FRANCE VOTES HUGE AMOUNT OF WAR CREDIT

By United Press
PARIS, Sept. 2.—The French Chamber of Deputies today unanimously voted supplementary war credits totalling 49,000,000,000 francs (about $1,660,000,000) after Premier Edouard Daladier had declared:
"Our duty is to finish with all violence for good."
"France accepts the supreme sacrifice if necessary."
"This is the first time so many spiritual and peaceful forces in the world have come forth to save peace."
Daladier said that France stood ready again to try conciliation if fighting in Poland ceased but he said that if hostilities continued France and Britain would not hesitate to fulfill their commitments to Poland.
Even the communists joined in the applause for Daladier.
He referred to President Roosevelt's efforts in behalf of peace, bringing more cheers from the deputies.

PARIS, Sept. 2.—Premier Edouard Daladier today held the door to European peace open when he told a cheering Chamber of Deputies that France "even at this late stage is ready to try conciliation if fighting stops."
His declaration followed an ardent speech by vice Premier Edouard Herriot, who asserted the world is faced by a new threat of German aggression.
Daladier, who introduced a bill providing for supplemental French war credits, made it clear that France and Britain are ready to go to Poland's aid.
After offering conciliation if fighting ceases he said:
"But time is passing, France and Britain cannot stand by and watch the destruction of a friendly people. This is not a German-Polish fight but another step (in German aggression)."
Daladier, as Herriot, reviewed the fate of Austria, Czechoslovakia and Poland.
"It is Hitler's acts that count, not his words," Daladier said. "Poland is the victim of most unjust aggression. France and Britain cannot renounce intervention."
In paving the way for Daladier's speech, Herriot attacked the non-aggression accord and commercial treaty signed last month by Germany and Soviet Russia.
"A government which had placed at the head of its program a fight against aggression has just signed with a specialist in aggression a pact which arouses the indignation of every right-minded person," Herriot said.
Daladier told the Chamber what had been announced yesterday, that British and French ambassadors to Berlin had warned German Foreign Minister Joachim Von Ribbentrop that if German troops were not withdrawn from Poland "France and Britain would unhesitatingly enforce their commitments to Poland."
"I will accomplish my duty," Daladier continued. "No Frenchman is going to his regiment with the arms of the Germans. But all are ready to do their duty with determination and calm because of the existence of France is imperiled."
Daladier noted the efforts of Premier Benito Mussolini to convene an international conference to deal with Europe's problems.
"I wish to render public homage to the Italian government's efforts to preserve peace," he said.

Italians Adding 1,000 Pilots To Huge Air Force

By REYNOLDS PACKARD
United Press Staff Correspondent
ROME, Sept. 2.—The air ministry announced today that it was adding 1,000 pilots to Italy's already huge air force.
The announcement was made while many observers found indications of a possibility that Italy might go to war in aid of her axis partner, Germany, if Great Britain and France went to war against her.
The ministry said examinations to admit 500 student officers and 500 non-commissioned officers to the corps would be held before the end of the year.
Observers pointed to Adolf Hitler's telegram to Premier Benito Mussolini which said, "I am persuaded I can do the task assigned me with Germany's forces," but concluded, "I thank you again for all you will do in the future for the common causes of fascism and national socialism."
Another indication was believed to be contained in the wording of the official communique issued after the fascist council of ministers yesterday decided not to take any military initiative in the Polish-German conflict. The clause "Italy will not take any military initiative" was seen as containing a thought for the future.
A typical viewpoint was expressed by Virginio Gayda in the Giornale D'Italia. He often speaks for Mussolini.
"Italy has done its utmost to avoid war. Henceforth, it is up to other powers to limit it," he said.
Nevertheless, the hope persisted here that the conflict would remain localized. The Vatican was believed carrying on last-minute efforts for a pacific solution.

GERMANS SAY THEIR ADVANCE IS PROGRESSING

By FREDERICK C. OECHEMNER
United Press Staff Correspondent
BERLIN, Sept. 2.—A German high command communique said today that German troops advanced continued everywhere and that the Jablonka Pass, at the southwest corner of Poland, had been stormed quickly.
"The air force destroyed numerous enemy airplanes in attacks on Polish airbases," the communique said.
It was announced that German troops had occupied Teschen, in the same area: Klobuck, northwest of Czestochowa, 12 miles inside Poland; Wieruszow, east of Keston, and Schildberg.
Nazis said jubilantly that German troops were attaining all objectives in their drive into Poland and that they were willing to fight Great Britain for 10 years if she elected to go to Poland's aid.
Newspapers blazoned big troop advances and indicated that the German drive was a triumphant march. There was no indication of casualties, except for an official news agency statement that two German civilians had been killed and 35 wounded in a bombardment of Leuthen, in Upper Silesia, by Polish light artillery.
Descriptions of the German advance by correspondents with troop units did not give names of places or other details.
"German advances into Poland" and "Our troops reach all objectives" were typical headlines.
Nazi agencies of publicity joined in "strafing" Britain for considering aid to Poland. They held Britain responsible for "encouraging" Poland and suggested that the British could avoid further "aggravation" of the situation by staying out.
Comparatively small space was allotted to foreign news. Dispatches were published from Rome, Budapest, Belgrade, Amsterdam, Oslo and other neutral or friendly capitals, either describing the deep impression made by Adolf Hitler's speech to the Reichstag yesterday or giving newspaper comment asserting that Germany's demands against Poland had been moderate and acceptable.
The British and French ambassadors, Sir Neville Henderson and Robert Coulondre, handed to Foreign Minister Joachim Von Ribbentrop last night their government's joint demand that Germany at once withdraw its troops from Poland.
It was believed that both ambassadors would leave for their own countries during the day.
The official news agency, leading the attack on Britain, alleged that Britain was an "aggressor" and wanted a European war.
North of Teschen, a German army communique said, Silesian troops were advancing over a line between Pless and Nikolai.
Kolbuszow, northwest of Czestochowa, as well as Wieruszow, east of Keston, and the town of Schildberg, fell into German hands.
In the Polish corridor, the German command announced, the railroad between Bromberg and the new Polish port of Grynin, was reached at a point west of Culm.
Dirschau, 20 miles southeast of Danzig, was occupied by German troops early Saturday morning. It is a large industrial center and includes foundries, sugar refineries and plants for the manufacture of agriculture implements.
"In the course of September 1 as well as during the night German troops continued to advance despite enemy resistance," the communique said. "Set objectives everywhere were attained and were partly exceeded."

GERMANS SAY HITLER IS GIVEN A VERY SHORT TIME TO WITHDRAW SOLDIERS

By United Press
POLAND SPRINGS, Me., Sept. 2.—American soldiers would follow American guns into trenches if the arms embargo provisions of the neutrality act were repealed, Senator William E. Borah, R., Idaho, asserted today.
Discussing the European crisis at his vacation retreat here, the ranking seniority member of the senate foreign relations committee said:
"We cannot enter the struggle in part and stay out in part. If we should furnish arms to one side, as has been proposed, we would be in the war through all the consequences of war. We would have taken sides and we would go through if the demands of that side called on us to send our boys into the slaughter pen of Europe to save 'democracy' again."
The American people, Borah said, "want to remain free of the European struggle," and "it is the duty of every public official having anything to do with shaping the course of our government in this supreme crisis to assist the people in realizing this great desire."
Borah said that if Italy can remain neutral, "certainly we can do so."

GERMANS Lacking In Enthusiasm for A War In Europe

BERLIN, Sept. 2.—Germans today walked Berlin's streets and gathered in public places with faces grim in what appeared to be complete lack of enthusiasm for war.
When Nazi armies smashed across Poland's frontiers yesterday observers described Berlin as calm. Today the people were described as apathetic under realization that the second day of an as yet undeclared war on Poland may mark the beginning of a general European conflagration.
There were no parades or demonstrations of enthusiasm. Few soldiers in uniform were to be seen. The only young men in the streets were in the uniforms of storm troopers or were wearing white arm bands of the special air raid police.
Cafes, crowded last week-end, were only one-third filled today.
Restaurants already were on "meatless days."
Waiters and patrons in restaurants spoke only in whispers. Where there was public conversation, voices were serious and talk was most guarded.
The first night of a complete blackout appeared to have brought the meaning of events closer to the German people than did Fuehrer Adolf Hitler's reichstag speech yesterday.
People clustering around newsstands read without comment such headlines as:
"Irresistible Advance."
"Tanks in Combat With Guerrillas."
"Forward On All Fronts."
In a leading hotel a five piece string orchestra played apathetically through chamber music while the glares of guests indicated belief that such music was out of place.

Hitler Agrees To Roosevelt Bombing Plea

By United Press
BERLIN, Sept. 2.—Fuehrer Adolf Hitler has agreed unconditionally to President Roosevelt's proposal that the nations refrain from bombing undefended cities or anything but military objectives, it was announced today.
Hitler's message said:
"The opinion expressed in President Roosevelt's message that it is the law of humanity to refrain under all conditions of military activity from bombing non-military objectives is fully in accordance with my own viewpoint and in accordance with what I have always represented."
"Therefore I agree unconditionally to the proposal that governments participating in current hostilities give a public declaration to this effect."
"For my part, I already announced publicly in my Reichstag speech on Friday that the German air force has received orders to restrict their action to military objectives."
"It is self-evident that the prerequisites for continuance of it is the law of the same rule be imposed on the air force of our opponent."
(Signed)
"ADOLF HITLER."

Nations Are Urged To Emphasize Their Civilization at Fair

By United Press
WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—President Roosevelt today invited foreign nations participating in the New York World Fair, to continue their participation in 1940 and to emphasize progress of civilization rather than its destruction.
"The world is disturbed by armed strife, but the continuing ideals of all nations must be a world of peace," Mr. Roosevelt said. "The continuing emphasis of nations must be on the progress of civilization, and not on its destruction."
Murphy stated that all the ex-mayors living in Ranger and the present mayor would lead the parade, with the Ranger High School band also participating. It is hoped that several hundred riders will join the parade as it forms Monday morning.
Before the rodeo performance Monday afternoon the Ranger High School band will parade up Main Street. It was announced through the rodeo performers will not be entered in this parade, which will be a forerunner to the first performance of the rodeo.

Japanese Sending Troops To Outer Mongolian Border

By United Press
HAILAR, Manchukuo, Sept. 2.—Heavy Japanese troop reinforcements were sent to the outer Mongolian front today, indicating an early Japanese offensive to dislodge Russian troops from their positions on the Manchukuo side of the Jaljale river.
Japanese officers told the United Press that 20,000 Russians were now inside Manchukuo.
(A few days ago there were 7,000, according to reports).
The United Press correspondent reached a point within six miles of the front, and saw artillery and anti-aircraft guns in action, but Japanese field headquarters ordered all correspondents including Japanese to return to Hailar because of the danger.

Stocks Soar Upon N. Y. Exchange

By United Press
NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—Stocks soared today as speculators rushed to buy the "war babies," but enthusiasm waned before the close when Premier Daladier told the French chamber of deputies France was ready, even at this late stage, for conciliation, if German-Polish fighting stops.
Prices had risen one to ten points. After the Daladier statement they reacted two or three points from the highs, but held substantial gains.

AMERICANS SOLDIER WOULD FOLLOW GUNS IS BORAH'S BELIEF

By United Press
POLAND SPRINGS, Me., Sept. 2.—American soldiers would follow American guns into trenches if the arms embargo provisions of the neutrality act were repealed, Senator William E. Borah, R., Idaho, asserted today.
Discussing the European crisis at his vacation retreat here, the ranking seniority member of the senate foreign relations committee said:

Chatter Box

A veteran of the World War recalls this statement made by an Episcopal Bishop during the war: "We do not consider our trials in a continuous and successive mood. Each one is sent to teach us something and all together have a meaning far beyond the power of any to teach," and having learned from the last experience in war can we remember? Lines from Kipling's "Recessional" seem appropriate, "Lord God of Hosts be with us yet, Lest we forget, Lest we forget!" A friend after our own heart, the one who in response to a five year old request returned some valued poems... And speaking of borrowed literature, we hope that the person who has a treasured volume of ours with our name engraved on the front, reads this column... Cowboy boots may be the most comfortable foot gear in the world, as we are told, but we know a man about town who seated himself on the curb of a neighboring town and removed his with a sigh of relief... Arthur and Ann Allison back from Texas with Ann all a-thrill over the artists, their studios and works and Arthur full of fish stories and tales about the fishermen he met... And a big time was had by all except the recent groom whose "hone" persuaded the county clerk to tell the young man, as he bought his marriage license on his wedding day, that it was not legal until five days later.

Entries In Mule Race To Register Monday Morning

Plena E. Moore, secretary of the Ranger Chamber of Commerce, Saturday urged all who wanted to enter mules in the slow mule race, in connection with the Labor Day Rodeo and Celebration, to register at the registration desk at the Paramount Hotel Monday morning. Mules will not be ridden by their owners, but each person entering a mule must ride one entered by someone else and the last mule across the finish line will be declared the winner. In this way each rider will try to get his mule to finish first, in order that his own, ridden by someone else, will be last.

SERIAL STORY Murder on the Boardwalk BY ELINORE COWAN STONE

Inspector Parsons reveals that Mrs. Talbert was killed in a wheel chair on the boardwalk...

CHAPTER XVII DOES it occur to you, Inspector? Chandra went on still very stiffly...

In the case of Earl Talbert, there were threatening notes, a that case, too, the victim was a first thought to have been kidnaped...

Don't you think you're crowding this hunch of yours about the nephew's being alive? You would not push it so far, I suppose...

Only far enough to suggest that the two abductions were planned by the same mind...

At length the inspector said, perhaps we might pass this round. Someone might have a suggestion?

He handed the paper to Bill, the read it and passed it without comment to Jasper...

With shaking fingers she passed the sheet to Mr. Wilmet.

REMOVING the sun glasses she still wept, Christine thought, in a just glance...

With shaking fingers she passed the sheet to Mr. Wilmet.

At that time, few could foresee the time when electricity would serve so many purposes...

The whole town was proud of its lighting system, but after a few years, people began to forget the inconvenience of kerosene...

People began calling the electric lights "our electric darks."

But the city clung to its idea of a city-owned system because of the great saving to consumers...

Today, however, the plant supplies only a fraction of the current sold to its nearly 1,500 customers...

The Beaver Dam was inadequate to supply all the power for Elberton needs...

Forty-four years ago, the city council of Elberton called an election to vote on bonds to build a municipal plant...

B.T.U. Travelers Return

From Interesting Trip A party of 24 young people together with Rev. and Mrs. Tally, Mr. R. A. Hobson and the cook, Hansford Smith, making a total of 28 left Friday morning for a week's "Christian Adventure Bible Tour" sponsored by the First Baptist Church of this city.

After an uneventful beginning the party lunched at Hamilton and then arriving at Burnet went through Longhorn Cavern. Visiting Inks Dam on the Colorado enroute they arrived in Austin about 10 p. m. Arising early the party enjoyed a delightful swim in Barton Springs. During the morning hour, visits were made to the capitol, visiting Gov. O'Daniel's office, the Senate and House chambers and the building in general; Texas University, Texas Insane Asylum, Blind Institute, Memorial Stadium, Governor's Mansion, and First Baptist Church.

After lunch the group went to Corpus arriving late that evening. Swimming in the Gulf was the order for the first night here. Sunday all went to Sunday School and morning worship at Central Baptist Church, also visiting their B. T. U. and evening services, after which the church tenored the group a social.

Monday, after swimming early in the morning, we went directly to Laredo where the long and arduous task of preparing baggage for the entry into Mexico began. Monday night was spent in the interior of Mexico at Sabana Hidalgo. The Mexican government supplied five customs men to guard the party and their equipment during the night and an army officer for the day.

Tuesday was spent in general sightseeing in Mexico, visiting the mountains, streams, and quaint stores in Sabana Hidalgo. Tuesday night they camped on the banks of the Frio River and went early Wednesday into San Antonio, where they enjoyed the privileges of seeing the Alamo, Randolph Field, Brackenridge Park and the Buckhorn Cafe, as well as the enjoyable swims afforded at Brackenridge Park. Leaving San Antonio early Thursday the group arrived in Langer about seven o'clock in the evening.

The party camped out, sleeping on the ground with bedding serving as the only protection from the ground. Each member of the party brought back many interesting pictures, stories and souvenirs of the trip.

Mrs. Tally took moving pictures of various interesting experiences of the trip, which pictures will be shown at the church in the near future. The Bible studies conducted on the trip consisted of the Bible as a book, its history, etc., outlines of various books of the Bible, as well as doctrines taught in the Bible.

Everyone arrived home safe and sound, not one accident or incident to mar the trip—and a most enjoyable as well as profitable time was had by all.
