Dour Memories When Blue and Gray Meet

"There might be some fights, but we'll have a lot of fun."

So says Gen. Harry Rene Lee, commander-in-chief of the United Confederate Veterans, in regard to the proposed joint reunion of former Confederate and Union soldiers at Gettysburg in 1938.

That year, 1938, will be the 75th anniversary of the great Civil War battle. To commemorate it, the governor of Pennsylvania has invited the United Confederate Veterans and the Grand Army of the Republic to hold encampments at Gettysburg at the same time. Both organizations have accepted.

For many years, well-intentioned people north and south of the Mason and Dixon line have made efforts to bring about a joint meeting of the two groups. All such efforts heretofore have failed; and even this 1938 affair won't actually be a joint meeting—as General Lee says, "We'll just hold our meeting at the same place the Union soldiers hold theirs."

The difficulty in bringing about such a reunion is a reminder that that dreadful war, fought so long ago, is still a reality to the men who did the fighting.

We have prettied that war up, in our imagination, just as all people do with all wars. We have romanticized it, and made it an affair of bright uniforms and gallant young men and pretty girls in hoopskirts and honeysuckle twining up the white pillars of southern manor houses.

It is stuff for movies and romantic novels, nowadays, and we who were born so long after the last shot was fired slip into the habit of looking back at it much as a graying college alumnus looks back at a fabled football game of long ago.

But the men who did the fighting have another viewpoint, and it doesn't hurt us to be reminded of it.

The Civil War wasn't fought just for fun. The bright uniforms got soiled and torn, the gallant young men had moments in which they were everlastingly sick of the whole thing, the pretty girls grew haggard and thin with anxiety, and a good many of those picturesque white pillars were destroyed by fire, honeysuckle and all.

These old men who will gather at Gettysburgh in 1938 were young and tough, 75 years ago, and they were out to kill one another; and it's hardly surprising if they haven't forgotten.

It will be a fine thing for the country as a whole to have these two groups of veterans fraternizing at last. At the same time we might as well remember that their fraternization is not a memento of a football game. They can meet now on a friendly basis, but they have their memories.

To bring back the auto speed record, perhaps the U. S. should call for a showdown between Sir Malcolm and the young Roosevelts.

Your city, town, or community is just what you make it. If you are not sufficiently interested in its affairs to be willing to assume a share of the burden of conducting it, how can you expect it to be efficiently and economically managed?

INDEPENDENCE

INDEPENDENCE of thought, religion and speech form a cherished American tradition. This independence includes the printed word and is just as much an integral part of the national life as the democratic form of government.

So American newspaper readers find themselves singularly fortunate in the operation of their press associations. The news gathered and distributed to them by these press associations is delivered minus the deft and colorful touch of the propagandist's hand.

Some newspaper readers in other parts of the world are less fortunate. The news that they receive is distributed by press associations that are heavily subsidized, or controlled directly, or censored by governmental agencies.

The result . . . news colored to fit the existing needs of the government.

The world's reading public should be able to demand two things of a press association. . . .

FIRST:—That news should NOT be colored at its source by governmental influence or subsidy.

SECOND:—That news should NOT be used to further any individual private interest . . . political or financial.

The UNITED PRESS fulfills both of these requirements and is printed in the

Oklahoma County Is Still Under a Strict Quarantine

HOBART, Okla., Dec. 14.—Virtually every activity of the 30,000 residents of Kiowa county were governed by a doctor's prescription tonight.

during the past three weeks as spinal meningitis. They attribute the nine other deaths to this malady. To halt the epidemic Dr. C. N. Pearce, state health officer, ordered the mass quarantine, medical science's most drastic weapon.

As the result of the stringent rules Hobart and other Kiowa county towns resembled deserted villages tonight. No more than three persons could congregate at one place in the county.

Only drug stores and grocery stores and establishments rendering essential services were allowed to remain opened. These were manned by skeleton forces, as their activities were restricted in such manner as to prevent assembly of more than three persons.

One had to have a doctor's prescription to buy a gallon of gasoline here. The bans on gasoline were designed to cut down traffic though transit was not hindered and busses and trains were operated.

Worshippers will have to be content Sunday in hearing sermons over the radio, as all churches are closed. The town's only daily newspaper, the Democrat-Chief, suspended publication yesterday for the duration of the quarantine.

Merchants gave health authorities full cooperation after the seriousness of the situation was explained. The quarantine slowed up a thriving Christmas buying rush. One hardware store advertised in the last edition of the paper it would deliver any article anyone saw in the show window and telephoned for. Barber shops were allowed to sit one person at a time. The barber was obliged to go to the door and "next" to prospective customers shivering in the cold.

Strawn Lions Give Minstrel Friday

The Lions club of Strawn presented a negro minstrel at the Strawn High School auditorium Friday evening, with a large crowd in attendance.

Schools Operating Busses Receive Aid

First half of the State Department of Education's financial aid to schools operating busses this year was being allotted Saturday by County Superintendent C. S. Eldridge. The aid totaled $5899.

Approximately 30 Strawn people were in the cast, and among those who were recognized more readily were Rev. W. H. Rucker, who added an interesting bit to the program with a parable and a song, F. D. Phillips, Mr. Caraway and Mrs. Tucker.

Mrs. Mary Belle Downtain of Ranger did a tap dance, which added much to the program.

The minstrel was one of the best ever seen in this part of the country and Ranger citizens who attended complimented the Strawn Lions highly on the high class entertainment they provided.

Miss Velma Brown, taking the role of Santa, presided over the presentation of gifts, during which time fudge and caramels were served.

Miss Dealya Shirley, attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Shirley, was honored, the courtesy paid prior to her closely approaching marriage announced to take place Christmas Day at the home of her parents. With the approach of the holiday season, three Ranger girls attending Texas State College for Women (CIA) will join thousands of college students in the yearly trek homeward when classes close Dec. 21 in celebration of Christmas. Additions to the younger set to participate in holiday festivities include Misses Mary Alice Yonker, Mary Jane Dreinhofer and Myrtle Lucille Mills, who plan to spend the Christmas season in Ranger. The holidays will continue through Jan. 5th.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben F. Rigby have as their week-end house guest, Miss Thelma Gordon of Albany.

Ray Trammell of Brownwood, is visiting in the home of his sister Mrs. J. C. Smith.

Nine hundred toys made in three weeks—gee, that's a lot of toys. But Fire Chief George Murphy and his boys who rendered this fine service say it was just a lot of fun and they enjoyed making them. Can't remember when we have seen so many toys and all kinds. They are finished in attractive colors, and Saturday morning found the boys transferring them to the Tharpe building on Main street, where Santa Claus will call for them.

Immediately after work was begun, the American Legion Auxiliary, Elk Club, Rotary and Lions clubs, gave donations in order that the work might be continued. Individuals in town also came in for their share, donating various materials and tools necessary to carry forward the toy factory.

Members of the fire department who are to be highly complimented on this fine service name, George Murphy, D. R. Reese, Oscar Parrish, Charlie Isbell and Day Mace. J. D. Weaver and Dewey Edwards, who are not employed by the department gave their time and efforts to the project. This should be a very very merry Christmas for a large number of underprivileged children. Other organizations of Ranger are also doing their bit in the giving of baskets and other Christmas boxes.

Only a few more days left for the collection of dolls, Mrs. L. H. Fiewellen and members of Child Welfare club are quite busy making the collection round out in order that Santa may visit several. Your doll will be greatly appreciated not only by the committee but the little child who later finds there is a Santa Claus.

Ruffians Featured On Elks Program

The card prepared by the Elks for their wrestling show Monday night, Dec. 16, has been announced and one of the best cards of the season is the result of much planning.

In the semi-finals Will Perry, the Abilene soldier, who weighs in at 160 pounds will take on Charlie Heard, San Antonio speedster, who weighs the same, 160. This should prove to be a bout that will please the fans, as Perry is noted for his aggressiveness and Heard is the fastest thing seen in the local ring, and always assures a good bout when he steps into the ring. The finals will see a couple of 165-pounders in action when Pat Dowdy, the rough and rowdy ruffian from Oklahoma City takes on Ace Abbott, a former college wrestler, who says he will out his bag and tug boys. The show will start 8:30 and the arena will be comfortable in any kind of weather. Regular prices will prevail these bouts.

Mrs. Mitchell Honors Daughter

A group of young folks were entertained last Thursday evening when Mrs. Hubert Mitchell honored her daughter, Huberta, with a surprise party celebrating her fourteenth birthday. Many lovely gifts were presented to the honoree.

The group was entertained with games and contests directed by Misses Oma Mitchell and Mamye Robinson.

A delicious refreshment plate of sandwiches, hot chocolate, and cake was served to the following guests: Mildred Fern Mitchell, Betty Blanton, Frances Johnson, Fern Allen Merquay, Sue Turner, Dorothy Mobley, Jimmie Utley, Lois Higdon, Edna Marie Blanton, Helen Patterson, Anna Mae Salters, Dorothy Campbell, and Foy Sanders, Brien Thomas, Charlie Whitefield, James Shackelford, Bob Palmer, Homer Smith, Prentice Ables, James Russell, Robert Ray Herring, Ogie Swift, Wesley Stiffler, and Jim Murphy.

The hostess was assisted by Mrs. Lee Mitchell, Misses Oma Mitchell, Doris Mitchell and Mamye Robinson.

Announcing... North Hodges circle of the Women's Missionary Society of the First Baptist church will offer a Royal Service program at the church Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Program leaders and members of this circle are especially anxious that other circles be well represented.

The Senior Department of the Epworth League of the Methodist church will have as the program, a scripture reading and series of questions at the meeting this evening.

R. A. Party

The R. A. chapter of First Baptist church was entertained with a tacky party at the church Friday night, in which proved one of the gayest social affairs to have been their compliment this season.

The church carried decorations of odd nature. The piano was draped with striped ticking, and weeds were used in pots and coffee cans as the floral note. All guests appeared in costumes in keeping with the occasion and Claude Cunningham was given a prize for the most comical costume.

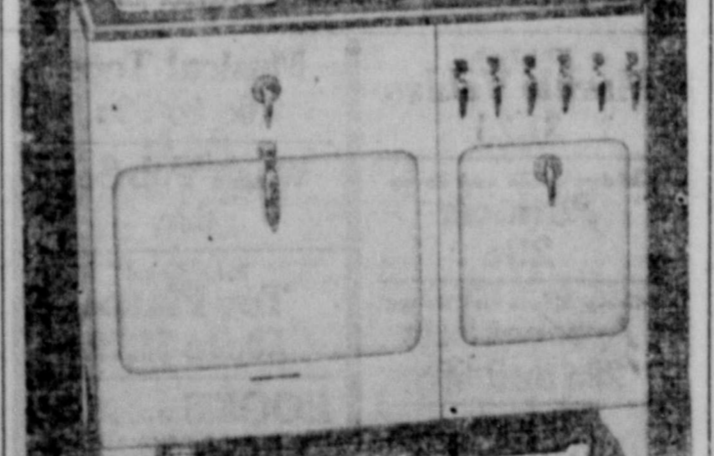

Games and contests were played under the direction of the hosts of the party, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Mitchell, and Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Lewis.

The serving of a refreshment plate brought the lively entertainment to a climax attended by Billy Smith, Claude Cunningham, Walter Lee Jackson, Billy Ross Hodges, Jack Judy, Billy Clyde Davis, F. P. Brushier Jr., James Walsh, John L. McElvain and Anthony Lewis, young son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Lewis.

Wheat Soars On The World Markets

Wheat soared in world markets today following the action of the Argentine government in authorizing the national grain regulating board to purchase wheat from farmers at an equivalent of 90 American cents a bushel. The previous price was 53 cents a bushel.

Chicago wheat opened with two positions up the limit of five cents a bushel. Minneapolis, Kansas City and Winnipeg also were up the limit.

Cunyus reports that the land has been in cultivation for 90 years, and that it was tilled 12 years ago. At that time, there were several bad washes through the field. This year, he says, his best corn was made where these bad washes used to be. They are now level with the other part of the field.

BEAUMONT.—Four bales of good grade cotton were grown on four acres this year by Eric Leger, Jefferson county 4-H club boy, at a profit of more than $50 per acre, according to J. F. Combs, county agricultural agent.

Eric had four acres of black land which he cultivated in the usual way. However, in the late fall of 1934 rotted rice straw and barnyard manure were turned under and the soil was tilled in winter gardening. In the spring, Eric planted his cotton in rows three and one-half feet apart and the plants were left standing in the drill 10 inches apart. About 180 pounds of fertilizer per acre was used.

Eric's gross return was $307.50 and his expenses were $90.57, leaving a net profit of $216.93 or $54 per acre.

Nation's Best in 4-H Club Work

Achievement champions of all 4-H clubs in the nation, William E. Hamilton, 20, of Good Hope, Ill., and Romayne Tate, 18, of Paragould, Ark., are shown here with the President Roosevelt silver trophies they received as awards for their outstanding work. Presentation was made at the international livestock show in Chicago. Hamilton has won 35 prizes with his livestock and corn exhibits and Miss Tate 114 prizes with her food dishes, canning, and sewing.

of 1934-35 has been reported by Phil Allen of Galveston county, according to M. B. Vismann, county agricultural agent. Allen began with 104 hens in his flock and maintained an average of 192 hens for the year with an average production of 183 eggs per hen. Allen's records show that his average feed cost per hen was $2.25 and that he realized his greatest profits during a period of low priced eggs. He attributes his success to the practice of strict sanitation, proper feeding, and good management.

RICHMOND.—"A proper preparation of beds made it possible for me to save all but one of the 136 shrubs I set out," Mrs. G. L. Phillip of Fort Bend county told Miss Loris J. Welhausen, home demonstration agent, in reporting on her yard improvement demonstration. "I put out a number of cuttings, and only 30 per cent of them lived. That was because I did not have time to take proper care of them, however," she added.

Mr. and Mrs. Phillips have sodded the lawn; set out 18 trees for shade; set out 33 native and three nursery shrubs and 13 roses; and have rooted 68 plants from cuttings. One walk was built, one fence moved, and the front fence repaired and painted. Undesirable views have been screened by the use of tall sea grass and coral vine, while native lantana has been used for border plantings. Loy annuals have been used for temporary foundation plants, but they plan to set out permanent shrubs about the base of the house this fall.

MARFA.—Mrs. Jerry Gray, pantry demonstrator in Presidio county, has more than 1,200 containers of canned products on her pantry shelves and is still canning. She has 145 cans of beef, 36 cans of pork, 46 of hominy, 70 of beets, 10 of pumpkin, 80 of spinach, 20 of kraut, 27 chicken, 38 chicken soup, 133 corn, 32 peas, and 106 containers of fruit. She also has tomatoes, tomato juice, carrots, pickles, relishes, preserves and jellies. Mrs. Gray will arrange her shelves and label her cans so that she will have no difficulty in finding what she wants quickly, according to Miss Fontilla Johnson, home demonstration agent.

PLAINVIEW.—"Red cherries allowed to grow in thicket style as wild plums grow will always produce fruit, because the thick bushes protect the fruit," F. M. Dorsey of the Lakeside community in Hale county told Miss Julia Dorsey, home demonstration agent. Dorsey has a plot of small red cherries 30 feet square that produced approximately 11 bushels of fruit.

Thousand Federal Loan Associations Are In Operation

WASHINGTON, D. C.—In less than 2 1/2 years, the Federal type of savings and loan association has developed from scratch into an important element in the entire private home-financing structure. Over 1000 such associations, with resources exceeding $450,000,000, have been chartered by the Federal Home Loan Bank Board since congress provided for federally supervised associations in June 1933. In nine states, the number of investors in Federal associations already exceeds 10 per cent of all investors in all associations of the building and loan type in those states.

These Federal thrift and home-financing institutions, now numbering 1002, are located in 763 cities and towns in 44 states. Of the total, 403 are long-established state-chartered associations which applied for conversion to Federal charter and have been approved after examination of condition. Their assets aggregate $397,065,742. Federal charters are pending on conversion applications from more than 200 additional state-chartered associations. The other 549 Federal associations, holding assets of $59,338,401, are newly organized.

Federal savings and loan associations are private, mutual institutions, locally owned and managed, and federally supervised and examined. Approximately 700,000 people now own shares in these associations. All Federal associations are insured through the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation, established in 1934 for the protection of investors in institutions of the building and loan type. Each of their shareholders is thus safeguarded against loss on his investment up to $5,000. Dividend rates currently paid range from 2 percent to 5 percent annually, and average about 3 1/2 per cent.

All home mortgage loans by Federal associations are made on a long-term amortization basis, repayable in small, fixed monthly installments in from 5 to 20 years, the safest and most convenient type of long-term loan for the borrower. The "direct reduction" plan of payment, employed by many state-chartered associations, is offered by all Federal associations. Because it provides for a definite monthly cash payment over a stated term of years without entailing share investment by the borrower, this plan has proved attractive to home owners. Rates charged on home loans by Federal associations range upward from 5 percent, depending upon the locality and the character of security. The average rate is about 6 percent.

During October, 496 new and 332 converted associations, for which comparative figures are available, made new home loans in an amount 18.5 percent greater than in September, increasing their entire outstanding loans by 3.4 percent during that single month. Of $12,045,000 of new loans in October, 38 percent was for refinancing and 62 percent for new home construction, or purchase of homes, or for repairs and modernization.

In 10 selected new Federal associations, in different states, which have been established for an average period of 15 months, private share investment increased from $748,626 to $2,281,876, or 205 percent, from January 1 to October 31, 1935. During the same ten months, their outstanding home-mortgage loans increased from 1,620,308 to $7,132,667, an expansion of 340 percent.

In common with all other members of the Federal Home Loan Bank System and all other insured institutions, Federal associations are eligible to share investment from funds authorized by Congress for the purpose of increasing the volume of home-mortgage credit available through these private, local institutions beyond the amount obtained from private savings.

Goose Returns to His Texas Home

GANADO, Tex.—Emil Bures, farmer, didn't follow the usual procedure last year by cooking a ring-necked Canadian goose his two sons found exhausted in a field near his home.

Instead, the boys fed and cared for the bird. It became tame and was a great favorite in the Bures farmyard.

The goose seemed to like the atmosphere around the farm, but when geese began their northward flight last spring, he took French leave.

A few days ago, a lone goose suddenly left a flock which circled the Bures homestead and swooped down into the chicken yard.

About forty years ago the Eastman Kodak Company originated their famous slogan "You Press the Button—We Do the Rest" to show how easy it was to take a Kodak picture. To them, we gratefully acknowledge the inspiration for this advertisement.

BE SURE TO GET YOUR MONEY'S WORTH

It's your money. You've earned it. It will be spent. For fuel, clothes, furniture, food, all sorts of necessities.... and if there's any left, for luxuries.

The way to make that hard-earned money go farthest is to purchase products of CERTAIN VALUE. Products backed by well-known manufacturers. Products that are widely bought and used, that are carefully and painstakingly kept to high standards of quality, and that have been found over and over again to give full worth. Advertised products!

When you buy a watch or a rake, a set of china or a radio set that is advertised in this paper, you are buying a product whose maker is willing to talk about it, tell about it, put what he knows about it in print and sign his name to it. When you buy advertised merchandise by name, you get the utmost of purchasing value from every dollar.

Because it doesn't pay to advertise poor products, it DOES pay to buy those advertised.
