Jews Receive Severe Blows From Nations

By United Press
Severe blows were struck today in Italy, Austria and Germany. In Austria Roman Catholics also were threatened.
The Italian cabinet proclaimed that all Jews who entered Italy or its possessions after Jan. 1, 1919, must get out within six months.
In Austria newspapers announced that all Jewish schools and Catholic schools would not reopen after the summer vacations.
A renewed drive was proclaimed in Berlin to mark all Jewish shops so that no Germans would buy at a Jewish store.
These developments in domestic policy turned attention from the international crisis over Czechoslovakia. Adolf Hitler turned from inspection from German war maneuvers to ponder a decision on the Czech quarrel.
Elsewhere:
Italy—Cabinet considered new military appropriations and announced state employees must marry to promote Mussolini's "more babies" campaign.
Spain—Loyalist armies continued to claim advances against the shattered rebel lines in southwestern Spain.
China—Japan's great offensive up the Yangtze surged on toward Hankow, seizing four key points within 100 miles of Hankow.

Honky Tonks Are Declared Chief Menace

By United Press
FORT WORTH, Sept. 1.—"Honky tonks" were described today by Rep. Emmett Morse of Houston as the chief evil to arise from legalization of beer and liquor in Texas.
Morse, here on a "social visit" with W. Lee O'Daniel, nominee for governor, declined to comment on prospects of legalizing sale of liquor by the drink, of which he is a leading advocate.
"I will say, however, one of the best means for liquor control could be brought about through a sincere effort to clean up the honky tonks and suburban beer taverns that clutter the state," he said.
Morse is expected to be chosen speaker of the next legislature. He said all known opponents had withdrawn.

Cardenas Explains Oil Expropriation

By United Press
MEXICO CITY, D. F., Sept. 1.—President Cardenas told the opening session of congress today that the government oil expropriation policy was intended "to establish the sovereignty of the nation."
The government program, Cardenas said, is destined to bring the greatest good to the greatest number of people.
Cabinet ministers and diplomats gathered to hear the President's speech, which was of significance because of demands of the United States that Mexico speed payments for American property involved in oil land seizures.

Saint Rita's School Will Open Sept. 6

Announcement was made today by Rev. Fr. S. E. Byrne, principal, that St. Rita's parochial school in Ranger will be opened for the 1938-39 sessions on Sept. 6, the Tuesday following Labor Day.
As usual, a full curriculum of studies from the first through the seventh grade will be offered. The school is fully accredited and has furnished from its student body in past years a number of honor graduates from Ranger and other high schools.
Father Byrne states that the school buildings have been painted and remodeled and will be in first class condition for the coming term.
St. Rita's school this year lost the services of Mother Superior Patricia, who has been transferred to a larger institution, but she is succeeded by Mother Superior Mary Agnes, another most capable member of the sisterhood who is devoting her life to the teaching and rearing of children in a Christian atmosphere. The new Mother Superior comes here from the Blessed Sacrament Academy at St. Louis, Mo., where she was in charge of instruction of over 750 children of all ages.
Mother Superior Mary Agnes will supervise instruction of the advanced grades, with Sisters John Michael and Evangelista teaching elementary students. Sister Kieran will have charge of music instruction. Catechism classes are to be taught by Father Byrne.
Sister Evangelista is also a newcomer here, having been transferred from a large parochial school at Jefferson City, Mo.
In the Mexican department of the school, instruction will be by Sister Carmelita, with Catechism taught by Rev. Fr. E. Gonzalez, who was recently transferred here from Abilene to succeed Father Fernandez, who has been given another pastorate.
Registrations are now being accepted at St. Rita's, and prospective students are requested by the faculty to register as soon as possible, in order that everything may be ready for the opening of classes on Sept. 6.

Lumber Received For Last Stands In Ranger Stadium

Lumber for completing the east stands of Bulldog Stadium arrived in Ranger this morning, it was announced by Ranger school board members, and work on the stands will be started immediately.
Ten men have been assigned to the work, which is being done under a WPA project, and were expected to be working regularly not later than Friday morning.
The only delay now, school officials said, was that the lumber was sent with freight charges collect, whereas the contract called for the lumber to be delivered in Ranger. It was said this morning that as soon as arrangements could be made to have the $94 freight charges reversed the lumber would be unloaded and work start immediately.

Negro's Wife Takes Money, Auto, Child Leaves Mate Alone

The fact that there was very little he could do about it didn't console an Eastland negro whose wife this week took his money, their car and child and went away.
His wife removed $13 from the negro's trousers while he was asleep and without disturbing him, took their child and left for somewhere in the family automobile. She had not given any notice of the departure.
The negro was told by his employer there was little to do about it since the car was community property and the money could be considered such also. He had proposed to have officers at Dallas, where he thought his wife might have gone, arrest her. That, too he learned, was out of the question.
So the negro man has borrowed another automobile in Eastland, had a duplicate key to his own car made and gone to Dallas. If he sees the car in Dallas then he'll have a companion return the borrowed car and drive his own home to Eastland.

Garfish Rodeos Become Popular

By United Press
LOCKPORT, La.—Residents of the swampslands who never roped a cow in their lives are expert lassosers of big garfish.
It was a sport that until several years ago was confined to the bayous of the lower coast. Recently the unique pastime of the Creoles has gained popularity in "gar rodeos."
Down here they don't have an avid crowd of onlookers and they don't have a camera to photograph the catches. A man ropes the worthless, predatory gar because he either is tired of other kinds of fishing or has nothing else to do.
Evince Naquin, keeper of a pontoon bridge across the Intracoastal Canal, holds the record to date. Naquin slapped his rope on a gar weighing 50 pounds, pulled him into shallow water and bashed in his skull with a hammer.
Gars seem to be thicker around bridges, probably because refuse is more plentiful there.
There is no trick to the roping. A fisherman fashions a big noose or rope clothesline. He runs a wire around the loop so the gar can't saw his way out with rows of sharp teeth. Then he tosses the lasso with a piece of bait into the water.
Usually, it isn't long before a gar lunges forward.
The ruper tightens the noose and waits for the fish to choke itself.
Eight years ago competition became keen among the gar ropers. Champion Naquin said the fishermen around Cut Off and Golden Meadow had the edge because shrimp canneries tossed their refuse into the bayous.
Fishermen heartily endorse gar fishing on as large a scale as possible. Only the sluggish, potbellied catfish has survived the predatory gar in coastal streams.
Nothing less of a hammer or a gun will kill a gar. A foot-long gar lived for three months in a cistern without food. He died when the cistern dried up completely.

Trinity River Will Be Surveyed For Canalization Plan

DALLAS, Texas.—Government engineers, equipped with transit, plane tables and other apparatus for a complete survey moved into the Trinity river watershed this week to determine if canalization of the stream is feasible.
Engineers from the war department and from the department of agriculture with their assistants, totaling about 100 men, were scattered over the watershed which extends almost from the Red river to the Gulf of Mexico.
A combined appropriation of $300,000 for the two government departments had been set aside for the survey.
Navigation and flood control phases of the survey will be made by the army engineers. The department of agriculture will obtain information on soil and water conservation, irrigation and forestry possibilities.
According to John W. Fouts, manager of the Trinity Improvement Association, the two departments will combine their reports when the survey is completed.
Should government officials then be favorable to the project, it would be necessary for congress to make an appropriation to build the Trinity canal.

PROSPECTS OF EXTRA SESSION SEEM DIMMED

AUSTIN, Sept. 1.—Prospects of a special session of the Texas Legislature faded today as Gov. Allred said he was "discouraged" over prospects of a federal grant on a proposed state office building.
He reiterated that the special session will not be called unless such a grant is obtained.
The governor said he had received many protests against erection of the building since the project was announced. Business men suggested that state employees be curtailed to fit into smaller quarters.
Gov. Allred said he believed the building is necessary, but admitted opposition might prevent an appropriation, even if a special session were held.

It's Practical to Be Good Neighbors

It is hard to see just where President Roosevelt said anything especially surprising when he announced that the armed force of the United States would immediately be called into action in case of an attempted invasion of Canada by a foreign power. In reality, it's the Monroe Doctrine applied to the north, as well as to the south.

Reluctant as Americans are to get mixed up in anyone's quarrel, there can hardly be the shadow of a doubt that under any and all circumstances they would use their utmost strength to defend the dominion against outside attack.

That does not, of course, mean that Uncle Sam is pledged to throw troops and fleets overseas the next time Canada becomes involved in a British war on the continent of Europe. Nor does it mean that American hearts are so full of love, sentiment, and the sweet spirit of neighborliness that they would rush to the dominion's defense out of sheer unselfishness.

It simply recognizes a perfectly obvious fact—namely, that American security against outside attack requires that predatory powers be kept from getting a foothold in the land to the north of the border. By defending Canada against attack, Uncle Sam would simply be defending himself. That unfortified border is a priceless asset; it might well be worth a war to preserve it.

Now when we have said all there is to say about hands across the border, good neighbors, international friendship, and so on, it is pretty clear that this community of interest between the dominion and the republic is at bottom a highly practical affair. Canada and the United States get along well together because it is to their own best interests to do so. They are good customers and good markets for each other. Their friendship rests on a solid, dollars-and-cents foundation.

—And when you face that fact squarely, you are forced to wonder if the same thing might not be true of a good many other nations—nations which right now are glaring at one another with their hands on their pistol butts, ready to fight at the drop of a hat.

—There is nothing unique about Canada and the United States. They live side by side, they do business with each other, and they prosper thereby. If that is true of them, why wouldn't it also be true of France and Germany, of Germany and Czechoslovakia, of Italy and Yugoslavia—or, indeed, of any other pair of nations you could possibly name?

—The answer is pretty obvious. It would be true—if the nations involved would only give it a trial. If there were a little less bristling and saber-rattling and a little more honest effort to do business together, the Canadian-American harmony could be duplicated on all international borders.

—Must the world live through another great war before that fact dawns on it?

BETTER LIGHT + BETTER SIGHT = BETTER GRADES

Reddy Kilowatt has a little lesson to pass along to parents. It is, "Better Light + Better Sight = Better Grades." Now that students are going back to school, Reddy wants them to have every possible help to make their school work easier and their school grades better.

Many tests have proved that proper light will enable students to read longer and concentrate more closely on their studies when doing homework. Also, a good light will eliminate unnecessary eye fatigue which may cause eye troubles.

When making out the list of school supplies for your boy or girl, include a Better Sight Lamp for the study table. You'll find these lamps at electrical stores, at furniture and department stores and other stores which sell floor and table lamps.

ELECTRICITY IS CHEAPER
USE THE SAVING TO MAKE SCHOOL WORK EASIER

What better way could you find to use the SAVING you receive from recently reduced electric rates than to provide better light for children, to help them make better grades at school? When school opens, give your child a good light and a quiet place to study, and see if it isn't easier to get him to do homework.

Talk Says Whalebones Are Staging Comeback

By United Press
CLEVELAND—Whoa-a-h, the whalebone corset and its fads of drawstrings seems to be the way back.
At least two corsetiers in this city say that it is.
I. H. Hessler is an old-timer in corset manufacturing. His business was founded in 1885—the day of the whalebone.
Hessler is confident that the corset will make a comeback.

Once more milady will hold her breath while the drawstrings pull her waistline inward to resemble the middle of an hour glass, he says.
"New York corset factories are manufacturing whalebone drawing corsets. If the style returns, women probably would be back to them," Hessler said.
Miss Winifred Milbank should know. She commutes between Paris and Cleveland as the buyer in a large Cleveland department store. She said that Paris factories—like those in New York—are manufacturing whalebones again.
Perhaps the preponderance of Southern and Gay Nineties belles in the current movies has caused a yearning for that wasp-like form on the part of the fairer sex, Miss Milbank said.
Otto Schmidt, another veteran corset authority, warns that the uncorseted woman tends to increase in girth more rapidly than her whalebone-encased mother and grandmother.
"Women, generally speaking,

Proclamation

WHEREAS, the Producers, Distributors and Exhibitors of Moving Pictures have united in a Fall campaign to establish the greatest year in Motion Pictures and to emphasize the value and pleasure of this type of entertainment, and

WHEREAS, the Theatres in Ranger have always co-operated in every civic enterprise in throwing the doors of the theatre open to worthy charity causes, the relief of flood sufferers, hurricane and tornado victims, and in all respects have been good citizens and business institutions, it is fitting that Eastland as a City should join with the other cities of the Nation in making the coming year Motion Pictures' greatest.

Therefore, as Mayor of the City of Ranger, I proclaim this the beginning of the campaign in Eastland to make this year the greatest in the history of Moving Pictures and humbly ask the citizens of Ranger to consider the economic, social and civic value of these entertainment institutions.

Swimmers Try Out For the Olympiad

By United Press
FORT WORTH.—Three Fort Worth swimmers, two girls and a boy, have started training for the Olympic tryouts that might get them a trip to Helsinki, Finland, in 1940.

Her coaches at the University of Texas regard Jane Dillard as almost certain to make the U. S. team. She recently climaxed a winter and summer of record-breaking trials with a 100-yard race in New Orleans that beat Katherine Rawls' American record by three-tenths of a second. Miss Dillard's time was 1:18.5.

have increased in size since they abandoned the old whalebones a quarter of a century ago. Stouter women probably will be happy about the return to drawstrings.
All corset authorities warn that husbands should not become too cheerful over this news. The day of the wife's grapefruit diet may be passing, but the day of lacing up her corset is here again, they say.

Jane's 18-year-old sister, Nancy, is pretty good, too. She has broken several backstroke records and is recognized as one of the nation's best swimmers in free-style events.

The third Fort Worth swimmer with eyes on the Olympics is John (Hondo) Crouch, who recently won three races in an all-Southern meet at New Orleans. Crouch, 21, broke regional records in the 220 and 440-yard free-style events and the 50-yard free-style dash.

Underground Vault Is Treasury Pride; Is Really Works

AUSTIN, Texas.—The pride of the treasury department is its underground vault in which is stored as a rule about $160,000,000 in bonds. Mirrors line the walls so that anyone can see into every corner of the vault from one position. Electric signals are numerous, and a stage whisper will set bells to ringing in ranger headquarters.

Treasury officials explained the setup to one man who visited the vault.

SERIAL STORY

BY CHARLES B. PARMER

Yesterday Linda stole old money from Uncle Sandy. But she hasn't much money. She goes for a chance to make good money for Sandy.

"Cry that there sale!" "Give us a chance to buy—we got a right to buy!" Mr. Jenkins frowned with contempt at the crowd.

Cash talks today—and you'll get 'em cheap. You, Big Boy! He pointed to a gangling, bare-foot black by the barn entrance.

"Let's take a look-see at those colts," Uncle Sandy led Linda into the barn, where a great golden animal stood at the head of the horses to be auctioned.

"What could she do with a pitiful six hundred?" "What a world, what a world!" Watch hands were at 2:30—1:30 by sun time—at last.

"Well, now, Miss, we'll come to him—just wait, please ma'am." "Look at that sign on the door!" Linda pointed to the sales sign.

"That's him—Golden Toy," Uncle Sandy commented. "His sire was a fast 'un, his dam a weight-carrier. Never been raced. Will die just when he come 2-year old."

"You'll do no such thing!" The objection came from a youngster of 20 or so, who forced his way to the front; a slender young man with hard blue eyes and a chin that meant business.

"All right, folks, your pleasure is my delight! You want to bid on the chestnut first, and the chestnut you shall have. Bring him out, Big Boy. Smarterly, now!"

"But you can't do that!" Linda protested, as the crowd of idlers drew closer. "You said 1:30, and we're here. These gentlemen, she looked around at the unshaven, collarless crowd.

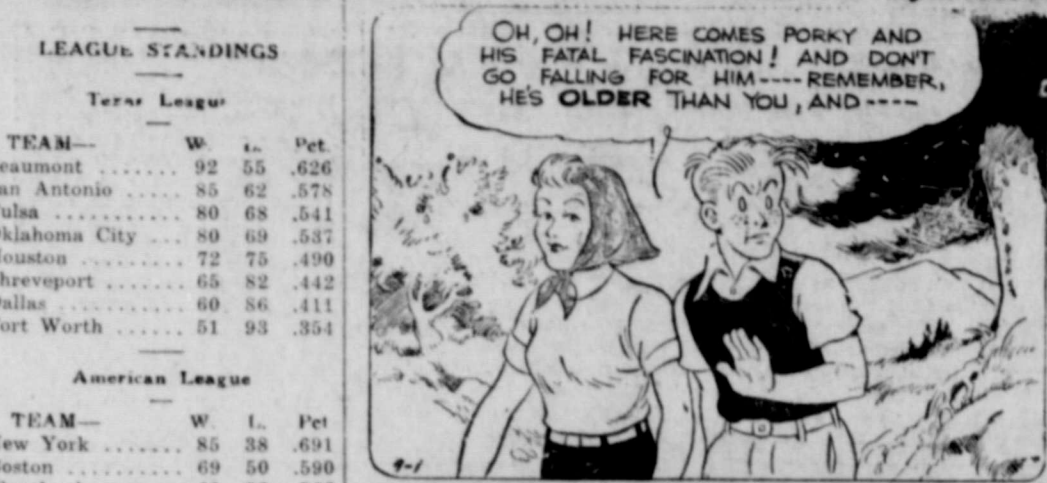

A PROFESSIONAL smile oozed from his features; he lifted his voice: "We're selling to the highest bidder, and for cash on the barrel-head, the remaining colts from the Radford estate."

"We have here Golden Toy—the auctioneer broke off, looked anxiously up the road. He—and the crowd—had heard the distant honking of a motor horn.

DETROIT baseball fans haven't been short on things to talk about this season. First of all, Rudy York's flopper as a hitter of home runs. Then it was Hank Greenberg's dizzy home run splurge which brought him ahead of Babe Ruth's pace when he set his record mark of 60. More recently it was the startling announcement that Mickey Cochrane was through as Tiger manager.

TRY A WANT-AD—IT ALWAYS PAYS!

Motion Picture Campaign Starts Over the Nation

In every city, town and hamlet in the United States, there will start today a celebration of what "moving picture" confidencially considers "Motion Pictures Greatest Year."

This celebration will be touched off by the first appearances of a comprehensive and factual advertising campaign in daily newspapers. This campaign will be a cumulative statement of the essential character of motion picture entertainment in the social and cultural life of the people.

It will bring forcefully to the attention of motion picture patrons the earnest and highly specialized efforts of Hollywood writers, directors, actors, and technicians in providing America with its most popular form of entertainment. A total of well over 1,000,000 daily newspapers will be engaged in bringing this essential character of motion picture entertainment to those who enjoy it as well as to those who are at present not enjoying it.

Nearly 16,000 motion picture theatres throughout the United States and Canada will officially begin their part of the celebration by initiating the national Movie Quiz contest. This contest has been advertised on their screens for the last three weeks. Many of the phases of the contest have already been run in these theatres. Ninety-four pictures are included in the list. Booklets in these theatres detailing the rules of the contest with blanks for registering answers to the questions may be obtained from theatre attendants. One of the greatest and most interesting of national brain-teasers will start a four month puzzle life for the eighty millions of people who patronize motion picture theatres every week of the year.

In many cities the campaign will be launched by proclamation by the Mayor or Governor of the State and by special editions in the newspapers. Thousands of stores are cooperating in their advertising with motion picture theatres realizing as they do, the outstanding influence which motion pictures exert on business life and the resultant turn-over of each community. The province of the motion picture as the world's best salesman is being wholeheartedly recognized by department stores and shops throughout the United States. Chambers of Commerce, Boards of Trade, Rotary, Kiwanis and Lions Clubs are taking the occasion of this campaign to register their tribute to motion pictures from various angles.

In Hollywood, Frank Whitbeck, producer, has begun the prearranged campaign of a motion picture which will play in every theatre in the United States. Its title is "The World is Yours." This picture, in motion picture terms will carry the same message to the screen that the advertising message is conveying in daily newspapers. George Schaefer, Executive Chairman of the campaign expressed himself as being delighted with the progress made on the preparation for the start of Motion Pictures' Greatest Year on September 1st. "There is an additional value in this campaign which none of us realized at the time it started. We are proud of the fact that as an industry, we have so wholeheartedly guaranteed a large campaign fund. We feel that everything has been done by the various committees to insure the success of the campaign. We feel that the advertising program is definitely a step in the right direction not only for the motion picture business but as an example to all business. We feel that results will amply justify the effort.

None of us, however, visualized the psychology of showmanship which this united campaign has created. Everywhere throughout the country, showmen are waking up to the realization that here at last is something they can sink their teeth in and about which they can go out and demonstrate going hunting or fishing after that date. Any one hunting outside the county of his residence must purchase a resident hunting license. Persons under the age of seventeen will not be required to purchase such license.

New Licenses New licenses to cover the season of 1938-1939 have been received by the license agents of the Texas Game, Fish and Oyster Commission. All new licenses will be in effect on September 1, 1938. This is to remind everyone to purchase their new licenses before the showmanship principles upon which the business is founded. Nothing like it has taken place in the last four years of repression as a means of arousing enthusiasm and putting showmanship brains back at work.

Any person who uses artificial lures of any kind must purchase an artificial lure license. This law does not exempt any one, regardless of age. This license is issued to residents of Texas only. Non-resident must purchase the five-day license or the full year non-resident fishing license.

The counties of Mason, Menard, Kerr, Schleicher, Crockett, Sutton, Kimble, Real, Edwards, Blanco, Llano, Kendall, Gillespie, El Paso, Hudspeth, Val Verde, Culberson, Kinny, Maverick, Terrell, Brewster and Harris require any one fishing with natural baits to purchase a resident fishing license. This license does not permit one to use artificial lures. But the holder of an artificial lure license will not be required to purchase the resident fishing license.

Wildlife Conservation There are so many reasons why we should conserve our wildlife resources that it would take a large book to give the details of this great work. I am sure, if you are like me, that it is very disgusting to return home after a hunting or fishing trip with the old game bag empty or no fish on the old fish stringer. That is a good reason to conserve our wildlife. During the time of plenty of game and fish the thought of conservation was never considered. It was many years later, when a few species began to become extinct, that there was an opening of the eyes to a wildlife conservation program. God did not put the animals and birds and fish on earth for just a few people to go out and take ruthlessly. The chances are 9 out of 10 that the surpluses of game and fish taken are wasted, and then that is gone forever and will never do anyone any good. You, the reader whether a sportsman or not, know that you would feel hard toward our ancestors if all the game birds and mammals and insectivorous birds would have been destroyed as the buffalo (a nearly extinct species) and the caribou (an extinct species). Our forefathers killed the buffalo by the hundreds just to get their valuable hides, and the carcasses were left on the plains for the vultures. Did that show good sportsmanship? Did they think of the generations to follow? Their own personal benefit was the only object they thought of. So thousands and piled up by the farmers and burned. Again their thoughtless actions got the best of them. At the present time the white-tailed deer are restricted to a small area in the United States, and if the decrease in the next sixty years compares with that of the last sixty years, the deer will be found only in the zoos and on protected reservations as the buffalo is today. That is surely a situation that none of us would like to see. In the early days after the Civil War, deer were found in most sections of this country, and everyone had the privilege to kill a deer. At the present time only a few have the privilege to finance a hunt into the deer country, which is in a comparatively small area in Texas.

The antelope at one time was thought to be an ever standing species, but today only a few herds are in existence in Texas, and now a completely closed season has been put on the antelope. Wild sheep and elk are becoming extinct and at the present time there is no open season on these mammals in Texas. From the few examples cited in this column, I hope that it will encourage the people of this section to help conserve the few species on which we do have open season. Do not take your limit of game in a day just because you can and the law allows such a limit. Take only that which you can use and do your little part in the game of WILDLIFE CONSERVATION.

TRICYCLE RIDDEN 578 MILES By United Press SYDNEY, Australia. — Alfred Wilkinson, 44, Melbourne executive man, completed a 578-mile ride on a child's tricycle in nine days, 23 hours and 25 minutes to win a bet. The original wager of $125 was that he could not ride the distance in 21 days. With other bets, Wilkinson has won a total of $625.

THE AVERAGE MOVIE-GOER SPEAKS HIS MIND...

IT'S HARD for a fellow like me who thinks apple pie is one of nature's greatest gifts to man to believe that there are folks who honestly don't like it at all.

On the other hand, I can't abide liver and bacon — though I know it's highly regarded by many.

We all have our likes and our dislikes. We're all different — thanks be! A dull world it would be if we weren't.

That's why I say that the most remarkable thing about motion pictures is that they hit such a high average of pleasure-giving.

Take any individual picture and you'll find that most people who see it will get a lot of enjoyment out of it.

Not all, naturally. For example, I think a certain star is tops — while, to hear the way my next-door neighbor goes on about her, you'd think she wasn't good enough to be an "extra".

Or my wife sees a picture during the afternoon and raves about it at dinner. Maybe son and I take it in that evening — and come home feeling that Mother is losing her judgment. And there you are. It's the apple pie situation all over again.

But, taking them all together, I figure that the "movies" give more pleasure to more people at a lot less cost than most anything the mind of man was ever responsible for — and have done the human race more downright good than all the medicines concocted since creation.

And I'll say this: The times when I've been disappointed in a picture have been a lot fewer than the other times when I've gone to see one I wasn't especially excited about in advance and been mighty glad I did.

Sure, I criticize the pictures. I pay my money and that's my right. As a matter of fact, I kind of figure that it's the criticism of average folks like me that's largely responsible for the pictures getting better and better all the time.

Through the years the motion picture has given its public countless hours of entertainment, countless hours of escape from harsh reality. It has taken millions away from trouble and sorrow, lightening their burdens and brightening their lives . . . making the world a better, happier place to live in.

It has grown — from "cowboys and Indians" to dramatizations of the works of the world's greatest authors . . . from temperamental flickers to technical perfection . . . from infancy to an intelligent maturity.

To provide the finest array of productions ever released the Motion Picture Industry has mobilized all its skill, all its imagination, all its resources to provide the greatest array of productions ever released.

Great stories splendidly produced . . . love-filled romance, stirring drama, gay adventure, hilarious comedy, tuneful musicals — star-studded casts filled with your favorites and new faces, new talents, for which the world has been searched. One after another these great pictures are coming to your favorite theatre.

Entertainment, relaxation, freedom from care are yours in overflowing measure, brought to you by the supreme efforts of the Motion Picture Industry to make this fall season one you will never forget.

Watch for these new season's pictures at your favorite theatre:

PEEPING THRU THE KNOTHOLE

By Bill Mayes

Plans are being started by local football fans to have the Bulldogs appear, in uniform, some night before the Gorman game, in order that everyone might see the team, see what they really look like—and some will be fooled—and to have an opportunity to see and meet Bill Tipton, the coach.

Tipton has been so busy, with morning and afternoon practice sessions, that he has had little, if any time to get around and meet the people.

A similar plan was carried out last year, or year before, and fans turned out in big numbers. With prospects so much brighter more should be interested and a larger crowd should be present.

The details have not been worked out, but Sept. 9 has been suggested as the date. That would be just one week before the first game of the season. The team would probably be introduced, one at a time, by name, position and number. They would then go through a short workout, with the coach explaining the duties of each player.

The band will be ready, by that time, to play. In fact, a concert has been arranged for that night, and the two might be worked in together. Anyway it is something to think about, and something to work for.

Cisco, primed for winning the district and taking the playoff game between the east and west halves, had a similar preview Tuesday night. Boys who were introduced were:

Co-captain Billy Latch, age 16, weight 157, fullback, one year. R. D. Donham, age 15, weight 140, halfback, one year. Walter King, age 17, weight 170, end, no experience.

Ray Burnside, age 17, weight 135, end, one year. Marcell Harrison, age 18, weight 165, end, one year. Warren Doggett, age 17, weight 130, end, no experience.

Kenneth Tomlinson, age 16, weight 143, end, no experience. R. D. Donham, age 18, weight 189, tackle, one year. Parks Balley, age 17, weight 164, tackle, no experience.

L. P. Holder, weight 191, tackle, no experience. W. A. Walls, age 17, weight 165, guard, no experience. Robert Cone, age 18, weight 148, guard, one year. Bill Anderson, age 17, weight 143, guard, no experience. John Potter, age 14, weight 150, guard, no experience.

Troy Stewart, age 17, weight 170, center, two years. Billy Machael, age 16, weight 146, center, no experience. Clayton Stevens, age 16, weight 148, tackle, no experience. Walter Preston, age 18, weight 148, halfback, one year.

Odell Harrison, age 18, weight 165, halfback, one year. Chesley Tipton, age 17, weight 149, halfback, one year. Ramon Reames, age 16, weight 162, halfback, no experience. Robert Donovan, age 15, weight 134, half back, no experience. Bill Westfall, age 17, weight 123, halfback, no experience.

Marion Notgrass, age 16, weight 146, end, no experience. Rudolph Dolgener, age 18, weight 182, center, no experience.

Meet 'Battling Frank 3rd'

Facing the camera for the first time, Franklin D. Roosevelt 3rd forgot the family smile and at the age of one month seemed to look upon photographers with something of the malevolence of his father used to display before he got used to being the President's son. Youngest member of clan Roosevelt is pictured with his mother, the former Ethel du Pont, at the estate of his other grandparents near Wilmington, Del.

Rice Has Good Chance To Repeat In The Southwest

HUSTON, Tex. Aug. 31.—It's a long time between now and Dec. 3, but when the Rice Institute Owls begin football practice on Sept. 6, they will have a good chance to disprove that old Southwest conference adage that "champions never repeat."

Rice won the title in 1934 and 1937, and on paper, it looks like the Owls might repeat in 1938. One reason why Coach Jimmie Kitts looks forward to the season with satisfaction is Ernie Lain, 202-pound halfback who will be Rice's candidate for all-American honors. Another is Ollie Cordill, the best kicker on the team, and a third is Doug Sullivan, whom Kitts describes as a cracker jack passer.

"We have a good ball club," Jimmie said as he went down the list. He is counting heavily on Earl Glassie, 200-pound fullback, and Kenneth Whitlow, 175-pound center, who were reserves last year.

Several good sophomores are expected to make first-string material or powerful reserves. Among them are Moose Hartman, 225-pound guard; Livy Bassett, another guard; Bob Smith, 230-pound tackle; Hugo Stevens, 190-pound blocking back; Bert Selman, speedy back; and Speedy Moore, another back whose name is self-explanatory. "And don't overlook the old dependables," Kitts admonished. In this classification are Jack Vestal, Paul Hancock, and Jimmy Rogers, quarterbacks; Billy Robb, Harold Palmer, ends; Bob Bran-

El Paso Astonished By Drinking Horse

By United Press

EL PASO.—You can lead a horse to beer—and this one will drink. John DeVoto has a two-year-old well-groomed dun that he calls Flash.

DeVoto dropped into a cafe recently, and Flash gave barflies a number of bad moments when he walked right in and up to the bar with him.

"A bottle of beer for both," DeVoto ordered. Astonished customers watched Flash heidelberg the beer from the bottle as DeVoto held it to his mouth. And so on from bar to bar.

don, who is going to be shifted from back to end; Frank Hairston, Matt Landry and Bill Hanner, guards; Capt. Jess Hines, Ed Singletary, and Reinhard Stansel, tackles; Harry Arthur and Howell Husbands, centers, and Dan Coffee, halfback.

Rice will open its season with inter-sectional games against Oklahoma, Louisiana State, and Tulane, and on Oct. 29 will meet Auburn. These, with six conference opponents, make a 10-game schedule.

Oct. 1: Oklahoma at Houston. Oct. 8: Louisiana State at Baton Rouge. Oct. 15: Tulane at New Orleans.

Oct. 22: University of Texas at Houston. Oct. 29: Auburn at Houston. Nov. 5: Arkansas at Fayetteville.

Nov. 12: Texas A. & M. at College Station. Nov. 19: Texas Christian at Houston. Nov. 26: Baylor at Houston. Dec. 3: Southern Methodist at Houston.
