

about dimmitt
and castro county

By Bascom Nelson

The JayCees called it advertising when they talked their way into billboards up and down the city promoting baseball signs for the park during Little League season. They did it with tongue in cheek, knowing it could not be termed effective advertising—and county businessmen knew it too.

But a good many boys had a lot of fun as an indirect result of this expenditure by individuals, and besides, they learned many of our basic rules of good citizenship while doing so.

Everywhere there appears a sign at the ball park, it means another person or business, while they not always could afford it, shelled out the necessary money for a good old-fashioned "it's good for the community" project.

Try to figure, if you will, how many out of town stores where you do your trading would have been willing to do for Dimmitt and Castro County what these men did.

Last week we griped long and loud about the din and clatter caused on the streets by unmuffled scooters, cars and motorcycles. As we expected, the situation hasn't changed this week, except that it seems every kid and his dog have a motor scooter without a muffler. And they all seem to be trying to break some kind of acceleration record apparently.

We would hesitate to even hint that these little mechanical contrivances are dangerous to life and limb, because however it may look or sound, the youngsters are apparently capable operators since we have had no accidents of any consequence this year.

Motor scooters are a fine, exciting thing to have, if used in their proper perspectives as a means of transportation and not for disturbing the peace. They can be safe, welcome to the community, and can become as accepted as bicycles were during years past.

But it will take some cooperation on the part of these boys before they get the good will of everybody which is necessary if they plan to keep the machines.

Little Rock, Arkansas is probably the scene of the funniest (or most daffy, as you prefer) incident in the south for many years.

Our knowledge of the incident came from an Associated Press story under a banner headline on Wednesday's afternoon Amarillo newspaper. It started out: "Grim-faced National Guardsmen, following orders of Governor Orval Faubus, today forcibly prevented racial desegregation at Little Rock Central High School."

And how did these grim-faced soldiers prevent the evil racial desegregation from polluting the pure air of Little Rock? Why they held their rifles and bayonets at high port and valiantly stood off an army of nine Negro children. There were 270 guardsmen the first day and 100 the next.

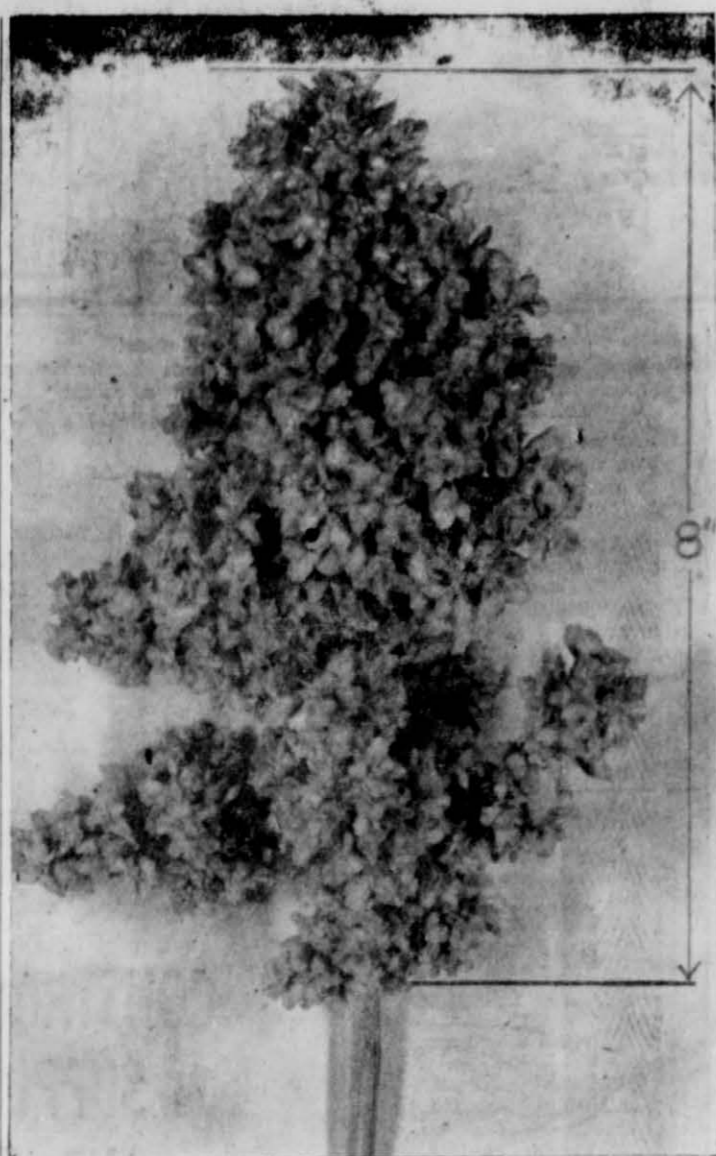

One frontal assault was made on the brave guardsmen. A young Negro girl repeatedly tried to break through the line but was thrown back every time.

We're willing to wager the only thing that could ever look more odd than this in the south would be a Ku Klux Klan meeting.

The guardsmen were armed with rifles, pistols and bayonets and were probably quite proud of themselves for their actions in the face of overwhelming odds.

It is sad that men of any race can put themselves into such a stupid position as did the National Guard of Little Rock.

There has been quite a ruckus over the integration problem and we have one solution: Either admit Negroes are American citizens and let them have every privilege of that honor; or deny their citizenship and treat them like we are treating them at present. It's just about that simple.

ONE FOR THE BOOKS—This head of something or other was found growing in a milo field on the Carl Easterwood farm south of Dimmitt this week. It was brought into town by Joe Cowen who turned it over to the News to see if it could be identified. Guesses ranged from a cross between milo and careless weeds to assumptions that it was some mutated form of grain. Whatever it is, county agent Marvin Simms or First State Bank farm representative Edd McLeRoy were unable to identify it. The head is grayish-pink in color and the seeds definitely resemble the structure of grain on a milo head but from there all similarity ends. The head will be in the News office for the next few days for anyone who cares to try to identify it.

Longhorns to Open 1957 Season Against Estelline At Hart Friday Night at 8 o'clock

Hart High School grid practice began August 26th with 25 boys reporting. Two workouts were held daily all last week. The boys reported in fine shape and have worked hard, showing lots of hustle according to Coach Shelby. He is well pleased with their showing.

The first week of practice, concentration was on blocking, tackling and offense timing. The Longhorns will use the Split-T formation.

Hart plays Estelline on Friday night, Sept. 6 at Longhorn Stadium. Kick-off time is 8:00 p.m. The following boys are ready to see action on Friday night:

Lonnie Bradley, Edgar Byrd, Darrell Dunham, Johnny Hindman, Poncho Rubalcaba, Jerry Varner, Ronald Clark, Ronnie Farris, Jerry Kittrell, Joe Webb, Nick Zapata, Bob Bowden, Bob Dunham, Harvey Garrison, J. D. Myrick, Gene Varner, Donald Clark, Mickey Dunham, Kenneth Jennings, Connard Riddles, Bobby Ward, Jimmy Sharp, Jim Holster, Stanley Henderson.

Probable starting line-up for the Estelline game will be:

Mrs. Jim Davis Will Write Hart News

Ground Observer Corp Needs Volunteers

The local ground observer corps needs volunteers to watch for and report aircraft passing over this area it was announced this week.

A meeting will be held in the Legion Building on Thursday, September 12 at 8 p.m. to organize a local ground observer corps and secure members. Everyone over 14 years of age is eligible to volunteer.

The Ground Observer Corps is a civilian component of National Defense and is active in all states of the union. Basic purpose of the Corps is to act as a warning agency in case of enemy attack by aircraft. It also fulfills other incidental purposes such as reporting progress of military aircraft through the air.

Scouts to Organize New Troops Tuesday

A Boy Scout reorganizational program will be held Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock in the Scout Hut (Old Legion Building on southeast corner of City Park). Purpose will be to set up new troops and encourage new members to participate in the Scouting program in Dimmitt.

In charge of the evening's activities will be Scoutmaster Goldman Dyer. All boys between the ages of 11 and 13 have been urged to attend. A watermelon feast will climax the program.

Farm Tour Shows How It's Done

An educational meeting and farm tour, sponsored by the First State Bank of Dimmitt and the Running Water Soil Conservation District, was attended by about one hundred farmers and businessmen at Sunnyside Thursday.

The program started at 10 a.m. with Mr. Marvin Jensen of the Amarillo Experiment Station giving a talk on fertilizing and irrigating wheat. He pointed out that wheat used very little water during the late fall and winter months and started making heavy demand on soil moisture from the joint stage through the hard dough stage. He also said that if wheat was allowed to become a little dry at the joint stage and still not really hurt for moisture, the farmer could expect just as much wheat on a shorter stalk. Mr. Jensen also stated that 80 to 90 lbs. of actual nitrogen per acre on irrigated wheat would give an economical return. If a farmer only prewatered his wheat, then fertilizer might not be practical.

Mr. Earnest Thaxton of the Lubbock Experiment Station gave a talk on watering cotton and milo. He said that in most cases watering cotton in September was risky business. He also said that milo should have good moisture through the hard dough stage, and that any water applied after that probably would not pay the cost of application.

Mr. Sam Gilbreath gave a timely talk on raising milo and wheat and their place in crop rotation. Mr. Gilbreath believes that planting row crop on the same land over a period of years will eventually get a farmer into weed trouble. Mr. Gilbreath said he always summerfertilized enough land for his wheat acreage and then follows his wheat land with milo or cotton.

Mr. Ray Joe Riley brought out several points on the problems of farmers raising hybrid milo for planting seed purposes. He also pointed out that the Johnson grass and milo cross in much of the hybrid milo will be a weak perennial plant and will probably not be too much of a problem.

The noon meal was prepared by the ladies of the Sunnyside community in cooperation with the First State Bank of Dimmitt.

The afternoon was spent on a farm tour in the Sunnyside community. Farms visited included those of R. B. Hayden, Ray Riley, Troy Blackburn, Milburn Hayden, W. W. Gilbreath and Roy Cluck.

McLeRoy stated that the meeting and farm tour was considered highly successful by those who attended.

Insects Pose New Threat to Grain Sorghum Crops

Army Worms and False Cinchbugs Appear in County

For the first time in several years insects are posing a definite menace to Castro County grain sorghum farms.

Doing the most damage at this time, according to Edd McLeRoy, farm representative of the First State Bank is the army worm, a large worm that moves into a field in droves and strips the plant of its foliage. In some cases they also do some head damage.

Infestation seems to be heaviest in the east part of the county, although their appearance has been spotted all over. If a farmer has these worms in his fields and his milo has not yet reached the hard dough stage, then he should immediately take steps to remove the worm menace.

Best control measure for these worms seems to be a mixture of toxophene, DDT, and parathion, according to McLeRoy. After milo has reached its present stage, application must be made by plane.

Another insect showing up for the first time in the county in damaging numbers, is the false cinchbug. This bug is less than a quarter of an inch long and attacks the heads of milo in large numbers, leaving them with a blasted appearance.

False cinchbugs normally breed around lakebeds and this should be considered when looking for infestations. They seem to hit fields which have hurt most for moisture. They will hot spots in individual fields and apparently do not tend to kill out an entire crop at one time.

If a farmer should find a heavy infestation of false cinchbugs in his fields, the best control measure is probably 1 1/2 pints of parathion per acre.

"We don't have any idea as to the amount of damage caused by these insects," McLeRoy said, "but it would probably be a good idea for every milo farmer to look over his crops with a critical eye."

Visits Mother
Mr. and Mrs. Jack Boren and Be of Lubbock visited his mother Mrs. R. B. Boren over the week end.

First Load of Grain Delivered Friday

The first reported grain sorghum to be harvested this year was delivered to Sears Grain Company about 3 p.m. Friday, August 30. It belonged to Mr. Odell James of the Sunnyside Community and tested .19 moisture and came from a production of 2,000 pounds per acre dry-land. 6,070 pounds were delivered, according to George Blanton, manager of the elevator.

The second reported load was delivered Saturday at about 6 p.m. by Edd Wilson to Bruegel & Sons Elevator. The load tested .17 percent moisture and was from dry-land acreage. It was Martin Milo and the load weighed 9,440 pounds.

Returns from vacation

Cardinals Placed First In League After All

A final-season tabulation by Summer Recreation Program sponsors revealed that the Nazareth Cardinals won the Little League championship, instead of being involved in a tie with the Braves as announced earlier. Final standings are:

	won	lost
Cardinals	8	2
Braves	7	3
Yankees	4	6
White Sox	3	7

The City Championship playoffs standings were:

	won	lost
Yankees	3	2
White Sox	2	3

The Dimmitt All-Stars won three and lost one game to out of town opponents.

All boys who have baseball uniforms issued them, should turn them in to Coach Thomas Harrison at the Grade School within the next week so they can be stored.

Coach Harrison said the JayCees wanted to extend their special thanks to umpires W. R. McElroy, Dery Cates, Ray Schulte, and Elmer Schulte; coaches Leo Fields and Goldman Dyer; to the Chamber of Commerce for purchasing the trophies given during the all-star tournament; to the Lions Club for their help; to the Coca-Cola Bottling Company; to Tom's Candy Company; to Glen Youts for announcing; to Dr. Bischoff for the use of his loud speaker system; to Odell Arnold for mowing the field; and to the Nazareth Community for their general good support during the season. Many other people, too numerous to mention, also aided in the summer program with their time and energies, Harrison said.

THE 1957 DIMMITT BOBCATS

Bobcats Meet Springlake In First Game Here Friday Night

When Springlake High School's Wolverines take on Dimmitt's Bobcats here Friday night at 8 o'clock, both teams will be trying to see just how good they are.

According to Dimmitt's coach J. D. Covington, Springlake is apt to find they are pretty good, and Dimmitt might or might not come out of the game feeling like a winner.

Both teams are pretty much dark horses, as is any team during the preseason guessing. Dimmitt will have nine 1-year lettermen back and five 2-year men. This should mean that Dimmitt will have a chance of coming up with a good team, but they have less of a chance of producing a district winner than some of the other nearby schools who have more men returning from top flight teams of last year.

"One thing we want," Covington went on "is a crowd. We're going to be tight on seating capacity again this year, but we'll need everyone out to see the boys play football. Our fans mean a lot and we'd like to see every bleacher seat filled."

Starting lineup for the game Friday night is not complete, and Covington indicated that none of the positions were securely filled.

Captains elected by the team are Keith Lowe, Gary Cleaver, and Zay Gilbreath, all two-year lettermen and seniors.

Films of Friday night's game with Springlake will be shown Tuesday night at 8 p.m. in the Grade School Cafeteria to the general public. J. O. Ayers, local photographer, is shooting the game movies free of charge and Dimmitt businessmen are paying for the film and processing.

Assisting Covington this year will again be Alvis Fuquay and Johnny Ethridge.

The Bobcats will be sporting new uniforms this year, similar to those worn last year.

Next week's games will include a joust with the Levelland freshmen by the freshman Bobcats at 6 p.m. Thursday and a B-team game with Friona following at 7:30 the same night.

On the Bobcat football team this year are: Jimmy Tate, center; Boyce Tate, center and guard; Coyce Wilkinson, guard;

Cary Johnson, guard; Mike Bailey, guard; Ben Holcomb, guard and tackle; George Frye, tackle; Leon Crum, tackle; Burl Hyatt, tackle; Jack Ragland, tackle; Gary Cleaver, end; Jerry Cluck, end; Jerry McGowan, end; and Hal Ratcliff, end.

Also Clint Smithson, end; David Bradley, halfback; Ted Collins, halfback; James Collins, halfback; Jimmy Curtis, halfback; Keith Lowe, halfback; Norman Nelson, halfback; Jerry Hyatt, fullback; Don Shelton, fullback; Zay Gilbreath, fullback; Carlos Barnes, quarterback; Truman Touchstone, quarterback; Houston Frye, guard; Gordon Thanisch, end; and Quinfred Oakley and Marion Oakley.

I have garden-fresh fruits and vegetables in my ELECTRIC home freezer, all the time!

says MRS. ROY QUALLS OF GUYMON, OKLA.

Last year Mrs. Qualls froze over 300 pints of garden-fresh vegetables which, she says, "... really means a great savings in my family food budget all year." In addition to buying meats in season, and in quantity, for additional freezer savings, Mrs. Qualls passes on this tip, "I do a considerable amount of baking, especially biscuits, usually 10 to 12 dozen at a time. I chill them, break them apart, wrap in wax paper and freeze them in my freezer. Then, when unexpected guests arrive, I have hot biscuits in a matter of minutes!"

"KEEP-SAKES"

In every home there are keepsakes. Perhaps it is a piece of cloth, a quilt, a picture or a pair of tiny shoes. They may not be worth much money, but we wouldn't part with them for sentimental reasons. God has many important things for us to keep.

He wants us to keep our hearts with all diligence. Pro. 4:23. With the heart we believe, Rom. 10:9; think, Heb. 12:14. But we are not to have "peace at any price." Rom. 12:18.

We are to keep ourselves; In the love of God, Jude 21; for idols, 1 Jno. 5:21; our bodies in subjection, 1 Cor. 9:27; unspotted, Jas. 1:27; Rev. 16:15.

We are to keep the commandments. The whole duty of man, Eccl. 12:13. We cannot enter into life without, blessedness depends upon keeping the commandments, Rev. 22:14.

Teachers See Pacific Paradise

By Mrs. Fawn Welker

Delta Kappa Gamma women teachers were entertained with a luncheon in Honolulu during their visit to Hawaii. The luncheon was held at the time they landed in Honolulu August 4 until their departure. The women sang and danced and played their beautiful music. They enjoyed their lovely islands with their fragrant flowers and their beautiful music. They enjoyed their lovely islands with their fragrant flowers and their beautiful music.

Before there was a language on the islands, the people expressed themselves in chants and dances. And as one sees how well these "Lovely Hula Hulas" can tell a story, it seems that they got a long very well without words. But the missionaries came and decided that there should be a language and so made one largely from the sound of the words in the chants. It is very simple and musical. Each vowel has but one sound and the consonants are given full value always. Twelve letters make up their alphabet. Schools were started in 1842 only one year behind those on the mainland. In fact Californians sent their children to Hawaii to school as being a safer journey than across Indian country to the east. The University of Hawaii ranks seven among colleges. They have no integration problems because they have never had segregation. Aloha Malihini (Welcome Stranger) is seen on signs so often that it could well be a slogan.

The almost perfect climate which is so famed proved just about that. Coverage rainfall is from one hundred fifty to two hundred and fifty inches. Some areas have five hundred inches. Sugar is the biggest industry, the crop requiring irrigation. The tourists trade in fish, becoming second in importance. Hundreds of miles of coffee plantations border the highway on the island of Hawaii. The growth of the crop depends on the altitude. At a certain height the overcast and rainfall provide the needed shade and moisture. Schools are closed from September to December to give families the opportunity to pick the coffee beans. Children's earnings are saved for their education making it possible or part of them to attend college which accounts for the high literacy.

Highways are made from one type of lava rock. Not all of it is usable. Dates of eruptions are posted frequently along the scenic routes showing the great influence of volcanic activity. The most recent eruption was in 1953. No great concern was evidenced by the Hawaiians over the eruptions and tidal waves which frequently occur. Hurricanes pass the islands according to all reports.

Director in charge of the conference was Mrs. Helen Coover of Tulsa, Oklahoma. Mr. Coover also made the trip as did several other husbands of Delta Kappa Gamma members. Miss Margaret Boyd of Stuebenville, Ohio, International President spoke at the President's Banquet with the topic "Hands Reaching Out" which was so in keeping with the general spirit. Outstanding guests from Texas were Mrs. Enoch Holden, Austin, International Founder; Dr. Stella Traveek, Dr. Madge Davis, Wichita Falls, State President and Daria Thompson, Waco, Immediate Past State President.

Dr. Davis will be the speaker at the Administrators Banquet in Dimmitt, October 5, given by the local Delta Kappa Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma. Mrs. Fawn Welker, president of Delta Kappa Chapter of Dimmitt and Miss Mildred Hoke, Gamma Iota Chapter of Plainview attended the conference in Honolulu. Miss Hoke participated in a panel discussion at the conference and also participated in the panel discussion with Miss Hoke.

Delta Kappa Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma comprises Castro, East Smith and Farmer counties. First meeting of the current year will be a workshop at the home of Miss Hazel Merritt, Mrs. Goldstein, Mrs. O. K. Howe, Mrs. Hattie Boling, Mrs. Charles Vandiver and Mrs. Fawn Welker.

It might be interesting to note that Hawaii has the second largest cattle ranch in the world. It is the Parker ranch and is inherited from generation to generation. The King ranch in Texas which is the largest, is incorporated, often are quick to left, making the Parker ranch the largest individually owned. Miss Hulse and Mrs. Welker visited the grass stacks of Robert Louis Stevenson and made pictures of the interior as well as the outside. They also made many other interesting prints and slides as well as purchasing some which they invite their friends to see.

TV Interference

A number of youngsters, out this way got in a bit more of that last minute visiting before starting or returning to school, Tuesday, Sept. 4.

Mr. and Mrs. David Matthews, of Ft. Worth, spent the day on Sunday with Jack and Jackie Flynn and Joe. Joe last joined the boys for the day, Sunday. Allan Webb visited with Joe last Sunday. David and Ken Job, Shannon visited with their Grandparents, the B. E. Sinclears, Sunday and Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Kay Roberts enjoyed visiting and having dinner with the Allred Cribbs, of Plainview, Monday. Also, guests of the Cribbs were the Conrad Billmeyer of Oklahoma, Mrs. Billmeyer and Mrs. Cribbs are sisters and nieces of Mrs. Roberts.

Mr. and Mrs. Blanton Armstrong and family and Mr. and Mrs. Allen Brockman were callers in the East last home, Monday.

Mr. Lloyd Last of Littlefield spent Labor Day with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Last, of Castro County Hospital last Sunday. Mrs. Houston Last visited with Mrs. Doyle Underwood for awhile Tuesday evening.

Miss Kathryn Duce returned to Curran, Texas, Monday, to start another year as a First Grade Teacher, there. Miss Duce has been visiting her mother, Mrs. Gaines Nell, for several weeks.

Little Master Ray Earl Shannon stayed with his grandparents, the B. E. Sinclears, from Wednesday until Sunday while his parents, the Fide Shannons, were in Possum Kingdom.

Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Sinclear were in Hereford, Tuesday, for business and visiting.

Mrs. Iver Bagwell and Nelda were in Amarillo, Tuesday.

Mrs. Milton Bagwell and boys attended a Class Reunion for the Dimmitt 1953 Graduates in the home of Mrs. Johnny Powell. The group had a wonderful time and one of the highlights was the "showing off" of the children of the Grads.

The Cecil McSpadden family returned home Monday evening from a week's visit in Ruidoso, New Mexico with Mrs. Spudde's parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Graham, Sunday, and the Graham's were hosts for the Dimmitt Dinner Club Saturday evening. The Iver Bagwells were hosts with the guests Wednesday, Mrs. Brown's cousins, Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Furlow and Mrs. Mary Bailey, and her aunt, Mrs. Dolly Taylor, all of Canyon.

The Browns returned to Canyon with them for a Get-together and ice cream in the home of their Aunt Wednesday. The Browns returned home Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Bagwell and boys, Mr. R. M. Dunn and Mr. Donald Currie of Lubbock, spent the day with the Iver Bagwells, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Vern Last were entertaining for a few days in New Mexico. They left Dimmitt Wednesday.

Sunday afternoon callers in the Fred Bruegel home were Mr. N. L. Wesson and daughters, Miss Sharon Wesson and Mrs. Peggy James and Cris, all of Hereford.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Bruegel are the proud parents of a new baby girl. She made her appearance in the Castro County Hospital last Wednesday, August 28th at 8:28 p.m. She weighed in at 7 pounds and 3 ounces and measured a full 18 inches in length. Her name? Well, after much deliberation, her parents decided to call her Theresa Elaine.

Mr. Fred Bruegel's niece and nephew, Miss Louise Bruegel of Ruidoso, Germany and Mr. Carl Dolph Bruegel of Monterey Park, California, who have been visiting the Bruegels for awhile, left for Monterey Park, California Wednesday morning. They plan to do a little sight-seeing on the way to let us all be a little more careful in the future, and give these boys every right-of-way. Thanks, HAVE YOU FORGOTTEN?

A large group was present. The food was grand and some present said they "almost" ate too much. Being there were no Doctors present. I am led to think that they anticipated this and that they were at home catching some early sleep so that they could be on call later in the night when the "hummy-aches" began. Everyone had a grand time according to those attending from out this way.

We were very sorry to hear of Elbert Smith's accident, Monday. Mr. Smith caught his right hand and arm in a sludge cutter which resulted in his losing a finger and receiving a bad cut on his arm. He was dismissed from the Castro County Hospital Wednesday and was doing fine at our last report.

Mr. Ira Brown also had an unfortunate accident when he collided with a Maize head. I didn't get the details of how this happened, but it resulted in his getting some pollen from the Maize head in one eye which later caused infection in both eyes. The Browns went to Plainview, Saturday, where he had the pollen removed and received treatment for the infection. He is now doing and seeing quite well.

It has come to my knowledge that there has been some friction in a certain family concerning the closing of the windows of their car when they are through using it. It seems the lady-of-the-house prefers the windows to be closed in order to keep the dust out and the car clean. After much pointing, and perhaps a little nagging, the other, the wife finally resorted to placing readable signs on each of the doors saying, "KEEP WINDOWS CLOSED." It has helped, Mrs. Nelson, or should I ask your husband, B. M. Sr.?

"I've been asked to take a little space in my column and ask that all motorists, who are on the streets when the Fire Whistle sounds to please pull over to the right as far as possible and stop so that our Firemen can get to the fire as quickly as possible. Several times, the Fire-Boys are forced to stop and wait for moving traffic causing them to be late in reaching the fire. I know that if some of my property were ablaze, I would certainly want the firemen to be there as soon as they could get there and I am certain the rest of you feel the same way. Let us all be a little more careful in the future, and give these boys every right-of-way. Thanks, HAVE YOU FORGOTTEN?"

Milo Hybrids Feature of Station Field Day

Agriculture's new miracle crop, grain sorghum hybrids, together with many open pollinated varieties, are marked for star roles in the High Plains Station's first annual Field Day on September 18 at Halfway in Hale County.

More than 200 grain sorghums of both types will be available for inspection by High Plains farmers on that date, Dr. J. H. Davis, Associate Head of the Station, announced Saturday.

"And more than half of these are hybrids, grain sorghums which Agronomists believe have the ability to increase pre-erect yields 30 per cent over those of the old, open pollinated varieties."

The High Plains Station is located at Halfway, fourteen miles west of Plainview on Highway 70. It is an independent, non-profit, agricultural experiment farm which is supported entirely by farmers, businessmen and other private individuals.

"The purpose of the station's grain sorghum tests is to find those hybrids varieties and strains that will make the most clear profit per acre for the farmers in the region," Dr. Davis explained.

The station's investigations to find these more profitable grain sorghums include five different tests plus a 90 acre production area—all of which make up the largest and most comprehensive of the projects underway at the High Plains.

A second study consists of 40 entries in 35-foot, 2-row plots, with three replicates each. This test is a cooperative project with Jack King of College Station, a Texas Agricultural Experiment Station Agronomist. "And most of the 40 entries in it are unreleased hybrids," Dr. Davis added.

Another test consists of 104 entries most of which are unreleased hybrids. These include the six open pollinated varieties and the five hybrids, grain sorghums which Agronomists believe have the ability to increase pre-erect yields 30 per cent over those of the old, open pollinated varieties."

"He cited the eleven as Cap-Kask, Combine Hegari, DeKalb, Hybrid 63-A, Martin, Plainsman, Redline 38, 7078 and Texas Hybrids 621, 610 and 620.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

OUR SOIL ★ OUR STRENGTH

Those who missed the farm tour August the twenty ninth certainly missed seeing some good farming and conservation practices and some good looking crops. After an interesting morning program and a fine meal served by the ladies of the Sunnyside Community, about one hundred and six people started the tour. The first stop was on Mr. R. B. Haydon's farm where bench leveling and pipe line were observed. Haydon told the group that the bench leveling certainly fit on his steep land and really paid off. The next stop was on the Riley farm where yellow end-sperm maize and fertilized maize were discussed. At the same stop Mr. Haydon discussed corn production as it fits in his rotation. The next stop was on the Troy Blackburn farm where cowpeas interplanted in maize were observed. Blackburn is sold on this practice and feels that they not only add nitrogen to the soil, but that the peas save water by shading the ground and holding weeds down. They also improve the soil condition and make plowing easier. Hybrid varieties of maize were also observed on Blackburns place. The next stop was again on R. E. Haydon's place where we observed and had a discussion on hybrid maize seed production.

Space will not allow a complete discussion of all the stops made, but several other places were visited. We looked at sweet clover as a soil improving crop on Punk Glibreath's place and discussed its advantages. From Glibreath's we went to the Roy Cluck farm and saw some good perennials sudan grass; a feed lot

UNEXPECTED PAY

By Pauline French Stacy

GRIFF CARRIGAN looked quickly away from the pair of disapproving blue eyes in the rear view mirror. He wasn't enjoying the drive from the city to Hangman's Lake. Why did he see "blue" eyes, he wondered, when he'd purposely covered them with dark glasses.

Jutting his stubbled chin, Griff jammed his foot harder against the accelerator. This was his first "job" and he was anxious to get it over with. The highway curved down, in, then up and out again. A sign, "Lookout Point", flew by. People were crazy, rickshitting their necks to catch a skillet-full of trout. The boss was crazy too, sending him off up here gunning for the biggest fisherman of them all, J. Shepard Van Buren. Him, Griff Carrigan.

"Maybe I'm crazy too," Griff thought. But then he was desperate for a fast five hundred. He couldn't go home broke. Griff couldn't wait to get back home to the old folks, now he realized that was where his place was. Like Nellie. You'd think Nellie was married to that hick town, from that letter she wrote. And if Griff didn't jet a bee-line back there, next thing you knew she'd be writing him a "Dear John" letter, some other guy staring over her shoulder.

There was the sign, "Boulder Canyon", off to the left. Griff picked up speed. Swinging off the highway, Griff rocketed up the stony trail. The creek thunder-clapped down the mountain to his right. Tall pines towered above clusters of tents and trailers. The boss had provided him with tent, fishing gear, bedding, canned food, as well as instructions as to how to dispose of the stolen license plates and the gun. Even if things got warm, there was no reason for anyone to suspect him, Griff Carrigan, of killing J. Shepard Van Buren.

Griff wondered what sort of war raged between the boss and J. Shepard Van Buren. Wondered what strange quirk of fate had led him to confide in a buddy who was able to jigsaw his need and that of the boss into the picture of Five Hundred Dollars.

"Danger: Slide Area," a sign read. A fair-sized rock rolled out of the underbrush ahead and to his left. Griff watched it angle toward the creek. He saw an old man sitting on a log, readying his rod for casting into a pool between the stair-steps of boulders.

He pulled the emergency brake, leaped from the car. Ran, stumbled, and raised his head in time to see the rock hit the log, catapulting it into the stream.

And then he saw the old man. Rather, he saw a hat, a replica of his own; a pair of dark glasses; a stubble of beard. The man was treading water. Griff saw the sharp rocky ledge of the pool, green and slimy.

He was proud of himself, catching on so fast. There were several short pieces of rope in his tent bundle. Jerking one from the trunk of his coupe, he ran back to the pool. Bracing his feet against the surface of the boulder, Griff tossed the other end of the rope. The old man caught it in a matter of seconds. Griff pulled the old fellow out. Getting a blanket from the trunk, he wrapped him and carried him to the car.

He carried the old fellow inside. Seeing them, a little old white-haired woman began to flutter. Bringing a robe and slippers she knelt before the old fellow. Griff wondered if Nellie would stay that devoted to him. "Never mind that yet, Martha," the old man said. "Just bring me my checkbook." He looked at Griff. "Words can't tell you how grateful I am. Money might. Look like you could use a little."

alfalfa as compared to cotton following barn yard manure. Jimmy Cluck gave a discussion at each stop.

Went to Vega Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Morgan of Amherst, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Morgan were in Vega last week end.

"I REMEMBER" BY THE OLDTIMERS

From Sarah Hendricks, Kunkle, Ohio: Forty some years ago, I'd go with my mother to visit neighbors and they'd have big glass bowls with lids on the top, filled with pink and white candy. There were big pieces in the shape of stars and watches with lots of other shapes. A paper was pasted on the top of each piece. The watch was covered with a paper bearing numerals and hands. It was always my secret ambition to nibble on some of this candy, but I never accomplished it. I never knew of anyone offering any. They must have been kept just for looks. Wonder what became of them?

Then there was penny candy that was better than the kind offered today. There were pink and white "Foxy Grandpa's" chocolate marshmallow bears and blocks made of layers of different colors and stick candy of all flavors.

The cake was nicer, too. It was lacy, with caraway seeds in the center of each tiny piece and now and then a silver ball. We'd get a small cup of it for a penny.

The sugar is just as sweet and good nowadays as it was then. Why can't they give the kids a better break?

From Mrs. Zeida P. Leonard, Bainbridge, New York: I remember when I was eight and we lived in Caribou, Maine. My uncle, publisher of the county newspaper, had the only automobile in town. It had no top and the floor boards in front were always "a sea of grease," but my sister and I felt entitled to "put on air" on the occasions when we were taken for a ride.

Fished at Lake Kemp Mr. and Mrs. Hooper Shaw and granddaughter, Marian and Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Richburg fished at Lake Kemp over the week end, while they visited Mr. T. D. Weatherby who has a cabin there.
