Spending, Like Thrift, May Be a Virtue

Some little time ago a Cleveland engineer won a prize of $8000 or thereabouts, for inventing a new welding process. Since then there has been a steady procession of salesmen to his door, and the other day a newspaper sent a reporter out to ask the man's wife how she felt about it all.

The lady was pretty well fed up with the steady stream of callers, as can easily be imagined; but the interesting thing about it is that the one she seemed to resent the most was an investment broker who submitted a carefully itemized investment plan to take care of the prize money sensibly. What she objected to was the fact that this man's scheme was altogether too sensible; it would have accounted for every penny, leaving no smallest loophole for a little free and easy spending just for the fun of it.

Perhaps this is not the best moment to suggest that there can be limits to the virtue of thrift. Yet it is somehow refreshing to run across a person who understands that money is valuable only if it helps one to get a little more fun out of life.

We all want security, of course. Yet for most of us, the measure of security which we get is apt to depend pretty largely on forces over which we have no control whatever. We can save for a rainy day as valourously as we please, but if economic maladjustment sends us a whole succession of cloudbursts the best umbrella we buy will be inadequate.

Meanwhile, the money we do get is paid for by hard work. What do we buy with it? Food, lodging, clothing—and such little extras as we can afford. And often enough it is on those extras that a good part of the fun of living depends.

Maybe it is foolish, in a way, to take hard-earned cash and spend it on a trip to Yellowstone—or on a new car, a recreation room, a set of season tickets to the local music association's concerts, or anything else that isn't absolutely necessary. But it is foolishness of that kind that helps to make life enjoyable.

Also, in a perverted sort of way, that kind of spending is a pretty fair sort of hedge against hard times. For when you have spent your money on something you wanted and have had your fun with it, you've had something no future depression is going to take away from you. If you lose your job next fall, or all your investments go sour, or you have to start supporting your son-in-law, that can't rob you of a good time you've already had.

And perhaps the present is a good time for a little disquisition on the virtues of spending, after all. A business revival is on the way; the seers seem to agree that it will be helped along by a "buy now" campaign. A too-thrifty people can choke off that revival before it got started.

In any case, there's a lot to be said for this Cleveland woman's rebellion against the "too sensible" plan for handling her money. The really sensible way, often enough is the one which allows for some totally unnecessary spending.

Monday's Menu: BREAKFAST: Prepared grapefruit, hot cereal, ham and eggs, golden muffins, date lime jam, coffee, milk.

DINNER: Roast beef, horseradish brown gravy, Yorkshire pudding, steamed cauliflower, green beans, lettuce and green pepper salad, apple pie with melted cheese, coffee, milk.

SUPPER: Cold roast beef, hashed brown potatoes, relishes, baking powder biscuits, apple jelly, stewed fruit, sponge cake, tea, milk.

so that pieces in diamond shapes will be the result. Top each piece with one marshmallow to represent a high hat. If the cake has been baked in muffin tins, frost each cake with the icing and then place a marshmallow on top. Here's another pleasant oddity. Dates and fresh limes, nuts and orange go into one jam recipe.

Date Lime Jam

One package pasteurized dates, 3 cups water, 3-4 cup sugar, 1 orange, 1-2 cup chopped nuts, 1-8 cup fresh lime juice. Pit and chop dates. Add water and cook until soft. Add lime juice, peel of orange in very thin slices and sugar. Cook slowly until a jam-like consistency and orange is tender, (about 35 minutes). Add nuts just before removing from fire. Pour into sterilized jars and seal.

CISCO BEATS RANGER ON ARMISTICE DAY IN DECISIVE 27-0 SPRING

The Ranger Bulldogs played three quarters of good football against the Cisco Lobes Armistice Day at Bulldog Stadium, and then looked ragged during the last quarter while Cisco was running up a total of three touchdowns to raise their 7-to-0 lead to 27 to 0 at the final gun.

Marcell Harrison, the smaller of the two huge Harrison twins, scored in the first quarter for the Lobes, when Odell intercepted a Ranger pass on the Ranger 32-yard line, laterelled off to Marcell on the 28, from which point he stepped off the remaining distance to the goal line. Reames added the extra point.

From then on until the fourth quarter a stubborn Bulldog defense held the Lobes at bay, though they were several times when it appeared the visitors would break loose with a scoring spree.

Shortly after the fourth quarter opened, with the score still 7 to 6 for the Lobes, Marcell Harrison raved around from his end position, skirted his other end and raved 28 yards to score. From then on the touchdowns came rapidly. Only 36 plays later the other Harrison twin, Odell, slipped around his left end, when the Ranger right end sucked in badly, and raved 72 yards to pay dirt, with some good blocking by his teammates as he made the gallop. Reames failed to kick goal.

Public Support Of Traffic Safety Is Urged By Rutland

By United Press
DALLAS, Texas.—Chairman C. J. Rutland of the Texas State Traffic commission is urging that the public demand support of public officials and lawmakers of moves toward additional traffic safety.

"The traffic menace is the greatest ever to confront any people," Rutland said in an address to the Dallas Salesmanship club. "Municipalities and states have always been willing to appropriate money for problems of public health, crime prevention and other projects, but so far the traffic problem hasn't received any money."

"The time has come when the people should approve public officials who realize the responsibility they have in this respect, and who meet this problem as they do others."

Rutland urged the salesmanship club and similar organizations to demand that public officials and lawmakers wholeheartedly support safety projects. He urged that the public "stand back of officials who are helping to solve the traffic safety problem."

Rutland, who also is chairman of the Dallas Citizens Traffic commission, said that reductions in traffic mishaps here had saved the city $750,000. He said that fatalities here since last Jan. 1 were 20, as compared with 43 in the previous year, and that traffic injuries had been reduced in ratio.

Smuggled Liquor Is Found To Be Tea

EL PASO, Tex.—The next time El Pasoans are offered "tea" by smugglers they will take care to be sure they aren't sold real tea.

Two men dressed in muddy clothes and wet boots entered a filling station, carrying a large bundle, and offered to sell the station operators part of a "load of fine liquor" they said they had just carried across the Rio Grande. They were willing to dispose of it at a big sacrifice to avoid discovery and arrest.

The station operators carefully examined the bottles, labels and stamps. Satisfied with the guarantees, they bought a quantity of the liquor, then directed the smugglers to other customers—friends of the filling station men who also would be delighted to buy at such bargain prices.

Later in the day they took down the bottles for a nip. All of them contained real tea.

"HENOMETER" STAMPS EGGS

By United Press
SYDNEY, Australia.—Hens in Australia will soon be punching time clocks just like office and factory workers. A "Henometer" has been invented, which will automatically stamp each egg with the breed of the hen and the date of the egg. The device is intended to prevent the sale of preserved eggs for fresh ones.

WHAT'S IN THE BOTTLE?

If it's a bottle of medicine, you can't tell what's inside (except that it's probably something bitter). You must trust your doctor—trust that he has followed your doctor's orders—trust that he has used only fresh drugs of the highest grade.

Your own doctor will tell you that we are worthy of this trust. When you have a prescription filled here, you don't have to wonder "what's in the bottle."

Above all, you must have faith that he has compounded your prescription properly, for unlike recipes, they rarely state HOW the ingredients should be mixed.

N. Y. TESTS PROVE WOMEN CAN LOSE FAT

Ask Your Doctor If It Isn't Good Way. Read EVERY Word

NEW YORK, N. Y.—A test conducted by a prominent N. Y. physician and a nationally known newspaper woman proved there is a harmless, effective way to lose fat. If you'll only STICK TO IT and give it a fair trial.

In 40 days, 25 women lost a total of 286 lbs. EVERY woman lost fat—the average loss per woman being 11 1/2 pounds. The women first of all ate sensibly. And for proper functioning they took a little daily dose of Kruschen salts. If you have the slightest doubt about this Plan, just ask your own doctor about its safety and merit.

And this is important to know: Kruschen is not just one salt as some people may ignorantly believe. Rather, it's a blend of 4 active mineral salts (see box) which, when dissolved in water, make a healthful mineral drink similar to the waters of famous European spas where wealthy fat women have gone for years.

Here's the Kruschen Plan: Just take a half teaspoonful of Kruschen in hot water every morning for better functioning. Go right on fatty foods and sweets—not plentifully of lean meats, fresh fruits and green vegetables. Plan to do this faithfully for 40 days and see if you don't lose fat and feel healthier and younger. A jar costs but a few cents and makes 8 gallons of a most highly efficient mineral health water. At drug stores everywhere.

LOVERS AWEIGH

BY BETTY WALLACE

CAST OF CHARACTERS
JUDY ALCOFF—admiral's daughter. She faced a choice between two navy suitors.

Yet the look on his face meant more than mere routine flights. There was more to it than that. She asked swiftly, "Casualties?"

know. But when he had to shove off, she got mad, and ran away. I guess he—he went to her hotel first and he—he wants to ask me about it.

CHAPTER VI

AS Judy Alcott walked out of the Coronado Hotel, with the memory of Marvel Hastings' white face and narrowed green eyes throbbing inside her, she thought slowly, "I ought to hate her. But I don't. I feel sorry for her. She's in love with him, and she's so unsure."

That meant he had not been flying long. She felt a little sick. There were not so many casualties now as there used to be, her father said, proudly. The navy was building some real flyers.

The ships came back in four days. Judy stood on the pier, watching the liberty boats put into the water. And a few hours later Jack came to see her.

He patted her reassuringly. The tired eyes came alive. "I'm careful. I—I didn't think you'd care much—though—"

So now she was glad to see him, and yet intermingled with her gladness was the memory of that lie. She wondered if he would refer to it. But he did not. He only said, "Hello, Judy," and she said, "Hello. You look all right!"

"Of course I care!" she said. The doorbell rang. She leaped to her feet. "That must be Dwight."

"I know it. But she just wouldn't listen." Dwight's face seemed to be growing paler. He said, "Los Angeles. Well, I know where she is. With those friends of hers, I'll go after her." But then he said, "Still, you shouldn't have let her go, Judy."

"What could I do to stop her?" Judy asked. Dwight said, with an odd laugh, "You could have stopped her, all right. Girls can get along with one another if they want to. Maybe she—she sort of got the idea you didn't care much."

Pneumonia Season Now Approaching

AUSTIN, Tex.—"Though pneumonia may and does occur at all seasons of the year, the winter months see the highest incidence of this disease. With relatively few cases during the summer, an increase in pneumonia is observed with the advent of Fall, usually quite noticeable in November, which continues through December, January, February and March before the number of cases again declines to the "warm weather" level.

causes will always remain the same. "In many cases a cold is pneumonia's forerunner. If one reasonably abides by the rules of personal hygiene involving the use of proper foods in proper amounts, sufficient sleep, adequate exercise, the maintenance of a healthy indoor temperature, clothes geared to the thermometer rather than to fashion, the avoidance of the excessive use of stimulants of all kinds and the elimination of debilitating habits, many colds which might lead to pneumonia can be avoided," Dr. Cox stated.

LABOR pneumonia is an infectious disease. In well over 90 percent of the cases it is caused by one of the thirty-two types of the pneumococcus germ. Against some but by no means all of these varieties of the pneumococcus, serums have been developed which have

Mrs. M. H. Hagaman Inducted Into Office

Mrs. M. H. Hagaman returned today from Austin, where she attended the state convention of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, at the close of which she was inaugurated as president of the sixth district of the federation. The inauguration took place Thursday evening in the Driekill hotel, and was regarded by veteran club women as one of the most brilliant occasions in federation history.

During the dinner which preceded the inauguration, delegates and guests were entertained by a chorus from Southwestern university, directed by Mme. Margarita Slaviansky, with Mlle. Mara Slaviansky as soloist and accompanist. Seven numbers with a marked Russian interpretation were given.

At the close of the dinner, Mrs. Krey, author of "and—Tell of Time," was presented and with her Southern charm spoke of her beloved Texas, and gave some suggestions as to the writing of ovals.

Inducted into office along with Mrs. Hagaman were the other seven district presidents and the state officers which are as follows:

Mrs. Joseph Perkins, Eastland, president; Mrs. George Cox, Austin, first vice president; Mrs. Fred A. White, Port Arthur, second vice president; Mrs. Van Hook Stubbs, Wortham, secretary, and Mrs. J. W. Walker, Plainview, treasurer.

Business sessions of the convention were held in the Senate chamber of the state capitol. Routine business held the attention of the delegates in the morning sessions, while special business and guest speakers featured the afternoon sessions. Evenings were filled by dinners and receptions.

The highlight of the business sessions was the refinancing of the state clubhouse at Austin. The finance plan was worked out by Mrs. O. H. Carlisle of Houston in collaboration with some of the state's leading financiers and was hailed as the outstanding financial accomplishment of the federation.

Among the social features of the convention was a reception for delegates and guests given by Mrs. James V. Allred in the governor's mansion, a program presenting Mrs. Allred in piano solo and presenting the a cappella choir of North Texas State Teachers college of Denton, which was directed by Dr. Wilfred C. Bain.

Many prominent men and women served as guest speakers. Among them were: Mrs. Saidie Orr Dunbar, president of the general federation; Mrs. John L. Whitehurst, vice president of the general federation; Mrs. David S. Long, general federation chairman of juniors; Mrs. R. W. Goddard, president of the New Mexico federation; Mrs. J. Frank Dobie; Dr. J. A. Hill, president, West Texas State Teachers college, Canyon; Dr. T. O. Walton, president, A. & M. college; Judge Richard Critz, Austin; Dr. L. H. Hubbard, president, Texas State College for Women; Hon. Roy Miller, Corpus Christi; Dr. E. B. Walford, director, public health district two, Mineral Wells, and Dr. H. W. Morelock, president, Sul Ross State Teachers college, Alpine.

Delegates from clubs in Ranger were Mrs. James Turner from the New Era club and Mrs. John Ducker from the 1920 club.

Marriage of Miss Reba Brandon and Norman Davenport.
Solemnized Thursday

Miss Reba Brandon became the bride of Norman Davenport at 8:30 p. m. Thursday at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Y. D. McMurry, Monahan.

The bride is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. A. E. Wilkins of Covington, Okla., and Mr. Davenport the son of Mrs. Lottie Davenport, Ranger.

The ceremony was read by Rev. Faust before an improvised altar of greenery, centered with a tall basket of pink snapdragons, white cathedral tapers in candelabra burned at each side of the altar.

Before the ceremony, Miss Naomi McGinley and Miss Jean Warner sang "I Love You Truly."

The bride wore an ice blue satin wedding gown with silver accessories, and carried an arm bouquet of sweet peas and carnations.

A reception was held after the ceremony.

Normandy lace covered the refreshment table, which was centered with a two-tiered wedding cake, topped by a miniature bridal couple, and surrounded by pink sweet peas. Pink tapers burned in silver candelabra.

Mrs. A. E. Wilkins, mother of the bride, and Mrs. Deway McGinley presided.

Mrs. Davenport is surgical nurse at the Turney hospital and Mr. Davenport is employed by the Monahan Motor company.

They will make their home in Monahan.

Out-of-town guests included Mrs. A. E. Wilkins of Covington, Okla.; Mrs. Lottie Davenport of Ranger, and Mr. and Mrs. J. U. Shepperd of Alpine.

HELP! New Deal About Got Us

Brethren: Since the New Deal has ruled that newspapers are under the Wage and Hour Law, it becomes necessary that we work only 44 hours per week in the composing room. This means that Whitey and Joe are going to do their best to keep out of jail and get all advertising copy to the printers on the afternoon of the day before the advertisements are to run in the "Great Headlight."

So please, all advertisers and would-be advertisers, help us by giving us your copy on the day before the ad is to appear. You know, it would not be right for us to go to jail! Or would it?

In all seriousness, we have a problem and are asking each business man who handles the advertising for his business to please work with us so that we can keep the letter of the law as well as give you the cooperation needed to get your message out to the public on schedule. Thanks a lot!
