FRANCE JOINS BRITISH IN PEACE MOVE

By United Press
France indicated today that she would soon join Great Britain in diplomatic chiseling at the axis joining Italy and Germany.

The Rome-Berlin axis was formed by Mussolini and Hitler as a friendly working agreement.

Aided by mutual suspicion between the two dictators, Great Britain staked peace on an effort to offset the Nazi-Fascist combination by negotiating a treaty with Italy. It will be signed Saturday and the British will then turn to Germany.

Meanwhile along the international front:

SPAIN—Nationalist troops occupied the Mediterranean seaport of Vinaros late Friday, cutting loyalist Spain in two, the nationalists announced.

The movement split Barcelona, base of war supplies from loyalist Valencia and Madrid. An early end to resistance at Madrid was believed likely.

CHINA—Chinese armies continued to make Japan's lines in Shantung a great danger to the invaders. Japanese casualties in North China were estimated at 250,000 killed and wounded.

DO THAN AREA FARMERS PLAN HOPPER FIGHT

With the assistance of the county and federal government, farmers in the northwest part of Eastland county, particularly around Dothan, in the next two weeks will begin a war against grasshoppers.

That the northwest part of Eastland county, particularly around Dothan, is the most likely place for a heavy infestation of grasshoppers was determined this week in a survey by County Agent Elmo V. Cook and Charles A. Gable of Abilene, in charge of federal grasshopper control in this section.

It is estimated that of 14,000 acres in that area, 4,000 are in cultivation and will likely be the scene of "hopper" operations.

The winged jumbo and flying yellow abdomen are the two types of grasshoppers expected in the northwest part of the county.

The commissioners' court has given approval to stand for a reasonable expense in the fight against the grasshoppers. The court appointed Agent Cook, R. R. Bradshaw of Scranton, J. D. Guy of Carbon and E. E. Blackwell of Ranger to supervise the combat. C. C. McFadden, Luther Donaway and Grover Cleveland were named as a local committee at Dothan to handle the drive against the hoppers.

A central mixing station has been designated as the old planing mill at Cisco. A mixture of one-half bran furnished by the government, one-half bran furnished by the farmer, and sodium arsenite given by the government will be used. NYA youths will mix the ingredients. Already secured are 150 sacks of bran and 550 gallons of arsenite.

ROOSEVELT IS PUSHING DRIVE FOR REVIVAL

By United Press
WASHINGTON, April 15.—President Roosevelt swept his new deal recovery drive into high gear today, outlining new proposals he will submit to congress to accompany his $4,516,000,000 spending-lending and $39,000,000,000 credit expansion program.

Mr. Roosevelt reported a seven to one ratio of favorable responses in the 700 communications received thus far as the white house on his new pump-priming program.

The new messages will be sent to congress, he said, asking:

1—Removal of tax exemption privileges on bond of federal and local governments. Reciprocal taxation of the incomes of state and federal employees.

2—Methods of meeting problems of business monopoly and price fixing.

The president would not say whether he would ask action at this session of congress on the tax and business problems. Yesterday in outlining his drive he mentioned both issues.

Government agencies, he revealed, were working at top speed to put into action all phases of the new program.

The president made plain that he believed, contrary to some authorities the government has full power to end bond tax exemptions and to tax government salaries. Fiscal experts have said about $140,000,000 could be exempted if tax exempt bonds were eliminated.

Last night he dedicated his new program to a distribution of prosperity among all the people. To that end he shot millions of side gold into the credit spending pool and notified congressmen in a frenzied chat to their constituents that he wants a wages and hours bill passed at this session.

He said dictatorships grew out of weak and helpless governments, not those where were strong.

Southern democrats, instrumental in killing a wage-hour bill in a bitter house fight last year, organized solidly today against a new wage-hour bill and predicted its defeat.

The southern bloc organized as the house labor committee reported a bill designed to establish a minimum wage of 40 cents an hour and a maximum work week of 40 hours by gradual adjustments of standards.

is the stratosphere. Meantime, the famous Russian aeronautics expert said, great luxury liners and "flivver" planes will make highways of the air. Private "flivver" planes are very much a probability he said, adding: "We won't see them before we see great luxury liners, however."

But the time is coming when there will be hundreds of thousands, yes, millions of them, in the air. That time is a little farther away and there is a lot of engineering to be done on that type of plane yet, but they are coming. Sikorsky was asked what his greatest thrill in aviation was, and he smilingly answered: "In the past three years all of the thrills have been taken out of aviation. It is now a straight engineering proposition worked out by definite mathematical formulae. I think it was the time when I realized that this was true and that aviation was no longer thrilling that I had my greatest thrill in the aviation industry."

Mission Mill Found After a Century Buried In Dust

SAN ANTONIO — The mill of

San Jose Mission, buried under the dust of a century and long forgotten, has been restored to its original state. Existence of the mill, which historians say was built by the Franciscan monks prior to the erection of the mission itself, was not known until four years ago.

It is believed to have been the source of food for the workers who constructed the mission. When excavators employed by the San Antonio Construction Society stumbled upon a rock sluice pit on the south side of the mission, they believed they had found the entrance of a tunnel connecting San Jose with other missions. Exploration, however, established it as an ancient mill for grinding corn. Ernest Schuchard, a milling engineer, did research work to establish the mill as one of the type common in Spain in the 18th century. He volunteered to build the mill machinery, and recently completed work on it. The mill appears now as it is in the days of the Franciscan friars. Its reconstruction is a part of the work of restoring the historic landmarks, begun 25 years ago by the conservation society. Britain plans to build trees in its parks for protection against raids as soon as war ends. Little children, instead of going to the parks to play, will be in the parks and pray.

NAMES in the News

Names make headlines. Newspapers, today as always, are made up of what people say, think, propose, dissent from. Governments, institutions, businesses—and all their activities—are only the lengthened shadows of men!

What is true on the front pages is true, also, on advertising pages. Advertisements are simply signed statements of men, banded together to form a business who seek your patronage. They back their good name against the products they ask you to buy. They say, in cold black type, that theirs is a name you can trust.

People who get the most for their money in the market-places are people who know the value of familiar, trade-marked products. They buy with confidence. They buy by name—and save time, tiresome searching, and money! Are you doing likewise?

Snow White and Her Prince

United States. Practically and major metals are produced there. Silver was first discovered at Georgetown at the close of the Civil War. Developments became intense about 1873. By 1875, it was a "roaring mining camp," keeping pace with Silver City and Chloride Flat, made famous by the operations of M. W. Bremen. His career in Grant County was a silver producer has been likened on a smaller scale to that of the famous H. A. W. Tabor of Colorado.

The romantic element is not omitted in Walt Disney's full feature length production in Multiplane Technicolor, "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs." There is a happy ending in which the heroine's sweetheart revives her with the "first kiss of love" from the prince in which she has been placed by a witch, as her friends, the dwarfs, cheer him. Music and dancing and dialog are among the attractions in this picture from RKO Radio. The picture comes to the Ranger Arcadia for four days starting Saturday.

Prison Board Is Stumped By The Existence of Graft In the Prisons

HOUSTON, Tex., April 14.—A criminal may be sent to prison, but even there he may engage in petty trading on his fellow men, Texas authorities have learned. A recent investigation at the Darrington farm shed light on the way these rackets work, but members of the prison board have confessed that they are puzzled in devising ways to stop them. They believed, however, they are making head way. The Darrington investigation revealed three evils: 1. Convict "trusties" have used their privileges to sell "good behavior" overtime and choice jobs to other prisoners. 2. White convicts have been lending money to Negro prisoners at exorbitant rates. 3. Convicts with money have been cashing the $50 checks with the state gives every release prisoner and demanding exorbitant fees.

Comeback Trail of Prizefighter Was Not So Hard After All

By United Press

HOUSTON, Texas—Jack Hale retired prize fighter, once tried to end his own "comeback" attempt—only the results were not what he planned.

He recently revealed to fellow clerks in the federal district attorney's office the details of the astonishing victory in his last fight. The astonished person was Hale, himself.

That was several years after he had won the featherweight championship of the destroyer force of the Pacific fleet and after he had fought more than fifty professional bouts, winning most of them. He fought this "comeback" fight at 27—seven years ago—against a young, vigorous boxer.

"It was the third round coming up," he said, "and I was dead tired. I realized I should have known better than to try to fight again."

"I knew the other fellow was scared, but I decided to let him tap me and then I'd be counted out."

Hale maneuvered his opponent into a corner and stuck out his chin for the finishing blow.

"But both of us had the same idea when we went out for that round," he laughed. "I swung a weak right instinctively. He took it on the chin, and was counted out. It was just a matter of who got in the first blow."

$400,000 Sought In Tick Control Project

By United Press

EDINBURG, Texas—A campaign to secure an additional $400,000 from the federal government to hasten fever tick eradication work north of the Rio Grande river was underway today among Hidalgo county cattlemen and Valley chambers of commerce.

Livestock owners throughout the Valley area urged to appeal to Washington officials to secure passage of an appropriation which would complete work already started. An allotment of $900,000 originally was sought, but federal budget directors tentatively agreed to $400,000 for the work, and the smaller sum is being sought.

Congressmen have been enjoying samples of the products of other congressmen's states including grapefruit, apples, oysters, cheese and champagne. But most of them admit they still like political plums best.

Snow White Contest Should Be Fun And Is Open to Anyone

Here, in the advertisements on this page, are a number of "Dopey's", the comical little dwarf who is really the hit of the big cartoon feature, "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs," which is to appear at the Arcadia theatre four days, beginning Saturday.

All of the dwarfs are slightly different, except two, which are identical, and a number of valuable prizes are being offered by the merchants of Ranger for those who find the two identical Dopeys and fill in the last line of the limerick that also appears in the entry blank.

Anyone is eligible, but children are particularly urged to enter the contest, as many of the prizes are ones children would appreciate and enjoy.

The contest is easy. Just clip the two figures you think are identical, then fill in the last line of the limerick and mail your entry not later than midnight Sunday, April 17.

Prizes will be awarded Monday evening, April 18, at 9 o'clock, from the stage of the Arcadia theatre to the winners. No entries will be returned, and decision of the judges will be final. In case of a tie, duplicate awards will be made.

There is plenty of time to enter this contest, and anyone may win, but all are urged to get their entries in as early as possible.

See the list of valuable prizes in another column of this page and pick out the identical dwarf's now. Then fill in the last line of the limerick and mail your entry promptly. Complete rules of the contest are also contained in the advertisement. Read them and then get busy. It is lots of fun for both old and young.

All who have entries should be at the Arcadia Monday evening, when the winners will be announced. The names of winners will also be published in The Times Tuesday afternoon.

School Registers Only Novelists

IOWA CITY, Ia.—Contracts for publication of first novels were pre-qualified for enrollment in the University of Iowa's new school for novelists, a unique American educational venture.

Four applicants for advanced degrees, all of whom had their first novels accepted, have enrolled in the course.

They are Robert Whitehead, Tulsa, Okla.; Ross McLaury Taylor, Snyder, Oklahoma; George Abbe, Guilford, Conn., and Herbert Krause, Fergus Falls, Minn.

Abbe, youngest of the group, is working for an M. A. degree. The others seek Doctor of Philosophy degrees.

Three are enrolled in the English departments, while Whitehead, already an author of several plays, is in the dramatic art department.

Abbe will have his 120,000 word novel, "The Song," published late this summer. His work deals with a cross-section of life in a typical New England town and a 17-year-old boy's ideals and disillusionments.

A prolific writer of poetry, Abbe has contributed to many magazines and anthologies, including the Atlantic Monthly, The New Republic, Fantasy, Ladies Home Journal, Best Poems and the Hills are Ready for Climbing.

Regeneration of a family in the post-depression era is described in Whitehead's novel, "Lift Up Your Heart." It is to be published in the fall. Whitehead also is the author of several short stories and plays. He currently is working on a trilogy based on the life of Gen. Sam Houston.

Whitehead's plays, "Precious Land" and "Pegasus on Foot," a satirical comedy, won prizes at the University of Oklahoma. The latter is to be produced this spring at the University of Iowa.

Last year, Edward J. O'Brien included Whitehead's short story, "American Nocturne," in his "Best Short Stories of 1936." In the dedication of his anthology, O'Brien termed Whitehead "America's most promising young writer."

Krause used his native Minnesota for the setting of his novel, "Wind Without Rain." It deals with the struggles of a young man against community traditions.

In 1935, Krause's play, "Bondsmen of the Hill," won first prize in the midwestern folk drama contest. When he finishes his course, Krause will take over his new duties as head of the English department at Augustus college, Sioux Falls, S. D.

Taylor's novel "Berossus" will be the first of the four to be published. It deals with the southwestern cattle country. Taylor started gathering material for the novel eight years ago, living and studying in the southwest where he had access to private collections of rare sketches and clippings.

Cop Changed Mind About Giving Aid to Woman In Distress

DALLAS, Texas.—Lieut. Louis Spencer, a good policeman, bolted all the windows and locked all the doors when he left his house. Then he slammed the screen as he stepped off the porch—not noticing that the hook jumped back into the eye latch. Later, as he sat at his desk at headquarters, the telephone rang "I want you to unlock my door," a feminine voice said sweetly. "Sorry, lady," the lieutenant answered, "but the police don't perform services like that." "Well, they better," said the feminine voice. "This is your wife calling. You locked me out."

We Who Are 'About to Testify . . .

During questioning of an elderly-looking witness in a Cleveland court it turned out that the man on the stand was 103 years old, and never had been in a courtroom before.

What a pity that the newspaper account of the trial didn't go as deeply into the case of the witness as it did into the case of the trial! He was not even asked what he believed to be responsible for his remarkable longevity.

The answer probably would have been that he had kept away from witness stands for 103 years. That probably would have accounted also for the fact that he still retained most of his hair.

More than one man has had his life span materially shortened by a courtroom experience thrust upon him as an innocent bystander, and more than one man has grown bald faster after permitting an overzealous attorney to grab him by whatever hair he had at the time.

The badgering of witnesses for the sole purpose of attempting to make them appear incompetent is fortunately a practice which capable judges are vigorous in fighting, but despite the co-operation of reputable attorneys such tactics continue to compose the bulk of the courtroom repertoire of the not-so-reputable.

It should be emphasized that serving as a witness is one of the duties which the privileges of citizenship carry along with them, and exposure to the possibility of courtroom embarrassment does not quite constitute sufficient moral ground for evading that duty. But the bench and the bar cannot expect anything like a stampede of the citizenry to the witness stand while such conditions obtain. Voluntary submission to public indignities is not among citizenship's obligations.

WASHINGTON LETTER

BY ROONEY DUTCHER
NBA Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON—Current betting by those closest to the tax remnant of the hated undistributed profits tax retained by the House had eliminated by the Senate Finance Committee is more likely than not to be contained in the tax law eventually enacted.

This belief has grown along with evidence that the House is all set to fight for the principle and an impression that the "relief" provided by the Senate's action is only psychological.

As to the merits, that all depends on how you look at it. Under the Senate plan, a large majority of American corporations would pay a smaller tax bill than under the House bill. About 130,000 of the 200,000 corporations had net incomes of less than $500,000 and the Senate plan means a smaller tax payment than the House bill to all corporations earning less than $6500.

In the brackets between $6500 and $25,000 the Senate plan costs more in taxes than the House bill. For example, on a $15,000 income the Senate plan tax would be about 25 per cent higher.

Over $25,000, the Senate plan is relatively more expensive to corporations which pay out profits in dividends and less expensive than the House plan for those which do not.

As compared with the Senate's 18 per cent for corporation rate, under the House plan companies paying out all profits in dividends would pay 18 per cent and companies paying no dividends 20 per cent, with intermediate variations which, for instance, would cause a company paying out half its profits in dividends to pay 18 per cent.

Because American corporations, as a general average, pay out about 77 per cent of profits in dividends, it is argued that a larger amount of business is being soaked under the Senate plan than under the House bill.

Nevertheless, the charge that the Senate plan is soaking small business for the benefit of big corporations which don't pay out dividends is fully valid only when the importance of a roughly estimated 140,000 corporations earning less than $6500—which get a break under the Senate plan—is heavily discounted.

Inasmuch as 90 per cent of corporate business is done by about 15 per cent of the corporations and corporations earning less than $25,000 do only about 10 per cent of the business, it can be seen that the numerical majority of corporations benefiting from the Senate plan comes far from suggesting a true picture of the relative effects of the two corporation tax proposals on American business as a whole.

Corporations earning less than $6500 obviously do much less than 10 per cent of the total corporate business. This group is the only bracket group in which all companies—or even a preponderance of them—benefit under the Finance Committee's proposal.

RHUBARB may be grand as a spring tonic. But what has that to do with dessert? Let's be realistic in a mouth-watering way. So come along and try your luck.

Rhubarb Perfection Pie
(One 9-inch pie or about 8 servings)

Three tablespoons quick-cooking tapioca, 1 cup sugar, 1-3 cup currant jelly, 1-4 teaspoon salt, 1-2 eggs rhubarb, cut in small pieces, 1 tablespoon butter, pastry for a 9-inch pie, 9 inches in diameter, 1-2 teaspoon cream, 1 teaspoon sugar.

Mix together the quick-cooking tapioca, sugar, currant jelly and salt. Add rhubarb, finely cut. Allow to stand 15 minutes while the pastry is being made.

Line a heat resistant glass pie plate, 9-inch size, with pastry rolled 1-8 inch thick. Fill pie shell with the rhubarb mixture. Dot with butter. Adjust the top crust over the rhubarb. Brush the top crust with cream and sprinkle with about 1 teaspoon sugar.

Bake for about 55 minutes in a moderately hot oven (400 degrees F. for 15 minutes and then reduce the temperature to 350 degrees F. for 40 minutes more) until crust is nicely browned and rhubarb is tender. Be sure to serve hot. However, allow the pie to cool slightly before cutting as filling will not be too juicy.

Rhubarb Cream Sherbet
(About 8 servings)

Two cups rhubarb, cut in small

Sunday's Menu

BREAKFAST: Grapefruit with strawberries, grilled Canadian bacon, scrambled eggs, rice muffins, strawberry jam, coffee, milk.

EASTER DINNER: Cold artichokes, celery, olives, stuffed squab chicken, potato puffs, new peas in butter, new asparagus with Hollandaise sauce, chocolate soufflé, marshmallow sauce, mints, coffee.

EASTER SUPPER: Chicken consommé in eggs, sliced Virginia ham, hot biscuits, watercress salad, rhubarb perfection pie, tea, milk.

pieces, 1 cup water, 1 cup granulated sugar, 1 teaspoon lemon juice, 1 egg white, 1 tablespoon powdered sugar, 1 cup whipping cream.

Simmer the rhubarb with the water and sugar in a saucepan 1-2 quart size. When rhubarb is tender, chill and add lemon juice. Pour into freezing tray of an automatic refrigerator and freeze for one hour. Beat the egg white stiff; add the sugar and beat until very stiff again. Fold the beaten egg white into the rhubarb mixture. Next fold in the cream, which has been whipped. Return to the freezing tray until frozen to a mushy consistency—between one and two hours.

This is fine to use when carrying out a pink color scheme.

"OUT OUR WAY"

By Williams Popular Tenor

Introduces "Swing Arias"

Roy Brower, popular N. B. C. artist appearing on the 9 o'clock morning show (C. S. T.) has a tenor voice that combines the plaintiveness of the Southland with the romance of Old Italy. A Roy Brower song is crooned, whispered and then "swing" as only Roy Brower can sing it.

In the N. B. C. show, "Aunt Jimma's Cabin at the Crossroads," Brower takes the part of Ornamental Johnson, a colored singer who made good on Broadway. Brower is famous in radio circles as the "tenor who always sings with his hat on." Millions of people in the East know Brower as the "Prince Charming of Song." Many years ago, he authored, directed and acted his own show of that name. He has had wide experience in stock, musical shows and vaudeville as a professional dancer as well as a singer.

The "Aunt Jimma" program is presented Monday through Friday on the N. B. C. Blue network from 9:00 to 9:15 a. m. C. S. T. It is sponsored by The Quaker Oats Company, and includes a swing band, the Noble Cain chorists, the famous colored contralto, Etta Moten, comedians Buck and Wheat, and jovial Aunt Jimma, played by Harriette Widmer.

SAN ANTONIO, Texas.—Sen. "I'M GLAD THAT WE BOUGHT A NEW ELECTRIC REFRIGERATOR"

How cheap electricity and their electric refrigerators save them money has been learned by many Texas housewives. Electric refrigerators, built to provide food-saving cold and plenty of ice cubes even in the hottest weather, are more economical than ever. Your cheap and dependable electric service runs your new refrigerator without the slightest bit of attention, and the daily cost for electricity is measured in pennies.

Consider These Four Advantages of Electric Refrigeration

1. Low operating cost assured by cheap electricity and new mechanical efficiencies.
2. Low purchase price due to customer preference for electric refrigeration.
3. Reserve freezing capacity for replenishing ice cubes quickly or making desserts.
4. Time-tested and proved through years of use in Texas homes to be equal to the task of saving food from spoilage in the hottest Texas weather.

Easter Cruise

BY MARION WHITE

CAST OF CHARACTERS
JOYCE WILNER, heroine; she took an Easter Cruise.
DICK HAMILTON, hero; he happened to be on the cruise.
ISOBEL PORTER, traveler; she sought a mate.

Yesterday's matters turn for the worse when Mrs. O'Hara accuses Joyce of infidelity, with her husband during a ship dancing party.

CHAPTER IX

THE Empress was due to land at Nassau in the Bahamas early Thursday morning. But at the breakfast table Dr. Gray held out little hope that they would touch at Nassau that day due to an unusually severe storm.

Joyce's face clouded for an instant. "I did want to see Nassau," she admitted.

"It's terribly disappointing, really it is," Isobel assured her with superiority. "Except for the British Colonial Hotel and Dirty Dick's, there's not a thing in Nassau. And Paradise Beach—it's a joke!"

Dick smiled. "The whole trouble is that we New Yorkers compare every beach in the world with Jones Beach. We're spoiled." "What is Dirty Dick's?" Joyce asked.

"A saloon," Isobel said flatly. "The doctor shook his head. "Oh, come now, Miss Porter, it's better than that." To Joyce he explained. "I guess you'd call it Nassau's 'hot spot.' A friend of mine is the proprietor, one of the finest gentlemen I've ever met. It's a great gathering place for tourists."

"Sort of a night club?" Joyce inquired.

"Not exactly. Though you can have your own entertainment. There's always a darkey about, with a guitar in his arms and rhythm in his feet, ready to serenade one through the open windows."

Nevertheless, she did regret missing it. The Empress skirted the island, and through binoculars the passengers were able to get only a fair view of certain points of interest.

But the morning brought its bright spot of good fortune to Joyce, to make up for the treachery of the weather.

Mrs. Porter, with an extra day to fill in with entertainment, hastened to arrange a bingo party in the main lounge.

"Let's try our luck," Dick suggested, after they had seen all there was to see of Nassau through his binoculars.

"It's always fun to try," Joyce agreed, "though I've lost a great deal of faith in my own luck."

"Mine's holding up pretty well. Otherwise I would never have found you on the Empress."

An hour later, he had spent $4 and between them they had played eight unsuccessful cards.

"Remember, I warned you," Joyce reminded.

"One more card each," he insisted stubbornly. "Then I'll be ready to admit defeat."

And it was on this very last card that Joyce was the winner. With $22 ready to tuck into her lovely but empty new pocketbook and lift her out of the poverty she had suffered since the Empress sailed.

AS the day wore on and the rain continued, an undercurrent of irritation developed among the passengers. They "hated" the weather and made a big dinner of their disappointment that they had come this far and not visited Nassau. What was the matter with the steamship company? Why couldn't the captain enter the harbor from another angle? Why did they advertise a stop at Nassau? The ship was a veritable kindergarten of spoiled children who could not go out in the rain to play. This was what Mrs. Porter decided on the game of horse racing.

So long strips of canvas were laid down on top of the carpet, and the whole length of the lounge became a track where wooden horses were raced along the marked canvas in paces determined by the fall of the dice. Spectators crowded the room on either side of the canvas strips, and at times when the Empress hit an especially strong wave, they threatened to topple over on top of the horses. But it was amusement and there was always the chance of winning, and contentment reigned again.

"You might as well take another chance," Dick advised Joyce as they watched the game through the window. "This is your lucky day."

"And risk my $22?" Joyce demanded with a touch of Aunt Martha's practical Yankee shrewdness. "Besides," she pointed out, seeing how people were crowded back to the wall, and sitting cross-legged right up to the very edge of the canvas, "there's not room for a mouse to squeeze in there."

"We'll find a spot," Dick promised her.

They went into the lounge, and because Mr. Hamilton was a good patron of every ship's game, the steward managed to discover a few inches of floor space, close to the canvas, where they, too,

SAN ANTONIO.—The St. Louis Browns were the busiest traders during the off-season, if that means anything.

They shipped and brought in players like the trusts distribute wrestlers.

And Gabby Street, the Old Sarge, recently promoted to a lieutenant-colonel by Gov. Jimmy Allred of Texas, talks good baseball.

The swapping and Colonel Street's speech-making have brought one definite and favorable result, anyway.

The transactions were regarded so highly by the paying guests of St. Louis and Colonel Street is so popular there that a demand actually developed for stock in the club. This was good news to the Browns' president-salesman, Donald L. Barnes, for $5-par shares had dropped to $3. Then they went to $3.50, $4, $5.25, and are now being offered at $6.25.

A TIPOFF on Colonel Street's optimism is that he says Billy Sullivan, Jr., will develop into a star catcher.

The personable Billy has been around for some time, and was passed along by Cleveland when the Indians didn't need a first-rate catcher any worse than Mike Jacobs, who keeps feeding them to Joe Louis.

It is true that the Browns had the second best batting average in the junior circuit in 1937, hitting .285, or two points better than the New York Yankees. It also is true that the Browns fielded 972, or only four points worse than the Detroit Tigers, who showed the way in that department.

San José is properly acclaimed one of the most inspiring and beautiful of ancient edifices, where the art of the Old World mingles with that of the New. It was founded in 1720, but not completed until 1731. Recent restoration gives a good idea of its original magnificence.

Beauty was interwoven with practicality in the building of San José, gem of all the Texas missions . . . Coffee, too, serves a double purpose. There's No Substitute for Experience

Every bit of experience good or bad enriches one's measures for future success. There is ever a distinction of the right and wrong, particularly in business tactics. Much has been said about manners, which give expression favorable or otherwise. For the benefit of the personnel making up the Gholson hotel coffee shop, Paul Chapman, manager, hotel Gholson, has completed plans for John O'Meara, authority along the line of coffee shop manners to be present for a 9 o'clock morning of employes Sunday morning. Mr. O'Meara, says "there is a right and wrong way in handling dishes, serving people, and proper food preparations." General hints will make up this Easter morning school. This well versed person has appeared over these United States, and specializes in this type of work only. Atmosphere, surroundings and environment goes far.

May Head TVA Investigation

After spending four years in the Senate and never introducing a bill or making a speech, Senator Vic Donahey of Ohio is mentioned as possible chairman of the joint congressional TVA investigating committee. Washington buzzes at the prospect of the vast TVA expenditures being placed under scrutiny of a man who, as Ohio state auditor, once rejected an expense account because a state judge spent 40 cents for a baked potato.

Presbyterian Church Will Have An Easter Service On Sunday

Dr. L. B. Gray, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Ranger, has announced special Easter services to be conducted at the church Sunday morning, April 17, at 11 o'clock.

The announcement stated that Mrs. D. T. Wier would sing as a part of the special musical program in connection with the service. The public is cordially invited to attend.

'Life's Question' Is Subject of Sermon At Revival Here

"Life's Greatest Question," coming from the last day in the life of Jesus prior to His crucifixion, will be the theme at the Consecration Week revival at 7:45 tonight at the First Methodist church in Ranger.

Since today commemorates the trial and crucifixion, it is only fitting that our minds should dwell upon the events of that day. And out of it comes that ringing question: "What shall I do then with Jesus, which is called Christ?"

On tomorrow night the pastor-evangelist, Rev. G. Alfred Brown, will use the theme of "Echoes from the Cross." In this he will recall the seven last statements of Jesus, spoken as He hung upon the cross.

Two outstanding services are in prospect for Sunday. In the special Easter service at 11 o'clock, the theme will be "Good News." The choir has prepared a beautiful anthem, and the latter part of the service will be given to the reception of members into the church.

Sunday evening at 7:45 the choir will present the Easter cantata, "Immortality."

Everyone is cordially invited to be present tonight, tomorrow night and Sunday. At least we can show this much concern about what Jesus Christ did for us and for others.

Three Men to Plan And Harmonize Safety Department

AUSTIN, Texas — Commissioners William H. Richardson, Albert Sidney Johnston and Geo. W. Cottingham will be given a free hand by Gov. James V. Allred in working out plans to harmonize the state department of public safety.

Non-interference by the Governor is so completely understood that there was no discussion of the change of Motor Patrol Chief when the commissioners paid a call upon the Governor after their meeting at which the change was ordered. Gov. Allred learned later that L. G. Phares had been relieved of the command.

Phares was first director of the Safety Department. Later he became head of the motor patrol and licensing division, work he had handled as patrol chief before the Department of Public Safety was created.

A quirk in the law creating the department seems to make it impossible for Phares to question his removal. The law gives a discharged employe a right to demand a public hearing. It is silent however about demotions or transfers. Phares has not been discharged. The order relieved him of command "for incompatibility and lack of co-operation with other units."

Transfer of patrol captains, including two moved from Austin, had no connection with the change in patrol command, department officials insisted, but it didn't help Phares prepare data if he proposes a contest.

Gov. Allred said that he had no disposition to interfere in the department's management. "I think the commission is doing good work," he told inquiring newsmen. "Others think so too. When I was in Washington recently, J. Edgar Hoover volunteered praise of the Texas Department of Safety. He said that it was doing good work and had brought about improvements. He thought that the Ranger service had been bettered. The governor is especially pleased with the type of men entering the department. There is a provision of the department act saying that a man otherwise qualified shall not be held ineligible because of failure in literary tests. Yet the lowest examination average made by any of the 100 men recently accepted by the department for police training was 82 per cent. In most colleges the passing grade is less than that.
