas were attributed to the heavily armed fugitives. Poses sought them over an area 12 counties square without success.
Acting on a tip that the Texas desperadoes were loitering about the village and making ready to seek a hideout, Sheriff E. R. Fletcher led a crew of deputies and surprised the fugitives, capturing them without firing a shot. Both were armed but were given no opportunity to use their weapons as the officers pounced upon them.
The capture of both men was effected simultaneously between 2:30 and 3:00 a. m.
After the fugitives were placed in the sheriff's car they showed signs of flight. Officers said they belted the outlaws over the heads with guns and subdued them.
"Time and again the outlaws switched automobiles, once burning an abandoned machine. They were sighted on several occasions but always faded into rugged, wooded country, where their trail was lost.
Recently it was reported Stanton had joined Raymond Hamilton. They were identified as bandits who robbed a filling station at Vernon.

SOIL EROSION PROJECTS SHOW PROGRESS NOW

COLLEGE STATION.—Up to July 31, 52,444 acres in the Elm Creek watershed in Bell and McLennan counties were covered by co-operative agreements, signed with the owners of the approximately 460 farms, it was reported at a conference in the office of President T. O. Walton participated in by Dr. H. V. Geib, in charge of the Elm Creek project. V. W. Woodman, chief agronomist and field supervisor at Elm Creek, L. P. Merrill, regional director Duck Creek project; President Walton; O. R. Martin, director of the extension service, and A. B. Conner, director of the experiment station. V. W. Woodman stated that 50 graders and two caterpillar tractors are now at work in the Elm Creek region and that 150 more graders will be put into use soon. Terracing is being stressed in this area. Outlets are being built by the CCC where needed. Natural rock is being used where available and concrete is being used in other places. In a few cases temporary structures are being built where vegetation can be made to do the work by the time the temporary structure will no longer hold. Ten soil erosion clubs have been formed by the farmers in the Elm Creek region to discuss the problems faced and to disseminate information. Certain problems are found in this area that are not found in other parts of the country. One of these is that the presence of root rot prevents the use of legumes for soil building purposes. Another is that fall cover crops turned under will not decompose properly in time for the spring planting. A soil erosion survey is being conducted, and a survey is also under way to determine crop yields, expense, income, and social activities. The Duck Creek project has headquarters at Lindale in northwestern Smith county at the edge of the 25,000-acre area which drains into Duck Creek and thence into the Sabine river. In this area the first plan is to conduct a series of surveys such as economic, social, farm management, and cropping. Mr. Merrill states. At present the economic survey has been completed on 200 out of the approximately 300 farms in the area. After the surveys are completed,

These attractive young ladies are among the entries in the beauty revue to be held at Mineral Wells Aug. 27, second day of the Texas American Legion convention. Winner of the revue, to be held at Memorial field at 7:30 p. m., will be awarded the title of "Miss Texas American Legion." The six entrants shown above are, left to right, top row: Miss Opal Hodgkins, Thurber; Miss Alva Dean McClung, Graham, and Miss Betty Ford, Granbury; bottom row, Miss Katherine Pison, Cleburne; Miss Madge Harney, Borger, and Miss Beverly Chambers, Pecos. Each entrant is sponsored by the Legion post in her respective community. They will make two appearances, one in an afternoon frock and the other in a bathing suit.

erosion and flood control methods such as reforestation, permanent pasture, terracing, and strip cropping will be put into effect. Land on which the slope is more than 10 per cent will be taken out of cultivation.

A local advisory council composed of 25 of the leading farmers of this district work with officials in all the proposed plans. There is also a district council composed of nine farm demonstration agents, vocational teachers, and two district farm demonstration agents.

One of the reasons for the present conditions, Dr. Geib stated, is that the one-way disc plow has been in use, and this plow breaks the soil only to a depth of a few inches. When a strong wind comes all this top soil blows off. There is light and heavy soil in this area, and so the experiment should give far-reaching results. H. H. Finnell, formerly director of the Oklahoma experiment station at Goodwell, has been put in charge of the project.

Michigan Shows Profit For Her Liquor Stores

LANSING, Mich.—Michigan uses a $25,000,000 corporation to effect a "controlled thirst" for its residents, but at that it dispenses 1,200 brands of liquor cheaper than in any of the 11 states with similar setups.

That is the declaration of Frank A. Picard, chairman of the liquor control commission who rules one of the state's greatest enterprises from a central office and warehouse which literally effervesces "intoxication."

Picard's statement comes after six months of "exploration" in a state monopoly of liquor. And the books of the Michigan commission show a net profit of $3,088,000 between Dec. 15, 1933 and June 1, 1934. The profit is all the more significant in view of the fact the commission actually did not set up its full array of state liquor stores until May.

All Michigan drinks at the direction of the huge central control system just remodeled here in a new home.

Offices of the commission are housed in a building that carries at least $4,000,000, in stock all of the time and which provides for an additional $3,000,000 for stocks in 100 branch stores scattered over the state.

Each day of the week at least 14 railroad cars come to and leave this central plant, carrying the finest brands of liquor the world can produce. This commission regulates the sale and licenses 352 private distributors over the state. There are 900 full-time employees of the commission.

Picard claims there never has been less bootlegging in the history of the state than now. As for the dangers of a "political machine" grow out of such a system, Picard said, "I would rather have a political machine built out of the employees of this commission than through the brewers, the beer barons and the bootleggers."

United States Is Retaining Place As a Salesman

WASHINGTON.—Uncle Sam appears to be holding his enviable position as the biggest seller of the world's goods, unworried by invasion of his markets by cheap Japanese products and general disorganization of world commerce.

The United States may have lost a part of its cloth market in Cuba to Japan, but has made up for this with the sale of a few more tractors to the Argentine, or more meat to Great Britain.

In the first months of the current year the United States continued to hold its position as the world's largest exporter of goods, despite foreign "trade wars," such as the clash of British and Japanese interests in the Far East cloth market and the encroachment of Japanese and other for-

View of "Old Faithful," Always On Time, to Adorn New Stamp

Every 63 minutes a beautifully curving column of white spurts out of the ground in Yellowstone park, rising to a height of more than 100 feet, and bursting into a smother of heated spray. It is "Old Faithful" geyser, shown above, performing strictly on schedule and presenting a scene of marvelous beauties to the thousands of visitors who throng near it every day of the touring season. It was discovered by Jim Bridger, noted scout, and he was greeted with derision when he first told of its marvels. A picture of the famous geyser will adorn one of the new stamps issued by the postoffice department.

Foreign sellers in United States markets in Latin and South America. Figures compiled by the League of Nations and reduced to gold values show the following foreign "sales" in 1933 of the five leading export nations of the world:

United States	$1,281,540,000
United Kingdom	1,158,310,000
Germany	732,320,000
Japan	562,599,000
France	522,599,000

How the United States has maintained her leadership as the world's largest seller of world goods is shown in department of commerce estimates that her tonnage of exports showed no change from 1932 to 1933, while those of the United Kingdom increased only 2 per cent and Germany fell 5 per cent. Japanese exports increased sharply and so did her imports, but they still were too small to be an important factor in world trade.

United States exports in the first four months of the current fiscal year recovered sharply from a year ago and surpassed a further gain in Japanese exports. The latter country exported goods in the first four months of this year valued at $186,000,000, compared with only $147,000,000 for a similar period in 1933—a gain of 26 per cent.

Compared with this wide gain, the United States in the first four months of this year actually increased its exports over a year ago by 62 per cent, from $435,336,000 to $709,481,000, according to figures compiled by the United States department of commerce.

Human Equation In Flying Being Brought to Front

By SWANIE TAYLOR
 United Press Aviation Writer
 NEW YORK.—Aviation, particularly pilotdom, hails the sudden and intense interest bestowed upon commercial fliers by the newspapers with delight. For, under journalistic guidance the world at large soon learns that a lame ability to take an airplane off the ground, stagger through the air and land it without a crash, does not constitute what is professionally called airmanship. Similarly, the newspapers will point out that true airmanship hinges on a vague sixth sense which is all too frequently dismissed as, "temperament."

However, certain men prominent in flying circles comment on definite swing, by airlines, back to the side of the erstwhile scorned "temperament." Once again aviation executives are awakening to the enormous responsibility shouldered by a flier every time he takes off with human cargo. And, in consequence, they are becoming quite pilot-conscious.

Facts to substantiate this are to be had in the knowledge that the Bureau of Air Commerce is making a thorough investigation into pilot-behavior along our scheduled airlines. Also, this same pilot-behavior promises to be the outstanding topic of discussion at next month's Airline Regulations Conference, in Washington. And it can be safely forecast that with this conference will come an intensive drive to eliminate "pilot error" as a cause of aircraft mishaps.

Beyond all doubt the Flight Surgeons, physicians who have graduated from the School of Aviation Medicine and Surgery, will dominate the conferences with their sunny expositions of startling, to some, data, gathered during 17 years of clinical research in the field of Flying Psychology. So, we may watch for some interesting facts—if not several rude awakenings—when the Flight Surgeons begin to tell of the very important part "Temperament" plays in the life of each and every sensible, which is to say safe-and-sane, aviator.

New Blood Pressure Apparatus Perfected

BOSTON.—A new blood pressure testing apparatus, the arteriomanometer, has been invented by George E. Emerson, for the past 21 years director of physical education for men at Boston University.

Advantages of the new device over the old type are that it can be adjusted to the arm both more easily and more rapidly, and may be more easily inflated. Also pulse sounds are louder, probably due to the fact that a metallic band, when fastened to the arm, acts as a resonator similar to the sounding-board of a piano.

Woman Smoking a Pipe Caused Furore

NORTHUMBERLAND, Pa.—A pipe-smoking woman who strolled down the street here puffing contentedly created a furore among local residents until Chief of Police Newton Weirick was unmoned and they discovered that nothing could be done about it.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning

If you feel sore and sick and the world looks pink, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine. For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul. Skin often breaks out in irritation. Your head aches and you feel drowsy and out. Your whole system is poisoned. It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, combining when it comes to making the bile flow freely. But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Beware a substitute. 25c a dozen, 50c a box. C. I. C. Co.

"43% MORE NON-SKID MILEAGE"

"You're too modest!"
 Motorists who got the first G-3's put out—months before the public announcement—say, "You're too modest!" Many of them report 50% to 100% more non-skid mileage. Why, then, do we insist on only 43%? Well, 43% is a definite test-car-proved figure. Very likely it is low for normal use—because the tests which established the 43% average were gruelling: cars speeding up to 50, jamming on brakes, mile after mile, day and night. Very likely most motorists will get more than 43% more non-skid mileage. But we'll string along with 43%—because it's plenty to deliver at no extra cost. Come see the tire that's the talk of the nation.

When You "G-3" Your Wheels—LOOK WHAT YOU GET
