RUMANIA HAS CEDED LANDS TO HUNGARIANS

Rumania agreed today to cede to Hungary more than half of her rich Transylvania district in return for a German-Italian guarantee of aid against any future Russian encroachment.

The arrangements were made by the axis powers' mediators and Rumania accepted reluctantly and only after a week of sporadic Russian border raids.

Russia's attitude was not known but its fleet was maneuvering in the Black Sea and troops were already massed along the border. Russia was reported to have told King Carol, however, that the border incidents were considered closed, but that no more incidents would be tolerated.

Meanwhile 800 German warplanes flew over the British Isles, centering their attack upon London.

The British claimed that they shot down 40 German craft by noon and Berlin sources asserted that 51 British planes had been destroyed.

The British said their air defenses worked unusually well and that successive waves of German bombers were dispersed before reaching London.

Rome sources said that Italian bombers had seriously damaged a British army base at Marsa Matruh, Egypt, and a Cairo dispatch claimed that the Italians had machine-gunned an American mission in the Sudan zone.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—President Roosevelt said today that Wendell Wilkie is attempting to "play politics" by insisting on knowing the president's position regarding the senate proposal to conscript industry in war time.

Mr. Roosevelt said he never commented on legislation that is pending in congress.

ROOSEVELT IS QUIET ABOUT CONSCRIPTION

Oil's Birthday In State Will Be Celebrated Soon

FORT WORTH, Texas.—Oil's forty-fifth birthday in Texas will be celebrated by the Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association at its annual convention in Fort Worth October 21 through November 2. E. L. Smith, president, announced here Saturday.

Carrying out the anniversary theme, special recognition will be given Texas oil pioneers including some who helped in the discovery or development of Texas' first commercial oil field at Corsicana in October, 1895. In the talks for the convention, attention will be paid to petroleum's place in the life of Texas and its rise to the State's largest industry within less than half a century.

Speakers for the meeting, the Texas Mid-Continent's twenty-first annual convention, are now being arranged by George C. Gibbons, executive vice-president. They will include national but not only in petro-um but also in general business and government. Committee reports on the Association's work during the year will be presented by Al Buchanan of San Antonio, chairman of the membership committee; Raymond M. Myers of Dallas, social secretary; Paul Pitzer of Breckenridge, theft prevention; R. B. Anderson of Vernon, taxes; F. T. Baldwin of Houston, wages and hours; Guy L. Tate of Dallas, form simplification and B. C. Clardy of Dallas, freight rates.

A full program of entertainment will be for the oilmen and their wives is already being planned. A dinner dance and show, the annual handicap golf tournament and other features will be arranged.

Regional vice-presidents of the Texas Mid-Continent, service organization for Texas oilmen, are H. R. Cullen of Houston, Gulf Coast; Bryan W. Payne of Tyler, East Texas; J. L. Collins of Corsicana, East Central Texas; D. Houston Bolin of Wichita Falls, North Texas; M. B. Davis of Pampa, Panhandle; Hamilton McRae of Midland, West Texas; Joe A. Clarke of Albany, West Texas; and Al Buchanan of San Antonio, Southwest Texas.

The 1939 convention, held at Houston, was attended by nearly 1,000 Texas oilmen.

Ridding Peas and Beans of Weevils Is Explained by Agent

Miss Ruth Ramey, County Home Demonstration Agent, has given the following method of ridding peas and beans of weevils:

Peas and beans are less subject to damage from weevil when left in the hull than if they are shelled or threshed. The safest way to keep them, however, is to shell or thresh them with carbon disulphide. Half-gallon glass jars, gallon sprig buckets, or 25 pound hard cans, make convenient containers for storage. Carbon disulphide should be used as follows:

Half gallon jar, 1-4 teaspoonful; 25 pound hard can, 5 teaspoonful; 50 gallon drum, 1 ounce.

Put the carbon disulphide in a small container on top of the peas before placing on the lid. Let stand 36 hours, open and spread out peas on table top, or floor, until carbon disulphide fumes have gone. Place back in the containers and adjust the lid tightly.

When the peas or beans are to be used only for eating, they may be placed in open containers, such as a turkey roaster, and heated to 150 degrees F. for ten minutes, then stored in tight containers.

Greedy Spaniel Is "Bitten" by a Bone

FORT WAYNE, Ind.—When a "bone" bites a dog, that's news. At least Hamane Officer Wilfred Goss thought so when he was called to the home of Loren Gilmore to rescue the family's cocker spaniel.

In its enthusiasm to attack a steak bone, the spaniel had thrust the whole lower jaw through a hole in the bone and it had caught behind the animal's teeth. After trying pliers, pincers, and a veterinary saw to no avail, the officer took the bewildered dog to a blacksmith shop, where the bone was removed.

School Board Hedges On Thanksgiving

LOCKPORT, N. Y.—The Board of Education is taking no chance on being fooled about Thanksgiving Day this year.

The 1940-41 school calendar adopted by the board states that the Thanksgiving recess will be observed either Nov. 21-24 or Nov. 28-Dec. 1.

A year ago, the board made up its calendar figuring on Thanksgiving coming at the usual time, but President Roosevelt changed the date.

Lights Out in Berlin

Blackout restrictions are tightened in Berlin, and anti-aircraft searchlights tear strips of brilliance in the nighttime sky since vengeful British bombers put Germany's capital inside the war's over-riding "front." This picture, taken during air raid precautions tests, shows how blacked-out Berlin looks to enemy planes.

Lucky Tiger

Monnie Drake, 20-year-old Detroit radio and night club singer whose name has been romantically linked with Harney McCooky, Tiger outfielder, was named Miss Michigan and will represent the state in national beauty contest in Atlantic City.

Judges Joke Has Backfired On Him

DALLAS, Tex.—City Judge Joe Hill had to explain that he was merely joking when he suggested that carbons in shorts be employed to receive fines. The explanation came after several telephone calls were made to his office by girls requesting jobs at a proposed drive-in bureau for paying traffic fines.

"I jokingly said that I would be willing to try car hops in shorts or anything else if it would cut down the number of persons failing to appear in court," the judge explained. "Of course the city would not consider such a proposal."

Judge Hill was still in sympathy with the drive-in plan. The plan at present is to move the fine bureau to the front of the Corporation Court building, already equipped with a drive-in. Motorists could drive to the court and pay off fines without getting out of their automobiles, the judge explained.

Twelve days later Mrs. Baker's mother visited the fair, won a telephone call and also called her.

Christian Endeavor To Meet in Abilene

Officers, sponsors, and workers of the local Young People's Christian Endeavor societies will leave soon for the annual C. E. workers' conference to be held August 31, September 1 and 2 at the Buffalo Gap Encampment grounds 14 miles southwest of Abilene.

At least one hundred fifty young people from throughout the State of Texas are expected to attend the three day conference to formulate programs and plans for this international, interracial, and interdenominational organization for the coming year.

Leading directors of the meeting will include J. Stuart Penrose, state president, from San Antonio, Al Goodrich, state field secretary, Clem Sorley, Fort Worth, Lillian E. Cooper, Horace Sanders, and Helen Bosley from Dallas, Paul Veale from Harglingen, J. C. Estes of Tyler, Orville D. Carter of Fort Worth, and Ben Hallock, Dr. F. M. Warren, and Dr. E. R. Surface, of Abilene.

Every society in the State of Texas is expected to send at least one representative to the conference. There is no registration fee and meals for the entire meet are to be served for $1.50.

Delegates to the meeting will be directed from Abilene to the encampment grounds by special C. E. flags posted at regular intervals from the Abilene and Tuscola highway intersections to the scene of the meet.

North Alabama Is Awaiting Oil Tests

JASPER, Ala.—This North Alabama area hopes soon to become the center of Alabama oil drilling activities.

Possibility of an oil boom here has risen since Paul D. P. Spearman, Washington lawyer and oil man, surveyed the section and commented favorably on its oil potentialities.

W. E. Stewart, president of the Stewart Oil Company of Texas, was here recently on a survey and likewise was favorably impressed.

Meantime, a test well being drilled near Carbon Hill has reached a 3,600-foot depth and four six-hour shifts are working seven days a week on it.

Long Distance Calls Prove Surprising

FAIRHAVEN, Mass.—Mrs. Mary Baker's brother went to the Golden Gate Exposition at San Francisco and won a free telephone call. He called Mrs. Baker, whom he had not seen in 17 years.

Twelve days later Mrs. Baker's mother visited the fair, won a telephone call and also called her.

Another Airplane Engine Contract Announced Today

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—The War Department today concluded an agreement with the Wright Corporation to make 20,000 airplane engines for defense, bringing a total of 37,000 engines ordered in two days.

These will supply the army and navy demands during the years 1940 and 1941, it was stated.

Brother of Former District Attorney Gunshot Victim

RISING STAR, Aug. 30.—Albert Jones, 45, of Fort Worth, brother of Joe H. Jones, Dallas, assistant United States district attorney was found shot to death at the home of his sister, Mrs. W. E. E. Tyler, at Rising Star Thursday noon.

At an inquest, Justice of the Peace G. W. Hardin returned a verdict that death was due to accidental gunshot wounds.

The body was found in the back yard of the residence, a shotgun on the ground near by. Investigators said a blast through the heart caused instant death.

A maid at the residence said Mr. Jones borrowed the gun from Charles Rutherford, a neighbor of the Tylers, to kill a snake. No member of the Tyler family was at home at the time.

Mr. Jones left Fort Worth two days ago on one of his regular tours as a collector for the Texas and Pacific Coal and Oil Company. He had been in Rising Star at the home of his sister since Wednesday.

Mr. Jones joined the Texas Pacific Coal and Oil Company 23 years ago, working for the company at Thurber before moving to Fort Worth 13 years ago. He was a Mason and a member of the First Methodist church.

Mrs. Jones left Fort Worth for Rising Star shortly after hearing of the death of her husband.

Mr. Jones, a native of Gorman, is survived by his widow; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Jones, Gorman; two sons, Robert Jones of Hollywood, Cal., and Joe Jones, Pearl Harbor, Honolulu; a daughter, Miss Betty Jones of Fort Worth and the brother, Joe H. Jones, who is vacationing in Chicago.

"Help Mattress To Live" Is Advice of Demonstration Agt.

Help your mattress live to an old age. Miss Ruth Ramey advises. With more than 800 mattresses being made in Eastland County the program for low income farm families all need to be ready to take care of the mattresses in the right way and give them a long life, and to do this one may follow the points listed below:

Your mattress will live a long time if it is made right and if you give it good care. You should begin treating it right the minute the mattress is finished.

Your mattress should be sunned and beaten every day for two weeks before any one sleeps on it.

After that, you should sun your mattress once a week.

You should beat it once a week, too.

Your mattress should be turned from end to end and side to side three times a week so that the cotton will not get lumpy and the mattress will not sag in spots.

And of course your mattress should be kept free of bed bugs.

Other helps: It is easier to keep your mattress clean than it is to clean your mattress after it has been soiled.

Some things which will help keep your mattress clean are: a springs cover; a mattress cover; a mattress pad.

These are simple to make at home and you get the directions from your county home agent. They do not cost much and you can use flour or fertilizer sacks or other material on hand. All three can be washed often.

Now It's All Over but the 'Chuting

A high time was had by all at the recent wedding of Arno Rudolph and Ann Hayward, of New York, for the ceremony was performed with bride, groom, minister and wedding attendants sitting in parachutes, 50 feet up, at the New York World's Fair parachute jump. Here's the highly romantic couple saying "I do" to Rev. Homer A. Tomlinson, right.

At least six prominent citizens had offered rewards from $10 to $500 for arrest and conviction of those who had hung the flag.

The boys were very bad Nazis. They didn't even know the regulation colors in the flag. The official Nazi emblem is black with a white swastika and not vice-versa as the boys had it.

September's Oil Allowable For the County Is Listed

By United Press
AMARILLO, Tex.—Amarillo's first fifth column scare turned out to be a fluke but it caused a lot of excitement and gave four youths responsible for the incident a scare.

Early morning risers were started to see floating over the American Legion home a black and white swastika flag. The bustling was flying from a newly lighted flag pole which the Stars and Stripes ordinarily share.

Four boys of junior college age admitted doing the act "just for fun." Authorities declined to press charges but the youths were given a severe reprimand by Legion officials.

Officials traced the youths through some empty grease cans which were left at the foot of the pole when the boys greased it to make taking the flag down difficult. Only two stores in town sold the particular kind of grease used and one of the stores was found to be a hanging out place for the boys.

Mistake Is Made In Grocery Ad Item In Thursday's Edition

A mistake was made in the Traders Grocery advertisement run in the Thursday edition of the paper, which the Times is glad to correct. The correction was made on the proof, but in the rush to get out the paper on time it was overlooked.

In one of the boxes in the advertisement was the wording "Large Bacon, 9c." This should have read:

"Large Bologna, Lb. 9c."

Ranger Woman To Teach In Schools At Rising Star

RISING STAR, Aug. 30.—Mrs. Eldon Ferrell of Brownwood and Mrs. Katherine Healy of Ranger have been named to fill vacancies in the Rising Star ward school faculty by the school board as final plans for the opening of school next Monday have been perfected.

Opening of the schools Monday will see a record number of boys and girls troop into the local halls of learning, Superintendent H. B. Self said.

First steps are to be taken this year toward beginning a 12-grade system in the local schools, the superintendent stated. The twelfth year will not be added this year, and operation of the plan will see the first four years work stretched into five, Self added.

Leonard Is Stated For Speakership

AUSTIN, Tex.—Homer Leonard, of McAllen, former editor and publisher of the McAllen Monitor, claims a majority of the members of the new house of representatives have pledged him their votes for the speakership.

That would assure his selection on the first ballot. Leonard will be 42 years old on Jan. 1, 1941, which is the day the legislature will convene.

Leonard will be beginning his sixth two-year term in the house. He was elected in 1936 on a good government ticket. In 1932 the good government ticket was not permitted on the ballot. Leonard's friends staged a write-in campaign and he was re-elected. Since he has been democratic nominee for representative four times.

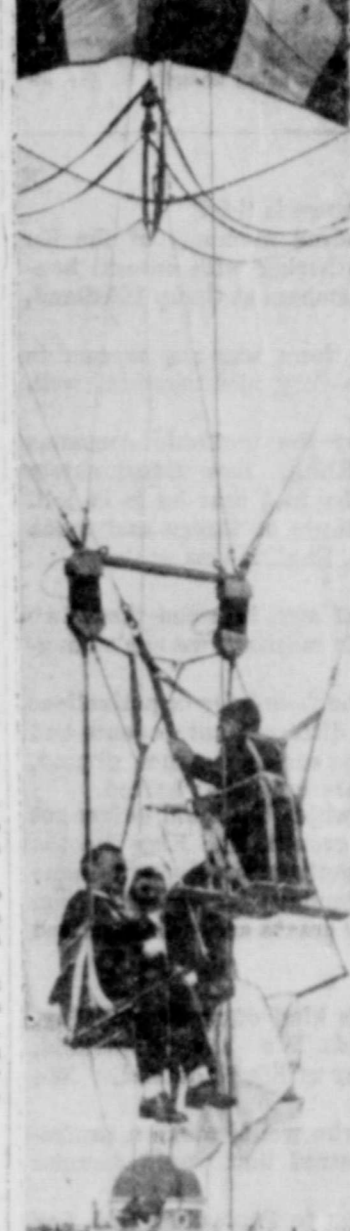

In his 10 years service he has headed four important house committees. He has been chairman of the committees on revenue and taxation, on appropriations, on privileges, suffrage and elections, and on conservation and reclamation.

Frequently he has presided over the house as acting speaker and, in fact, was in the chair during the last session almost a third as much of the time as Speaker R. E. Morse.

Court House To Be Closed Labor Day, September 2

Officials at the Eastland county courthouse advise that all offices in the building will be closed Monday, Sept. 2, which is Labor Day, except that at 9:00 o'clock a. m., Judge B. W. Patterson of the 88th district court, will convene a grand jury. All persons summoned to appear as grand jurors are reminded that the court will be expecting them and will be on hand to convene the grand jury.

SHEEP, GOAT RAISERS WILL MEET TUESDAY

Announcement was made here today that a meeting of all sheep and goat raisers in this part of the country would be held in Ranger Tuesday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock for the purpose of discussing organization of a wool and mohair marketing association.

L. F. Aston, manager of the FL. Worth branch of the Mid-Western Wool Marketing Association, Mr. Arnold, general manager of the Kansas City branch of the organization and Mr. Brannon, one of the two Texas directors, conferred this morning with Mayor Hall Walker of Ranger and J. F. Donley, prominent Eastland County goat raiser, on forming an organization.

The object of the meeting, it was stated today, will be to acquaint growers of this part of the country of the progress being made in marketing wool and mohair, and to form an organization where the wool and mohair would be graded.

Donley stated that he had marketed more than 1,500 pounds of mohair through the association and that he had received an average of six cents a pound more than he was offered elsewhere.

The Fort Worth branch of Mid-Western is the only one in the State of Texas at this time. Donley stated, and pointed out that securing an association in this part of the country would be of much benefit to wool and mohair growers.

Droughts Turning Farmers To East

SUPERIOR, Wis.—A farmer whose last skin and squinting eyes, never could have been the result of Douglas county's cool climate and mellow soil, surveyed his green pasture-land and commented in an un-Wisconsinian drawl:

"It's great to have the ground wet and anchored."

He was one of numberless men whose fathers and grandfathers followed Horace Greeley's advice—"Go West, young man, go West"—only to bequeath to their heirs drought, dust and despair. Bluffed by the West which lured their fathers, many of those men have packed large families and meager belongings into automobiles and headed back East—dozens of them to Douglas county in the northwest corner of Wisconsin.

Get FSA Loans
And here, on small truck and dairy farms, obtained by scanty savings, supplemented in many cases by Farm Security Administration loans, they are succeeding on "solid, moist ground, not burning sand," as Fred Russon of Nebraska expressed it.

Daily, from Oklahoma, Wyoming, Arkansas, Nebraska, Montana, Iowa, the Dakotas—all through the wide Dust Bowl—county officials and real estate men here receive inquiries regarding available acreage and prices.

"Is it true," the letters ask hopefully, "that drought never touches Douglas county?"

Several years ago a lean Iowa farmer applied for a loan at the office of the county FSA supervisor. As he pocketed his check, he vowed:

"Now Emil will make good."

Typical Case Cited
Emil Kasteberg has made good. He and his family graduated from a but dug in a hillside to their own neat farmhouse. Their 40-acre farm is going so well that they could pay off their entire real estate and FSA loans and still retain enough livestock and equipment to operate the farm.

Fred Russon is buying his farm, too. His two children are active in 4-H club programs. The Lindens from Arkansas are raising dairy cattle, vegetables and chickens instead of wheat.

The rural committee of the Superior Association of Commerce encourages truck and berry gardening. Raspberries, particularly, thrive in this area.

Lake Superior's cool breezes create an outlook different from that engendered by the searing Dust Bowl winds.

HEAT CREATES ICE THEIF

COLUMBIA, S. C.—Another "meat thief" has appeared. As the temperature went up to the 102-degree mark, someone slipped in Amy Sims' house and stole all the ice from the refrigerator.

Birds of a Feather

What kind of an unholy alliance is this? In New Jersey several hundred members of the Ku Klux Klan are reported foregathering with several hundred German-American Bund members at Camp Uordland, the Bund's 200-acre camp.

Klan officials denied that there was any merger in sight of the two organizations—they met together, well, just because they met together.

The Klansmen were met by the ineffable Augustus Klapprott, successor to Fritz Kuhn, now unfortunately prevented from attending by the fact that he is in jail. Blind "storm troopers" took charge of things and made the sheeted Klansmen welcome. English was spoken.

What sort of a connection, if any, between these two organizations is presaged by this meeting, we can't imagine.

What common ground can be found for organizations of so diverse origins, so utterly different antecedents and apparent objects? There must be such a common ground, for it is birds of a feather, we are only one: hatred.

The German government to which the Bund defers got its start by peddling hatred of groups. The Klan did the same. Today they may not even unite on precisely the same groups. But this they have in common—they build upon hatred, they exploit hatred, they create and inflame hatred for their own ends.

America has no time for this kind of nonsense today. We have a big job on our hands. We have a splendid, beautiful country, and a free way of life to defend. We propose to defend it.

We have no ears for those who would make a profession and a calling of inciting hatred that would disunite and enfeeble us.

America belongs to all of us: to Protestant and Jew and Gentile and Catholic and those without defined religious belief; to white and black; to rich and poor and all the millions who struggle daily for their bread with no wish but to enjoy it in peace and quietude.

An Ohio golfer hooking his drives discovered he was wearing two left shoes. That's one time it didn't pay to be in the pinches.

Italians and British are still going at it in the desert, where correspondents find the work very dry but never boring.

There was one day recently that will go down in history as the day Mike Jacobs did not buy the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Silence is golden, but those silver-tongued Nazi propagandists have been off the gold standard for a long time now.

BRUCE CATTON IN WASHINGTON

KENTUCKY, TEXAS HAVE HIGHEST PERCENTAGE OF VOLUNTARY ENLISTMENTS IN THE ARMY

While Bruce Catton vacations, other members of NEA Service's Washington staff pinch-hit for him.

BY MILTON BRONNER

WASHINGTON.—The boys on the congressional hill are doing a lot of talking about conscription versus voluntary enlistments. To build up an army, a study of enlistment figures for the first six months of 1940 presents some interesting points.

You might wonder, for instance, which states—on the basis of enlistments—are most military-minded. Figures show they are Kentucky and Texas. Their enlistments, running 13 per cent of eligibles, were in the van for the country.

NEVADA WARLIKE?

The least warlike states, on the basis of these enlistments, are surprising. Ohio showed only 2 per cent. Nevada, considered the state which contributed 9 per cent were North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Tennessee, Oklahoma and Colorado.

CHAMP BY-YOUR-LEAVER

JACOB THORKELOSON is one of the best by-your-leavers in this Congress. There is an old custom in both Houses that when a member does not wish to speak on the floor or cannot get the proper time, he may ask for unanimous consent "to extend my remarks in the Congressional Record."

Lately Thorkeelson has been filling the Record appendix with pieces. And it is all very futile, because back in the first Montana district, the Republicans denied him a renomination.

Idea Exchange Is Means of Solving Government Costs

By United Press
NACOGDOCHES, Texas.—An exchange of ideas and methods which have proved successful in obtaining more efficient local county government at least cost will feature the two-day program of the Texas government institute here Sept. 12-13, at Stephen F. Austin State Teachers College.

The institute is sponsored annually by the East Texas Chamber of Commerce's tax department. About 300 local county officials, state officials, and local taxpayers' committeemen have indicated they will attend this year's session, according to Hubert M. Harrison, vice president and general manager of the ETEX Chamber.

Keynote speaker will be Judge Jake Loy of Grayson county, who will open the institute with a talk on "local government in Texas twenty years hence." At noon, a barbecue will be given on the campus, in honor of the State Highway Commission and its engineer, Dewitt Greer.

Technical discussions of county administrative problems by groups will occupy the afternoon, and in the evening President A. W. Birdwell of the college will speak on "state democracy in a crazy world."

Girls Prove Worth In Machine Shop

By United Press
DES MOINES, Ia.—It used to be that a woman's place was in the home. Then she transferred herself to the office. Now nobody knows just where she does belong—in Des Moines more than 40 women are working in machine shops.

Ten are doing small assembly and light press work. They range in age from 17 to 23 and are paid 35 cents an hour.

"Girls of this age," according to the plant foreman, "acquire the manual skills of their job more quickly than boys of the same age. They seem to understand the whole idea of working at a job, and apply themselves more diligently."

SERIAL STORY

LOVE ON THE LINE

BY PAUL FRIGGEN

COPYRIGHT, 1940, NEA SERVICE, INC.

YESTERDAY Carrie is terrified after the shooting. Mark laughs it off, says Newt Gale took care of Oaks all right. But Carrie is worried about him. As he walks back to his room, Newt Gale warns him to look out for the lead agent.

CHAPTER V

THE Taylors left Sioux Springs early. Carrie joined them after a hearty breakfast at Ms. Parmley's. The wagon was piled high with supplies, most for Carrie's claim. She sat between Mrs. Taylor and Big Ed, perched up in front of the lead.

Carrie would never forget that morning. The sun beat down mercilessly, she thought, and she was glad that Ms. Parmley had warned her to wear her biggest bonnet. Mrs. Taylor wore one, too. Big Ed Taylor, busy driving, didn't say much except to note the powdery dryness of the land.

It was brown, Carrie sat there, bumping along, staring at the seared grass as far as her eyes could reach, and thought, with a shudder, it was almost hot enough to burn. She noticed, however, grass was greener along the bottom lands when Ed Taylor whipped his team of grays across Rock Creek an hour before noon and pulled up at Carrie's claim.

While Mrs. Taylor got out their lunch, he unloaded supplies, stacked them near the soddy site. Then they sat down and ate as Carrie never remembered eating before.

The Taylors drove on to their own claim, a mile distant, after eating, promising Carrie to return early for her that afternoon.

Carrie waved goodbye to the Taylors, standing there on her stack of supplies, and was thankful that such people lived. She watched them down the knoll and out of sight beyond the trees along Rock Creek. She was turning back to survey the things Taylor had unloaded when she saw a lone figure driving across the creek in a buggy toward her claim.

Instantly she was excited. She did not have long to wait. The visitor was Ashton Oaks. Carrie recognized him with a sudden fear, which she could not wholly disguise as he drove up.

OAKS, affable, immaculate in his cutaway and black hat, jumped down from the buggy, greeted Carrie effusively. "Well, well," he said, surveying the pile of homestead stocks. "Looks like you're going to do it up right. Building and everything."

"That's exactly it," said Carrie. "The Taylors hauled out the last load today and this afternoon or tomorrow we begin on the soddy. I can't wait to get it finished and move in."

"Just drove out from town," Oaks went on pleasantly, leaning leisurely against the side of his buggy. "Pretty dusty. You homesteaders certainly can stir up the dirt." He laughed and Carrie Lane suddenly had the feeling of being eyed from head to foot.

"Where there's dust, there's action," Carrie retorted. "Why, you won't know this country in six months, Mr. Oaks," using the identical words Oaks had used on the ride out to Rock Creek two days before.

"That's right. That's right," Oaks bowed and laughed again, pushing back his black hat to wipe his forehead. "I'm glad you mentioned that. That's why I'm out here today."

"What do you mean?" Carrie asked. "Seriously now, Miss Lane, Oaks went on, "you're not going to settle out here on Rock Creek and live in a sod house, alone?"

Carrie thought he emphasized the word "alone," though she couldn't be sure. "That's all right for married folks and for men," he went on quickly, "but it's no place for a woman."

"We'll see about all that, Mr. Oaks," Carrie was suddenly defiant. "Besides, you suggested there was opportunity here, yourself."

"There is," Oaks cut in quickly. "Plenty of opportunity, Miss Lane, plenty. But it's not here in Rock Creek. It's in town. In the town. In lots. Lots in Sioux Springs and Laurel and Salem and a dozen other towns along the railroad."

"What railroad?" Carrie couldn't resist the temptation to ask, remembering Mark's interruption in the hotel.

Oaks colored so deeply that for a minute Carrie wished she had not reminded him of the encounter with Mark in the hotel lobby. But the agent quickly recovered.

"Miss Lane, I don't know this man Duell, whoever or whatever he is, but I do know the railroad is coming. As your friend, I'd like you to be ready for it."

HE stepped away from the buggy, came closer to Carrie, resting one foot on the pile of tin roofing while he talked. Instinctively, Carrie drew slightly back.

sensing for the first time the real measure of the man. "Miss Lane, I understand you have a little money you might well invest out here. I'm prepared to invest that money for you, invest it in good, sound real estate in Sioux Springs or in any other town out here you like."

He reached into his pocket, produced an elaborate lithograph, spread it out before Carrie. It pictured a "State Capital of Tomorrow" with broad streets and humming river and railroad traffic.

"Miss Lane," Oaks pressed on, "the capital must be located in Grove City. Look, hundreds of lots have been sold there already." He produced further evidence of lot transactions. "People are coming west on every train out of Chicago. In six months it will be too late to get in on this. You don't need to homestead out here one hour."

Oaks stopped. Carrie Lane was not listening. She was looking toward Rock Creek and the waving sward grass and the rolling plains beyond. She turned back, with a look of definite defiance.

"Mr. Oaks, I'm sorry, but I think you'd better drive on."

Oaks flushed. He turned back to the buggy, picked up the reins but he held them a minute. And then he bowed ever so slightly and smiled, a dark, insinuating smile. "I suppose Mr. Duell is to blame for this. He nodded his head. "In that case I don't think you or Mr. Duell either have heard the last from me."

He climbed back into his buggy. "It might be a good thing to remember, Miss Lane, that pretty girls sometimes get mixed up in things out here a lot more than they want to." He cracked his whip and the buggy rolled away.

Carrie, trembling, sat down on the pile of lumber and watched him across Rock Creek. It was with a long sigh of relief she saw the Taylor wagon pull through the trees an hour later.

NEWT GALE was closing his delivery stable at midnight when he glanced in the direction of the darkened land office across the street. A solitary figure crouched in the shadows.

"Um, that's funny now," Newt. "This time of night, it's late. This time of night, it's late. Suddenly the figure darted down the side of the building and out of sight. But not before Newt Gale recognized the flat-crowned hat and the cutaway coat of Ashton Oaks.

Tired Kidneys Often Bring Sleepless Nights

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 million of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. When they get tired and don't work right in the daytime, you may wake up at night with aches, pains, or aching muscles. Sometimes there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't neglect this condition and lose valuable, restful sleep. When disorder of kidney function persists, it may also cause ringing in the ears, dizziness, loss of appetite, loss of energy, aching, pain, and other symptoms.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Kidney Pills, used successfully by millions for over 50 years. They give kidney relief and will help the 15 million of filters in your kidneys purify your blood from toxic wastes.

New Rulings Will Remove Handicaps Of Texas Industry

LONGVIEW, Tex.—Manufacturers of Texas who are seeking a share of the immense expenditures being made by the War Department in connection with the national defense program will be greatly benefited by two new rulings of the Quartermaster General at Washington, which remove severe handicaps under which Texas industrial concerns seeking to supply materials or equipment to the Army have been required to operate, according to an announcement today by Hubert M. Harrison, vice president and general manager of the East Texas Chamber of Commerce.

"Under the new rulings, small manufacturers may submit bids on an f.o.b. factory or plant basis," said Harrison. "This eliminates the necessity of the manufacturer including freight charges in his bid, which, in some cases, has placed the Texas industrial concern under a distinct handicap, as compared with the Eastern industrial centers. The other ruling permits bidders to contract for only part of an entire order, or to make 'split' bids, thus permitting smaller industrial concerns to share in the defense contracts on a basis of their capacities to produce with present plants and equipment."

A number of East Texas industries are already at work on defense program contracts, Harrison said, and these new policies should open the way for many others to participate in supplying a great variety of products which will be remodeled and re-arranged to add to the shopping convenience of the buying public. The interior has been repainted in cream, to give more natural lighting effects, and the various departments have been re-arranged so that they will be more accessible and better service can be rendered to the buying public.

Symphonic Styling Featured in 1941 Hudsons

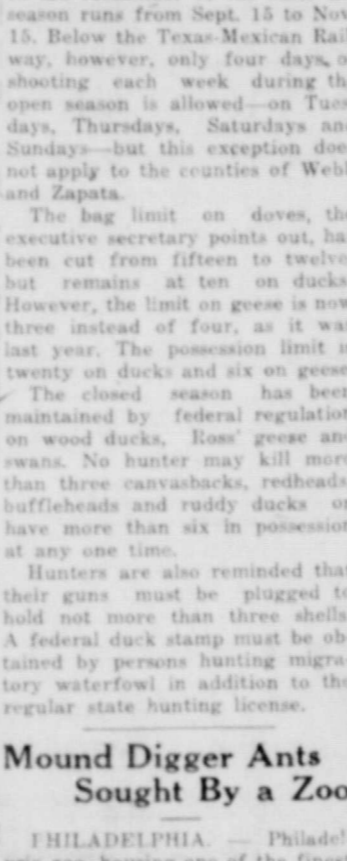

All new 1941 Hudson models are lower, longer, and more graceful in "silhouette". Noteworthy in the new body styling is the sweep of the new rear deck design with the accompanying new design of rear quarter windows and roof panel. This new styling in combination with a 25-inch reduction in overall body height and an increase in body length of 3 1/2 inches, enhances the smooth, harmonious flow of body lines. The model shown above is the Commodore Eight Touring sedan on 121-inch wheelbase and powered with 128-horsepower engine. Featured in all 1941 Hudsons is a new style development called Symphonic Styling which offers a choice of interior color combinations that harmonize with exterior colors.

Hunting Laws of State Called To Hunters' Attention

AUSTIN, Texas—While the changes in migratory bird hunting regulations were few, the executive secretary of the Texas Game, Fish and Oyster Commission is warning sportsmen to become familiar with the new regulations and not to get them confused. The greatest confusion is likely to come from the shooting hours on ducks and doves. Under the new federal regulations, with which Texas laws conform, duck hunting may now start at sunrise and must end at 4 p. m. Dove hunters can start shooting at sunrise, but must quit at sunset. Too, there is only one duck season in Texas, it opening at sunrise No. 2 and ending at 4 p. m. Dec. 31, but there are two dove seasons and some special regulations. The dove season will be from Sept. 1 to Oct. 31 in the counties of Yoakum, Terry, Lynn, and... needed to equip and maintain the largely increased armed forces which are being planned to protect this nation. The army requires food, clothing, bedding, tents, petroleum products, machinery, lumber, and many other things that are produced in abundance in East Texas, where most of Texas' industrial development centers, Harrison said.

Mound Digger Ants Sought By a Zoo

PHILADELPHIA—Philadelphia zoo, housing one of the finest animal collections in the nation, has equipped an expedition to go into the mountains of Pennsylvania for some mound digging ants. The expedition was organized after officials learned that starlings had eaten all of the mound-digging insects that Mark Robinson, a stationary engineer in a Philadelphia department store, had brought here two years ago.

Education Board To Wage Fight On Non-Americanism

AUSTIN, Texas.—Texas State Board of Education voted this month to fight non-American propaganda with enlarged courses in American government in the public schools.

Five text-books on American democracy now are furnished free to the 1,500,000 children of high school-age in the state. The board has called on book publishers to submit suitable text books for the seventh, eighth and ninth grade pupils, also.

Board Chairman James G. Strong of Carthage said he would like to have democracy taught in all the school grades. "I would like to have a pre-primer on it, if one is available," Strong told the board members.

Besides ordering additional texts on democracy the board increased the quota of library copies of a book on "democracy in action" that is supplied to the schools for use in their libraries. The board ordered that two copies at least be furnished to each school. Schools with more than 50 pupils are to be supplied a copy for each 25 pupils and major fraction of 25 pupils. The next text books will be submitted by publishers to a committee of teachers. The teachers committee will consider only text. Prices of the books will not be printed in the copies submitted to the committee. After this committee makes its recommendation on the text, the state board of education will be given copies of the submitted books and the prices. Selection then will be made by the board.

A proclamation of the board notifying publishers what books the state board will consider purchasing on Oct. 14 directed that the new texts be "designed to promote a love for the United States of America and its institutions." It was directed that at least one of the text selected shall present a historical background of American civil liberties. One of the books now furnished to the school libraries gives the text of Magna Charta, the Bill of Rights, the American Declaration of Independence, the United States Constitution and Copies of Writs of Habeas Corpus, Search Warrants and other similar documents.

State Amendments To Constitution are Being Published

By United Press

AUSTIN, Tex.—The secretary of state's office has begun the official publication of the proposed amendments to the state constitution upon which voters are to express their views at the general election on Nov. 5. There are four such proposals.

One, if adopted, will authorize the secretary of state to appoint notaries public.

Another will permit longer terms than two years for appointive offices in municipalities that adopt a civil service system.

Another amendment would authorize direct appeals from trial courts to the state supreme court in cases of injunction involving constitutionality of a statute or the validity of an administrative order issued by a state agency.

The other amendment is a local one to permit Red River County to increase taxes, and issue refunding bonds for specified indebtedness, subject to an approving vote of a majority of the voters who own taxable property in the county.

Miss Jones Becomes Bride Of Mr. Dennis

Miss Maxine Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Jones of Strawn, became the bride of Mr. Norman Dennis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Dennis, in a ceremony performed in Weatherford, Sunday. The service was read by Rev. Charles T. Whaley in his home at 12:30 o'clock.

The bride who was unattended, wore an ensemble of blue and white, with blue accessories. Her corsage was of lilies and carnations.

After a brief visit in Ft. Worth and Dallas the young couple returned here to make their home at the Gholson Hotel.

Mrs. Dennis is a graduate of the Strawn High School where for four years she was the band sweetheart. Following her graduation from Strawn she attended

Money Is Needed For Tuition for Ranger Deaf Mute

R. H. Hansford, service officer of the Carl Barnes Post of the American Legion, has received a letter from E. E. Wright, superintendent of the Texas School for the Deaf, stating that there is a credit of $1.75 on the tuition of Pete Brown, who attended the school last year, but that there is $7.50 needed to complete his tuition this year.
