Europe's New Sample
of Old Diplomacy

The Spanish government has prepared a "White Book" which presents its case to the family of nations much in the same manner of a little boy "telling" on the neighborhood toughies who beat him up.

This "White Book" is supposed to be a complete and untinted resume of the conditions under which the government was forced into civil war and how it was unfairly clouded by outsiders awaiting their chance to scavenge the marbles that might roll from the Spanish pockets.

All this is well and good. There should be a frank record of a situation which has been so covered with the slime of intrigue and covert plotting and so fraught with the danger of a general war. But the record doesn't end there.

Cables report that the "White Book," as prepared for the League of Nations Council, deals solely with "Italian aggression" against Spain, with no mention of Germany's part on the Rebel side. The only logical deduction is that the Loyalists, with the silent approval of France and Great Britain, were moving to minimize German intervention, allow Hitler to withdraw from Spain without loss of prestige and thus bring about a split in the lately cultivated Berlin-Rome friendship.

Summed up, this means that diplomacy, the strict ethical requirements of vaunted foreign service schools, and myriad peace and anti-Fascist leagues have brought us no nearer, in actual practice, to intentional honesty than we were before, during and after the World War.

It does not take a genius at modern history to recall how the allies colored half the facts and concealed the other half in order to drag the United States into the World War. It is on the record that Japan sided with the allies because the Japanese were offered an easy grab of German possessions in the Orient. And in the case of Rumania, which sold out to the allies merely because they could promise more war spoils, we have a classic example of intrigue on the grand scale.

After the World War came a flood of "White Books," "Red Books," and "Yellow Books" issued by the individual governments in a feeble effort to whitewash their own guilt. They provided valuable details for the technical historian, but they did not reveal the scheming and plotting or the underhand methods of war making that might steer future generations away from the same kind of trouble.

Experience still is our best teacher, and Americans who feel the stirrings of interest in some "glorious cause" overseas should refer without delay to the current manipulation of Spain's "White Book" and all that it implies.

A Massachusetts academy is saving the butt of a cigar smoked by President Coolidge. Since it is not mentioned, the pin probably was lost.

Two New Forms of Social Security
Blanks Are Ready

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Announcement was made today by Commissioner of Internal Revenue Guy T. Helvering of the release of Forms SS-2 and SS-2a which have been prescribed for use by employers in making their information returns under Title VIII of the Social Security Act. Copies of these forms are now being printed and will be made available in the near future at offices of Collectors of Internal Revenue.

Every employer who, during any calendar month beginning with the month of January 1937, employed one or more individuals in an occupation not specifically exempt from the taxes imposed by Title VIII of the Act, is required to file an information return on Forms SS-2 and SS-2a. These forms, it was stated, are in addition to the monthly tax return on Form SS-1 which is also required to be filed by each such employer.

The first return on Forms SS-2 and SS-2a covers the period January 1, 1937, to June 30, 1937, both dates inclusive, and must be filed not later than July 31, 1937, with the collector of internal revenue for the district in which the employer's principal place of business is located. Subsequent returns on such forms will be filed on a quarterly basis to cover each period of three calendar months ending on September 30, December 31, March 31, and June 30, and are required to be filed on or before the last day of the first month following the period for which the return is made.

Form SS-2, which must be filed in duplicate, will contain a summary statement of all taxable wages paid to all employees within the period covered by the return. Form SS-2a must show the taxable wages paid to each employee, within such period. Form SS-2a is not to be filed in duplicate but, it was emphasized, a separate original form must be filed for each employee, whether temporary or permanent.

Each employer who filed Form SS-4, employer's application for an identification number, will be notified of his number prior to the time the first information return on Forms SS-2 and SS-2a is due.
The employer is required to enter his identification number on the information return as well as his monthly tax returns. If no identification number has been assigned prior to the time for filing the information return, the employer must enter on the return the date on which the application on Form SS-4 was filed and the name and address of the agency to which the application was addressed.

Each Form SS-2a filed by an employer must also show the account number of the employee whose taxable wages are reported thereon. If the employee has no account number, the employer is required to enter on the form the date on which the application for the number on Form SS-5 was filed, the agency to which the application was addressed, and the address of the employee. It was pointed out in this connection that under Treasury regulations if, on the last day of the period covered by an information return,

Youngest G. A. R.
Vet, He Claims

Cyrus M. Lichty, above, 86-year-old resident of Cedar Falls, Ia., believes he is the youngest living Union Civil War veteran. Lichty enlisted at 11 years, three months and 10 days in the 21st Iowa Infantry and fought at Vicksburg. He is 11 months younger than William Strange of Bruceville, Ind., who has been often recognized as the youngest G. A. R. survivor.

An employee has failed to file an application for an account number on Form SS-5, the employer is required to file an application for such employee, based on information and belief.

Form SS-2 must be signed by (1) the individual, if the employer is an individual; (2) the president, vice president, or other principal officer, if the employer is a corporation; or (3) a responsible and duly authorized member having knowledge of its affairs, if the employer is a partnership or other unincorporated organization.

Each return must be acknowledged before an officer authorized to administer oaths but if the amount of taxable wages paid within the period covered by the return is $500 or less, the return may be acknowledged before two disinterested witnesses instead of under oath. An employee is not considered to be a disinterested witness.

Employers who have been filing Forms SS-1 and whose names are listed on collector's mailing lists, it was stated, will be furnished with a supply blank forms SS-2 and SS-2a sufficient for their current needs without the necessity for requesting them at collector's offices. In view of the large number of employers to whom the forms must be furnished, however, it was not expected that the distribution of these forms would be completed before July 1, 1937. An employer who does not receive copies of the forms by that date should at that time, but not before, request a supply sufficient for his current needs from the office of the collector for his district. In this connection, it was pointed out that failure to receive blank forms will not excuse employers for failure to file their returns on time.

Severe penalties are imposed by law for willful failure to file returns or for false or fraudulent returns.
The information to be reported on forms SS-2 and SS-2a should be made up from the records which every employer liable for tax under Title VIII of the Act is required to keep with respect to all employees after December 31, 1936, for services performed for him after that date. Such records must show in regard to each employee: (1) his name, address and social security account number; (2) his occupation; (3) the total amount and date of each remuneration payment and the period of services covered by such payment; (4) the amount of such remuneration payment which constitutes wages subject to tax; and (5) the amount of employees' tax withheld or collected with respect to such payment, and, if collected at a time other than the time such payment was made, the date collected.

No particular form is prescribed for keeping these records. Each employer must use such forms and systems of accounting as will enable the Commission of Internal Revenue to ascertain whether the taxes for which the employer is liable are correctly computed and paid.

Britain Drafts War
Aerial Convoy Plan

LONDON.— Plans for aerial convoy of all ships coming into British ports in war-time are being drawn up by the Admiralty committee working with the Food Defense department.
The First Lord of the Admiralty hinted at this in a speech at the launching of the aircraft-carrier the development of carriers would greatly assist the problem of food supplies by giving convoys the protection of aircraft in large numbers. By this means the surrounding air and sea could be searched for raiders.

That was the first indication of the purpose for which the Ad-vessels.

Security Problems Are Discussed Explained Here by Representative at Social Security Board at Austin

Security was the subject of discussion in numerous interviews in Ranger, Monday, June 7, by W. von Rosenberg, representative from the Social Security Board at Austin. Mr. von Rosenberg spent Monday in Ranger talking with people who were in confusion over the program, particularly discussed the benefits program.

Old-Age benefits program to establishments with employees the same as to those, von Rosenberg said, are based on wages and beginning next July employer will be required to submit report to the Bureau of Internal Revenue on even those who have worked regular-time, or temporarily, during 1937. The report will show name, address, account number, date of payment, period of service covered, the employer's reports on wages paid, the employee's wages, and their months of service covered.

Selected for the part because of his resemblance to Warner Oland, Layne Tom, Jr., nine-year-old Chinese boy, is cast as the "number two" son of the famous Chinese detective in "Charlie Chan at the Olympics," Twentieth Century-Fox film opening today at the Arcadia Theatre.

The youngster's ambition to be a policeman some day was given increased impetus with his role in the film, in which he helps his "father" in his most interesting and difficult case—the apprehension of a desperate ring of international spies intent on seizing a secret airplane radio-control device and the solution of a series of murders connected with their attempts.

In characteristic fashion Chan makes haste slowly, carefully building up his case from the meagre clues that almost always escape everyone else, until finally the criminals are tricked into self-exposure.

Dr. Pepper And Lone Star Win In Games on Monday

Dr. Pepper defeated TeePee in a closely contested game that was good throughout, the final score at the end of the first of the two games played Monday night being 5 and 3 in favor of the soft drink boys.

In the second game Killingsworth, Cox and Lone Star played neck and neck until the fatal fifth, when three errors and six hits accounted for six runs for Lone Star and they defeated Killingsworth Cox by a score of 10 to 2. Until the big rally by Lone Star the score was 4 to 2 after four innings of playing and it looked as though another closely contested game would be played.

Dr. Pepper made four errors to three for the Wardmen, but they outbit their opponents by 10 to 6, with Bielinski, Dr. Pepper shortstop, hitting for the circuit in the second inning with no one aboard.

A large crowd was out to see the games:

Girls Workout at Softball Monday And Look Good

About 20 girls turned out for first practice Monday afternoon at the ball park. Much interest is being shown by these girls and with the addition of several of the veterans from last year's girl teams there is much promise of having a good team this year.

As the girls round into form, the management working with the Soft Ball association, will arrange games with near by towns, bringing some of the games to Ranger, thereby giving Ranger softball fans an opportunity of seeing some good girl ball games.

Can't blame actresses for not joining the Hollywood strike. With makeup men not working, the poor girls just didn't have the face.

"FIRST of all," Pats stated convincingly, "I happen to have a letter written by you, Rosie, a letter which you were still in Hollywood, in which you called Don a beast. 'A mean old beast' were the exact words, because he had vetoed your suggestion that you come to New York. I think that takes care of charge number one. CLEVELAND.—Hugo Frank Bezdek who incurred the wrath of some alumni of Pennsylvania State College for refusing to tolerate professionalism on his collegiate football team now finds himself a professional.

Bezdek is the only football coach who ever managed a major league baseball club. He guided the Pittsburgh Pirates in 1917, '18 and '19, after gaining the late Barney Dreyfuss' confidence as a scout.

They forgot that Bezdek brigades from 1919 to 1921, inclusive, were undefeated, and went around and over 80 rivals. Among the Nittany Lions' victims, while Bezdek was allowing as a football strategist, were such mighty giants of the chafed lines as Philadelphia, Georgia Tech, Nebraska, Pennsylvania, Cornell, Harvard, and Navy.

He's a hell-for-leather and hard-bitten veteran of the Ancient and Honorable School of Hard Knocks. And now that he really has turned professional, you can count upon Hugo Frank Bezdek to make a running start at 53.

"ALL-BRAN LIVES UP TO REPUTATION"

If you are troubled with common constipation, read Miss Bundy's enthusiastic letter:

"I used to feel poorly all the time—just down and out. After reading an advertisement about ALL-BRAN, I got a box. It has helped me ever since." Miss Mary Bundy, Bennettsville, S. C.

Laboratory tests show that Kellogg's ALL-BRAN brings "bulk" to exercise the intestines; vitamin B to tone up the intestinal tract.

Within the body, ALL-BRAN absorbs twice its weight in water. This soft mass gently clears the intestines in a safe, natural way—without any of the weakening action of pills and drugs.

Just eat two tablespoonfuls daily—with every meal in severe cases. Serve as a cereal with milk or fruits, or cook into recipes. Remember—ALL-BRAN is a food—not a medicine. You buy it at the grocery store. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Golf Psychology—by Denny Shate

NUMBER THREE—MORE USE FOR THE SPOON

Our trusted friend, the spoon, discussed in the preceding article, will also prove a mighty valuable friend on the short, narrow par four. Here, as in the case of the extra long one shotted, don't strive for the extra distance that you know isn't in you.

Let the chap who wants to "bust 'em" go after his. You take Mr. Spoon in hand and concentrate on putting the ball straight down the center. You will find your effort made easier by your trusted friend. You will find that this and the simple pitch or short chip which is left have produced just as many pars and birdies as were holed by the fellow who smacked the long wooden shot "somewhere" on the green.

The Average Par Four

Above we discussed the short and tricky par four hole. Let us now consider the average par four hole, the one so aptly termed the backbone of the golf course. As was stated in the first article, these usually start with a "get-away" hole of from 340 to 380 yards, and they average about this length. There are usually eight of them.

After the drive, we have the same consideration as with the short hole, with one important difference. The difference is this—in playing the shot to the one shotted you are playing from the tee, while in playing the "approach to the hole" as one shotted you are playing from the fairway, or at least I trust so. Consideration, therefore, must be given as to how the ball lies.

On this subject we again come back to the matter of caution. Don't hold your swing. If the ball lies well, take a club that will get you there easily. If it is a "close lie," take a club that has a trifle more loft. And remember that, in hitting the ball for a "close or bad lie, this loft usually compensates in the getting of distance by the fact that you subconsciously put a little more effort into the shot.

200 Yards Is a Good Drive
Now we come to the long par

Driving Distance

four of 400 yards. Discounting the careless remark of the enthusiastic dub who talks glibly of the "300 yard poke" he was witnessed, most of you will agree with me that the fellow who averages 200 yards is a pretty sound golfer. As a matter of fact, championships have been won by men who seldom drove farther.

Let us take up the problem of what to do after the ball has been smacked that 200 yards. We are faced with the fact that we still have 200 yards to the green, and perhaps over a trap or cross bunker requiring a considerable carry, yet assuming you are one of those favored by the gods who can play a perfect wooden shot off the fairway, there is still the problem of the ball not always lying as well as it does when you play from the tee.

Consider Average Player.
You may be the chap who plays a long iron particularly well, and, if you do, no comment is necessary. But since 200 yard irons are something to be contemplated by only a few, we must again consider the average player and the easiest manner in which he can obtain the maximum distance.

This brings us back to the well-known spoon. You, of course, know that increased loft on any club usually makes for increased distance. Let us assume the following.

Spoon Gives Confidence
You have driven 200 yards, and upon approaching the ball, you find it about an average lie. Take out the trusty spoon with the confidence that its added loft will give you. It will remove instantly from your mental picture any thought of "digging" or "spooning." You can hit through the ball with freedom and relaxation. Even if you "turn over" on the ball just a wee bit, this "turning over" with the spoon adds that few extra yards which make for full brassie distance.

If you have played the shot as described, and your direction has been notably straight, you then find yourself reposing on the edge of the green if not actually "well on" the 400 yard hole. In either case it is a matter of either a delicate chip or a long approach-putt before you can "tap it in" for your par.

Tomorrow the 430 to 450 yard hole.

CARDUI

In this modern time something wonderfully worth while can be done for practically every woman who suffers from functional pains of menstruation. Certain cases can be relieved by taking Cardui. Others may need a physician's treatment.

Cardui has two widely demonstrated uses: (1) To ease the immediate pain and nervousness of the monthly period; and (2) to aid in building up the whole system by helping women to get more strength from their food.
