RACE REPEAL POINT OF ORDER BEING WRITTEN

AUSTIN, Mar. 6.—While Texas lawmakers gazed at Buchanan Dam on the Colorado River this week-end, one house member had good reasons for remaining behind.

Rep. Harry McKee of Port Arthur, was busy writing a point of order that the race repeal amendment, tacked by the senate on his bill regulating track employees...

No repealist himself, McKee admits the legislature will pass track betting repeal one way or the other.

Other maneuvers first will claim legislative interest next week. Old age pension inflationists, beaten when Gov. Allred broke their sit down strike, felt better when they mustered 73 votes on their old age assistance bill this week.

Plans of Rep. Coke Stevenson of Junction to set up a state land board to give holders the excess land they occupy, has been attacked by Land Commissioner William McDonald.

Courts' Slashing Will Be Fought

Frank Sparks and Cyrus B. Frost of Eastland will attend a house committee hearing Monday at Austin to express opposition of the Eastland County Bar Association to a proposed law which would abolish the two district courts in the county.

It was understood R. W. Patterson and George L. Davenport, judges of the 91st and 88th courts, also will be in Austin this week in connection with the hearings.

Hearing on a bill which would abolish the 91st court, it has been announced, will be held Thursday by a Senate group.

Parties Uninjured In Automobile Smash

Six persons escaped serious injury when the automobiles in which they were passengers collided Friday afternoon near the Eastland postoffice on West Main street.

Slight scratches and bruises sent several to Payne hospital for minor treatment.

In one automobile were Clyde Ross and Miss Ellen Nolan, Corsicana school teachers, going west.

In the other were the following, visiting in Eastland with Gonzalez Manuella, who was a passenger: C. H. Domingo, Mrs. Domingo and Rose Domingo, all of Abilene.

Police Chief W. J. Peters investigated.

Four Charged In Thefts Make Bond

Four persons, indicted March 3 on charges of theft over $50 by a district court grand jury, had made bond Saturday. Tug Underwood of the sheriff's office reported.

The defendants, charged in connection with oil field thefts, made $750 bonds. They were Eska Wooten, M. N. Seaton, Ed Duncan and R. B. Ballard.

BLIND MAKE BROOMS

CLEVELAND.—Sightless workers, under the supervision of the Cleveland Society for the Blind, made and sold 50,399 brooms, and 18,000 whisk brooms in 1936. Total sales amounted to $72,872.14. More than 37 per cent of this sum was paid in wages to the workers.

Farming Program Is Told To 725

A total of 725 farmers last week heard explanations of the 1937 agricultural conservation program at twelve meetings conducted by the extension service in twelve communities.

A meeting Saturday afternoon at the courthouse in Eastland was the next to final explanation of the program.

Due to rain Friday afternoon, the explanation at Alameda was postponed until 7:30 p. m. Monday, at the school house in that community.

County Agent Elmo V. Cook stated Saturday farmers who attended the meetings "showed much interest in the 1937 program."

"Many of them said they saw no reason why the majority of Eastland county farmers should not comply and profit for years to come, both financially and materially. The program has been broadened so much this year that any farmer who has bases established on his farm may comply with the new program."

Attendance at the sessions was as follows: Pioneer, 75; Scranton, 30; Romney, 15; Cisco, 75; Okra, 30; Rising Star, 150; Carbon, 35; Gorman, 150; Colony, 20; Ranger, 20; Desdemona, 30; and Eastland, 50.

Agent Cook, Assistant Agent Hugh F. Barnhart, Layman N. Miller, Dick Weekes, R. E. Bradshaw and R. F. Cox explained the programs.

The last three are members of the 1936 county agricultural committee.

Hull Reveals A Native Invasion Of U. S. Embassy

WASHINGTON, Mar. 6.—Secretary of State Cordell Hull revealed today that Ethiopian natives invaded the compound of the American Legation at Addis Ababa during the bombing of Marshal Rudolfo Graziani.

Hull said that the natives entered the legation compound during the excitement which spread over the capitol after an attempt on the Italian Marshal's life three weeks ago.

He said no violence occurred at the legation. Reports from London stated many Ethiopians were slain after seeking refuge in the American legation.

Hull said the American decision, announced Friday, to discontinue its legation at Addis Ababa had no connection with the incident.

FOES OF COURT REFORMATION TO ORGANIZE

WASHINGTON, Mar. 6.—Foes of President Roosevelt's Supreme Court reorganization program united today for an immediate nationwide campaign.

Accepting the challenge to carry the controversy to the country they organized an intensive drive. It was planned at a series of conferences under the leadership of Sen. Burton K. Wheeler, Dem., of Montana.

First attack on the reorganization under the new strategy was to come from Sen. Edward Burke, Dem., Neb., in a radio address Saturday night. He revised his talk to reply to the President's Thursday night speech.

Administration supporters renewed their campaign to rally public and congressional support. Both factions of organized labor, it was learned, were prepared to join the administration campaign.

On Monday, labor's non-partisan league will hold a conference here to spur its nationwide campaign to enlist wage-earners in support of the court program.

On Tuesday the President will make the second of a series of radio addresses on the judiciary issue.

Funeral Held For Bob Cox's Brother

Funeral services for W. T. (Thad) Cox, 61, retired banker and brother of Bob Cox of Eastland, were conducted Saturday afternoon at the First Baptist church in Dublin, his home, where he died Friday morning. Burial was at Dublin.

Cox had retired from the banking business at Dublin ten years ago.

Other survivors are his wife; a son, Mills Cox, Houston; four brothers, Lee Cox of Georgetown, Este Cox of San Antonio, Claude Cox of New Mexico and L. Hon Cox of San Antonio, and a sister, Mrs. Charles Davis, Hobbs, N. M.

He had been a member of the Baptist church many years.

British Actor Is Missing from Ship

LONDON, March 6.—Frank Voster, 37, British actor and author, disappeared from the liner Paris, a few minutes before it arrived at Plymouth, today, from New York.

Muriel Oxford, 22, chosen "Miss Great Britain," in a beauty contest last year, told Plymouth police she attended a party in her stateroom just before he disappeared. She denied Voster had attempted to jump overboard if she did not promise to marry him, as another passenger said.

Liners Collide At Golden Gate In Dense Fog

SAN FRANCISCO, Mar. 6.—The Dollar Line's President Coolidge, outbound for the Orient, collided today with a tanker in the Golden Gate channel.

The tanker was reported sinking. Coast guard cutters and other craft sped to the scene.

Globe Wireless reported the crash occurred in a dense fog. An unconfirmed report said the tanker was the Texas Company's "New Zealand," also outward bound, by mail.

Bowls 'Em Over On Stage Also

Of course, Ann Corio bowls because she likes to hear the pins crash and see the score mount when she makes a strike or spare. But when you consider that she's one of the country's ace stripe-tease dancers it's easy to understand that the game helps to keep the youthful figure the boys out front applaud so loudly. She's seen in action on a Philadelphia bowling alley.

SETTLEMENT OF STRIKES IS BEING MADE

Settlement of the strike at the Timken-Detroit Axle company was announced Saturday by the United Automobile Workers union. Sit-downers evacuated the plant in a "victory parade" and operations will be resumed Monday.

Representatives of the Chrysler corporation and the auto union were reported "closer together" on collective bargaining for the company's 67,000 employees.

Yellow Cab Company officials at Chicago accused striking cabbies of using gas pipe "persuaders" to force drivers to join a city-wide taxiab strike.

Union officials estimated that 98 per cent of the city's 3,600 cabs were out of service. Officials of the Yellow and Checker Cab companies admitted that at least 2,500 cabs were idle.

Special police squads made 21 arrests, including Oscar Kofkin, president of the Yellow Cab union. One hundred fifty girls went back to work in two F. W. Woolworth stores in Detroit after a week-long sit-down strike which brought higher wages and a shorter work week to 1,200 employees in 40 stores in the Detroit area.

The Committee for Industrial Organization will meet in Washington Tuesday to start a campaign which John L. Lewis, its chief, hopes will unionize several million unorganized workers.

The members of the Alameda Home Demonstration Club met Wednesday, March 3rd, at the home of Mrs. Hazel Wisdom.

Members present for the demonstration were: Mmes. Bill Tucker, Lee Roy Rodgers, Roy Watson, Ernest Calvert, Richard Tucker, Mattie Walton, Hazel Wisdom, Dee Rogers and Misses Della Rogers, Eunice Weeks, Ruth Ramey and Cornelia Faye Stewart.

Each takes a small movie film daily, showing part of the day's activities and these are exchanged by mail.

Government weather stations reported three quarters of an inch of rain at Amarillo and rains at Lubbock, Abilene, El Paso, Del Rio, Austin, Houston, Fort Arthur and Galveston.

More showers were in prospect for East Texas Sunday. Showers were forecast for the Southwest portion of West Texas Saturday night.

Three hours of continuous rain was reported at Amarillo at noon. Farmers said the moisture would make wheat conditioning "the best in years."

Reports indicated the entire Panhandle was covered with rain. Rain began falling at Fort Worth at noon Saturday.

DECLARATION FOR CLEAN-UP WEEK

Declaring the health of any community is largely dependent on cleanliness of buildings, grounds, and, hereon, this is especially important in Ranger, where the eggs leads to our lake, and, hereon, a thorough clean-up of premises of the city and its surroundings is a community and, hereon, all the civic organizations are banding together with a clean-up campaign. I, your Mayor, declare the week of Mar. 7 to Mar. 13 as Clean-Up Week and charge you to work diligently and clean up your premises at once. Trucks may go through and pick up and haul away. Signed, HARRY A. LOGSDON, Mayor of Ranger.

Morton Valley Consolidated School Has Shown Much Progress Since 1930-31 When It Was First Consolidated

The Morton Valley consolidated school had its beginning in the school year of 1930-31, when Sam Jones, principal of Morton Valley school, and Mac Allison, principal of the Pleasant Grove school, together with some of the far-sighted trustees and patrons in both communities, began to make plans for a consolidation which would bring the two schools together.

The people petitioned an election which was held with a majority voting for the consolidation. The advantages of the plan were obvious. A larger faculty would insure more efficient instruction. High school students who had previously been transferring to neighboring schools would now be able to get their work in their home school.

When the Morton Valley consolidated school first opened its doors in the fall of 1931, it was

During the summer of 1935, a gymnasium was built on the campus.

In the fall of 1935 Yellow Mound and Reagan, two neighboring schools, transferred to Morton Valley. Yellow Mound immediately followed this with an overwhelming vote for consolidation in the summer of 1936. Reagan again transferred.

During 1935-36, six more units of affiliation were granted and in the fall of 1936, another 1-2 unit was added, making a total of 16.

At no time, however, has any one phase of the school been emphasized. While it has been the purpose to affiliate the high school, it cannot be said that the lower grades have been neglected. Every care has been taken to see that they have skillful instruction and adequate equipment. Those in command believe firmly that a good foundation is the only basis for permanent growth.

At the present time, the high school offers courses in English, history, science, commercial work, music, public speaking, home economics, mathematics and physical education.

Rising Star School System Has One High School And Two Modern Ward Schools With Total of 658 Scholastics

By E. T. DAWSON, Supt. Rising Star Schools.

The Rising Star School system consists of one central high school building and two ward schools. The main elementary school is located in a three story building in Rising Star and accommodates more than 400 pupils in seven grades. The other ward school is seven miles to the Northwest in the Crocker District, and cares for approximately 100 pupils in six grades. There are 658 total scholastics with an annual enrollment of approximately 700. This greater enrollment than scholastic population is due primarily to a shifting population.

Four buses bring 250 pupils to the various schools each day. One bus in particular accommodates more than 90 pupils each trip, and travels a distance of 64 miles. This bus serves three sets of passengers, operating through the Crocker and George Hill Districts.

Twenty-one teachers are employed. Out of this number only three have no degrees. Three of the administrative group hold Master's degrees. The school program is strictly in accord with the State Department's requirements and presents a curriculum of 22½ affiliated units, with 1 more units to be added this year.

The Rising Star High School boasts an enrollment of 200. Pupils from five different neighboring common school districts are in attendance.

This system is a Rural Aid School and it has been allotted approximately $10,000 this year for aid on teachers salaries, industrial aid, high school tuition, and transportation. This large amount is necessary because of shrinking in assessed valuation and increase in instructional service by employing more teachers.

Rising Star completed its first consolidation when it took in the Peak Common School District in 1930. This increase accounted for the first free bus transportation. A year later Brooks District in Comanche County voted in and another bus was added. Two years later two more buses were added to care for, neighboring districts which could not maintain satisfactory schools and high school transfers.

Rising Star has a very promising outlook for enlarging and improving its educational program. It is conveniently located for an adequate, modern, well equipped, central high school building, which could be made to serve a large rural area. Its trade territory has the possibility of being extended and its business considerably increased. The per capita cost of education could be correspondingly reduced.

In the grammar grades all of the usual courses are offered with addition of public school music and a beginners' class in piano.

The faculty, which has grown with the school, now consists of ten teachers, six of whom hold degrees. The other four are to get their degrees in the immediate future. Houses are furnished to the superintendent and to the principals of both the high school and grade school.

Much has been done at Morton Valley in the way of athletics. In 1936, both the boys and girls won county championships in playground ball. The basketball teams have done well, the boys having twice been county champions and the girls four times.

Morton Valley has an active P. T. A., which last year became a standard association and which has done much to help in the growth of the school.

During these six years of work and progress it was not always clear which path to take, and the way chosen was not always easy. Had there been less cooperation or had the end in view been less clear, the results might not have been so satisfactory. But at no time did trustees, teachers, pupils, or the people in the community lose sight of their goal or stop working. Consequently, growth, if at times somewhat slow, was always steady. There remains yet much to be done and the school can still go far, but we are optimistic in our beliefs that we will eventually reach our goal. We are "not at the top, but climbing."

COOPER SCHOOL

On the first day of school last September suggestions were made by the first grade teacher that the children bring fruit, sandwiches, milk or cocoa, to be eaten before the morning recess. Most every child did this and as the weather became colder plans were made whereby the parents could furnish foods that could be made into something hot for use at this period. Lessons in language, writing, reading and numbers were based on these activities. Much good has resulted from this work.

Men Must Die if Navy Is to Be Fit for War

The flare-back that killed half a dozen men in a gun crew on the U. S. S. Wyoming is a tragic little reminder that the navy man has to take his chances in time of peace as well as in war.

There probably will be the usual squawk from the perennial critics, alleging that the accident proves our naval officers to be incompetent, careless, and poorly trained.

For the navy has to spend its days playing at the most dangerous of all games, using the most dangerous of all implements. No matter how carefully it is played, the game can't be made accident-proof.

A few years ago, the navy had some distressing submarine accidents. The S-4 and the S-51 were sunk after collisions with surface ships, and they took a good many fine men to the bottom with them.

The naval air force, like all other air forces, has frequent accidents. Leaving the dirigible catastrophes out of consideration, there are airplane crack-ups—ships plunging into the sea, ships colliding in mid-air in maneuvers, and so on.

And there are gunnery accidents, such as this one on the Wyoming. High explosive is queer stuff. Handle it long enough, and some day a hunk of it is apt to go off in one's hands, no matter how careful he is.

But the point of it all is that these accidents are the price the navy has to pay for development.

It might be possible to exercise a navy in peacetime so that accidents would not happen. The only trouble is that the exercises wouldn't be worth anything, and the navy wouldn't be ready for action if action should be needed.

You might, for example, conduct your gunnery exercises slowly and with painstaking care, putting the gun crew through its work in slow-motion fashion, and sending each charge of powder to the laboratory for testing before you put it in the gun.

You could maneuver your submarines with extreme care, keeping them always on the surface when other ships were around and letting them dive only when the sea was clear for miles about.

And you could put the air squadrons through their paces in such a way that there would never be any collisions, dives into the sea, or landing deck crack-ups.

The navy is a grim proposition. If it keeps in condition, it is bound to have occasional accidents. Tragic as they are, such accidents simply prove that the navy is doing its job.

DALLAS.—Local supervisors of rural rehabilitation are being instructed to do a more thorough job of supervision, even if it calls for cutting down the number of cases handled.

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

By Mrs. GAYNOR MADDOX

THE approach of spring may turn a young man's fancy to thoughts of love, but it seems to turn a woman's fancy to thoughts of a better silhouette.

At this time of year, crowds of society women and stage celebrities hie themselves to Irvington-on-Hudson, in the Empire State, to live for a week on broths and such, and for the second week on combinations of vegetables.

Liquids and rusks and artichoke sticks—that seems to be today's menu and tomorrow's and the next day's and on to the end of the first week.

The artichoke sticks are made from pulverized Jerusalem artichokes which are high in sugar content. A stick appears at breakfast, along with this slender colation: 1 glass prune juice with senna pods, one cup coffee with hot milk but no sugar and, as stated, an artichoke stick.

Luncheon would hardly be called an over-stuffed affair—at 12 the thinner-downers begin with one glass of cultured buttermilk; at 2 p. m. she ends with another glass of it.

Monday's Menu

BREAKFAST: Prunes stuffed with orange sections, hominy muffins, Canadian bacon, coffee, milk.

LUNCHEON—Hot meat broth, raw vegetable salad, Zwiebach, stuffed baked apple, tea, milk.

DINNER: Apple juice, pan-broiled round steak, mushroom sauce, baked Idaho potatoes, Brussels sprouts, pineapple-marshmallow pudding, coffee, milk.

If you want to call her, stuffs herself with a cup of hot coffee substitute and one of those artichoke sticks. So runs the first week, and there are many to prove that the pounds run away.

Here's a combination of 14 vegetables which is worthy of a place in your health recipe book.

Rose Dor Vegetable Braih: Two quarts water, 2 onions, 1 shallot, 2 sprigs parsley, 1-2 squash, 2 ripe tomatoes, 1-4 pound green beans, 1-2 cup green peas, 3 okra pods, 1 beet, 6 Brussels sprouts, 1-4 cabbage, 1 cup spinach, 1 artichoke.

Bring water to boil. Add the prepared vegetables. Simmer until tender. Strain off liquid. Mash vegetables to puree and return to stock. Season to taste and serve very hot.

Weekly Sunday School Lesson Jesus Prays for His Disciple

Text: John 16:5-7; 17:14-26

BY WM. E. GILROY, D. D. Editor of Advance

THIS lesson on Jesus praying for His disciples recalls the words of Jesus to Peter at the Last Supper, "Simon, Simon, behold, Satan hath desired to have you, that he may sift you as wheat; but I have prayed for thee, that thy faith fail not."

The love of Jesus for His disciples and His deep concern for them was, if anything, intensified by His realization that some would leave them. He knew they would miss His supporting presence, and the inspiration of His own example of faith and courage.

Consequently He assured them that He would send them the Comforter, the Holy Spirit, whose presence would sustain them and who would bring to them all that His own early living presence had meant.

In the presence of some, at least, who remembered and recorded His words, He prayed to the Father for the disciples, whom He was leaving. He realized that they would be in a hostile world where men would hate them.

What strength and inspiration it should give to us individually to know that Jesus prayed for each of us as He prayed for Peter, and that we have an eternal intercessor who would put all the forces of God behind us to keep us strong, and true and faithful.

in the same spirit and with the same purpose that the Father had sent the Son into the world. Supremely He had devoted Himself to them, and it was His earnest prayer that the same sanctification might be theirs.

Nor was He praying for only the immediate circle of disciples. He perceived that there would be the disciples of days to come, then men and women who would see the truth, and accept it as it was proclaimed by those whom He was sending forth.

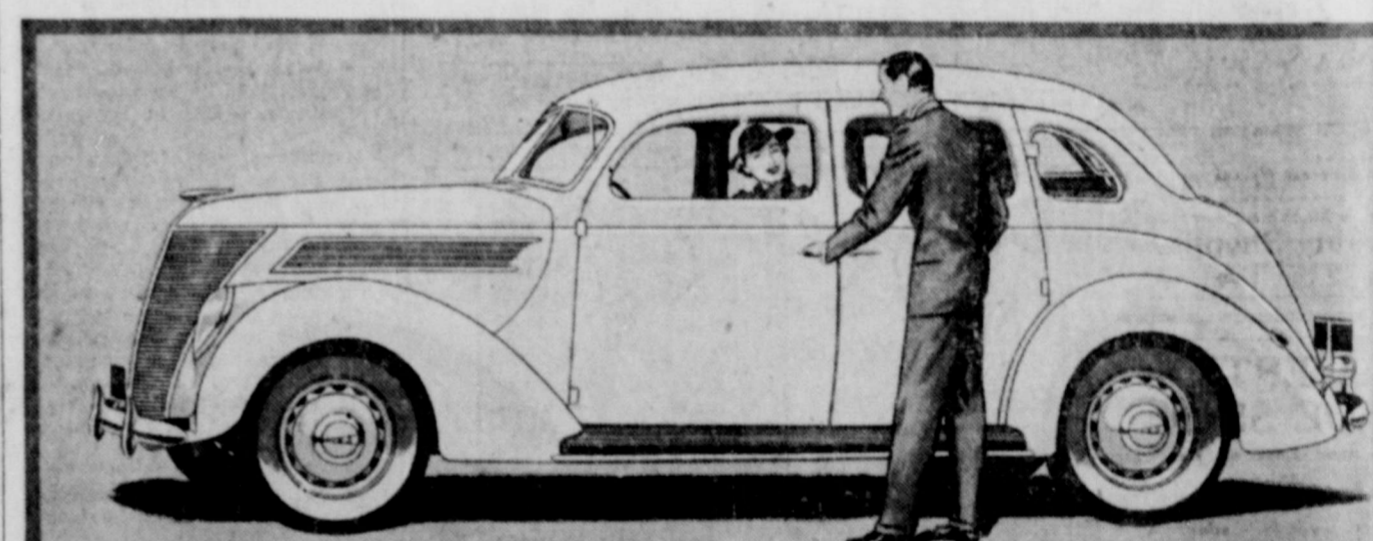

For these disciples the earnest prayer was that they might be strengthened in the unity of love, His one great purpose was that the love that the Father had for the world might become the love dominating every relationship among the disciples themselves, and every purpose and activity of the fellowship of disciples in the midst of the world that they would redeem, through the power of the Gospel, from its evil.

WHAT a deep and wonderful conception we have of the nature of discipleship and of what the fellowship of disciples in the church might be if churches everywhere were marked by this unity of spirit and purpose, and if they fulfilled in every respect the reality of the Master's prayer!

What strength and inspiration it should give to us individually to know that Jesus prayed for each of us as He prayed for Peter, and that we have an eternal intercessor who would put all the forces of God behind us to keep us strong, and true and faithful.

FORD CARS have always been built around a basic idea. The Ford became famous because it filled a fundamental need—"Dependable, economical transportation." As roads and cars improved, Ford kept ahead. Today, more than three million owners are enjoying brilliant Ford V-8 performance on the road. Their cars are set apart from other cars by a fundamental principle—the V-type 8-cylinder power plant—not merely the temporary styles and fancies of the day.

J. W. McKinney to Put New Ideas Into Goodyear Selling

J. W. McKinney24
Returned from Akron, Ohio, where he has been attending a week's sales school at the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company's factories, J. W. McKinney, manager of the Goodyear Service store at 108 S. Rusk street, announced that he was ready to put a number of new ideas to work.
"Naturally, with a corps of 36 experts on the sales school staff," said McKinney, "there are no phases of merchandising overlooked. Engineers on product, experts on new ways of handling layout and equipment to enable the store to give better service were all carefully covered, so that in Goodyear Service stores the nation over, results will begin to be apparent shortly."

Attendance at the school will be divided into three groups, the last of which will return from Akron some time in March.
During his Akron visit he witnessed Goodyear's Life Guard tube demonstration in which tires equipped with these tubes are driven swiftly down roadways, the tires purposely blown out by dynamite caps exploded when the car is doing 65 mph and over, and the tube instead of going flat instantly as in an ordinary puncture or blowout—retains air until the car can be brought to a safe stop on the road. Reason: through a small grommet hole between the inner and outer portions of the Life Guard tube, the air passes slowly following the puncture, so that the tire does not go flat at once, but retains air, permitting the car to be brought to a safe stop.

"Hundreds of lives are saved every year because when tires blow or are punctured as cars travel at today's high speeds, the steering wheels are not wrenched from the driver's hands, as is the case when these accidents occur when tires are equipped with ordinary tubes.
Undoubtedly there has been no

Hodges Oak Park School Has Been An Important Link In Ranger System Since Its Opening For Year 1926-27

At the beginning of the second semester of the school year of 1926-27, the Hodges Oak Park school doors opened to some 500 elementary school children, with Mrs. Mae Healer, principal.

The opening of the school was in answer to the many requests for a school to take the place of the frame shack known as "Central Ward," located just behind the high school building.

The school year of 1927-28 opened with the following faculty members:

Primary: Miss Eva Long, Mrs. J. M. Edwards, Mrs. John Thurman, Mrs. T. J. Peacock, Miss Sue Dean, Miss Hortense Ross.

After two weeks Mrs. Hamrick was sent to high school, and in her place were sent two part-time teachers from the junior college, Miss Ruth Shirley and Miss Queta Lee.

ended with near 400 children and the following faculty: Primary: Mrs. H. H. Durham, Miss Maurine Lemley, Miss Dora Jane Baskin, Miss Margarette Adamson, Miss Ruth Shirley and Miss Alla Rae Kendall.

Through the years the school had an active part in interscholastic league work and has won its share of the honors, winning ward school championship in the county last year.

The P-T. A. has been very active, and has done many things for the betterment of the school under the able leadership of the various presidents.

The faculty and patrons of the Hodges Oak Park school welcome to Ranger the teachers of the Oil Belt Education association.

During the first semester the boys of the Ranger ward schools formed football teams. To be eligible on these teams they had to be under fifteen years of age before the first of September and weigh not over 113 pounds.

The result of the conference games were as follows: Cooper vs Hodges, 13-0 in favor Hodges; high school vs Hodges, 13-0 in favor Hodges; Young vs. Hodges, 0-0; Cooper vs. Hodges, 21-0 in favor Hodges; high school vs. Hodges, 13-0 in favor Hodges; Young vs. Hodges, Young 6, Hodges 0.

Starting the second semester the BOYS AND GIRLS ORGANIZED TWO SOFTBALL TEAMS. TO BE ELIGIBLE FOR THESE TEAMS ONE MUST BE PASSED IN TWO-THIRDS OF SCHOOL SUBJECTS AND UNDER 15 YEARS OF AGE AT SEPT. 1.

The girls have played two games, defeating Young both times. The boys have played four games, defeating Cooper three times and Young once.

P. O. Hatley is coach for the boys and Miss Wickens is coach for the girls.

The faculty of Hodges Oak Park believe that the Interscholastic League was organized to stimulate interest in all phases of school work.

The following list gives the director of each event and the number of children trying for places on the teams.

Arithmetic—Miss Lillian B. Strain—17 pupils. Choral Club—Mrs. Mayme Ruth Hamrick.

Story Telling—Misses Adamson, Baskin and Lemley. Sub Junior Spelling—Miss Ruth Shirley—6 pupils.

Tennis—W. C. Wilson—20 pupils. Track—Alvis Woods—14 boys. Volley Ball—Miss Dora Jane Baskin—11 girls.

Ruth Hamrick director—Miss Marguerite Adamson, pianist—46 girls. Declamation—Mrs. Harold H. Durham—18 juniors and 13 sub juniors.

Essay Writing—Mrs. Mayme Ruth Hamrick—10 pupils. Junior Spelling—Miss Mavarrina Lemley—4 pupils.

Music Memory—Miss Marguerite Adamson—8 pupils. Picture Memory—Miss Allie Ray Kuykendall—10 pupils.

Playground Ball, girls—Miss Beatrice Wickens—14 pupils. Playground Ball, boys—P. O. Hatley—20 pupils.

For the first time in its history Hodges Oak Park Elementary School will have entries in tennis, interscholastic competition.

During the next few weeks a large number of tennis aspirants will practice daily on the new court on the school campus.

Hodges Oak School expects to enter contestants in both the boys' and girls' singles and doubles when the interscholastic meet is held here in April.

More than twenty boys and girls have indicated their interest in tennis in Hodges Oak Park school. Although only a few of them can possibly make the first team, everyone of them is assured of all the benefits that come from learning to play one of the finest all-around games ever originated.

Tennis is good for both the mind and body. It teaches

MENTAL POISE AND ALERTNESS AND quickens muscular re-action. In contrast with many games it lacks the brutality of actual physical contact between contestants.

Tennis is also one of the oldest of all modern games. Two thousand years ago Cicero, the greatest of all Roman orators, chose tennis as an ideal form of recreation.

Since that time it has been a favorite sport of king, prince and president.

RED CROSS CONTRIBUTION In January when the American Red Cross sent out a call to all America to give and give freely to the stricken flood sufferers of the Ohio and Mississippi River Valleys.

The children and teachers of the Hodges Oak Park School were very liberal in their giving to the relief of those caught in the clutches of the greatest of American disasters.

The children from the First through the Seventh grades had a part in the contribution. They were called on to make a sacrifice in the form of leaving off candy and other unnecessary things for just two days.

The results were gratifying when the amount given was counted, it amounted to $31.00.

FIRST GRADE The First Grade has been interested in unit programs this year. One unit was on "Pets," another was on "Toys." They are now completing a unit of study on "The Firemen."

It has been the most extensive and interesting study thus far. Some of the desirable attitudes attained were: To handle matches safely; to watch bonfires carefully, not leaving them until they are out; to never enter a closet with a lit candle; to observe rules of safety in handling gasoline, kerosene, irons, etc.

These attitudes were accomplished through various activities planned by the first grade children and their teacher. They made original poems and stories.

A poem follows: THE FIREMAN The fireman is big He wears a black hat And sleeps on a mat.

Other activities were: A picture frieze; fire games, drills and songs; safety stories, slogans and rhymes which were illustrated with creative drawings; and a visit to the fire department.

A playlet, "The Fire's Family" with his children, Kerosene, Match, Trash, Spontaneous Combustion, Electric Iron and Gasoline, was given which further emphasized the objectives of the unit.

The First Grade children are thankful to the merchants of Ranger for their contributions of boards and boxes; and to the parents for many courtesies; and to the Fire Department for showing us such a fine time when we visited the fire station.

THIRD GRADE The Harmonica Band was organized six years ago. Each year a different group of children are trained. Some hundred and fifty children, most of whom have had no music have been given instruction in the six years.

A unit on "Children of Many Lands" has recently been completed in the Third Grade. After an extensive study of the life and customs of the people of the different countries, a play was given. Two children a boy and a girl, represented each nation. All were dressed in native costume.

The unit included the various subjects: Reading—(research work); English, Geography, Music, Spelling, etc.

Had training in University of Texas; West Texas State Teachers College; A. C. C., Abilene; University of Colorado. SEVENTH GRADE The Seventh Grade of Hodges Oak Park is an organized class of 56 members. The officers serving this term are:

Secretary-Treas.

O. G. Lanier, secretary-treasurer of the Oil Belt Education Association, who aided in the collection of material for this edition, and who has been active in the association since it was first organized.

President—Katherine Thomas. Vice President—Roy Gray. Secretary-Treasurer—James Wheat.

Reporter—Bill Hicks. Librarians—Mary Bell Williams, Dorothy Henry, Helen Gholsen, and Katherine Thomas.

Room Teacher—Miss Lillian B. Strain. There are only eight members of this class that are not entering Interscholastic League work.

The honor roll for the past six weeks has been announced: High honors—Helen Gholsen, Dorothy Henry, Charles Osteen, and Katherine Thomas.

Honors—Loyd Beck, Frankie Mae Coleman, Dean Ervin, Roy Gray, James Weldon Hicklin, Bill Hicks, Juanita Powell, Howard Stevens, Mary Bell Williams.

The last period each Friday afternoon is devoted to a program planned and carried out by members of the class.

The following program was given March 2: Song—Choral Club. Piano Solo—Billie Fry.

Tap Dance—Dorothy Henry. Trumpet Solo—Charles Martin. Jokes—Margarie Hamilton.

Saxophone Solo—Edna Marie Blanton. Trumpet Solo—Gerald Booth. Violin Solo—Charles Osteen.

Cisco Schools Operated Upon Idea Service Should Be Extended To The Far Boundaries of Education

CISCO, Mar. 6. — Administration of the Cisco public schools is governed by the principle that these schools should not limit their service to traditional curriculum ideals or to the boundaries of the district which supports them, but that their service should be extended to the farthest possible boundaries of section and educational needs.

During the past few years, under the leadership of Supt. R. N. Cluck, they have made notable progress both in the quality of educational service provided and in broadening the territory to which this service is offered.

The schools today have 40 1-2 units of affiliation with the state and with the Southern Association of Secondary Schools and Colleges.

The curriculum which these 40 1-2 units provide covers a wide range of educational needs, organized in such a manner that the student has maximum latitude in the selection of courses to suit his particular needs.

His work around a course that is commercial in character. He may select a vocational group, choose an English course or take up studies organized to provide him with basic training in music, science, or undertake technical instructional activities in any of a score or more of business and industrial fields to which he has educational access through a diversified occupation department.

Under its policy of making its facilities available to the greatest number of students in its section, the Cisco system has brought 11 common school districts into its organization for elementary and high school purposes.

A fleet of five buses serve these districts, bringing students to Cisco and returning them to their homes each day. So successful has been this program that other districts not yet associated with the system are asking to be admitted.

The high standards maintained for instruction and for scholastic achievement have been reflected in the high quality of work done, in the high percentage of students going to college and in the outstanding records which these students make in college, a record which has enabled the Cisco schools not only to maintain but to increase its affiliation with the Southern Association of Secondary Schools and Colleges.

BENEFICIAL INSECTS SHOWED BY UNITED FRONTS. BERKELEY, Calif.—The University of California has something to say about "bugology" and estimates that its collection of 300,000 specimens of beneficial insects is the second largest in the world, but even at that it is less than 10 per cent of the entire number of types of beneficial insects in existence.

BY W. T. WALTON, Pres.
Ranger Junior College was founded in 1926 to make junior college training accessible to students in the heart of the Oil Belt. In these eleven years has the school given the students the best of the education of the day. It has rendered more service to the oil belt than any other institution in the region. It has rendered more service to the oil belt than any other institution in the region. It has rendered more service to the oil belt than any other institution in the region.

County Has Lead In 100 Per Cent Member Schools

Eastland County has led the number of schools which have reported 100 per cent membership during the first six years of the Oil Belt Educational Association's existence. The tabulation includes schools that have reported 100 per cent membership prior to the time the program for each year was printed, and does not take into consideration those schools which reported a perfect membership record at the spring convention, and does not take into consideration the 1937 members.

BEGIN HERE TODAY
DAPHNE BRITT, charming young New York advertising executive, finds her deceased father's Connecticut estate on LARRY SMITH, attractive young architect, and promptly falls in love with him. Daphne has one sister, six years younger, JENNIFF, who is just home from college and at her first job.
Jennifer reacts to Daphne's guidance and proceeds to date whom she pleases including TUCKER TINSLEY, playboy and one-time Daphne's beau. Next she learns that Daphne is not married and makes a play for his attention. This develops a struggle between the two sisters for the same man.
One night Larry arranges to date Daphne. Jennifer, meanwhile, announces she is going to see Tucker again. Daphne refuses her permission, protesting against Tucker's sophisticated conduct. Then Daphne leaves for the evening with Larry. Some after Jennifer, defying her sister's wishes, accepts a date with Tucker's young set. It is a crisis in the personal relationship of the Britt sisters.
NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY
CHAPTER X
LARRY SMITH slipped his hand under the great collar of Daphne's coat and pushed it up around her ears. Then he whispered for a taxi. It was the tenth taxi he had tried to get. An icy wind tore through 53rd street but Daphne didn't feel it.
"Let's walk," she said, "we'll never get one with this theater crowd. My place is only a few blocks."
"You don't think I'm going to let you go home, do you? We're seeing this town, young lady. TAXI!"
Then, laughing because they had dashed across the slippery pavement to triumphantly capture the taxi, they continued to laugh. They'd been laughing all evening. Daphne remembered, laughing over nothing.
They'd talked so long over their sandwiches and caucerkraut they'd been late for the theater and the next day neither of them could more tell you what happened the theater because, with all their laughing, they'd never once heard anything but each other.
Larry found her hand and swallowed it in his own.
"Having fun?" he asked.
She murmured something that sounded like "Um-hm." But he knew. They both knew something that needed no words. They needed nothing but to be together.
THEY went to the most expensive night club in town and sat looking into each other's eyes. She hadn't heard from him, he said, as though it was important to explain everything to her from to note that for the first semester of the current year 458 enrolled in high school.

The high school has grown through the consolidation of rural districts and through the State's transfer law for high school students. Tiffin District came in by consolidation in 1919, Merriman in 1925, and in 1932 part of the Bullock District was admitted. In January 1937 at the request of the Trustees of the Cross Roads District a contract was made with that school for two years to enable the children of that District to come to the Ranger schools.
Recently the teaching staff has been enlarged and a greater selection of courses are offered the students. Industrial Education is being offered through the Coordinator of Diversified Occupations. The Commercial department has been almost doubled. Home Economics has become more popular and more profitable. The interest in public speaking and debate has grown. And, greater emphasis is being placed on music throughout the high school, than ever before. Vocal music is being offered as an elective for the first time, and outstanding work is being done in the field of band and orchestra music.

Rev. O'Brien Proves Hit As A Speaker

was in the days of sudden riches and misfortunes when millionaires walked the streets, because it had been building for the future, while it was not, and that people generally should be more satisfied because they were accomplishing something and doing things that had been accomplished by the Chamber of Commerce.
J. J. Kelly, president of the Chamber of Commerce, who was toastmaster at the banquet, filled his post in a very capable manner, as did L. R. Pearson in his address of welcome, W. T. Walton in introducing the speaker of the evening and J. E. Meroney, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, in outlining the achievements of the organization, and Dr. L. R. Gray, who pronounced the invocation.
Music was furnished for the meal by J. N. Crawford and the selected orchestra composed of Mrs. Weldon Webb, pianist; Miss Evelyn Long, and Mrs. Albert Blanchard, violinists; Miss Edna Marie Blanton, harpist; saxophone; Bobb Edmonds, cornet; Ernest Greer, clarinet.
Miss Long and Mrs. Blanchard entertained with a violin duet, with Mrs. Webb at the piano to complete the musical program, while a male quartet composed of Gaston Dixon, Arthur Deffenbach, R. A. Tunnell and W. H. Clarke presented two delightful selections.
The entire program for the banquet, from start to finish, was one of the best ever presented by the Chamber of Commerce here. A number of out-of-town visitors from Eastland, Strawn, Breckenridge and other nearby towns, attended.

To File Briefs In Receivership Of Huge King Ranch

HOUSTON, Mar. 6.—Federal Judge T. M. Kennerly today gave attorneys until March 20 to file briefs in the King Ranch receivership suit at the conclusion of arguments.
Thomas Fisher, Chicago attorney, argued on behalf of Edwin and Alice Atwood of Chicago, grandchildren of the late South Texas king, Capt. Richard King, that the 1,400,000-acre properties should be placed in receivership.
The Atwoods also seek a $40,000,000 accounting of affairs of the huge estate and have attacked division of the ranch under the will of Mrs. Henrietta King, widow of the founder.

now, because he'd been off on a business trip. His uncle, in whose firm and whose footsteps he was one day to follow, was bidding for construction jobs in a midwest exposition.
"Do you often go far away for such a long time?" she asked and felt suddenly bereft, as though loneliness in the future was already weighing her down.
"Perhaps you'll be glad to have me away when you realize how much of you I want to see."
Her eyes denied it.
He said: "Look, we've got to arrange our program."
"Are we going to have a program?" If anyone other than Larry had said that, she'd have dismissed the idea immediately.
But Larry wasn't any one person.
"We'll have to discover what plays you want to see. And how you feel about winter sports—?"
What she wanted!
Later Daphne would wrap herself in the warm comfort of what that meant, his complete regard for the things that would make her happy. Now she was content to listen.
"And what about hockey? And the six-day bicycle races?"
"Love them both," she responded promptly. But if he had said, "Do you like to stand for hours watching men excavating?" she'd have said it was her favorite pastime.
"We'll do them all. Let's begin with a new show on Saturday. Sunday, if it's clear, we might try skating and later we'll go—" "Wait a minute," Daphne interrupted, laughing. "It's Thursday and Saturday and Sunday are so nearly here. Aren't you rushing me?"
"Certainly," he said, "but I'm twenty-eight years old and up to now my life has been mispent. I've got to make up for those years."
There was wonder in Daphne's eyes that looked back into his and into the years ahead.
THIS has never happened to me before, Daphne thought. I must be careful because anything that can open such doors to my heart—this new feeling of coming home—can hurt me.
Later she would straighten it out with herself. Now she could sip her drink and give herself to the moment.
"Saturday, it is," she said. She thought of Jennifer's method of "keeping 'em dangling."
Jennifer!
Daphne looked at the watch on as much as this college was needed and chartered just before the depression it did not have a long reputation upon which to rely any state or private aid to enable it to "free" its way through those depression years. Yet it set resolutely the task of being a college, founding it has relied on quality of its instruction, the best service it could offer to student, and the human sympathy interest of its faculty in boys and girls who have enrolled.

More than a thousand students who have been better prepared for life by this institution than a hundred have found their way among the professions, or are in higher institutions, or are in business, and various experimenting with some of work in order to find the way which they are best fitted. But all of these agree that lives have been enriched and they are better able to meet the problems of life because of the training received.
Each department head holds a degree as a minimum requirement and must have had experience in his or her field. Many of the staff have done valuable work toward the degree.
The strength of one's education is dependent upon the size of the institution in which he may receive it. From the Harvard University in which what appeared to be a dreary and insignificant being down to the present the schools have performed an admirable service in American education. Ranger Junior College is a several junior colleges, "A" rating by the State Department of Education.

Ranger Young School Important Part of Its System

BY T. H. HILL, Principal
Young School is a seven grade, three story ward school, located at 909 Young Street, Ranger, Texas. It has a beautiful campus set off by different varieties of shade trees. On the campus are several kinds of play apparatuses. Departmental work starts in the fifth grade.
The faculty is composed of Mrs. Anne Anderson, first grade; Miss Izetta Woods, second grade; Miss Ruth Ritchey, third grade; Miss Marie Kahn, fourth grade; Miss Mariah Bogan, history and civics; Miss Veda Winslet, Geography and Agriculture; Mrs. Clara Landers, Music, penmanship and art; Mrs. Ruth Denney, English and Spelling; T. S. Hill, Arithmetic.
Our school is active in Inter-scholastic League work. We are entering every event in the League this year.
Young school won the foot-ball trophy given by the local Lion's club by winning the city championship.
Our school has an active Parent-Teachers Association, which is a great asset to the school. The P-T. A. provides the library with new books each year, provides needed equipment for teachers and school, and always sends delegates to P-T. A. meetings. The P-T. A. sent four children to the Centennial last fall.
We added public school music to our course of study in the fifth grade, which is required in our curriculum now by the State Department of Education.
The Board of Education, Superintendent, Principal and faculty gives every member of the Oil Belt Education Association a cordial invitation to attend our school during the convention in Ranger. We wish for you a good time.

Government Turns Out Answers to Housewife's Dream

AUSTIN. — The Government, which seems to think of almost everything these days, is now busy turning out answers to a housewife's prayers.
It has established a training school for servants.
The idea may have begun in the Lyndon B. Johnson home on a day when the maid quit and Mrs. Johnson simply couldn't replace her. At all events, Johnson, state director of the National Youth Administration, suggested reasonably, "Let's teach girls how to become maids—the kind that keep their thumbs out of the soup."
He tried an initial course at Prairie View College, for negroes, a few months ago, and found the theory so practical that now 155 girls have been selected from work projects to train themselves for domestic service. By mid-summer the administration hopes to turn out enough trained housekeepers to make the servant problem definitely pass as a tea table topic.
Purpose of the project is, of course, two-fold: The girls learn enough to be able to get and hold private jobs and the roll of those working on public projects is reduced.
Houston housewives were advisers on curricula when the NYA mapped out its course in servant instruction. They told exactly how they would like to have their maids trained. Thus, classes were begun meals, how to care for china and in preparation and serving of silverware, how to care for young children, how to appear neat and orderly, and how to get along with the employer.
When 18 girls completed the first training course at Prairie View on Feb. 9, every one of them obtained a job within a week in her home town, through the National Re-employment service office at Houston.
The second training course was begun Feb. 15, with 51 girls assembled from Dallas, Fort Worth, Waco, Beaumont, Tyler and Houston. Twelve weeks from the starting date, these negro girls will be returned to their home towns, ready for placement in domestic service.

High School Has Grown in Past Years

The Ranger High School Building was erected in 1922 when turbulent excitement in the oil field made it difficult for the schools to operate. The excitement was so contagious that the enrollment in high school never reached a very high mark. There are more in high school today with the city's population at 5,000 than there were when 20,000 people lived here. The Superintendent's reports show that in 1920-21 the total enrollment of the high school was only 187, in 1921-22 it reached 305 and in 1922-23 it ran up to 362. In contrast it is interesting

MOST OUTSTANDING EDUCATOR AND SPEAKER IN THE ENTIRE SOUTHWEST

Dr. George W. Frasier, president of the Colorado State Teachers College at Greeley, Colo., considered the most outstanding speaker and educator in the Southwest, will be the principal speaker at two of the general sessions of the Seventh Annual Convention of the Oil Belt Educational Association in Ranger on March 12 and 13.

Dr. Frasier's first appearance at the general session will be the evening of Friday, March 12, when a splendid banquet program will be presented. Attendance at these banquets is usually over 300 and 350, representing teachers and visitors from the 16 counties of the district.

His second address of Dr. Frasier will be made at the Fifth General Session of the convention, which will be conducted in the recreation building Saturday morning, beginning at 9:30 a. m.

Rev. Dick O'Brien, pastor of First Baptist Church of Colorado, Texas, and one of the most outstanding after-dinner speakers at these banquets, will be the other main speaker on the banquet program.

G. M. Sims, superintendent of the Fort Arthur Public Schools, will appear on the Saturday morning program with Dr. Frasier. Rev. O'Brien, who was the principal speaker at the annual Chamber of Commerce banquet in Ranger Friday evening, March 5, and made a decided hit with nearly 50 guests, is a humorist of rare ability who lends zest and spice to his addresses.

Superintendent Sims, superintendent of one of the few 12-grade public schools in this part of the country, speak on the 12-grade system during morning session. This system is coming in for more attention from the educators here and his address will be of vital interest to members of the association who hear him.

Dr. Frasier has not announced the theme of his discourse, but all are always filled with the information along educational lines, which makes him especially adapted to address a large group of people.

G. Lanier, secretary-treasurer of the Oil Belt Educational Association, has stated that the association is particularly fortunate to have such an outstanding speaker as he is in such demand for it is often hard to arrange a program so that he can attend. The dates of the association meeting was changed "one

ACC Sponsoring Speech Tourney For High Schools

ABIENE, March 6.—Third annual Abilene Christian College speech tournament for high schools will be Saturday, March 7.

Arrangements for the tournament were in order that Dr. Frasier could be present.

L. A. Woolridge, superintendent of the Albany Public Schools and president of the Oil Belt Educational Association, will be toastmaster at the banquet Friday night, which will begin promptly at 7:30. Other features on the banquet program are:

- 1. Invocation, Dr. L. B. Gray, Pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Ranger.
- 2. Music, Ranger High School Orchestra.
- 3. Music, Boys Quartet of Abilene High School.
- 4. Address, Rev. Dick O'Brien, Pastor of the First Baptist church of Colorado.
- 5. Tap Skating, Marjorie Garland, Mineral Wells.
- 6. Address, Dr. George W. Frasier, president of the State Teachers College, Greeley, Colorado.

High schools in 45 counties in this region have been invited to send contestants for each of the six divisions of the tournament.

The A. C. C. meet has become one of the largest competitions for high school speakers in Texas. In 1936 172 contestants entered the tournament. The county and district meets of the interscholastic league include fewer contestants than the A. C. C. meet. Interscholastic rules are followed in the tournament at Abilene Christian College. Vice President Don H. Morris, head of the public speaking department in A. C. C.; Miss Margaret Ehrsamm, director of speech arts and John C. Stevens, fornic manager will direct the tournament.

Winners of first, second and third, places in each division will receive medals and scholarship award for tuition concessions in Abilene Christian college. There will be contests in senior boys declamation, senior girls declamation, boys extemporaneous speaking, girls extemporaneous speaking, reading of poetry and reading of short story.

An odd feature of the Pastoralist bout was the fact that all the contestants seemed pleased and orderly, despite the race aspects involved.

OIL BELT EDUCATIONAL ASS'N ORGANIZATION WAS OUTCOME OF GRID ELIGIBILITY MEETINGS

The Oil Belt Educational Association, which was formed at a banquet at Cisco on the night of October 14, 1936, was really an outgrowth of the numerous protest meetings that were held in the Oil Belt District of the State Interscholastic League, where eligibility of football players was determined.

Back in 1930, and for several years prior to that date, football eligibility protests flew thick and fast over the Oil Belt District, which called for numerous meetings, almost one for every game scheduled. At one of these meetings, which was held in Abilene, the late R. D. Green, until recently superintendent of the Abilene Public Schools, suggested that since so many meetings were held at which everyone was fighting with everyone else, that some meeting should be held where all the superintendents and principals could meet as friends.

R. F. Holloway, at this time superintendent of the Ranger Public Schools, then made the suggestion that an Oil Belt Teachers' Association be formed, with regular meetings each year. The matter was discussed until far into the night, with new suggestions being brought forward by other members of the "protest committee" until R. N. Cluck, newly elected superintendent of the Cisco Public Schools, invited those present to a banquet at Cisco, which he and the Cisco School Board furnished, and to which other superintendents and principals would be invited.

The meeting was called and responses began pouring in from all the counties contacted, so that on the night of Oct. 14, 1936, more than 75 superintendents and principals were present and enjoyed a chicken dinner before the organization was perfected.

Holloway was elected temporary chairman, to preside at the meeting and E. T. Dawson, superintendent of the Rising Star Public Schools, was elected temporary chairman. From this meeting the Oil Belt Educational Association had its beginning, with Supt. W. O. Willingham of Albany as president.

President to Preside at Banquet

L. A. Woolridge, Superintendent of Albany Public Schools and President of the Oil Belt Educational Association, who will preside over the banquet of the association in Ranger Friday evening, March 12.

President, Principal John F. Bailey of Breckenridge as vice president and Registrar O. G. Lanier of Ranger as Secretary-treasurer. Lanier has served continuously as secretary-treasurer since that first meeting. The executive committee was also elected at this first meeting. It was composed of the three previously named officers and Principal Lewis Smith, then of Colony School, but now of Morton Valley; Supt. R. N. Cluck of Cisco, and County Superintendent, Mrs. Millie Blackburn of Breckenridge and Supt. J. F. Boren of Baird. As originally organized the Oil Belt Educational Association was composed of 13 counties. These were Palo Pinto, Eastland, Callahan and Stephens.

EDUCATORS OF NOTE HEARD IN PAST MEETINGS

Some of the most outstanding educators of Texas and some of the best speakers among those interested in education have appeared on the programs of the Oil Belt Educational Association in the six annual spring meetings. Not only have influential educators of Texas appeared on the program, but some have been brought to the meetings from other states, particularly Oklahoma and Colorado.

Although the association was new and the spring meeting held at Eastland in 1931 was the first of its kind, it drew its share of the prominent college and high school men of the state. Among those appearing on the 1931 program were Dr. T. D. Brooks, then of Baylor university, but now of Texas A. & M. college; Dr. Fred Ayer of the University of Texas; S. N. M. Marrs, then state superintendent of education, in addition to the superintendents, principals and teachers from over the association.

In the second association meeting at Sweetwater in 1932, another group of prominent speakers were on the program. These included Dr. P. W. Horn of Lubbock; A. M. Blackman, assistant state superintendent, of Austin; President J. A. Hill of West Texas State Teachers' college at Canyon; and Don H. Morris of Abilene. One of the features of this meeting was presented by the Midland high school in the form of a musical program that proved to be one that has been remembered as a highlight of the program.

Themes For Past Spring Meetings Have Been Varied

Copies of the program of the six previous Spring meetings of the Oil Belt Education Association, which have been preserved by O. G. Lanier of Ranger, secretary of the association since its beginning, show that the themes of the meetings have been varied, as have the programs.

At the first meeting held in Eastland in 1931, no theme was announced for the session. The theme in 1932 was "Character Training"; in 1933 there were two, "Financing Public Schools" and "raising Standards"; 1934 themes were "Team Work in an Educational Program" and "The Curriculum"; in 1935 the themes were "Texas Centennial" and "New Frontiers in Education" and for 1936 the theme was "Pupil Growth through Participation."

Resident for 85 Years Now Citizen

SAN ANTONIO, Texas—Mrs. Emma Hasnar LaChappelle, 92, who has lived in San Antonio 85 years and voted during the last 12 of them, only recently enjoyed United States citizenship. After voting—she didn't reveal what ticket—in November, Mrs. LaChappelle was informed her vote no longer would be counted, since she still was a citizen of Germany. She immediately applied for naturalization. When asked why she did not apply sooner, Mrs. LaChappelle replied, "I've been too busy raising my family."

Secretary Aided In Getting Data For This Edition

The Ranger Daily Times is indebted to O. G. Lanier, secretary-treasurer of the Oil Belt Education Association, for the valuable assistance he rendered in helping to assemble the information for this special edition.

Lanier, who has served as secretary-treasurer of the association from the time of its organization and who has maintained a complete record of all the activities of the association, without pay, gave freely of his time in advising with and aiding the Times in amassing the information contained in this edition in order that the members of the association might have, in concise form, an outline of its history which they might preserve for future reference.

Organization Was Outcome of Grid Eligibility Meetings

 ... han, Taylor, Howard, Scurry, Fisher, Jones, Shaekelford, Throckmorton, Stephens, Mitchell and Nolan. Since then the association has broadened taking in Haskell, Stonewall and Young Counties, with a possibility Erath County may be included in the near future. In 1933, after the Spring meeting of the association at Breckenridge there was much discussion as to whether the name of the association should be Oil Belt Educational Association or Oil Belt Education Association.

It was pointed out by some that at some time the organization might want to take on activities other than those directly pertaining to educational activities, and suggested that the name "Education" should be substituted for the name "Educational."

After much discussion this change was voted and since that time the organization has been known officially as the Oil Belt Education Association, though there are many who are still confused between the two names.

Each fall the superintendents and principals meet, while each year in March a general meeting for all teachers, in addition to the school heads, is held.

The first fall meeting was held in Abilene on Nov. 17, 1930, and since that date the fall meeting has been held in Abilene each year, except in 1935, when it was held in Cisco because the general meeting in the spring was scheduled to be held in Abilene in March, 1936, which would have given Abilene both meetings that year.

The first general meeting was held in Eastland on March 13 and 14, 1934. Since the meeting in Numbered in the collections are dolls from Switzerland, China, Germany, Russia, Scotland, Holland, Japan, Italy and Mexico.

Mrs. Thompson manufactures many dolls in her home for additions to her collection and for gifts to friends.

Eastland other meeting places' dates are:

Man Schools Have Made Bids For Progressive Honors In The County During Past Two Years

Bob Lindsey, Jr., Prin., Gorman High School, as Superintendent of Public Schools have made a bid for Progressiveness in Eastland County.

Under the leadership of the principal Morgan Evans work has been done in correlation of subjects, in keeping with the state's new revised curricula.

Study periods have been eliminated and supervised study put in their place.

Special work has been done in music both in the high school and grade school. A twenty-five piece high school band now plays for athletics and entertainments. A grade school rhythm band is in development.

Students Need Good Text Books -- And Good Lighting

Good textbooks are of little value to a student unless conditions are favorable for studying. This means a room where the student is free from interruptions and where he has GOOD LIGHT. Good light makes it easy to read or study for long periods of time without unnecessary strain on the eyes. You owe it to your children to provide the right kind of light to make studying easier.

HOUSTON — Texas employers will pay approximately $11,000,000 into the state and federal unemployment compensation fund during 1937, according to estimates of Wallace Reilly, fund commission member.

Employers to Pay $11,000,000 In Taxes

Reilly estimated that the total would be double that of 1936, when the state collected nine-tenths of one per cent on each employer on his entire roll and the federal government collected the other one-tenth. Payment is twice as much this year and will reach the mark of three per cent in 1938. These auto union leaders, under surveillance by Pinkerton evidently passed up a pretty theme song, 'Me and My Shain'.
