Free Education Attracting Many To the U.S. Army

By United Press
NEW YORK—The main reason young men enlist in the army is to learn a trade at Uncle Sam's expense and not because of the spirit of adventure, according to Col. L. H. Magruder, recruiting officer for the second corps area.

Magruder said seven out of every 10 applicants ask whether they can learn a trade in the army "and the answer to that is always yes."

"The army is in need of every type of mechanic, carpenter, electrician, motor and engine man, clerk, typist, stenographer," Magruder said, "and the only way the army can acquire these master craftsmen is to train them for its own particular use."

Magruder said one reason for the excellent trade-learning possibilities is that the men are free from worry about expenses.

"Pay in the army begins on the day the oath of enlistment is administered," Magruder said, "and for the next three years, the young man is free from all sorts of worry about paying his board, his room, clothes, medical attention, dental treatment, food, and to a considerable extent, entertainment; as the army encourages every kind of athletics, hunting, fishing, and sports, and every soldier is granted Post Exchange privileges which means he never has to worry about 'movie' money. Almost every Army Post has a War Department Theatre as part of the garrison. This would leave the young man free from any influence that would prevent his concentrating fully and completely on his training or learning a trade in the many schools of the army throughout the United States."

Vacancies, he said, exist in the 62nd Coast Artillery regiment located at Fort Totten, Queens, for young men of the metropolitan area, who wish to stay near home—native-born or naturalized citizens between the ages of 18 and 35. The same opportunities exist in the newly organized 16th Medical Regiment at Fort Adams, Newport, R. I.

In addition to the vacancies now existing for both domestic and foreign service in the Army, he explained, some 150 openings in the Air Corps in Hawaii, Panama, Canal Zone and the Philippine Islands became available since Nov. 1. Enlistment in the Air Corps requires a high school education or a journeyman's rating in a mechanical trade.

Conservation Of Soil Is Urged By Henry Wallace

By United Press
WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—Secretary of Agriculture Henry Wallace said today that unless there is a great national movement for soil conservation "our vaunted modern civilization will, in time, be plunged into decadence."

He told the association of Land Grant Colleges that the nation cannot continue to squander its land and forest resources and remain a great nation. Present programs are only a start in the right direction, he said.

Wallace disclosed that farm administration officials are preparing legislation and revising programs to encourage conservation. New legislation may be offered Congress next session.

"Sinful, Evil Men Drink A Toast In Milk To Garner

By United Press
DALLAS, Nov. 17.—Members of the Texas Editorial Association posed as "sinful, evil old men" at a dinner in honor of Vice President John N. Garner—but who drank milk in giving toasts to him—held a tale swapping breakfast today and then left for Trinidad.

At Trinidad Laurence Hawkins, engineer, told them that new scientific discoveries find no eagerly waiting public, but must be advertised to gain acceptance.

Dewey Testifies In Fritz Kuhn Case

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—District Attorney Thomas Dewey testified as a defense witness in the grand jury trial of Fritz Kuhn today that he considered the German-American bond leader a "hissane" to the community and probably a threat to civil liberties.

Campus Mud Blackout Is No Beauty Treatment

Here's mud in your eye! Freshmen and sophomores at Pasadena's California Institute of Technology toss the juicy dirt around in their annual supremacy contest. Co-eds on other campuses use the mud blackout for beauty's sake. But here the mud wallow calls for strength.

Woman Is Injured In Collision With Truck And a Bus

Mrs. E. F. Hollars, a passenger on a Chisholm Trail bus, operating between Seymour and Stephenville, was injured about 10:30 Friday morning when the bus and a truck collided near Morton Valley.

Reports of the accident indicated that the bus was passing a truck on the highway between Morton Valley and Ranger when the two vehicles collided, injuring Mrs. Hollars and badly damaging the bus. The driver of the bus, Buster Stevens, was not injured in the accident.

L. V. Yoess, charged with driving drunk, defendant waived jury and entered plea of guilty, was fined $100 and 90-day jail sentence.

The proceedings were originated July 27, 1862, by Margaret Plattenburg, Inlow's granddaughter, who was given the income from the proceeds of a real estate sale for her lifetime. She died recently, leaving no children.

OCTOBER 7 ELECTION ON BEER HELD VALID, BY 88TH TRIBUNAL

The October 7 beer election in Eastland county which resulted in a dry majority, legality of which was attacked in a suit, is valid, Judge B. W. Patterson of 88th district court held Thursday afternoon at Eastland.

The decision was given after conclusion of arguments on questions of law.

Contestants in the case attacking the election were several beer dealers and others. Contestees were county officials, Milton Lawrence represented the contestants and Earl Conner, Jr., criminal district attorney, represented the contestees.

Notice of appeal was given. In commenting on the questions raised and the holdings of the court, Judge Patterson stated as follows Friday morning to a newspaper reporter:

"One question brought out was that the petition for the election was not filed with the county clerk and by him delivered to the judge and after the judge called commissioners' court together the court acted upon the petition; that the judge then delivered the petition to the clerk which was filed by him. This the contestants alleged constituted premature action of the commissioners' court. I held that filing the petition with the clerk was not a prerequisite to consideration of the petition by the commissioners' court."

"Another question raised was that the order for the election did not name the judges to hold the election nor by sufficient reference thereto authorize the judges previously appointed by the court to hold the election. The contestants failed to introduce any evidence to show that the judges holding the election had not been appointed and, the burden being upon the contestants to do so the objection was not good.

"Still another point was that the judges in several election precincts had appointed their wives to act as clerks under them and by doing so they violated nepotism statutes which prohibits appointment of kinsmen within certain degrees not authorized. The court held that the nepotism statute did not apply to judges of the election.

"The contestants also alleged the statute was not complied with which required sending of twice as many ballots as there were voters to the respective precincts and especially at Mangum that there were insufficient ballots to supply the voters and at least one voter was prevented from voting by reason thereof. Because of the failure to supply this voter with a ballot it did not void the election but the majority was reduced one vote; that the evidence showed in favor of prohibiting the sale of beer; that even if the entire mangum box was stricken it would not be sufficient to overcome the majority.

"They also raised the question of returns from Kokomo showing that there 21 votes in favor of the sale of beer and two against the sale of beer but that the commissioners' court reversed the returns as disclosed by the tally sheets and showed there were 21 votes against the sale and two for. Inasmuch as the total vote cast at Kokomo would not have reduced the majority to change the result. I held it was not sufficient, either, to void the election on that

NO REPORT MADE

No report of the 11th court of Civil appeals was issued today at Eastland because justices have been hearing cases in the 4th court of appeals this week at San Antonio.

THE WEATHER

By United Press
WEST TEXAS—Partly cloudy tonight and Saturday. Not much change in temperature.

RAILWAYS DO NOT COMMENT UPON ACTION

By United Press
DALLAS, Nov. 17.—Railroad officials declined to comment today on the next steps of six railroads operating in Texas, scheduled to lose revenue through ending of differential freight rates.

Two alternatives were open:

1. Submit to the ruling; stopping differential rates, which are added traffic charges for sparsely settled areas.
2. That the railroads make some new move to nullify the commission's decision.

Last week a petition to extend differential rates for 90 days was filed with the commission. The request was denied Monday. Differential rates are scheduled to end Nov. 20.

AUSTIN, Nov. 17.—Texas Railroad Commissioners, at a conference today, reiterated their refusal to postpone the effective date for abolishing freight rate differentials in Texas.

The effective date of the order is next Monday. It has been estimated that abolition of the differentials that apply in 69 West Texas and many Southwest Texas points will reduce freight rates $600,000 a year.

Crane Woman Is Injured When Car Skids, Overturns

Mrs. Cook, who is operator of a shop at Crane, had been at Dallas buying merchandise for the shop, and enroute home when the accident occurred. She was given treatment at the West Texas Clinic in Ranger for her injuries.

Varying Ideas On Taxes Expected To Be Presented Soon

By United Press
AUSTIN, Nov. 17.—Widely-varying tax ideas are expected tomorrow when state representatives meet here to tender a social security revenue bill to Governor O'Daniel.

Using an omnibus bill mailed to members as a basis, leaders hoped to present to the governor a bill with more than a majority of house members as sponsors.

If a tax bill reaches the senate, Sen. I. J. Sulak of LaGrange said he will offer an amendment for a tax on horse racing.

German Troopers Put Down Another Revolt In Prague

By United Press
PRAGUE, Nov. 17.—Armed German storm troopers and German police occupied the Czech University and High School today. Twelve persons were injured yesterday in a Czech Fascist demonstration in the heart of the city and the day before Czech students shouting "for freedom" had been dispersed by storm troopers.

Today armed German storm troopers took positions alongside Czech police at the university. Motorcycles and cars entered the city bearing more storm troopers armed with field guns.

"I then held that even excluding ballots from Mangum and Kokomo entirely the majority of the vote in favor of the prohibition of the sale was still more than 200 votes and did not change the election."

Nazis Help Protect Foes From Nazis

German prisoners of war in an English concentration camp are kept busy at the ironical task of filling sandbags—for air raid defense against bombs from German planes.

Many Students of U. of T. Commute Daily to Campus

AUSTIN, Tex.—Many students among The University of Texas' 10,206 "commute" from nearby communities to attend daily classes, but four senior home economics students are "commuting" daily from the campus to Manor, 13 miles distant, for their "practice teaching" chores.

Each co-ed who is in University training to teach home economics must spend six weeks of her senior year practicing her profession under the watchful eye of an experienced teacher.

Usually this practice teaching is done in the Austin schools through a cooperative arrangement between the University and the Austin Public School system.

Since many home economics teachers-to-be, however, will be employed in small communities, the home economics department has completed plans with the Manor rural independent school to cooperate in the practice teaching system.

"These students will learn to adapt their teaching to the individual needs of pupils through community and home contacts," Miss Berenice Mallory, University supervisor, explained. "Manor, a typical small town school, with its 200 students and four home economics classes, offers an excellent opportunity for the practice teacher to visit in the pupils' homes and to participate in school activities."

GERMAN PLAN OVER ENGLAND IS DRIVEN OUT

By United Press
LONDON, Nov. 17.—Anti-aircraft guns fired today on a man plane which crossed the English coast. No bombs were dropped.

The German pilot penetrated South Lancashire, Cheshire and North Wales in the most daring Nazi flight attempted since war began.

The plane caused air raid alarms in 13 towns. Observers saw six aircraft shells burst near the plane, which, however, sped away to the east.

ZURICH, Switzerland, Nov. 17.—The general staff announced today that a foreign airplane flown over Basle and Zug, entering anti-British leaflets printed in French.

Airplanes, one of which was identified as German, flew over Basle twice yesterday.

Nazis again warned little neutral nations today to keep clear of the European conflict in which both Germany and Great Britain have declared their chief aim to be destruction of the other.

Belgium, the German probed, is in a suspicious position because of the possibility that it goes for England are being transported through Belgian ports. There are "certain Baltic states in the same position."

Roosevelt Is Not Ready To Name Justice To Court

By United Press
HYDE PARK, N. Y., Nov. 17.—President Roosevelt said today only an emergency will force him to nominate a new justice of the supreme court before Congress convenes next January.

The president said he has given no consideration as to whom he will name to succeed the late Associate Justice Pierce Butler.

Mr. Roosevelt mentioned names as prospects for the nomination. Attorney General Frank Murphy, however, has been named as an outstanding prospect.

Oil Allowable In State May Be Cut During December

AUSTIN, Nov. 17.—Faced with a reduction instead of an increase expected in the December federal estimate of market demand for Texas oil, the railroad commission today opened a state-wide prorating hearing.

The estimate of the U. S. Bureau of Mines was that 1,438,100 barrels of Texas oil will be needed daily during December. The November estimate was 1,444,000 barrels a day.

Commissioners had divergent views on whether to issue a 30-day or 60-day order. State Senator Clint Smith of Amarillo appealed to operators to lighten their demands and help the commission staff of federal control. He said an entire revamping of prorating may result.

Writing the Platforms for 1940

Democrats and Republicans alike should be grateful to Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio, candidate for the G.O.P. presidential nomination, for the clear-cut program he offers his party as 1940 objectives, even though it is negative and not constructive in its approach.

Briefly, here is what Taft wants the Republican party to back:

- 1. Reduction of government costs and balancing of the national budget.
2. Repeal of the payroll tax.
3. Repeal of the capital gains tax as a means of increasing employment.
4. Amendment of the wages and hours law to make it imply a minimum wage law.
5. Amendment of the National Labor Relations Act, which the senator contends is being administered one-sidedly.
6. Abandonment of attempts to fix prices in basic industries.

7. Repeal of the Guffey Coal Act. If Democrats are willing to fight the campaign on the basis of these seven simple points, the ground is laid for the 1940 battle. In other words, does the New Deal program stand or fall?

Here are issues everyone can understand. They are stated simply, and they concern vital affairs at home. Whether or not you agree with the views of the senator from Ohio, the issues he outlines touch every citizen.

It will be a good idea for American citizens to remember that this country is a long way from solution of some of its most harassing problems, most of them centering around unemployment. The war will very likely be injected into the campaign many times before the votes are counted in November, 1940. But the war is not an issue. It should not be an influence in next year's vote, for the majority of both parties agree that the United States should play out it.

Unfortunately, that's the way platforms are usually written. And the voters, for whom they are intended, will have to guess at what they mean or vote by instinct on personalities.

SERIAL STORY

5 WOULD KILL

BY TOM HORNER

COPYRIGHT, 1939, NEA SERVICE, INC.

CHAPTER I

"I will be killed tonight! My luck has run out. I have been warned. That anonymous telephone call. The black cat that ran across the driveway tonight. Third light on a match. I've had special police posted all around the house but they can't see me. But before I die—"

"There are five persons who would rather see me dead than alive. My wife, Helen Benthorne; William Alston, my father-in-law and former partner; Joey di Torio, the gangster; a woman named Ara and an old prospector, known as 'Big Red.' I hate all of them and I know they hate me. I leave this list that the police may know one of these five would kill me—"

ARNOLD BENTHORNE smiled—a bitter, twisted smile—as he read the words he had just written.

They would pay—all of them—for hating Arnold Benthorne. In life he had ruled them all. In death he would still retain his power over them. They would suffer. Only Benthorne could have conceived such a vengeance.

Deliberately he folded the paper, then rising quickly from his chair, he hurried across the study, pulled a bookcase away from the wall and knelt beside a small safe. He twisted the knob and in a moment the door swung open. Light from the desk lamp glistened on the metal.

Illustration by Ed Cunder.

"YOU!" Benthorne gasped. . . . A revolver shone in the light. The round black hole held Benthorne's hypnotized gaze.

He saw a "red" of 12, thin, clad in a scuffed sport of a dandy. He saw an older, heavier, dressed in a suit of the worsting. . . .

Legion Urges All Eligibles To Join By November 20

In the course of twenty-one years of troubled international events, America has been at peace with all countries. Our statesmen have labored toward better international understanding and even more peaceful and constructive relations.

We, the members of The American Legion, believe that those same leaders could not have carried on their programs of peaceful relations without the support of public opinion and the cooperation of American Citizens. Also, that it is increasingly apparent that co-operation and the recognition of strength of an is greatly responsible for the solidarity of America, and that our confidence in our leaders' ability to maintain our neutrality is buoyed by these convictions. The larger and more vigorous our membership, the more effective will be the American Legion's policy of neutrality and peace because of our influence upon legislation.

Therefore, to the end that we may not only preserve but enhance our efforts toward peace and neutrality, we earnestly ask your support of the program for attaining our goal of 70,000 American Legion members for 1940. Membership tabs will be given to each member who pays his dues on or before November 20. That means that Post Adjutants should have remittances in the mail on or before midnight, November 20.

We are able to do this because of the rain on Armistice Day preventing many posts from conducting their regular planned membership drive.

The Carl Barnes Post Membership at the present time is 92 and their goal was 100 by November 11th, but on account of bad weather the State Department has extended the time until November 20. The committee is still working. The Membership Committee: AMOS RICE, LOXNIE HERRING, R. H. HANSFORD.

Capone Is Guarded In Hospital Room

BALTIMORE, Md., Nov. 17.—Heavy police details guarded the Union Memorial Hospital where Al Capone began a struggle to recover from paresis. The police detail was understood to be a "precautionary measure" against the possibility that some of Capone's enemies might seek to administer "gangland justice."

Colorado To Enjoy Two Thanksgivings

By United Press
DENVER.—Because state officials couldn't agree on a Thanksgiving Day date, Colorado residents will have two turkey dinners in November.

Said Republican Gov. Ralph L. Carr: "Colorado will get its turkey on Nov. 30 no matter what the President says."

"Colorado will certainly get turkey Nov. 23, too," insisted Attorney General Byron G. Rogers. "Under state law the President's proclamation will be effective in Colorado."

Everybody, including statehouse employes and retail merchants, seemed pleased with the "compromise agreement"—providing two holidays.

Suspension of leased wire services for racing syndicates may force thousands of gamblers to go back to more primitive systems of losing their money, such as shooting craps.

Ranger Orchestra Starts Rehearsals

The Ranger Orchestra has started rehearsals under the direction of E. R. Priesing, head of the fine arts department of Ranger Junior College.

Priesing is planning an interesting program for the year, and hopes to give a concert and play at one or more programs, including a production of the Gilbert and Sullivan operetta, "The Mikado." Rehearsals have already started on the eve.

At present the orchestra is rehearsing at 7:30 on Monday, but may change the day if there is a great enough demand, it was stated today.

Anyone who plays an instrument and is interested in music is invited to attend the orchestra rehearsals. As string instruments, basses, cornets, trombones and clarinets are still needed to fill out the orchestra.

Benthorne paused, undecided. "First place Helen and Joey would look," he said, half aloud. He stepped to the window, pulled back the drawn shade. A flash of lightning revealed the dark-coated figure of a policeman, dodged against the gate. There was another in the garage, a third at the rear driveway, Benthorne knew. Thunder shook the house, rattled the window. The ticking of the clock above the fireplace echoed throughout the ensuing silence. Only a few minutes more, Benthorne thought.

There was yet one chance—only one—but he would take it. Quickly he returned to the desk, turned the lamp shade so that the light fell more upon the closed door. He crumpled the paper in his hand, tossed it into the wastebasket. He opened a desk drawer, took out a revolver. The safety clicked. He replaced it, carefully leaving the drawer open. Pulling his chair back from the circle of light, yet still within reach of the gun in the drawer, Arnold Benthorne sat down, waited for his murderer.

HE could see the headlines—"BLOODY BENTHORNE MURDERED." That would be old Parker's sheet. They hated him, too. Fought his methods, tried to trap him. But never quite succeeded.

"BENTHORNE, FINANCIER, FOUND DEAD." Good old conservative Carter Smith. Wishy-washy. Afraid to call a spade a now. The older boy, Billy Watson, had challenged his right to sell papers on that corner. Arnold—his name was not Benthorne then—had refused to fight, had run away in terror.

Another picture came to mind. Billy's face, disappearing beneath the waters of the river. Arnold had run screaming to the nearest policeman; men had dived into the river for Billy's body. The crowd praised Arnold—he had done all he could. Even Billy's mother was nice to him, after her hysterical crying had stopped.

They never found Billy's body. It was just as well. Someone might have wondered about those bruised knuckles—bruised as Arnold pounded Billy's fingers as he clung to the dock.

The papers would not tell that story tomorrow. No—there would be columns about Arnold Benthorne's phenomenal rise in the business world. They would tell how dying stocks revived under his magical touch, how he pyramided his wealth into millions. There would be the story of his vast factories, his thousands of employees. His charities would be mentioned, and the scholarships his wealth had made possible.

There would be pictures, too, of Benthorne—dark-haired, fiftyish, his cold, piercing eyes staring out from the lean hardness of his face. He hoped they would use that picture he had had made last month—the one the photographer said made him look like a dictator.

Helen's picture would be back in the papers again, too. The society editors would see that his marriage to Helen Alton, daughter of one of America's greatest motor truck manufacturers, would not be forgotten.

The gossip columnists had enjoyed a field day guessing the real facts behind the Alston-Benthorne wedding—wondering how one of society's favorite debutantes could would ever solve. For years they had been speculating as to where Arnold Benthorne got his stake. No one knew him when he first came to New York, armed with $50,000 and the determination to turn it into a million. No one knew—nor would ever know—the story of "Big Red."

They had met in Alaska. "Big Red" had come in with the Klondike rush, hunted his strike for 20 years. And he had found it—far inland, among unmapped mountains, "Big Red" had found his gold. Benthorne—his name had been Benson then—learned of the mine when "Big Red" filed his claim. He had followed "Big Red" northward. He remembered "Big Red's" piteous cries as he left him, blind and dying in that forgotten valley.

He had taken "Big Red's" name—John Douglas—as well as his claim title and ore samples, until he had sold out to a mining company.

He had listed "Big Red" as one of the five—and "Big Red" was dead. He'd scratch off the name. No use blaming a murder on a dead man. Quietly that he had imagined, even for an instant, that "Big Red" was alive.

He reached for the wastebasket. "DON'T move, Benthorne!" The soft voice, almost a whisper, came from the half-open door.

"YOU!" Benthorne gasped. The muzzle of a revolver shone in the light. The round, black hole held Benthorne's hypnotized gaze.

"Bring your hands up. Keep away from the desk. You've been expecting me!" Benthorne did not answer. His head was still above the level of the desk. If he could fall forward, suddenly, he might beat the shot, reach his own gun. One more second—

Flame spouted from that black circle as Arnold Benthorne took his last chance. (To Be Continued)

Sons of A Chinese Are Good Students

By United Press
ANN ARBOR, Mich.—Two sons of a trusted adviser to Chinese generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek are diligently seeking an education here, preparing for the time when they believe Chinese national life will be reestablished on a peaceful basis.

John and Peter Eoyang, the 9- and 16-year-old sons of Admiral Eyang, commander of the de facto Chinese navy are known as "Chin" and "Pete" to friends in the Ann Arbor and University of Michigan high school, where they enrolled.

They are football fans, but they are also serious about their careers; Peter so much so that he hopes to finish high school in two years, study naval architecture and engineering at the university, and then enter a British naval academy. He also finds time to box, play football, and swim.

Thieves skinned three mink and made off with the pelts valued at $18, although the live mink would have brought $180. They are probably satisfied with small but steady profits.

A meeting of the board of stewards of the First Methodist church of Eastland will be held tonight at 7:30 in the church, it was announced this morning.

Supreme Court Is River Level Factor

ST. LOUIS — The Mississippi river has shrunk to its lowest level due not only to the drought but also to a decision of the U. S. supreme court.

At points in the St. Louis district, below the junction of the Mississippi with the Missouri, the river is only half its normal width. Old river pilots say the low water has persisted longer than at any time in their memory.

Although drought in the Northwest has been the principal cause of the low water, engineers here say a contributing factor was the decision of the Supreme Court ordering decreased diversion of water from Lake Michigan. The order was effective Jan. 1.

Nervousness Is Blamed For Decay Of A Childs Teeth

BOSTON.—Nervousness - precipitates decay in children's teeth, according to Dr. Percy R. Howe, director of the Forsyth Dental Infirmary. He said long research had shown that a child's diet might be sufficient for good tooth structure and condition, but the diet advantage would be offset by a nervous spell.

Stressing the need for strict care of a child's diet to see that proper minerals and vitamins are obtained for good tooth culture, Howe said: "This supervised diet can be nullified, however, by a nervous condition in a child—a fact not generally known to parents. A complacent upbringing for a child in pleasant surroundings is just as important as selected diet in enabling the child to have a mouth filled with fine and healthy teeth."
