RAILWAY MEN SUBMIT PLAN FOR INDUSTRY

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—George Harrison, president of the Association of American Railway Executives, today presented President Roosevelt's fact-finding board, a four-point program for rehabilitation of the $3,000,000,000 railroad industry.

Harrison's program called for:—

- 1.—A genuine attack on the problem of competition.
- 2.—A rate policy taking into consideration both good and bad cases.
- 3.—Financial reorganization.
- 4.—Consolidation.

The initial meeting of the special advisory board, comprised of representatives, ended in an impasse. Both sides agreed that no substantial program could be developed until the railroad wage controversy is settled.

Carriers are demanding a flat 10 per cent wage reduction.

Uncle Sam Slams the Door on Him

John Strachey, above, author, lecturer and noted English radical, was held at Ellis Island by immigration authorities when he arrived here on the liner Normandie. It is believed immigration officials wish to question him concerning deportation proceedings brought against him in 1935 at Chicago. At that time he left the country voluntarily.

Two Escape Hurts As Train Strikes Automobile Front

T. J. and Walter Tucker escaped injury when an east-bound train damaged their automobile at the Gulf crossing west of Eastland.

They stated they had started to Eastland from their home near the Lake Eastland spillway when, not seeing the train, the locomotive struck the front of the automobile.

They were able to leave the automobile, they stated. Considerable damage to the car was reported.

The crossing at which the accident was reported has been the scene of several deaths in past years.

WPA Instructed To Hold Expenses Within Income

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—President Roosevelt today instructed Aubrey Williams, deputy works progress administrator, to hold expenditures within the $700,000,000 balance of emergency funds until next Mar. 1.

Williams reported the relief agency's expenditures since July 1, when congress made available $1,455,000,000 for its use.

"Employment is increasing everywhere and the outlook is brighter than at any time in a year," Williams said. "I look for a steady increase in employment all over the United States."

He said that WPA rolls now total $3,130,000.

Flowers for Der Fuehrer—Before 'No Posy' Edict

Fuehrer Adolf Hitler mingled freely with his brand-new Sudeten subjects who smiled about him at Graz to present their new ruler with bouquets. The rain-soaked chanceller seems pleased enough in this picture, but a few days later he was so angered when a tossed bouquet struck him in the face that he issued a "no more posies" decree.

TERRORISM IS REPORTED OVER CZECH AREAS

Terrorism in Czech provinces of Ruthenia and Slovakia today threatened new trouble in Central Europe.

Czech officials charged that the terrorists were well organized and that armed Hungarians were seeking to create a basis for military invasion of the republic of Hungary.

Negotiations between Czechs and Hungarians to settle Hungary's minority demands were near a breakdown and the Budapest government was reported ready to send an ultimatum to Prague unless the Czechs come to terms at once.

Hungary, backed by Poland and led actively by Italy, has demanded a long slice off the southern Czech frontier and also seeks the province of Ruthenia to give her a common frontier with Poland.

The threat to peaceful liquidation of the Czech problem momentarily overshadowed developments in Palestine and China.

The most serious immediate development in Palestine was the assassination of Hassan Sidky Dajani, a leading Arab lawyer and nationalist spokesman near Jerusalem.

In China the Japanese offensive toward the commercial city of Canton continued to alarm British officials. The United States gunboat Minuteman and three British gunboats might be trapped in the Pearl River near Canton. Chinese were attempting to throw a boom across the river to keep out Japanese warships, but it was uncertain whether the American and British vessels had been caught behind the barricade.

Elsewhere:—

Great Britain—Prime Minister Chamberlain was said to be curtailing his vacation and was returning to London to initiate a big scale drive for armaments.

Austria—Police confiscated Catholic religious posters. Nazi newspapers indicated a stiffened attitude toward Catholic leaders.

Low Prices Effect Farmers' Ability to Liquidate Debts

Hopes of farmers to pay obligations maturing this Fall have begun to wane on account of low prices for farm products and short crops due to insect infestation, reports indicated today.

Many of the farmers are already contacting the Farm Debt Adjustment Committee in hopes of arriving through them at an understanding with their creditors so that neither debtor nor creditor may suffer unnecessary losses.

Felix S. Boland, Chairman of the County Farm Debt Adjustment Committee now serving under the Farm Security Administration, said today: "This condition creates desperate tension on the part of debtors and creditors alike, each of whom can be benefited in a superior way through the services of Farm Debt Adjustment. The Farm Security Administration, through its debt adjustment section, is constantly advising farmers in debt distress to adjust their debts in a manner agreeable and beneficial to both creditor and debtor."

The County FDA Committee, composed of F. S. Boland, Dick Weekes and W. R. Usery, will hold its next meeting at the FSA office in Eastland on Thursday, October 20. This meeting will be under the immediate supervision of the County Rural Supervisor, who, together with the County Committee, is in position to offer the wisest and most constructive thought available in the solution of the farmers' debt problems. All farmers in need of this service may immediately contact the County FDA Committee member nearest to them and give a complete listing of their debts, as well as their assets, so that the problem of debt adjustment may be handled in an intelligent and helpful manner, it was declared.

Acts of Provocation Followed the Armistice

When you have said all that there is to say about Herr Hitler's appeals to violence and his acts of provocation, one fact remains, and there is no dodging it: the victor nations in the World War have certainly been asking for something like this.

If one thing is completely obvious in this tragic European situation, it is that the Czech crisis and all that goes with it were created, down to the last detail, by what the allies did after the armistice of 1918.

Armistice Day found Germany utterly beaten. The world's most feared army had been roundly whipped, the militaristic gang which had led Germany into the war was disgraced and in flight, the German people had acquired a deep and sincere desire for peace.

On that foundation there could have been built a lasting peace all that was needed was a little justice, a little reason, an evident desire to do the right thing.

But what happened?

Impossible peace terms were imposed. The Germans were compelled to remember the treaty with burning resentment and all of their efforts to negotiate better terms were scornfully rebuffed. When the fantastic reparations scheme broke down, a French army marched into the Ruhr; when economic pressure forced Germany to seek a customs union with Austria, the French sternly barred the way. Nor did the allies honor their own pledge to disarm.

Year after year, the victors did everything conceivable to prove that Germany could not improve her lot by peaceful negotiation—and let it be remembered that the republican government of Germany did honestly try to live in peace and friendship with its neighbors.

One can understand all of this only by assuming that the victors were not satisfied with military victory; they aimed to keep Germany permanently weak. And since Germany is one of the most virile and industrious nations on earth, such an effort was foredoomed to failure.

In any case, the allies created Hitler. They provided the atmosphere of desperation in which his frantic appeals to his people would be listened to; they made it clear that only through force could Germany hope to get relief. They set the stage for him, down to the last prop.

And then, having done all this, they retreated again and again before his threats—adding the last bit of proof to his argument that by acting tough Germany could get what she could not get by being conciliatory.

Today the allies face a dire problem in middle Europe—and all one can say is that they have been asking for it ever since 1918.

To the end of time, this ought to be an object lesson to all nations—an object lesson in how not to behave after a victory.

'Whew! That Was a Close Call!'

Stripper Well Owners To Have Convention

TULSA, Okla.—The National Stripper Well association, which represents the operators of more than 75 per cent of the oil wells in the United States, will hold its annual convention here Tuesday, October 18, according to W. W. Warner of Nowata, Oklahoma, president.

More than a score of state or district stripper-well organizations from practically every oil producing section in the United States compose the national body, representing the owners and operators of more than 300,000 pumping or "stripper" oil wells which dot the countryside of oil producing areas and which average only about a barrel of production per day.

"These one-barrel wells are a far cry from the gushers which produce hundreds and even thousands of barrels of crude oil in a day, but the facts are that there are ten of the little wells for every big producer. And despite their average small production, the pumping wells really are the backbone of the petroleum producing industry," Warner stated.

He pointed out that every well now flowing under its own pressure some day will find that natural pressure exhausted and will become a pumping well if the reservoir oil under it is to be recovered.

Because they are so important to the entire petroleum industry the current problems of the stripper wells the country over will be given careful consideration at this meeting, which is a forerunner of the annual three-day convention of the Independent Petroleum Association of America, also to be held in Tulsa, Wednesday Thursday and Friday, October 19, 20 and 21, according to H. B. Fell of Ardmore, Oklahoma, executive vice-president of both organizations.

Other officers of the National Stripper Well association are Howard J. Whitehill, Tulsa, Okla., secretary-treasurer, and C. J.

Tucker, Wichita Falls, Texas; Carl Weiner, Chanote, Kansas; Will H. Smith, Ardmore, Okla.; W. J. Brandred, Oil City, Pa.; and T. B. Steele, Robinson, Ill., vice-president.

The national group's meeting will be preceded by one of the Oklahoma Stripper Well association, and the two groups will hold a joint luncheon meeting. Speakers will be Russell B. Brown of Washington, D. C., general counsel for the Independent Petroleum association of America on "Economic Trends Affecting Stripper Wells"; and Mr. Fell whose subject will be "The Economic Importance of Stripper Wells."

Right to Kill Deer Becomes An Issue

ALPENA, Mich.—Michigan sportsmen are protesting a ruling by the state conservation department and a decision of a circuit judge permitting farmers to kill deer out of season to protect their crops.

The conservation department has issued special permits to farmers for that purpose. Circuit Judge Fred T. Miles exonerated a farmer fined in justice court for killing a deer out of season on the theory that he had a constitutional right to protect his property.

Michigan's deer population is estimated at between 750,000 and 1,000,000. Conservation officials said that 10,000 of them perished last winter because of lack of feed, even though the department bought 75 tons of alfalfa and 25 loads of cedar browse to feed them in some areas. In addition 51,209 were killed in the 16-day hunting season last year.

Many persons bought property in this area solely because it is a deer country. They answer complaints of farmers by saying, they, too, have property rights.

One pint milk, 6 tablespoons butter, 1-2 cup sugar, 1-2 cup flour, 6 eggs, graded rind.

Cream butter and sugar until light. Add flour and mix well. Bring the milk to a boil and add. Boil exactly one minute, remove from fire. Separate the egg yolks and add two at a time, stirring constantly. Put the mixture aside.

Beat whites very stiff and fold into the mixture. Butter a mold, put the cream in it, dusting the top with powdered sugar. Bake in a moderate oven (350 deg. F.) for twenty minutes. Serve immediately.

For sauce, slice four stewed fresh pears and mix them with whipped cream. Flavor with lemon juice, and serve with the soufflé. Serves four.

PEEPING THRU THE KNOTHOLE

By Bill Mayes

Maybe not, but the Bulldogs seem to be taking their game with Weatherford a little lightly, which may be natural after the kind of game they played against Brownwood and the kind of game they will have to play to stay on the same field with Breckenridge next week.

Which reminds that failing to stay on the field cost Ranger the game with Brownwood. When Dewey Brawner failed to stay on the field more than part of the first quarter it hurt and when John Bourdeau slipped over the end zone on a completed pass a certain touchdown was lost.

Coy Warren of Cisco is now leading the eastern half of the Oil Belt in scoring. The western half, too, for that matter because few touchdowns have been made by western teams, with Abilene scoring only 42 points, all against Class B Moran, Sweetwater scoring 25 against Fort Worth Tech and 40 against Spur; San Angelo scoring two touchdowns in three games and Big Spring making four in four games.

Warren has a total of 60 points scored this year, leading Bill Ramsey of Breckenridge by 11 points and Billy Houghton of Ranger by 12. Rice and Murphy of Brownwood, Breckenridge and Welch of Stephenville 24 each and Jake Webster of Sweetwater 23.

Yesterday afternoon at the end of football practice the sideline quarterbacks got a laugh out of the 100-yard dashes that ended the practice. Bob Palmer was pitted against Bill Reese. Bill is considered much faster, but he had a Charley horse, or something that made him lame.

When they reached the 50-yard line, with Reese about a step ahead, Tipton yelled, "Come on Bob. You aren't going to let him beat you with a sore leg are you?"

"I've got one, too," Palmer shouted back as he put on a burst of speed and won by a step or two.

Which recalls that the wounded list is larger than it has been all season, with none of the injuries serious, though they may keep a few on the sidelines to mend during the Weatherford game. Charley Martin is limping worse than anyone; Reese, Shot Gray and Matt Cox have sore legs and left the scrimmage, at the suggestion of Tipton, to take slow laps around the track to work out the soreness. Billy Houghton was on the sidelines, not suited out, reported to have been sick and, although he did not show it in practice, Palmer, as mentioned above, reported "I've got one, too," when game legs were mentioned. Apparently all should mend in a few days.

Children Will Have Charge of Program At Church Friday

One of the most unique services ever presented at the Calvary Baptist church has been announced for Friday night, when children will have charge of the entire service. Special songs and other features will be presented.

It was pointed out that these children will be the leaders of the church in the future and everyone has been urged to attend to encourage their good work.

Children who attended the State Fair at Dallas with Rev. J. A. Lovell, pastor of the church, will be back in time to participate in the service, it was stated.

R. J. C. HIGHLIGHTS
By Mary Louise Ervin
Last week the Freshmen and Sophomore classes voted to have college sweaters. The Sophomores set the pace by ordering theirs this week, while the Freshmen as yet are undecided, and are still studying catalogues.

Things are really humming in the dear old institution. The Dramatics club is in full swing, football is king; prospects for a winning basketball team are bright; and everyone is looking forward to the Halloween party, Oct. 30.

How are we enjoying college? We think it's great. More enthusiasm, more students, more color, and a grand faculty make Ranger Junior College a marvelous institution of higher learning. We, as a group, wish to express our thanks and appreciation to our new dean, Mr. Baskin, who has already taken much interest in the students and is cooperating with

New Chevrolet Is Viewed by Dealers

T. J. Anderson, C. B. Pruet and J. A. Johnson from Anderson-Pruet Chevrolet company, returned yesterday from Fort Worth where they attended the pre-showing convention held for Chevrolet dealers and salesmen for their section of this state.

At this meeting, R. W. Hill, Southwest regional manager and H. Wilson, Dallas zone manager of Chevrolet Motor division, discussed the plans and policies for the coming year and after viewing the new 1939 Chevrolet which was on display, the Ranger men state that they are even more optimistic about their future business than they were before leaving for the meeting.

They stated that there are many advanced improvements in the 1939 Chevrolet especially in appearance, economy and performance and that they are anxiously awaiting October 22nd when they will be in a position to start making actual deliveries to the buying public.

Six-Man Football Popular In Oklahoma

By United Press
CHOTEAU, Okla. — Six-man football made its debut in this northeastern Oklahoma area this fall and has become popular.

Coach O. L. Elswick, who introduced the new game at the high school here, said: "It's just the thing for smaller schools."

Fundamentals of six-man play are approximately the same as for 11-man teams. But there are certain differences in rules, largely because the smaller teams are weaker on defense.

The rule book attempts to correct this by providing that six-man squads must gain 15 yards in four plays for a first down.

In the new game the field is shorter by 20 yards than in ordinary football. Players wear canvas shoes with rubber cleats, "speedier" than leather and spikes. Kicking is encouraged by wider and lower goal posts. The cross-bar is 25 feet long and only 9 feet high.

Elswick said a major recommendation for the new game is that it requires only a small amount of equipment. Twelve complete uniforms are sufficient for the Choteau high school team.

Choteau, Locust Grove, Strang and East Central high school of Muskogee are members of a four-team league.

"We'll challenge any six-man football team in the state," Elswick declared. He said the four league squads already have scheduled a "double round robin" and will play additional games among themselves if no outside opposition is obtained.

Plans for making a moving picture in the stratosphere have been announced. The air, of course, will be pretty rarefied up there, but the plot will probably be of the regulation thinness.

HELP KIDNEYS PASS 3 LBS. A DAY

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. Most people pass about 2 pints a day or about 2 pounds of waste. Frequent or steady passage with aching and burning shows there may be something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

An excess of acids or poisons in your blood, when due to functional kidney disorders, may be the cause of nagging backache, rheumatic pain, leg pain, loss of pep and energy, getting up night, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the million of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

MURDER TO MUSIC

BY NARD JONES

CAST OF CHARACTERS
MYRNA DOMBEY—heroine.
BOB TAIT—hero.
DANNIE FEELY—officer assigned to investigate Ludden Dombey's murder.

Yesterday After hearing Rogers' warning, Tait asks the janitor to keep everyone out of his apartment and he is surprised to learn that the janitor had left no one in there.

CHAPTER IX

TAGUELY troubled, Bob Tait went out into the alley and climbed into the rented coupe. He was certain that the janitor wasn't lying—which meant that Harris Rogers was either Rogers had managed to have a key made which would fit the lock of Tait's apartment, or he had a ring of skeleton keys.

Tait shrugged. There was nothing to be gained in worrying about Harris Rogers now. The manager's reasons for wanting the appe of Ludden Dombey to stay in his room were good reasons. Good, at least, for Harris Rogers. The thing to worry about now, Tait told himself, was the eventual fate of Myrna.

He turned the car into the street, headed for an arterial which would take him straight to headquarters. Inside the dingy, gray stone building he went at once to Feely's office. That individual lolled in a deep chair, his feet on his battered desk, a black rag stuck at an angle in his mouth, and his eyes wandering over the skyline beyond the window.

"Well, well," said Tait jovially, "this is the way a dynamo of time detection works?"
Dannie Feely swung his feet down and turned to regard the newspaper photographer with a shy eye. "You," he said, and that was all.

"No other. Robert Tait."
"Sit down," invited the detective. "I want to talk to you."
BOB TAIT sat down and smiled at Feely in what he hoped was a very disarming fashion. Dannie Feely said, "I've got Mrs. Dombey."

Not a flicker of expression went over Feely's features. "I'm not surprised. And I ought to throw hundred or three hundred hawks stays for only one meal, the result will be a lot less grasshopper eggs in the ground to hatch next spring.

Swainsons hawk cannot be expected to stop very long at this season as they have a long trip ahead and must keep moving if they are to be in their winter home in Argentina, South America by Christmas. However, they do have to eat and rest as they travel, and some times every fence post and telephone pole for miles will have a resting hawk perched on it. Following the Swainson's hawk, some other big soaring varieties, redtails, ferruginous reigh-legs and maushawks. They also have found squirrels, gophers, and other small rodents harder to find, and being birds, the natural thing to do is to migrate. All during the fall these hawks will be common sight perched on posts along the roads.

Here and there a dead hawk will be found, hanging from a fence, shot by some foolish person without sufficient curiosity to open the birds crop and stomach, and see for himself what it had been eating. Somewhere, however a rancher or farmer will have one

"I'm pretty sure I can. But I want a square deal for Mrs. Dombey. I don't want her made a goat because the department hasn't got anything tangible."
Feely nodded. "I'll do what I can. But don't forget we've a prosecuting attorney who's yelling for blood. If I know Barkley, he's already got a case against Myrna Dombey that would have a jury straining to convict her."
"It's going to be tough, all right."
"Tough is the word for it." Feely leaned forward a little. "And listen, Tait, I'm trusting you. You're not to hold anything back."
"Not a thing." Tait reached into his pocket, brought out Myrna's silk handbag and tossed it on the table. "That belongs to Myrna Dombey." Then he brought out the revolver, laid it carefully on Feely's desk. "This was inside the bag when I picked it up right after the shooting."

"My theory is that the gun was fired from the bag, Dannie. Through an opening in the zipper. I don't think there'd be any fingerprints."
Feely's thick fingers took up the bag. "How'd you get it?"
TAIT told him. Feely listened attentively, and when the newspaper photographer was through, he said, "And so you think she didn't do it? You pick up her bag from beside her, and the gun is still warm, and you figure she's innocent?"
"Yes, Dannie. I think somebody got hold of that bag, slipped the gun into it, and then tossed it onto the table again after Dombey was killed."

"It sounds fine. How you going to prove it?"
Tait was silent. Then, slowly: "I don't know—yet."
"If you don't have Myrna Dombey down here by noon, I'm going to get out a warrant for you, and it won't be a comic sheet, either."
"Sure, Dannie. I'm going to get you to help you, and in return you're not going to use Myrna as copy for the newspaper boys."
Feely nodded. "I made the deal, and I'll stick to it—until I'm convinced you're rooking me."
Tait got up. "Okay, then. You'll see her here at 12?"
"AT 12. She'd better be here. If she's not, I'll have you brought in. And you'll be up on the third floor where the old cells are."
(To Be Continued)

Horses Feel Tremors Before Their Riders

CLIFF, N. M.—Horses of the H-Bar-Y ranch near here have more "savvy" about earthquakes than do their owners, believe Sam and Huling Means. The two had been riding for several hours when, for no apparent reason, their mounts bolted and backed, throwing Sam Means to the ground. In Silver City the following day, the Means learned of a slight tremor which shook the area—exactly the time their horses bolted.

GUS DORASIS, who revolutionized football by throwing passes to Knute Rockne while they were students at Notre Dame, is the first major coach to pass up the huddle. The reason given by Dorasis, now of the University of Detroit, is that fans dislike it believing that it slows up the game. Also, when a team has the enemy definitely on the run, there is a very definite advantage in keeping things moving faster. Anyway, the Titans will have their signals called from regular formation. The success of Steve O'Neill's Buffalo Bisons in the International League playoffs is good news in Cleveland, where the Irishman is still the most popular of baseball heroes. The Hollywood club of the Coast League has no home park and no good players. The Henry-Armstrong-Ceferino Garcia welterweight championship fight belongs in Los Angeles, not New York, where Mike Jacobs will stage it. Why doesn't the United States Lawn Tennis Association slip the national championships to California? If it weren't for California, the U. S. L. T. A. would still be whistling for the Davis Cup. ROGERS HORNSBY and Charley Dressen are former major league managers on the board of the Dollar Steamship Line, following its reorganization by the Maritime Commission. His friends give out word that he would resign within a week or 10 days. Someone—it isn't clear who, but it probably was a quick-thinking Democrat friendly to Downey—got on the wire to the White House. If McAdoo quit the senatorship now, it was pointed out, the Republican governor of California would immediately appoint the Republican senatorial nominee, Philip Bancroft, to the seat. And that would give Bancroft a real psychological and practical advantage. The President fixed it up at once. McAdoo won't resign until after the election. MR. HOOVER announced many weeks ago that he would make a series of speeches before the congressional elections. In this way he meant to assume Republican party leadership. Friends who hope he will again be nominated and elected in 1940 said Hoover would establish himself as the outstanding Republican big gun capable of dealing with Roosevelt. But when Hoover came to Kansas City to deliver his first blast—and a mighty blast it was, as the text shows—he ran smack into headlines shrieking the latest peace-or-war news. WASHINGTON LETTER

By RODNEY DUTCHER NEA Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON.—The only nation with which the United States has any serious dispute is Mexico, and secret negotiations are producing a seeming improvement on that front. Exchange of notes have shown the two countries to be miles apart in the row over Mexico's failure to pay for expropriated American-owned lands. But Mexican officials are indicating that they want a settlement on their own terms. Just the same, patient State Department officials—eager to avoid a break with the neighboring republic—think they are getting somewhere in oral negotiations. Mexico's chief concession has been agreement on the principle of a commission to determine values of seized land. Washington continues to insist that Mexico put up a certain amount of money to be held in escrow pending settlements and to urge that there be no more expropriation without prompt compensation. Mexican negotiations show signs of loosening up on the first point by offering counter-proposals. SENATOR William G. McAdoo will have to serve a few weeks more of his expiring term in order to help elect the man who defeated him in the Democratic senatorial primary, Sheridan Downey. McAdoo accepted defeat so bitterly that this probably will give him no great pleasure. But there doesn't seem to be much he can do about it. The senator has just been appointed chairman of the board of the Dollar Steamship Line, following its reorganization by the Maritime Commission. His friends give out word that he would resign within a week or 10 days. Someone—it isn't clear who, but it probably was a quick-thinking Democrat friendly to Downey—got on the wire to the White House. Unused Horns May Have Resale Value Band Director Says

Milton Pullis, director of the Ranger High school band, stated today that a number of members of the junior band, which has been organized and is now practicing, were in need of horns of one kind or another, and that, no doubt, there were former members of the band who had instruments they would be willing to sell.

Anyone who has a band instrument not in use can list it with the band director, with the price wanted, and it will be sold if there is a demand for that particular instrument.

"There are possibly 25 to 40 band instruments in this part of the country not in use, but which are still serviceable," Pullis stated, and for which there might be some demand. If listed with me there might be a sale made, the present owner disposing of an unused instrument and a member of the junior band securing a good instrument at a reasonable price."

Although he does not guarantee that sales will be made, Pullis is interested in having instruments listed with him so he will know where band members can secure them, if needed.

YOUR TELEPHONE DOES ITS PART AS A CITIZEN OF TEXAS

As one of the industries of Texas, your telephone company pays its share of the cost of government. It is a heavy share, too. In 1937 its local, state, and federal taxes in Texas totaled more than four million dollars . . . nearly $12,000 a day.

These telephone taxes were equal to more than a third of the company's entire payroll in the state. They amount to $9.25 for every telephone in service.

Where do they go, these taxes? To build and maintain the streets and highways over which you drive. To furnish you police and fire protection. To keep up your children's schools. To help pay for all the services government gives you.

The telephone company is part of Texas . . . here to meet this state's need for friendly, dependable telephone service. As part of the state, it has tried to be a good citizen . . . always ready and willing to pay its fair share of the cost of government.

To Stop Constipation Get at Its Cause!

If constipation's got you down so you feel heavy, tired and dopey—it's time you did something about it. And something more than taking a physic! You should get at the cause of the trouble.

If you eat only the things most people do, the chances are that a very simple fact causes your constipation—you don't get enough "bulk." And "bulk" doesn't mean heavy food. It means a kind of food that isn't consumed in the body, but leaves a soft "bulky" mass in the intestines and helps a bowel movement.

If this is your trouble, eat crisp crunchy Kellogg's All-Bran for breakfast every day and drink plenty of water. All-Bran contains both "bulk" and the intestinal tonic, vitamin B. And it's not a drug, not a medicine! Made by Kellogg's in Battle Creek. Sold by every grocer.
