An Entirely New City Commission Is Elected

VACANCY IS FILLED TUESDAY ELECTION

The first time since June 1935 the Eastland city commission had a full membership of five members after the election on Tuesday.

The election was held, resulting in the reelection of C. W. Hoffman, mayor, and H. O. Satterthwaite, both of whom had served two years. Satterthwaite, the third man elected, is filling a vacancy created when T. M. Johnson died. Johnson to fill the vacancy had been elected in 1935.

None was opposed. The young trio of candidates each received 142 votes of the 144 cast. Satterthwaite's suggestion of a majority vote was shifted to another member on launching of the 65c terms, he was again named as mayor—upon motion of Mayor Hoffman.

After the election, the members met on Tuesday night after the election, and the judges were accepted and signed his oath of office.

The first actions of the body was receiving suggestions from a safety committee regarding the Chamber of Commerce and Lion and Rotary clubs.

The members discussed the following: The installation of signs on four corners of the square and at the intersection of the postoffice, at the intersection of Main street and for curb of "under age" drivers. The installation of signs is prohibitive because of cost.

For continued diligence of officers in enforcing ordinance and excessive speeding in city limits.

Announcement at the meeting of the annual registration period at the city hall will be vaccinated, license tags issued for $1.00. The price includes the inoculation against rabies. The campaign will continue until 15.

Col. Lindbergh and Wife Missing

LONDON, Eng., Apr. 7.—Mystery veiled the whereabouts today of Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh, unreported for nearly 30 hours on a flight from Zagreb, Yugoslavia, presumably toward their home in England.

They left Zagreb at 6:30 a. m. (CST) yesterday and at 11 a. m. today had been gone 28 hours without word.

Lindbergh, as usual, did not disclose his destination or route when he left yesterday. The route from Zagreb to England is 900 miles across the Alps and English Channel.

CIO DRIVE IN TEXAS STARTS, FORD IS NEXT

BEAUMONT, April 7.—John L. Lewis' CIO started a campaign to unionize the oil industry today with the advice to workers that "you may just as well join and make it easy."

Auto-ph Germer, who helped unionize the automobile plants in Michigan, was the CIO spokesman at a mass meeting last night.

"We are going to organize you," Germer told several hundred oil field workers who attended the meeting with their families.

"It may take six months or a year, or $1,000,000 but you can get your bottom dollar you are going to be organized and we will not pull strikes to do it."

DETROIT, April 7.—Henry Ford's vast manufacturing interests became the No. 1 objective of the United Automobile Workers Union today while 30,000 workers of Chrysler Corporation and "feeder" companies prepared to return to work under an agreement ending a month-old strike.

Walter P. Chrysler, chairman of the board of Chrysler Corporation and John L. Lewis, chairman of the Committee for Industrial Organization, reached an agreement last night that recognized the union as collective bargaining agent only for its own members in the company's nine plants.

The union demands for the right to represent all Chrysler employees had held the manufacturer and the labor leader deadlocked since they first met on March 4.

Forty-six Eastland county ranchers have signed a total of 38,432 acres of range land for participating in the 1937 Range Conservation Program, according to Elmo V. Cook, county agent.

Appraisal of these ranches will be started within a few days by T. E. Castleberry, county range supervisor.

Castleberry was in Denton the first of the week attending a school for range supervisors when latest methods were taught to supervisors from this part of Texas as how to determine carrying capacity of range land.

Cook advised all ranchers who intend to participate in the Range Program to make their application within a few days as a date will be set soon after which time no applications will be accepted.

SCIENCE ON TRAIL OF MODEL'S MURDERER

The fragile loveliness that made Veronica Gedeon a favorite photographer's model is apparent in this one of the last pictures for which she posed.

Frustrated at every turn by the lack of direct clues to the triple-murderer who wreaked his carnage in the home of Veronica Gedeon, New York police looked to the crime laboratory to lead them to the fiend. Detective Maurice Hartnett and Patrolman Edward A. Palmer are seen engaged in a minute examination of linens from beds where the bodies were found.

School Results Hinge On Action Of County Group

Official results of the two races for county school trustee will not be known until Monday when commissioners court is scheduled to canvass returns.

To be elected in the Saturday voting were trustee for the county at-large and a trustee for commissioners precinct 1. "At large" candidates were Omar Burkett, J. B. Johnson and Dr. P. M. Kuykendall. Candidates in the other race were J. A. Beard and Tobe Morton.

Funeral services were held at the Baptist church in Desdemona for Mrs. W. Alldredge, 68, a resident of that city two years, who died here.

Born in Falls county, Mrs. Alldredge has lived 40 years in Mills county before moving to Desdemona.

Besides her husband she is survived by one sister, Mrs. Fannie Miller, Colorado; two brothers, Jim Rouse, Mercury; H. M. Rouse, Desdemona; five daughters, Mrs. Hickman Henderson, Abilene; Mrs. Dock Anderson, Abilene; Mrs. Ava Connor, Fort Stockton; Mrs. Elvin Adair, Lamesa; Mrs. Pearl Petty, Goldthwaite; six sons, Robert Alldredge, Sonora; Henry Alldredge, Iraan; Frank Alldredge, Crane; Casey Alldredge, Spur; Ray Alldredge, Desdemona.

STAR, Apr. 7.—J. L. Wren, polling 110 votes, Tuesday defeated W. E. Tyler, mayor, in the Rising Star city election. Tyler, a banker, obtained 99 votes. Wren is a contractor.

Ray Agnew was re-elected and R. F. Sickman and M. S. Sellers also were victorious. None of the three was opposed.

MINERAL WELLS, Apr. 7.—Mayor Charlton Brown Tuesday was defeated in the city commission election by John C. Miller.

Tanning School Plans Announced

A leather tanning school will be held at the Pickering Lumber yard in Eastland Thursday, April 22, beginning at 9:00 a. m., according to an announcement by Elmo V. Cook, county agent. The school will be conducted by M. K. Thornton, Extension Leather Specialist.

Everyone interested in home tanning or leather work is invited to attend the school which will continue until about the middle of the afternoon. Cowhides will be shown in all stages from green hides to finished chrome leather. Some useful articles will be made from part of the finished leather, such as lines, back-bands and halters.

Lace leather will be made from an alum tanned calf hide and sheep and goat skins will be tanned for glove and purse leather.

The tanning of leather at home is one of the most profitable activities that can be practiced, points out Cook. It is profitable for three tannings, he explained:

1. It will insure the individual an adequate supply of much needed leather and permit him to maintain his harness and equipment in good shape.

2. It permits the individual to convert hides into a high priced material. Thus, it will make available for the home the difference for extra and needed conveniences.

3. It will serve to lengthen the number of days of farm labor. The time of farm labor is at present largely used for producing the absolute necessities and requirements for maintenance. If we can add a few days to productive effort, the additional days of labor will result in profit.

The cost of chemicals to tan a large cowhide runs from $3.00 to $4.00 and the finished leather will weigh from 25 to 40 pounds.

94-Year-Old Negro Might Marry Again

DALLAS, Apr. 7.—H. Y. Lynn, negro preacher and former slave, who was awarded a divorce yesterday at the age of 94, was uncertain today whether he would marry again, but in case he does, he knows the kind of a girl he wants.

"I don't want any wife who drinks liquor, smokes cigarettes or dips snuff," he said.

Fingerprints Link Sculptor to the Gedeon Slayings

NEW YORK, Apr. 7.—Fingerprints found in a room 29-year-old Robert Irwin occupied in Canton, N. Y., are identified with ones found in the apartment where Veronica Gedeon, 20-year-old artist model, her mother and a lodger were killed Easter Sunday, police said today.

Officers described the fingerprints as "almost conclusive" evidence against the young sculptor as they continued their search for him.

Interest of City Comes First For Those Defeated

All the defeated candidates in the city election held Tuesday, April 6, today were taking their defeats philosophically and were offering their assistance in getting the new commission started upon its labors.

Without exception, those who were not elected to office stated today that they had the interest of the City of Ranger at heart and were willing to aid in any way they could for the peace, harmony and prosperity of the city.

This spirit of cooperation was considered by all as the attitude that will mean that the city will continue to progress under the new administration and those who were defeated were receiving congratulations, both upon the work they have done in the past, and upon the way they were taking their defeat.

Each defeated candidate was visited this morning and the attitude with which each was taking his defeat was as commendable as the long hours of work and study they have given to the administration of the city's affairs.

Four of the five elected to office are directors of the Ranger Chamber of Commerce, and must resign their positions as directors in order that they may serve on the Ranger city commission. The four are J. J. Kelly, president; Hal H. Hunter, immediate past president and now on the board of directors; Hal Walker and Edwin George, Jr., both directors.

Desdemona Names School Trustees

DESDEMONA, Apr. 7.—The election for trustees of Desdemona schools resulted in the victory of R. Miles and Joe Merrill as new members and the re-election of H. H. Williams.

For county trustee-at-large Dr. P. M. Kuykendall, formerly of Desdemona, received 49 votes and his two opponents received 12 votes together.

Driving Autos By Children Curbed

Little Johnnie had best not drive his parents' car in Eastland. If he does he will cause possible embarrassment to himself and parents and they will have to walk to town or where Johnnie is caught for their car.

Tuesday night the city commission of Eastland heard a committee from the civic clubs and Chamber of Commerce, the members of which, among other things, suggested a curb applied on under-age driving.

It was decided to have officers stop youths whom they suspect being under age as provided by law, which is 14 according to the tax assessor-collector office which issues driving licenses, and ground the automobile. Then parents will be notified.

If necessary arises the second notification will be given to the youth and their parents, fined.

A humorous angle in the problem was injected during discussion of the plan at the commission meeting when Mayor C. W. Hoffmann suggested: "Ground the drivers 60 days." Laughing, he retracted his statement, recalling, "No we can't do that, they're not supposed to drive."

Negro Confined at Jail Is Released

CHARLEY COOPER, negro, held in Eastland city jail for shoplifting, who attempted to kill himself by hanging while in confinement, was released after notification of other officers that he is not wanted on charges elsewhere. His fingerprints were sent officers in Oklahoma and Texas and to the Department of Justice at Washington. Cooper was a transient.

Wendel Kidnaping Draws Sentences

NEW YORK, Apr. 7.—Sentences of from 20 years to life in Sing Sing were imposed today on Harry Weiss and Martin Schlossman of Brooklyn, who were convicted in the kidnaping of Paul Wendel, Trenton attorney, in a sequel to the Lindbergh baby murder case.

Name Eastlandite as University Official

AUSTIN, Apr. 7.—Ralph Mahon of Eastland has been elected secretary of the Young Men's Christian Association at the University of Texas.

Possum Kingdom Dam Costs to Be Finally Settled

WASHINGTON, April 7.—President Roosevelt moved today to end the government-local controversy over construction costs of Possum Kingdom Dam on the Brazos River in Texas, by declaring he will ask the Reclamation Service for its estimates on necessary expenditures.

The controversy started when the army engineering corps estimated cost of the project at $6,600,000. The Brazos River Conservation and Reclamation District of Texas set cost at $3,100,000, the amount allotted for the work by WPA.

Commenting on Mr. Roosevelt's move to submit the question to the Reclamation Service for final settlement, Sen. Morris Sheppard said, "That is what I wanted all along."

Flying Kites to be Banned in Germany

BERLIN, Apr. 7.—Special permission will be needed in Germany hereafter to fly a kite. General Hermann Goering, aviation minister, decreed today.

Grain Plowers In County Warned

Eastland County farmers who intend to plow under small grain as a part of the 1937 Agricultural Conservation Program are warned by the County Agent Elmo V. Cook, that unless they file a statement with the county committee by April 15, the small grain turned under will be classed as soil depleting. Blanks for this purpose can be obtained from any community committeeman or from Cook's office.

Small grain turned under soon after making at least 2 months' growth helps earn a class II or soil building payment but it does not class as soil conserving as it did in the 1936 program, said Cook.

BRITISH WILL PROTEST ON BOMB RAIDS

LONDON, April 7.—The British destroyer Gallant speeded toward the Balearic Islands today under admiral orders to protest directly to the Spanish rebel authorities against two attacks on the destroyer Gallant yesterday.

VALENCIA, Spain, April 7.—The British destroyer Gallant was safe today after being a target for 18 bombs dropped by two airplanes which attacked it twice yesterday. The destroyer drove off the planes with anti-aircraft and machine guns. The planes flew toward the Balearic Islands, a rebel base.

LONDON, April 7.—The 1,578-ton passenger steamer Lairdsmoor sank five miles off the West Coast of Scotland today after a collision in thick fog with the motorship Taranaki. The Taranaki took off six passengers and the crew of the Lairdsmoor.

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., April 7.—Torrential rains, more devastating even than hurricanes, flooded the rich mucklands of the Everglades today, wiping out truck crops and causing damage estimated at more than $3,000,000.

The reports filtering in from outlying regions told of freakish weather, ranging from heavy torrents of rain to hail and heavy winds.

Destitute farmers, their bean, tomato and pepper crops washed out, appealed to the Red Cross and federal relief agencies for aid. No lives were reported lost, but crops were believed to have been at least 90 per cent destroyed.

The reports filtering in from outlying regions told of freakish weather, ranging from heavy torrents of rain to hail and heavy winds.

Bucket Shop Head Sought by Officers

FORT WORTH, Apr. 7.—Deputy United States Marshals hunted today for B. C. McMordie, stockbroker, against whom District Attorney Clyde O. Eastus filed mail fraud charges last night.

Eastus charges McMordie was engaged in "bucket shop" operations and that investment losses by clients of the firm would total $200,000.

Officers arrested Joseph P. Kelley, an associate in the business, last night, and he was held today in county jail.

Karpis Gangsters Sentenced to Prison

CLEVELAND, Apr. 7.—Two members of the Alvin Karpis gang charged in connection with the $46,000 Garrettsville, Ohio, mail train robbery on Nov. 7, 1935, changed their pleas to guilty in federal court today and were sentenced to prison.

LARGE VOTE IS RECORDED FOR CITY ELECTION

Walker, Hunter, Brown, George and Kelly to Form New Commission.

In a landslide similar to the one in the general election last November, an entire new group of city commissioners, including the mayor, was swept into office in the city election in Ranger Tuesday, when a total of 858 votes were cast.

Those elected were Hal Walker, Mayor; Hal H. Hunter, Police Commissioner; Calvin Brown, Street Commissioner; Edwin George, Finance Commissioner; and J. J. Kelly, Water Commissioner. The five will replace Dr. Harry A. Logsdon, Col. Bradsher, L. H. Flewelling and E. H. Mills, the place of police commissioner having been vacant since the first of the year when Judge W. S. Adamson resigned his place on the commission to become county judge of Eastland county.

The new commissioners will take the oath of office Monday, April 19.

The vote in the election Tuesday was, according to several local political observers, the largest vote cast in a city election in Ranger since the boom days of the city and lacked but about 300 votes of equalling the total cast in the Democratic primary of last summer.

People flocked to the city hall, the only voting box for the election, from early morning until the polls closed at 7 o'clock, with early indications being seen that a large vote would be cast. By noon the total vote had reached a total of 350; by 2 p. m. it had reached 422 and before 5 o'clock it had reached 665, with a steady stream of voters constantly going in and out of the polling place.

The official count of the votes as announced by S. J. Dean, election judge, was as follows:

For Mayor: Harry A. Logsdon, 161; Hal Walker, 688.

For Commissioner, Place No. 1, (Police): Hal Hunter, 503; E. A. Ringold, 355.

For Commissioner, Place No. 2, (Street): Col. Bradsher, 355; Calvin Brown, 477.

For Commissioner, Place No. 3, (Fire and Finance): L. H. Flewelling, 316; Edwin George, Jr., 523; C. B. Hutchison, 15.

For Commissioner, Place No. 4, (Water): E. H. Mills, 341; J. J. Kelly, 597.

There will be no runoff election, as provided by the city charter, in case no candidate receives a majority, as the total vote cast for Flewelling and Hutchison was 331, while George received a total of 523, giving him a majority of 192 votes.

Other majorities were: Walker, 622; Hunter, 148; Brown, 122; Kelly, 166.

1936 Farm Checks Due As New Sign-up

LISTS SCHEDULE FOR FARMERS

far behind the others and unless unexpected delays develop all checks due the farmers of the county will arrive soon.

While waiting for their 1936 checks, 250 Eastland County farmers have signed work sheets making them eligible to participate in the 1937 Agricultural Conservation Program.

During the next two weeks any farm in Eastland County which has not already been covered by a 1937 work sheet may be made eligible for earning a 1937 payment by the owner or tenant, either one of whom may sign a work sheet. Work sheets will be available in the County Agent's office, Eastland every day and at Ranger, Cisco, Rising Star, Carbon and Gorman on certain days each week until the sign-up closes.

Special sign-up days for each of these places for the next two weeks, April 12th to 23rd are as follows:

Each Monday at Rising Star, Higginbotham's.

Each Tuesday at Cisco, Chamber of Commerce.

Each Wednesday at Carbon, Carbon Trading Company.

Each Thursday at Gorman, Higginbotham's.

Each Friday at Ranger, Chamber of Commerce.

Each day at the County Agent's office, Eastland.

The County Agent has advised that if any group of 10 or more farmers, wishing to sign work sheets are unable to appear at one of the six places indicated above, a clerk with work sheet blanks will be sent to the community for half a day upon request of the farmers.

Every one of the 2450 farms in Eastland county is eligible to earn a 1937 payment if a work sheet is signed before the final date set. However, the work sheet is not a contract nor an agreement and those who sign are not bound or obligated in any way. A work sheet must be signed before a farm can earn a payment.

Many Eastland County farmers have erroneously thought that farms which have been abandoned or not worked for a year or more cannot take part in the 1937 program. This is not true as all farms are eligible to earn a payment regardless of whether they were in the 1937 program.

If all Eastland County farmers should take part in the 1937 Agricultural Conservation Program they would earn a total of approximately $200,000 to $250,000, according to an estimate by Cook. These totals do not include payments that may be earned by ranchers for cooperating in the Range Program, which is also a part of the Agricultural Conservation Program.

The following outline of the 1937 farm program has been given for benefit of those wishing to know its provisions:

The program is conducted by 15 committees which were recently elected by farmers at meetings in the county. Five of these committees are the directors of a county association, the County Agent is Secretary and the Agricultural Conservation Assistant is Treasurer. Eastland County's five directors are Dick Weekes, J. D. Guy, W. A. Williams, F. S. Boland and L. A. Bennett.

Before a farm can earn a payment in the program a work sheet must be signed before the final date set for accepting work sheets. An owner-operator, cash tenant, landlord, or third and fourth tenant may sign a work sheet. The work sheet merely serves to establish a right to earn a payment and determines how much can be earned and in what way. From the work sheet we learn what acreages of cotton, peanuts, general crops, and conserving crops have customarily been planted on the farm. These customary acreages are called BASIS. General crops are soil de-

Group Given Oke On Safety Device

The city commission of Eastland's proposal to purchase a semaphore for installation at South Ward School for operation by a student was accepted Wednesday by school officials.

Located off the Carbon highway, the school has long been considered by authorities as dangerous because of the necessity of children crossing the artery to classes.

The semaphore would be of the hand operation type. Students would operate the device to permit children to cross the streets while cars halted.

The city commission Tuesday night gave its agreement to the plan.

Unions Are Asked To Protest Bill

AUSTIN, Apr. 7.—Four hundred labor unions affiliated with the state federation of labor, were called upon today by Wallace C. Reilly, federation secretary, to protest the bill passed yesterday by the Texas Senate to outlaw sit-down strikes.

Reilly said the federation is opposed to sit-down strikes but believes the bill passed yesterday goes further toward endangering the right of collective bargaining.

TRAILER ADVENTURE

By Nard Jones

© 1937, NEA Service, Inc.

BEGIN HERE TODAY
MARtha Brittain and BETTY Haynes begin a trip up the coast to demonstrate the new improved trailer. They pick up EMMY Neal, handsome young fisherman. Neal tells them he is to meet a friend, JACK Speddon, at the Long Beach auto show. But at Long Beach, Neal says he is going to the auto show and drives away with Betty, leaving her to find her own way home.

Speddon, Martha calls police, but she gets a wife, supposedly from San Francisco to San Francisco. She says herself growing up and more interested in Neal. Speddon is a very nice fellow, but she is not registered at the Long Beach hotel. Instead, Martha goes to the hotel, also presumably Betty, solving everything in a night. Disturbed, Martha goes to call police but Neal goes to the police. Neal tells Martha he loves her. Neal tells Martha he loves her.

W GO ON WITH THE STORY
CHAPTER XIII
 HE manager of the Bridge Auto Park granted and turned over his bed. But again there came a persistent knock at the door his cottage—a knock which he hoped might be part of a game. Grumbling audibly, he opened the door. He was startled to see a rather stately and very attractive young woman standing there. He was more amazed yet when he recognized her as the young woman who had called earlier in the day. The young man for whom he'd been holding that airmail letter from San Francisco.

"I'm sorry to bother you at this time of night," Martha said. "But I have a very important matter to discuss with you."

The man yawned. "There's a lot of it out there, lady. Just park where and I'll talk to you in the morning."

"You see, I'm with the Airspeed Trailer Company. I'll be here two or three days—"

Showing off the trailer? That's right, so long as you pay the regular rate. One fellow a while back had his trailer hooked to draw tomatoes and he should get in a cent free."

"I intend to pay," Martha said. "I reached into her bag. Never mind now, I don't like to lose sleep. See you in the morning."

The door slammed decisively, and Martha returned to the trailer. There were other cars and trailers in the camp, but she seemed to be the only tenant awake at this hour of the night.

PERHAPS, Martha told herself, she had been foolish to run away from the hotel and not wait until morning to come to the Bridge Auto Park. But when she had disengaged herself from Gerry Neal's arms and escaped into the solitude of her room she knew that she mustn't see him again. He would be telephoning in the morning, perhaps even that night—and she had to get away to think.

The Bridge Auto Park proved to be an excellent location for displaying the merits of the Airspeed. On one of the main arterials for both north and southbound traffic, it drew many a curious motorist attracted by the streamlined trailer. With these, as well as with the occupants of the auto park itself, Martha was kept busy. At the end of the day she had pointed out the merits of the trailer to scores of prospects, handed out as many advertising leaflets. At that night she made her report to Arnold Sloes, grateful for a task to keep her mind occupied.

That day and the next she stayed on at the Bridge Auto Park. Then, following Carrington's itinerary, she crossed the great bridge into Oakland and spent the day there.

The three days proved a tiresome grind, and at the close of the last Martha tumbled onto the made-up berth and dropped off to sleep almost instantly. When she opened her eyes the sun was streaming into the trailer. But it was not the sunshine which had awakened her. There had been a distant tapping at the rear window. Looking up she saw the smiling face of Gerry Neal.

"Breakfast ready?"

At the sound of his voice Martha's heart rose in her throat and whirled there like a frightened quail. She knew in that magic moment that all along she had wanted him to follow her—and been afraid he might not. She knew that despite all her anger and all her suspicions, she had wanted to see him again.

Hurriedly she drew on her dressing gown, and went to the window.

"I'll wait 10 minutes," Gerry told her. "Just one cigaret."

"How did you know where to find me?"

Neal grinned. "You showed me your itinerary. And I've known where you were. When I found you'd left the hotel I telephoned the Bridge Auto Park. I was mighty relieved when they said you were there. I was afraid perhaps you'd started north against my advice. You leave this morning, don't you?"

"I should have left an hour ago."

"You mean you should," Neal smiled. "Better start the coffee." Without answering, Martha turned from the window. It was nearer 20 minutes than 10 when she had dressed and made toast and coffee. But near the opened trailer door Neal was still waiting patiently.

"All set?"

"You're invited to breakfast," Martha said. "But not to go with me. And I'll have to hurry." Neal entered the trailer and sat down before the table, watching her pour the coffee. "You don't mean that?"

"I do, though. I've a job to do. You've said that the best thing for me is to keep on for the Airspeed Trailer Company. I can do that by myself. And you're not helping me to find Betty."

HE was silent a moment, still watching her deft hands. "Your next stop is at Eureka, isn't it?"

"Yes."

"There're some lonely stretches on those northern California roads. You'd better let me come along."

Martha sat down, pushed the lever on the automatic toaster. "San Francisco seems really booming. Why don't you try to find a job and settle down?"

"My job is to see you out of this." He reached across the table, took her hand, holding it tightly. "Look here, Martha—that night at the hotel I stopped pretending. Why don't you stop it, too?"

"I—I don't know what you mean."

"Yes, you do, Martha. You haven't the slightest reason to believe in me, but you have believed in me. I've been evasive and secretive, but you've trusted me. Why? Why have you done that?"

"Because I want to find Betty," Martha said.

Neal shook his head. "No, Martha. Your judgment tells you that you should report me to the police, ask them to investigate Betty's disappearance and broadcast a description of Speddon and his car. Isn't that true?"

"Yes . . . it's true," Martha sprang upward from the table. "It's true—and that's what I'm going to do!"

Sport Glances. . . . . By Grayson

BY ERSKINE JOHNSON
 NEA Service Sports Writer

VALON, Calif.—Players have eaten and talked their way off ball clubs. They have brought about their dismissal in numerous other ways, but Ethan Nathan Allen is the first player to photograph himself down the river.

One of the deep mysteries of the winter was why National League clubs let Outfielder Allen get out of the loop and into the custody of Rogers Hornsby and the St. Louis Browns.

Going to the Chicago Cubs from the Phillies with Pitcher Curt Davis in the Chuck Klein deal last summer, Allen turned out to be the more valuable of the two. In all, he took part in 121 games. He made 147 hits, including 32 for extra bases, and drove in 43 runs in compiling an average of .295, which was three points below his 11-year National League average of .298.

Allen, now 33, hasn't slowed up. He stole 16 bases. He is a splendid outfielder with a strong and true arm.

Allen's only weakness appears to be photography. Whether his team or the opposition was batting, Allen couldn't resist taking good shots with his little motion picture camera.

His finish at Wrigley Field came one afternoon last fall when, sensing a good shot at the plate, Allen rushed from the dugout to get a close-up.

It was then that young Philip K. Wrigley decided that Allen belonged in Hollywood, but there being no ball club there, and all other National League clubs waving on the camera fiend, he wound up in St. Louis.

Allen, a product of the University of Cincinnati, is writing a book which is to be titled, "How to Play Baseball."

It goes without saying that it will be illustrated with his own photos.

Many ball players have hobbies, but few carry them to the extent that Allen carries his camera.

A motion picture outfit wanted Rick Ferrell to quit the Red Sox last summer to guide his field trial dogs in a picture to be made in Tennessee.

Lefty Grove hasn't a scrapbook, but he has the last ball pitched in every game in which he has worked. . . .

Jimmy Collins collects broken bats with which he is building a fence around his Rochester home.

IRVING CHERRY, southpaw from the University of Illinois, struck out 20 in a semi-pro game in Chicago last summer.

Al Epperly, tall young right-hander from Eau Claire of the Northern League, is called "Doc" because last year he always kept a kit on the bench and developed first-aid technique as a sideline to pitching. . . . One day as he rushed out on the field in an emergency the kit split, covering the infield with bandages and iodine, and Albert Paul's name and fame as "Doc" was noised all over the loop.

Catcher Bob Garbark is a Bachelor of Science and an Alpha Chi Rho from Allegheny College. . . . A Texan by birth, he was a Cleveland farm hand at Toledo for three campaigns. . . . Joe Marty's crowning exploit so far created a sensational climax for the 1935 Pacific Coast League season. . . . In the deciding game of the play-off series, two on base, none out, and the score tied, Marty came to bat with every-body expecting him to bunt. . . . Manager Lefty O'Doul played it the other way, and Marty belted the ball into the bleachers for a home run which decided the pennant.

Behind the Scenes in Washington

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
 NEA Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON—The decision for a White House conference to discuss possible legislation to meet the epidemic of sitdown strikes followed weeks of confidential debate over the question whether the strikes were helping or hindering the President.

The idea gradually has been sinking in that the effect on the "middle class" section of the public mind has not been so good, especially with reference to the Roosevelt Supreme Court plan. Most politicians talk and act as if the court proposal were all that mattered nowadays, and White House reactions are almost exclusively conditioned by factors pertaining to it.

Optimistic New Dealers—or some of them—figured for awhile that the sitdown strikes and the mental disquiet they caused would lead public opinion to support of the President's plan. Some such plan would be needed, people were expected to think, to help Congress meet the labor problem as the Wagner act and other advisable measures.

That argument has gone over very well in labor ranks. The decisions of the Supreme Court have been cited, even by such an opponent of the plan as Senator Borah of Idaho, as an excuse for sitdown strikers.

On the other hand, the opposition appears to have been making headway among white-collar ranks with the charge that the administration's amiable attitude toward the Michigan sitdowns had indicated such a radical, pro-labor attitude that it had become imperative to balk it in any further reach for power.

New federal conciliation machinery probably will be set up. But there are no signs yet of any measure which will be distasteful to organized labor. Organized labor is the chief pressure group behind the President's court plan and Roosevelt isn't slapping any of his friends on the wrist—not until this fight is over, at least.

YOU can depend on at least one new idea popping up in every Congress and Representative Alfred N. Phillips, Jr., of Connecticut, has seen to it that the current session doesn't disappoint in that respect.

Phillips proposes that all poisonous snakes be killed and stuffed. He means the ones in the zoos, pointing out that some of the world's most venomous reptiles are separated from us only by a pane of glass.

"We are subjecting the people of this continent to an unnecessary future hazard in importing poisonous reptiles and allowing them to live in North America," he says. "In case of earthquake, flood, war or other unforeseen disaster, these creatures might escape and breed. They would be a menace to the health of the nation if they were stuffed as they are alive."

LIKELIHOOD that more than the $1,500,000,000 limit desired by Roosevelt will be appropriated for the next fiscal year's work-relief program is chiefly due to increased unwillingness of municipalities to care for their able-bodied employable citizens cut out of curtailed WPA activities.

Roosevelt once promised a federal program which would take care of all the nation's needy employables. The promise hasn't been kept, but there might be little pressure for its observance if local taxpayers were not complaining that the expense of caring for destitute unemployed is all they can stand.

Ed T. Cox Tells Ranger Rotarians Of County History

Ed T. Cox of Eastland was on the Rotary Club program at Ranger today and presented a very interesting talk on the history of Eastland County. L. R. Pearson had charge of the program, but Cox was unable to be present and had Cox be present to make the talk.

Highlights of his talk, which held the interest of all the members present throughout, included facts not generally known about the early history of the county.

He said the county was named for Capt. William Eastland, who was killed in the Mexican War after he had drawn a black bean and was organized in 1858. The first white settler was Frank Sanches, who settled on Jim Neal Creek. At the time the county was organized there were only six ranches in the county.

Sanches picked up a boy, whose father had been killed by Indians, and took the lad home to live with him. The boy's name has been forgotten.

John Flanagan was the second settler, moving near Staff, and W. H. Manaker was second, with only 90 population being recorded in 1860 and 80 living in the county in 1870. After that, however, the county grew rapidly.

Gholson Flanagan, son of the second settler was the first white man killed by an Indian in the county and five people, four men and one woman, were killed by Indians while the county was being settled.

The first wedding was between Miss Blair and Coon Keith, the license being issued out of Comanche county, and the first man nolds. Two very interesting talks were given, one by Marie Ramsey, "Check Yourself," and another by Charlie Tetola Simpson, "Styles and Why They Change." Plans for improving the club and making it more interesting were discussed.

The club is happy to announce that it now has enough money to cover the expenses of the five delegates who will be sent to the state rally in Fort Worth April 29 and 30, and May 1. The club has already elected Melba Morgan to represent it at the rally.

PARAMOUNT NEWS

married in the county after it was organized was J. L. Duffer. The first courthouse was built in 1882 and was destroyed by fire in 1896, after which the county seat was moved to Eastland and court was held at the present site of the Corner Drug Store in that city.

Jim Davis was the first general merchant in Ranger, he said, and a man named Thomas was the first hardware merchant. He told of Thompson selling a stove to a rancher, but saying he didn't care whether he made the sale or not, as it would deplete his stock of stoves.

The first five doctors were Drs. Evans, Patterson, Young, Walls and Stubblefield, he stated. An amusing story about the first railroad was told. Charlie Todd saw a man riding along holding aloft a flag, and questioned him. He was told a railroad was being surveyed. The surveying crew told the same story. Todd rode to the home of O. P. England, who advised Todd to gather up his neighbors and inform them that a gang of cattle thieves was operating in the county, as no railroad could go over the hills the county.

Cox's recital of the early history of the county contained too many interesting details to elaborate upon, but which were of much interest to his hearers.
