Trades Day Plan Meeting Approval Throughout Town

The committee in charge promoting a Ranger Trades Day, 25 merchants were contacted who agreed to participate in the unique trade expansion program.
An advertising layout has been prepared by the committee, with two sizes of advertisements available. This is being done so that the small merchant will have an equal amount of display as the larger merchants at a nominal cost.
Under the plan each merchant allowed not more than four gains to list and no other participating merchant can offer the same item at the same price on a particular Trades Day, which will be held Friday.

Meeting is to be held Friday at the Recreation Building, at which time merchants will be asked for items they wish to offer and to draw for places in the circular.

Those who have already been selected and who have approved plan are: Anderson-Pruett, Ramsey Ward, Goodyear Tire & A. P. Grocery, Piggy Back, Swaneys Pharmacy, Etc., Shoe Shop, Mills Grocery, M's Stores, A. J. Ratliff, Ross Pharmacy, Oil City Pharmacy, and Drug Company. Williams Furniture, Ranger Furniture Exchange, School's Bakery, Rangeman Laundry, Sig's Grocery, Texas Electric Service Company, The Globe, Kenyon, Joseph's, Hassen Commissioningworth's, and J. C. ## RAILROADS TO REDUCE WAGES AFTER JULY 1ST

WASHINGTON, May 12.—American railroads today formally notified railway labor that they will reduce basic wages 15 percent on July 1.
The wage cuts, which rail labor leaders have announced they will resist, will effect an estimated 1,000,000 workers.
"This action is compelled by conditions now confronting the railroad industry," the statement said. "We wish the public and railroad employes to know what those conditions are."
The action, calculated to save $250,000,000 annually invokes the machinery of a lengthy mediation system provided by the railway labor act. That statute provides for conferences between management and labor. Resistance by rail labor would delay final decision on the reduction far beyond July 1.

LON SMITH RAPS ACTION ON SHUTDOWN

DALLAS, May 12.—Railroad Commissioner Lon Smith today condemned the action of Commissioners Ernest Thompson and C. V. Terrell in ordering Saturday shutdowns of Texas oil fields.
Smith, the minority member, charged that the commission had failed to deal successfully with overproduction.
"I favor a program of strict proration," he said. "This can be accomplished without closing down oil wells. The commission has failed and refused to employ agencies at its command in dealing with the situation."
"Restricted drilling could have been enforced. The commission is authorized to meter wells and pipelines and this the commission has failed and refused to do."
Thompson and Terrell issued an order for Saturday shutdowns for all Texas wells for the next four Saturdays, because of steady overproduction for several months. Texas fields have been closed on Sunday.

Hughes Urges 'Spirit of the Just Judge'

WASHINGTON, May 12.—Chief Justice Charles Evans Hughes of the Supreme court admonished government quasi-judicial agencies to temper their actions with the "spirit of the just judge" and urged a vigilant guard against unqualified judges.
In his first public address since last year's defeat of the supreme court reorganization bill and a President Roosevelt's appointment of two new justices, he said the American Law Institute (a quasi-official agency) must be guided by the same considerations that guide judges.
His reference to such agencies came less than three weeks after his supreme court decision setting aside rates promulgated by the Secretary of Agriculture for ten Kansas City Stockyards. As a consequence of that decision the National Labor Relations Board is seeking to withdraw several major decisions.

A Special 'Week' With Merit

Back during World War days, this country discovered a new way to promote worthy causes. A special date would be set aside—sometimes one day, sometimes a whole week—with the idea that the particular worthy cause involved would be promoted, emphasized and appealed for by all and sundry on that occasion.

It worked—until every commercial publicity and promotion man in the nation began to appropriate the idea. Then we got a series of Big Red Apple Days, Eat More Legumes Weeks, and so on, and the idea went pretty stale.

But it still has its points, when a really good cause is involved; and you might pay a little special attention to the week of May 1-8, which has been set aside as Better Parenthood Week.

Child Health Day, for a number of years, has been observed on the first of May. Mother's Day, this year, falls on May 8. To the editor of the Parents' Magazine there occurred the idea of combining the two dates to stress the whole general subject of better care for children and better protection for mothers.

That this is a subject which badly needs emphasizing is all too obvious. Parents' Magazine, for instance, points out that each year—in this "civilized United States"—150,000 mothers and babies die from causes that might have been prevented if proper care had been available.

Those figures mean, first, that we are shockingly remiss in the matter of providing the right sort of attention for women in childbed. The medical skill, dietetic knowledge and pre-natal guidance which would reduce our maternity death rate to a fraction of its present level are available—that is, they are in existence. But somehow they don't get to all the women who need them. A tragic annual sacrifice is the result.

Secondly, the figures mean that a great number of babies who might be saved are lost every year because the care that would save is not made available. There can be no more pitiful toll than this. To be able to save babies from death, and yet to let them die—no nation which does that on the scale that we do it can feel anything but the profoundest shame.

Now these, as it happens, are not things that will right themselves if we give them plenty of time. Mothers and babies who might live will continue to die, year after year, unless we force ourselves to realize how inexcusable our neglect it, and do something about it. It is not a matter of finding new knowledge or developing new scientific skills; the knowledge and the skills are at hand, and we need only to make sure they are used.

If the observance of Better Parenthood Week this year compels us to recognize this problem and to take steps to solve it, the week will be time well spent indeed.

'HM-I WONDER ABOUT THAT GUY'

THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON WITH RODNEY DUTCHER

BY RODNEY DUTCHER

WASHINGTON—Unless numerous well-informed persons in Congress and the administration are whispering through their new straw hats, the reorganization bill is likely to be brought back to the House floor for another vote.

Supporters of the measure keep saying that "the bill would pass if it were brought up today." The special House committee on reorganization to which the bill was recommended is as strong for it as ever. Administration strategists, although they may deny it, have been assuring each other that the measure is far from dead.

Any plans which may definitely exist for reporting out the bill, possibly in modified form, are secret. Conceivably it might be pushed onto the floor in a surprise move. But if it actually is presented again at this session, the chances are better than even that it won't be until after the House disposes of the spending-lending program and the wage-hour bill.

The bill lost April 8 by a vote of 196 to 204. A switch of five votes would have carried it. Pro-Roosevelt constituents have written many letters berating members who voted to recommit. Six Wisconsin Progressive congressmen who voted against the administration have been especially excoriated in this way. It has been hotly argued whether the bill was defeated more by the onslaught of propaganda against it or by administration clumsiness in handling it. Other arguments are being presented to prove that the bill couldn't lose if again offered.

On April 8, writing to Monthly Leader Sam Rayburn to thank him for his fight for the bill, Roosevelt said the measure "is intended to simplify and improve the public service and that the question presented 'is' solely one of policy.

If this present-tense attitude toward the bill had not persisted, Roosevelt probably by now would have appointed someone to the comptroller-generalship, long ago left vacant by resignation of John R. McCarl. The White House believes that the group surrounding Acting Comptroller General Richard N. Elliott, former Republican congressman, was one of the strongest forces in the anti-reorganization lobby.

Although the bill would have abolished the comptroller general's office, the fact has gone unmentioned that Roosevelt has been "mentioned." And of course if you happen to hear of either of them—or of someone else—being appointed to the post, it will indicate that the administration has given up hope for the reorganization bill.

Now that the tax bill compromise has been made—with its skimpy face-saving concession to the President—who do you suppose is going around at this late date defending the undistributed profits tax and the capital gains tax? Strangely enough, that conservative Jim Fawcett, who has been warning congressmen against any more reform legislation.

she meant it, but of course Jackie could see through her. "It was nice of you to come," she returned politely. It was just lovely of you to spoil my whole evening, she might have added. But she had no intention of letting this other girl know that.

"Of course I'll see you again," Beryl said. "You'll be coming to the field to see Roger take off. You must be genuinely proud to be engaged to him!" As she said this last, she turned her big dark eyes toward Roger, with a look that, although Jackie did not know anything about love, could be easily read.

Why, Beryl Melrose was in love with Roger! Really in love with him. This knowledge was like an icy shower descending upon Jackie's head. She did not know why it should be like that. It could not make any difference in her young life.

"Of course I'm proud of him," Jackie said. She had not meant to say it. But she just did. She, too, gave Roger a look, a shy, smiling one that seemed to say how proud she was, more than any words. For suddenly Jackie had been seized with an idea of her own! She really would put on an act. She really would make people believe in this ridiculous engagement. Even Roger himself! Then she would indeed have the laugh on him.

HE was looking at her in his puzzled masculine way. "You sounded as though you meant that," he said. "I haven't done anything to be proud of yet."

"But you will!" Jackie flashed. Now she stepped closer to him, slipping an arm through his, looking up at him again. "You know," she said to Beryl Melrose, "Roger and I are going to be married just as soon as he comes back from his flight."

"We are!" Roger looked quite astonished at this news, as though it was the first he had heard of it—as indeed it was.

"We decided on that tonight," Jackie said. "At least, I did." She flashed Roger another shy, sweet smile. She was not Evelyn La Farge's daughter for nothing, after all. "I found out—just tonight—that I must have that definitely understood—before Roger goes away, I mean."

"I understand," Beryl Melrose said. Her dark eyes looked into Jackie's a significant moment—as though she did understand, perhaps more than had been said. She said good night once more.

national retail sales were estimated at $40,590,000,000, an 8.5 per cent rise.

Texas' effective buying income, per family, was $2,171 in 1937, the same rate of increase, 3.8 per cent, over the 1936 per family figure of $2,092. The state's buying power index number slumped slightly last year, from 92 in 1936 to 89.

While Dallas retained its hold on fifth place nationally—and leadership in the Southwest—among the "100,000 population group of cities" in effective money income per capita, Houston, Fort Worth, San Antonio and El Paso all made sensational advances in this rating. Houston climbed into eighth place nationally, from 46th in 1936, the per capita income rising from $770 to $925. Fort Worth was close behind moving up from 81st to 14th place by advancing its per capita figure from $710 to $900.

El Paso and San Antonio were tied at 45th in 1937 with $780 per capita. The former was 189th the year before, with $490, while San Antonio was 74th with $720, that year.

G.L. Drake Speaks At Lions Meeting

G. L. Drake, new manager of the local Montgomery Ward store, was a guest of Lion President B. E. Garner today at the regular meeting of the club. Drake was called upon for a short talk, which he presented in a delightful manner.

Ily Pratt Talks At Rotary Meet

D. Joseph had the Rotary program Wednesday and introduced as his guest Ily Pratt of Midland, one of the leading Rotarians of West Texas and he addressed the club on "The Fundamentals of a Good Club."

The speaker set out three essentials and illustrated them with many interesting facts from his experience. These three were:

1. Optimistic vision.
2. Active service.
3. Becoming thoroughly imbued with the Rotary spirit.

All the members who had attended the district conference of Rotary International at Breckenridge reported it to be the best conference any of them had ever attended.

S. P. Boon will have the program next week.

West Texans Told Of Mayan's Plight Because of Erosion

By United Press

DALLAS—West Texans whose fertile farms are being blown away by dust storms are advised by F. Martin Brown, director of the Colorado Biological Survey, to study the history of the Mayan Indians.

"It wasn't a dust bowl problem that the Mayans faced, but you can draw a parallel between their problems and the one faced in the Southwest today," Brown said on a recent visit here.

"The Mayans lived in Central and South America, but they traded over almost all America, and evidence of the influences of their civilization are found as far north as Missouri.

"But their empire disintegrated because of soil erosion.

"The nation's primitive method of agriculture was to sow a crop and let the plants and the weeds grow up together. The next year, they cleared an additional space out of the jungle and left the old field to grow over for three or four years.

"The topsoil washed off into the chain of lakes which then existed. At first there was plenty of water. It destroyed the communications between cities and flooded fields.

"But eventually the wrong methods of agriculture destroyed the water supply. In the records we find mention of numerous lakes, but they're gone now."

Get Wise to Constipation!

When you're constipated, it's a great temptation to be satisfied with quick relief. But physics may become a habit. And they don't keep constipation from returning. It's so much better to get at the cause of the trouble.

If you eat what most people do, chances are the only thing the matter is you don't get enough "bulk." And "bulk" doesn't mean how much you eat. It means a kind of food that isn't consumed in the body, but leaves a soft "bulky" mass in the intestines and helps a bowel movement.

What to do? Eat a little Kellogg's All-Bran for breakfast every day and drink plenty of water. This crunchy toasted cereal is not only rich in "bulk"—it also contains the natural intestinal tonic, vitamin B. All-Bran is made by Kellogg in Battle Creek. Sold by every grocer.

Parking Restricted Inside Ball Park by Softball Committee

Members of the softball control committee met today, and after nearly two hours of discussion voted unanimously not to allow parking inside the ball park at the softball games. A movement had been started to allow those who wished to do so to pay for season parking spaces, from which the games might be seen.

The action of the committee was taken when it was determined that additional seats were to be built along the inner fence in order to provide more seating capacity for both softball games and rodeos. The parking restrictions are to go into effect immediately, the committee decided, and work on the seats is expected to be started within the next few days.

It was also decided that a committee sell more of the series tickets for the games next week, proceeds from which are to go toward furnishing the cash prizes to be awarded winning teams at the end of the season.

A number of these tickets have already been sold and many have expressed a desire for the tickets who have not already purchased them.

Single admissions for next week will be 25 cents, with series tickets for the three games being sold for 50 cents. Admission prices of 10 cents will prevail throughout this week.

HAPPY RELIEF FROM PAINFUL BACKACHE

Caused by Tired Kidneys

Many of those gnawing, nagging, painful backache people have, who are often caused by tired kidneys—and may be relieved when treated in the right way.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisons waste out of the blood. Most people pass about 3 pints a day or about 3 pounds of waste.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. This poisonous waste starts nagging backache, rheumatic pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches, and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.
