ROOSEVELT IS WELL PLEASED WITH SESSION

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—President Roosevelt today met in what was described as constructive discussion with small business leaders. He was reported to believe some of their recommendations could be carried into effect.

The report on the meeting of the President and twelve representatives of the little business men's conference was made by White House Secretary Stephen Early. Mr. Roosevelt conferred with the business group more than an hour.

The group engaged in a general discussion of the business recommendations, many of which were critical of the New Deal, but did not touch upon all of the little business proposals.

Mr. Roosevelt was described as feeling that the major share of the proposals were constructive and possible of fulfillment, but that some, while sounding well, were impracticable.

The views of the little business meeting were submitted to Mr. Roosevelt in the form of 23 recommendations, comprising the subjects covered in more than 100 resolutions adopted yesterday.

The President suggested that Fred Roth, chairman of the little business committee, discuss a proposal for a permanent advisory committee with Secretary of Commerce Daniel C. Roper.

Stokowski's 'Ex' Marries Prince

When famed symphony conductor Leopold Stokowski and his wife were divorced the other day, rumors said it was because Stokowski would marry Greta Garbo. Hence, it was quite a shock to the gossipers when Mrs. Stokowski married Prince Zalslem-Zalesky of Podolia, Russia, in a surprise Los Angeles ceremony, after which they are pictured above.

"Orphan of Divorce"

Caught After Third Runaway From Mother

Pleading that he loves only his father, Julius Frankel, of Linden, N. J., and hates his mother, Mrs. Rose Frankel, of Brooklyn, 12-year-old Howard Frankel, above, ran away from his mother's home for the third time in ten days. The photo, right, shows him weeping in the arms of the policeman who captured him in a New York railroad station. Police sent out a general alarm for the boy after his father expressed fear that Howard might have made good his threats to kill himself unless permitted to live with his dad.

LEAHY ADMITS ATLANTIC FLEET ALSO NEEDED

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—Rep. John J. McGrath, Dem., Calif., questioning Admiral William Leahy before the house naval affairs committee, said today the United States may have occasion to use its navy in Brazil in the "very near future."

"In the very near future, particularly in Brazil, where Germany is making inroads, we may have occasion to use the navy. In my opinion it is time the administration begin to think of an Atlantic fleet as well as a Pacific," McGrath said.

Leahy, responding to McGrath's question, said extension of naval activities to the Atlantic Coast of South America would require a "much larger, more powerful" fleet than now contemplated.

He Gets Life

He is only 18 years old, but Roger Kege must spend the rest of his life behind prison bars. An Akron, O., judge sentenced young Kege to life imprisonment after the youth had won a mercy verdict from a jury Kege and 21-year-old George Wells were convicted of murdering a restaurant operator during a holdup last December. Wells got a death sentence.

MCDONALD IN VERBAL CLASH WITH WITNESS

AUSTIN, Feb. 4.—Everett Hughes, Wichita Falls abstractor, brought denials from State Land Commissioner William H. McDonald and Grady Owen, legal advisor in the state land office, to part of his testimony at a State Senate committee investigation into land affairs here today.

His clash with McDonald came when Hughes said the first time he met the commissioner, McDonald told him he was going to grant Hughes land vacancies, that all soon would be gone and the vacancy claims forgotten.

"I told you what?" exclaimed McDonald.

Hughes repeated.

"I never made any such statement and you know it," McDonald said.

Hughes said Dan Whately of Snyder was present at the time. The clash with Owen came over Hughes' testimony that Judge Harvey Harris of Wichita Falls had told him that Owen was a cousin of a Fort Worth man drilling an oil well on a tract which Hughes was claiming as a vacancy before the land office.

Owen heard the claim. He flatly denied such relationship and McDonald asked the committee to summon Judge Harris.

Hughes told of a number of vacancy claims he had. He said R. A. Adams and M. S. Eldred of Tyler told him he couldn't get action. He did not tell them.

Hughes said he did not get the vacancies and they in turn remarked "We told you so."

'Politics' Charged Against Members Of RR Commission

DALLAS, Feb. 4.—The statement of the Texas Railroad Commission yesterday regarding authority of the commission to fix gas rates in incorporated cities and towns was termed "misleading and deceptive, and apparently issued for political purposes," by President L. B. Denning of the Lone Star Gas company. "This is a political year," reminded Denning, "and the railroad commission is starting early to use the gas industry for its own political ends, since the gas industry is the only public utility in Texas under state regulation."

"We deny," he said, "that the railroad commission has the authority to exercise any original jurisdiction in incorporated cities and towns. Original jurisdiction over gas rates is vested in the cities and towns by statute. The commission can only exercise appellate jurisdiction in such cases. This proposition has been definitely settled both by statute and judicial decisions in Texas. The procedure suggested by the commission will result only in extravagant litigation and useless waste of the funds of both the taxpayers of the state and the gas consumers."

"The commission's investigation into the rates of the companies comprising Lone Star Gas system have in many instances resulted in increased rates. In some instances the increases were put into effect pursuant to court orders and in others by the commission itself.

"In all cases where the commission has attempted to reduce the company's rates, extended litigation has resulted. Only three cases have been tried to date. In one, the federal court held for the company. In the other two, juries in the district court at Austin found the orders of the commission unjust and unreasonable."

The board also passed a resolution offering the facilities and services of the chamber of G. P. Mitcham & Son in the conduct of the first annual Hereford auction sale to be sponsored by them, which will take place on Tuesday, Feb. 8.

Eastland Woman's Relative Succumbs Thursday Evening

Funeral services for H. E. Snipes, 65, brother-in-law of Mrs. C. C. Robey of Eastland, are to be conducted at 10 a. m. Saturday in Cleburne, where he died Thursday night of a heart attack, it was announced, Friday.

Unknown to an audience seeing a Lions club benefit show at Cleburne Mr. Snipes died after a square dance on the stage. Following his performance Mr. Snipes stepped backstage and fell. A physician pronounced him dead from a heart attack. The show, "The Gay Nineties," given by the Lions club at Cleburne for benefit of youth projects, was given without interruption by other performers.

Mrs. Robey and her mother, Mrs. J. L. Ramsey of Cleburne, who has been visiting in Eastland, were in Cleburne at the time of Mr. Snipes' death. They were there to attend funeral services of a friend, Mrs. Lullie Nance.

Modern Youth Is Weighed In And Given Approval

PASADENA, Cal.—Dr. Abram Leon Sachar, national director of the Hillier Foundations, has struck a balance sheet of the present, "lost generation" of American youth in which he finds three debits and three credits.

The credits, he believes, out-balance the debits in importance. The debit side of his balance sheet for the youth of today follows:

Youth is disillusioned, grim and slightly hard-boiled.

It craves security. It is afraid to take chances. It is more conservative than its elders.

"It takes dope," in the form of "escapist" literature, movies and radio programs. The mania for speculation as manifest in the popularity of "bank night" and amateur hours demonstrates the escape from reality.

The three credits which Dr. Sachar has noted up for the "lost generation" are:

It is not a lost or doomed generation; it is wholesome, free from cant and inhibitions, open, candid and frank. It doesn't take things for granted. It is irrevocable, but it is the irreverence of a generation that has lost its inhibitions.

It wants an education. As many as 40 per cent of the students in the state universities are at least partly self-supporting.

Balancing the craving for security, youth has the courage to do anything that comes along. A young college graduate of today doesn't feel compelled to "keep up with the Joneses." Youth's demands for fun are so simple that they are pathetic.

To complete his picture of the "lost generation," Dr. Sachar also has drawn up a balance sheet of the three great needs for the future. They are:

Parents and teachers must not nag youth. When a college graduate fails to get a job through no fault of his own, and if he is nagged he will only be more unhappy. Youth does not need to have its difficulties pointed out.

Government must more and more see to it that young people fit into the economic life. It means intrusion of government into private affairs, and it means higher taxes.

Need for a richer leisure-time program in art, the theatre and study and many other fields. If youth cannot find the consumption of its life in work, it must find it in play.

Dr. Sachar has adopted as the motto for the "lost generation" the following:

"Blessed is the youngster who prepares himself to be wanted tomorrow."

Those Who Lose Security Cards Can Obtain New Ones

SAN ANGELO.—Wage earners who have lost their social security account number cards may now obtain duplicates from the San Angelo office of the Social Security Board, 412 Rust Bldg., it was announced today by W. O. King, manager of the local office.

Formerly, duplicates of account number cards issued in connection with the federal old age insurance program, could be obtained only from Washington. Local offices are now authorized to issue duplicates upon proper identification, to workers who have lost their cards, King said.

This service to workers who have lost their cards has been extended to help them obtain employment. Reports from this area indicate, King explained, that employers are giving preference to job applicants having account number cards. This may be due to the fact that if an employee fails to obtain an account number, the employer must, under the federal treasury regulations, apply for a number for this worker. The employer is required to include both the worker's name and his account number in periodic reports of the worker's wages which he files with the treasury.

King said he had been instructed to obtain the home address and the name and address of the employer of persons requesting duplicate cards. It was explained that this additional information is required so that, if it is found necessary, the board can communicate with the wage earner or his employer.

"No. 1 Racketeer's" Legal Fight Is Delayed Today

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 4.—The start of the battle of Julius Richard (Dixie) Davis, 33, the nation's No. 1 racketeer, for reduction of his $300,000 bail and extradition to New York, was delayed today when his habeas corpus hearing was continued until Monday.

Hope Dare, 26, former showgirl who was arrested with the youthful disbarred attorney, and George Weinberg, were not in the courtroom, nor was Mrs. Martin Delaney Davis, the wife he abandoned for Miss Dare. Both were reported to be in seclusion at a hotel.

The girl was at liberty under $2,500 bail on a minor suspicion charge.

Paroled Convict Sought In Robbery

BONHAM, Feb. 4.—A paroled convict, who intended to rob Ray Agnew of this city last night, was sought by authorities today throughout this section.

The man grappled with Agnew but was overpowered, and then was allowed to arise from the ground. J. E. Hardy, also of Bonham, joined Agnew to guard the man.

While Agnew and Hardy were discussing what to do with their prisoner, the man suddenly pulled a pistol, fired one shot at Hardy, missed him, jumped to his feet and fled.

Texas Ranchers Find Bad Hombres Still At Large

AMARILLO, Texas.—Is the romance of the West gone? Have the cattle rustlers and bad men vanished in the remaking of the Western plains? The answer is no.

And you can take it from the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association. The association, a big and colorful corporation, spends much time today tracking down cattle rustlers.

The organization was formed under a tree in Graham, Texas, 62 years ago. Since that time it has grown into a giant corporation.

When beef prices go high as they are now, the rustling business increases and usually does a good business, but the crude old branding iron still marks the path that now leads to jail—where it once led to the end of a rope on the limb of an oak tree.

The association has grown from a pistol toting cowman band, bent on slaying rustlers, to one of the most powerful cattlemen's organizations in the nation. The scope has widened to include politics, but there hasn't been a time since its organization that the members haven't waged war on rustlers.

New Orleans Boy, 12, Is Haired As a Tenor

NEW ORLEANS.—Because 12-year-old Tommy Scanlon, a policeman's son, liked to cheer people in the neighborhood with his tenor voice he will have a chance to sing before New York, Chicago and Hollywood talent scouts.

Tommy, who has a voice rated by experts as equal to that of Bobby Breen, was always obliging and sang at neighborhood entertainments. One night George McQueen, local songwriter and master of ceremonies, heard Tommy and took him under his tutelage.

A New Orleans philanthropist who heard Tommy sing observed that his voice was as "clear as a bell of an Irish countryman."

The sportsman, anonymously, is sending the boy on a tour on which he will have a chance for national recognition.

Housekeeping Aide Project Explained

The objects and operations of the housekeeping aide project in Ranger, which has been operating here for several weeks, has been outlined, as follows, by officials in charge of the project:

"The scope and effectiveness of any Welfare Program is increased by having many groups share in the responsibility for its prosecution. Women enrolled in the Housekeeping Aide Project have been given demonstration on subjects of home sanitation, clothing renovation, meal preparation, changing linen on a sick person's bed, and bathing sick persons. It is thought that they are prepared to give a service to their community.

"Service is usually given in homes needing aid due to the temporary absence of homemaker or illness of some member of family. Aides are assigned to work only during the day and provide their own lunch. They are not assigned to work in homes on Saturdays or Sundays.

"Welfare Agencies, Cooperating Organizations and individuals wanting to report the need of service of housekeeping aides may contact the local unit manager at headquarters located at 120 1/2 North Austin Street or phone the City Health Officer, Dr. A. K. Wier.

"The following conditions are to be kept in mind when making requests for services: (1) only needy families can be given aide, (2) the situation requiring assignment of an aide should be temporary rather than chronic, (3) services should not be requested for homes in which communicable diseases exist, (4) services should not be requested for homes in which serious domestic maladjustments exist."

BRITISH SHIP IS SUNK OFF SPAIN TODAY

BARCELONA, Spain, Feb. 4.—It was asserted officially today that two seaplanes from the nationalist base in Marjora Islands in the Balearics, bombed and sank the British steamship Alcira, 20 miles southeast of Barcelona.

Members of the Alcira's crew, arriving here by rowboat, first reported the attack.

A fishing boat and a government launch saved the remainder of the 25 men of the ship's crew, it was said officially, and a British observer of the International Spanish Non-Intervention Committee, who was aboard.

The official statement said the seaplanes first dropped three bombs at the ship and then returned to the attack with more bombs.

The ship sank at once, with a cargo of coal it was shipping from Great Britain.

Battles On Disease Are Most Thrilling In World's History

AUSTIN, Texas.—"The chronicles of history thrill readers with their tales of martial courage when great armies were halted. But in all the record of military history there is none so wonderful in its marvelous results for human happiness as the battles fought against disease; battles fought in the laboratory, in the hospitals, at lonely bedside," said Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

Small pox, yellow fever, diphtheria, typhoid, tuberculosis—after another, these enemies of the human race have been or are rapidly being conquered. For knowledge has found their weakness, and unlike some martial victories, these battles are forever won. Doctors say that scientifically it has been won. But the fight is still ahead.

Syphilis has an ally the other serious diseases never had. It has stealth on its side, and it is especially, stealth is a foe that must be vanquished before science can do its work.

Doctors say that syphilis could be practically wiped out in the United States in a single generation if every victim of it sought medical attention immediately when the disease manifested itself.

The great consideration therefore is not how to cure syphilis, for that is known, but how to awaken those who have syphilis to the need of seeking cure.

The doctors know how and are ready and eager to do their part. The American Social Hygiene Association asks the public to do its part. The nation, working together, can do far more than stop the spread of syphilis—it can stamp it out.

The need was never so great. Syphilis is spreading at the rate of half a million new cases a year. It kills about 100,000 every year. Fifteen per cent of all blindness is due to it. It causes ten per cent of all insanity.

These facts are frightening. They are also unnecessary, because, unlike some other infections, syphilis can be vanquished. No one, because he or she has contracted syphilis, need go through life fearing its untoward horrors for self or children. It has been established that if a victim of syphilis seeks treatment early and continues faithfully, the disease can almost always be rendered non-infectious and usually cured.

It is important then to know the symptoms, for often the presence of syphilis can be determined in advance of the well-known serological tests. Readers should mark these symptoms and remember them: First, the suspicious sore in the so-called primary stage; the rash in the secondary stage; mucous patches in the mouth and a sore throat; pains in the joints, and fever. The physician will recognize the signs. If he wants to make a microscopic examination

Prominent Race Drivers Testing New Hudson 112

Four of America's leading race drivers, Babe Stapp, Ted Horn, Chet Miller and Ira Vail are out on individual 10,000 mile test runs with the new Hudson 112, the latest entry in the lowest price field. These drivers are putting the four cars through their paces in widely scattered parts of the country so that all climatic and road conditions will be encountered. The cars and their famous drivers have now been on the road since January 11. Babe Stapp, well-known California driver who has been up in the money consistently at Indianapolis, took off immediately for his home state. He arrived in Los Angeles in four days, with runs of over 900 miles per day. He is now running up and down the Pacific coast with a mixture of mountain and desert running which gives a wide range of temperature and road conditions. Owing to the nature of the country, Stapp can put an infinite variety of experience into his daily reports to the Hudson factory.

Ted Horn, who ranks second in the AAA Contest Board Championship standing this year and who was third at Indianapolis in the last race, is now on his way back from Austin, Texas via Waco, Dallas, Wichita and Des Moines. He will be in Detroit this week end and then off on another lap. Chet Miller who is also a consistent "money man" in the big AAA races, is completing a lap which took him through Tennessee, Alabama and Florida, down the West coast and up the East, touching at Tampa and over the Tamiami trail to Miami. His route lay through the Big Smokey mountains.

Ira Vail whom all know as one of the real old-timers of racing fame has had the "snow and ice assignment." He has been through the mountains of Pennsylvania and New York State. When he completes his first lap this week-end he will be sent on a milder assignment while one of the other drivers will tackle the snow belt.

Careful reports of gasoline mileage, oil consumption and other data are being compiled to give the Hudson company first hand information on the performance of these cars. About 20,000 miles of hard running under all sorts of conditions have already been completed with all four drivers highly pleased at the results, without a single stop for repairs, and without any water added to a radiator since the start.

or a blood test, let him. If he prescribes treatment, take it. Treatment soon stops the spread even in the most dangerous cases. For the surest thing in the fight on syphilis is that it can be won, if the people will help. Their best help is to seek all possible aid that the medical science has to offer. Since the spread of syphilis can be stopped, our slogan must be Find It—Treat It—Prevent Its Further Spread. The Scandinavian countries have done it. Great Britain is doing it. America must do it.

Linking Waterways Is a Step Nearer After Many Years

CORPUS CHRISTI, Texas.—Linking of Corpus Christi with waterways of the Mississippi River and the Great Lakes, an objective of 32 years standing was advanced a step nearer completion with recent announcement that a $970,000 allotment has been approved for construction of the Port O'Connor canal from Port O'Connor on Matagorda Bay to Corpus Christi.

Completion of this section will pave the way for the transporting of oil by barge from Port Lavaca and intermediate points to Corpus Christi for storage and shipment to foreign, coastwise and intercoastal points.

Dredging of the channel in Calhoun and Aransas counties is expected to get under way within a few weeks, and this portion will probably be completed within 12 months. The canal will be nine feet deep and have a base width of 100 feet.

Construction of this section will still leave incomplete the 65-mile Freeport section of the canal, extending from the eastern Brazoria County line to the west end of Matagorda Bay. Acquisition of rights-of-way and spoil disposal areas are the principal requirements for the canal's completion in the Freeport area.

Practicability of the Port O'Connor-Corpus Christi section was demonstrated two weeks ago when two barges, carrying 2,800 barrels of crude oil for storage here, successfully navigated the proposed canal route from Port Lavaca to Corpus Christi.

The intracoastal canal, "from the Mississippi River at or near New Orleans, Louisiana, to Corpus Christi, Texas," was adopted and authorized in the Rivers and Harbors Bill passed by Congress and approved by the President.

January 21, 1937. Total cost of the project will be approximately $16,000,000. The canal, when completed, will provide a landlocked waterway 600 miles in length and suitable for barge transportation.

The canal has been completed and is now functioning from New Orleans and Plaquemine, in Louisiana, to Galveston, and beyond to the Brazoria County line.

Washington Faces Another Dilemma

Washington struggles desperately to pull itself off the sharp horns of a dilemma, and while policy waits and ponders, no one can be sure in which direction the next move will be made. It will be better for everybody when the picture clears.

Here are the two horns: Oil companies have just been convicted at Madison, Wis., of violating the anti-trust laws by conspiring to fix the price of gasoline—that is, by getting together and mutually working out production and distribution problems, with a resultant agreement on the price. This violates the anti-trust laws against "combinations in restraint of trade." Very well.

But we have on the law books of the country the Guffey Act, which makes it necessary for the coal industry to do almost exactly that same thing by law. In fact, not so long ago, under the NRA, we had a national law under whose codes many industries set about standardizing production, competitive practices, and to a large extent prices.

Which road? Midnight oil burns in Washington in the effort to decide. On one side there is the feeling that restoration of true competition will bring prices down (and wages, no doubt, with them), and thus bring about greater production and more jobs.

On the other, there is the feeling that big business units ought to be allowed to get together and set universal wage standards, trade practices, and, to a large extent, prices, always with the government sitting in to protect the wage-earner and consumer. That tends to eliminate competition, and raise both prices and wages. Wage-hour legislation follows this school of thought.

Labor, at least as exemplified by John L. Lewis, seems to have espoused the latter course. But other segments of labor distrust it, feeling that it places labor's future in the hands of government boards and conferences, rather than in its own strong hands.

To an outsider looking-in, there would seem to be fundamental opposition between the two plans. Confusion must follow a policy that decrees with its right hand that industry must compete with industry, and labor with labor, and with the left hand decrees that industry must join hands with industry in meeting out the production and distribution field, and in portioning out labor's share.

Probably even this statement of the choice is too simple. Probably here as elsewhere nothing will work but eternal compromise. Perhaps certain large industries such as coal, and steel, and utilities, must be permitted to combine under government auspices and supervision, while others, less highly integrated and widely organized, must face the rigors of competition.

But until there is something approaching a choice of policies, or at least a clear statement of adherence to both in marked off spheres, there is likely to be more marking time than we can well afford.

WASHING THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON WITH RODNEY DUTCHER

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—My observers profess to detect a similarity between the series of Roosevelt conferences with business men—and labor leaders—and the Hoover "stabilization conferences" in the 1929-30 fall and winter.

One of several differences is found in the fact that by the end of 1930 nearly everyone thought that the depression had been stalled and was about to be replaced by a new business boom in which government, business and labor would pull together. This time it isn't quite so "obvious."

In view of what happened in 1930, 1931 and 1932 it may be a good sign that the ballyhoo of huge new construction programs by private industry is much softer and more cautious this year than it was eight years ago.

At that time it was announced with great flourish that the public utility executives had come to the White House and outlined a $2,000,000,000 program for 1930. The American Telephone & Telegraph Company was going to spend $700,000,000, U. S. Steel would spend $250,000,000 and some 29 states were reported to be planning an aggregate construction program of $4,700,000,000. No end of corporations were announcing "programs" involving expenditure of 10 to 50 millions.

Everyone was talking about "fundamental bases of the business fabric," "strength of the business fabric," "soundness of the economic structure," and "numerous constructive elements brought into play by the crash."

By early December, 1929, President Hoover believed that confidence in business had been re-established—and so told Congress. The volume of Christmas buying convinced him that business had been restored to normal. The more you recall all that sort of thing and how little anyone knew what he was talking about, the more comforting the outlook seems today.

For whatever they may be worth, certain changes in the economic set-up have been wrought by government which tend to make a different picture in the present recession. The income of farmers is being heavily subsidized and the federal government in effect guarantees to take care of those cast off by industry when the system slips a few cogs.

There are no bank failures or "runs" because bank deposits are insured (under a measure which the administration opposed, but for which it often claims full credit).

Wise bets are being placed more on "natural causes" as a depression cure rather than on any concrete result of the recent White House business conferences. Roosevelt's plan for a new council of advisers—to "represent all segments of American life"—sounds well and ought to make everyone feel good, but it doesn't appear yet that there's much hope in it beyond that. There is no segment of American life from which Roosevelt already isn't receiving more advice than he can digest.

Already the President has been telling earnest callers that his previous press conference proposal that business men get together to plan production isn't anything that can materialize right away—not this year, at any rate. (Copyright, 1931, NEA Service, Inc.)

Carelessness, Not Speed, Is Blamed For Most Accidents

DALLAS, Tex. Feb. Harry Hartz of Los Angeles, noted racing driver, believes that it is not speed that causes highway accident, but the fact that drivers become careless and let their automobiles get out of control. The 115-pound speed driver, who walks with a slight limp caused by a track accident, was in Dallas en route from Ottawa, Canada to Mexico City on his third annual safe driving road test. "The main thing about driving a car on a race track or on a highway, Hartz, said, "is to keep it under control. When any driver becomes careless, he is endangering the lives of others on the road as well as his own life.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD By William Ferguson

The MYNAH BIRD, OF INDIA, IS ONE OF THE MOST PROFICIENT TALKERS OF ALL BIRD SPECIES. THE TERMS "LONGITUDE AND LATITUDE" CAME FROM ANCIENT DAYS WHEN THE EARTH WAS BELIEVED TO BE GROUPED AROUND THE MEDITERRANEAN SEA! SINCE THE SEA WAS LONGER EAST AND WEST, THE WORD "LONGITUDE" WAS USED TO DENOTE EAST-WEST DIRECTIONS. THE gray parrot of Africa is probably the most gifted of all speaking birds, but the mynah is much more proficient than many parrot species that are famous for their human-like speech. Some birds that can be taught to talk are the piping crows of Australia, some species of jays, macaws, and even starlings.

Q. When was the first debate in the United States Congress on Texas recognition and what was the result? A. In May, 1836, a resolution was introduced in the United States Senate suggesting the expediency of recognizing the independence of Texas. It was sponsored by John C. Calhoun, Daniel Webster and others, and opposed by John Quincy Adams on the ground that it was a movement to extend slavery and the political

CAST OF CHARACTERS POLLY CHELSEY, heroine; stranded in London when war breaks out. JERRY WHITFIELD, hero; the Yankee who sees her through. MISS L. L. HANSON, privateer captain.

CHAPTER III POLLY CHELSEY ran until she was out of breath, mistakenly dashing straight ahead where she should have turned a corner. She stopped to get her bearings and saw that she was lost. The street she was following was unbelievably narrow and was lined with mean little shops over which were shabby living quarters. It led, she saw, down toward the river and lost itself in the fog.

The ports were closed in April. Polly had come out on a ship that ran the blockade.

ship ran the blockade. In New England many ships have been doing that. They're Federalists in those states and haven't favored a war. Because it would hurt shipping. "Then you admit your President is a dunderhead and that unbalanced Thomas Jefferson who advises him is a fool?" "Oh, no sir!" answered Polly, rejecting the only cue that might have saved the situation. "I can't feel that way. Nor does my brother Dick, I reckon. The English navy's the cruellest thing of earth, and the most overbearing. You treat your seamen so viciously that you can't get enough to serve you. So your ships stop out at sea—even our private merchantmen, mind you—and search for English deserters. When they don't find them, they steal our lads. Then there's the way you've sent the Indians down against our western frontiers out of Canada, burning towns and scalping women and children. That's a pretty tale too, Mr. Dart!"

POLLY paused, startled at her own boldness, yet not repenting. "The only thing I'm ashamed of, Mr. Dart, is that I came out on a ship that ran the blockade." Oliver Dart said proudly, "So it's true, as we've heard, that you Americans don't stick together, eh? Your country's divided?" "Don't feel too encouraged over that," said Polly maliciously. "We have our private quarrels, but let England try to pry us apart—" "England will not have to pry you apart," Oliver Dart said with a cold precision. "She will take you in a lump and annex you. You will be our colonies again, as the King wills. . . . Do you know the size of the English navy, my girl?" "No, sir," answered Polly, shivering. "Eight hundred men of war—How many ships has the American navy?" "I don't know, sir." Nor had the angry man who had questioned her. Had they

While Admiration Coffee may not pack quite the "wallop" of a bucking bronc, nevertheless there's a quality about it as a pick-up beverage that is wholly satisfying. After work, either physical or mental, it provides a lift that soothes tired muscles and tired minds. This, plus the known food value of good coffee, makes Admiration the ideal pick-up drink. And of course, Admiration is as delicious to the taste as it is good for you.

Q. If President Jackson favored Texas recognition and annexation why did he so strongly advocate delaying recognition? A. He wished to keep the question out of the presidential campaign of 1836, fearing it would defeat Van Buren. He believed that delay would result in a stronger sentiment for recognition and annexation, and would lessen the antagonism in Mexico, as well as give time for working out custom and trade relations with other foreign countries.

Hunter Kills Wolves From an Ice Sled By United Press WARROAD, Minn.—The latest fad in wolf hunting is shooting them on the run from the door of a speeding air propeller ice sled. The practice was started on the Lake of the Woods by Charlie Springsteel. Equipped with ski, the sled is more than a match for the fastest wolf. It is capable of up to 60 miles an hour. Wolf bounties ($6 for cubs and $15 for full-grown animals) make this form of hunting profitable, too. Springsteel fires at the wolves by holding his gun in one hand, while he steers the sled with the other.

Men's Banquet Honors Out-of-Town Guests

Perhaps what would be socially termed by members of the Church of Christ as the most successful banquet of any for several months arranged in compliment to the men of the church, also entertained as special guests at the banquet on Thursday night a group of guests from over the county.

The banquet board was colorfully appointed in St. Valentine colors, and places were designated by miniature hearts announcing the following program: toastmaster, J. D. Johnson; group singing under leadership of P. S. Lemley; introduction of guest speaker, M. F. Mansfield, and invocation by the Rev. W. W. Layton, pastor of the local church. Reading, Mrs. L. E. White, "Officers of the church, who are they and what is their duty?" Quartet, Fann Allen, Mesonoy and W. W. Layton; "The Authority and Responsibility of Elders and Deacons," Mr. Ray Rawland, elder of the Church of Christ, Breckenridge; reading, Mrs. W. W. New Seasons Call For Change of Hair Dress

There's nothing quite so refreshing and responsible for a pleasing change of mood for Midland as a change of coiffure. With spring just a peek around the corner, it means a new hat pronto, if not already. For becoming suggestions consult your personal operator at the McHenry Beauty Shop. Those ready to aid you are Miss Gene Peterson, Mrs. Pledger, and Miss Gwendolyn Eaves, and supervisor of the shop, Mrs. McHenry.

"Bad Man of Brimstone" Heads New Arcadia Program

Wallace Beery—"The Bad Man"

One of the year's outstanding spectacles will be shown starting at the screen with the coming of "The Bad Man of Brimstone," starring Wallace Beery in an epic saga of the lawless West.

Staged against the grim background of the West's most rugged panoramas, "The Bad Man of Brimstone" presents a saga of the unregenerate town of Brimstone, ruled with a ruthless six-gun by Wallace Beery.

Bringing to the screen all the talents which have endeared him to the hearts of America's picture-going millions, Beery is assisted by Dennis O'Keefe, recent cinematic discovery and by Virginia Bruce.

O'Keefe, as a young Eastern prizefighter champion who arrives in the old Western town of Brimstone and straightway begins to clean up the lawless element, stands out as the greatest acting Strawn, and the honoree's grandson and wife, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Marrs, of Menaham, and Miss Sallie Ringold.
