A Good Neighbor is a Quiet One

You hear a good deal these days about the far-reaching propagandist activities of the Nazis and Fascists in South America.

These exponents of totalitarian culture are obviously doing everything they can to win the Latin-American over to their way of thinking—and also to their markets. Commercial missions, trade groups, experts of high and low degree, agents diplomatic and consular—all go through the republics of the south, selling goods and ideas impartially, while self-satisfied Uncle Sam goes on in the old way—without making any particular effort to counteract the European invasion.

The whole business looks rather ominous, sometimes. For one thing, South America is an excellent market which American exporters could ill afford to lose; for another, no lover of democracy relishes the idea of Fascism gaining a foothold in this hemisphere.

But maybe our worries are overdone.

The New York Herald-Tribune recently sent a correspondent through the southern republics to report on things. He sent in a dispatch from Peru the other day, and the substance of it is worth repeating.

First, he reported, while Italian and German agents are reaching the Peruvians to a whirlwind campaign of sales and propaganda combined, the fact remains that the United States continues to outsell both nations by a ludicrously wide margin. Its total commerce with Peru exceeds that of any other nation; it owns two-thirds of the foreign investments in Peru; without any special propaganda or sales effort, it outsold Germany in Peru two to one, last year.

The American colony in Peru is not in the least worried. As one American there told the correspondent:

"Worried about the black shirts and the brown shirts? Why, all we need to do is to keep these boys talking and saluting. The Peruvians already realize what their line is. Let them tell the Peruvians how wonderful they are. If we keep quiet and attend to our own business, the Peruvians will continue to speak and think well for us."

And in that final sentence, this American would seem to have put his finger on the one field in which the totalitarian propagandists can never hope to match the democracies.

The best propaganda, after all, is to "keep quiet and attend to our own business." That is just the kind of propaganda that the aggressive, bustling dictatorship cannot ever put out; for the basic philosophy of the modern dictatorship compels it to be a leather-lunged meddler.

The bulk of the people aren't easily fooled. In the long run, the nation that goes quietly ahead doing business in the traditional manner can have little to fear from the frantic and blatant campaignings of the totalitarians.

'HOSS THIEF'

State Wildlife And Game Laws

BY JOHN R. WOOD
State Game Warden

Author's Note: In this column will be given some of the habits of fish, present fishing conditions, and measures that will aid the increase of fish in Texas.

I believe we should understand that a few decades ago there was more fish for every person in Texas who desired to fish, than there could be at this time, even if the fish were protected by regulations now urged. Former inaccessibility of fishing places was the reason there was some good fishing left, even for this generation. There is yet no guarantee for the future.

Do you know that it was less than 15 years ago before the sale of any fresh water fish of Texas was prohibited. The general law today prevents the sale of only black bass and crappie. These are the only two fish that are protected by a closed season. They are the fish that the so-called "sport" fishermen enjoy most. Of course, special county laws prevent sale of catfish.

Under the general law the catfish does not enjoy a closed season, as the bass and crappie do. Certainly there are many who love to catch catfish, as well as those who enjoy game fishing. Usually the fishermen are out after the catfish, when they are at the height of their reproduction cycle.

Catfish do not often begin their spawning until well into the month of May and continue into the month of June. Every time you take a catfish during these two months, you are taking about 10,000 potential young catfish.

We have given the skunk better protective laws than we have the catfish. Certainly we should give a fish that we all enjoy catching and in turn produces food to many people a few protective laws. Naturally we like to display the head of a large catfish; so by a few protective laws we would furnish food, sport and trophies to those who enjoy catfishing.

BASS AND CRAPPIE

Most of the bass and crappie spawn in the months of March, April and May, but in many sections of Texas the spawning will start in the last of February. If you are a bass or crappie fisherman, you will agree that a number of these fish have eggs in them during the months of February and May. The law at the present time prevents the taking of game fish during the months of March and April. It would be much better and more bass and crappie would have a chance to lay their eggs and get many millions of small fish started before the season will allow one to take the parent fish. There would be an immediately noticeable increase in these two fish if such a law was passed. Consider the number of small fish that are destroyed each February and May by the angler when he cuts a fish open and finds thousands of eggs unaid. The fisherman immediately regrets that he took the fish, but it is then too late to save the eggs.

It is easily seen that the nine Texas fish hatcheries cannot supply enough fish for this state for the fishing public. The numbers of fishermen are increasing each year and as a matter of comparison last year the Texas Game, Fish and Oyster Commission sold 50,000 artificial lure licenses. Twenty years ago the game department sold only 5,000. This does not include the many thousands of people who fish with minnows and other natural baits. From this one can easily see that there are many who do not help replace the fish that they take. This burden rests on the shoulders of a few, and thereby makes the task too great to satisfy the ones who fish and return home with the same old story, "no luck today." With the improvement of the natural environment of the fish, and by aiding nature with the reproduction and an adequate restocking program we can make fishing better in Texas and best of all, there will be fish to catch.

Did you know that: Sportsmen of Texas, through their license fees, are footing virtually the entire bill for the control of pollution of the waters of the state and that the chief beneficiaries of this program, including industry, agriculture, municipalities and the citizenship as a whole, contribute little or no cash support to it?

There'll be a hot time in the ol'town THIS WEEK!

Many people will suffer unnecessarily from heat this week. They will fuss and fret and fan themselves as they scurry from counter to counter and store to store, looking for something. Save steps, these hot days. Sit down in the shade of a cool porch. Glance through the advertisements in the newspaper. Find what you want before you go to buy it.

That's what advertisements are for. You can trust the advertisers to tell you about bargains in the ads. You can save money and minutes and many a headache if you read the advertisements—and heed them.

Longhorns to Be Stronger, But So Are Other Teams

BY LYNN JACKSON United Press Staff Correspondent AUSTIN.—A stronger team playing stronger opponents with the same net result!

seasons of stirring gridiron campaigns sat behind his desk in Gregory gymnasium on the U. T. campus the other day and told the United Press: "Yes, the Longhorns are stronger than in '37, but the other conference teams are, too, so the net result may not be changed."

the conference game over Baylor 9-6, and finished last. "Where is the new strength coming from?" Bible was asked. "Well," he said, grinning, "we'll be much better coordinated, we'll have good freshman players coming up to strengthen the line."

Steer followers say Charlie Naisler, 200, El Campo, and twice a letterman, will star at right guard. At tackles will be Park Myers, speedy 220-pound letterman from Austin, or Williams on the left side, and either Kilman or Bernis Esunas, 205, twice letterman, Dallas, on the right. John Peterson, 180, Amarillo, two-year letterman, will start at right end unless replaced by Ned McDonald, 185, of Houston, or Mike Sweeney, 176, freshman flash from Amarillo's state champs. Either Stanley Neely, 180, letterman from Dallas, or Joe Roach, 215, two-year Decatur letterman who broke his leg last season will handle the left flank duties.

For Floterial Representative. Omar Burkett, run-off candidate for floterial representative of the 107th district, including Eastland and Callahan Counties. Burkett led the ticket in the first primary, over his nearest opponent by 320 votes in Eastland County, but did not obtain a majority of the vote in the race. Burkett today stated that he favored meeting with the citizens of all the towns in the county, if elected, in order that he might find out their views on legislative measures instead of using his own guess as to what the people who elect him want him to do.

MR. RANGER CITIZEN... YOU SHOULD INFORM YOURSELF OF THESE FACTS... BECAUSE IT'S FOR YOUR BEST INTERESTS!

OMAR BURKETT LEAD IN ALL HOME BOXES

Results Show that His Neighbors Supported Him

Omar Burkett lived in Putnam many years. He taught school there and served that precinct as County Commissioner. He carried this box with a big lead over all his opponents.

Omar Burkett now lives near Cisco. He carried the Cisco box many times over.

This is quoted to show that his neighbors support and vote for him.

Omar Burkett moved with his parents to Eastland County, near Sabanno and Nimrod, in 1892. In the July primary he received in those boxes 55 votes to 36 votes for his three opponents.

Omar Burkett served two terms as county commissioner of Precinct No. 3 in Callahan County, the Putnam area. It is the only elective office he has ever held. In the July primary Omar Burkett received in the Putnam area 244 votes to 162 for all three opponents.

In all the communities where Omar Burkett has lived for the past 46 years he received a majority of 411 votes over all three of his opponents.

Isn't it a fact that this testimony of confidence and esteem by the people among whom he lived and worked and who have known him for a lifetime is the best possible recommendation of his character and fitness for public office? It means that the voters who know him best and who have had his life, public and private, under the closest scrutiny, approve him as their representative, because they know him to be capable, honest and energetic, a man who is not a professional politician, but a worker who will work at the job and give a day's work for a day's pay. They know that it takes experience and proven honesty, as well as good intentions, to do the work that a representative is going to have to do at Austin. And they know that, regardless of the best intentions, experience cannot be gained in a few years.

Burkett Favors State Taking Over All Road Bonds

There is now a surplus of over $500,000 in the fund created out of one cent of the state gasoline tax to take up road bonds voted by counties and spent in the construction of what are now cardinal highways.

Obviously the revenue from this one cent is more than sufficient to pay the bonds which the state has already taken over from the counties. It would be a measure of economy for the state to use this fund to pay ALL county road bonds to be paid off without additional gasoline tax revenue or other taxes, and this move would relieve county tax payers in Callahan and Eastland county of more than one quarter of a million dollars.

Omar Burkett is in favor of using this surplus gasoline tax money at ONCE to relieve our counties of a large sum of money

The following is what Omar Burkett stands for in a nut-shell:

- 1. Omar Burkett is for a day's work for a day's pay and drastic economy in all public affairs. 2. Omar Burkett is for the full payment of $30 per month Old Age Pensions without the sacrifice of children or others upon whom they may depend. He was the first candidate in this part of our State to advocate that County Judges and Commissioners handle applications and investigation work connected therewith. 3. Omar Burkett is for providing funds for school transportation in full so that teachers and school bus drivers will not have to sacrifice their salaries and be paid on time. 4. Omar Burkett is for Rural and High School aid on an equal basis with that appropriated for Higher Institutions of Learning. 5. Omar Burkett is for maintaining the scholastic per capita at $22, higher if possible, and for such payments to be paid in full commencing Sept. 1st, and ending June 1st. He favors State Aid for local Junior colleges.

Omar Burkett Pledged to Work Against Further Tax Enactments

Omar Burkett promises that no more taxes will receive his support if he is elected as your representative. The State now has an income from taxes in excess of One Hundred Fifty Million Dollars. This can be made to suffice by economies in overlapping functions. The organization has become unwieldy and must be re-organized to meet modern conditions. There are too many employees who are not doing the work expected of them and these must be weeded out.

Any talk about the House of Representatives going out directly and reducing state forces is just so much hot air. The Governor appoints most of the non-elective positions and the Senate confirms them. The House of Representatives originates all Tax and Finance Bills. In simple words the House of Representatives has to furnish the money.

It would be unwise to decree a flat slash of so many per cent of each section of the Budget. There are service departments of the state, mainly Common Schools, that must not have their funds which they will otherwise have to pay. He will introduce a bill in the state legislature, if elected, to have the state take over all the remainder of the road bonds which are now being paid by the people of the various counties.

This is an economy move because it uses existing obligations and at the same time relieve the people of a heavy tax burden which is not necessary. According to this plan this money would be available at once.

POLLYANNA DAY IS GONE; ELECT OMAR BURKETT - HE WILL GUARD YOUR INTEREST

Seasoned Experience Is Necessary If the 107th District Is To Be Properly Represented in the Next Texas Legislature

The voters of Texas have given a reform—pledged governor the greatest majority of votes ever given in a twelve-man race. Governor-elect O'Daniel is going to institute drastic reforms which we prophesy will give Texas a better government and make our State a finer place to live. This is going to call for changes in everything. Every representative at Austin is going to have to fight to see that his district does not get the little end.

Our new governor will conduct his office according to the Golden Rule and while the Legislature will support him in his reforms, every representative is still going to be fighting for his District so that he can go back and tell his voters, "Look what I did for you." You can be sure that everything they get will be at the expense of districts that are weakly represented. A Representative will have to know how to get into the scramble and take care of his district or the voters who sent him down will be left out again.

Pollyanna came out on top of the heap by saying over and over again, "Everything is going to be all right," and Texas voters have said the same thing while the expense of government almost doubled during the worst depression this country has ever seen. Your schools, cities and counties are burdened with debts and your taxes are going to pay for something that was worn out years ago.

The time has come when this must stop or get a lot worse. A man comes to you for your vote because he is lame, halt or blind or wants a chance in life. MAYBE NOBODY EVER TOLD YOU, BUT IT IS YOU WHO NEEDS THE CHANGE IN LIFE. You must get your nose off the grindstone, or else, Texas has voted for a governor who is going to fight the vicious system that has been built up of government that can't be improved. He is going to need the help of your representative and YOU are going to need a representative who can see to it that you get justice NOW at Austin.

The Legislature is made up to a large extent of men of wide experience and they will not put confidence in a man who has none. Regardless of how much he holds the confidence of his home-folks, when he gets to Austin, he is going to be judged by what he has done and his chance of doing any good at all will be determined by what confidence his fellow legislators put in him. These men may get open-hearted and give a young man a chance—strange things sometimes happen—but they never have before and the next Legislature is going to see the biggest scramble in history.

Hard work and spare-time study will win lots of praise and YEARS of it will qualify a man to make you a good representative. But, your representative is going to have to step out right NOW, ready to meet other men and win you your rights. You are either giving away or saving your own chance in life—and the district. It is time to decide NOW how generous you can afford to be.

Omar Burkett has had much experience in public affairs. He has reached an age where chasing rainbows does not appeal and he has the hard common sense of a man who has had to make a living for himself and a family by his own efforts. He knows where things come from and he has learned that money and food are the results of work and not the fruit of dreams. Omar Burkett knows that the State cannot stretch dollars any better than a man can and you cannot spend two dollars and call it one. He has lived among you for nearly fifty years and has proven trustworthy time and again in public life. He offers you ability and proven integrity. You won't have a guess what he would do, you have seen him do it. He wants a chance to serve you and not a chance to make something out of himself—he trained himself at his own expense and does not ask you to pay for his training. How about IT? VOTE FOR HIM, YOU WON'T BE SORRY.

Lack of funds has forced many School Districts to discontinue bus service. That means that students are going to have to give up the idea of High School or to travel longer distances. School transportation is entirely too important a matter to be left at the mercy of local finances. This service must be furnished by a unit strong enough financially to maintain the service at all times. Every child must be given a way to attend a High School affiliated with our higher institutions of learning.

There is no blame to be placed on the School Districts. They cannot spend more than they can collect and they are bogged down in morasses of debt. If the money is not available for buses, they cannot furnish buses. A local crop failure or disaster may affect the school finances and in all probability local credit is already extended to the last limit possible. The State can always secure the money or the credit to continue necessary services and it should be up to the State to furnish School Transportation fully.

This is a matter that must be taken up at once. It is not right to limit the education of any child in this day when lack of education may mean a life of poverty for the unfortunate. Omar Burkett is pledging you, if you elect him your Representative, to work in this end—provide funds for Rural and High Schools on an equal basis with that provided our Higher institutions of learning—and do it now.

SERIAL STORY

HAYWIRE HOUSE

BY EDWIN RUTT

COPYRIGHT, 1938 NEA SERVICE, INC.

Yesterday, the day of the fore-closure approaches and Kinks and Sally are desperate. Then Kinks has a 15-minute idea!

CHAPTER XVII

ON the day that she was to lose her home, Sally Pennington found Mrs. Clipstock in a state. "This is a crazy house," Mrs. Clipstock said darkly. "I cook a nice, hot lunch and four of 'em don't come to eat it."

Sally Pennington

"Where are they?" said Sally. "I don't know. I heard them shouting outside about an hour ago. But they didn't come in."

"Well, if they haven't sense enough to eat they can go hungry for all I care," said Sally. "Sit down, dearie," said Mrs. Clipstock, noting Sally's tired face.

"Sally shook her head. "I don't want anything." The thought of losing this place made Sally sick. To lose this house, the only home she had, the place she loved above all others. Oh, it was too rotten. She crossed the lawn swiftly, holding back the tears with a tremendous effort.

left her at the crucial moment. And here he was, with the loss of their inheritance not two hours away, blithely shooting crap. It was too much. Sally Pennington put her face in her hands.

In the barn the Great Pierre was very hot. He had started slowly, but now the dice were rolling his way. His pile of money grew. He made pass after pass. He doubled his stakes recklessly. And still he won. He won consistently.

"I'm coming with you," said C. K. Titus. There wasn't time to find out why. Kinks pushed Sally in. The car roared out of Mrs. Preston's grounds.

At the bank in Winstock Mr. Spencer Ames sat with a smile playing about his lips. He looked across the desk at his son Wilton.

"Well," he said, "they've got just half an hour. They can't make it. We've played our cards very well, Wilton, and we'll show a handsome profit. We..." There was a sudden commotion outside his office. The voice of Bettinson, one of the clerks, rose in exasperation.

Cooperation On Trades Days Is Encouraging

Announcement was made by A. Ratliff, president of the Retail Merchants' association of Tarrant County...

Several committees have been working hard for the past three days in their efforts to secure the names and contact all business interests in Tarrant County...

Monday is the day when work on the Trades Days event will begin and Saturday is the culmination of the drive...

The public is urged to get behind the merchants and encourage them to keep the Trades Days program before the people...

Since the very first of the oil boom 20 years ago, Tarrant has been the recognized trading center of the oil belt...

Remember the dates of the Trades Days. Everyone in the city is invited to help by buying all your needs at home.

Bruce Family Has Model Airplane Share of Soldiers Sets New Record

DALLAS.—The Bruce family of Hope, Ark., could furnish the U. S. Army with more than enough men to fill a squad.

Their twin brothers, Lloyd and Floyd, enlisted three years ago, and now are serving at Fort Warren, Wyo.

Howard, who is at Fort Sill, is not a twin. "We have seven other brothers," Howard boasted, "but none of them is old enough yet to join the army."

HOUSTON.—Carl Phoenix's airplane is only a model and it has a wingspread of only six feet, but its owner hopes it will bring him championship honors.

Phoenix, whose home is in Galveston, gave his plane a test flight here and if its record is approved by the National Aeronautic association the plane will get the world's championship for endurance.

The plane, a gasoline-powered model named "Miss America," stayed in the air for 46 minutes. During those 46 minutes and 5 seconds the plane—which took off with a gasoline supply calculated to last only 30 seconds—soared to a height of several thousand feet, cruised eight miles and made a perfect landing.

Young Guards Of King Carol Total Million

By F. C. C. JAHN United Press Staff Correspondent BUCHAREST, Aug. 18.—To combat the influence of the Fascist "Iron Guard" whose principles had captured the imagination of many of Rumania's youth, King Carol organized the Straja Tsrari.

Membership in this organization is compulsory for boys between 7 and 18, and for girls from 7 to 21. The ritual tends toward the mystic, and the group acts, as a whole, in close collaboration with the church.

The Straja Tsrari is essentially a non-military organization. The two main purposes it furthers are social-consciousness together with loyalty to the throne and dynasty.

The Strajeri—as the members are known—are trained to teach the peasants, assist in public improvements, they give valuable service in the reclamation of swamps, restoration projects, repairing of roads and laying out of farms.

In general they are filling much the same station as the Civilian Conservation Corps in the United States, and their work is highly praised.

All youth organizations including the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. were merged with the Straja Tsrari now has 8,485 trained leaders included among whom are school teachers, university professors, priests, army officers and government officials.

Amateur Astronomer Seeks Large Meteor

By United Press PORT WORTH, Texas.—Oscar Monnig, Jr., Fort Worth's amateur astronomer, is looking for a meteor that fell Aug. 8 somewhere in the vicinity of Tyler.

Monnig said that he and several other amateur astronomers in North Texas noticed the falling meteor about dusk on that date. He said its direction was difficult to trace because it apparently was extinguished 30 or 35 miles above the earth.

Because the meteor was "of no appreciable size" and was barely visible even before its light disappeared high above the earth, Monnig hopes that someone will find part of the molten mass and donate it to a local collection. Monnig and several other amateurs in this section have gathered meteorites for several years. The prize of their joint collection is a 67-pound specimen found near Knoxville, Tenn.

Monnig, who occasionally writes for magazines on astronomy, said that from July 25 to Aug. 20 is the best time of the year to see meteors. During the annual "shower" of periodic meteorites, when the group becomes visible to earth observers, it is possible to see "about one good meteorite and two or three faded ones" in an evening, he said.

Republicans' Chances of Electing A Governor Appear To Be Slim

Governor N. K. SHEARER Press Staff Correspondent

STIN.—Democratic nominee O'Daniel will not be worried by the prospect of Republican opposition for governor in the November general election.

Reconstruction days, the ability of defeat for the Democratic nominee for governor has not been once. The nearest approach to winning such a race was by Dr. George C. Butte, former University of Texas instructor, who received 274,970 votes. He was defeated by Miriam A. Ferguson, who polled 422,558 votes in the general election of 1924.

High mark of Republican strength in Texas, as gauged by votes, was made in 1928. In that year Texas went Republican in the presidential vote, but elected a Democratic nominee for governor. The contrasting results of the two races and other political history made it plain the vote was not a pro-Republican expression but rather an anti-Smith vote. Men who had been active and honored in the Democratic ranks were found that year aligned with the Republicans. These included former Governor O. B. Colquitt and former Democratic National Committeeman Thomas B. Love.

The vote was 367,036 for Hoover to 341,032 for Smith. In contrast Gov. Dan Moody was re-elected over Republican candidate W. H. Holmes by a vote of 582,972 to 120,504. Moody had opposed Smith's nomination at the National Democratic Convention at Houston, and did not take the stump for him during the campaign.

Republican hopes for congressional success in Texas are founded on more favorable statistics, but the statistics are out of date. Republican Harry M. Wurzbach was elected congressman from the San Antonio district when President Harding was elected. Many said he went in on Harding's coat-tails. But next time,

Goal Line Stand
Trying to budge this gentleman would be as simple as moving Gibraltar if the expression on his face means anything. Police Sergeant Allen puts everything into it—including his 200-odd pounds—as he grimly sets about the task of anchoring the police tug-of-war team in its contest with the Royal Army Service Corps huskies during the London Police Sports Meet at White City. Allen takes no chances, by wrapping the two-inch rope around his torso.

Wurzbach won by a bigger vote than when he first became congressman. That is water over the spillway so far as the congressional race in the San Antonio area now is concerned. The Democratic legislature redistricted the state after Wurzbach staged the upset. Guadalupe and Kendall counties, with Republican strength, were pared off the district, which now is comprised of Bexar county only.

All seems serene in Democratic ranks this year. Run-up Ernest O. Thompson pledged efforts to make O'Daniel's victory a continued success, and the State Democratic Executive Committee all but turned over the coming Beaumont state Democratic convention organization to O'Daniel. Only fear of setting a precedent topped the movement.

Vann M. Kennedy, efficient secretary of the State Democratic Executive Committee, is being urged for continuation in that post. Endorsing the movement are the state capitol newsmen, who have found that Kennedy combines executive ability, knowledge of the needs of newsmen, and familiarity with the quirks of Texas' hodge-podge election laws.

Most effective, perhaps, will be the support being volunteered by prominent O'Daniel workers. O. F. Lockhart, O'Daniel supporter and chairman of the Travis County Democratic Convention, has en-

Texas Patrolmen Charged 5,174 With Violations In July

AUSTIN—Texas highway patrolmen charged 5,174 drivers in traffic complaints and warned 23,314 others during the month of July when Texas was credited with a continued decrease in street and highway fatalities, according to state police reports.

During July 278 patrolmen investigated 280 traffic accidents, recovered 34 stolen automobiles and apprehended 43 fugitives while working with local peace officers. The force was credited with traveling 751,351 miles in automobiles and 84,259 miles on motorcycles enforcing traffic regulations.

The report stated that 75 drivers were arrested for intoxication, 283 were charged with misdemeanor intoxication and eight were arrested for leaving the scene of an accident. Patrolmen also rendered first aid treatment and doused Kennedy for re-appointment.

Globe Adds New Fixtures And Re-Arranges Its Entire Stock

Work has been progressing for a week on remodeling and improving the interior of The Globe, Inc., making it one of the most compact, modern stores of its kind to be found in this part of the country.

New fixtures have been installed, making better display room for hats, suits and other merchandise, with modern cabinets installed along the walls of the building to accomplish this new idea of convenience to the buying public.

New display tables have been installed in the center of the store, replacing the old suit display cases, which took up so much room, making the store much roomier, as all suits are now enclosed in modern fixtures along the south wall.

Shirts, pajamas, underwear and other small items of wearing apparel, which formerly were partly on display and partly contained in boxes, which had to be taken from under the counters, are now neatly displayed in adequate shelves, glass-enclosed.

The shoe department and office have been moved nearer the center of the store, with the shoe shelves forming the rear partition of the store proper. While this cuts down the actual display length of the store, the removal of the cases in the center really adds more room, in a more compact form.

Behind the shoe department, as it is now located, will be storage space for unseasonable merchandise, raincoats and the like, which are sold only on certain occasions. This will eliminate them from the main portion of the store, adding more room where it is most needed.

The whole arrangement makes a more compact, more convenient and more modern store than it has ever been before, and will be more easily tended by a small group of salesmen.

Mr. and Mrs. Saule Perlestein invite their customers, and the public at large, to visit the store, see the new arrangement of displayed merchandise at any time, and to make the store their shopping headquarters for men's clothing needs.

The fixtures which were formerly in the store have been purchased by City Tailors, and are being installed as storage space for clothing that has been cleaned and pressed.

Who can remember when there was enough general quiet for a shot to be heard 'round the world?

Out Door Revival Sermon Deals With Clear Conversion

Evangelist F. B. Shepherd's sermon in the Church of Christ Outdoor Revival last night dealt with what he characterized as the clearest, plainest recorded example of conversion in all the Word of God. No misconception being possible.

Opening with the reading of Acts chapter eight the speaker proceeded to hang the Divine pen portraits of the characters in the conversation of the Ethiopian Eunuch before the eyes of his listeners. Describing Philip as a divinely appointed servant of the church but not what men would call today an ordained minister, Mr. Shepherd called attention to the fact the subject of this conversion was an ardent worshiper of God and a careful, conscientious Bible student who was seeking to know the meaning of the scriptures. Yet he was lacking something of being a Christian.

Emphasis was placed upon the records of Acts that show that water and did not, as some claim, bring water for baptism with them. That they both went down into the water and Philip baptized the Eunuch completing the process of scriptural conversion. The congregation was urged to examine their religious experience in the light of this God given example and make what correction was necessary to make it measure up. That this Eunuch did not join any church or denomination was also stressed since there was not any modern sect, party or denomination in existence at that time.

No one examined his religious experience or voted upon his eligibility to baptism or reception into a church.

Stress was placed upon the revelation of the New Testament that a person may be a Bible student and a worshiper of God and still not a Christian. That to be a Christian involved being born again or being adopted into the Family of God through the divinely ordained process set forth in the New Testament. The subject for discussion tonight was announced as "Why not be a Christian Only?"

According to a language professor the hill-billies, who have been taking over the radio field, are losing their accent. It won't be any occasion for alarm, though, till they start losing the key.

L. E. GRAY, Owner

CLAUDE "CURLEY" MAYNARD CANDIDATE FOR DISTRICT CLERK EASTLAND COUNTY

I HAVE NEVER ASKED FOR A PUBLIC OFFICE BEFORE Please Read This Message! To the Good People of Eastland County:

Now for the first time I am asking the good people of this county to let me serve you in public office. I am grateful beyond words for the vote that was given me in the first primary in my home box in Eastland, where I have lived for 20 years. I received 481 votes to my opponent's 262, who also lives in Eastland. This I am sure is one of the best recommendations I could offer to the people of this county as to my standing in my own community and as to the voice of the people as to my qualifications.

In making my sincere efforts to impress the voters of Eastland County to support my candidacy for the office of District Clerk, I fully realize that there are no certain platform planks I can have as a foundation to appeal to you for votes. The office of District Clerk is one in which executive and clerical efficiency are most important and should have at the head of it a man who has had an experienced background of business and clerical knowledge that would qualify him to render a service commensurate with the responsibility as well as economically.

I have lived in Eastland County practically all of my life. I have never experienced the life of plenty that comes with riches in dollars and cents, but I have been rich in the glory of my contacts with my fellows and in the grateful appreciation of their kindness to me and the opportunity of turning from the path of work in order to lend a hand in time need according to my humble means.

During the past four years I have not only the responsibility of my own life but have also looked after the needs and comforts of my aged mother and father who have been carrying the heavy burden of invalidism on their shoulders. During the early part of this year I lost my mother and boon companion. I thank God I still have Father to look after.

For the above reasons I have had opportunity to make profitable investments from my earnings, nor have I had time to take on a selfish attitude for personal and profit.

But this experience has given me the thing most needed to make you a District Clerk. It has kept me constantly active in my work. It has given me opportunity to get the habit of attending strictly to business and giving every I had in me to the job in hand.

My opponent has been in public office for six years. He was in the Tax Collector office for two years and has held the office of County Treasurer for two terms four years.

Unlike myself, the past responsibility of my opponent have only been upon himself. His father is a large landowner in Eastland County and his mind and heart have been free of parental cares.

I have no desire to perpetuate myself in the court house. I feel that if I can the opportunity by your vote to render service to the people of this county as District Clerk that you will be fully compensated for having elected me. The notion of jumping from one office to another in the court house is not a promotion just a plain desire to stay on the taxpayers' pay roll.

I realize that perfect government is officered, not by official favorites, but qualified men. It is not by wanting something, but by being worth something. I ask your vote not on the basis of recognition, but on the basis of being recognized. I know that the real value of life is spiritual and eternal and the fit will have an opportunity to succeed. My life is not what I have got but what I have done.

I ask this one opportunity to serve I have never asked for public office before. I sincerely hope that you will go to polls on Saturday, August 27th, and me the benefit of your confidence by giving your vote for me. I shall do all in my humble power to make you an efficient and obedient District Clerk.

Sincerely yours,

Claude (Curley) Maynard
