NAVY IS FAR UNDER PAR IN ITS DESTROYERS

By OTTO JANSSEN
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON—The United States' deficiency in destroyers and submarine-craft is causing increasing concern in the Japanese and Italian navies—two of the most powerful in the world.

On paper, this country has about 275 destroyers, but fewer than 50 of these are regarded as modern. In the submarine category, United States has 116 vessels, but only 23 are up-to-date. The apprehension with which naval officials regard this situation was shown in a recent remark of Rear Admiral C. H. Woodard, commander of the Third Naval District. He said it was no secret that this country is "woefully weak" in these two classes.

Building Program Rushed
The Roosevelt administration has been trying to overcome the shortcomings in these categories. More than 6 destroyers and about 50 submarine-craft are being projected, or have been completed recently, but even when these are finished the United States will be far short of its aim to have a naval force capable of defending the nation against an enemy navy or a combination of both.

Ninety of the total number of destroyers are out of commission. Of those in actual service, 60 are at the age regarded as the maximum for efficient service. Compared with the 50 modern destroyers in the United States fleet, recent statistics show that Japan has 82 that are under-age, France 61, Britain 83, Germany has 22 under-age, according to available figures, but the close cooperation of Rome and Berlin has led some observers to take the total of Germany's and Italy's forces in computing potential military, air and naval strengths.

Paper Strength Great
In the submarine class, the United States has more vessels than any of the other major powers, with the possible exception of Italy. But this is only "paper" strength. Thirty-three of these no longer are in service and 30 more are afloat but beyond the efficient service age.

Best available information from sources shows that Italy has 73 submarines under-age; France 76; Japan 44; Britain 21 and Germany 36.

In view of this nation's need for ships of the larger categories—battleships, cruisers and aircraft carriers—the shortage is considered especially serious. The submarine is the principal menace to these types of vessels. Its "natural prey" is the destroyer.

The new building program will, to a large extent, make up the deficiencies but naval experts still feel more of these vessels are needed.

A.F. of L. Protests On Profit-Sharing Plan

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—President William Green of the American Federation of Labor today a senate financing committee today the federation opposes use of federal profit sharing systems.

Green said labor was not opposed to the principles involved in profit sharing, but does not favor the way in which it is operated.

Wahler Hearing Is Delayed to Allow Probe of Murders

DANVILLE, Ill., Nov. 23.—Hearing on a request for removal of Leo Wahler to Los Angeles to face trial for transporting a stolen automobile was postponed indefinitely today to allow G-men to question Wahler regarding slayings in Texas and California.

Wahler was held in jail on $10,000 bond on the charge of transporting a stolen car from Los Angeles to Arizona. G-man H. Fitzsimmons questioned him in connection with the desert murder of Mrs. Weston Frome and her daughter, Nancy, in West Texas.

He also sought information about killing of a man in a holdup in Los Angeles. Wahler said he was at the scene of the robbery but left before the killing.

France Is Faced With General Strike

PARIS, Nov. 23.—France faced a general strike involving millions of workers today.

An immediate crisis was averted because Premier Daladier hesitated to cancel the visit of Prime Minister Chamberlain of Great Britain and call on parliament for a vote of confidence unless the finance commission approve his drastic financial decrees.

Millions of workers waited a meeting of the administrative council of the Federation of Labor, which already has been empowered to complete arrangements for a general strike. The council will organize a nationwide demonstration Saturday against decrees which increased the taxes and hours of workers.

Hungarian Premier Overruled In Vote

BUDAPEST, Hungary, Nov. 23.—Parliament overruled Premier Imredy today and his resignation was believed certain.

Imredy's defeat was caused, chiefly, by the cessation of many members of the chamber of deputies from the government party. The majority of deputies had protested Imredy's plan to limit debate on important bills. They charged he was using "dictatorship" methods.

Others protested the policy and Jews.

Communist Action Told to Committee

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—Sam Baron, newspaperman, and until yesterday a member of the socialist party, told the house committee investigating un-American activities that the communist party instituted a reign of terror in Loyalist Spain.

He testified that Spanish Loyalists officials told him they disapproved of communist practices, but were unable to do anything because the only place they could obtain supplies was from Communist Russia.

Baron said many Americans are in Spanish communist jails, "and the only thing to do to get them out is give publicity to their cases."

Government Urged To Sell Barge Lines

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—A transportation conference considering rehabilitation for railroads, recessed today after demanding that the federal government sell its barge lines to eliminate "unfair competition" with railroads and truckers.

The conference will meet again before congress convenes.

France and Germany Reach Agreement

PARIS, Nov. 23.—An agreement between France and Germany not to take recourse to war in event of dispute has been completed, the foreign office announced today. It will be published soon.

STRIKES TIE UP INDUSTRY IN THE NATION

CHICAGO, Nov. 23.—Directors of the Chicago Livestock Exchange suspended trading today because of a strike of members of the Livestock Handlers' Union, a CIO affiliate.

Charles Rice, president of the exchange, said the market would remain closed over the Thanksgiving holiday, but declined to forecast what action would be taken on Friday.

The union had permitted the commission men to go into the yards Tuesday and clear large stocks of hogs, cattle and sheep from the pens. Today, Rice said, there were only a few animals remaining.

BAYTOWN, Tex., Nov. 22.—Work on a new $1,500,000 plant at Humble Oil Company's refinery was halted today by a strike of the plumbers, steamfitters and pipe fitters union.

The union men struck after the construction company which held contracts on the plant refused to pay the wage scale prevailing in Houston.

DETROIT, Nov. 22.—An immediate strike at the Packard Motor Company plant was averted today when United Automobile Workers union members were ordered to remain at their jobs pending negotiations with company officials.

Sweet Potato Is Important Crop Throughout South

COLLEGE STATION, Tex.—The sweet potato is the most important vegetable crop in the South, according to R. E. Wright of the Texas A. & M. sweet potato experiment station at Gilmer.

In relation to its importance the sweet potato crop has been neglected by scientific workers, and there has been little improvement in varieties since they were introduced into the South from the Caribbean Islands and South America, Mr. Wright declared.

The average yield in the East Texas area is about 75 bushels per acre, with only about 50 per cent desirable for market. It is the purpose of the laboratory to point the way toward larger yields and to aid in removing the lower grades of sweet potatoes from commercial markets.

The experiment station urges growers to head only U. S. No. 1 potatoes. Seed potatoes of the Porto Rican variety should have a copper colored skin and orange colored flesh.

Although the Porto Rico is recognized as the leading commercial variety at the present time, eight leading varieties of other areas which compete on the market with the Porto Rico are being tested.

The Triumphs, primarily a starch variety, has produced the highest yield, 248 bushels. The Louisiana Unit 1 was second with 232 bushels while the common strain Porto Rico was eighth, with 162 bushels.

Use of fertilizers in various proportions to increase yield also is being tested, and some interesting results have been obtained. The amount of nitrogen, phosphorus and potash was varied and in the rate of application test, 400 pounds of 4-12-4 produced 212 bushels, 115 of U. S. No. 1 potatoes. In the test in which the proportions were varied the formula 1-12-6 produce a total yield of 211 bushels per acre, 121 bushels being U. S. No. 1. It is interesting to note that the higher percentages of potash resulted in more No. 1 potatoes.

Wallace Opposing Higher Express Rates

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—Secretary of Agriculture Wallace today asked the Interstate Commerce Commission to reject the application of the American Express Agency for an increase in rates.

Specifically objecting to increased rates on agricultural products, Wallace warned higher charges might divert traffic to other forms of transportation.

Dramatic Moment at 'Torture' Trial

Tick Eradication Covers 61 Counties

The Livestock Sanitary Commission of Texas in conjunction with the Bureau of Animal Industry conducted activities for the prevention and eradication of the fever carrying tick in 61 counties in Texas for the month of October.

Fifteen whole and parts of five other counties are engaged in systematic tick eradication work. Twenty-five counties are released from both Federal and State quarantine but still contain a small number of quarantine herds that are being systematically treated.

The remaining 16 and parts of three counties are also released from quarantine but are counties in which inspections or dippings or both are done in accordance with State and Federal requirements.

47,817 herds and 748,615 cattle, horses, mules, jacks and ponies were dipped or inspected. 22 herds and 42 livestock were inspected found to be infested with fever tick.

2,416 herds and 31,504 livestock are being held for further systematic treatment.

Meteorites Are Not So Very Valuable Astronomer Says

AUSTIN, Texas.—The sale of meteorites does not bring a quick fortune as is popularly supposed, Dr. E. G. Keller, professor of applied mathematics and astronomy at The University of Texas recently stated.

Dr. Keller, who constantly receives letters from Texans asking how much they can get for meteorites they have found, said the price is one dollar a pound for metal meteorites and but little more for rock meteorites. Typical of the ideas about the value of these astronomical bodies was a recent letter from a man who believed they sold for $720 an ounce. He explained that the chief use of meteorites is in scientific exhibits in museums.

"One of the chief deposits of meteorite fragments in the world is located about 10 miles from the McDonald Observatory near Odessa, Texas," Dr. Keller said.

There are but few meteor craters in the world, and the one in Texas is comparatively large, being about six hundred feet in diameter.

The South Plains region in Hale and adjacent counties is also a fertile field for surface meteorite fragments and many fine specimens have been found there.

ALASKA MAY BE A HAVEN FOR REFUGEES

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—Secretary of Interior Ickes today suggested the possibility of considering Alaska as a haven for refugees from Germany, and other European nations.

Ickes pointed out that Alaska is the only U. S. possession not fully developed. He added that he favors doing everything possible to assist refugees.

Ickes was asked if he would recommend Alaska as a haven to President Roosevelt.

"Well, I wouldn't go that far," he said.

The administration has used Alaska as a site for an experimental settlement in the Matanuska Valley. Families who were unable to find adequate living conditions were transplanted to the valley.

Ickes said that in event of further agricultural development of the valley by refugees natural professional and industrial development would follow.

Farmer Asks Aid In Protecting His Farm From Deer

STEPHENVILLE, Nov. 23.—Farmer E. M. Beckworth has appealed to game officials for protection against deer—which already are protected from hunters.

Beckworth, whose farm is near here, appealed to County Agricultural Agent C. D. Everett, asking through him if he could collect any indemnity for damages done by the "big game." The question has been referred to Game Warden John Wood at Brownwood.

Beckworth's farm adjoins the Three-Circle Ranch of Erath County, where a herd of deer were installed several years ago. The deer are protected there from hunters, in and out of the deer hunting season.

Now, Beckworth claims, some of the deer have slipped into his fields at night, eaten all his hogan tops, and have begun on his pea crop.

Honor Barnharts At Four-H Party Given at Kokomo

Hugh F. Barnhart, assistant county agent, and Mrs. Barnhart were honored Tuesday night at a farewell party at the Kokomo 4-H clubhouse.

The party was sponsored by 4-H girls and boys of the community with their parents also attending. Presents given Mr. and Mrs. Barnhart included a bedspread, a pumpkin and a turkey.

Barnhart and Mrs. Barnhart responded to talks given by Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Higginbotham, 4-H club sponsors, and Neil Eaves of the Kokomo club.

Fine Is Levied On All German Jews

BERLIN, Nov. 23.—The government today levied a fine of 20 per cent on all Jewish property holdings of more than $2,000. It was believed the means whereby the government will collect its $400,000,000 fine on the Jewish community at large.

Foreign Jews were exempt. The levy will be exacted from Jews who are German subjects or who are without citizenship.

Well In Coleman Assures Pay From Ranger Lime Area

Ranger lime pay for the old Echo pool of Coleman county was apparently assured as operators of the Brannon and Murray No. 1 Dibrill reported the well to be heading at hourly intervals through six-inch casing.

It was reported that the well was believed good for 150 barrels daily at its present depth and acid treatment might boost the pay. The oil was reported 44.8 gravity.

Located in the J. W. Hicks survey, the well topped lime at 3,155 feet and found it broken with short to 3,157 feet, where the first oil was picked up. Same formation was drilled to 3,182 feet, total depth, where an increase was found in solid lime. Pipe was set around 3,160 feet.

Operators planned to test several days before additional work. The pool is 10 miles northeast of Coleman, has its production in Fry sand around 1,900. In 1927 a test was drilled to the Ranger 400 feet south of the present well and it showed oil, but was never completed.

Printer Is Indicted In Mother's Death

BAIRD, Nov. 23.—The 42d district court grand jury Tuesday indicted Floyd Pretz, 20, for murder of his mother, Mrs. Annie Pretz, 45, after a few hours of investigation.

District Attorney J. R. Black said Pretz, who is being held without bail, would probably be arraigned Friday morning. The court term ends Saturday.

Mrs. Pretz died at her home here last Wednesday with a .22 caliber rifle bullet wound in her head. Pretz was arrested last Friday.

County Attorney F. E. Mitchell obtained a statement from the youth, in which he said the shooting of his mother was not accidental.

Officers Seeking A Prison Breaker

JACKSONVILLE, Texas, Nov. 23.—Texas Rangers, Highway Patrolmen and officers from four counties contending searching in Jack county today for Horace Posey, 20, fugitive from a Texas prison farm.

Hugh Nix, 24, Posey's companion in the break, and in two gun fights with Fort Worth officers Monday night and Tuesday, was captured. He believed that Posey was wounded in an exchange of shots near Vineyard yesterday with two Fort Worth detectives.

Nix surrendered Tuesday afternoon.

Marginal Well Law Test Is Welcomed

AUSTIN, Nov. 23.—Chairman Ernest O. Thompson of the Texas Railroad Commission today "welcomed" the opportunity to test the meaning of the marginal oil well law, afforded by a suit against Saturday-Sunday closing of Texas oil fields.

A temporary hearing on an injunction against enforcement of shutdown orders has been set for Dec. 7 here.

Evergreens Planted At 4-H Clubhouse

Miss Mabel Caldwell, assistant county home agent, announced plans for beautification of the 4-H clubhouse, park and school grounds at Kokomo are progressing.

A nursery at Stephenville has donated two Evergreen shrubs for planting on clubhouse grounds. Twenty-five wax leaf ligustrum cuttings have already been set out on the grounds.

COLD WILL BE FELT IN ALL PARTS OF STATE

Ten degree weather at Lubbock Wednesday presaged a wintry Thanksgiving Day for all Texas.

The blizzard that extended through Central Texas struck the coastal regions late Wednesday, sending the mercury to near the freezing mark.

The cold, U. S. Weather Bureau forecast, will abate slightly Thursday in the Panhandle, but was to continue through North and Central Texas.

Lubbock with 10 degrees was the coldest point in Texas Wednesday. It was 15 at Amarillo, 22 at Abilene, 27 at Dallas, and 46 at San Antonio and Houston.

Snow was falling at Denver, Colo., and temperatures there ranged from 16 to 20 degrees. Rain fell at Brownsville and other places along the lower Texas coast.

The forecast assured that clouds would vacate Texas skies, generally, by Thursday.

CHICAGO, Nov. 23.—The weather will be "just right" for a brisk walk after that heavy Thanksgiving dinner.

U. S. Forecaster C. A. Donnell predicted that "clear and crisp" weather will prevail Thursday over almost the entire nation.

AUSTIN, Nov. 23.—The public safety department today sent 260 patrolmen to strategic points for double duty until next Monday morning, when the heaviest and most reckless traffic movements of the year are expected.

Football games, hunting trips and the usual holiday visits during the next four days caused predictions of heavy casualties. On past records they looked for 22 deaths and 242 injuries, but hoped to reduce the average.

America Counts Many Blessings

This ought to be a good Thanksgiving Day. First of all, the season has been bountiful. The yield of our farms has been good, trade and industry seem to be picking up speed again, and most Americans will be able to sit down to a big dinner commemorating those facts.

But Thanksgiving has come to be more than just a seasonal feast. It has become a time for casting up our national accounts so we can see how we have fared during the last 12 months; a time for looking both to the past and to the future, and for assessing our own place in the general picture of the world.

And by any of those accounts, we have abundant reason to return devout and heartfelt thanks.

The last eight or nine years have not been easy. They have put our country, probably, to a greater strain than it has suffered since 1865; yet it has stood the strain nobly, and now it is becoming pretty evident that the worst is over.

A great many people have suffered rather severely, but the nation as a whole received no permanent damage—and the signs now are that things are going to go on getting better during the coming year.

If you look overseas, the reason for thanksgiving in America is even clearer.

In Europe and Asia bloody wars are raging; and millions of people have to live under the daily dread that tomorrow it will be their turn. Intolerance and persecution recall the Dark Ages.

From all of that, we are spared.

Alone of the earth's great nations, we can look forward confidently to years of peace—years which we can devote to construction, not to destruction, years which should increase the sum total of human happiness instead of decreasing it.

Truly, if ever a land had reason to return thanks, it is our land!

Thanksgiving Services

BY MRS. GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Service Staff Writer

EVEN the Thanksgiving turkeys have much to be thankful for. In the last few years there has been a great improvement in scientific feeding of turkeys as a result of Government researches. Years ago, the Thanksgiving market offered mostly small birds and only a few large ones, whereas at Christmas, most of the turkeys were large and only a few small. Today, however, you can find all sizes at both festive seasons. The quality and quantity of turkeys shipped to our markets now is evidence that American producers have learned to produce hardier and better fed birds.

Tomorrow's Menu
BREAKFAST: Sliced bananas and dates, dry cereal, parsley omelet, wholewheat toast, jelly, coffee, milk.
LUNCHEON: Split pea soup, tuna fish salad, hard rolls, lime gelatin, tea, milk.
DINNER: Tomato juice, kidney stew, baked potatoes, eight-minute cabbage, brown Betty, cream, coffee, milk.

Texas-A&M Game Will Be Broadcast

Climaxing Thanksgiving Day radio programs in Texas will be the Humble Oil & Refining company's broadcast of the traditional Thanksgiving Day football game between the University of Texas and the Texas Aggies, to be played this year at Memorial Stadium, Austin.

Large Turkey Raising Areas
Some of our Thanksgiving birds are raised on Maryland farms where they grow fat on harvested rice fields—and on Vermont farms. But the largest commercial turkey section is in the northwest, namely Minnesota, North and South Dakota. The next largest turkey producing area is the central and middle western states, Ohio, Missouri, Iowa and Kansas, and the third largest producing section is in the south, including Texas and New Mexico.

Plans Finishing For Organization Of Dance Classes

Plans are being completed for organization of tap dancing classes for children and adults to be offered by Eastland WPA Recreation Project. Tentative dates have been set for classes, children's classes each Saturday at 9 and 10:30 a. m. and a women's class each Thursday at 7:30 p. m. Children are to report this Saturday morning, Nov. 25, in two different age groups for registration. Ages from 4 to 10 years will report at 9:00 a. m. and from 11 to 16 years at 10:30 a. m. These classes are for beginners only and advance tap will not be taught at the present time.

For the benefit of business women, the women's class will be conducted each Thursday night at 7:30 p. m. However due to Thanksgiving on the coming Thursday, the meeting is called for Wednesday night of this week for registration, 7:30 p. m. Nov. 23rd. Those who are unable to attend the meeting may call at the Recreation office, 311 Eastland National Bank building, for registration.

Besides the money taken in by the state and expended by it, there passed through the state treasury $541,427 with which the state had nothing to do either in raising the money or spending it.

Numerous public bond issues specify that payment shall be made at the state treasury. For this purpose the comptroller has set up a "treasurer's fiscal agency fund." Money to pay such bond issues is deposited by the debtors and paid to the bondholders. Most public bonds are made payable at specified New York banks.

Thanksgiving and our friends

... When the Pilgrim fathers landed on the bleak New England shores they took time out to give thanks for the blessings that had been theirs.

And not only that but they laid the foundation of this great nation upon the power of prayer... it is well that we might pattern after some of their examples left by our forefathers and render thanks to our Maker for all the good things that have come to us.

Let us pause and say thanks to all our friends and customers for the many courtesies shown us over the years.

Two songs, "The Spanish Cavalier," and "Gold Mine In the Sky" were presented by Miss Gladys Hicks' sixth grade boys.

The main feature of the program was a panel discussion on "Parent Education." Those taking part in the discussion were: Mrs. Thad Henderson, leader; Mrs. J. W. Harrison, Mrs. Ted May, Mrs. Paul Hodge, Mrs. W. F. Crouch, Mrs. Nonnie A. Smith, Mrs. Geo. Robinson and Mr. Lewis Smith.

Mrs. Geo. Robinson announced there would be a "Country Store" in the gymnasium Friday night, Dec. 9. Prizes will be given for the best performance on the program.

State Dollar Has Been Divided by Geo. H. Sheppard

By United Press
AUSTIN, Texas.—For a number of years State Comptroller George Sheppard has issued a diagram of the "state dollar," illustrating both state taxes and state expenditures.

Radii mark the dollar into sectors like the cuts in a pie. The sectors show the proportionate share of "pie" that goes to each government activity and what proportion of the "pie's" ingredients are furnished from various sources.

It results in many comparisons and groupings. This year's "dollar" probably will furnish more controversy than any state "dollar" of recent years.

A combination of gasoline taxes and automobile licenses shows that the motorist is furnishing about 30 per cent of the states' revenue. Highways usually get a large share of the annual expenditure, but this year the school expenditures passed those for roads.

Public welfare gets $29,352,922 of a total $157,747,877 expenditures. Teacher retirement got $48,254 about evenly divided between general revenue and expense. Pensions from the Mexican War cost the state $600 a year. Confederate pensions cost $1,577,630 but the number of pensioners is decreasing so rapidly that the Legislature doesn't bother to make up a $5,000,000 deficit in that pension fund, believing it soon will balance itself.

Old age assistance drew on the state and federal governments for $9,254,295 each under a matching agreement. Administration of old age assistance took $926,277 more.

Unemployment had a total bill of slightly more than $8,000,000.

THANKSGIVING DAY IN THE GOOD OLD U. S. A.

When that brave band of Pilgrim fathers landed on Plymouth Colony some 317 years ago, they immediately gave thanks for their safe voyage over the stormy Atlantic... it was a great occasion for them... a new nation had been born... a nation of free people.

We, today, give thanks for this great nation and for those sturdy pioneers whose faith and ideals have left us such a wonderful heritage.

Let us take time out now to say to all Ranger, thanks for the nice business you have given us. It is really appreciated.

SERIAL STORY

LOVERS AWEIGH

BY BETTY WALLACE
COPYRIGHT, 1938, NEA SERVICE, INC.

EAST OF CHARACTERS
GANDY ALCOTT—admiral's daughter. She faced a choice between two navy suitors.
D WIGHT CAMPBELL—ambitious lieutenant. He faced a choice between his wife and duty.
JACK HANLEY—flying sailor. He faced a test of a patient love.
MAY HASTINGS—navy wife. She faced the test of being a good sailor.

CHAPTER XV

"HAVEN'T you learned your lesson yet, you idiot?" she asked herself fiercely, after Dwight had gone. Just thinking of the things Marvel Hastings had said to her, that day in the Colorado, when she came to explain about Dwight's going off on the ship, made her blood burn and a shudder pass over her. Certainly Marvel had left no doubt of her opinion, and to cultivate her now—worse, to try to lead her steps aright, as it were—would be sheer folly. "Sticking your neck out!" Yet she had not the heart to refuse Dwight. She loved him. That was the torture of it. Despite everything, she loved him still. Just his presence beside her could make her weak and spineless. The sound of his voice, the touch of his hand. He could get her to do anything he wanted, merely by being Dwight.

She wished furiously that she could be done with it. It was over. Why did her heart still cling to his image, her blood still boil with this agony of wanting? Dwight Campbell was another woman's husband. If someone had told her, a year ago, that she, Judy Alcott, her mother's daughter and Admiral Alcott's daughter, could possibly crawl to a woman who had once insulted her, she would have laughed at them. It couldn't happen. Not to Judy Alcott. Yet all the careful poise was gone. All the knowledge of form and manners, all the subtle shadings of what a girl in her position might do and must not do.

It was only half-past eight when Dwight left. Judy turned her thoughts over in her mind, and suddenly decided to drive over to Diane's.

SHE rang the bell. A light went on over the tiny porch. Diane with a towel around her shoulders opened the door and said, "I was washing my hair. What's the matter?"

"I've got to talk to you. Is Bill home?"
"No. He's on the Enterprise. Deviling aerology or something. They're going out in the morning, and he had until midnight. But—" She laughed. "The honeymoon is over when he doesn't take full advantage of every liberty."
Judy knew better than that. She knew that Diane respected Bill's anxiety about the weather, and she knew, too, that those extra hours of fellowship and work aboard the ship were actually necessary if Bill was to keep up his excellent record.

"Dwight Campbell came to the house tonight," she said. "What shall I do? He wants me to—"
"Don't tell me! Let me guess!" Diane towled her dark hair vigorously, and then let it fall back, a soft cloud of black. "He wants you to explain etiquette. The Navy's own Emily Post."

Judy was silent. Diane said, "I hope you sent him packing!"
"N-no. I didn't."
Diane picked up a comb. "Of all the dimwitted nincompoops I ever saw! You told him you would?"
"That's about it. And please—won't you help me?"

Diane said, "The Navy League for the Rescue of Becalmed Vulgarians in Heavy Seas," she said. "Or be that mixed?"
"I get the idea."
"What do you want me to do? Join you in lecturing?"

"Stop it, Diane. I—this is serious. I thought you—well—we could invite her to bridge, or something."
"At a twentieth of a point?"
Judy said, "Ellen Sharp and Magda Hamilton would come. They're sweet. And that Bostwick girl and—"

"Two tables," said Diane. "And I'd have to feed them. And that girl for Billy."
In the end, she consented. Yet the bridge party was a dismal failure. Marvel insisted on talking about her interior decorator and her new clothes and the housewarming that the other women were uneasily aware was premature.

Magda Hamilton and Diane talked of their children. Marvel's old home town, Memphis, Tenn., said, "They don't have sensational police stories like they used to." And I, remembering how Memphis formerly had led the nation in killings, agreed. At that very hour, the bodies of three men (shot to death in a "gang" quarrel) were being thrown into the Trinity river, a few miles from where we sat!

Jumping around over the map: Sam Day, who gained fame some years ago as "the boy justice of the peace" in Eastland, (he was 22 at the time), is a drill-in in the Odessa oil field.

T. A. Price, staff representative of the Dallas News in Fort Worth, knew Bat Masterson in the final years of the Westerner gun-fighter's life when Bat was writing sports for a New York paper.

Ed Konechey, one of the all-time "greats" of baseball, may manage a league team next season in a Lower Rio Grande valley city. For a champion hard-luck game, get Ed to tell you about the time his team made 12 hits and one run, and the other team 13 hits and eight runs. It was when Cleveland defeated Brooklyn (Konechey's team) in the 1920 world's said, "I don't see how you keep it up! Always talking about babies! It seems to me that if they didn't have any teeth, it would be more remarkable than merely cutting them." She tried to make the remark sound light and humorous, but it fell flat. No one laughed.

At four o'clock she cried, "Mercy, I've got to run! I have a tea date downtown. You'll excuse me?"

They were delighted to see her go, Judy knew. And not once during the afternoon had the conversation turned to the subject Judy had hoped it would. That was odd, because usually politics of a naval description hogged much of the time. Who might be passed over. Was it true that this wife or that had pulled a boner at a reception. That sort of thing.

Jane Bostwick looked out of the window at where Marvel was maneuvering her long, shining car out of the tangle of small, elderly Fords. Jane said, "I suppose I'm jealous."

AND then the post-mortem began. Lieutenant Sharp's wife, a girl who had been a school-teacher in the east, and who had been shy and unsure of herself at first, said, "I feel sorry for her. But she's got it different from most brides. She thinks she's better than the Navy. I thought I wasn't good enough."

"I know one thing," said Magda Hamilton. "I could hardly keep myself from telling her not to order too much food for that housewarming. Nobody will come."
"Why not?" asked Judy quietly.

"She didn't call on the commandant's wife, she didn't even return Mrs. Lane's tea, and that's his skipper, remember! That awful toady, Gertie Hatchett, won't come because she takes a slight to her superiors as a slight to herself. I can't. Tommy won't go. He says this girl is a vixen. The exec's wife told me in a round-about way that she won't come. Who will be there?"

"I will," said Judy.

There was a shocked silence. Then Diane said sensibly, "No you won't, Judy. Not if—"

"I will," said Judy again. "She may not know much about the amenities, but she's Dwight Campbell's wife, and he's a friend of mine. He's a friend of all of you. Mrs. Lane is very fond of him. I'm sure she'll come, returned tea or none. Mother certainly has nothing against her, and if Daddy goes, everybody else will, too!"

That was true enough. The silence deepened. Judy plunged rashly. "Admiral Alcott will be there," she said. "I'll see to it!"

THE Tyrolean hat is here to stay. This undergraduate at the University of Pennsylvania is but one of many who have gone in for extreme Tyrolean hats in a big way. The fancier the brushes, the better.

"I'm a good sport; let's forget it; on with the dance."
He had remembered that, leaving the hotel room, he stuck the money in between the pages of a Gideon Bible.

Not long ago, as I stood on a street corner talking to a friend, there was a crash and we looked around in time to see a shower of glass from the headlights of an automobile and a pedestrian, who had been hit, rolling over and over like a barrel. If motorists, who drive recklessly could see such a scene, hear the groans and behold the blood gushing, they would take an extra minute to drive those seven blocks.

THE well-organized manner in which Louis B. Mayer proceeded to acquire a stable and lay the foundation for one of the larger California breeding establishments is further evidence of the more prominent participation of motion picture personages in racing since pari mutuel betting was legalized in the Golden State five years ago.

Mayer went into the Saratoga sales ring and the open market to buy probably the largest band of thoroughbreds ever imported to California. It included horses in training as well as broodmares, yearlings, and weanlings. The expenditure ran around $300,000.

Candidates Mayer will name to carry his colors in the fifth running of the $100,000 Santa Anita Handicap, March 4, will be Perifox, an American animal which won four stakes in England; Magic Hour, winner of the Lawrence Realization; Brooklyn, winter book favorite for the last Kentucky Derby while the property of Col. Edward Riley Bradley; Quick Devl, Main Man, and Routine.

Harry Cohn takes an active interest in his Jobella Stable. William Le Baron owns in Brown Jade perhaps the most popular horse bred in California since the sport came back there.

BING CROSBY has his own track at Del Mar and has a threat for the Santa Anita Handicap, March 4, will be Perifox, an American animal which won four stakes in England; Magic Hour, winner of the Lawrence Realization; Brooklyn, winter book favorite for the last Kentucky Derby while the property of Col. Edward Riley Bradley; Quick Devl, Main Man, and Routine.

Joe E. Brown hopes Cascabelito, Argentine flyer which cost him a pretty penny, gets over his liveness to be a contender for top stakes at Santa Anita. Barbara Stanwyck and Chico Marx own the breeding establishment, Marwyck Ranch. They recently purchased the sire, Sexton. Jean Chabrun and her husband, Frank Orsatti, are so occupied starting their breeding place that she sold her stable to Louis B. Mayer.

Alfred E. Greene was among the first to start a breeding farm, and has horses in training. Mae West is interested in a stable that runs in the name of her brother, Jack. Spencer Tracy, Robert Taylor, Mervyn LeRoy, Pat O'Brien, Oliver Hardy, Walter Connolly, Howard Hawks, and John Meehan sport owner's badges.

JOCK WHITNEY represents Selsnick's International. William Goetz has a gray flyer in Count Edward. Raoul Walsh is still striving to bring a galloper from Europe capable of winning the Big Cap.

Dave Butler, who won the President Roosevelt Cup with his sprinter, Manner's Man, two years ago, has a half dozen back from a swing of eastern tracks.

John Cromwell's 2-year-old, Vailey Lass, rears favorite for the California Breeders' Championship, which features the opening program at Santa Anita Park, Dec. 31. Robert Riskin has Dogaway, a sprinter, and is in partnership with Ethel Hill in Mar Pal and others.

The motion picture colony has gone crazy about horses, and why not? Picture people own handsome Hollywood Park at Inglewood.

And the Los Angeles Turf Club, of which Hal E. Roach is president, alone establishes an all-time world record by distributing close to $1,000,000 in stakes and purses in 52 days this winter.

Married to 'Dead' man

She has been married to a man officially declared dead 14 years ago after a supposed suicide. She discovered that fact when her husband was arrested in Los Angeles. He is Davis R. MacDonald, former Fresno resident, who assumed the name of Julian E. Davis.

THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON WITH BOONEY BULLOCK

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON—Tom Dewey will continue to be a Republican presidential possibility, despite his defeat by Gov. Herbert Lehman.

Only a few votes—less than 70,000 among nearly 5,000,000—have kept Dewey from becoming almost a sure-shot for the 1940 nomination and reduced him to the ranks on a more or less even basis with other G. O. P. hopefuls. The group now includes two other New Yorkers, Mayor LaGuardia, who already seems to be flirting with the third party idea, and Bruce Barton. Their names would have been erased from the board had Dewey become governor.

As New York's district attorney, crusading against racketeering and political corruption, Dewey can continue to build up both his position as the party's "glamor boy" and his national prestige as a public official who gave Roosevelt, Farley and New Dealers the scare of their lives. You can expect him to declare himself frequently on public issues other than crime.

Such, at least, is the view of liberals prominent in the New York G. O. P. organization, who supported Dewey in his effort to sever ties with the "old gang" and "remake" the party. Significantly, or not, neither Herbert Hoover nor National Chairman John Hampton became identified with the Dewey campaign.

Republican victors have yet to make their records as senators and governors. But the hottest piece of presidential timber in the new crop appears to be Senator-elect Robert A. Taft of Ohio, who defeated Senator Robert J. Bulkley in an outstanding test of New Deal sentiment. Taft showed up as an able campaigner. Governor-elect Arthur James of Pennsylvania, victor in the largest state recaptured by Republicans, will loom stronger if he dis-tingles himself from ultra-conservative, old guard backing. Governor-elect Leverett Saltonstall of Massachusetts seems over-shadowed in experience and prestige by young Senator Henry Cabot Lodge of the same state. Governor-elect Frank Fitzgerald of Michigan probably would be considered after Senator Vandenberg.

Nomination chances of other G. O. P. winners, for geographical or other reasons, are at the time only in the long-shot class.

It's none too easy to fit LaGuardia's presidential aspirations into the 1940 picture. Defeat of the LaFollette in Wisconsin and Farmer-Laborite Governor Benson in Minnesota confuses the prospect of a merger of left-wing parties with left-wing Democrats, in which LaGuardia might be chosen to tote the flag.

In the New York race, LaGuardia distanced Lehman thoroughly, cared little for Dewey, but maintained a strong personal-political devotion to President Roosevelt. His closest advisers told him he had no future in the Democratic party and his common sense told him that if Dewey became the nation's Number One Republican, he himself wouldn't have a peck at the 1940 nomination.

Roosevelt pleaded with LaGuardia to endorse Lehman. "No time to be a mugwump, Fiorelli!" he said. LaGuardia retorted, in effect, that Roosevelt and other New Dealers had taught him to dislike Lehman and that his dislike was now too deep-seated to allow him to publicly repudiate it. Roosevelt warned him that if he endorsed Dewey, things would "never be the same again" when the mayor came to the White House.

In the end LaGuardia made a public appearance with Lehman and endorsed him inferentially without urging his re-election. Democratic leaders are appreciative.

I Give You Texas

BY BOYCE HOUSE

These lines are being written at Inspiration Point, 10 miles from Fort Worth. There is a stone shelter house open to the breezes from any direction and there is a big fireplace because—in the evenings—this is a popular spot for picnickers. But this sunny November morning, my portable typewriter and I have the place all to ourselves. The haze of autumn hangs over the hills; the blue water of Lake Worth ripples at the touch of a light wind; leaves are changing to red and yellow and, in the valley, birds circle and float, nearly a hundred feet above the ground but still lower than where I sit.

Ah, the marvelous climate of Texas! (Probably, by the time these lines see print, the kitchen pipes will be frozen.)

Memories of a reporter: One Saturday night, sitting under a tree on the lawn of the old Fort Worth police station, a night watchman (who formerly lived in Weatherford, besides being famous for watermelons, was the home of the last Confederate veteran who was governor and the town was (or is) the home of a princess, a famous portrait painter, a member of the original Florida sextette and a successful novelist.

Several friends living in a Central Texas town were in Corpus Christi. The day's business done, they decided to walk around the town. First, however, all the "fold ing money" was turned over to the oldest in the group. They saw a taxi-dance sign, went into the hall and were having an enjoyable time until the man who had been entrusted with the money discovered that it was missing.

"Stop the dance! I've been robbed!" he shouted.

In the midst of the ensuing excitement, he raised a hand for attention and said:

Word from Mineral Wells states that the Mountaineers are partly crippled for the game with their star fullback being out of the contest and two other backs having injuries that may keep them from playing the entire game.

The Mountaineers are slightly above the Bulldogs in the conference standing, being half a game ahead with two wins and three losses.

"Until the Brownwood game," writes Charles Johnston of the Mineral Wells Index, "our boys romped along with no injuries, but it looks like that game really took a toll. Our driving fullback, Ralph Keener, got an ankle twisted in Brownwood, and, although we had hopes of seeing him play again, we were disappointed yesterday when he suited out and could only hobble around a bit. Without him Mineral Wells has no power."

Magazines Wanted By Local Boys On Residence Project

H. A. Tillet, National Youth Administration shop work director, Wednesday asked that anyone having magazines the boys on the local resident project could read to have them for the boys.

"There is nothing to read at the residence," Tillet explained, and any kind of magazines would be appreciated by these boys. During the day they are busy with their shop training or working on the projects, but in the evenings they need something with which to occupy their time.

Anyone having magazines can leave them at the wood work shop on the lower floor of the Masonic building, or at the Ranger Times office and they will be given to the boys.

Plans Completed For Drive to Build Boy Scout Cabin

The Committee on the Boy Scout program met this morning at 8:30 at the Chamber of Commerce office and further discussed plans for the Boy Scout drive. Everyone was very enthusiastic about the interest the people in this community are taking since they understand the Boy Scout building will be built that will be an asset for all time to come in this territory.

For the sum of $1,000 an excellent building can be built that this town or any other town in the State of Texas will be proud of in the future.

The committee decided to issue tags to those who purchase a sack of cement, price $1.00. You will see tags in the men's lapels of their coats which will indicate they have purchased a sack of cement for the building. You will also see stickers pasted on cars and in business places showing they have purchased a sack of cement. The tags and stickers will be given to anyone buying one sack of cement.

The committee is very optimistic, thinking that the people in Ranger are interested in the Boy Scout organization to this extent, and although some may not have children they are glad to donate $1.00 for the benefit of the scout organization, especially for the benefit of a building of this nature that can be purchased for this amount of money.

This building can be used for other purposes than the Boy Scout organization. However, the Boy Scouts will have charge of the building and any other organization using it will have to secure it from the Boy Scouts or the Boy Scout committee.

The building will be placed at the Willows Park, a very attractive place, and the committee is of the opinion the people will be well pleased with it after it is erected.

The Boy Scout committee will immediately the pep rally tonight at the Chamber of Commerce office. All can expect some boy scout to call at your home and ask you to subscribe for one sack of cement Thursday morning, Friday or Saturday. The Times will carry the names of those contributing and the public will be informed daily to the progress made on the thermometer on the derrick.

Tallest Cage Team Will Start a Tour

By United Press
CANYON, Tex.—The tallest basketball team in the world will start on a barnstorming tour next month.

West Texas State College, which likes basketball teams that go up in the air, will send its ceiling scrapers out on the road Dec.

18 for a tour that will extend through Christmas. The schedule has not been completed, but opponents already on the bill include the Colorado School of Mines, Baker University at Baldwin, Kan., Augustana College of Rock Island, Ill., and St. Ambrose of Davenport, Iowa.

Coach Al Baggett has named among his probable starters two of the tallest men in basketball—Raymond Shackelford of Tell, Texas, who is 6 feet 9 inches and weighs 210 pounds, and Lother Stephenson of Anton, who is 6 feet 7 1/2 inches and weighs 200 pounds. Shackelford plays center; Stephenson is a forward.

The other forward on the starting team is expected to be Dewey Johnson of Abernathy, who is 6 feet 4 1/2 inches tall and weighs 173, taring at guard will be the team's "midget," Ernest Schur of Vernon, who is only 5 feet 11 1/2 inches tall, and Price, a six-footer.

"I could start a team averaging a couple of inches taller," Baggett said, "but it wouldn't be as effective."

The big fellows, Baggett emphasized, are not freaks but real basketball players. Stephenson and Johnson also are members of the football team.

West Texas also claims the world's tallest freshman team this year. Topping the youngsters is Charles Halbert of House, N. M., who is just under 8 feet 10.

Republicans of Columbus, Ohio, are reconciled to the fact that the theft of their elephant hide from headquarters was simply another skin game.

Father of Patriotic Family Is Dead

EL PASO, Texas—A father who saw World War service with five of his sons and saw a sixth son being trained for army service as the Armistice was signed died here recently.

He was William Telford Barnhouse, 79, who served with the Y. M. C. A. during the war. His sons, who were with him at the time of his death, are Fred, San Antonio; P. H., Austin; Telford L., Houston; J. Earl and Edward B., both of Freer.

New evidence of the wonderful California climate is found in the appearance there of a man declared dead 14 years ago.

Business Is Better Home Loan Bank's Survey Reveals

LITTLE ROCK, Ark.—Very definite proof of improved business conditions in Texas is shown in the monthly report just prepared by the Federal Home Loan Bank of Little Rock which serves the 120 insured savings and loan associations in the state.

Marked increases are noted in savings funds received from investors and in loans made for home financing by the associations throughout Texas, according to the figures for October. During the past month savings funds totaling $1,200,000 were placed in the associations, bringing the total received since January 1st to a new record for any similar period of $12,500,000.

Officers of the bank attributed the large increases to better business conditions generally and to the fact that all funds in the associations are insured against loss up to $5,000 for each account by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation.

"It is gratifying to note the steady growth in the savings accounts throughout the state," said B. H. Wooten, President of the Federal Home Loan Bank of Little Rock, "especially when these increases often represent some of the difference between earnings and the cost of living of thousands of Texans who are laying aside in safety part of their surplus funds."

Included in the compilation prepared by the bank are the figures of the First Federal Savings and Loan Association in Ranger which, along with the other insured associations in Texas, showed substantial gains during the period.

In addition to the increases in savings accounts there was much activity in October by the associations in home financing. 957 loans totaling $1,788,000 were made during the month, more than half of which was for new construction. The associations are reported to have available funds for additional home loans. Because of the liberal terms upon which loans may be obtained, the present activity in new home construction is expected to continue indefinitely as more and more people become aware of the advantages of home ownership under the new home-financing plan.

Recruiting Officer Does Big Business

By United Press
FORT WORTH, Texas—High pressure salesmanship has made Recruiting Sergeant Homer T. Cummings a champion solicitor of new soldiers for the United States Army.

Cummings does a "mail order business." A distant relative of United States Attorney General Homer Cummings, the recruiting sergeant has a correspondence list that fellow recruiting officers envy. He enlisted more new soldiers than any officer in the nation during October and has a "perpetuating" plan that he hopes will keep up his average.

Cummings writes to several hundred young men who are prospective soldiers. He has another mailing list that includes the names of public officials, postmasters, and schools leaders in his area.

Names of the prospects are sent in by the "contacts" that Cummings has established.

"Anyway you look at it, we're salesmen for Uncle Sam," he said. "I see no reason for not doing the job like good salesmen."

Cummings said that his latest efforts are built around the pension idea.

"Join our army and later retire on a life pension—become better trained citizens," is his slogan. The response to this appeal has been so great that other recruiting officers are writing to Cummings for advice.

Cummings was born near Fort Worth, worked for a while as a salesman, then became bookkeeper for a bank in Dallas. He left that job to join the Army in 1923.

HUMBLE

I have never received such PROMPT and COURTEOUS attention"

Service check cards for the voluntary comments of Humble customers are available at all Humble Service Stations. Literally thousands of them are received by the Humble Company each year. They tell their own story of Humble service and Humble products . . . The names of the writers of the cards quoted in this advertisement will be furnished any interested inquirer on request.

COMMUNITY PUBLIC SERVICE COMPANY

Alert and Eager To Serve You

Lee Dockery, Manager

The Humble Company is proud of the salesmen who man its service stations. They are carefully selected and specially trained. They know what your car needs to keep it running right and looking good. They are courteous, friendly, genuinely anxious to be helpful.

The Texas motorist appreciates this Humble Station salesman! A heavy percentage of the service check cards received by the Company back up that statement; here are typical comments:

Your manager unusually courteous . . . Friendly—homelike . . . Thank him for me please . . . Pleasant employees . . . Courtesy is appreciated . . . Your friends will always back you up for your friendliness and prompt, efficient service . . . Friendliness . . . and courteous service . . . Very courteous, kind, efficient. Offers helpful suggestions . . . We were pleasantly greeted . . . This is one of the friendliest stations we have found . . . I always like to stop at Humble stations because they are so friendly. You too, will enjoy meeting and doing business with Humble Station salesmen. Next time—stop for service where you see the Humble sign!

Do you know—that the Texas oil industry furnishes the State a large and increasing percentage of its tax revenues? Some of the principal taxes paid in 1937 were: gross production tax, $16,365,736; regulatory tax, $948,012; gross receipts tax, $636,840; franchise tax, $41,520; other state taxes, $266,541; ad valorem tax, $22,800,000.

*Does not include $47,000 of state and $12,000,000 of federal gross-oil taxes paid by Texas motorists.

 At a recent meeting of the Bullock Girls 4-H Club, Miss Mabel Caldwell gave instructions on making mitered corners.

HELP KIDNEYS PASS 3 LBS. A DAY
 Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. Most people pass about 3 quarts a day or about 3 pounds of waste.
 Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning shows there may be something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.
 An excess of acids or poisons in your blood, when due to functional kidney weakness, may be the cause of nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up, getting, evening, urination, under the eyes, headache and dizziness.
 Don't wait! Get Druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

"Mitered corners make a neat finish on dresser scarfs and luncheon sets. To make mitered corners use a measuring gauge and measure one side of the material the desired width and crease, measure the other side and crease, making a square in the corner with creases corresponding forming a complete triangle on the wrong side of the material, and whip to edge to be hemmed. Cut off triangles to with-in whipped edge. Instructed Miss Caldwell.

Present were, Helen Dempsey, Maxine Beck, Dorothy Evelyn Hatton, Joyce and Billie Jean Bush, Linney Mae Bishop, Evelyn Bishop and Lillian Adams.
