On the Lookout for Goering's Sea Hawks

WOMEN TO AID CELEBRATION'S ACTIVITY HERE

CISCO, Jan. 10.—Mrs. W. C. Hogue, appointed by the Eastland county committee to direct women's activities in the 1941 President's Birthday celebration, has announced the following local chairman to plan and direct celebration activities in their towns: Mrs. Jay Koonce, Rising Star; Mrs. M. H. Hagaman, Ranger, and Miss Marguerite Quinn, Eastland. These local chairmen will in turn appoint committees of helpers to assist in any way they see fit. Plans for raising funds for the current Texas Fight Infantile Paralysis campaign will be left entirely up to the local chairmen, to be carried out to best advantage.

In cooperation with a national sports campaign to aid in the drive Coach Johnny Edwards of Cisco has been appointed chairman of arrangements for a county basketball tournament which will include, according to tentative plans, schools not only in the four larger towns, but also in the outlying districts. This will undoubtedly prove a popular attraction, and will occupy several days for a play-off.

Joe Thompson's eight-piece orchestra from Fort Worth has been secured to play for the annual Birthday balls to be held in Cisco, Ranger and Eastland, on the nights of the 29th, 30th and 31st, respectively, it was announced. Charles J. Kleiner is county chairman of the celebration and has as his committee the following: Joe A. Clarke, vice chairman; Mrs. W. C. Hogue, vice chairman in charge of women's activities; D. G. Streater, secretary, and J. D. Laudorfer, treasurer. Chairman of local committees are: Charles Sandler, Cisco; C. W. Hoffmann, Eastland; C. J. Moore, Ranger, and E. M. Howard, Rising Star.

Like Son . . . Like Father

Many people have noted the growing resemblance between President Roosevelt and his third son, Franklin, Jr. The latter's latest picture appears at left, where he is seen starting his new $1200-per-year job with the Wall Street law firm of Wright, Gordon, Zachary and Parlin. The striking likeness is apparent when Franklin, Jr.'s picture is compared with that of his father, above, who also started his career as a lawyer.

PRESIDENT'S BRITISH AID PLAN IN CONGRESS; RAF MAKES NEW RAIDS

Texas Business In November Was Ahead Of Past Year

AUSTIN, Tex.—Texas business during November—though revealing a slump from the preceding month—maintained a wide margin above November a year ago, it is indicated by nine business factors charted by the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research. These factors were listed as follows: Charters—64, down 31.9 per cent from October and down 36.6 per cent from November, 1939. Capitalization of new firms—$790,000, compared to $1,171,000 in October and $1,143,000 in November, 1939. Commercial failures—23, with liabilities of $290,904, compared to 24 with liabilities of $585,008 in October, and 18 with liabilities of $310,9913 in November, 1939. Building permits—down 9.2 per cent from October, up 6.8 per cent from November, 1939. Postal receipts—down 10.1 per cent from October, up 5.7 per cent from November, 1939. Employment—up 1.1 per cent from October, up 3.2 per cent from November, 1939. Payrolls—about the same as in October, up 7 per cent from November, 1939. Purchases of savings bonds—down 25.6 per cent from November, 1939, but total for the first 11 months of the year was 9.6 per cent above corresponding period of 1939. Southern pine—production down 5.0 per cent from October, up 10.9 per cent from November, 1939; shipments, down 12.6 per cent from October, up 25.5 per cent from November, 1939; unfilled orders at end of month, down 20.7 per cent from October, up 28.2 per cent from November, 1939. Cement—production down 12.8 per cent from October, up 35.6 per cent from November, 1939; shipments, off 28.2 per cent from October, about the same as in November, 1939; stocks at end of month, up 10.5 per cent from October 31, about the same as November 30, 1939.

President Roosevelt's all-out plan to aid Britain went before congress today as the Royal Air Force launched a whirlwind offensive, raining blows on the axis foes on a dozen fronts. The Royal Air Force's daylight smashes at the invasion coast of France, which were described as the war's heaviest, accompanied raids of equal force last night and early today on Germany's Rhur Valley industries and vital oil refineries and included fresh attacks on Italy. Bombers blasted the invasion coast shortly after noon on a clear day that made much of the action visible from the Dover Coast. The attacks coincided with the signing of a friendship pact between Germany and Russia which was said to have covered points that arose last year. Whether the pact carried implications far reaching in the German-Soviet accord, signed in August of 1939, was not made plain. British strikes against Italy included attacks in Libya, as far west as Benghazi, Benina and the airport at Benghazi, where Italian planes on the ground were again blasted. Tobruk and the region immediately west were bombed and Hama, Northeast Kenya, was reported re-occupied by British troops. It had been in Italian hands for some time. The siege of Tobruk is getting underway, correspondents reported, with British patrols one-third of the way to Benghazi. On other fronts the Greeks captured Kisiro for the first sizable gain in many days, and rumors were rife in the Balkans, where a German move against Bulgaria was feared momentarily. It was reported that Ethiopian tribesmen attacked Italian outposts, killing many of the defenders.

County Students at TSCW Resuming Their Activities

DENTON—Reversing the order of "duty before pleasure," Eastland County girls at TSCW have relinquished their holiday pleasures for new duties of practice teaching in their respective lines of work papers, and studying for the approaching finals. Three of the four students undertaking teaching work are seniors in the Health and Physical Education department; thus they combine play with their work. Mary Dell Stewart, of Gorman will teach badminton; Edith Rosenquest, of Eastland, will teach tennis and badminton; and Joy Miller of Cisco, will be junior class health instructor and modern dance teacher. Betty Elda Clark, of Cisco, is obtaining her teacher training in the home economics field. In spite of the deluge of duties arising with the beginning of a New Year, Mary Dell Stewart takes time for developing her skill at badminton, as she is a member of one of the doubles teams from this college competing with teams from SMU, TCU, TWC, NTSTC, and NTAC in the approaching inter-collegiate badminton tournament.

Revenue Collectors Limited As To Aid They Can Render

DALLAS, Texas.—Due to the lowering of the personal exemptions of single individuals from $1,000 to $800 and for married couples from $2,500 to $2,000, the deputy collectors of internal revenue for the second district of Texas will be required to assist a much greater number of individuals in the preparation of 1940 income tax returns than ever before. Under existing regulations set forth by the commissioner of internal revenue, no deputy collector of internal revenue is required to prepare any income tax returns. He is only required to advise with any taxpayer relative to items of income and deductions to be included on the returns. In order that the deputy collectors of the second district of Texas shall be able to assist as many people as possible during the coming income tax filing period, it has become necessary that their assistance be limited as follows: 1. No corporation, estate or gift tax returns will be prepared. Only advice will be given relative to the filing of these classes of returns. 2. No complicated individual tax returns disclosing income from various sources in excess of $10,000 will be prepared. 3. No return will be prepared for any individual who does not have available all complete information. 4. No individual return will be prepared which requires additional schedules (such as stock market transactions). In no instance will any schedules be prepared.

Summary of Work Done In County By 4-H Club Girls Is Now Completed

Eastland County has 17 girls 4-H Clubs, with an enrollment in 1940 of 398 club members. These club members are chiefly rural girls who are interested in improving their own personalities and their homes. This is accomplished by having meetings twice a month, and exchanging ideas among the members, and by the help of a club sponsor and the assistant County Home Demonstration Agent. A girl can be a club member any number of years she desires. In 1940 there were 189 first year girls; 105 second year girls; 76 third year girls; 21 fourth year girls; 3 fifth year girls, and 4 sixth year girls. The majority of the girls are between the ages of 10 and 14, however, in 1940 there were 42 fifteen and over. All clubs are well organized and conducted by parliamentary procedure. Each club has a sponsor who gives assistance in conducting the meeting and in helping the girls with their demonstration. The following are the 4-H Clubs of Eastland County in 1940 and the sponsors for these clubs. The sponsors and clubs are the same for 1941. Alameda, Mrs. S. R. Rogers. Bullock, Mrs. Henry Wilson. Carbon, Mrs. J. S. Davis. Colony, Mrs. Annie Kirk and Mrs. E. L. Danley. Desdemona, Mrs. Durant Putty. Flatwood, Mrs. T. E. Robertson. Gorman Ward, Mrs. E. E. Todd. Gorman High, Mrs. E. Barron. Hodges Oak, Ranger, Mrs. Leslie Hagaman. Kokomo, Mrs. A. L. Wood. Lone Cedar, Mrs. Opal Brinson. Morton Valley, Miss Loma Faye Hearn. Olden, Miss Verda Jean Spurlock. Okra, Mrs. Gracie Ogle. Pioneer, Mrs. Dewitt Drake and Mrs. Hutchinson. Young, Ranger, Mrs. C. M. Orr. Rising Star, Mrs. Lee Burkhead. Eastland County 4-H Clubs are very fortunate in having such an outstanding group of sponsors. In 1940 Mrs. S. R. Rogers was selected as the most outstanding 4-H Club Sponsor and Mrs. Henry Wilson was selected as second. The County Home Demonstration Council presented Mrs. Rogers with a gift in recognition of her outstanding record with the Alameda 4-H Club. 4-H Club Girls conduct two demonstrations each year, one productive and one non-productive. In 1940 "The Raising of Poultry and Improving the Poultry Flock" was the productive demonstration and "Improving the Bedroom" was the non-productive demonstration. In 1941 the girls will have a "Frame Garden Demonstration". There were 240 families and 17 communities where some part of the poultry work was conducted. Each club has a club demonstration giving a total of 17 demonstrators and 239 cooperators. 700 chicks were used for Home Food Supply by 4-H Club members and their families. In January, 1940 an estimate of 1102 hens were ready for laying, 102 club girls purchased pure bred chicks, and 1200 pullets were added to the flocks for 1940. Helen Dempsey, the 1940 Gold Star Girl, has had enough profits from her chicks to remodel her bedroom and buy additional pure-bred chicks.

Good Program For Week-End Singing

A program rendered by the Vaughn double quartet of Lubbock will be one of the feature attractions on the singing convention program to be rendered Saturday night and Sunday at Mountain Top, near Romney, according to A. E. LeClaire of Eastland, president. Mr. LeClaire states that there is every indication that a large crowd, as is usual at one of these Eastland county singing conventions, will be in attendance at Mountain Top. A number of Out-of-County quartets, other than the Vaughn quartet, are expected. The general public is cordially invited to attend this singing. There will be plenty of room for all.

Aid for Britain Is In Bill Now Before Congress

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—The administration's historic measure, converting the United States into an arsenal for the democracies, was placed before congress today, containing a surprise provision permitting the repair and outfitting of British warships in American ports. The bill, embodying the president's plan of lending munitions to Britain, Greece and China, including supplies now possessed by the armed forces of the United States, was placed before both houses simultaneously. The measure contained five essential points and was broadly drawn to permit extension of American aid to any government "whose defense the president considers vital to the defense of the United States."

Stock Shipments Are Down Very Slightly

AUSTIN, Tex.—Shipments of live stock from Texas ranches during November totaled 7,948 cars, only 2.8 per cent below November, 1939, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research has announced. For the first eleven months of 1940, however, shipments have dropped 9.7 per cent below the like period of last year, to total 6,187 cars. Movement of cattle and calves during November—5,464 and 1,099 cars, respectively—showed declines, while hog and sheep shipments gained.

Shipment of Eggs Increases Fivefold

Turkey shipments dropped from 590 cars in November, 1939, to only 556 cars in November, 1940, though movement of chickens almost tripled.

Police Chief Glad Holidays Are Over

PORT ARTHUR, Texas.—Police Chief Charles Baker heaved a sigh today that the holiday season was over and wondered whether his greeting stunt was worth it after all. Baker ordered all desk sergeants to answer police headquarters telephones with a "Happy Merry Christmas" and a "Happy New Year" instead of "Hello."

The police switchboard was swamped with persons who called just to hear the greeting.

He Meant What He Said

The eighth anniversary of Hitler's assumption of power in Berlin is Jan. 23. This is not exactly a holiday for other countries regardless of how the Germans may feel about it, but in view of what has happened since, it can scarcely be ignored. No other single event of the decade has cost the world so much.

When Hitler assumed the German chancellorship, few read the significance of the day. So astute an analyst as H. V. Kaltenborn wrote (New Republic, Feb. 15, 1933), "He is sworn to obey the Constitution and is likely to do so. The time for a Fascist coup d'etat is past... the March 5 election... will not give Adolf Hitler the opportunity to establish his long-heralded Drittes Reich." Many others, no less well-informed, felt the same way. This was to be just another phase in the disorderly history of post-war Germany.

It was, unfortunately, six years before Europe began to take Adolf Hitler seriously. The world did not take him seriously when he said to a mass meeting shortly after becoming chancellor:

"We want a break with what a rotten brand of democracy has produced and realize that all that is great can be produced only by the strength of individual personality and that all that is to be preserved must be entrusted again to ability and individual personality, while the parliamentary-democratic system must be fought."

The average reader shrugged and added mentally, "in Germany." And he didn't care much what happened within Germany, especially since it had been teetering on the edge of going Communist anyway. So we all turned to our own domestic troubles, which were plenty.

Had Hitler confined himself to abolishing parliamentary government within Germany, nobody would have cared much, except those Germans who still loved liberty (and there were some). But next came the effort to extend the Hitlerian way to Germans outside Germany; later the effort to extend it to Czechs, Poles, Norwegians, Dutch, Belgians, France, and Danes.

Thus the smallness, once again, of our complex world. An obscure and rather ridiculous-looking politician comes to power in Germany in 1933, and at the end of 1940 nine nations grovel in the dust of conquest and a coral atoll in the far South Seas is shelled by a passing raider. So far echo the repercussions of that Jan. 23, 1933.

Now at last we learn that when Hitler said, just after becoming chancellor, "the parliamentary-democratic system must be fought," he meant just that.

America's army of doctors are fighting a war we're all in favor of—against flu!

Auto And Marriage Licenses Increase In Tarrant County

county issued more automobile licenses and more marriage licenses in 1935 than in the preceding year, county officials reported. Automobile registrations totaled 38,160 and commercial vehicles 8,375. Since the number of automobiles increases annually, the figure is significant principally because the year's increase was the greatest of any year since 1932. The 1935 figures were 56,370 passenger cars and 8,275 commercial machines.

SERIAL STORY

SUZANNE PAYS A CALL

CHAPTER V

MARTHA whirled in sick surprise. She peered out into the hall, but whoever it was had already gone. The shuffle of feet on the stairs, going up, and the slamming of a door on the floor above, however, told her a second later that it must have been the stout, gray-haired school teacher who lived with the thin, spindly piano teacher.

"Neighbors!" she thought, furiously. "Dear, noisy, nasty-minded neighbors!"

A moment later, Butch came bounding up the stairs. His tail wagged, his little paws reached up—muddy, of course—and his eyes told her how much he loved her. It was curiously comforting. She closed the door, put the chain on, and thought, "The devil with them."

BUT the little incident stayed with her. For days, she could not shake it off. Once she passed the stout school teacher on the stairs, and she avoided the sharp eyes, holding her head high.

She did not mention the incident to Paul. It was too ridiculous.

The only thing that troubled her was that Suzanne did not telephone again, as she had expected. The quarrel must have been more serious than she had realized. It was awkward, too, for now Paul came by himself. And she simply could not drown that feeling of eyes watching her as she left the apartment with him; eyes again as they said good night at the door.

Bill's letters were short. Shorter than she liked. He seemed very cheerful, even happy. He dutifully said he missed her, sent her loads of love. "The only thing that worries me," he wrote, "is how you're getting along. I hate to think you're lonely, or worrying about me. The camp is swell, better than the Reception Station. We're in winterized tents, barracks too, but I drew a tent. The first 12 weeks here are supposed to toughen us up; maybe that's the idea of the tent. Darling, be sure to write me how you're getting on."

Reading that letter one morning at her desk, she thought with surprise, "I'm getting on even better than I have any right!" Certainly she could not be lonely, having dinner with Paul almost every night, seeing movies with him, and going riding.

One night they'd stayed in and played two-handed bridge. And one night they had taken Butch for a long walk. He was so pitifully cooped up. Paul said it would be better, perhaps, to put him out to board on a farm he knew.

"She read Bill's letter again. Suddenly she decided, 'I'll stay home tonight.' She could not quite put her finger on what made her decide that...

SHE told Paul while she was in his office going over some reports with him. "The round of gaiety is wearing me out, Paul. And I have no clean stockings left. I believe I'll fry myself a couple of eggs tonight and stay home."

"I suppose a girl has to have some time to herself," he said. "And there's no danger of weeps any more, is there?"

"No. I'm getting quite accustomed to being a widow." She added, honestly, "Rather too gay a widow, I expect."

"Nonsense," he said. "Let's get back to these reports."

She washed the stockings, and then stuck Butch in the bathtub and washed him. He whined and moaned piteously, as he always did. This had always been Bill's task.

After that, she straightened her bureau drawers. It was still only half past 8. "What's the matter with me? One evening at home, and I'm bored stiff."

The apartment seemed so empty! So quiet! She turned on the radio. She remembered that quiz program and Paul's voice saying that the Army didn't separate people quite as permanently as Reno.

"What's the matter with me?" Definitely, it wasn't good to see him as much as she had been doing. And alone. Not that there was anything in it, but...

The telephone rang. She had asked Bill to call her long distance, in her last letter. "Pull loose from some change," she had told him. "You're rich on $21 a month, and I want to hear your voice." She didn't know if he could phone from camp. Perhaps he had to wait until he got into town. Now that he was in camp, she wanted to drive up next week.

end. It was about 100 miles. Peg could make it.

She picked up the telephone. "Hello!"

It wasn't Bill. It was Suzanne's mother.

"TRYING to get you on the telephone is about as getting Greta Garbo," she said. "For heaven's sake, when you been?"

"I've been out a lot," she admitted guiltily. "I was thinking about it."

"Out with Paul?" Suzanne. There was something in her voice. Something had happened.

"Yes." She hurried on, never happened between idiots, anyway? Why do come around any more? Paul, but he told me exactly. What did you fight about you did fight?"

"Suppose I come over now? I've wanted to talk in fact, that's why I called. Why, of course, come over."

She went to the bedroom she hung up, and looked into the mirror. Paul had wanted looking so well. Suzanne was always perfect; her hair glossy, each place, her makeup artist couldn't explain to her suddenly she wanted to be for Suzanne. It had some do with the way the other had asked, "Out with Paul, she didn't want to think that."

Suzanne appeared in soft silver foxes were slung across shoulders. Her mouth was red, her voice very gay. Her eyes were not happy. Mary that at once. Saw that the purpose in the squared, shoulders; something been maneuvered way Suzanne herself of hat, gloves, furs down on the sofa.

"I called you at least times," she said.

"We were out a great. There was a silence. lighted a cigaret. Her fingers shaking.

"Martha," she began. "I'm putting my nose into thing that's none of my business. But—well—"

"Don't apologize," Martha said.

"What's the matter?"

"You're sure Paul did you what you quarrelled about?"

Chesterfield's Free Offer Has National Appeal

"TobaccoLand, U. S. A."—probably the most complete picture-story of tobacco farming and cigarette manufacture ever published—is offered free to the public by Liggett & Myers Tobacco Company in its new Chesterfield Cigarette campaign.

The new 42-page, 14-inch book illustrates the growing, curing and processing of tobacco, as well as scenes from the typical life of the Southern tobacco country, with over 100 large photographs and drawings and interesting story captions. It is already in use by colleges and libraries in many parts of the country, and the public offer has been made as a result of this great demand.

Copies of the book will be sent to individuals or groups on request to Liggett & Myers Tobacco Company, 630 Fifth Avenue, New York, N. Y.

The new Chesterfield campaign, to appear in newspapers from coast to coast, features such celebrities as Ann Sheridan and Ellen Drew of motion picture fame, Carol Bruce of the New York musical hit "Louisiana Purchase," and Mary Jane Yeo and Jo Ann Dean, star skaters from "It Happens on Ice."

Yosemite Tree Is Growing Without Soil Around Roots

YOSEMITE NATIONAL PARK, Cal.—Occasioned by the questions of tourists, a study of a lone pine tree that grows out of a solid rock surface high above the Yosemite Valley has been made by the National Park Service.

WINTER RAIN AND SNOW.

Thus it thrives without soil.

The experts were forced to study the tree with glasses from the nearest vantage point. Growing 1,157 feet above the valley floor, the famed pine is inaccessible.

Naturalists said the tree, which is 80 feet tall, grows out of a fissure in the granite face known as El Capitan. Its food is manufactured in its leaves from water and carbon dioxide, and such minerals as it requires may be obtained from the rock. Its supply of moisture apparently is gained from winter rain and snow.

Pastor Speaks On Safeguarding Nation At Rotary Meeting

John Kindle had the Rotary program Wednesday and introduced Rev. David M. Phillips, pastor of the First Baptist Church, who spoke on "Safeguarding America as Seen by a Minister."

Rev. Phillips prefaced his address by setting out our need for putting aside all racial, religious, and political differences for the who of a unified front in our nation today. He emphasized also the fact that we individually could be awake to the conditions as they actually exist.

The main points developed by the speaker were:

1. We should resolve to rededicate ourselves to the service of our country.
 2. There should be an end of taking and beginning of giving.
 3. We should discipline ourselves and be done with self-indulgence.
 4. Face the perils within and without.
 5. We should tolerate no littleness in public men.
 6. As citizens we should be forever done with the cynical spirit.
 7. We should ourselves properly evaluate the priceless heritage of liberty.
- Visitors to the Ranger Club were Rotarians Sam Gamble of Eastland, and Abel Cain of Breckenridge, Miss Elizabeth Bounds of Albany, representing the Girls NYA School.
- Charles H. Bell will have the program next week.
- There would be more men at the top of their profession if people could find a way of sliding up. Mother often spends as much time fretting about her figure at home as dad does about his at the bank.

Whooping Cough Should Be Isolated Says Health Officer

AUSTIN, Tex.—Careful isolation of a child ill with whooping cough is a measure that pays health dividends, according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

There is no other communicable disease so dangerous as whooping cough to the very young and there is no other infection to which there is a more universal susceptibility in infancy and childhood. Over 90 per cent of all deaths from whooping cough occur in children under five years of age. Whooping cough is dangerous, moreover, because there is no natural immunity against it during the first six months of life as there is in measles.

Whooping cough is usually transmitted by direct contact with the secretion of the mouth or nose, or with articles freshly soiled with the secretion. Only a short exposure is required to contact the infection. The communicable stage extends from seven days to three weeks after exposure until development of the characteristic whoop.

Among precautionary measures to be considered by parents as protection of their children against whooping cough are the following:

1. A child with what appears to be an ordinary cold should be kept away from others and a physician consulted to determine the true nature of illness.
2. Whooping cough vaccine of the approved type is of value in preventing or lessening the severity of the disease. The vaccine is usually administered during the first year of infancy.
3. If whooping cough develops in a community, young children should be kept at home to escape exposure.

Isolation plays a hardship on a child in that it keeps him from seeing relatives and playmates. On the other hand, isolation exerts a two-way, salutary influence on public and individual health. First, isolation of the patient helps to prevent the spread of whooping cough to others who are susceptible. Second, and this is of immediate importance to parents, isolation protects the sick child against possible exposure to severe infection which may be carried by otherwise healthy persons.

Two Representatives Claim Two Records

BONHAM, Texas—When Fannin County's two representatives took their oath of office at the convening of the 47th Texas Legislature Jan. 14, it is believed they will be able to claim two distinctions no other pair of members can claim.

John W. Connelly of Trenton, representative from Fannin county, will claim the title of the youngest legislator. Connelly was 21 years old only three days before the second democratic primary in August and cast his first vote in that election after spending the first primary day at home worrying over the outcome. He held a good lead in the first primary.

Choice More of Windom, floral representative from Fannin and Lamar counties, is believed to be the only new representative ever elected to the lower house without facing an opponent. Moore, who has just completed two terms as district clerk, announced Jan. 1, 1940 and never drew an opponent.

Two Varieties of Air Defense

America relies on airplanes for national defense and soil defense. Heavily armed planes such as the giant four-motored "flying fortresses" at top help provide national defense. Planes armed only with cameras help provide soil defense. The two farmers in lower picture are inspecting a typical aerial photo map, taken from an elevation of nearly three miles and used in administering the AAA Farm Program's conservation work. Similar aerial pictures are available showing more than two million square miles of U. S. land area.
