SEN. BENNETT C. CLARK TELLS WHY MUNITIONS PROBE MAY HELP END WARS

Editor's Note: Senator Bennett C. Clark, member of the Senate munitions investigating committee, in the following dispatch written exclusively for the Ranger Times, tells why he thinks the sensational inquiry should help world efforts to end the menace of war.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—The inquiry ordered by the United States senate into the activities of private manufacturers of munitions in the United States has barely scratched the surface, but already there have been disclosures which have shocked the conscience of the nation.

It has been shown that the international armament ring which we have been accustomed to regard with holy terror as existing entirely in foreign lands has ramifications in this country among some of the most powerful corporations in the nation.

It has appeared that American munitions manufacturers have conspired with European and Asiatic concerns for the purpose of controlling the munitions market throughout the world, creating armament races and fomenting wars.

We have learned that bribery is a customary incident of the munitions traffic and that names of men in the highest positions are commonly bandied about in their selling campaigns.

We have ascertained that governments of the world, including the government of the United States, are commonly employed as agencies in the sale of instruments of death and devastation for private profit.

It has been found, for example, that in one case the United States loaned naval officers to a friendly power for the purpose of establishing a submarine flotilla furnished by an American munitions firm, and then loaned another naval officer to that power's prospective adversary to plan harbor defenses against those same submarines with guns furnished by another American munitions maker.

We have heard the heads of one of our greatest munitions firms, one which amassed profits of hundreds of millions of dollars in the last war, smugly praise of their patriotism and give utterance to the same old propaganda of hate which led us into that war in which we were involved largely for the protection of munitions makers' profits.

The business of this committee is to get at the facts and present them to the senate and the American people. This duty the committee intends to carry out without fear or favor.

Current stories that the committee's activities are to be limited or circumscribed by anyone whatsoever are utterly without foundation in fact.

There is no authority which can limit the scope of the investigation except the body which authorized it—the United States senate itself.

The very great interest which is being manifested throughout the nation and indeed throughout the world in the progress of the investigation and the rising demands of liberal forces for similar examinations of the skeletons in their own closets afford very solid grounds for the hope that this investigation may contribute greatly to exposing this whole sordid picture and help in the prevention of war by contributing to the removal of one of its fundamental causes—the opportunity for private profit.

CAPITAL MIGHT ACCEPT LOW, IF SURE, RETURN

If you can believe Relief Administrator Harry L. Hopkins, the present period of economic evolution is going to end in a system of 4 per cent capitalism.

By this Mr. Hopkins means that the return on invested funds will proceed at a much slower rate than we have been used to in the past. Capital's share of the profits in industrial enterprise is going to be small, in other words; the day of fortunes built on a shoestring will be over, and money invested in a going company will bring in only a little more than it brings now in a savings account.

The prediction sounds fairly well, until you begin to look into it a bit. Then you discover that it is a forecast of almost revolutionary change.

The old axiom—never literally true, but close enough to it for practical purposes—has been that putting your money in common stocks in speculation, while putting it in bonds is investment.

Buy bonds, and you get a sure return, limited to a certain figure; buy stocks, and you run the risk of getting no return at all—but, as compensation for this risk, you may make a profit many times higher than any bond issue could bring you.

Under a system of 4 per cent capitalism, the stockholder would be right where the bondholder is today. If he put $100,000 into a company, he would be satisfied to take out $4000 a year in profits; he would not be expecting—as has been the case in the past—that his $100,000 would be worth a million in a few years, if things broke right for him.

Those who have suspected the New Deal of a radical tinge will hardly be reassured by Mr. Hopkins' remark. This suggestion is radical, beyond question. It calls for a complete change in our economic system.

It took more than the lure of 4 per cent to build up this country's great industries; it took the prospect of unlimited profits, such as those which made multi-millionaires out of poor boys like Rockefeller and Carnegie.

Nevertheless, there have been times in the last few years when any business man would have been perfectly satisfied with 4 per cent—if he could get it. A low profit is better than no profit at all.

A regime in which capitalism was held to a 4 per cent return might be acceptable if capital could be assured that it would actually get the 4 per cent.

The amount of business a merchant can do is governed to a great extent by the amount of newspaper advertising he uses.

Greatest Crop of Rice Freshmen Out For Practice

By United Press
HOUSTON, Tex.—The greatest crop of freshmen believed ever to report for instruction at Rice Institute answered the practice call this week of Freshman Coach Eddie Dyer. "It's the finest squad of freshmen ever seen on the Owl grid-iron," veteran spectators told Dyer. The squad consisted of 35 men. At least 20 of them, according to records, were outstanding high school stars. Hefty and strong tacklers predominated. There was not a "minor" in size among them. In the group that reported Dyer found a great array of linemen, especially the kind that appear to be the big stones in a mighty wall. At least six freshmen tackled weighed more than 190 pounds. Heaviest freshman to report was J. F. Crawford, Fort Worth, a 220 pound tackle. Art Hughes of San Antonio, weighed 215 pounds. Marion Ashell, former Reagan star, all city and all state back two years ago, answered the call. He weighed 210 pounds. Among other hefties that reported were Bill Brandon, Fort Worth, 190; Chick Caldwell, Amarillo, 179; Frank Tegedell, Fort Worth, 170; B. W. Klindworth, Dallas, 190; J. Nance, Mesia, 180; Mike Seale, San Antonio, 205; and B. Vickers, Fort Worth, 185, all backs. Tim Anderson, Bay City, 190; Abe Elliott, Houston, 190, centers. J. F. Crawford, Fort Worth, 220; J. Daugherty, San Antonio, 200; Bill Fitz, Jewett, 190; Herbert May, Houston, 190; and Henry Stern, Houston, 200, all tackles. Hal Massey, Fort Worth, 190, and J. Moore, also of Fort Worth, 190, as guards.

BIG PARADE IS FAIR FEATURE SECOND DAY

Crowds Thursday Morning Promise Even Larger Crowds For Remaining Days of Event.

Opened auspiciously Wednesday by large crowds the Eastland county eighth annual fair Thursday went into its second day with the promise of even larger crowds for the remaining days.

Thursday morning a parade led by State Highway Patrolmen Ernest Daniels and Morgan Myers followed by the Lone Star band, directed by A. J. Campbell, paraded through Eastland streets and were witnessed by large crowds who thronged many streets.

Cisco's Lobo band Wednesday night who opened the fair, playing in the mid-way, were applauded enthusiastically as was the program they presented afterwards.

Gorman and Rising Star citizens are scheduled to present the program Thursday night at 8:30 after the band concert at 7:30.

Exhibits at the fair, though the year was considered one of a poor type for the growing of blue ribbon products, were considered unusually good.

T. B. Woods of A. & M. college, College Station, judge of agricultural and community exhibits, said they "were exceptionally good for the year."

Miss Ruth Ramey, county home demonstration agent, noted Thursday morning that rugs, fresh fruit exhibits, and sewing products were more numerous than those in previous years and did not note particular difference of quality than those of other years.

The program for Thursday through Saturday is as follows: Thursday Night—7:30, opening by band on mid-way; 8:30, platform program by Rising Star.

Friday Afternoon—2:30, free rodeo. Friday Night—7:30, opening by band on mid-way; 8:00, rural community entertainment; 9:30, old fiddlers' contest; 10:00, square dance.

Saturday Morning—11:30, Bewley's Chuck Wagon Gang. Saturday Night—7:30, opening by Ranger band in mid-way; 8:00, Bewley's Chuck Wagon Gang; 9:00, Ranger program; 10:00, street dance.

Start Mattress Factory Pends Site Selection

Selection of the mattress factory location has drawn down to one or two empty buildings in Eastland, it is understood.

The start of the project pends the selection of the site, the project having previously been approved by relief heads in Austin. A bottling plant on East Commerce street in Eastland, vacated some years ago, is being considered seriously, it is understood.

Confident Maverick Squad Meets San Angelo Bobcats Friday P. M.

Twenty-two confident Mavericks, drilled thoroughly and paced by their coaches, S. J. Petty and H. L. Hart, will Friday morning at 8:30 leave for San Angelo and endeavor to write Eastland's name in the win column.

Past years have proven the Mavericks are bolstered by a peculiar ability to display their best type of play with the Angelo Bobcats. Eastland Mavericks' match against the Bobcat team has always been a drawing card to the fans of that section and interest pulls them towards the Bobcats' gridiron.

Coach Petty Wednesday declared the Maverick team looked better to him than it ever has, one member of the squad reports.

Films to Determine Stratosphere Flight

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah.—Secrets now contained in undeveloped films will determine whether the National Geographic Society and the United States Army will send a balloon into the stratosphere in 1935, according to Captain Orvil A. Anderson, member of the ill-fated "Explorer" crew.

Anderson, a native of Utah, spent a 10-day furlough here. He declared that he and the other two members of the 1934 expedition were anxious to make another flight into the rarified atmosphere. Neither he, nor Major William E. Kepner, nor Captain Albert W. Stevens, suffered any ill effects from their flight, he said.

French Women Want Cops

By MARY KNIGHT

PARIS.—Women long been in authority in France it remains with the council whether or not they be accepted as policemen rather policewomen.

This idea now has the approval of M. Armand, whose father, Emile, first proposed the idea at that time, appealed to some writers and cartoonists. Accompanied by Mme. Landry, president of the Council of Women, the Romanet, president of the Gares, and Mme. Barbet, International League of Women, M. Massard presented his plan to M. Langeron, prefect of police, assisted by his nine constituents, the advantage and necessity of having a few agents de police.

The prefect did not deny interest in such a project, but formed the committee the matter would have to pass the minds of the municipal council, the manipulators of the vote and several other departments before any definite action could be taken.

It is argued that women would be a distinct asset in railroad stations, dance movies and schools, and would exercise more tact and tuition than men in such places. Nor would they have a masculine uniform. An accident would be sufficient to make accredited policewomen.

British to Fight Death Toll On Her Island Roads

By LEE WILLSON
United Press Staff Correspondent
LONDON, Sept. 19.—The death toll is mounting on the highways of Britain.

The government has passed a parliamentary road traffic act to give the minister of transport almost unlimited powers to deal with the situation. The minister, Leslie Hore-Belisha, has toured the roads in search of ideas to curb the growing number of accidents.

Pedestrian crossings have been inaugurated here in an effort to eliminate "jay-walkers." They are marked with zig-zag white lines, but so far efforts to confine the street navigation of London's citizens to these marked areas has not been successful.

Only one city in Great Britain of more than 100,000 population has been able to show a clear death sheet during the 22-week period.

In London alone, during one recent week, 30 were killed and 1,064 injured. In the past 22 weeks there have been more than 3,018 deaths and 104,514 cases of injury in Great Britain.

The chief constable of the city attributes this to the persistent safety-first propaganda, put out by the city authorities.

No Siren or Villian In 'Hat, Coat, Glove'
A live triangle without the conventional siren or "villain" is the distinctly new screen departure offered in the current drama, "Hat, Coat and Glove," featuring Ricardo Cortez and Barbara Robbins and John Beal. Broadway stage favorites.

Cortez, in the role of a criminal lawyer, is an electric personality in the courtroom, but an un-magnetic husband at home. Accordingly, his romance-hungry wife takes up with a dashing young artist. The husband pretends to recapture his wife's love. When the lover is arrested on a charge of murdering a girl found dead in his apartment, the lawyer is called upon to defend him. Cortez holds the fate of his rival in his hands, and the use he makes of his strangle and tempting power provides a tense and gripping climax.

Dorothy Burgess, Margaret Hamilton, Sara Haden, Murray Kinnell and others comprise the cast directed by Worthington Miner.

Zupke Cools Off
SOME contend that Grange shone even brighter against Chicago on Stagg Field two weeks later, or against Pennsylvania in the snow and mud of Franklin Field in his senior year.

Zup plainly was peeved when his foremost pupil quit school to earn a fortune as a professional at the conclusion of the intercollegiate campaign of 1925.

Question of Allred's Right To Place On Ballot May Cause Complications

By GORDON K. SHEARER
United Press Staff Correspondent
AUSTIN, Sept. 20.—Dispute of Attorney General James V. Allred's legal right to appear on the Nov. 6 ballot as a candidate for governor, is likely to add more wrinkles and, perhaps, bring a few gray hairs to Henry Owsley, brother of the U. S. ambassador to Rumania.

Owsley's desk in the secretary of state's office, has the duty of certifying ballots. The injunction against certification of a ballot with Allred as the nominee, came just while he was in the midst of other ballot problems.

The legal right of the entire republican state ticket to go on the ballot can also be contested. There are two questions that can be raised. One is if there was sufficient compliance with the statute requiring a party that has polled 100,000 votes in the last preceding general election to nominate by primary. The other is if the primary returns were canvassed at the right time and place. The canvass was made in Dallas on Aug. 13. An amendment to the election law directed that the canvass be held at Austin and on Aug. 11.

Communist and socialist tickets for state offices have been filed.

Perryton Rainfall Sets Low Record

By United Press
PERRYTON, Texas.—Rainfall in Perryton for the first eight months of 1934 bid fair to set a new low record for rainfall since official records have been kept beginning in 1934.

The total rainfall for the current year amounts to 11 inches, and is short of the previous low record by five inches.

The New Deal seems to have more than one joker in the pack.

By HARRY GRAYSON

CHICAGO—So the University of Illinois is to have a day for Ted Harold Grange.

It's about time. If any institution ever owed an athlete a day, Grange has one coming from the Illinois, Illinois or any other school hasn't had a running back like the Wheaton ice man in the nine years since he last streaked across chalk marks for the Orange and Blue.

Certainly, none has come close to equaling the amazing record of the Galloping Ghost. None is likely to, for years to come.

It is fitting that Illinois is to remind Grange that his football deeds have not been forgotten in Memorial Stadium, which he so frequently packed with 200,000 gates. Illinois is wise in keeping alive the Grange tradition.

Acting upon the suggestion of Eddie Jacquin, sports editor of the Chicago Tribune, the athletic association of the university invited Grange to be the honor guest at Homecoming Oct. 13 when the Illinois battles Ohio State.

It is doubtful if any one player ever dominated a situation single-handedly as did the roaring Redhead in crushing a mighty Michigan array with four tremendous runs to touchdowns in the first 12 minutes. Grange scored five in all, and threw the forward pass to Kassel which accounted for a sixth.

Following his phenomenal play against Michigan—the game that catapulted him into a fame which no other football player ever has known, reporters rushed to the Redhead's fraternity house to interview the big shot college athlete of all time. There they learned that Grange had accompanied a freshman to a movie.

Most of the reporters decided to wait for him.

When he came back a prominent Chicago sports writer immediately charged down upon the Redhead, stuck out his hand, and, in the accepted manner, said, "My name is Blank."

"Glad to know you," returned the hero of the hour. "My name is Grange."

Red Grange is still that way.

Zup has made no attempt to conceal his attitude toward the pro business throughout all these years. The veteran coach felt that it had no place in the football curriculum.

Zup always contended that a good college team could take care of itself in competition with the money boys. The Little Napoleon almost fell off his seat two or three times as the College All-Stars outplayed the Chicago Bears in that scoreless deadlock at Soldier Field the other night. That game ought to give him more material for his lectures.

Same Old Grange
GRANGE has had his ups and downs financially since he left Illinois to fill the baseball parks and stadiums of the land as a pro. His ventures under Cash-and-Carry Pyle—the pro football war, the Great American Union Derby, and some more—wound up disastrously.

And through it all, Grange, the person, has remained unchanged. He is the same unshrinking chap that he was during his undergraduate days.

Following his phenomenal play against Michigan—the game that catapulted him into a fame which no other football player ever has known, reporters rushed to the Redhead's fraternity house to interview the big shot college athlete of all time. There they learned that Grange had accompanied a freshman to a movie.

Musical Program Is Heard Today By the Lions Club

Lion Harry A. Logsdon, who had charge of the Lions club program today, brought an unusually good entertainment in his presentation of three members of the Tickville Band in a group of favorite selections.

Lion Logsdon playing his mandolin, Lion Charley Moore with his overgrown French harp, and Johnnie Ducker on the guitar, formed the personnel of the stringed band.

Lion "Red" Moore, coach of the Ranger High School Bulldogs, announced that his boys would meet the McMurry Freshmen here tomorrow afternoon on Lillard field for the only game to be played in Ranger until four weeks from now when they play their first conference game at home.

A report from the activities committee headed by Lion Logsdon was heard in regard to the "Hi-Y" proposition put to the club some weeks ago. It was suggested by the committee that action on that proposition be turned over to a separate committee composed of school men in the Lions club.

Lion President, Colonel Brashier appointed Supt. R. F. Holloway, P. A. Tanklesy and Coach "Red" Moore to study the proposition and report back to the club for action by vote.

The club was dismissed after a counting up of attendance in the contest that has been in progress five weeks. To date the two sides are exactly even and there are three weeks left in which one side can outpoint the other.

Television Now Awaiting Market

By United Press
SALT LAKE CITY, Utah.—Whenever capital decides the luxury market is in for a big upward surge, you'll be able to sit at home and see your favorite musical comedy, A. H. Broly, San Francisco, Calif., electrical engineer, predicted here recently.

He told the 25th annual convention of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers that the scientist's task of developing television was completed.

Only reluctance of manufacturers to launch a new product is holding up commercial production of television sets, he declared.

The apparatus developed by the institute with which Broly is associated operates on the same principle as radio. The light, or picture, is changed into electrical impulses, broadcast by short waves, picked up by the receiving set, changed back to light and shown on a screen about a foot square.

The receiving "magic box" appears to be an ordinary cabinet radio. It contains both sound and sight receiving equipment, loud-speaker and screen.

Program selection is accomplished in the same manner a radio program is chosen—a dial is twisted. The gadgets thus controlled synchronize the light carrying waves and focus the picture on the screen.

Distance of the original broadcast is limited with present equipment, Broly stated. He explained that ethereal carriers of pictures, the extremely short radio wave, go only a short distance beyond the originating point's horizon.
