WHITNEY TAKES BLAME FOR FIRM'S LOSSES

By United Press

NEW YORK, Mar. 9.—Richard Whitney, former president of the New York Stock Exchange, through his attorney today, accepted full responsibility for the bankruptcy of his brokerage firm, admitted he knew certain of his actions were "wrong" and all he was prepared to meet the consequences.

The statement followed testimony in a preliminary state investigation that he personally withdrew securities valued at between $40,000 and $400,000 from the accounts of two customers.

Whitney's statement included, "I want to say emphatically that it is difficult in which the firm has become involved is the result of actions to which I alone had responsibility."

"I fully realize that certain of my actions have been wrong. I am determined to meet the consequences in the hope and expectation that thereby I can contribute to the improvement of the situation and give evidence of my purpose to whatever lies in my power to repair the loss which anyone has suffered."

"I am, therefore, putting myself at the disposal of the attorney general of the state."

Whitney is selected as one of the annual Ranger Livestock Show.

Faircloth, in charge of arrangements for the second annual Ranger Livestock Show, which will be held all day Friday, announced today that the show would be held in the Deffebach building on North Commerce street, across the street from the Texas and Pacific railway.

The building is to be prepared, today and Thursday, for the stock and poultry that will be entered in the show, Faircloth stated, and everything will be in readiness when the stock is brought in for exhibition.

A large number of entries have already been received, and others are expected to be registered at a chamber of commerce office in Ranger Thursday, which is the day on which entries can be made in the show.

A total of more than $50 in prizes is being awarded for winners of first, second and third places in a number of the entries, and first prizes for others, and ribbons being presented for second and third places where no award is given.

Many of the entries in the Ranger Livestock Show will be on to Fort Worth Friday night, where they will be entered in the 11th Western Exposition and Fat Cattle Show.

TVA CONFLICT VIEWS AIRED BY A SENATOR

By United Press

WASHINGTON, Mar. 9.—Sen. Styles Bridges of New Hampshire, today attributed the Tennessee Valley Authority conflict to dictatorial methods of TVA director David Lilienthal, whom he compared with Adolf Hitler.

Bridges, who asserted that an effort was being made to avoid an inquiry into TVA because of fear of another "Teapot Dome scandal," replied to the talk of George Norris of Nebraska, blaming TVA Chairman A. E. Morgan's jealousy for the turmoil.

The new attack was a prelude to a white house conference on Friday when President Roosevelt will ask all three TVA authorities for the "facts."

VIENNA, Mar. 9.—Sources close to the government confirmed tonight that Chancellor Kurt Schuschnigg intends to hold a national election in which Austrians will be asked to answer "are you for an independent Austria."

The ballot will be printed with only "yes" on it. Those desiring to vote "no" must cross out the word and write "no."

It was reported a state of seige would be proclaimed throughout the country after Schuschnigg makes an important announcement at Graz tonight.

The plebiscite, it was understood, will be held March 13.

Amarillo Opens Mother-in-Law Day

AMARILLO, Mar. 9.—Amarillo opened its celebration of Mother-in-Law Day today by hitching the biggest bouquet in the world, 2,500 pounds of roses and fern, to a derrick and presenting it to Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt.

A mother-in-law herself, Mrs. Roosevelt received the bouquet in the name of all mothers-in-law. When she accepted the lid was off in Amarillo, as 50,000 persons declared the world would stop telling jokes about mothers-in-law.

Quints Develop Swiftly, So Get Two New Teachers

Norah C. Roussele

CALLANDER, Ont.—To keep abreast of the progress of the rapidly-developing Quinte triplets, two new staff members have been named to oversee their care and education.

They are Miss Norah Roussele, tutor, and Miss Hanna Ulrichson, head nurse. Miss O'Shaughnessy, second nurse to the quintes for more than a year, remains on the staff.

Miss Roussele, a specialist in physical training, rhythmic dancing, and French music, recently completed a special course at St. George's School, Toronto, under the personal supervision of Dr. W. E. Blatz of the University of Toronto, who is the expert in child psychology in general charge of the quintes' education.

With an assistant, Miss Dorothy A. Millchamp, Dr. Blatz visited the nursery here to arrange the change in teachers, which coincides with a new phase in the education of the children.

Miss Roussele is a graduate of Loretta College and the Ontario College of Education at Toronto. She has had considerable teaching experience, having taught French in a school near Ottawa for sometime.

Miss Ulrichson brings to the nursery her training and experience in the Toronto Hospital for Sick Children. She was chosen by Dr. Alan Brown, professor of pediatrics at Toronto University, and also head of the hospital. Dr. Brown has been medical consultant for the quintes since their birth.

The new staff members replace Misses Noel and Tremblay, in accordance with a policy of bringing in new specialists as new phases of education and training are reached.

Softball Committee Decides Upon $100 First Prize and $50 Second Prize for Winners in 1938 Season

A total of $150 in cash prizes for the winning team and runner-up in the Ranger Softball League season of 1938, was unanimously voted at a meeting of the softball board of control, in a meeting held in the office of the chamber of commerce Tuesday afternoon.

The $150 in cash prizes was divided into a first prize of $100 cash and $50 cash for second place at the end of the season. A full season is to be played out, with no split, it was voted at the meeting, and the top ranking teams will meet in a playoff series at the end of the season to determine the winners.

It was voted at the meeting that a three-game series would open the season, the series to be played at a date late enough for all competing teams to have ample time to work out and select their players. All the proceeds from this series will go into the pot to provide the money for the playoff, with the control committee guaranteeing at least $150, but if the proceeds from the series should exceed $150, all the money taken in will be put into the pot for the two winning teams.

It was voted that a permanent groundskeeper be elected to take care of the field, as was done last year, this groundskeeper to be selected at a later date, but early enough to get the field into excellent shape for the opening series.

Those present at the meeting were K. E. Ambrose, ex-officio member, who presided; J. E. Merson, G. A. Murphy, J. B. Heister, representing the Elks club; A. N. Larson, representing the American Legion, and Col. Brashier, representing the Lions club. The Rotary club representative was unable to be present.

DOMINIONS TO OPPOSE RETURN OF COLONIES

By United Press

LONDON, Mar. 9.—Certain British dominions have made clear that they are not prepared to agree to colonial concessions to Germany, it was learned today as Joachim von Ribbentrop, German foreign minister, arrived here to open Anglo-German conversations.

The attitude of the dominions makes it almost impossible, reliable quarters said, for the government to make any concessions to Adolf Hitler's demands for unconditional returns of former German colonies.

Guarded by heavy detachments of police, who feared renewal of last night's wild Communist demonstrations, Ribbentrop arrived this afternoon.

House Eliminates Surtax Features

WASHINGTON, Mar. 9.—Disregarding threats of a presidential veto, the House today tentatively eliminated the 20 per cent surtax on closely held corporations from the administration tax revision bill.

The vote in committee of the whole was 180 to 124.

A coalition of Democrats and Republicans successfully attacked the center of the administration bill to relieve the tax burden on industry.

The House, however, presumably will vote a second time on the amendment when the reading of the bill is completed.

Testing On Jersey Herd Results Are Announced Here

Tests on his 28 dairy Jerseys last month showed an average of 4.6 butter fat, Louis Pitzer, dairyman who lives near Eastland, has reported to Hugh F. Barnhart, assistant county agent.

Pitzer is conducting individual butter fat tests in cooperation with Barnhart. The herd bull, Wakeup Masterman Design, of Pitzer was formerly owned by the chamber of commerce at Eastland. He plans to enter it in the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show beginning this week at Fort Worth.

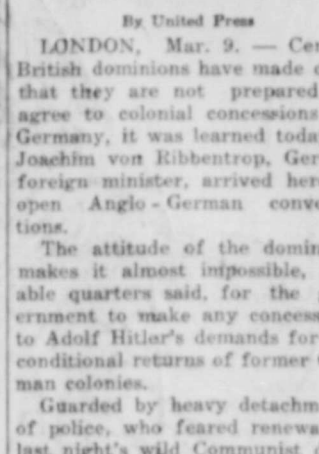

Barnhart has been advised that Pitzer plans to improve his herd by digging trench silos and constructing two concrete water troughs.

In January, 28 Jerseys under test yielded 15,810 pounds of milk, butter fat tests averaged 4.6 and 727 2-10 pounds of butter fat was produced. Butter fat tests ranged from 4 to 6.3.

Loses In Attempt To Stop Cutrate License Selling

BEAUMONT, Mar. 9.—The state failed before the ninth court of civil appeals today, in an effort to bring to an immediate climax its $700,000 fight against "cutrate" sale of auto licenses by small counties to non-resident purchasers.

Assistant Attorney General Pope had sought a mandamus to force District Judge Will Browder to hold a hearing immediately on a restraining order to prevent interference with the sale of license plates in San Jacinto county.

Mayor LaGuardia To Address WTCC Convention Apr. 26

WICHITA FALLS, Texas.—Mayor Fiorella H. LaGuardia, of New York City, scheduled to be a principal speaker before the twentieth annual West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention, in Wichita Falls on April 25, 26, and 27, will address the general assembly on Tuesday afternoon, April 26, J. S. Bridwell, convention program chairman, announced today.

Mayor LaGuardia, chief executive of America's No. 1 city, is one of the most colorful figures in "public life in our country today, and his address before the WTCC convention here in Wichita Falls will be one of the most popular drawing cards on the three-day programs, and should attract national attention," Mr. Birdwell said.

LaGuardia, who scored a smashing victory in New York's mayoralty election contest last fall, in a successful campaign for reelection, was invited to the West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention by Dr. O. B. Kiel, Wichita Falls physician who saw two years of World War service with Mayor LaGuardia, in Italy.

"Mayor LaGuardia is easy to meet and easy to know. He can talk to the President, or the man cleaning the streets," Dr. Kiel said.

Born in New York, of Italian parents, LaGuardia has served in the American Consular service, in the National House of Representatives, and was president of the New York Board of Aldermen. The Wichita Falls speaking date will mark his first visit to Texas.

FOURTH OILER FOR NEW AREA SEEMS CERTAIN

Minna Dekker, above, pretty 19-year-old choir singer of Grand Rapids, Mich., was found beaten to death 11 minutes after she had been seen alive in the office where she worked.

At the same time it was reported that the Lone Star Gas company's No. 1 Van Farmer, in the same area, was drilling at 15 feet in the Ellenburger lime, with all-standing 2,500 feet in the hole. Drilling was being continued, according to reports this afternoon.

The fourth producer for the new Ellenburger pool in Eastland county northwest of Cisco was reported Wednesday at the Lone Star Gas Company was drilling in its No. 1 Van Farmer.

Reports were that the No. 1 Van Farmer, east of the No. 1 Cozart completed recently for 288 barrels from the lime pay, had oil rising in the hole as the well was being drilled in. At last report the No. 1 Van Farmer was drilling 12 feet in the Ellenburger formation topped at 3,972 feet.

The No. 1 Van Farmer being drilled in by the Lone Star was responding, some said, similar to the No. 1 Cozart. Both were old gas wells deepened.

No report was available early this afternoon from Lone Star Gas Company No. 1 M. Thomas in which had been started a potential production test. In the first hour Tuesday of the test the well flowed 83.6 barrels. Flow was through two-inch tubing.

First producer for the pool was the No. 1 Van Farmer, not on the Lone Star lease, which was completed by Hickok Producing and Development Company for over 1,000 barrels natural. Second producer was the No. 1 Cozart of Lone Star.

The No. 1 M. Thomas is a 1,341 foot west extension of the Hickok No. 1 Van Farmer.

Cattlemen Told of How Regulations Hinder Business

SAN ANTONIO, Mar. 9.—Robert Cabell, president of Armour & Company, today termed government regulation of business as "too vague, unwarranted and unjustifiable" and called on livestock raisers and packers to cooperate in adjusting their own difficulties.

Addressing the 62nd annual convention of the Texas & Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association, Cabell warned the livestock industry is already "awed and regulated almost to the breaking point."

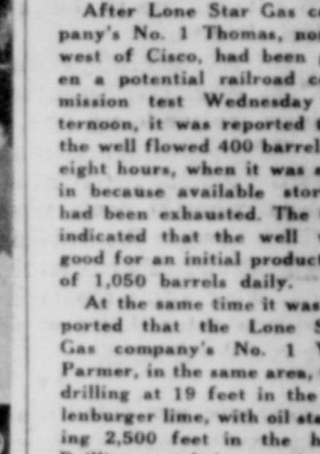

Cabell said that the future of the livestock industry depended upon two things "encouraging the consumer to put a higher value on the meat and trying to make possible production at lower cost."

March Brought New Sheep Market Prices

FORT WORTH.—The month of March that came into Texas like the proverbial lamb brought on its first day a new seasonal top for the lagging sheep market. Fat lambs sold on the local market for $7.50 per the 100 pounds, approximately $1.50 above the mid-winter low.

A new year's high also was reached on Mar. 1 on top yearlings and two-year-old steers when a commission company paid $5.75 per the 100 for 35 head consigned by S. D. Howard of Nocona.

Spending Federal Cash on the Country School

Once there was a theory that the 48 states were separate entities with individual problems and personalities. It's a fading theory that a few discouraged southern senators cling to.

For the federal government is doting parent, now, a parent which lavishes affection and largess upon its states with a jealous loving care.

Fifty years ago if some one had mentioned that in 1938 the federal government would be telling an Arkansas farmer what he could raise and how, there would have been a howl to the heavens.

That and other federal regulations we've come to accept, along with a thousand other central government aids and supervision that few persons realize they are paying for in federal taxes.

Perhaps you didn't see or didn't stop to consider the President's recent message to Congress in which he transmitted the report of the Advisory Committee on Education.

The committee urged, and apparently the President sanctioned, federal grants to the state for educational purposes which would begin in 1939 at $70,000,000 and increase by 1944 to $199,000,000.

The grants are to be used for current operating and maintenance expenses of public elementary and secondary schools; to improve the preparation of teachers and other educational personnel; for the construction of school building; for the improved administration of state departments of education; for "civic, general and vocational partime adult educational activities;" for rural library service.

The President told Congress: "Glaring inequalities characterize educational opportunities and expenditures for schools throughout the nation. Educational service . . . in many localities is below the minimum necessary for the preservation of democratic institutions."

President Roosevelt wouldn't have, probably, much difficulty proving that statement, but he might have difficulty convincing most people of his next words which were:

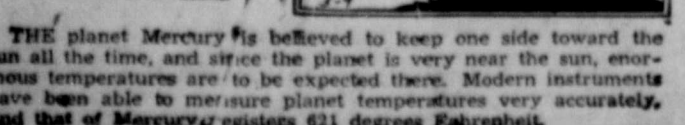

"Federal aid is the only way in which the difficulties in this widespread and complex situation can be adequately corrected."

In the first place, schools aren't exactly interstate commerce, even by Mr. Roosevelt's definition thereof. Secondly, the states should have some prerogatives and responsibilities left, or there isn't any point in having state governments. Thirdly, why should the federal government set up educational departments whose function is to aid similar state departments already set up, a patent duplication of duties. And lastly, the more state duties and responsibilities toward the care of the state's citizens that the federal government takes over—the more duties and responsibilities the state will allow the federal government to assume.

Any parent knows that, if the administration doesn't.

An Irish farm laborer is wearing skirts and silk stockings in protest against women's encroachment on men's fashions. His slogan must be "Stay as sweet as you were."

SORRY, SISTER—WE'RE IN A HURRY

Rambling With The Rambler

BY WAYNE WALLACE

Just wonder how many of the fanatic supporters of Communism who live in this country would feel if they were handed a free transportation ticket to some country where such a government as they advocate is in force. Would they gladly accept the chance offered them or would they turn it down? According to reports the only way they could be removed from this country would be by force. It would seem that people who are addicted to such a radical change in government would be glad to live in a country that conformed to their way of thinking. But such is not the case. They prefer to inflict their ideas upon us rather than to accept things as they are or live in a country that is in accord with them. If they could only offer some substantial proof that their system is superior to ours then we would be more willing to listen to them, but so far they have not done so; in fact, all proof has been to the contrary.

Russia, the leading exponent of Communism, certainly offers no inducement for people to leave this country and live over there, even to those who adhere to such a form of government. Nor can we blame anyone for refusing to live in a country where even life and death is a matter for one man to decide upon. What we do blame them for, however, is their attempt to establish such a government in this country.

It is no secret, the thousands who have been executed in Russia because of their opposition to Communism. It is no secret, the distrust that exists among the Soviet people and their dictator, or even between the people themselves. Stalin lives in dread, fearful that he will be disposed of by his people, and woe be the lot of any man who falls under his suspicion as witnessed by the recent apprehension of the 21 men accused of treason. Whether or not they are guilty, it would seem that their execution is a foregone conclusion. Twenty of them have already confessed themselves guilty but many are of the opinion that such a confession on their part may have been induced by force or fear, fear for the safety of their kin. In a country where friend cannot trust friend for fear some careless remark might be carried to Stalin, in hope of public favor, no security can be felt by the people.

Such a leading critic as H. R. Knickerbocker, famous observer of world affairs, predicts that the Communist Internationale is done for, and Alexander Kerensky, ex-led leader of the first Russian revolution, agrees with him. Yet such a statement is no cause for surprise. The downfall of Hitler would be just as easy to predict, unless he changes his policies, as that of Stalin. Mussolini, at the beginning of Hitler's dictatorship, warned him in a letter that any interference with the religious or personal freedom of his people would bring about the downfall of his rule. Mussolini so far is the only dictator who has not been guilty of any such interference, and it is well to note that of all the dictators he appears to be the most successful. So far he has had no opposition from his people that has made it necessary for him to relieve anyone of their job or execute them in order to make his own standing more secure. They do not seem to be as dissatisfied as are the Russians and the Germans. Yet even he can be accused of sending thousands out to die on foreign battlefields.

The reason for the prediction against Stalin though is due to the fact that his downfall seems to be more imminent than the others. Judging from some of his own statements we feel that he is doubtful just how far he can trust his own people. For four years he has endeavored to avoid this difficulty, the doubt that his own people may not fight for him in case of a war, by pretending that his government is a democracy. He did this in order to secure the services of the democratic countries in case he should get into war. Evidently, feeling that his bluff has not worked out as he had planned, judging from a recent statement of his, it looks as though he has repudiated all claim to such a contention and even had the nerve to say the workmen of America must be prepared to fight for Soviet Russia. His statement reads: "To talk of a united front for democracy with men plotting a proletarian revolution and a dictatorship of the proletariat is to talk nonsense. . . . American workers MUST, (according to Stalin) be prepared to fight for Soviet Russia when he wants them. Their loyalty must be to the world proletariat and to Russia—not to their own country, despicable, bourgeois United States."

Dictators are the products of troublesome times. They come into power by taking advantage of people overburdened by oppression. They make all kinds of promises; promises that fall on ears eager to hear something that forecasts a change. Some dictators start with the best of intentions and frequently give temporary relief to the people, but as time passes they seem to forget that they are human and not GODS! They rob the people of all freedom and make of them no more than slaves to respond to their every whim. When conditions reach this state the dictator is on the road to ruin. And when such a time comes and he feels his power slipping he tries to divert the minds of the people by killing the most dangerous and sending many of the others off to war. It looks as though Russia has reached this state.

Yet, despite all the internal troubles of Soviet Russia, it is well to remember that many of her people are still devoted to the Communist idea of world revolution and that she has advocates working assiduously in this country, striving to convert as many

Behind the Scenes in Washington

BY RODNEY DUTCHER

WASHINGTON—Hello, Latin America! This is Station U.S.A. broadcasting. . . . The band will now play "You're a Sweetheart—If There Ever Was One," "Lovely to Look At," "Bring It On Down to My House, Honey," "Who's Afraid of the Big Bad Wolf?" and "Ten Pretty Girls."

That is to say, the Monroe Doctrine is being all polished up and Uncle Sam is getting a new haircut as he sets out to woo those brown-eyed babies below the Rio Grande. Any young gentleman who has ever courted a female and, being turned down, goes back to the girl he left behind him only to find that she suddenly has become popular with the other boys, will get the point.

Our State Department has had to give up the idea of an understanding with England since England succumbed to the desires of Germany, Italy and Japan and we now turn almost all our attention to Miss Latin America with the hope that we can persuade her to remain cool to the blandishments of such fascist fellows as Mr. Hitler and Mr. Mussolini.

Already, it is possible to report much glee in the State Department over the Latin American reaction to the whirlwind visit of six army "flying fortresses" to Buenos Aires—with strategic stops at other capitals—and the reception of Roosevelt's bid for inter-American cooperation in a message to the new president of Argentina, Dr. Robert M. Ortiz. The "flying fortresses" were direct counter-propaganda to the spectacular flight of young Bruno Mussolini to Rio de Janeiro.

"Couriers of democracy," Argentine newspapers called the six war planes, contrasting them with the planes of Mussolini which "bomb women and children."

Our diplomats are hopeful that of us to her cause as possible. They are trying to invade our schools where they can reach the minds of the youths of this country. They preach against our government in the cause of Red Russia. They take advantage of our free speech to say things against us that would lead to their deaths if they lived in Russia and said them against that government. But even if America does not support them, nevertheless she must guard against them for they are trouble-makers.

Things we love to do: Sleep in the shade of a tree on a hot day in summer; view the lights of a city at night from afar; listen to the pattering of rain on a roof; watch the graceful flight of a bird in the air.

Of course both Roosevelt and the Yankees have reserve armies of men.

Ranger High School News

By Dorothy Byas

This has been a very busy week at the high school. Six-week tests, notebooks to get up, Interscholastic League work, one act plays, and that awful announcement about final examinations all came on with a rush. In addition to everything else there was chapel Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, but a rest Friday from 11:30 to 12:00.

On Monday all students met in auditorium for the auction. The auction was held to make money to pay for the annual, and pictures used in annual were auctioned. The auction was conducted by Homer Smith, Lewis Hughes and Roscoe Hodges. James Ratliff seemed to have enough pictures to fill an album. What could Mr. Ringold want with the pictures he got? If Mr. McGahey has a garden we know why he bought Rabb's picture; if not, we could not possibly guess why he wanted it.

Wednesday was March 2, the date of the signing of the Declaration of Independence of Texas 102 years ago; so it was fitting that we should have a program in memory of that date. The seniors had charge of the program. Dan Milmo was Master of ceremonies. The student body stood and sang "The Eyes of Texas," and after the song, Mr. Ringold gave the invocation. Juneann Grigollet told of the signing of the Declaration of Independence. Betty Sue Blanton, Francine Hatley and Fern Allen Meroney sang "Beautiful Texas" with the students joining in the second chorus. The seniors had written a letter to be sent to Governor Allred proclaiming their loyalty and gratification to the State of Texas. Brasswell Vantrouse read the letter and then Jack Hall, president of the class, and Dorothy Jean Bruce, secretary, signed the letter. Next the seniors signed their names to the letter. While all were signing Mr. Tulloch played the piano. On Thursday Miss Black presented the one-act play which will be entered in the Interscholastic League contest. Only last Friday they had motored to Baird where they presented it there. The name of the play is "Orville's Big Date." The characters are Doris Dudley, Claudine Jarvis, Maulcie Fay Turner and Glen Rex. On Thursday, Mr. Tulloch and all the band members went to Olden to play for a concert at 3:00. Thursday night, last week the members of the Home Economics Club motored to Lake Cisco, where they were joined by the Cisco Home Economics girls. At the lake they had a picnic supper and then spent the evening skating. It is rumored that there were so many other people that they had trouble finding a place to skate.

Life After 40 Easy For An Actress

By United Press

NEW YORK.—Elizabeth Patterson, screen character actress, doesn't worry about life after 40. "If a woman, one who is an actress, of course, can bridge the dangerous period, age proves no barrier to her success or diminisher of her earning capacity," said Miss Patterson while here on a brief vacation after finishing "Bluebeard's Eighth Wife." It was the fifth picture in which she has worked in almost as many months. By "dangerous period," Miss Patterson explained she means the 10 years between an actress' 35th year and her 45th birthday. "That is the trying time when a player, especially a woman, finds herself much like the schoolboy whose voice is changing during adolescence. In those years a woman is neither young and beautiful nor is she in the final state of maturity."

GIRL SCOUT GETS MEDAL

PHARR, Texas.—The first Girl Scout life-saving medal awarded in the Lower Rio Grande Valley was presented to Miss Eva Lucas of Pharr for rescuing two drowning girls in Missouri last summer. Miss Lucas first pulled Cleve Hardister, 18, from a stream at Macon, Mo., then returned to rescue Emma Hardister, 15,

Secret Bands of Terrorists Organize To Fight in China

By United Press

SHANGHAI.—Chinese secret societies, underworld organizations and ex-army guerrilla units are united in a campaign of terrorism against both the Japanese authorities and Chinese whom they designate as "Japanese running dogs."

The campaign was said to be part of the new Chinese strategy of harassing the Japanese behind their own lines. Several recent incidents of hand-grenading Japanese soldiers and assassinating Chinese leaders suspected of cooperating with the Japanese were laid to these organizations.

Police of the International Settlement and French Concession declared war on terrorists and some Chinese patriotic groups have repudiated them. Many arrests have been made but police admit that it will be well-nigh impossible to reach the directors of the campaign due to the manner in which the groups are organized.

Li Hsi-min, a grenade-tosser captured after the attack on a Japanese army launch on Soochow Creek, said he was a member of an army "Dare-to-Die Corps" detailed by the "Ironides Commander," Chang Fa-kyel, to harass Japanese behind the lines. They were divided into cells of three persons each and received their orders from secret runners, so that one cell knew nothing of the next cell and therefore could reveal nothing of importance in case of capture.

Another line of action was the organization of "alley-way societies" to ferret out and destroy Japanese spies and traitors. These secret societies have members placed in every alley in Shanghai, and suspicious movements of any residents there immediately comes to the attention of the leaders, who "put the finger on the suspect."

Chinese patriotic organizations, student groups and similar agencies here were genuinely distressed over these terrorist activities, believing that violence in that form would bring meager results toward the desired objective but would restrict their own work on a broader scale, and eventually make it impossible for them to use the Shanghai foreign areas as a base to conduct worldwide anti-Japanese agitation.

The viewpoint of the advocates of violence against the Japanese and Chinese traitors was explained by one member of a secret society to a Chinese student organizer.

"We are not terrorists; we are patriots," he was quoted as saying. "The name 'terrorists' as applied to us is Japanese propaganda; but if they give us that name, we will live up to it. The Japanese terror stalks abroad in open daylight here. We will meet terror with terror."

All Candidates Can Agree Upon One Question This Year

By United Press

AUSTIN.—One issue upon which all Texas candidates for office, all prospective candidates and all factions agree has been found. All oppose permitting Uncle Sam to take over submerged lands in the Gulf of Mexico along the Texas coast.

The only contest about it from the Texas angle is a scramble to see who can be foremost in asserting the state's right.

Attorney General William McCraw promptly branded the attempted federal seizure as illegal and hurried to Washington with a brief on the topic.

"Preposterous," said Governor James V. Allred of the federal claim, as he started for the national capital to protest it.

"Submerged land belongs to Texas," asserted Land Commissioner William H. McDonald as he started east.

"And the state's submerged land is to be used for the school children, added Ghent Sanderson, member of the state board of education, who accompanied McDonald to Washington.

Padre Island May Become a Mecca For the Tourists

By United Press

CORPUS CHRISTI, Texas.—Vast Padre Island, charming for its obscurity, is expected to become a veritable tourist mecca rivaling the much-publicized resorts of Florida and California in the next few years with completion of a development program announced by an eastern syndicate which recently purchased the island.

Extending along the Texas coast from Corpus Christi to Brownsville, Padre Island is 100 miles long and averages from one to three miles in width. A sandy beach rivaling the famous Daytona speedway of Florida is grandeur extends practically the entire length of the island.

Now accessible to automobiles only by a ferry operating to nearby Mustang Island, the long island, when the new program is completed, will be connected with the mainland by two causeways. One of the causeways will be built at Flour Bluff near Corpus Christi, and the other at a lower Rio Grande Valley point.

The syndicate plans extensive development of the island as a pleasure resort, with facilities to include residential subdivisions, a dude ranch and yacht basins along the protected waters of Laguna Madre. When the program is completed, an extensive national advertising campaign, rivaling publicity campaigns of Atlantic and Pacific coast cities, will be conducted. The plans also call for inauguration of steamship service between New Orleans, Corpus Christi and Brownsville, with regular excursions to the island.

The developers have announced that they will begin construction of the causeways as soon as title questions now being probed by the state are cleared.

The eastern syndicate, headed by former Sen. John A. Hastings of New York, is reported to have paid $550,000 for the land and certain mineral rights. Other members of the syndicate are John J. Dunningan, chairman of the New York World's Fair Commission; John J. Curtin, member of a Wall Street law firm; Frank R. Fageol, president of the Twin Coach Co., Kent, O.; John Sloan, member of a New York architectural firm; and Louis B. Ward, Detroit capitalist.

Back home rival candidates for attorney general agreed. "It's ours beyond question," said Lieutenant Governor Walter Woodul. "Treaties explicitly give Texas the title extending into the Gulf of Mexico," said District Judge Ralph Yarborough, former land assistant in the attorney general's office and candidate for attorney general.

On a spot were United States senators from Texas. The question was being asked how the resolution for federal control got by the Senate quietly. When it reached the judiciary committee of the House of Representatives this week, Texans were swarming all over the place in protest.

Oil that may be recovered from wells drilled in the Gulf of Mexico was what had attracted the interest of both the U. S. Navy and the Texas schools. The oil is not the only source of wealth along the coast. A large part of the fund for the state game, fish and oyster department comes from sale of shell, sand and gravel recovered on the coast. Geologists have guessed the value of the recoverable oil under the Gulf of Mexico waters at $100,000,000.

Numerous leases of submerged tracts for oil exploration have been issued. A well on such a tract off the Jefferson county coast already has penetrated two paying oil sands. It is to be drilled to 8,000 feet below the water to determine full possibilities.

Want to take this means of thanking all my friends and neighbors for the beautiful flowers and the many kind words of sympathy tendered us during the recent illness and death of our dear husband, father and son, Clayton Todd. May God bless each of you in our prayers.

That Man Is Here Again

A scene from Charlie McCarthy's short subject, "Free and Easy" which is playing at the Arcadia Theatre today with the feature attraction, "Penrod and His Twin Brother."

A round-table discussion seven students, three parents, three faculty members and an audience of several hundred persons concluded that parents other parents for the children — but the children more lenient about it. The outlook of the modern "about-faces" the traditional child-parent relationship, according to the clinic's findings. 1. The problem parent is his best friend is his daughter. 2. When the parent is understood, and shows tender, ward peculiar adult behavior such as sulking or tantrums children will not blame him. 3. Instead, they are consulted with him in an attempt to arrive at an understanding. Motion pictures were shown which the most common ties between children and parents were portrayed. The pictures were discussed then and by the 13 conferees with the audience participating. Seventeen other speakers throughout the country are experimenting with motion pictures as an aid to "democratization."

New York and Wisconsin discuss on the Senate the merits of the cheese states. Senators may find food for thought.

NAMES in the News

Names make headlines. Newspapers, today as always, are made up of what people say, think, propose, dissent from. Governments, institutions, businesses—and all their activities—are only the lengthened shadows of men!

What is true on the front pages is true, also, on advertising pages. Advertisements are simply signed statements of men, banded together to form a business who seek your patronage. They back their good name against the products they ask you to buy. They say, in cold black type, that theirs is a name you can trust.

People who get the most for their money in the market-places are people who know the value of familiar, trade-marked products. They buy with confidence. They buy by name—and save time, tiresome searching, and money! Are you doing likewise?

For Love of Polly

By RACHEL MACK

CHAPTER XXXI

The English used fire rockets. This frightened the pack mules of the Americans; a stampede started which ended in a retreat. Pell-mell into Washington went the routed army, through the city and up the Frederick road toward open country. When the English had rested and recovered, they followed in good marching order.

Many lay wounded at Bladensburg, among these Dick Chelsey. That night he lay in a ravine undiscovered, too weak to call for help. But he had stanchied his own wound with a handkerchief. Against the blackness of the night he saw the sky flame red for long hours, and he knew he had failed to save Washington.

He smiled bitterly as he thought of his useless little gesture—his offered life. Was he a fool, or had he touched the stars? A strange sense of lightness filled him, for he had lost much blood. But before dawn a downpour of rain fell on his upturned face and saved him. It was the same rain that stopped the spreading flames in Washington. 12th wind accompanied it.

At dawn someone found Dick Chelsey and carried him to a farmhouse nearby, and he knew that he would live and that life was sweet, whether he had been a fool or not. While he lay recovering, the English fleet boarded Fort Mifflin over at Baltimore (he could almost hear the guns). And when the beautiful American flag stood fast through the night a mild and lovable young lawyer from Georgetown (he was a prisoner looking on, and his name was Francis Scott Key) took an envelope from his pocket and wrote a poem called "The Star-Spangled Banner," which he happily set to a London coffee-house tune. . . . And so, even in this beautiful blood-soaked anthem that celebrates their struggle, England and America were irrevocably joined. . . .

When he comes home from sea in his merchant ship, the May Queen, it's as a lover coming home to his sweetheart. Last trip he brought her an ivory carved fan from China, and a little Mandarin coat, embroidered in lotus flowers. These things, and another, are too much for Mrs. Pell. The other thing is the intimate friendship with Mr. Cabell Banks, junior, of Boston and his wife—that girl that was the wealthy Prudence Winthrop.

She says, "You'd think Polly Chelsey Whitfield would be stuck up, but she's not. It beats all. I believe she's too simple."

Yet not too simple for Jerry Whitfield.

False Spring Causes Hens to Lay Early Throughout State

By United Press

FORT WORTH.—A "false spring" that didn't fool the groundhog on his day caused Texas hens to begin heavy laying a month before schedule this year and toppled the egg markets.

That was the consensus of local poultry dealers, who were paying about 4 cents a dozen less for eggs on Mar. 1 than they were paying a year before. Prices this March were 13 1/2 to 14 cents per dozen wholesale and from 5 to 10 cents more per dozen retail.

Texas hens in January and February laid about 40 per cent more eggs than they did in the corresponding months of 1937. The prices now are the lowest since 1932 and 1933, when depression sent the market to an all-time minimum of 8 cents a dozen, wholesale.

Poultrymen said the hens were "fooled" by the warm days in January and early February, and started to lay too early. Ordinarily, the eggs begin to come in largest numbers during March and April. A heavy carryover of storage eggs from 1937 also contributed to the low prices.

Fort Worth egg-buyers believed that the bottom was reached late in February and that the egg market will remain constant or rise slightly until winter, when the usual seasonal price increase comes.

Local business men and club-women hoped to stimulate the market by an "Eat More Eggs" campaign. Henry Love, manager of the Texas hotel, invited a dozen leading citizens to meet "egg-sactly" at 12:15 p. m. Mar. 1 for a luncheon that included eggs in every recipe.

The first course was "egg and caviar canape." This was followed by "cream of egg royale," "eggs Piedmontaise," "egg basket salad," "floating island egg pudding," and an anonymous egg drink.

In seizing a million tickets printed for a lottery ring, Chicago police made it clear they were taking no chances.

MYRA NORTH, Special Nurse - - By Thompson and Coll

Sport Glances. By Grayson

BY HARRY GRAYSON
Sports Editor, NEA Service

NEW YORK—Nathan Mann ably demonstrated the mediocrity of the newer crop of heavyweights.

The New Haven Italian marched bravely through Gunnar Barlund, Eddie Blunt, Abe Feldman, Arturo Godoy, and Bob Pastor, but about all he had when tossed into the same inclosure with Joe Louis was courage.

Mann waged a battle that was tailor-made for Louis, but there was something very impressive about the young Negro who all at once beheaded the boy from the brickyard who is built like a boxer.

Louis was sharper than Branch Rickey. The Detroit black could thread a needle with either glove.

Perhaps the most satisfying point to Louis' supporters was his weight. He came in at an even 200 pounds, or two less than he scaled when Tommy Farr stirred up plenty of trouble for him throughout 15 rounds last August.

Max Schmeling may flatten Louis again in June, or close will enough to take a decision, but the champion's performance against Mann put a robust majority of the doubters back on his handwagon.

LOUIS once more looked like the young man who put lilies in the hands of Carmen, Levinsky, Baer, Paulino, and Ritzlaff—the lad on whom practically everybody was so high.

Schmeling had the intelligent type of fight and punch with which to smack Louis down two years ago, but the German will be crowned 33 next time, and the law of averages is against his repeating it.

Louis will have just turned 24, and will be improved and in an entirely different frame of mind.

The Alabama-born bomber took Schmeling lightly in their first edition, which put the element of surprise on the side of the Ferocious Frankfurter.

Mann had no defense, and a batter with no defense has no business in the same ring with Louis. Schmeling made Louis lead, and when he caught him short with a left lead, countered with his right. He bent to his right, and kept his hands up. He fought sideways, as Smoky Joe explained, Farr also had a puzzling "left" Pastor, who stayed 10, simply ran.

LOUIS still carries his hands low and is a sucker for a right, but he stood up under three or four solid rights before putting Mann aboard the elevator, and the Italian doesn't exactly hurl cushions.

It was after Louis had jabbed Mann 21 straight times with his left that Nathan made his big mistake in the second round.

Mann then staggered Louis with a right-hand shot, and rushed in wide open in an effort to finish him.

That was suicide, and explains better than anything else why Schmeling took his good time about finishing Louis two years ago.

After Schmeling smacked Louis, he had the patience to wait for another opportunity.

But Schmeling wasn't being speared by anything like 23 straight left jabs.

To whip Louis, a fighter must be able to both get away from a punch and land one that packs sufficient authority.

Nathan Mann could do neither, and Louis, like anybody else, looked great scoring a knockout.

FLAVOR your economy. Cut the high cost of eating but never the high pleasure of dining.

Lamb Meat Balls
(Serves 4 to 6)

One pound shoulder lamb, 3 small carrots, 1 small onion, 1 teaspoon salt, 1-8 teaspoon pepper, 1 egg, beaten, 2 tablespoons butter or fat, 2 cups hot broth, 2 tablespoons flour.

Put lamb, carrots and peeled onion through food chopper. Add the seasonings and beaten egg. Mix thoroughly, shape into small balls, and roll in flour. Saute in butter until brown. Add 1-4 cup broth, cover and cook slowly for 18 minutes. Remove the meat and keep hot. Add flour to pan contents; cook until smooth. Then add remaining broth, stirring constantly. Cook until the gravy thickens. Pour over the meat balls.

That suggestion comes from "Most for Your Money Cookbook," a very inexpensive mine of valuable recipes. Those ubiquitous Browns, Cora, Rose and Bob, wrote it. It's brand new. Here are two more recipes from the Brown collection.

Chile Con Carne
(Serves 8)

One pound ground beef, 1 large onion, 1 garlic clove, minced, 3 tablespoons oil or fat, 1 small can tomatoes, 1 green pepper, chopped, 1-2 teaspoon celery salt, 1-4 teaspoon cayenne pepper, 1-2 teaspoon cumin seed, or caraway, 1 minced bay leaf, 1-2 teaspoon chili powder, 1-8 teaspoon chopped basil, or parsley, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 1 can chili beans.

Finely chop the onion and garlic and fry for a moment in hot oil or fat. Add the beef and fry slowly until brown. The Mexican secret of this dish lies in slow frying. Add the chopped tomatoes, green pepper and seasonings. Continue simmering over a slow fire. Add beans. Cover and let simmer slowly until the juices blend.

Lamb or Mutton with Apples
(Serves 4 to 6)

One pound neck mutton chops, salt, paprika, 1 onion, 2 medium sized greening apples, 1-2 teaspoon ground ginger, 1-2 teaspoon ground nutmeg, 1-2 teaspoon ground cloves, 1-2 teaspoon ground cinnamon, 1-2 teaspoon ground allspice, 1-2 teaspoon ground cloves, 1-2 teaspoon ground nutmeg, 1-2 teaspoon ground allspice, 1-2 teaspoon ground cloves.

Recital Unusual Success

A recital long to be recorded as one of the unusual musical happenings to have taken place in Eastland was offered music lovers on Monday night at the First Methodist church, Eastland, when two of the city's outstanding musicians, Misses Alma Williamson and Clara June Kimble, presented a piano and violin recital.

The church auditorium was attractively decorated in spring blossoms. The recital, under the auspices of the Eastland Music club, was attended by guests from Big Spring, Fort Worth, Abilene, Cisco, Carbon and Ranger.

GANDHI FIGHTS AGAIN—PASSIVELY

Mahatma Gandhi, the little brown man of India who a few years back badgered the British lion into granting concessions with his passive resistance campaign, has returned to the Indian political scene. The photo shows him at the opening of the All-India Swadeshi exhibition at Vithalnagar, Haripura. On coming out of retirement, Gandhi reiterated his principles of passive resistance which he believes will force England's governors to release a number of political whom they are holding in prison in defiance of the demands of India's Congress that they be freed.

Recreation Assn. Is Organized at Big Mass Meeting

An enthusiastic group met at the Legion hall Tuesday night at 8 o'clock and formed a permanent organization known as the Ranger Recreation Association, and unanimously elected Dr. Harry A. Logsdon as president. Tom Yonker was elected vice president, J. L. Haney treasurer and Bill Mayes secretary. Directors elected were B. E. Garner, Odelle Cole and Rev. Charles T. Tally, Jr.

The meeting was opened by Dr. Logsdon, who had been elected chairman of the organizing committee, who called upon K. E. Ambrose, president of the chamber of commerce, and Rev. Tally for short talks.

Ambrose stated that the idea had been formulated among the people of the town, and the chamber of commerce had started the ball rolling by appointing a committee to form the organization, but that it was to be a town-wide organization, with the chamber of commerce giving it moral support, but not having a part in handling its affairs.

Rev. Tally made an inspirational plea to the people to support the plan and the Ranger football team, pointing out the good such support would do to the boys, how it would engender a winning team and how a winning team would bring money into Ranger and promote a finer feeling of friendship, good will and good cheer. He stressed the physical, moral and financial advantages to be derived from such an organization in addition to the enthusiasm it would permeate throughout all walks of life in the town.

raised, the animals should be kept in the police station. "You must do the best you can," the clerk told the harassed sergeant.

Rotarians Hear a Talk Upon Foods

Kenneth Ambrose was in charge of Rotary program today and introduced Paul Sampson, authority on foods and their preparation, who gave a very interesting and instructive talk on the subject of foods.

Sampson has traveled a great deal, and gave many illustrations of people being restored to health by eating proper foods. He said 95 per cent of the ills of people today were because of faulty foods, their preparation. His talk was very much appreciated by the club.

John Tibbels will be in charge of the program next week.

Visitors present were Robt. Maddox, H. H. Monk, T. J. Cawley, Cisco; A. H. Henderson of Eastland.

The membership of the organization was started at the rally, with almost 100 per cent of those present participating and joining. A membership committee, composed of C. J. Moore, Fire Chief G. A. Murphy and Dave Cooper, was appointed. This committee is to organize workers who will canvass the town seeking new members, with a goal set at 500.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—
"About Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rain" to Go
The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food does not digest. It just decays in the bowels, gas builds up your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, weak and the world looks pink.
A month bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." Harmless, gentle, yet amazing in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. 25c. Slightly more before anything else.
