Cotton Growers of 14 States Meeting At Washington

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—Legislative and farm representatives from 14 cotton states, meeting at the call of Sen. Ed. Smith, Dem., S. C., today adopted a resolution demanding a subsidy payment of three cents a pound on the 1938 crop, or an increase of cotton loans to 75 per cent of parity.

The action was taken by the group after controversy broke out between the White House and Smith concerning Smith's efforts to obtain an appointment for the group to discuss the cotton situation with President Roosevelt.

After a two-hour conference with Assistant Secretary of Agriculture Harry Brown and Assistant AAA Administrator Jessa Tapp, the conference adopted a resolution which was embodied in a letter which Smith sent to Secretary of Agriculture Henry Wallace.

McDONALD TO LEAD REVOLT AGAINST AAA

FORT WORTH, Texas, Oct. 1.—A revolt of southern cotton farmers, led by J. E. McDonald, Texas commissioner of agriculture, was underway today, less than 24 hours after the personal plea here by Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace for continued support of the AAA farm program.

McDonald, commissioner of the largest cotton growing state, gathered his "domestic allotment plan" supporters here last night, even before Wallace had departed from the scene of his nation-wide speech, to rally cotton farmers in to the 1939 AAA program.

"Wallace's compulsory cotton control setup already has proved itself an utter failure," said McDonald. "The officials of his organization are merely holding their AAA jobs to keep from leaning on WPA shovels."

"I will answer Wallace's speech and start my own opposition drive rolling before the farmers of 13 counties at Tyler next Tuesday."

The Texas commissioner has for a long time advocated a cotton control plan, which he says would save the south's diminishing foreign market. While McDonald has disagreed with the AAA plan of restricted acreage, the differences for the first time have reached the open stage.

Queen Mother at Parliament

Threat of European war and the mobilization of Great Britain's full naval force brought Britain's dowager Queen Mary to Parliament to hear Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain's speech on the crisis. The radiophoto above shows the queen and the Duchess of Kent, in silhouette, arriving at Parliament building.

ENGLISH NAVY HEAD RESIGNS OVER TREATY

LONDON, Oct. 1.—Alfred Duff Cooper resigned today as first lord of the admiralty in protest against Britain's part in the four-power agreement on Czechoslovakia, and its present foreign policy in general.

The resignation came as a jarring note in the midst of unprecedented national rejoicing over the narrow escape from war provided by the Munich agreement. It stirred political and financial circles deeply because of its implications.

As head of the navy, Duff Cooper held one of the key cabinet posts for defense. Before his present post he was war secretary and clamored incessantly for greater preparations against war.

He now has joined Anthony Eden, who resigned as foreign secretary, because he disagreed with the government's conciliatory policy toward the dictators.

A considerable section of public opinion shares his views and a lively row is in prospect when parliament resumes on Monday.

Hamilton, Walters Given Sentences By District Judge

DALLAS, Texas, Oct. 1.—Floyd Hamilton, whose brother, Raymond, died in the electric chair at the Huntsville prison, was sentenced today to a term of five to 25 years in the same institution.

Judge Grover Adams formally pronounced sentence after Hamilton was found guilty of stealing an automobile belonging to A. L. Cody.

Ted Walters, who escaped with Hamilton from the Montague county jail, and accompanied him for several months as the pair sought to evade capture, was sentenced to a similar term for robbing an ice house.

Walters, who caused two federal agents to resign from the Bureau of Investigation because he spent several hours in a house here with them while they were searching for him but did not recognize him, appealed for a new trial.

He said he did not believe he had been given a fair one before his conviction.

EXHIBIT IS BRANDED AS BIG SUCCESS

Another county fair, the 12th held, and dairy show, closed Saturday night with officials stating that the event would be known as one of the most successful ever conducted.

Exhibits in all departments, with few exceptions, represented practically the best ever shown. Fruits were not in display as prominently as usual because of the freeze early in the year.

Especially better than past exhibits, both in quality and number, was the dairy show. It was the best ever held, officials declared.

Saturday night was Ranger night at the fair. For several years it has been customary for Ranger to have a special day designated for it.

One of the most interesting of the Saturday features was a parade Saturday morning. The Eastland high school band led the parade. Attracting considerable attention was the Eastland Pioneer Women's club participation. The women rode in old fashioned wagons and wore styles of many years ago. Several men and women in costume rode horses. Many automobile dealers were in the parade and drove the new models, in sharp contrast to the pioneer section.

Four-H club boys and others paraded their prize cattle.

Officials thanked everyone for their aid in making the fair a success.

County Agent Elmo V. Cook released names of winners in the agricultural department:

Individual farm exhibit: J. C. Thurman, Cisco, rt. 2; Wayne Thurman, Cisco, rt. 2; J. W. McKinney, Cisco, rt. 2; and Wymon Blair, Cisco, rt. 2.

Upon their arrival at Lufkin at 2 o'clock Saturday morning, it was found that Dr. Tally's condition was serious and he had been placed in an oxygen tent. Saturday he was reported as still being in a critical condition, suffering with a heart ailment.

Nazi Troops MARCH INTO SUDETENLAND

With the German Army in the field, Oct. 1.—Five grey-green columns of German troops poured across the Czechoslovak frontier this afternoon on a 20-mile front.

This began dismemberment of Czechoslovakia and the addition of some 3,000,000 people to Adolf Hitler's domain.

The uniforms, the guns, the mechanized engines of war, were in contrast to the festivity of the scene.

Flowers thrown by the cheering German inhabitants pelted the troops.

The first contingent crossed the frontier at exactly 2 p. m. the deadline which had been set. Col. Gen. Wilhelm von Leeb was in command of the occupied area which is on the southwestern border, north of Linz, Austria.

Czech troops and police had withdrawn at 6 p. m. yesterday. The population wildly welcomed the troops and displayed Nazi flags which had been hidden until a few minutes after the soldiers appeared.

I entered the German territory with one column on the extreme left. Tens of thousands of other troops were camped in the Bavarian forest, ready to advance on the next phase of occupation tomorrow.

By Oct. 10 all but the areas to be decided by plebiscite will be in German hands as decided by the four-powers at Munich yesterday morning.

Tonight Czechs and Germans faced one another only 100 yards apart on opposite sides of the River Moldau. The Czechs had not had time to withdraw and still were holding a new line of fortifications on the north bank of the river.

I heard that the Czechs had blown up a bridge across the river and went to investigate. The bridge had not been blown up, but was held by Czech troops. Their captain told me:

"We are withdrawing now, under orders, but we would rather fight."

There was no ceremony, whatever, at the actual crossing of the border. The troops had withdrawn beyond the river, leaving two Czech gendarmes.

Gen. Hodman stepped up to them and briefly discussed the conditions of entry. Then they too, withdrew.

Immediately three heavy grey steel armored cars rolled across the frontier.

Nimrod Woman Is Indicted by Jury On Murder Charge

Mrs. Jackson Peters, 54, of Nimrod, was indicted for murder in connection with the death Sept. 11 of Mrs. Marcus Pierce, 37, also of Nimrod, by an 88th district court grand jury which reported Friday.

The shooting followed a fire at the home of Joe Bachus, brother of Mrs. Pierce, in the community, officers have been quoted.

Czech Refugees From Sudetenland Reaching Prague

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia, Oct. 1.—Crowds of Czech refugees from Sudeten areas arrived in the capital by train today as the German army crossed the border for its occupation of the ceded land.

Reports from the frontier area were that the evacuation of the military, the civil administration, and the Czech populace had been accomplished quietly without incident or disorders.

Each train arriving from Sudetenland brought more Czechs to join the thousands in the capital who are bitter over their government's agreement to the Munich four-power accord.

REPRESSURING SEEN AS METHOD TO KEEP COUNTY GAS PLANTS

(Editor's Note: Repressuring is held by R. V. Galloway, county clerk, who wrote the following story, as one of the best means to maintain oil production in Eastland county. When he was secretary of the Ranger Chamber of Commerce several years ago, Galloway began a study of repressuring, believing that it would be one of the greatest things economically for the county.)

(By R. V. Galloway)

For the past 18 or 20 years, wells in this section have been plunging the small producers until at the present time, there is not sufficient gas to keep casing head plants operating. This section, much longer, in fact, have already seen some units shut down and a few plants have been closed entirely.

Eastland, Ranger, Cisco, and West of Eastland county depend on the oil and gas industry in any other industry, not existing farming, and when these and gas company payrolls are, which is the natural consequence if production falls off to here it is not profitable to operate, we will have to fall back almost entirely on farming as we did before the great oil boom and the flux of people to this section.

There is, and has been an experiment going on for the past six months by four oil companies of repressuring a number of the old wells near Ranger, some which were yielding as low as one barrel per day.

This repressuring process consists of injecting residue gas into the well along with a group of other

Polish War Threat Has Been Averted

TSCHEN, Polish-Czech border, Oct. 1.—The threat of war was lifted at the zero hour today when Czechoslovakia capitulated to a Polish ultimatum.

The main force of Poland's army of 500,000 men was massed here and had expected to march to war at noon. The Polish government had given Czechoslovakia until that hour to make a satisfactory reply to its demand for the 500 square miles of Lower Silesia, seized by Czechoslovakia while Poland was at war with Russia.

MAVERICKS ARE DOWNED BY BULLDOGS, 40 TO 8, AT EASTLAND FRIDAY

The Ranger Bulldogs, winning their first conference game since Thanksgiving Day, 1934, overpowered the light Eastland Mavericks on Welch Field Friday afternoon before a crowd of about 1,000 by a score of 40 to 8, after getting off to a decidedly bad start.

The Mavericks, playing head-up football in the first quarter, clearly outplayed their heavier opponents, and in the second they broke to score two points on a safety.

Mitchell's kick from the 50 yard line went out of bounds on the Ranger 10, and on the first play from scrimmage a bad passback the ball on the Eastland 21-yard line. Whitefield then tossed to Drawner for the score and Whitefield converted for the extra point. Score Eastland 8, Ranger 7.

Ranger then got a break. Their kickoff was returned to the Eastland 25, where three passes failed, and a bad passback was snared by Mitchell, who was back to punt on fourth down, but in stretching for the ball he fell to the ground and Ranger took over on the Eastland 40.

Houghton and Whitefield alternated in carrying to the three yard line, where Houghton plucked over and Whitefield again converted. Score Ranger 14, Eastland 8.

Ranger got another break early in the third quarter when Eastland's lateral was fumbled and Whitefield recovered on the Eastland 16. Houghton and Mitchell made a first down, Whitefield charged through for five and There's an eternal triangle of stars in "Three Loves Has Nancy," the gay Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer comedy drama featuring Robert Montgomery, Janet Gaynor and Franchot Tone. In the layout above we have Montgomery, Gaynor and Tone in the top panel. Apparently, Bob and Franchot are giving Janet a "back saddle" ride. In the lower left oval we see Janet and Bob Montgomery in a romantic pose while the oval at the right shows the dainty Janet and Franchot "ditto." "Three Loves Has Nancy" is a $250,000 Movie Quiz Contest Picture and will be shown at the Arcadia theatre, starting today.

It Wasn't Colossal, but It Was Fun

The nation's annual attack of stadium fever is about to break out. Within a few weeks the season will be in full swing and the collegian's form of innocent recreation will be providing the fans with excitement, the newspapers with headlines, and divers persons with a livelihood.

This game was between Princeton and Rutgers. It was played at New Brunswick, N. J., on Nov. 6, 1869.

Some 25 young men from Princeton made the journey to do the actual playing. They were accompanied by about 50 of their fellow-students, who seem to have come along out of idle curiosity.

The game seems to have been considerably more like soccer than like modern football. There were no touchdowns; only field goals counted, and apparently there were not many regulations about the number of men who could be on the field at one time.

After the game was over, all hands—both players and spectators—had dinner together "on roast game birds from the Jersey marshes," sang some more songs, agreed that it had been lots of fun, and set a date for a return game a few weeks later.

It all sounds very old-fashioned and unsophisticated, and anyone present who could have foreseen the modern stadium, the corps of paid coaches, the high-pressure recruiting campaigns and all the other adjuncts of modern football must have been possessed of second sight.

But the real change in college football has been deeper than these externals. The outstanding fact about that pioneer game is that it was played for the fun of it.

German soldiers have been forbidden to do any applauding, and the women have been ordered to give a modified version of the Nazi salute.

- Ranger's Bulldogs Defeat Mavericks (Continued from Page 1).

Houghton went over for the score. Whitefield failed to kick the extra point. Score Ranger 20, Eastland 8.

The Bulldogs scored again in the third when they took Mitchell's excellent out-of-bounds punt on their own 10. McKelvin later lateraled to Whitefield for 18 yds. Whitefield then tossed two 17-yard passes, one to Houghton and the other to Brawner.

fumbled a punt on their eight yard line, but recovered. On the exchange of punts Ranger took over on the Eastland 28 and returned to the 20. Floyd, who had just gone into the game for Ranger, stepped off 14 yards on his first trial and Eastland was penalized to the one-yard line for having 13 men on the field.

The last Ranger touchdown was made with only two starters, Houghton and Anderson, in the lineup. Houghton intercepted a pass on the Ranger 20. Floyd picked up nine yards on one try and two on another before Houghton stepped off 22 yards. Floyd chalked up another first down, unassisted and Houghton stepped off twice for five and six yard gains.

Dixie then passed to Martin, who sidestepped two tacklers and lateraled to Warden, who did 10 yards of nice running to cross the goal line untouched. Anderson again converted for the extra point. Score, Ranger 40, Eastland 8. Three plays later and the game ended.

Mitchell of Eastland got off some excellent punts, particularly so since some of them were made from almost impossible looking situations created by bad passes. Mitchell, Barham and B. Purse were outstanding in the Maverick backfield, carrying the brunt of the offensive burden.

But Claude Floyd was the boy who created most interest in the last stages of the game. He went in late, but stepped off nice runs every time he got his hands on the ball, his most effective play being around the right end.

Between halves the Ranger band performed, executing some neat maneuvers, as did the Ranger pep squad. But Cicero Harris, Ranger drum major, forgot his signals and the band took up all the time between halves. The maneuvers had been timed to take up seven minutes, but in the excitement he forgot and went through the band's entire series of drills. Apologies were offered by the Ranger band director, the drum major, pep leaders and school officials to similar officials of Eastland and the apologies and explanations were gratefully accepted.

Starting line-ups: Eastland—Van Geem and Barham, guards; Perine and Bryant, ends; Davenport and Young, tackles; F. Furse, center; Smith and Bagley, halfbacks; Bob Furse, quarterback; Mitchell, fullback; Ranger: Brawner and Bourdeau, ends; Gray and Anderson, tackles; Hargraves and Ames, guards; Palmer, center; Adkins and Whitefield, halfbacks; Houghton, quarterback; and McKelvin, fullback.

Substitutes included: Eastland, Freyschlag, Beggs, Mahaffey, Sparr, O'Neill, Bassett, Trantham, Self, Bush, Ranger, Graves, Cox, Reese, Warden, Hale, Martin, Floyd and Townzen.

amounted to approximately 150 barrels per day.

One well in the experiment showed a gain of 30 barrels per day and the amount of gas in job lars and cents injected to get this increase, averaged 42 cents per day.

At the present time the T-P Coal and Oil company is preparing to spend $65,000.00 on a repressuring program on their Hohertz lease north of Strawn. This will consist of a 6-inch line from their plant three miles east of Strawn to the Hohertz lease, a distance of about 12 miles, to bring the saturated gas back to the plant, and a 4-inch line from the plant to the lease for injection.

This method of repressuring is not new to the oil fraternity, as it has been practiced for years, but not extensively in this field. Some might say that this artificial means of increasing the production will shorten the life of the field and recover the oil quicker, but this is not the case, as oil men estimate that when a well quits pumping naturally, from 70 to 85 per cent of the oil is left in the ground on account of the oil receding below where the pump will pick it up, and the gas that is injected brings the level of the oil up and in this way will recover from 200 to 300 per cent more oil than it would if not artificial means were used.

In a recent issue of the Oil and Gas Journal a very interesting ac-

Text: Exodus 20:4-6; 32:1-8; John 4:19-24

BY WILLIAM E. GILROY, D. D. Editor of Advance

ONE thing that stands out strongly and unmistakably in the history of the Children of Israel is the insistence upon the evil nature of idolatry. The moral degradation of the people and much of the misfortune that came upon them in almost invariably attributed to the turning from the worship of Jehovah to the worship of false gods.

Why should this be? What is the difference between the worship of an idol and the use of a symbol in worship? In Christian churches, there are many images.

The difference is that a symbol stands for something very real, when the symbol itself becomes an object of worship instead of a symbol, the resulting worship is idolatry.

But it was not this alone that was in the mind of the Hebrew leaders and prophets, who so strongly denounced the worship of idols. Deeper than this was the fact that idolatrous worship was associated with immoral and corrupt practices. The opposition to idolatry was social as well as religious.

There are those who make much of the fact that the religion of Israel was centered around the worship of a tribal God.

That may have some aspects of truth, but the real significance of the Old Testament lies in the extent to which it is not true. The important thing to grasp is that, in the worship of the true prophets and saints of Israel, there was always something emphasized, and emerging, larger than the worship of a tribal God.

Almost from the beginning, there is the emphasis upon the one God.

In the early pages of the Old Testament, we have the conception of this one God as personal. Man is made in His image and likeness, and is therefore linked inevitably with his Creator.

count was carried of a repressuring maintenance project on the Cook lease in Shackelford county. This lease contains 1200 acres and the repressuring has been going on for several years.

Soon after the field was discovered, they estimated that a total of about 7,000,000 barrels of oil would be recovered. After the repressuring program was in effect for some time, much more oil had been recovered than originally estimated, and at this time they are expecting a recovery of about 21,000,000 barrels, or 300 per cent more than they originally thought recoverable.

If this program has done so much in the small territory near Ranger and in Shackelford county, why would it not work all over the Eastland county field, as practically all are sand wells.

This repressuring program could be "sold" to the owners of wells who are not at present included and be extended over the entire producing area, and in this way no gas, not even residue that is popped off in the summer time, would be lost, but would be put to work over and over, and at the same time increase the oil production and keep continuously running through the various plants, and in this way if we see that no more wells are plugged, we will maintain the present production of oil and gas, in fact will increase the production of oil and keep the gas working, which will mean that the various plants in this section will be enabled to continue to operate and thereby maintaining their present payroll indefinitely.

The Railroad Commission's allowable for these "stripper" wells is 20 barrels per day, and if the production can be increased over this amount, the Commission will, in all probability, raise the allowable on account of the fact that it will be a conservation measure.

It may be said that this is the very best opportunity ever offered to the citizens of this territory to do some really constructive work in an effort to maintain oil and gas company payrolls, and should have immediate attention.

Towns in the past have spent thousands of dollars to get some new industry to locate in or near their city, but this offers an opportunity to keep what payroll we have without the expense of a bonus or other means of attracting new enterprises.

A large number of the employees of these companies own their own homes where their respective work is, are educating their children, and assets to the community in which they live, and do not want to have to move if it is at all possible to stay where they are.
