Postponed Meeting Of C. of C. Directors To Be Held Monday

Monday night, May 20, a postponed meeting of the directors of the Ranger Chamber of Commerce will be held. All business men interested in a big picnic on July 3 and July 4 are requested to meet with the directors.

At this time committees will be appointed and details worked out for this picnic, should it be decided to have it.

Some important reports on highway matters will also be made in this meeting and other business disposed of. You are urgently requested to be on hand promptly at 7:45, Monday night, and take part in this meeting.

Romantic Wartime Figure Injured

Swerving his speeding motorcycle in an heroic effort to avoid striking a boy bicyclist, Col. T. E. Lawrence (above) was himself desperately injured at Wool, England. Famed as the mysterious "Lawrence of Arabia" who led the Arab revolt against Turkey in the World War, he afterward expressed his disappointment at the failure of Arabia to become an independent nation by living as a recluse—then served for 12 years in the Royal Air Force as "Aircraftman T. E. Shaw," refusing all honors.

TWO SCORE ARE INJURED BY HIGH WIND

Floods Accompany Winds in Many Sections of The State.

By United Press
Destructive winds swept freakishly across Texas today, injuring more than two score persons and causing damage to property amounting to hundreds of thousands of dollars. Rains sent streams flooding across highways and farms.

Storm warnings for small craft were run up along the gulf coast and a thunder squall blew gusts at 80 miles an hour.

Three persons were injured seriously and several others received minor hurts at Fort Worth when a small tornado ripped through a residential district at daybreak.

The storm, accompanied by rain and lightning, zig-zagged a course through several blocks of homes.

One negro was hurt seriously and several other persons suffered minor injuries when a tornado struck Hearne on the South Texas coastal plain. The storm cut a swath through the residential section. A cloudburst accompanied the blow.

Another tornado at Teague in Eastern Central Texas, injured one man, caused minor hurts to numerous others and resulted in damage estimated at $100,000.

Winds smashed through Marlin, accompanied by a two-inch down-pour. High water wrecked the Cedar Springs bridge over the Brazos river in Falls county.

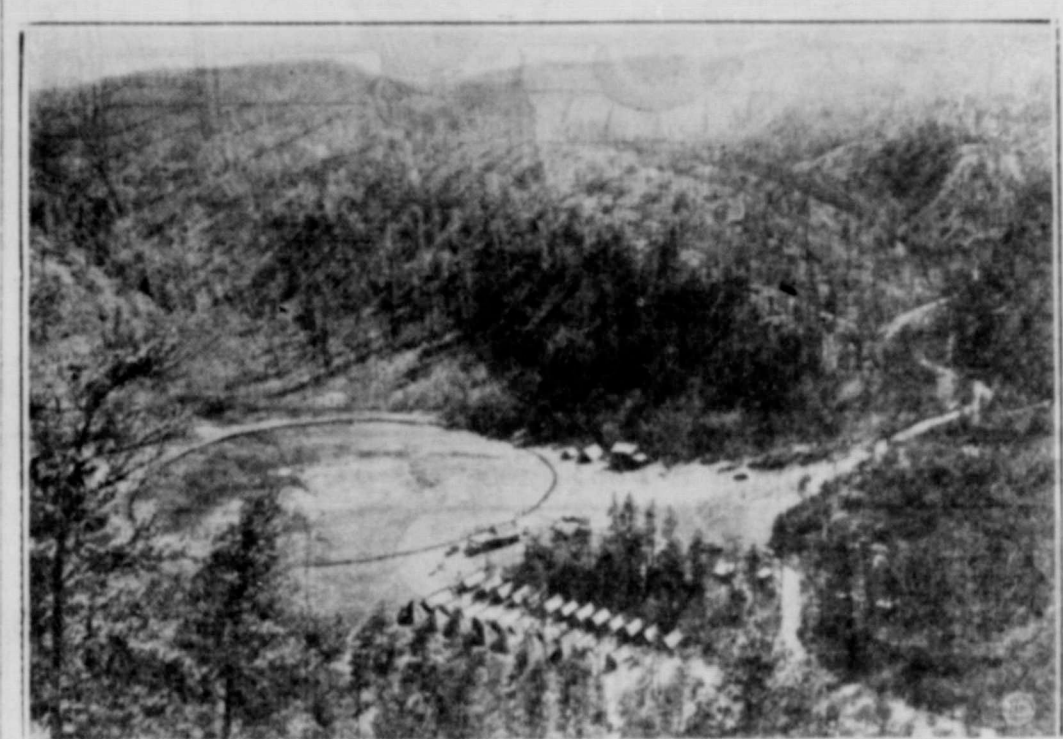

A tornado circled the east side of Gilmer at the northern edge of the East Texas oil field, demolishing barns and uprooting trees.

Large sections of Gainesville, near the Oklahoma border, were under water as the Elm Fork of the Trinity river and Pecan creek, which flows through the center of town, overflowed. At least 50 residences were flooded and from 150 to 200 were homeless.

The Rio Grande had swollen 15 feet and was near the flood stage. The highway from Del Rio to Eagle Pass was closed.

The dam at Lake Deatur, 50 miles north of Fort Worth, burst under pressure of the great volume of water stored by rains and today the town was without a water supply. The flood loosed by the break washed out many bridges.

Where Work Is Being Rushed for Stratoflight

The rugged, tree-clad slopes of the Black Hills in South Dakota look down on this new town, where intense activity prevails in preparation for the second stratosphere hop of the National Geographic Society and the army air corps, scheduled for June. The camp of tents and frame buildings is shown, with the wind trails down which supplies and equipment are being rushed. The ring from which the start will be made is clearly outlined in the immense bowl.

Adolf Hitler to Speak On Peace

By United Press
BERLIN, Germany, May 18.—Adolf Hitler will try further to convince Europe that Germany's conscript army is to be an instrument of peace when he addresses the Reichstag Tuesday.

His speech is intended to be an answer to the League of Nations council resolution condemning German armaments as illegal.

Actually, it was said, the speech would cover many European problems, including eastern security and the French-Russian military assistance treaty—whose signature angered Germany—well aware as they are against whom it is aimed.

ALL SCHOOLS TO HAVE THEIR EXERCISES

Large Classes In All Six of Ranger's Schools Announced.

R. F. Holloway, superintendent of the Ranger schools, announced Saturday that the school work in all ward schools, the Ranger High school and the Ranger Junior college, would be completed on Friday, May 24.

Graduating exercises for the three white ward schools, will be held at the schools on Friday evening. It is announced, while the colored school exercises will be held at the colored Baptist Church Thursday evening.

A total of 65 pupils will graduate from the three ward schools, three will graduate from the colored school, 48 from the Ranger High school and 20 from the Ranger Junior college.

Saturday and Sunday will be spent in making out the reports, including the state reports, and graduating exercises for the high school and junior college will be held on Monday, May 27.

The baccalaureate sermons will be delivered at the Recreation building on Sunday evening, May 26, with Rev. Potts, pastor of the First Baptist church of Breckenridge, delivering the sermon.

Dr. John H. Morris, vice president of Abilene Christian college of Abilene, will be the principal speaker at the commencement exercises Monday night, at which time the graduating classes of the high school and the junior college will be given their diplomas.

Indicates Eastland To Aid Ciscoans In Bid For Convention

Although Eastland Lions Club delegates will be unopposed at the Vernon convention May 26 and 27, it is likely they will aid Cisco in some manner to obtain the '36 session, Ernest Jones, club secretary, indicated Saturday.

The Eastland club has not yet elected delegates to the convention.

Horace Conley, formerly of Eastland, W. H. RaRoque and Joe Burnam of Cisco have been instructed to make a strong bid for the next District 2 Convention of Lions International.

Pope to Plead For England's Return To Roman Church

(Copyright 1935 by United Press)
VATICAN CITY, ROMA, May 18.—A plea to England to return to the Roman Catholic church will be contained in the homily, which Pope Pius will read at the canonization of Thomas Moore and John Fisher at St. Peter's on Sunday.

The pope's plea, it was understood, will be on the ground that England should return to the Roman church to make one flock under one shepherd.

Auto Wanderer Sets New Record

KERRVILLE, TEXAS.—An all-time record as an automobile wanderer was believed to have been set by George H. Butts who stopped here recently while wandering over the North American continent.

Since 1926 he has spent his entire time wandering about the country in his automobile. He has traveled 460,000 miles in the same vehicle, spending his winters in Florida, Southern California or the Lower Rio Grande Valley of Texas.

He originally took to the road upon a doctor's advice.

His automobile was originally a 1916 model Winton, but now it is "a little bit of everything." Butts said, it is fitted up with conveniences for camping, including "the world's smallest kitchen" which is one foot square.

Crew of Famous Liner On Strike

PARIS, France, May 18.—The crew of the trans-Atlantic liner, Paris, numbering 700, joined the walkout of 2,000 members of the crews of big French line vessels today, coincident with action to charge the strikers with desertion. It was disclosed penalties of desertion were being formulated against the crew of the Champain. Officials were still hopeful of the new Normandie, one of the largest liners ever built, would be able to start her maiden voyage on May 29, as scheduled. Efforts of the merchant marine to end the controversy over wages so far have been futile.

Sheriff Named In A Suit For Death of Man

Sheriff Virgo Foster and the American Surety company of Dallas, his bondsmen, were named defendants Friday in a $40,200 suit filed by Mrs. Ethel E. Bachus, whose husband was allegedly accidentally fatally shot during a raid on a still last year.

Mrs. Bachus, acting as best friend for six minor children, alleges in the petition that Sheriff Foster acted unlawfully and was negligent in the performance of his duty when he shot at and in the direction of her husband, Stephen W. Bachus, who she claimed offered no resistance and fled.

The accident occurred near Nimrod, Dec. 6, 1934.

Children for whom Mrs. Bachus filed the suit are Bernice Waston, 18; Warren, 11; Bernice, 10; Ivan, 7; and Eugene, 3.

She filed an oath stating that she was unable to give security for costs in the suit.

Of the $40,200 asked, $200 is for funeral and burial costs of her husband.

Mrs. Bachus alleges in the petition that her husband was a farmer and trader at the time of the accident and was carrying $1,500 per year. Also, she recites that formerly he was a mechanic and earned $3,000 a year.

ROOSEVELT TO READ MESSAGE ON BONUS BILL

WASHINGTON, May 18.—President Roosevelt threw all his strength today into a dramatic move to crush the Patman bonus bill.

Breaking all precedent, he determined to appear before a joint session of the senate and house next week to plead for defeat of the proposal to bring $2,200,000,000 in new money to pay the veterans.

Historians could not recall when a president showed such fighting tactics against legislation he believed harmful.

President Roosevelt did not reveal when he would address the joint session. Congressional leaders believed he would be ready on Monday.

Senate democratic leaders, cheered by his decision, declared it would have a powerful effect, and predicted their forces would sustain his veto by a comfortable margin.

Conditions in the house were different. Speaker Joseph W. Byrnes said he did not believe the personal appearance would have much effect. The lower chamber always has voted overwhelmingly in favor of all bonus legislation. It is not expected to change, although the president announced he would veto his veto message as strongly as he could.

Patman forces were alarmed.

Nurses and Internes Walk Out On Strike

NEW YORK, May 18.—About 120 nurses and several reported internes at the Beth Moses hospital walked out today in a two-hour protest against discharge of seven employees. They were barred by police from returning to work.

The strikers were ordered by police to leave the vicinity of the hospital and they gathered at a nearby hall. Police still refused to permit them to return.

Recreate Town As a Memorial

ROCKPORT, Ind.—The Lincoln Pioneer Village, a memorial to the martyred President, will be dedicated to the Spencer County Historical Society July 4.

The Memorial is surrounded by a high stockade, and its buildings duplicate log cabins, churches, schools and stores that stood in Spencer County between 1816 and 1830, the years Abraham Lincoln lived there.

More than 3,000 logs donated by farmers in the county were hauled to the memorial and fashioned into the buildings by FERA workers.

The village will consist of buildings when completed, George Honig, sculptor and Lincoln lore authority, has directed the work.

Among the more interesting buildings in the memorial are replicas of Judge Pritchard's law office where Lincoln obtained books for study; the home of Daniel Grass, a meeting house for early settlers; the Fiverson Baptist church, where Thomas Lincoln, his wife, and Abraham worshipped, and Tom Tom Lincoln's cabin.

The project is 95 per cent completed.

In a statement to newspapers Rev. Vermillion said he had called on county and district attorneys in El Paso to close gambling houses by injunction, but that they both refused.

"In view of the attitude of those two officials, there remains the alternative of a private citizen to institute proceedings, or appeal to the attorney general or to the governor to send rangers to clean up the town," Rev. Vermillion said.

Society Found Guilty of Failing Youth

They put society on trial in the high school building at Orange, N. J., the other day, accusing it of failing to give youth a square deal, and after a great deal of talk they found it guilty as charged.

"They" were some 3500 adults, drawn to the building by agencies of the Welfare Federation and civic societies; and this odd trial took place because a number of groups of young people had recently drawn up a series of charges against society.

Society, said the youngsters, fails youth because it makes it hard for youth to get jobs, makes proper marriage difficult, fails to provide institutions for the furthering of friendship, offers many moral pitfalls in the shape of erotic literature, gambling joints, and gin-mills, and fails to teach youth how to use its leisure time to best advantage.

This was the indictment that drew the grown folks of Orange into their high school auditorium for a general discussion; and it would be a highly useful thing if the same sort of trial could be held in many other cities, because it helps to open our eyes to the responsibility which we owe to the young people who will be the adults of tomorrow.

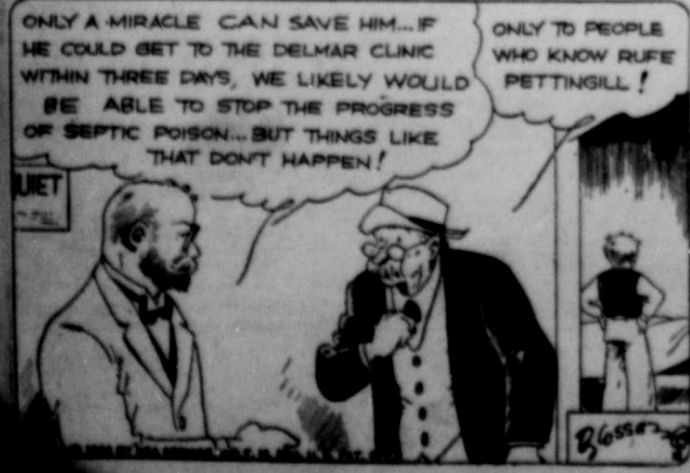

It isn't so very much that these Jersey youngsters are asking, when you stop to think about it. Just a chance to earn a living, a chance to found a home without too many of those delays and trials that take the heart out of a person, a chance to grow up to decent manhood and womanhood, and a fairly even break in the age-old struggle for ordinary human happiness.

And yet youth seems to feel—if this case can be taken as a fair sample—that society is failing to provide even that minimum. And if that is true, then we are failing youth about as miserably as any society could fail.

We are rather fond of talking about the follies and the wildness of our younger generation. Grown people have been doing that since the days of Job, and they'll probably keep it up to endless time.

Until we can meet this criticism, and make our society the kind of place in which youth gets the break it is looking for, we have small reason to talk about youth's own shortcomings.

Summer Sweethearts — By Mabel McElliott

BEGIN HERE TODAY Katharine Strykhurst, beautiful, 29, is discontented with the useless round of social activities that make up her life. Her father and aristocratic stepmother, Bertine, refuse to let Katharine undertake any sort of work. Katharine rides daily with Michael Heatheroe, young westerner who runs a riding club. Sally Moon, local coquette, also enrolls at the club for riding lessons. Zoe Parker, Katharine's friend, returns from Europe, where she was sent to forget a love affair with Gibbs Larkin, of whom her parents disapprove. Zoe is still in love with Gibbs. He comes to see her and Katharine, against her will, helps them keep the visit secret. Dr. John Kaye, a relative of Bertine's, visits the Strykhursts. CHAPTER IX After the fog the morning was crisp and cool and invigorating. There was a blue sky, high ruffled clouds, and a breeze blowing over the harbor. Katharine dressed hurriedly, after her shower, eager to be out and away. Ellen brought her a tray because the others were not yet stirring. There was crisp toast and clear coffee and strips of bacon under a silver bell. "Oh, Ellen, this is a divine breakfast." "You've got your appetite back, Miss. That's what it is." It was the fog, the brooding heavy weather, that had made her feel so heavy and stupid, Katharine told herself. This morning she wanted to sing. "Dr. Kaye packing?" "I think he is, Miss. I heard him moving around in the gunroom." Bertine had put John in the gunroom, half a flight up, because she said it was quieter. Well, Katharine had said goodbye to John last night; it would spoil things—be an anti-climax—if she saw him again now. Better slip away without saying a word. The morning was clean washed when she stepped out into it. Every separate blade of grass, every newly opened calyx enchanted her.

ALLEY OOP — By Hamlin

What Do You Think?

BY LEO HEALER

What do you think? Of the world, of chain letters, of dust pneumonia, of the storms, the NRA, and of the of our land?

Does one good to have something happen to make us really happy? Not just sit under a palm with one foot dangling from a complacent philosophy, but indicate all that is semi-imaginary and sometimes incredible consider a hypothetical—and a realistic—case of life. The wing incident was just such a case, and since it happened I have been somewhat in a state of perplexity as to the solution. I pass it on to older and more mature minds.

I have hitch-hiked some myself and know what it means to stand for hours watching the cars pass you by, so I applied the brakes and opened the door for the old man.

It is a habit of mine—call it good or bad—to make a quick, sweeping characterization of every person I see. Human nature is my most interesting study, for in this field I can find a hundred and twenty millions of textbooks in this country alone. As he closed the door, I thought to myself: "Hefty, hardy, unburned, a wide, sensuous mouth, eyes either capable of mocking or challenging; a great mop of gray, splendid hair. Cool, indifferent, impulsive, life-loving, generous. Probably a rancher."

Always a safe subject for conversation, the weather was brought in to commence a talk that was to last for 40 miles.

"This country looks like a paradise compared to where I came from," he said.

It does a man good to have someone who will listen to what he has to say when he has been worried for a long time. In telling the worry, it gets the load off the narrator's chest and seems to halve the weight of the burden. I listened.

"Things are green here. Not like the Plains. I guess I oughta call this country home, 'cause I was born between Ranger and Desdemona—58 years ago. When I was just a boy, I left home and started working on ranches and I've been ranching ever since. Thirty-eight years ago I was married. I've always made a good living. We never had no big cars or swell homes, but I managed to give the wife and two daughters most everything they wanted. But they're gone—now. Five years ago the wife died. The next year my oldest girl died, and two years ago I lost my baby girl. When I left, it hadn't rained for two years at Daltart. I own three sections of land there and two at Hereford, but they haven't paid anything those last three years."

Hearing him talk, I concluded that I had missed one thing in his characterization. Here was a man who was a fighter. Here was one who could hold his chin up while Fate kicked him in the face. His wife and children taken from him, no rains to make his lands bear fruit, then the wind that came to blow his lands away. He loved one were only a memory of yesterday; his lands were fruitful, his cattle were sold because there was nothing for them to eat—yet here he was, hitch-hiking 58 to find a better place to live.

But still he talked:

"There is the situation of most of the Plains-country. People are dying of dust pneumonia. Thousands of tenant farmers are out of work because there is nothing for them to work . . ."

Then he paused. His mouth- corners twitched and a solemn expression came over his face. What had seemed to be power and victory now seemed dejection and defeat. Could it be that . . .

"I believe it's coming, friend! I believe it's coming! You read the twenty-eighth chapter of Deuteronomy!"

Then came Clyde, his destination. But his words rode on with me to Abilene, still saying: "I believe it's coming. You read the twenty-eighth chapter of Deuteronomy!"

The twenty-third verse of that chapter says:

"The Lord shall make the rain of thy land powder and dust; from heaven shall it come down upon thee, until thou be destroyed."

There are men who know why the soil has eroded, why the rains ceased, and the reason for the stripping of the winds that have stripped those lands of their fruit-bearing quality. Five hundred years it takes to make an inch of virgin soil, they say. Then if four inches of soil has blown away—as it has done in some regions—in that a two thousand year sentence on the land, a penalty and an assessment?

I do not know! That is why I have asked "What do you think?" Splendid indeed was the triumphal march of Titus through the streets of Rome. Has there been a triumphal march of the wind through the streets of the Plains? Again I ask, "What do you think?"

FORD V-8

Everything you want in a modern motor car

When you talk to the man who owns and drives the car, you're pretty sure to get an opinion you can bank on. We asked a recent purchaser of a Ford V-8 how he liked it.

"It has everything," he said. "Everything I've ever wanted in a motor car."

Nothing spectacular about that—no loud shouting. But it sums up the whole story of the Ford V-8 and the reason it is setting the pace for 1935. That has been the Ford idea always—to give people a well-balanced, all-around car. No one feature is stressed at the expense of others.

Of course the V-8 engine stood out from the beginning. The idea of putting into a low-priced car an engine which had always been associated with the most expensive makes was new and revolutionary. But it was not an experiment. We knew it would prove to be economical as well as smooth and powerful—because we had tested it.

In this 1935 Ford we have tried to bring the entire car up to the modern performance of the V-8 engine. We have aimed for beauty and balance and comfort—as well as usefulness and economy. You probably know some people who are driving this car. We would like to have you ask them how they like it.
