

Bankers Say New Deal For Business Is Needed Now

By United Press

DALLAS.—Bankers of the Southwest are generally agreed on the injurious effect of the national administration's policy. The pending wage and hours bill was denounced with similar business before the present session. "The national administration is not doing its job," they say. "The national administration is not doing its job," they say. "The national administration is not doing its job," they say.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD

By William Ferguson

It never was a president but I can't get up much enthusiasm over the near future outlook which depends upon so many things such as tax relief, social security, unemployment service of some kind, Federation of Labor and CIO consolidation, wages and hours bill, and many other contributing factors. Walter C. Spang, president of the Texas State National Bank of San Antonio, said:

"However, I am not expecting to have a depression such as we have gone through. In my opinion everyone should get forward in the same confident way and condition will be in a prosperous condition."

R. W. Caldwell, president of the First National Bank of Galveston, said:

"We are experiencing a severe business recession. There seems to be no reason for this to continue. On the contrary, we have many reasons to look for decided improvement."

"The great disturbing feature of the picture as a whole seems to be the feeling of uncertainty as to the policy of our national government. Almost any policy that we could know would be a stable policy, and could be relied upon, would give business a feeling of confidence, the necessary adjustment would follow. The present policy seems to be an indefinite threat that paralyzes the progress and development of business."

W. C. Thayer, Jr., president of the Marshall National Bank, gave as his opinion:

"This session, as yet, has not

Japanese Juggernauts Crash Nanjing's Defense

Slowly but steadily encroaching upon more and more of China's territory, Japan's relentless advance is characterized by the ruthless, clanking drive of the tank corps into fallen Nanjing. The tanks carried "top-up" squads to clear out snipers, and followed the destructive artillery barrage turned upon the capital. Smoke from shelled and burning buildings hangs darkly over the road. Meanwhile Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek resigned as head of China's nationalist government and political prisoners, mostly Communists, were released on bail.

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M.—Albert S. Falk says he has visited Nevada and Arizona, spreading the gospel of the plan for a pension of $30 to $50 a month for all persons 21 years old and over.

Falk explained that the original plan favored the pension for unemployed persons only, at a rate of $30 a month, and that he was working to get the law changed to include all people who need the money, due to the low wages.

He mentioned the plan would cost $25,000,000,000, and "per haps more, annually. The money

Woman Misses a Death by Choking On An Escalator

LONDON—Mrs. W. H. Preston of Cheshire, was almost crushed to death in a strange accident that may never occur again.

She was walking down the escalator of a tube station, when a rush of air from a passing train blew her coat into the mechanism. The next second she had reached the bottom and the coat was pulled tight. As the stairs moved on, Mrs. Preston was dragged to her knees, screaming in terror.

Then the coat pulled tighter still and began to strangle her. Just as she was losing consciousness the neck of the coat parted. Her daughter and another friend sprang to her aid and gripped the dragging coat in a desperate tug-of-war. Another man rushed to the safety switch and stopped the machinery as she fainted.

Mrs. Preston is seeking compensation from the railway company.

Nearly 1,000,000 people use the escalator every day. The odds against injury are calculated at 200,000,000 to 1.

Handwriting No Key to Character Declares Expert

CHEYENNE, Wyo. — Albert Osborn, Jr., Washington handwriting expert whose investigations figured prominently in the Hauptmann trial, branded as "fakers" graphologists and other "experts" who profess to read the characters of persons from their handwriting.

Osborn, who was here to determine the validity of handwriting in a $80,000 insurance suit, said that the fallacy of "graphology" has been proved many times.

He told of one test in which handwriting samples were taken from a large number of prisoners at Sing Sing prison, and from a group of prominent churchmen. These were mixed, he said, and graphologists were asked to determine which signatures were which.

Ex-County Judge Advocates Change In Fiscal Years

DALHART, Texas—Former Dal- lam County Judge Floyd McNeill suggested that government subdivisions would be more efficient if their fiscal years ran concurrently with the tax year.

McNeill served 12 years as Dallas county judge, held other county offices in Texas and Oklahoma, and for a time directed the Northwest Texas Panhandle unit of the State-Wide Tax Survey.

In at least one respect such a change is needed for a standpoint of law compliance, he said. Subdivisions, he asserted, whose fiscal year opens July 1 and whose tax year opens Oct. 1 can rarely comply with the exact letter of the law requiring them to budget expenditures a year in advance.

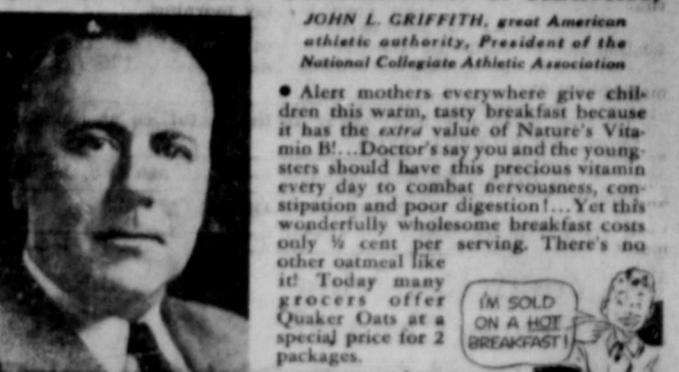

The law says the budget must not be made until tax levies are determined, yet it must be made before July 1, if that opens a new fiscal year. And if the tax year does not open until Oct. 1, it is more often than not that the tax valuation is set long after July 1, McNeill said.

Is Youth Receiving Its Proper Chance?

Nobody wants to see the United States descend to the sort of regimentation of youth that puts dummy rifles in boys' hands at 3, start them drilling at 5, teaches them nothing but a blind, pre-digested philosophy, and turns them eventually into robots with bulging muscles and no more brains than a Hottentot.

But that does not mean that we can afford to let young men and women grow up on the sidewalks without a decent chance to get interested in something that will help them to make something of themselves.

In the county jail at Cleveland sit five young men. They are not unusual. Every city has scores just like them.

These five youths, ranging from 16 to 20 years old, are charged with cold-bloodedly shooting down two policemen who stopped them at a gas station on suspicion of several holdups. What brings a young life to this at 16?

Let us go back to babyhood with Anthony Liberatore, born 16 years ago to parents married in Naples, Italy, 30 years ago.

Anthony was little more than 10 when he first got into trouble for stealing some golf clubs and a fishing reel. Tony was paroled to a probation officer. Three months later, he was accused of helping two other boys steal 34 cents from a newsboy.

Five months later he admitted stealing some padlocks from a dime store. Then came failure in school. He was sent to a special summer school under close supervision. Eighteen months of that showed such improvement that he was released from juvenile court supervision. Almost four years passed before he got into trouble again.

Two years ago he was caught trying to break into a fruit store. At that time others of his "gang" were sent to various institutions for more serious offenses.

While they were absent, Tony improved greatly. He was a regular at school, earned as much as $10 a week in free hours, had a savings account and a Y. M. C. A. membership.

Then his old gang began to drift back into town. He "found the neighborhood gang more attractive and satisfying than his own home." And when this 16-year-old was arrested after the police murders, there were powder marks on his hands.

Who put them there? First, of course, Tony himself. But there is a limit to the responsibility that you can put on a boy of 16, with an intelligence quotient of 73, on the borderline of mental deficiency.

The family, of course, shares responsibility, for after all they brought the boy into the world, and gave him little attention at home "until he began to be a problem."

But on all of us there is some responsibility for those tell-tale powder-marks. For it is all of us collectively who have failed to provide interests and opportunities that would have been more attractive to this boy than gangs and guns.

Italy Remains Sure of Gold From Ethiopia

Six Mines Are Reported Working With New Equipment

By JOSEPH D. RAVOTTO United Press Staff Correspondent ROME, Jan. 7. — Ethiopian gold, platinum, coffee and hides are beginning to pay the huge cost of conquest of the East African Empire.

Italian colonial experts still talk in the most optimistic terms of the mineral and agricultural resources of Ethiopia. However, one year and a half after Italian troops entered Addis Ababa see only these four products and several others to a minor degree coming out of Ethiopia to help foot the bill.

While much publicity is given to the exploitation of these four key products, definite statistics are lacking. Gold, which Premier Mussolini in a recent speech said existed in considerable quantities in East Africa, is being extracted at a reported rate of about 200 pounds a month. Great hopes are held for a doubled output during the coming year.

Six Mines Laid Out. It is reported that six mines are already being exploited. Villages for workers have been constructed and all the necessary modern equipment installed.

About 1,000 pounds of platinum is being extracted from Ethiopian soil per annum at the moment. Like gold, platinum has always been mined by the natives, but in minor quantities.

Simple Recipe For Home Made Chili

The Gebhardt Chili Powder company of San Antonio offers a very simple recipe to make delicious chili at home.

- 2 Lbs. of beef.
2 tablespoons Gebhardt's chili powder.
3 tablespoons flour.
2 teaspoons salt.
4 tablespoons shortening.
1 1/2 quarts hot water.
Can of Gebhardt's spiced beans if desired.

This recipe may disappoint you unless you use Gebhardt's chili powder. Gebhardt's chili powder is a complete flavoring, containing the necessary spices, etc., in combination with a blend of imported and domestic chili peppers, to give you the perfect Mexican flavor for chili.

The Gebhardt Chili Powder company has been a Texas institution for 41 years.

of its coffee crop to the United States and north European nations, principally Holland, Sweden and Norway—old customers dating back to pre-Menelik days. Italy encourages these exports as it brings precious foreign currency to the shrunken Fascist treasury.

Hide Business Good. Skins and hides came out of Ethiopia in considerable quantities but no statistics are available. The only information throwing light on Ethiopian skin and hide production is the report that the Italian company which holds a monopoly on this industry netted a clear profit of $150,000 in the last six months.

Behind the Scenes in Washington

BY RODNEY DUTCHER

WASHINGTON.—"Lack of confidence" is so often said to be a fundamental factor in the business slump that it's a news item of the man-bites-dog type when anyone says that "too much confidence," rather than not enough, was one of the recession's major causes.

"The plain truth of the matter is that business in general had too much confidence, and speculated in inventory buying," says Dr. Leon Henderson, chief economist of WPA. "When a corporation is uncertain about the future, it does not buy materials, supplies and new machinery. Business went blindly ahead even when many storm warnings were signaling that the great mass of consumers lacked purchasing power to take their goods off the market."

Henderson's words have been carrying plenty of weight in Washington since he predicted the business recession, with startling accuracy, many months in advance.

According to Henderson's tabulations, 50 large corporations with total assets of $1,330,300,000, had inventories valued at $232,456,000 at the end of 1929. But at the end of last September, even though the price level was considerably lower, these inventories amounted to $285,606,000.

Those who are optimistic about business prospects are sure that industrial activity will pick up "when inventories get worked off."

IN past years no president ever considered sending an Irish Catholic ambassador to London because relations between England and Ireland are always so delicate. But the appointment of Joseph P. Kennedy to the Court of St. James may turn out to be a good idea—because relations between England and the States are still delicate. For one thing, the wouldn't think of suggesting they would just as soon as Irishmen. They need Empire front in the European situation, can't afford to affront government which is sticking pins in the Br erment. (The latest in the dispatch of an Irish minister to the Italian government of Ethiopia, in Rome.) Furthermore, the U. S. ment is anxious that it be able to face Germany without worrying about and it is believed Kenn pointment, and perhaps frequent activities, may help Anglo-Irish relations.

The measure is preferred list and will be th at once. A somewhat side will has passed the House. Some filibustering is expected but lobbyists for the measure believe that southern members bitterly opposed are so keen eventual defeat that they'd talk more than four or at the most.

Senator James F. Byrd for South Carolina, an anti-lynching leader, privately has concluded the bill will pass. Sen. Ch Connally of Texas, president of the longest, loudest filibuster against it, has said: "We realize that women postpone action forever, secure izate that sooner or later anti-lynching."

SPORT GLANCES - By Grayson

By HARRY GRAYSON
Sports Editor, NEA Service

WONDER what Hirsch Jacobs does to or whispers into the ears of his horses? Whereas the great majority of trainers rise and fall with the fortunes of famous runners, Jacobs continues to make castoffs pay important money.

This is the fifth straight year that he has led the ranks. Jacobs first demonstrated that his transformations to an expert at racing pigeons, which is what he was in Brooklyn, to a race horse conditioner was a complete success in 1933, when he saddled 116 winners. He came through with 127 the following year and had 114 in 1935. Last year he amazed the gee-gee globe with 177, a total never before attained.

Jacobs-prepared nags earned $113,000 in 1934, fell short of $100,000 in '35, but grossed a cool $156,000 last year. And the best part of it is that Jacobs sharpens his own, or those of his wife. The swag stays in the family.

There are no Seabiscuits or War Admirals in the Jacobs string. Hirsch is the "Ol' Clo'sman of the Turf." He has gallopers which are not, and never have been, world beaters. He purchases them when other trainers can't locate the operating formula for them and give up. He seldom fails to find the solution.

Dean of the Jacobs barn in Espinaca, an 8-year-old which, if memory serves, once sported the ritz silks of the Greentree Stable. This thing appeared very promising a half dozen years ago, but those who "sacked him" shortly rued the day.

Under Jacobs, however, Espinaca for the last two years has won a number of times and finished in the money on other occasions. Spartan Lady and Fluffy are 7-year-olds, and then come the 6-year-olds, Signalman, Time Clock, and Observant. Signalman was one of the last of the Sir Bartons. For a while it looked as though he might be one of the foremost. Audley Farms were pretty high on him as a juvenile, but he faded quickly.

Time Clock and Observant have enjoyed their own mede of fame. Observant was one of the top 3-year-olds of his year. Morton Schwartz, who owned him, finally peddled him to his trainer, none other than the canny Maxie Hirsch. But Maxie Hirsch surrendered, and now it remains for Hirsch Jacobs to put him back in winning strides.

This year, of course, Jacobs has had the rather capable South America horse, Caballero II, which chased Seabiscuit two or three times. Caballero II was good before Jacobs got him, but the magic of the tracks put this bangtail in his finest form to date.

The answer is that Hirsch Jacobs knows how to condition horses, and what is just as important, how to place them against the right kind of competition.

Perhaps some of the other trainers should take a course in racing pigeons.

THE year is new, but the taste for pie is as old as hungry men. Judging from the number of letters begging for more and more pie recipes, it looks as though 1938 will be the biggest pie year since the signing of the Declaration of Independence.

January Fruit Pie
(2 crust 9-inch pie)

Three-quarter cup drained canned apricots, 3-4 cup drained canned or cooked prunes, 1-4 cup orange juice, 1-4 cup prune juice, 1-4 cup lemon juice, 1-4 cup apricot juice, 3-4 cup sugar, 1-4 teaspoon salt, 1-4 cup flour, 1-2 cup water.

Line 9-inch pie plate with pastry. Cut apricots in half and prunes and cook about 5 minutes. Mix flour and water to a paste, stir into prune mixture and cook until thick, or about 10 minutes, stirring occasionally; add apricots. Turn into pastry lined plate and arrange lattice of pastry strips over top, and bake in hot oven (450 degrees F.) 10 minutes; then reduce heat to moderate (350 degrees F.) and bake 20 to 25 minutes longer.

Sour Cream Raisin Pie
(1 crust 9-inch pie)

Two eggs, slightly beaten, 1 cup sugar, 1 cup sour cream, 1 tablespoon flour, 1-8 teaspoon salt, 1-2 teaspoon nutmeg, 1-2 teaspoon cinnamon, 1 cup chopped raisins, 1-2 cup chopped butternuts.

Line 9-inch pie plate with pastry. Beat together eggs and sugar; gradually stir in sour cream. Mix together flour, salt, and spices; stir into raisins and nuts. Add to cream mixture, then turn into pastry-lined plate. Bake in hot oven (450 degrees F.) 10 minutes, then reduce heat to moderate (350 degrees F.) and bake 20 to 30 minutes longer, or until knife inserted comes out clean.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD

IF THE PLANET JUPITER WERE REDUCED TO THE SIZE OF AN ORANGE, THE EARTH, REDUCED TO THE SAME SCALE, WOULD BE THE SIZE OF A PEA.

JUPITER is the largest of the planets, with a diameter of 86,720 miles, which is about eleven times that of the earth. For every square mile of surface on our own earth, Jupiter has 120 square miles.

"Then how would you like to be me—for a little while?" asked Connie.

Miss Connie sat up, flung her hair over her shoulder, and asked: "Did you hear me?" Connie asked.

The girl nodded. "I said I didn't want to be anyone, or anything, ever again," Connie said. "And I meant it."

"Why?"

Connie was so surprised that she answered before she thought. "Because I'm sick of everyone and everything. I'm sick of living."

The incredulity on the girl's face deepened. "You! she exploded. "When you have everything in the world you wonder!"

It was Connie who nodded this time. "Exactly," she said. "That's what my grandfather told me years ago. That's why I haven't anything."

"But you're the richest girl in the world!" the girl said. And then, "Oh, I'd give anything to be you! Just for a little while."

Now Connie stared at her speechless.

"Anything!" the girl went on, speaking rapidly, heatedly, as though now that her reserve had been broken down she could not stop the flow of words. "To have all this, nothing but beauty around you—to sleep in a bed like that—to lie as long as you want... But I'm sorry," she stopped, her face coloring. "I didn't think what I was saying. I didn't mean to say it."

"I didn't mean to throw things," Connie said. There was a new light in her blue eyes; a flame much deeper than any flickering candle, a flame that grew brighter, more intense. She beckoned the girl to her side, regarded her a long moment, the cheap little hat that yet had an air of chic, the neat plain suit, worn, but well-pressed, the freshly laundered blouse, the shiny hose, with a runner neatly darned, the brown brogues, scuffed a bit, but bravely shined. An air of pride and defiance about the whole ensemble, matching the lift of the trembling chin and pretty head. Connie nodded as though satisfied, as she said:

"Then how would you like to be me—for a little while?"

Super-Salesman of 1937 Is Selected

By United Press
FORT WORTH—Henry G. Ingram of Brownwood, who first covered his sales territory in a wagon, was named "outstanding salesman of 1937," in a contest sponsored by local business concerns.

Ingram, 70, has won numerous prizes for salesmanship. He was in New York City on a trip, the prize for another contest, when his selection as "outstanding salesman" was announced at a banquet here. Ingram began his career by selling in more than 25 West Texas counties, traveling in horse and wagon.

Texas Is 39th In Proportion of Her Workers

DALLAS, Texas—Texas, the nation's fifth ranking state in population, stands only 39th in percentage of workers gainfully employed in manufacturing and mechanical industries, and, although it is the leading state in value of mineral production, is only 14th in ratio of persons engaged in mineral producing industries.

There are two of the more significant items illustrating Texas "occupational characteristics" contained in a recent Dun and Bradstreet survey of "resources and debts of the 48 states," says a report of the All-South Development Council. While the survey deals primarily with debt-paying abilities of the states, the analysis of economic characteristics directly affecting these abilities naturally reveals comparisons useful in charting industrial expansion possibilities, the report pointed out.

Instead of identifying the various states economically by their totals of production in the three principal productive divisions—agriculture, minerals, and manufacturing—the survey identifies them by the proportions of working population engaged in each. This method mimics much of the dominance which Texas, by virtue of its great size, has seemed to have in various agricultural tables. It is outranked by 13 other states in per centage of population engaged in agriculture.

In a tabulated analysis of proportionate "gainful employment" for all the states and the country as a whole, Texas' percentage of workers in manufacturing, 15.6, shows a much greater deficiency from the U. S. norm of 29.3, than in any other division.

Among the 38 states ahead of Texas in the manufacturing and mechanical industries table are: Louisiana, whose progress in the last year has drawn nationwide editorial comment on the effectiveness of its "welcome to industries" program, with 18 per cent; California, which is nearly Texas' size and has impressive agriculture and mining production, yet has 24.7 per cent engaged in manufacturing; and Alabama, not generally regarded as a manufacturing state, 18.1 per cent. Rhode Island, the smallest state, is far in the lead with 55.1 per cent.

The Texas percentage of 24, of persons engaged in mineral production, is exactly the same as the national percentage, although Texas, on the basis of 1935 figures, topped all states, including Pennsylvania, California, West Virginia, Oklahoma, Ohio and Louisiana in mineral values with a total of $528,000,000. Oil, natural gas, sulphur and natural gasoline were the dominant Texas mineral products, none of her

He moved to Brownwood with his family in 1910. Ingram is an enthusiastic football and baseball fan and his wife, 65, enjoys a local reputation as an artist.

He'll Never Know His Daddy, 71

His 71-year-old father, who dropped dead before he was born, was a railroad man, but David Wilson Gowder, 3d, will be a farm boy, if his 24-year-old mother, the former Jewell McDaniel of Atlanta, Ga., has anything to do with it. She's going to move her healthy 4-month-old son to the farm she just bought at Powder Springs, Ga.

Prodigy Kept from Hollywood

Though movie scouts traced her to Sellersville, Pa., they're unable to lure Josephine Emily Richter, 6-year-old prodigy, to Hollywood. Her parents turned down a contract which would have exploited the girl's ability as a pianist, dancer and singer in three languages. Josephine will stay at home and play for her life-sized doll.

The orchestra for the tent show, now playing in Ranger, has won wide acclaim since coming to Ranger this week, and good music is promised for the dance tonight.

ing percentage of gainfully employed workers in all classes of employment compare favorably with the United States averages. They are shown as follows: Agriculture, Texas 38.1, U. S. 21.5; mineral production, Texas 2.4; U. S. 2.4; manufacturing and mechanical industries, Texas 16.6, U. S. 29.3; transportation, Texas 8.7, U. S. 9.1; trade 13.9, U. S. 15.4; professional and public service, Texas 8, U. S. 9.2; domestic, Texas 10.2, U. S. 9.9.

Kansas Students Now Have a "Gripe" Club

By United Press
MANHATTAN, Kas.—Students at Kansas State College, dissatisfied with college life, have organized "gripe sessions," at which they pan the faculty and air their grievances.

Chief complaint of students at Kansas State College, as voiced at a recent meeting, is that of compulsory military training for all men students.

Oliver Riley of Stafford, Kas., who spoke at the first "gripe session," in opposition to compulsory military training proposed that the students petition the state legislature to repeal the law requiring all male students to study military science.

Other student complaints were against college rules requiring students to attend assembly and forbidding smoking on the campus.
