America Is Seen Through New Eyes

"When I die, I will tell the dead about it."
It was an incredulous, happy old lady speaking—and she was talking about America. She had been brought from her village home in Romania by her son, who had lived in the United States for some time. It was her first visit to this country.
The things she saw and marveled at when she reached this shore were the things most citizens see every day. They were little things, most of them—but all integral parts of a land that is still comparatively rich and free. On a drive through the country, she was struck by the dairy herds on American farms—the unbelievable size of the full udders. Cows are not so productive in her homeland.

To this little lady, America is the most remarkable place in the world. She couldn't get over the fact that she could travel for several hundreds of miles, across state lines, without once showing a passport.
How often do the citizens of this country stop to think what that means? Americans travel thousands of miles across the continent without once being stopped for identification, unless they run afoul of the traffic regulations somewhere.

Americans don't stop often enough to count their blessings. They accept all the details of their lives as part of their heritage. Yes, they are part of American heritage—automobiles, telephones, electric lights, radio, healthy cattle, freedom of interstate passage, opportunity to become successful. They belong to America, and the citizens here have become used to them. They have become so much a part of the general acceptance of things that no one ever stops to reflect over them.

"What about the houses?—there aren't any fences around them. And where do the watchdogs stay?" Leaving houses unprotected while their owners slept seemed to her like over-reliance on the virtue of humanity. She is learning now that houses don't get robbed in this country—most houses don't, at least.

It might do a lot of people some good to shut their eyes for a moment and open them again—on a new America, a country they never saw before because they were too close to it. Count your blessings, the little ones as well as the big ones. They belong to American life today, but they didn't always. They had to be fought for.

The little old lady from Romania knows all about these blessings, and perhaps she will teach a few veteran Americans a thing or two before she "tells the dead about it."

If rain didn't return water taken from oceans by evaporation, science reports, they would dry up in 3000 years. Here, at last, is the solution to the submarine problem.

Warnings and Promises

Text: Matthew 7:1-14

BY WILLIAM E. GILROY, D. D.
Editor of Advance

THE Golden Rule of this lesson is the Golden Text: "As ye would that men should do unto you, even so do ye also unto them." There are times when one feels that lessons are chosen without much reference to their prime importance in the Bible and without much regard for their clear application to modern life. But here is a lesson against which no such complaint can be made. Every word of it applies with intensity and with spiritual accuracy to the situation that confronts us in the world today, both as individuals in social relationships and as citizens of a nation in a world where some nations are at war.

Surely if humanity is going to come out of its strife and agony with any permanent result for peace and righteousness and democracy, it will not be because men are fighting on battlefields, but because some higher spirit than the spirit of war may conquer, even though war may seem the only practical and temporary way to stop aggressors and prevent international anarchy.

It is profoundly necessary that nations should not judge one another where all are in some measure guilty. If there had not been so much of the spirit of Hitlerism in other lands, including our own, it would not be necessary to be fighting Hitlerism today. Even the fact that nations are at war ought to make us more tolerant and careful in our judgments. Our chief concern ought to be to make sure that the beam is out of our eyes before we are too zealous in casting out the mote from our brother's eye.

THE world is involved in war today, to some extent at least, because the spirit of magnanimity did not prevail in the victory of 20 years ago. Here in our own country we have had fine examples of this spirit of magnanimity coming out of days of strife. We associate this particularly with Abraham Lincoln, who showed a rare understanding of his enemies, even when he felt it his duty to oppose them, and who refused to allow malice to enter his soul. We may be sure that God sees the sins and sufferings of His children with eyes of love and with great sorrow for their perverseness.

The old question, of course, is emphasized in time of war even more than in time of peace: Is it possible to obey the Golden Rule and make it a practical precept of daily life? This question has been asked repeatedly in connection with business, where competition often leads to be ruthless and where the individual is often the victim of forces and conditions which he has no power to determine.

There is little value in spinning out too finely the issues and questions that are raised, but the simple fact is that all of us could live a great deal closer to the Golden Rule than we are now doing, even allowing for handicaps and obstacles. Moreover, if there were more disposition on the part of men and women—even on the part of those who call themselves Christians—to take the Golden Rule into practical life, many of the handicaps and obstacles would disappear.

THE Golden Rule, of course, represents an unrealized ideal and an ideal difficult of attainment. But it is an ideal that is to be attained, and there never will be peace or happiness or truth or prosperity on earth until men come a great deal nearer to the establishment of the Golden Rule in all the relationships of daily life.

ALL IN READINESS TO START ROLL CALL FOR RED CROSS ON MONDAY

Plans have been completed for the 23rd annual roll call of the American Red Cross, to be started in Ranger Monday morning, with W. W. Layton, minister of the Church of Christ, in charge as chairman of the drive, it was announced here Saturday. The 1940 roll call is expected to be the largest since World War days. Layton stated, and the Ranger goal has been set at 500 members.

The city of Ranger has been divided into 21 sections, 11 in the residential section and 10 in the business area, with 90 of Ranger's leading citizens having been summoned to aid the roll call this year. They have been urged to meet in the office of the Chamber of Commerce Monday morning at 10 o'clock.

Below are the divisions of the town and the names of workers summoned:
Divisions of Area
Residential Section. (See Ranger Times Tuesdays' issue).
Business Section:
District 1. Blocks 5 and 12, or Montgomery Ward and Piggy-Wiggly blocks.
District 2. Blocks 9, 10, 23, 24, 25, 26. Bordered by Main Street on North, and Elm on South. Marston Street on West and Commerce on East.
District 3. Block 21. Ghoslon Hotel block.
District 4. Block 28. Commercial State Bank block.
District 5. Blocks 4, 13. West Texas Clinic and Theatre blocks.
District 6. Block 29. Joseph Apartments block.
District 7. Block 29. Killingsworth block.
District 8. Blocks 30, 19, 18, 14. Burton-Lingo, Traders, Post Office and Ranger Clinic blocks.
District 9. Eastland Highway from Main Street South.
District 10. Strawn Highway from Main Street North.

Special committees will be sent to gas and gasoline plants in and around Ranger.
The American Red Cross is chartered by Congress. Its president is the president of the United States, and the central committees are named by the president. All accounts are audited by the War Department and are submitted to congress each year. The Red Cross does not receive any financial aid from the United States Government, the organization being supported entirely by citizens of the United States. Membership in the Red Cross is altogether individual and there are no family memberships.

"Every man and woman in Ranger is therefore invited to become a member," Layton stated Saturday. "The membership fee is $1.00 and any contributor to the Red Cross receives a Red Cross button."

The following is the list of workers who have been urged to meet in the Chamber of Commerce office Monday morning:

Four-footed "transports" must also still watch their "P's and Q's" in Dallas Laws keeping owners of such animals in line would fill many pages.

For instance: "Drivers of wagons, whether loaded or unloaded, and persons numerous upon horseback or muleback, are hereby forbidden to congregate upon the courthouse square in such numbers as to obstruct its streets, except on days of stray sales."

There also are numerous laws, still in effect, which provide penalties for blocking streets and mutilating posts, etc., by tying horses or mules to them.
"It shall be unlawful," one law reads, "for any persons to hitch or tie any animal whether attached to a vehicle or not, to any post or pole which has placed thereon a street sign of the City of Dallas, or to tack, tie or in any manner attach an animal thereupon."
Also, another ordinance provides "It shall be unlawful for any person to allow any horse or other animal driven or ridden by him to break down, bite, injure or in any manner damage or destroy any living tree standing in any street or public highway of said city."

Dallas Still Has Many Old Laws Now Obsolete

DALLAS, Tex.—It's a far cry to the days when feather dusters played a vital role in every Dallas household and overloaded mules on downtown streets constituted dangerous traffic hazards.
But it's not so very far to city ordinances which govern the use and the presence of such things.

BRUCE CATTON IN WASHINGTON

BY BRUCE CATTON

NEA Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON.—The "peace... lobby" is not yet ready to ad-... mit that the fight to keep the arms... embargo has been lost.

Most militant peace societies to-... day are the Women's International... League for Peace and Freedom... and the National Council for the... Prevention of War. Both groups... have launched intensive last-mi-...nute campaigns to keep congress-...men in line, principal objective... being the 61 Democrats who last... spring voted to insert the Vorys... embargo amendment in the Bloom-...bill.

This pressure is taking the form... of personal contacts and appeals... to groups "back home," in the... hope that a flood of letters and... telegrams will descend on Capitol... Hill.

Meanwhile, both organizations... are looking ahead to the period... when the embargo debate shall... have ended and are mapping their... strategy for the rest of the fall and... the early winter.

Frederick Libby, head of the... National Council for Prevention of... War, plans an active campaign... for "peace now." His organization... will try to create sentiment for an... international peace conference to... end hostilities and settle differ-...ences between warring nations. It... is trying to re-establish its pre-...war contacts in Great Britain.

The Women's International... League for Peace and Freedom... meanwhile, plans to make a strong... drive for enactment of a war re-...ferral measure similar to the... proposal which Senator LaFollette... unsuccessfully tried to tack onto... the neutrality bill.

Already pending in Congress... is the constitutional amend-...ment brought up long ago by... Congressman Louis Ludlow of Indians, which would (to all intents... and purposes) take the war-de-...claring authority away from Con-...gress and put it in the hands of... the voters, except in the case of... actual or threatened invasion of... the United States.

Senator LaFollette's plan is the... same thing in milder form. It... would provide that Congress could... not declare war (except, again, in... case of invasion) until after a... referendum had been held, but it... would not necessarily make that... referendum binding upon Con-...gress.

Dorothy Detzer, who handles... Washington matters for the... League, says her group will sup-...port this plan principally on the... ground that it is simpler than the... Ludlow proposal and could be put... into effect by a mere act of Con-...gress in place of the lengthy con-...stitutional amendment process.

Just incidentally, Miss Detzer... wishes people would get it... through their heads that the... Women's International League for... Peace and Freedom has nothing... whatever to do with the American... League for Peace and Democracy, the... outfit which the Dies commit-...tee has branded a Communist-...front organization.

Because the names are similar, a... lot of people get them mixed;... Miss Detzer points out that her... organization is strictly a member-...ship affair, that it has—or had, until... the war started—sections in... 22 countries, and that it maintains... international headquarters at Gene-...veva.

The Women's International... League is much the older of the... two, having been founded in 1915... by Jane Addams. There is nothing... radical about it; it's national... treasurer, for instance, is Helen... Taft Manning, daughter of former... President Taft and sister of Sen-...ator Taft of Ohio.

Chatter Box

A child's description of her unshaven father, "Daddy's face is polka dotted" . . . A typographical error in a news story often changes a dignified account into a ludicrous one and here's a recent example with substitute name: "Bill Jones, 11, will celebrate his birthday today and present for the celebration will be four children, 22 grandchildren . . . Suggested as a most descriptive phrase, "a smoking cigarette," for one left unextinguished . . . The name of one of Ranger's most beloved young ladies who is a student at T. C. U. appeared in a recent issue of a Fort Worth paper under this headline, "Fashion Display Is Close Second at Waco Grid Game" and here's how our kanger lassie impressed the writer, "Mary Helen Childs from Ranger was blue from toe to toe in a three-piece sportswear suit" . . . Cupid has turned loose a shower of darts among our friends and numbered among the victims are three whom we taught in school. We admit that the news of wedding bells had us sneaking up to the mirror for a close inspection of our appearance . . . And speaking of Cupid's antics, we hear, by grapevine, that the little mischief maker has struck locally and sure enough there's a left hand sparkler to bear out the rumor . . . We wonder how the "war brides" of the World War feel about their sons who are old enough to join the ranks for another war . . . While we studied pictures of an ultra modern theatre being built in one of our cities there came to our mind the memory of the old home town "picture house" which was an open air affair and known as "Airdome Theatre." There we saw the thrilling serial pictures such as "The Red Circle" and "The Million Dollar Mystery" and, too, the silent picture version of "Smilin' Through" with Norma Talmond in the lead . . . Among the outstanding theatrical people in Hollywood it's interesting to note the number of foreign born. Some of them are, Lionel Barrymore, London; Irving Berlin, Russia; Brian Aherne, England; Charlie Chaplin, England; Mary Pickford, Toronto; Tyrone Power, London; Paul Muni, Austria, and Herbert Marshall, London . . . One of the best racks of recent years is professional book reviewing.

Goodyear Store Announces New Prices On Tires

Announcement by The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. of drastic reductions in consumer list price of tires and tubes has been enthusiastically received by residents of this area, according to L. C. Russell, manager of Goodyear Service, the company's local retail outlet.

"The public seems appreciative of the fact that Goodyear has made this contribution toward price stabilization in the face of the current general upward trend," Russell declared. "We have received many calls of commendation, but real proof of the way local motorists feel about the reductions is seen in the increase in sales since the new prices became effective on November 1.

"Coming at this time of year, when highways in many sections of the country are wet and slippery, the price reductions are especially important to car owners who realize that new tires, with sharp gripping treads, are the best protection against skids," Russell said.

In the original announcement, President F. W. Litchfield of Goodyear explained that the reductions were made possible by savings in manufacturing costs resulting from modernization of the company's factories in Akron, Los Angeles, Jackson, Mich., and Gadsden, Ala., and by establishment of bulk plants at strategic points throughout the U. S. that have brought about a more simplified system of distribution. He also emphasized the company's belief that "this principle of immediate passing a legitimate share of savings along to the public is consistent with enlightened economic policy and indispensable to the continuance of national recovery."

"It is the opinion of our executives that in addition to stabilizing prices to a degree unknown during the past year, the new arrangement will correct the evils of

Commercial Classes Being Re-Organized

Commercial classes in the adult education project have been re-organized, with courses being offered in shorthand, typing, bookkeeping, English and commercial law, along with allied commercial subjects.

The school has been moved from high school building, where they have formerly been conducted, to the old Liberty Theatre building.

Those eligible for this training must not be enrolled in any other school and must be over 16 years of age and the school is especially designed for working people who want the course in order to improve their efficiency.

The school is sponsored by the Ranger public schools with expenses being paid by the federal government. All tuition is free.

Classes are conducted each afternoon from 4 to 8 o'clock with two competent teachers in charge.

Football Filberts To Have Inning At Wrong Guessing

By United Press

EL PASO, Tex.—For the football filbert afflicted with "pick-it" but who always turns up Monday morning with more losers than winners, an El Paso newspaper has reserved the normal order of things with a "boob contest."

Instead of offering a cash prize to the picker of week-end football game winners, the paper offers a printed certificate of membership in its "Boob Club" and $49.99 to the dopster who can tell in advance which 20 teams will lose in the week-end's selected slate of 20 games.

fictitious price lists, from which long discounts have been offered, and re-establish consumer lists on a valid basis," Russell concluded.

Society Personal

Miss Rita Mooney and Jack Mooney, students at Texas Tech, are spending the week-end with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Mooney. They have as their guest, Jack's roommate, C. H. Cook.

W. M. Bailey is in San Antonio for a visit with his daughter, Mrs. Bailey.

Miss Mary Leo Gray of Dallas is spending the week-end with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. L. B. Gray.

Bob Palmer and Billie Joe Turner, students at Texas Tech, are spending the week-end with their parents.

Mrs. M. H. Hagaman will leave Monday for Wichita Falls, where she will attend the state convention of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs.
