

Ranger Times

UNITED PRESS SERVICE BRINGS LATE NEWS OF THE WORLD TO TIMES READERS
RANGER, TEXAS, MONDAY EVENING, DECEMBER 5, 1938

PRICE TWO CENTS NO. 156

THE WEATHER
West Texas: Fair, somewhat warmer west portion tonight. Fair Tuesday, colder in Panhandle.

Chamberlain does not mind a few Spanish vessels fighting off the coast of England but here and now is warning they had better stay out of his trout stream.

RANCE FIRM IN HER STAND UPON DEMANDS

By United Press
PARIS, France, Dec. 5.—Frances Daladier replied to Italian insistence for possession of French lands in Northern Africa and the island of Corsica with a statement declaring France will defend the integrity of all her possessions. Daladier said he had received thousands of telegrams of loyalty to Corsica and Tunis. Yesterday demonstrations against Italy in the two countries were the best proof that France is ready to hold her possessions, he said. The demonstrations were evoked by a clamorous demand by members of the Italian chamber of deputies last Wednesday for cession to Italy of Tunis, Corsica, and Sand Nicae.

Spy in Tears at Conviction

Convicted by a New York federal jury, red-haired, German-born Johann Hofmann wept when she was imprisoned as a Nazi spy.

FASCIST PRESS SCORES FRENCH "INSINUATIONS"

By United Press
ROME, Dec. 5.—The controlled fascist press renewed its attacks on France today and denounced French "insinuations" that Italy's partnership with Nazi Germany was being strained. Virginio Gayda, who is close to Premier Mussolini, wrote in his newspaper that France, instead of advancing insinuations about the Rome-Berlin axis, should remember her frontier province of Alsace is inhabited by 3,500,000 Germans. Gayda's attack was considered significant in view of reported "annoyance" in Berlin that the Italian campaign against France came on the eve of signing a new German-French auto-war accord.

UAW Head Before Dies Committee

His long-awaited appearance before Dies committee in Washington. Martin, left; Dies, center, and Representative Mosier, right.

INSTRUMENTS FILED WITH CLERK LISTED

Following is a list of instruments filed the past week in the office of County Clerk R. V. Galloway:
W. S. Abbott et al to Clarence P. Hastings, correction deed; O. Brown et ux to Hezekiah Brown, deed of trust; Mrs. Lon Bourland to P. H. Davis, extension of vendor's lien; S. H. Bell to J. W. Price, warranty deed; S. H. Bell et ux to E. H. Hollis et ux, warranty deed; Albert W. Cogburn et ux to C. M. Murphy, transfer of vendor's lien; D. D. Cain to City of Eastland, quit claim deed; R. P. Crouch to J. H. Caton, release of materialman's lien; L. S. Cruise to W. Shingleton et al, power of attorney; George M. Clark et ux to Mrs. R. S. Walker, warranty deed; A. B. Cloyd et ux to M. L. Miller, quit claim deed; J. M. Daniel et ux to A. C. Williams, trustee, two deeds of trust.

Hops Country in Air 'Kiddie Car'

Stepping from his 672-pound Aerona monoplane, a veritable kiddie car of the air, Johnny Jones, tap-dancing pilot, alights at Roosevelt Field, N. Y., after a 30-hour non-stop flight from Los Angeles.

THREE BANDITS ARE CAPTURED IN FORT WORTH

FORT WORTH, Texas, Dec. 5.—Three Austin youths were arrested here today at the end of a 200-mile "crime ride" during which seven persons were robbed and stripped or beaten in four Central Texas towns. The men, charged with kidnaping and robbery, were Richard Stammitz, 20; William Weems, 21; and Robert Sanders, 21. All said they were former Austin taxi drivers and that last night's escapades were their first. They admitted the holdups but said they did not beat any of their victims. "We were out of work and needed money," Weems said. The three said four holdups in Austin, Georgetown, Waco and Hillsboro netted them $82 before Fort Worth police forced them to abandon their stolen automobile.

Car Stolen Friday In Ranger Found In Dallas Saturday

An automobile stolen in Ranger Friday was recovered in Dallas Saturday, and Truman Bohannon of Ranger was charged with car theft, it was reported today by Chief of Police Jim Ingram of Ranger.

Car Stolen Friday In Ranger Found In Dallas Saturday

An automobile stolen in Ranger Friday was recovered in Dallas Saturday, and Truman Bohannon of Ranger was charged with car theft, it was reported today by Chief of Police Jim Ingram of Ranger.

Edsel Ford Tells of Policy on Patents Before Committee

Ford, president of Ford Motor company, told the monopoly investigating committee today that Ford patent policies encouraged competition in the automobile industry.

Eastland Youths Picked for ACC Men's Social Body

Thomas and James Dabney, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Dabney, and Jack Teatsorth, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Teatsorth of Eastland, have been selected as new members of the Phi Omega Chi, men's social group of Abilene Christian college in Abilene.

Spa City Printers Vote Upon a Merger

In reply to an invitation extended yesterday to Mineral Wells Typographical Union to merge with Ranger Typographical Union, a telegram was received today by Don J. McCarthy, secretary of the Ranger union stating that the Mineral Wells local had voted unanimously to merge with the Ranger unit of the International Typographical Union.

Best Rites Held For J. J. Mickle at Church Sunday

Funeral rites were conducted Sunday afternoon at the First Methodist church in Eastland for Joe J. Mickle, Sr., 75, pioneer business man of the Southwest, who died Friday of a heart attack.

Mooney Is Denied Habeas Corpus By Supreme Court

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—The Supreme Court today denied attorneys for Thomas Mooney permission to file suit for an original writ of habeas corpus, releasing Mooney from his life sentence in San Quentin prison.

Residents Warned To Lock Vehicles

Local residents were warned Monday that this is the time of year when car prowlers are on the lookout for Christmas packages which are left by shoppers in automobiles.

Name Appraisers In Downtown Case

Frank Castleberry, Lee Reid and Ernest Lafoon have been appointed by County Judge W. S. Adamson to appraise the estate of the late T. E. Downtain, who died November 3.

Two Are Killed In Houston Accidents

HOUSTON, Texas, Dec. 5.—Mrs. A. L. Page, 56, was near death in a hospital today after a highway accident which killed her 60-year-old husband. Another accident resulted in the death of David Kilepera, 16, a high school student.

Negro Is Charged In Assault Case

Jerry Lewis, negro, of Ranger, was arrested on a charge of assault and has been turned over to county officers, pending action of the Eastland county grand jury, it was reported today by Chief of Police Jim Ingram of Ranger.

Personnel Manager Defends Ford's Views

DETROIT, Mich., Dec. 5.—Harry Bennett, personnel manager of the Ford Motor company, today defended the Henry Ford statement on Nazi persecutions, which Father Charles Coughlin assailed in a radio address yesterday.

Injunction Suit On Trucking Dissolved

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—The Supreme Court today affirmed a fifth circuit court of appeals decision dismissing the suit of A. E. McDonald of Fort Worth for an injunction to prevent the Texas Railroad commission from interfering with McDonald's interstate trucking business.

Tyler and Temple to Play In Fort Worth

TYLER, Texas, Dec. 5.—Football teams of Tyler and Temple high schools, victors in bi-district games last week-end, will play next Saturday in the TCU stadium at Fort Worth, it was announced today.

Judgment Is Due From W. S. Adamson

Judgment of $140.25 plus interest and costs has been rendered by County Judge W. S. Adamson for the plaintiff in the case of E. E. Booth against the Texas and Pacific railway company.

Shopping Days Till Christmas

A small fire which broke out in the sample room of the Paramount Hotel early Monday morning was quickly extinguished with slight damage being done.

Fire Damage Slight In Paramount Hotel

A small fire which broke out in the sample room of the Paramount Hotel early Monday morning was quickly extinguished with slight damage being done.

Fisher Body Plant Is Re-Opened Today

DETROIT, Mich., Dec. 5.—Workers in the Fisher Body corporation plants in Flint went back to work today. They had been on strike since Friday.

James Roosevelt In $50,000 Movie Job

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., Dec. 5.—James Roosevelt, son of the president, went into the movie business today as a vice president of Samuel Goldwyn, Inc.

1938 Still Leading In Wedding Figures

Although November witnessed a decrease, 1938 continues to lead over 1937 in marriage license issuance figures, records show in the office of County Clerk R. V. Galloway.

Underground Water Use Being Discussed

AUSTIN, Dec. 5.—The legislative sub-committee of the Texas Planning Board, met here today to iron out objections made by West Texans to a proposed law on underground water use.

Five Men Escape Big Spring Jail

BIG SPRING, Texas, Dec. 5.—Five men who escaped from the Howard county jail yesterday apparently had made good their escape today.

Santa Claus To Make Two Ranger Stops

Word was received today from Santa Claus that changes had been made in plans for his appearance in Ranger, his schedule having been worked out whereby he could make two visits to the town instead of one, as originally planned.

Yorker Pleads Guilty to Smuggling

BROWNSVILLE, Dec. 5.—Cleveland, New York, pled guilty today to federal charges of smuggling two American airplanes into Mexico in September, 1937, for use in a revolution by Gen. Saturnino Cedeno in San Luis Potosi state.

Eastland Agents To Attend Confab

All Eastland county extension agents are scheduled to attend a district 7 meeting Tuesday at Fredericksburg.

Two Suspects Shot After Cafe Robbery

DENVER, Colo., Dec. 5.—Police today shot two men accused of slaying a cafe owner in a holdup, killing one and critically wounding the other. Both were described as former convicts.

Livestock Exchange Is Opened In Chicago

CHICAGO, Ill., Dec. 5.—The Chicago Livestock Exchange resumed operation today under a temporary agreement reached by yard officials and members of the livestock handlers' union. The exchange had been closed since Nov. 21.

Stephenville Woman Killed In Accident

STEPHENVILLE, Dec. 5.—The crash of an automobile into a highway 10 bridge early last night fatally injured Mrs. H. J. Neblett, 36, of Stephenville. Her husband who was driving, and Charles Still were injured. Mrs. Still was uninjured.

Hollywood Doing Its Share Toward Refugee Benefit

Hollywood is doing its share in cooperating with Interstate theatres in the staging of their benefit shows for refugees from Hitler on Dec. 7th, according to information received here today from Karl Hobbeltz, vice president and general manager of Interstate circuit in Dallas.

Christmas Cheer Baskets Will Be Talked at Meeting

K. E. Ambrose, president of the Ranger Chamber of Commerce, announced today that he had called a meeting of several business men of the city for Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock, at which time plans would be made for the annual drive for funds with which to provide Christmas cheer baskets for the needy of the city.

Christmas Cheer Baskets Will Be Talked at Meeting

K. E. Ambrose, president of the Ranger Chamber of Commerce, announced today that he had called a meeting of several business men of the city for Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock, at which time plans would be made for the annual drive for funds with which to provide Christmas cheer baskets for the needy of the city.

Free State, created by that climaxed 73-year-old man for London

Free State, created by that climaxed 73-year-old man for London

Free State, created by that climaxed 73-year-old man for London

Free State, created by that climaxed 73-year-old man for London

Free State, created by that climaxed 73-year-old man for London

Free State, created by that climaxed 73-year-old man for London

Free State, created by that climaxed 73-year-old man for London

Free State, created by that climaxed 73-year-old man for London

RANGER TIMES

TIMES PUBLISHING COMPANY, Publishers
211-213 Elm Street, Ranger, Texas. Telephone 224

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC

Any erroneous reflection upon the character, standing or reputation of any person, firm or corporation which may appear in the columns of this paper will be gladly corrected upon being brought to the attention of the publisher.

Published every afternoon (except Thursday, Saturday and Sunday) and every Sunday morning.

Obituaries, cards of thanks, notices of lodge meetings, etc., are charged for at regular advertising rates, which will be furnished upon application.

Entered at second-class matter at the postoffice at Ranger, Texas, under Act of March, 1879.

WALTER MURRAY, Publisher.

SUBSCRIPTION RATE

ONE YEAR BY MAIL (In Texas) $3.00

Speech Not Completely Free Isn't Free at All

It is only to be expected that the silliest of all definitions of free speech should come out of the bailiwick of Hague of New Jersey.

This definition was voiced by Col. Hugh Kelly, secretary to Governor Moore of New Jersey. Addressing a pro-Hague rally the other afternoon, Colonel Kelly declared:

"There is only one problem to free speech, and it won't take me 15,000 words to explain it. By free speech, the Founding Fathers meant a man should say what he wanted to in his own home, as long as he didn't propose overthrow of the government."

And somehow this reminds us of an anecdote handed down from the strait-laced 1880s, when a very prim and puritanical fresh-water college in the middle west had an iron-clad rule against dancing.

According to this story, the dean of women in this college was having a meeting with the matrons of the women's boarding houses; and one matron said that a number of the girls liked dancing because of its gay, pleasant rhythm; would it be permitted, after all male callers had left the building, for such girls to dance a bit with each other?

The dean pondered, then delivered herself solemnly. If any girl, she said, felt that she simply must dance—if the urge to express herself rhythmically was just overpowering—let her retire to her own room alone, lock the door and pull down the shades. There, in private and solitary splendor, she might legally dance to her heart's content. But not otherwise.

Between the position of that saintly and long-departed dean and the position of the Hague-ite who maintains that free speech is quite permissible if a man confines it to his own parlor, there is an amusing parallel.

The parallel lies not in the fact that each person contrived to take a ridiculous attitude, but in the fact that each one obviously had no use whatever for the activity under discussion. The 1880 dean clearly dis-believed in dancing, flatly, finally and completely; the New Jersey politician quite as clearly has an equally broad and uncompromising disbelief in free speech.

And while we have got past the time when all good people felt that a young person who danced was a young person whose soul was in danger, we still seem to have a number of citizens who entertain similar views about freedom of speech.

Not many people would go as far as Colonel Kelly, of course; yet his stand is simply the "I believe in free-speech, but—" theory carried to its logical conclusion.

For the point is that if speech is not completely free it isn't free at all. Once you go beyond the ordinary restrictions which the libel laws and similar time-tested, fundamental statutes impose, you are heading straight for Colonel Kelly's goal. There is no valid halfway point.

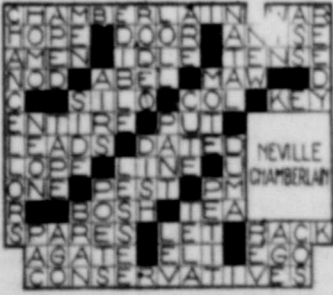

An Australian hunter is reported to have shot a young woman under the mistaken impression she was a kangaroo. This seems to be a new threat to jitterbugs.

FELINE BEAST

HORIZONTAL

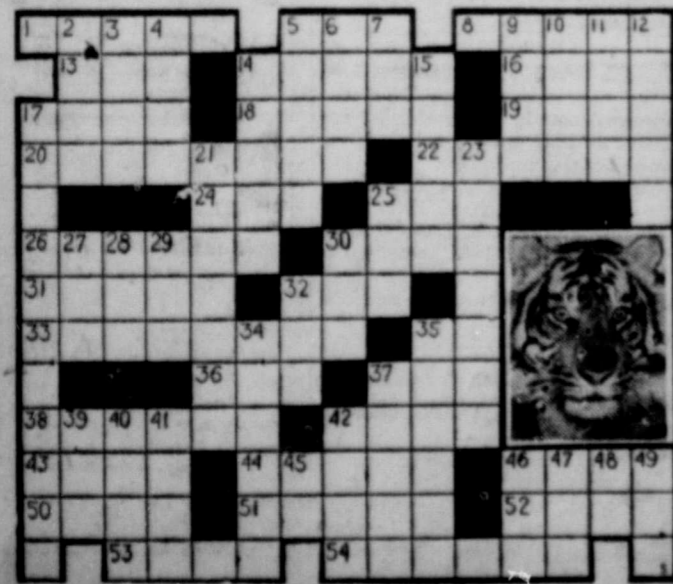

- 1 Pictured beast of the forest.
- 6 Geographical drawing.
- 8 It is colored.
- 13 Payment demand.
- 14 It belongs to the tigris group of cats.
- 16 Stead.
- 17 Penny.
- 18 Wrathful.
- 19 Russian mountain.
- 20 To congregate.
- 22 Picture taking machine.
- 24 Gold quart.
- 25 Dined.
- 26 Table linen.
- 30 Bulk.
- 31 Lethargic.
- 32 Public auto.
- 33 Contaminated.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

VERTICAL

- 11 Close.
- 12 Japanese magnolia.
- 14 Full of fibers.
- 15 Religious denominations.
- 17 It is a mammal.
- 21 Human beings.
- 23 Suzzing.
- 25 Ridge.
- 27 Cuckoo.
- 28 House cat.
- 29 Silk worm.
- 30 Mire.
- 32 Place to sleep.
- 34 To gossip.
- 35 Rabbit.
- 37 Tolerates.
- 39 Being.
- 40 Braided.
- 41 Seaward.
- 42 Rodent.
- 45 Sun god.
- 46 Greek letter.
- 47 Work beast.
- 48 3.1416.
- 49 Was seated.

Traffic Victim

Back With Pros

Having resigned as backfield coach at Iowa, Ernie Nevers above, returns to professional ranks by signing as coach of the Chicago Cardinals.

Students Pay $17 Monthly to Live at Cooperative House

AUSTIN, Tex.—An average of $17 a month for room and board in students cooperative houses at The University of Texas is paid by their occupants, according to statistics recently compiled at that institution. In the thirteen units for men and two units for women more than $25,000 in living expenses will be saved this school year, it was estimated.

The addition of six houses for men this fall marked the first great increase in cooperative living at the University since the movement began in 1936. University authorities reported. Over

Flight of Style

"Alerte" is the name of this formal afternoon hat in black velvet with red-wing trimming suggestive of a bird poised for flight. Erik did it.

Take a Letter, Little Miss America, to

While visions of the good things of Christmas dance in her head, Shirley Elizabeth Bryant enps to the old gent with the whiskers. This picture was taken in San Francisco, but might have been almost anywhere in America.

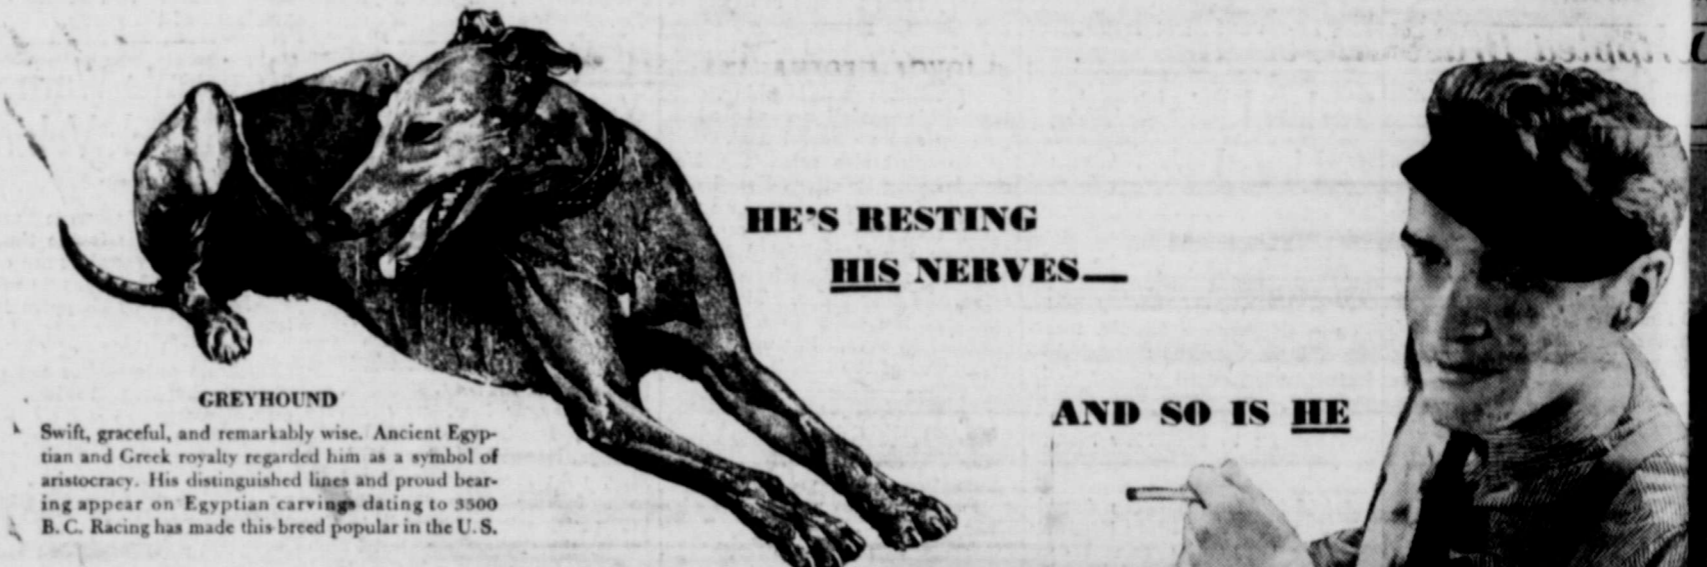

Petting Parties Easy Prey For Bandits

By United Press
STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Cal.—The practice of campus policemen flashlighting petting parties is driving romance off the campus of Stanford University and out into the neighborhood hills where couples become the victims of petting party bandits, according to protests now being made by scores of co-eds.

An unusual number of holdups has taken place recently and as the bandits rob the girls well as the men, it is the element that has taken up the of remedying the situation. Stanford this year has only co-eds against 3,000 men students with the results that the girls dated up almost every evening. Formerly it had been the of boys to park on any one score of beautiful roads no ing party bandits, according to protests now being made by scores of co-eds. An unusual number of holdups has taken place recently and as the bandits rob the girls well as the men, it is the element that has taken up the of remedying the situation. Stanford this year has only co-eds against 3,000 men students with the results that the girls dated up almost every evening. Formerly it had been the of boys to park on any one score of beautiful roads no

Call a halt on needless NERVE STRAIN

IT'S THRILLING to watch the flashing greyhound in full flight. But it's important to note that when the race is over he lets up and rests—as the greyhound above is doing now. Though the dog's high-keyed nervous system closely resembles our own, the dog relaxes instinctively! Life as it is today leads us to ignore fatigued nerves. We're apt to carry on despite increasing tension and strain. Be kind to your nerves if you want them to be kind to you. Pause a while every now and then. LET UP—LIGHT UP A CAMEL! Let the frequent enjoyment of Camel's mild, ripe tobaccos help you take life more calmly, pleasantly, profitably!

They know how pleasant life can be when they "LET UP—LIGHT UP A CAMEL"

WOMEN'S TRAP-SHOOTING CHAMPION of North America, Mrs. Lela Hall, says: "Holding a shooting title four years straight puts pressure on the nerves. I give my nerves frequent rests. I let up—light up a Camel—often! Camels are so soothing."

DID YOU KNOW? —that tobacco is remarkably sensitive to moisture? That at one stage, practically all the moisture is removed from cigarette tobacco, and then later just the proper amount restored? That there are more than 40 huge air-conditioning machines where Camels are made? Camel spends millions to insure all the mildness and ripe richness of Camel's finer, more expensive tobaccos.

A REPORTER'S JOB is noted for beating deadlines, rush duties, excitement, and nervous tension. Naturally, "Let up—light up a Camel" is a smoking rule that's greatly favored by newspaper men. They know

EDDIE CANTOR—America's great comic personality—each Monday evening on the Columbia Network 7:30 pm E.S.T., 9:30 pm C.S.T., 8:30 pm M.S.T., 7:30 pm P.S.T. BENNY GOODMAN—King of Swing, and the world's greatest swing band—each Tuesday evening—Columbia Network 9:30 pm E.S.T., 8:30 pm C.S.T., 7:30 pm M.S.T., 6:30 pm P.S.T.

LET UP—LIGHT UP A CAMEL!

Smokers find Camel's Costlier Tobaccos are SOOTHING TO THE NERVE

SERIAL STORY LOVERS AWEIGH

BY BETTY WALLACE

CAST OF CHARACTERS
JUDY A. COFFEE—admiral's daughter. She faced a choice between two navy suitors.

CHAPTER XXV
The words drummed in Judy's brain. She stared at Dwight.

She remembered the time she and Diane Bell had glimpsed Marvel and Cary Tennant in that downtown San Diego restaurant.

"Yes, I see. A girl who has been accustomed to so much money—it would be hard for her to live on a Navy budget."

"Yes, I know. But just the same—" He hitched in the seat. His face was drawn. He said at last, tiredly, "Well, it's over. Marvel left me no doubt about that. She's going to Reno. Probably in Cary Tennant's private car."

"Maybe it'll blow over," Judy said, trying to sound cheerful. "Maybe Marvel will change her mind." She asked herself inwardly why she was bothering to comfort Dwight, why she was defending his disloyal wife.

"In a way," said Dwight, setting his jaw, "I don't want it to blow over. All these scenes, and so many things interfering with my work on the ship, are making hash of my career. She came right on board, and she—"

"I'm so sorry—" Judy said. Her hands were tightly clasped. He turned toward her with weary appeal. "I don't know why I—I thought I could ever make her over. People never make other people over. Do they? You're a typical Navy girl. Everything a man in the service needs. I know that. Yes, then he said, 'I was a fool. I—I didn't realize that—I hurt you, too. I didn't mean to. But I—I was so blind.'"

"No," said Judy in a strangled tone. "No, Dwight. You—you never hurt me. You mustn't think so. I—I'm fine!" His hand touched hers. "Don't, Judy. I know. I tried to pretend to myself that all those dates of ours were only friendly. I told myself a man can't love two girls."

"That might have blown over," he said thoughtfully, as if he were speaking his thoughts aloud, counting them over more to himself than to her. "We might still have made a go of it if it weren't for all her money. Money! And I thought money might be a help."

"She wanted to buy Paris clothes, travel in the most luxurious way. Whenever I said I couldn't afford a three hundred dollar gown, or twenty-five dollar hats, she always flung back that I couldn't stop her from spending her money. She was used to running around—extra fare trains, the smartest nightclubs, the right resorts in the right seasons— It made me feel cheap because I couldn't go, or pay her way."

"Yes, I see. A girl who has been accustomed to so much money—it would be hard for her to live on a Navy budget."

"Yes, I know. But just the same—" He hitched in the seat. His face was drawn. He said at last, tiredly, "Well, it's over. Marvel left me no doubt about that. She's going to Reno. Probably in Cary Tennant's private car."

"Maybe it'll blow over," Judy said, trying to sound cheerful. "Maybe Marvel will change her mind." She asked herself inwardly why she was bothering to comfort Dwight, why she was defending his disloyal wife.

"In a way," said Dwight, setting his jaw, "I don't want it to blow over. All these scenes, and so many things interfering with my work on the ship, are making hash of my career. She came right on board, and she—"

"I'm so sorry—" Judy said. Her hands were tightly clasped. He turned toward her with weary appeal. "I don't know why I—I thought I could ever make her over. People never make other people over. Do they? You're a typical Navy girl. Everything a man in the service needs. I know that. Yes, then he said, 'I was a fool. I—I didn't realize that—I hurt you, too. I didn't mean to. But I—I was so blind.'"

"No," said Judy in a strangled tone. "No, Dwight. You—you never hurt me. You mustn't think so. I—I'm fine!" His hand touched hers. "Don't, Judy. I know. I tried to pretend to myself that all those dates of ours were only friendly. I told myself a man can't love two girls."

and I was crazy about Marvel. It was an infatuation. All the time I knew you were sweet and good and what I wanted. But I couldn't rid myself of the crazy way I wanted her."

"So he'd been with herself, she knew, with sinking heart. Jack Hanley was kind. He was sweet to her. Good. Straightforward. Everything she ought to want. But she had never been able to rid herself of the crazy, crazy way she wanted Dwight. Even sitting here beside him—even listening to his voice speak of Marvel—"

"You shouldn't be talking to me like this," she managed to whisper. His eyes were very honest. "Why shouldn't I?" he demanded. "It isn't too late to make things right. Is it, Judy? Is it?"

HER own eyes dropped before his. "Yes, it is," she said in a low voice. "No, it's not!" He was sure!

"You've been hurt, I treated you terribly. But I know that before I told you about her, you must have thought I—that I—c-cared about you. That's true, isn't it? Oh, it must be true! You were so white about it! So brave and clean! You're a thoroughbred. The way you look my change of heart proved it. But Judy—" Now his face was close to hers, his arms were making a little, hesitant motion toward her. "Judy, we can still pick up the pieces. Salvage a little happiness for ourselves."

Her heart leaped, denying the pride she ought to strengthen herself with. But her pride was there. It was part of her. It was an outraged pride, hurting bitterly. She said swiftly, "What makes you think I want to pick up the pieces, Dwight? No—" she pushed at him gently. "Don't put your arms around me. You're so sure I've cried over you! Let me tell you I haven't! Let me tell you something else you don't know! Now she was triumphant, glad to be hurting him, glad to be avenging her pride. His white, stricken face only made her speak more hurriedly. "I've always been good friends with Jack Hanley. You must know—for years he's been the dearest friend I had. But I guess you didn't know. Dwight, that's what I'm engaged to him!"

She looked into his eyes steadily. Her will, strong as steel, forced the tumult inside her to ebb. To leave nothing but this sweet feeling of having paid him back for everything he had done to make her suffer. "I'm going to marry Jack Hanley, Dwight. We're to be married just as soon as he gets out of the hospital!"

(To Be Continued)

"OUT OUR WAY" By Williams

Half Smoked Cigar Found As School Building Is Razed

STEPHENVILLE, Tex.—Workers tearing down the 31-year-old Central Ward School building here found a half-smoked cigar embedded in the lime and mortar of the structure.

Where Italians Seek French Land

Black portions in above map show French territory demanded by Italy during tumultuous demonstration in Italian Chamber of Deputies.

By HARRY GRAYSON

TURKEY Day no longer is synonymous with football. Most schools get the gridiron grind out of the way the Saturday before Thanksgiving, or put off the finishing touch until the following week-end.

JOHN T. FLYNN

NEA Service Staff Correspondent NEW YORK—A report from Washington is that the Social Security Advisory Council is going to recommend that the United States share in the old-age pension tax.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD By William Ferguson

ANSWER: No. It is a common stunt these days for parachute jumpers to give the crowds a thrill by dropping several thousand feet before opening their chutes.

Crippled Brace Maker Aids Thousands of Youngsters

Louis German, prince of brace makers, once a cripple himself, is now here working at his labor of love—making braces in his shop at a Texas Scottish Rite Hospital for Crippled Children to provide reformed limbs for the little patients in the institution. For almost 20 years he has labored thus, being manufactured and kept in repair by more than 7,000 braces for crippled youngsters.

Lloyds Profits In Crisis Are Millions

LONDON—Lloyd's marine underwriters who, with large insurance companies, gave extensive insurance to shippers against risk of war during the crisis, are believed to have made a profit of $1,250,000.

ALLEY OOP By Hamlin

MYRA NORTH, Special Nurse -- By Thompson and Coll

EVERYTHING I DO TURNS OUT WRONG! EVERYBODY'S MAD AT ME!

IE NERV

