NO BREAK IN HOT WEATHER IS FORECAST

There will be no break in the general Texas heat wave during the week-end, the U. S. Weather bureau warned Saturday. Little chance existed for the 52 ties of the state which Friday offered temperatures above 100 degrees to enjoy more than one or two degree drops in maximums today, the forecaster said. Many new records were set Saturday afternoon after Henrietta was the heat center Friday with 112 degrees. The Sunday maximums will be about the same as Saturday's in most localities, according to the forecast. Most of West Texas was missed a few hours respite during Saturday night, but the Sunday sun was expected to force the thermometer back up in those areas too. In most sections the heat of the latter half of this week had equalled or surpassed the high readings of the week ending July 8, when many seasonal records were broken. Although rains had fallen generally in Southern Texas areas, which were drought stricken during the last heat wave, those portions suffered equally in the present spell.

Attention of all merchants and citizens interested in planning Labor Day celebration in Ranger was urged again Saturday by Mayor Hall Walker to meet at the office of the chamber of commerce Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Tentative plans for the celebration have been discussed, and they will be explained at the meeting Monday afternoon. All who are interested have been urged to attend the meeting, and to offer any suggestions for additional entertainment features of a discussion any that might be offered at the meeting. It is planned to have an interesting program of events that can be staged at a minimum cost. In order that everyone may become familiar with the prospects of a successful entertainment and with the plans that are being made, anyone has been urged to attend.

What If Rain Was Light, Snake That Brought It Was Too

Frank Reese, groundskeeper at the Bulldog Stadium, can now show out his chest and brag about his ability as a weather prophet, though he was a little backward about his ability last Tuesday when he made the prediction. Reese killed a snake Monday afternoon late, Tuesday, upon advice of friends, he placed it on the baseball field, stomach up, which was supposed to be a sure sign of rain within three days. Reese almost missed his prediction, because Friday morning, exactly three days from the time the snake was put on the field, in the rain-making position, the skies were clear, the sun was out and the weather report was "fair."

Patrolman to Issue Drivers Licenses In Ranger Monday

A. N. Larson, president of the Ranger Chamber of Commerce called attention again Saturday to the fact that Bill Angus, State Highway Patrolman, would be in Ranger Monday from 9 a. m. to noon, for the purpose of issuing drivers licenses to those who do not have them. While in Ranger, too, Patrolman Angus will stamp drivers licenses for those who already have them, so they can be used out of the state. Vacationists who might be going out of the state have been warned that their drivers licenses, which were not renewed by the recent session of the legislature, are still in effect, but that they must be stamped with an extension date before leaving the state, as the expiration date has passed. Anyone who has not secured a drivers license, but who wants to do so, can secure them from Angus Monday morning.

NYA Play Project Okehed for Breck

Jack Hale, area NYA supervisor, announced Saturday that approval has been received on a NYA recreational project at Breckenridge.

Hale said that the project provides for supervision of play on playgrounds of Breckenridge and at the Y.M.C.A. by youths employed by the NYA.

Allen Hall, Y.M.C.A. secretary at Breckenridge, is to supervise the project at Breckenridge, said Hale, who added that the City of Breckenridge is project sponsor.

Five or six youths will be employed at first and the staff will be augmented later, said Hale. Possibly 20 will be given employment later. The NYA supervisor also stated a citywide beautification project is being planned for Breckenridge. Retaining walls and terraces have already been built adjacent to the girl scout building in Breckenridge. Building of a park on county-owned land near Breckenridge also is planned in a NYA project.

Two Canoeists Sail 300 Miles on Rivers

EAST LIVERPOOL, O.—Two tanned and tired youths stopped here after a 300-mile jaunt on three rivers in a home-made canvas-covered canoe.

Rollin McClain, 18, and Harold Tissot, 19, said the trip on the Tuscawawas, Muskingum and Ohio rivers had taken them almost three weeks.

"We had a lot of adventure on our trip," Tissot said, "but nothing really dangerous. We had most of our fun being locked through the dams.

"Most of the keepers let us through as soon as they saw us, but one fellow refused to let us through until the regular hourly period. That didn't stop us. We just picked up our canoe and walked around."

The boys explained that they slept on the riverbank, using their tent to stretch over the canoe and themselves, to keep their supplies dry.

"We rigged a sail from the tent whenever we ran into a good stiff breeze," they said. They said that the trip had cost them only $10 in food over the three-week period.

EASTLAND VISITOR
Bob Crozier, representative of the Texas Unemployment Compensation Commission at Abilene, and Mrs. Crozier were visitors Saturday in Eastland.

BIG MOVEMENT LAUNCHED BY EASTLAND POST

A movement which if successful will be of aid to veterans of the Dallas area—Texas, Louisiana, New Mexico and Oklahoma—was launched Friday night by the Eastland American Legion post meeting in the Knights of Pythias hall.

The legion ordered work begun on a proposal for the installation of a "tumor service" in the new veteran's hospital being built at Dallas.

The Hines hospital at Hines, Ill., near Chicago, is the closest place at this time for veterans of the Dallas area to receive the tumor service.

Members of the post acted after a talk by V. O. Hatcher of Eastland, who has returned from the Hines hospital after two operations. Herbert Reed, Hatcher and P. L. Crossley were named members of a committee to frame a resolution urging installation of the service in the hospital. It is estimated the cost would probably be around $150,000. The resolution will be called to the attention of the state and national legion organizations, as well as district organizations. Washington officials, too, will receive notice of the action. It is planned for the resolution urging the action to be introduced at the national convention this year in Chicago.

Hatcher stated that work of the Hines hospital is efficient and modern but that work is retarded by an overcrowded condition. There are always between 1,700 and 2,000 patients at the hospital and several hundred on the waiting list.

While a general hospital, the Hines institution treats many tumor and cancer cases. It is estimated that 50 to 90 per cent of tumor and cancer cases sent there for treatment are from the Dallas area.

Because of an overcrowded condition it makes it necessary for X-ray machines to be used day and night, including Sunday. Also, it was stated, cases are held there from two to six weeks before treatment is started because of the overcrowded condition.

Estimate was fixed that costs are from $75 to $100 to send the average case to the hospital, because the cost for upkeep while there. Bed patients who require attendance double the cost.

It was pointed out that installation of the service in the center of the Dallas area where the cases originate would not only be convenient to those who avail themselves of the service but soon would save the administration enough to pay for the installation. Early treatment of tumor and cancer is emphasized. The movement is expected to arouse no opposition. Figures show that cancer among soldiers is expected to reach its peak around 1965.

Tully Leaves To Play Pro Football

COMMERCE, Texas, July 22.—Darrell Tully, great backfield performer at East Texas State Teachers College the past three years and named on the Little All America last season, left recently for Detroit, Mich., to join the Detroit Lions, professional club.

Tully, it is reported, signed a rather handsome contract with the Lions and is expected to bolster their backfield which was without the services of a top-notch passer. On top of his passing ability, the six-foot, two-inch, 190-pound boy, is a deluxe ball-carrier and a capable kicker. He will continue work on his masters degree at East Texas State next summer.

105 MARK IS REACHED BY THERMOMETER

Temperature Friday in Eastland neared the maximum reported for Texas, according to J. A. Beard, official weather observer.

Beard said Saturday that at 3 o'clock a reading of 105 degrees was reported. According to reports, Wichita Falls with a temperature of 110 was the hottest in the state.

Highest in Eastland for the season, however, is 106 degrees. On June 16 the mark was reached and repeated July 5 or 6, Beard stated.

A rain seemed evident Friday afternoon in Eastland but failed to materialize. Ranger received a fairly heavy rain and Olden also received a rain. Just west of Olden and to Eastland a light sprinkle was the only precipitation received.

Jap Terrorists Kill American Dancer In China

SHANGHAI, China, July 22.—Terrorists killed four persons, including an American, in Shanghai tonight, as Japanese intensified their drive against Great Britain, throughout north China.

A series of developments increased the pressure against British interests, just as Tokyo dispatches reported a general agreement on the basis for negotiating a settlement with Britain in regard to the Japanese program in China.

Whether the increased pressure indicated determination of Japanese military leaders in China to carry through their anti-British campaign, regardless of the Tokyo developments was uncertain.

A raid was staged by terrorists on the plant of anti-Japanese publications in China, including both British and American owned papers.

Frankie Wilson of Philadelphia, a cabaret girl, and two Chinese were killed in a wild shooting melee.

The plan will offer a flat rate bounty of between $5 and $10 a bale, to exporters.

Poland Stands Pat Under Statement Regarding Danzig

WARSAW, Poland, July 22.—Official quarters reiterated today that Poland would resist by all necessary means any attempt by Germany to annex Danzig.

The statement was made in comments on the assertion by an official spokesman at Berlin yesterday that Germany rejected a warlike solution of the Danzig problem "100 per cent" but the demand for Danzig was unalterable and Germany was convinced that, when the time came, Britain would urge Poland to get together with Germany for a peaceful settlement.

Blaze at Eastland Store Is Puzzler

What caused the issuance of smoke from beneath the floor of the Men's Shop, resulting in the call of the Eastland Fire Department, remained a puzzle Saturday.

The fire department was summoned when smoke began to issue from beneath the flooring behind the front left show window. Whatever caused the fire was extinguished anyway when firemen tore away a portion of the flooring and water was sprayed. No damage was reported.

BREAK WITH ROOSEVELT BY FARLEY DENIED

WASHINGTON, July 22.—Reports that Postmaster General James A. Farley has determined to bolt President Roosevelt on the third term issue were regarded as premature today, but of straw-in-the-wind significance.

A break between the two men scarcely could exist at the present because Farley convinces all comers that he does not know whether Mr. Roosevelt wants a third term.

In New York Farley issued a statement denying that he had discussed the third term question with legislators.

The statement said: "I am not responsible for stories which are being inspired relative to my position on any public or political question. In the past I have always been frank and definite and will continue to be in the future. Any time I have anything to say I will say it publicly and definitely not through others."

But the two men seemed to be drawing apart and some believed the chances were better than even that they will dissolve their political partnership before the 1940 democratic national convention. The same persons felt that a huge following of organizations democrats would go with Farley.

'Summer Slump' Fails to Materialize

It is now getting along toward the time of year when people would rather lie under an apple tree than call on that last customer whose place is way over at the end of town.

Because, at this time of year, millions of people feel a little bit that way, there usually ensues a noticeable falling-off of business (and all other) activity. This has been christened "the summer slump."

But this summer there isn't any, which is a very heartening thing needed. The Wall Street Journal, whose business it is to keep in touch with these matters, surveyed all the prominent fields of trade and industry recently, and came to the conclusion that most of the trades and industries which usually drift into the doldrums at about this time are stubbornly fighting their way upward.

Here are some of the conclusions reached: department store sales were bettering the seasonal average, well above 1938; automobile sales holding up unusually well; gasoline consumption at a new high; replacement auto tire trade at a six-year high in June; sales of building material at the best level of recent years, with construction contracts up; expanding orders in the machine tool, electrical equipment and utility fields.

Not all industries showed so bright a tendency, with steel production still at a low level and railroad equipment lagging. But new seasonal traffic records are being set on the airlines, the machine tool and airplane industries are buzzing (with war orders, it is true).

All this activity, flying in the face of traditional seasonal dullness, is further proof of the tremendous backed-up demand which lies beneath the surface of today's conditions.

It is now almost certain that 1939 is going to be a far better year than 1938 as regards business progress, and the first sign of sanity to return to the international situation should make the green light burn immediately brighter.

Ohio State University is having a hard time finding a new proxy. Candidates may be waiting until the football prospects reach a maximum.

A 64-year-old man, who took a bride of 16 last year, is proud that he fooled the critics as he celebrates the anniversary. Oh yeah, that's different. Now she's 17.

An Elks' convention delegate from Alaska was arrested in St. Louis for appearing in a hotel lobby in his underwear. If he's from Alaska, the underwear should have been sufficient.

'Solving the Relief Problem'

August To Be Last Month On Payroll For Many of State's Numerous Workers

AUSTIN, Tex.—August will be the last month for several hundred state employees to remain on the payroll. Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel's vetoes of items totaling $5,000,000 in the appropriation act will be effective Sept. 1. Like most bad news, it developed that the blow was not as severe as department heads feared. The State Highway Department, consulting the act, announced that the 327 field employees whose pay was voted by the governor, were included in the appropriation only as a sort of courtesy and that a reported $1,000,000 "saving" by vetoing them did not mean a thing. They are paid from funds dedicated to the department for use at discretion of the department in highway work. The Health Department had its system of district offices abandoned, but many of the eliminated employees, it is believed, can be retained through utilizing federally-supplied funds, though the federal request was somewhat unimpressive by the vetoes. State Comptroller George Shepard will make no immediate move to retain the tax-enforcement employees who were stricken from the appropriation act by the governor's blue pencil. He will wait to see if tax collections are hampered seriously after September 1. If there is a drop in collections, he can apply to the governor, attorney general and treasurer for authority to use special funds. Other departments have the same privilege, so it will be far into next year before it will be known how much the vetoes mean. The Public Safety Department, hard hit in reductions, first by the legislature and then by the governor's vetoes, has decided to pick its unlucky employees by a grading system, keeping those with highest ratings. The ratings will include experience, efficiency records, education, seniority and need of employment. The latter item will include a consideration of persons dependent upon the employee. Eliminated jobs were principally in the inspection and patrol forces. Sad as the news of the reductions sounded in Austin, legislators visiting here from out through the state report that the funds which are matched by state by the most popular thing the governor has done since his inauguration. Gov. James E. Ferguson once vetoed all University of Texas appropriations except the salary of one dean. His veto precipitated a

Texas Leads States In Market Service

COLLEGE STATION, Tex.—One hundred and six organized cotton improvement groups in Texas have already applied to the Agricultural Marketing Service of the U. S. Department of Agriculture for free classing of their 1939 crops. E. A. Miller, agronomist of the Texas A. & M. College Extension Service, has announced. The 106 applications place Texas far in the lead in the use of this service, Miller said. He pointed out that altogether 179 applications had been received in the cotton states, up to July 11, with Arkansas 32, Mississippi 16, and Arizona 13, trailing in that order. Samples of all cotton ginned for grower members of each approved organization will be classed free for grade and staple length by government classifiers. Also free will be market news reports. "The purpose of the service," Miller has stated, "is to help farmers get definite and accurate information on the grade, staple, and current market value of the quality cotton they produce." He urged that additional improvement groups take advantage of the opportunity offered. Applications may be filed as soon as the cotton is planted, with September 1 as the final dead-line. Requests for application forms may be made through county agricultural agents. Texas offices of the service may be addressed as follows: Officer in Charge, Division of Cotton Marketing, Agricultural Marketing Service, at either P. O. Box 1140, Austin; P. O. Box 1366, Dallas; or 509 U. S. Court House, El Paso.

TEXAS SENATOR URGES AIR BASE IN PUERTO RICO

Decries Falling Market for Texas Rice and Beef in Island Crisis

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Pointing to the strategic location of Puerto Rico, and to the Island's large purchases of rice, cotton, and meat from the United States, Senator Tom Connally, of Texas, declared today in a special interview on Puerto Rican affairs that he is strongly in favor of the proposal to place defensive air bases there, and said that at the same time Congress should give serious consideration to the serious economic plight of the Island. Senator Connally pointed out that the air bases proposed for Puerto Rico will form an invaluable first line defense for the Panama Canal and the Gulf of Mexico. "It is vitally important that we protect the Canal and shipping in that area," he declared. "Planes from the Puerto Rican base will be able to scout far out to sea and give advance warning of the approach of an enemy. In addition, because of the close proximity of the Island to South America, the bases on Puerto Rico will serve as a warning to the Dictators of Europe to stay out of South America." Commenting on the economic condition, Senator Connally pointed out that the Interior Department recently reported that 42 per cent of Puerto Rico's population is out of work or dependent on unemployed persons; that their purchases of rice from the mainland last year fell off more than a million dollars, their purchases of cotton products slumped more than two million dollars, and their purchases of meat, more than three hundred thousand dollars. Officials of the Island blame its condition on the sugar quota, which restricted production in the Island to 5 per cent, on the trade agreement program which they say has made it virtually impossible for them to compete in the domestic market. A survey conducted by market conservationists showed that buckshot from the hunter's shotgun was spread heavily over the state's like bottoms, where waterfowl feed. The resultant lead poisoning has taken a alarming toll among the waterfowl, it was pointed out, especially diving ducks which feed in deep water. Dr. Gustav Swanson of the University of Minnesota and T. L. Osmer of the state game and fish division inspected several lake bottoms and found as many as 11 lead pellets to the square foot. "In one series of three lakes we found for every 11 to 24 square feet of lake bottom an average of six pellets that could be read by waterfowl," Osmer said. "A lake had as many as 11 pellets to the square foot." In tests conducted by Dr. Swanson, some 250 ducks found along lakeshores were examined and in the gizzard of each one or more lead pellets were found. Because of their feeding habits, diving ducks such as blue-winged-necked and ruddy ducks were believed more susceptible to lead poisoning than others. Swanson said one solution to the problem lay partly with the manufacturers. A less poisonous alloy could be put in shells.

Sen. Connally

Lead Poisoning Is Killing Wildlife In the Far North

ST. PAUL, Minn. Lead poisoning has killed more ducks in Minnesota the past few years than the gun of the hunter—and the affliction now threatens extinction of several species of migratory waterfowl. Student parades and protests that ended only after Ferguson had been impeached and removed from office on other matters. Governor O'Daniel vetoed little from the university appropriation. As one faculty member expressed it, the governor took nothing away from the university, but declined to give it a new department of speech.

FUTURE FARMHOUSES TO HAVE ALL THE COMFORTS OF CITY DWELLINGS--AND THEN SOME!

By MARIAN YOUNG, NEA Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK.—Tomorrow's children will go back to the old homestead not only to see the folks and get a whiff of fresh air, but to sit and admire again the houses in which they were born—houses of charm and beauty as well as comfort. Because, inside and out, the farm houses of tomorrow will be smart and ultra-utilitarian from every point of view. One of them—called the electrified farm—is on exhibit at the New York World's Fair. And it's enough to make anyone who remembers how the family wash was done in a tub that rested upon the backs of two kitchen chairs, what a long time it took to make butter in a barrel churn or how hard it was to read by the lamp on the kitchen table, lose all sentiment for the old ways and wish that he'd been born tomorrow instead of yesterday.

GARDENS COME 'ROUND TO FRONT OF HOUSE

In general, the architectural design of the buildings on the electrified farm were determined by the many farm materials which were donated for the exhibit. Also by the use of the most economical roof (single slope with slight pitch, and by the placement of the windows where they were most needed—the south side in the case of the greenhouse, brooder, poultry house, milk parlor, dairy and house proper. All of the living rooms of the house face south, overlooking the gardens and fruit trees. (Remember how the gardens always were at the back of the house

Afar cry from the verandas and sagging "back st-ops" of old-fashioned farmhouses in the charming but functional terrace of the modern farm house. Notice the tile floor and the huge stone fireplace.

The living room of the model farmhouse features a huge hearth, 6 feet out from the fireplace, built-in sofa and very large window overlooking the garden.

Alongside the kitchen of the electrified farmhouse at the New York World's Fair is this completely mechanized laundry. A sliding wall separates it from an adjoining back porch.

Here's an exterior view of the main house on the electrified farm. It is utilitarian to the nth degree, yet really a thing of beauty. The den is in front, rather than hidden in the backyard.

Actor For 48 Years Plays In First Movie

NEW YORK—Actors must act their age or professional longevity will not be theirs. Those actors in the neighborhood of 40, who still are trying to crowd themselves into juvenile roles, can't fool the public very long.

So observes Will Pyffe, Scottish star, who proudly admits that of 54 years have been devoted to acting and that every decade during his career he has made it a point to give himself a once-over and trim his acting talents accordingly.

Nearing the golden anniversary of his acting in vaudeville, stage, circus, Pyffe, has decided it's about time that he give the movies some serious consideration. Now he has finished his first Hollywood production, an important part in "Ruler of the Seas" which will not be seen by the public until next fall. He returned to Scotland after completing the picture, with seven other Hollywood offers to go back to the West Coast next year.
