Miss Mayberry end training at NWT School

Zenitha Ann Mayberry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Mayberry, has completed her requirements for graduation from Northwest Texas Hospital School of Nursing. She will be eligible to write the State Board Examination for licensure as a Registered Nurse in February, 1981. Miss Mayberry, who graduated from Dimmitt High School in 1974, has accepted a position on the pediatric unit at Northwest Texas Hospital. Her long-range goal is to get her bachelor of science degree in nursing from West Texas State University.

Attention, Bobcat Band: Monday is it

Bobcat Band members are to report at the Dimmitt High School band hall Monday, Band Director Ralph Smith announced. Band uniforms will be issued at 10 a.m. Then all freshmen and new band members are to report at 7 p.m. Veteran band members will report at 8:15 p.m., at which time the first rehearsal will be held. The band will march in the Harvest Days Parade Sept. 6.

It's a bus! No! A plane!

Oops! The Dallas Cowboys Trip sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce will be by PLANE, not by bus, as reported in last week's News.

Persons going on the trip must "get to Lubbock on their own," Chamber of Commerce Manager Delores Golden said. Southwest Airlines Flight 231 will leave Lubbock at 8:45 a.m. Sunday, Oct 5. Two buses will be at Love Field in Dallas to take the group for a short tour of Dallas and for a buffet luncheon. The group will then go to Texas Stadium for the Cowboys vs. New York Giants pre-game warm-up. The game begins at 3 p.m. The return plane will depart Dallas at 7:40 p.m. and arrive in Lubbock at approximately 8:35 p.m.

Brown is named to 'Friends' post

Eldred Brown of Friona, a director on the board of Deaf Smith Electric Cooperative, was re-elected vice-chairman of Rural Friends, a political organization working in behalf of rural electric, at a recent meeting in Houston.

The Rural Friends parley took place during the 40th annual meeting of Texas Electric Cooperatives, Inc., the Austin-based trade association representing rural electric across the state and some 700,000 consumer meters.

Brown, a farmer and rancher, has served on the Deaf Smith REC board since 1966. The cooperative serves rural customers in Castro, Deaf Smith and Parmer counties.

RECENTLY programming at radio station WXXI in Rochester, N.Y. was stopped when a telephone crew accidentally cut the station's transmission line. At the time the station went off the air it was broadcasting Franz Schubert's "Unfinished Symphony."

CHARLES L. HECK of Texas A&M University is one of the 11 students chosen to participate in the Summer Nuclear Engineering Institute at DOE's Argonne National Laboratory-West near Idaho Falls, Idaho.

Nazareth man chosen for nuclear program

Charles L. Heck, a Texas A&M University student from Nazareth, is among 11 engineering students selected nationwide to participate in the Summer Nuclear Engineering Institute at the Argonne National Laboratory-West in Idaho.

The institute is a six-year-old US Department of Energy program administered through the Argonne Center for Educational Affairs.

The program provides graduate students with experience and an educational opportunity not normally available to them. This is done through their association with energy research and development programs at Argonne.

The students' time is divided between classroom instruction and work on an engineering project under supervision of an Argonne staff member. The classroom instruction surveys systems design and the varied programs underway at ANL-W.

The primary activities at ANL-W are directed towards the development of the liquid-metal-cooled fast breeder reactor (LMFBR), and students carry out the report on a project associated with the reactor development program.

Facilities available from the students' projects include Experimental Breeder Reactor-II, the nation's only existing LMFBR; the Zero Power Plutonium Reactor; the Transient Reactor Test Facility; and the Hot Fuel Examination Facility.

Limiting factors of personnel, time, money and facilities must be taken into account by the students when completing their projects. Therefore, an environment is presented which duplicates real engineering activities and which helps students develop the skills of a professional engineer.

Headquarters for this and other similar programs sponsored by the Argonne Center for Educational Affairs (CEA) is in Chicago, and students who request or whose interests coincide with activities at ANL-W are referred there. Other CEA programs offer faculty, thesis researchers and undergraduates the opportunity for appointments.

Argonne National Laboratory is operated by the University of Chicago under the terms of a tripartite agreement among the University, the Department of Energy, and the Argonne Universities Association.

Hart vo-ag teachers take workshop

Vic Jeter and Don Sanders, vocational agriculture teachers at Hart High School, recently completed an Agricultural Mechanics Short Course at Dumas High School.

The workshop was sponsored by the Agriculture Department of Sam Houston State University to help vocational agriculture teachers improve their skills in agricultural mechanics.

Agricultural Mechanics is an important phase of vocational agriculture. The high school program includes instruction in agricultural mechanic skills, electricity, agricultural structures, power and machinery, and soil and water management. This in-service workshop was held to assist vocational agriculture teachers in teaching basic skills such as arc welding, oxy-acetylene cutting, layout, plan reading, and fitting through the construction of a gooseneck trailer. A 32-foot gooseneck trailer was constructed in the workshop.

Instructor for the short course was Dr. William R. Harrell, professor of agricultural mechanics at Sam Houston State. Harrell, a former vo-ag teacher, currently serves as national chairman of the Agricultural Mechanics Contest.

PATRICIA BRUNO SPEAKS TO ROTARIANS ... She's with High Plains Water District

Many pumps inefficient, water spokeswoman says

Patricia Bruno was the guest speaker for the Rotary Club's regular meeting Friday. Mrs. Bruno is information director of the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District and is editor of the district's monthly publication "Cross Section."

Initially, the district equipped only one trailer to do "on the spot" efficiency tests. However, with the huge demand for the efficiency tests, the number has risen to three large trailers and 16 mini-trailers. "Their main finding is that water losses are being detected. The value of the service is doing a good deal to justify the expense of the trailers," said Mrs. Bruno. "Recent district studies of 60 wells show that average pump efficiencies are 43%," Mrs. Bruno reported, "and it's not unreasonable to expect 70% efficiency."

In a recent article in "Cross Section" Mrs. Bruno reported, "Efficiencies are hurt by improper well construction, by poor operating procedures and maintenance, or by incorrect power unit selection. Power unit efficiency does significantly affect overall performance. Your engine's efficiency may suffer from wear, poor compression, lack of a tune-up or improper sizing for the load. The efficiency of electric motors is

Reading teacher 'thrilled' with seventh grade program

Results from the individualized approach to reading program used in teaching Dimmitt seventh graders were reported Monday by Mary Nell King to the Dimmitt School Board.

"The program is really challenging," Mrs. King commented, adding, "There isn't any time for students to play around."

The program forces students to work at the best of their ability and to take on more responsibility, Mrs. King said.

Of 138 students, 101 began the program working below grade 7 level. Only 37 students were then considered to be competent readers on the seventh grade level.

AIRMAN OF THE MONTH—Airman Emigdio J. Sandoval of Dimmitt was named the Airman of the Month for July in the 20th Supply Squadron stationed in England. Airman Sandoval, 19, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Emigdio Sandoval. He is a member of the Requisitioning Unit of the Squadron's Material Management Branch.

Mayberry earns $2,700 for MD drive

Robert Mayberry, former Dimmitt High School All-American football player, recently earned more than $2,700 for the Muscular Dystrophy Drive in San Antonio.

Mayberry ran more than 185 miles as part of the American Love Run campaign. He had almost 300 sponsors who paid a nickel for each mile he ran.

Mayberry is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Mayberry of Dimmitt. He joined Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. as a management trainee after graduating from West Texas State University, where he earned honorable mention All-American honors in football.

A girl was born August 4, named Cassandra Elaine, weighing 6 pounds and 12 ounces to Susana Arguijo.

Mr. and Mrs. Julian Rodriguez are the parents of a boy born August 5, named Gus Favian who weighed 9 pounds, 14 ounces.

Mr. and Mrs. Jessie Medrano are the parents of a girl born August 5, named Roxanne who weighed 7 pounds, one-half ounce.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Torres are the parents of a girl, Tabetta Lucia who weighed 6 pounds, 12 ounces.

Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Scrogum are the parents of a girl, born August 8, named Kristi Nicole, who weighed 6 pounds, 4 1/2 ounces.

Mr. and Mrs. James Hoeltling are the parents of a boy born August 9, named Barry Edward who weighed 7 pounds, 15 1/2 ounces.

However in the spring, 38 students were above grade level, 43 were reading at grade level and only 57 students were still reading below grade level, she said.

"I was thrilled with the way they matured and learned to get things done," Mrs. King commented.

The program used a basal reader and kits on which each student worked at his own rate of speed.

The 138 students included 60 regular students, 21 Title I migrant students, and 57 Title I students with some learning problems. 81 students were Hispanic, 51 were white, and six were black.

The program will be continued this year, Mrs. King said. She said she and her new resource helper plan to do more oral reading for some of the students who need more individual-type instruction.

VETERAN'S SERVICES

By BEDFORD W. SMITH
County Service Officer

Our office in the courthouse, Phone 647-4666, will be closed today, Thursday, August 14. Beginning Monday, August 18th, we will change our office schedule back to 8:30 - 11:30 a.m. on Mondays through Fridays plus other times by appointment.

The Veterans Administration Regional Office at Waco has issued the following news release:

Arlington National Cemetery, restricted for burials for the past several years because of lack of space, is now available to honorably discharged veterans whose remains have been cremated.

The more liberal use of the national cemetery is possible because of the recent opening of the first section of what will eventually be a 50,000-niche columbarium.

Located in the southeast section of the cemetery, the columbarium has a 5,000-niche section available now for the urns of veterans and certain members of their immediate families.

Veterans discharged under less than honorable conditions are not eligible for burial in the columbarium, according to U.S. Army officials who operate the cemetery.

Use of the columbarium is free and the usual VA burial expense allowances are available for veterans electing this method of burial.

Full information concerning the use of the columbarium is available by telephone at (202) 695-3250, or by writing the Director, Casualty and Memorial Affairs, TAGO, 1000 Independence Ave., S. W., Washington, D. C. 20314.

The Veterans Administration will pay for transportation of the remains of veterans who die in a VA hospital from the place of death to final destination. Also available through VA is a burial allowance. The person making arrangement for burial should apply for VA burial allowance through the nearest VA regional office.

In addition to the news release, your County Veterans Service offers his services to surviving widows and/or other dependents to make claims for a burial flag for wartime veterans and peace time veterans with full time enlistments and honorable discharges.

Survivors may qualify for other burial benefits. The document needed is a DD-214. When a certified copy of the DD-214 is on file at our office, processing of claims are expedited. Also, marriage certificates, birth certificates, etc. in certain cases are necessary for burial benefit claims.

This is an Indian news update.

Last year about this time the federal government allowed the Five Civilized Tribes to form a tribal government once more. They allowed the tribes to form committees to write tribal constitutions and hold elections for tribal leaders.

By the fall of 1979, all the tribes had written their constitutions and planned their governments. They all traded in their old bi-cameral houses (Houses of Representatives and Senate) for a chief, a tribal council and a legal court.

By the early spring of 1980, the Creeks had elected a chief, one Claud Cox, a seven-member council and a judiciary committee. Once this was done, the federal government rewarded them by passing out the wampum. They really passed it out, too. The Creeks were able to start a hospital, build a huge government complex at Okmulgee, establish a dairy farm, subsidized housing for the needy and the elderly, and send many young Creeks to college.

However, right from the very start there were evident problems. Just after the new tribal council sat down, the Speaker of the Council tried to take the place of the chief. Unfortunately, the constitution called for only one chief. Besides, you know what happens when you get too many chiefs in one tribe. One-half of the tribal council supported the speaker and the other half never came to the meetings.

Chief Claud Cox asked for required legislation from the council so that the Great White Father in Washington would pass out more wampum. By this time the wampum supply was getting a little low and there were many Indian braves at the complex needing to get paid.

The council didn't get the work done and refused to legislate as the Great White Father wanted, so they told Claud Cox to go on a buffalo hunt. In the meantime, Great White Father passed the Creeks over at wampum time.

Chief Cox didn't go on the hunt. He went on the war-path. It didn't do any good, though.

When the wampum supply was finally exhausted, all the programs at the Creek complex in Okmulgee came to a halt. Many braves lost their jobs.

Chief Cox wrote a letter to all Creek citizens (including the ones who didn't vote for him) blaming the situation on the council. The council wrote all the citizens, too, blaming the whole mess on Cox, who, they said, was getting too much wampum for them to keep track of and they weren't going to let Cox get any more until they found a way to count wampum more easily. Evidently, wampum and the computers don't coincide, according to the Creek council.

So while the council is busily trying to count wampum on their fingers and while Chief Cox figures out a way to keep his chief's job, the rest of the Five Civilized Tribes observe with genuine horror.

The obvious solution is to find a way to computerize wampum.

Anyone out there game enough to try?

'Return to basics' urged in Texas public schools

A return to the basics in public education is one of many recommendations for improving Texas schools contained in a comprehensive report submitted to Gov. Bill Clements by the Governor's Advisory Committee on Education.

The governor said that the report — the result of an exhaustive year-long study by the blue-ribbon group — will be used as the basis of his recommendations to the Texas Legislature when it convenes in January.

"I have carefully studied this report and I think it is superb. I wholeheartedly endorse it and I predict that a big percentage of these recommendations will be acted upon by the legislature in its next session," Gov. Clements said.

"This report is a blueprint for making our secondary and elementary schools second to none in the nation," Gov. Clements said, "and these recommendations could lead to the most significant and beneficial changes in our Texas public school system since the Gilmer-Aikin laws were passed some 30 years ago."

In their report to Gov. Clements, the committee members state, "Texans are well served by their schools. Many goals of public education are being achieved. Yet, the schools can and must improve. The public, the policymakers, and the educators must be dedicated to reaching consensus and generating the will to act on important issues. Through combined efforts, education will be improved for all the students of Texas."

The report addressed the following areas and made these recommendations:

School Curriculum: The legislature should repeal all existing laws that mandate elements, courses, or subjects to be included in the curriculum, and give the State Board of Education the authority to establish and implement "a state basic curriculum." This curriculum would give strong emphasis to reading, writing and arithmetic.

Student Learning: Social promotions should be restricted and summer school programs should be developed for students who have not successfully completed designated course work during the regular school year.

Unique Needs of Students: Efforts to influence federal policy should be unified, particularly in the areas of bilingual education and special education, to provide more effective programs in Texas schools.

Student Behavior: While existing laws are sufficient to allow authority and flexibility to discipline disruptive students, alternative learning programs should be developed for disruptive students and procedure should be established to ensure that parents and students read and understand the discipline policy in advance.

Teacher Training: A state competency test should be required for all teachers before they receive a teaching certificate. In addition, there should be more rigorous and consistent enforcement of the standards for teacher education institutions.

Excellence in Teaching: A significant increase in salary and fringe benefits for teachers is needed to make teaching positions competitive with professions in business and industry requiring equivalent preparation and training. Also, a Master Teacher position should be created to recognize qualified, high-performing career classroom teachers with higher pay and leadership duties.

School Operations: Schools, especially classroom teachers, should be relieved of excessive paperwork that reduce classroom time and effort.

State/Federal Relationships: State and local officials should work together to influence federal laws and regulations from a Texas position regarding educational matters. Local control of the public schools should be maintained. Federal decision-making is not the key to meaningful school improvement.

In a letter to Gov. Clements, Dr. Willis M. Tate of Dallas, committee chairman, stated, "This report represents the cohesive effort of a skilled and dedicated group of Texans who served as committee members. The committee met monthly and most members attended each of seven public hearings. In addition to the official functions, individual members spent many hours gathering information and analyzing and discussing ideas with people across the State."

In addition to Dr. Tate, the committee included 19 other Texans from all parts of the state. Businessmen, parents, teachers, school administrators and other educational professionals served on the committee appointed by Gov. Clements.

Gov. Clements has announced that he is renewing the committee membership for another year to facilitate active support of the recommendations before the legislature.

Copies of the full report may be obtained by writing the Governor's Advisory Committee on Education, 112 Sam Houston Building, Austin, 78711.

Carpet adds warmth, comfort to homes

Carpet can add greatly to the warmth and comfort of a home.

To get quality carpeting suited to your needs, here are a few tips for consideration:

CONSTRUCTION — There are four types of carpet construction. TUFTED carpet is the most popular today. A machine punches the yarn through a pre-formed backing material, and the yarn is locked in place by a latex adhesive.

WOVEN carpet is made of pile yarns, weft yarns and warp yarns interwoven so all three lock together in one fabric.

NEEDLEPUNCHED construction is a flat abrasive-resistant sandwich of unspun fibers atop a pre-woven fabric core.

FLOCKED carpet is chopped fibers applied with adhesive to a backing.

SURFACE TREATMENTS

Many surface treatments are used on the four construction methods.

LOOPED carpet is tightly tufted and hard wearing — best for high traffic.

SHAGS have casual appearance and are meant for medium traffic areas.

PLUSHS have the look of luxury with an even-cut pile — perfect for low traffic.

SAXONY has tightly twisted yarns, woven closely so long pile stands up.

RANDOM shear has all one-level loops with some cut — great for heavy traffic.

HIGH- and LOW-LOOPED pile is uncut and looks pebbly. It's very durable.

FIBER TYPES — Carpet fibers range from the natural wool to the synthetics of nylon (the strongest), acrylics and modacrylics, polyester and polypropylene or olefin.

W-a-t-e-r spells 'relief'

BIGGEST SINGLE FACTOR—Monthly water usage in Dimmitt in July topped the 100-million-gallon mark for the first time in history, and here's the main reason why.

Usage surveys show that 35% of all municipal water pumped during the summer goes into watering lawns and gardens.

CONSTANT DEMAND—Water usage is at an all-time high on farmland here also, as hot, thirsty crops demand almost constant pumping if they're to survive and produce. Many non-irrigated crops across the state have long since succumbed to the drought and record heat.

County okays higher taxes

The Castro County Commissioners' Court Monday gave final approval to the 22.4% increase in ad valorem taxes and the 87.5% hike in county road taxes.

The tax increases will generate an estimated $273,461 in additional income for the county. It will be just enough to cover the additional budget requirements for fiscal 1981, commissioners said.

The board also approved Commissioner Al Maurer's motion to accept the 1980-81 budget and to file a copy with the Secretary of State.

Monday's adoptions came after public hearings two weeks ago on the proposed tax increases and budget.

County Treasurer Oleta Raper presented a financial report, but the commissioners questioned the precinct balances.

The board discussed the possibility of cashing matured certificates of deposit to pay bills incurred between now and October, when more revenue will begin to come in from the county tax assessor-collector's office. Commissioners indicated that this is the normal procedure for the county to follow during the annual "slump."

The commissioners approved the purchase of an updated Xerox copier for the County Clerk's office and renewed its contact with Blue Cross & Blue Shield for hospitalization insurance for county personnel.

County Clerk Zonell Maples had reported last month that when the outmoded photostat system is no longer used, the clerk's office will have no way to make certified copies of the old photostat records.

A Xerox Corp. representative met with the commissioners about the purchase of a new 3109 copier for $9,170 or a remanufactured 3107 copier for $6,860, either of which will make copies of the old deeds.

"I think we've got to have it," Commissioner Ed Bennett said, even though the commissioners learned that they could not get "our money's worth" by trading in the county's 4000 copier for one of the updated machines.

The board approved Commissioner Al Maurer's motion to buy the 3107 copier and decided to keep the 4000 copier for use by other county officials.

The commissioners heard bids for hospitalization insurance for county personnel from Steve Willingham of Blue Cross & Blue Shield and from Doug Williams of Business Men's Assurance Co. of America.

After lengthy talks with both representatives, the county board reconvened with Blue Cross & Blue Shield. The new premiums become effective Sept. 1 and increase each employee's deductible amount from $50 to $100.

In other action, the commissioners:

- Approved Commissioner Edd Wilson's motion "that we furnish part-time help for Justice of the Peace Marshall Young and the Highway Patrol office." The part-time employee will work through the on-going Home Economics Cooperative Education program at the high school.
- Approved at a suggestion by County Attorney Jimmy Davis to "preserve all records of the Democratic and Republican primaries of May 3... until further orders" by the commissioners' court. The records to be retained include all ballots, returns, poll lists and tally lists.
- Signed a rabies resolution "to strengthen the authority of county officials in control of the disease." In adopting the resolution, the board appointed the county sheriff as the local health authority and charged any person failing to vaccinate his dog or cat against rabies with a Class C Misdemeanor, punishable by a fine of up to $200.
- Learned that Congressman Kent Hance was grateful to the board for its opposing the state's proposed "take-over of playa lakes on private property."
- Awarded a contract for $2,860 to McLain Distributing Co. of Hart for trim and roof repair on the new county building.
- Approved the purchase of a calculator for the county clerk's office.

DISD holds line on taxes

By BETTY HOOVER

The Dimmitt School Board Monday adopted its 1980-81 budget and kept its tax rate as is, without any increase.

"The current tax rate will service this budget, we hope," Supt. Robert Ryan said.

The board plans to keep taxes as low as possible for one more year, knowing that the reappraisal and increased valuations mandated by state and local legislation will drastically increase taxes next year.

The present tax rate stands $1.73 per $100 valuation, which includes $1.50 for local maintenance and 23 cents for interest and sinking fund.

The budget for the coming school year includes adjustments in vocational travel and an increase in the base bus driver salary. It also allows for carpeting in the high school offices.

DISD Business Manager Gene King reported that his search for a better means of safeguarding permanent records had resulted in the purchase of a Bell & Howell reader-printer system.

The $2,100 initial cost of the contract with Bell & Howell will cover filming and processing of approximately 6,000 records, front and back, by a professional crew and a duplicate set of microfilm records to be kept in a vault. The reader-printer will allow for the instant reprint of any high school record back to 1920.

The board learned that the Dept. of Agriculture had passed a new ruling for the regulation of food and drink sales in the schools. The ruling states that no soft drinks, candy, gum, frozen sticks, etc., may be sold within the schools until after the end of the last lunch period.

Compliance with the rule will be monitored by the lunchroom supervisors, King said.

The high school has made arrangements with Schwan's Sales Enterprises, Inc., for a fruit juice dispenser in the snack bar.

"The exemption policy this year may have influenced several of the students," Ryan said while reviewing an attendance comparison chart of seventh graders through seniors. The average attendance for the 1979-80 year was up 2 percent from the previous year. Ryan added that the average daily attendance throughout the school system was more than 1,600 students.

In other action, the board:

- Joined the Texas Association of Community Schools, which represents communities with only one high school. The organization is apparently a lobbying power that has a close working relationship with the Texas Association of School Boards.

—Heard a report from Mary Nell King concerning the individualized approach in the seventh grade reading program. The 138 students showed better than 50% improvement, from 37 students on grade-level reading to 81 students on or above grade-level reading, she reported.

—Planned to meet at 7 a.m. Aug. 26 for a breakfast meeting at Colonial Inn to open bids for repairs to the high school gymnasium roof deck, the Middle school gymnasium roof and the expansion joints in the three school buildings. The board will also handle other business at that time.

—Planned to attend the get-acquainted social for all new personnel Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in the city hall assembly room.

Students' candy, pop purchases restricted

Public school students won't be able to buy carbonated drinks, chewing gums, flavored ice or most of their favorite candies at school this year — at least until after the final lunch period.

It's because of new regulations by the US Dept. of Agriculture, restricting the sale of certain foods on school premises.

The new regulations restrict the sale of foods determined to be of minimal nutritional value, to children on the school premises until after the last lunch period. The restricted foods include carbonated beverages, chewing gum and certain candies. Not restricted are non-carbonated drinks, chips, ice cream and approved candies.

"These restricted items must be taken out, but I assume that the vending people will stock them with something else that will meet the new regulations," Dimmitt High School Principal Alex Glass said. "We're not planning to order the vending machines taken out; we'll let the vending machine people handle it."

Glass explained, "We can sell those restricted items after 1:30, which is when the last lunch ends. So some of the school departments, such as the vo-ag shop and gym, would still be able to make drinks available to students during the afternoons."

Also, he said, "The vending machine companies are coming out with machines that can be unlocked with just the turn of a key."

DISD board hires five

Judy Ingram was hired as a resource teacher for one-half day and as the homebound teacher for the other half-day.

In other personnel action Monday night, the board accepted the resignation of Charles Grisham, who was the tennis coach and sophomore English teacher.

project here since the first of the year, and very seriously for the last couple of months.

"Some of the things that were bothering us all along on the project, such as the marketing and shipping and sale, are all the things Diamond Shamrock does," he added.

"They have good department on fermentation, also, so the whole thing makes a good marriage of technologies," Lapins said.

The Diamond Shamrock Corporation is an energy and chemicals company with headquarters in Dallas. The company markets motor fuels and refined petroleum throughout the Rocky Mountain area and the Southwestern states.

Meanwhile, the Amstar Corporation, headquartered in New York, reported an improved performance for the 1980 fiscal year.

"The principal reason for Amstar's improved performance in 1980 compared with the depressed results a year ago, was the significant increase in earnings from our sweetener business," said Robert T. Quittmeyer, president of Amstar.

"Operation income from Amstar's sweetener business in fiscal 1980 was $46,311,000 compared to $3,755,000 last year. Our sweetener business had sales of $1,099,754,000 compared to sales of $878,688,000 a year ago," Quittmeyer said.

The Amstar Corporation is also engaged in cane sugar refining, beet sugar processing and industrial equipment manufacturing.

Social Security in Castro County

By JANICE B. ULMER

This week we are concluding the questions and responses started last week. These inquiries were raised at a recent symposium held by Social Security. Laura Peacock, the Lubbock District Manager, responded to each as follows.

Question: If the ratio of workers to retirees keeps dropping, what will prevent my Social Security taxes or those of my children from going clear out of sight?

Answer: Currently, we have about 3 workers for each Social Security beneficiary. For several years now, the birth rate has been declining, and life expectancy has been increasing. If these trends continue, eventually we will have only 2 workers for every beneficiary. In that event, the cost of financing Social Security benefits will increase from about 10.4 percent of taxable payroll in 1979 to almost 17 percent in 2035.

We should keep in mind that no one can predict the future with a high degree of certainty. For instance, it is impossible to predict whether the birth rate will rise or decline. Demographic and economic conditions will obviously be very different in the next century. One obvious result of such change is that a Social Security program enacted many years ago may become less responsive to the needs of a changed society. Future Social Security development will need to reflect such changes if the program is to meet the income security needs of the population at a cost it is willing to pay.

Question: I am 30 and single, and will probably remain single. Will I get back what I have invested in Social Security if I retire at age 62 or 65? I would like some projected figures based on my expected average earnings of $40,000 per year.

Answer: Based on average life expectancy, you can expect to receive a reasonable return on your investment in Social Security. However, I cannot stress too much the projection you are afforded other than retirement. Even though you are not presently married, and are not concerned with protection for your surviving spouse and children, you are not immune from illness and disability.

Social Security monthly benefits for yourself, and for your spouse and children should you decide to marry, constitute a very real protection long before retirement.

In addition, Medicare benefits payable at 65 or after 24 months of disability entitlement represent a protection of incalculable value. The amount of benefits you will receive at retirement will depend in large part on the benefit formula in use at that time along with the rate of inflation. The present maximum rate for a worker reaching age 65 in 1980 is $653.80. The projected rate in 1990 is close to twice that amount.

As you can see, the spiral is upward. By the time you reach 65, you can probably count on your Social Security replacing about 30 to 50 percent of your final year's earnings.

Question: What is done with the money in the trust fund? I keep hearing that it is used for welfare payments and that it finances other government give-away programs and by other government agencies?

Answer: The money in the Trust funds is used to pay Social Security benefits. For example, the disability insurance trust fund pays monthly disability checks. In addition, the cost of administering the program (about 2%) is paid from the trust funds.

That portion of each trust fund that is not required to meet current expenditures for benefits and administration is invested on a daily basis in interest-bearing obligations of the U.S. Government or in obligations guaranteed as to both principal and interest by the United Assistance programs such as Supplemental Security Income (SSI), Aid to Families with Dependent Children (AFDC), Food Stamps, etc., are paid from general revenues, and/or shared on a pro-rata basis with the states.

Escorted by her father, the bride wore a formal length gown of silk organza fashioned with a v-neck trimmed in Venice lace, and silk organza ruffles at the shoulder. The bodice was trimmed with Venice lace accented with pink embroidered rosebuds. The back of the dress was accented with a bow centered by a rosebud. The bride's veil was a bandeau cap of Venice lace with a chapel length illusion bordered with Venice lace. The bride carried a bouquet of pink rosebuds, greenery and baby's breath.

Anyone who has trouble hearing or understanding words clearly is welcome to have a test using modern electronic equipment to determine if his loss is one which can be helped. Some of the causes of hearing loss will be explained, and diagrams of how the ear works will be shown.

Everyone should have a hearing test at least once a year if there is any trouble at all hearing clearly. Even people now wearing a hearing aid or those who have been told nothing could be done for them should have a hearing test and find out whether the latest methods of hearing correction can help them hear better.

The free hearing test will be given Tuesday from 10 a.m. to 12 noon at the Senior Citizens Center. If you can't get there on Tuesday, call 647-2654 and arrange for an appointment at another time. In-home testing is also available.

December recovery predicted for pork

If hog producers carry out intended plans to reduce farrowing and breeding hog numbers and increase slaughter numbers, pork prices should recover by late December or early 1981.

This preview comes from Dr. Ernest E. Davis, economist-livestock marketing for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Looking ahead to the first quarter of 1981, Davis said pork supplies should remain eight to 11 percent below levels for the same time in 1980. This projection holds only if producers follow through with intended cutbacks of nine to 10 percent in June through November farrowings. Lower supplies should indicate higher prices for late December and early 1981.

June reports show supplies still high on market hogs and pigs weighing more than 60 pounds. Most hogs weighing more than 180 pounds will be killed by the end of June, with the remainder being marketed in July, August and the first part of September. Slaughter during the summer is expected to be four to six percent above levels of one year ago.

The number of hogs kept for breeding is down eight percent from 1979. Davis said this, added to higher slaughter numbers and reduced farrowings, should mean steady price recovery for early 1981 if these trends continue.

"Very likely, these intentions will hold as pork producers have sustained heavy financial losses this past spring," said Davis.

He said that even though much has been said about weak consumer demand — declining real incomes, recession and a general dismal economy — demand for pork should remain relatively strong. As long as retail pork is a dollar per pound less than Choice retail beef, consumers will continue to substitute pork for beef.

Price predictions for producers show market barrow and gilt prices averaging $35 to $38 per hundred-weight for the summer.

Price discusses issues with local Republicans

State Sen. Bob Price discussed state and national issues, his experiences as a candidate for Congress, and other subjects at a dinner held in his honor Saturday night at the home of James and Sandy Baker.

Robert Benton, candidate for county commissioner, Precinct 3; Cliff Humphrey, Associated Republicans for Texas; Jim Brandon, district committeeman; Bob and Martie Price and other area Republicans from Amarillo and Hereford reported on campaign progress and the recent National Republican Convention.

Sen. Price reviewed his experiences and opportunities that he had to meet influential people in this nation and others, such as Anwar Sadat and Golda Meier, while he was in Congress. Price told the group of his good fortune in serving on Congressional committees and making junkets to foreign countries, enabling him to have a broader perspective on conditions in world and national affairs.

"It is unfortunate that people do not study the voting records of their officeholders and call them to task when they do not vote to the best advantage of their districts. If they did, the fellow who replaced me in Congress would not fare so well," Senator Price said.

Price said that the citizenry has no idea as to the extent of ridiculous bills that come before the state legislature, and would be dismayed at the small amount of time that is allowed legislators to become informed about each bill. There is very little time allowed for testimony before bills are considered, and often people travel long distances to testify, and are not allowed any time, he said.

Education and the needs of the elderly will be two major items for consideration in the next session, Sen Price said. One-half of the funds, approximately $10 million will be called for by education proponents. Because of the changing role of the family and the longevity of persons over 60, more demands are placed on funding the care of the elderly, he said.

"The loss of conservatives, both Democrat and Republican, will greatly affect the passage of bills in the legislature. Several bills, such as a state income tax requirement, failed by only one vote last session, and the battles will be uphill this session. Of course, redistricting will be of prime importance to conservatives," said Price.

Asked about prospective water resources, Price stated that he saw little encouragement due to the immense expense in bringing water into this area and because surrounding states are reluctant to part with their own supplies. Price did say that he believed the time would come when any amount of money would be paid by Texas residents to have even enough water to drink, and that possibly agriculture would be a low priority on receiving water to grow crops.

Price is a farmer-rancher in the Pampa area, and has introduced a five-part package on paving the way for gasohol production and refining. "The gasohol package had a difficult time last session because the liquor lobby was apprehensive of production moving into the liquor business," Price said.

Reese AFB open house on tap this weekend

Reese Air Force Base will sponsor its annual open house Saturday and Sunday.

The festivities will honor Reese's 31st year of service as an active Air Force base.

The featured activities both Saturday and Sunday will be aircraft flying demonstrations by the West Texas Wing of the Confederate Air Force. More than 40 Confederate Air Force World War II vintage aircraft are expected to both fly and be on static display.

The weekend will also include the second reunion of military and civilian personnel who served during World War II at either Lubbock Army Air Field or South Plains Army Air Field. Most of the special reunion activities will take place Saturday in the Reese AFB Officers' Club. Persons interested in attending the reunion may contact the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce at P. O. Box 561, Lubbock, 79408, or call 763-4666.

Performances are also scheduled by the US Navy Parachute West demonstration team; the US Air Force Drill Team from the Pentagon; the "Country Critters," a country and western group from the 539th Air Force Band at Lackland AFB; and the Attack Dog Demonstration Team from Kelly AFB.

The latest aircraft, helicopters and other weapons of all the armed services will be on display on the Reese flight line both days. Joining the military hardware on display will be airplanes, model aircraft, motorcycles, and home-built aircraft flown in by members of the Experimental Aircraft Association.

The gates at Reese will open at 10 a.m. Saturday. Early arrivals may view the start of a Chili Cook Off at Windmill Park. The Cook Off will go on all day, with the awarding of prizes slated between 4:30 and 5:30 p.m.

Other Saturday-only events in Windmill Park will include an evening square dance demonstration, a barbecue dinner and an all-night street dance featuring the country and western band, "Brushfire."

The Reese flight line will be open from 8 to 11 a.m. Sunday to receive civilian aircraft pilots who wish to fly in to participate in the day's activities. Private-aircraft pilots desiring to fly in may make arrangements by contacting Capt. Stephanie Wells at 885-3851.

From 8:30 and 9:30 a.m., Sunday morning chapel services will be conducted on the flight line. Deceased veterans of service at Reese AFB will be memorialized during the ceremony.

From 8 to 11 a.m. Sunday, the Lubbock Jaycees will sponsor a pancake breakfast in Windmill Park.

Capt. Jim McDonald, the Open House Project Officer, has promised aviation enthusiasts more flying activities than ever before at a Reese open house, plus plenty of food and refreshments.

Approximately 100,000 persons attended last year's open house.

IN Evansville, Indiana there is a law which makes it illegal for any establishment to sell hamburgers on Sundays.

You have to really be looking for something to worry about to join in with some of those who've decided that we have a major problem with cities taking over farmland. According to experts who have studied air photo maps of the country's most rapidly growing urban counties, less than two percent of cropland in those counties was displaced by urban development. This boiled down to one acre of cropland being displaced for every twelve new people moving into a city. And for those who can still manage to worry about this less than fearsome takeover of cropland, there's another set of statistics hot off the press. According to government estimates, there is over 110 million acres of now idle land in the United States that could be producing crops within the next two years. So, on your list of priority worries mark running out of farmland way down at the bottom.
