Businessmen and merchants every day are given the opportunity of falling for some gimmick or the other. This usually happens when a glib salesman comes in, introduces himself, and begins making a sales pitch that sounds something like the selling of the Brooklyn Bridge.

This has happened to everyone on the square at one time or the other. The strange salesman's pitch may cover anything including foolproof burglar alarms, a $100,000 insurance policy for only $5 a month, advertising in the National Cooney-Bird-Fancier's Magazine, or other unlikely commodities designed to cost somebody some rubles.

A particularly vicious and quasi-legal bit of chicanery exists in certain collection agencies. According to Dimmitt Retail Merchants Association manager H. R. Pickard, there have been several of these firms working in this area during past years.

Most of the time these birds actually make an attempt at collecting, but when the smoke clears away the merchant is likely to find himself owing money to the agency involved. One such instance was reported by the Associated Credit Bureaus of America, Inc.

The story goes that an auto parts retailer had some $240 in bad credit on his books when the agency representative, after glancing cautiously about, the representative informed the auto parts merchant that for a fee of 10 percent his firm would collect the merchant's bad debts. This sounded good to the merchant, and, to make a long story short, it was only a short while later that he was signing his name on the infamous dotted line.

As the story develops, it seems the contract said one thing in fine print and the salesman said another. In the first place, the 10 percent figure applied only to collections of slightly overdue bills. The older the bill, the higher the charge. Instead of the $24 he thought it would cost him to collect the $240, he wound up owing the agency $8 and didn't collect a dime of his old bad credits. The agency kept everything they collected and billed the merchant for service charges.

Some of these agencies are set up on a basis as solid as quicksand. When they feel a lawsuit coming on they only have to move, change their name and hire some new salesmen and start over again. This usually makes it too expensive for anyone to press legal action against them.

The above story happened in another town, but there have been local instances of a near similar nature. When a firm comes up with a bill they can't collect, and when sterner measures are indicated, it is always best to go to the local Retail Credit Bureau or to a local lawyer. These local people know the problems of local merchants, they know the local bill dodgers, know how to appeal to each bad debt, and can give a fair estimate of how much will be collected and what the collections efforts will cost before the merchant makes a decision.

And in this matter as with any other, if the merchant does choose to do business with a collection agency, it would be much to his advantage to have the contract looked over and explained to him by a lawyer. Just reading a contract before signing is not always enough. A lot of chicanery has been hidden behind complicated legal terminology.

Some confusion has been voiced about the tax election Tuesday. It is quite adequately explained by the Commissioner's Court in a page advertisement that has been appearing in the Castro County News. However, there was one point not fully explained, viz: Why go to all this trouble and why raise our tax rate? The ad explains the savings involved, both to the citizen and county but the reason these savings can be affected is not discussed.

Here's the reason: It seems the state of Texas levies a tax rate of 42 cents per $100 evaluation on property within the county. This 42 cents is set by law and will probably not be changed for many years to come. By voting to increase our county tax rate from 50 to 80 cents, voters will have their land evaluations lowered by about 17 1/2 percent. This means that a piece of property formerly valued at, say $14,150.00 in 1958 would be re-evaluated at $11,680. (less 17 1/2 percent) in 1959 should the measure pass. By being evaluated lower, the state gets less since they can take only 42 cents per hundred dollars. On this piece of property, the 1958 state taxes would have been $53.34 but in 1959 the state's take from property taxes would drop to $42.67 and with the increased county (Continued on Page 7-A)

New 30¢ Special Tax and County Tax Assessor-Collector?

Tax, Office Change Vote Tuesday

Castro County voters will be called upon to make two major changes next Tuesday. One of these changes will be in the tax rate structure and the other will be to create a new county office.

The Castro County Commissioners Court has called to election to vote on an additional special 30 cent ad valorem tax and whether or not to separate from the County Sheriff's office the position of Tax Assessor-Collector.

Although the 30-cent special tax levy would appear at first glance to raise taxes, this is not the case. The Commissioners Court has, in effect, promised to lower property evaluation in the county enough to more than compensate for the new levy if it passes, with the result that county taxpayers would be saved about $5,700 in taxes next year.

Purpose of this move is to lower the amount of state taxes levied by the county. Since the state is limited by law to 42-cents tax on the $100 evaluation, the lowered evaluation will lower the amount sent to Austin from Castro County. Since all evaluations in the county will be lowered it will then be necessary for the county to increase its tax rate to put its own income back where it was. Actually the county will come out about $5,000 ahead and the taxpayers will gain the aforementioned $5,700. A detailed explanation of these taxes, savings, etc., can be found in a page advertisement by the Commissioners Court in the second section of this issue.

The levying of this special 30-cent ad valorem tax was provided in House Bill 107 of the 51st Legislature.

This proposal will not in any way affect school or city taxes. Actually, this provision will mean that where the state took, say, $85.47 this year on an evaluation of $20,350 in business property, it would only take $7.52 after the evaluation would also cut the amount received by the water district—in this case from $10.17 to $8.39. The county's bill would also be dropped by the moved from $193.32 to $159.50, but with the special 30-cent levy it would be raised to $209.87 giving the county more money while at the same time cutting 16 cents off the total bill of the taxpayer.

The above instance is for a business of a certain size, but the same proportions would hold true for a large or small farm, or for a large or small property owner.

The property evaluation is expected to be lowered 17 1/2 percent. Property owners in precinct 2, who pay a special road district tax will have their bills cut most if the proposal passes. This tax is also based on evaluation and when evaluation is lowered so is the tax. Since property owners in precinct 2 pay this additional tax, then their dollar savings is actually more.

This is one way found by county officials of raising additional revenue without increasing taxes. There has been no general increase of taxes in this county since 1946. According to the Commissioners court Castro County had only a re-evaluation of property in 1955 but the county evaluation remained about the same (where one item of property went up in valuation, there was a corresponding decrease in another item.) They have also pointed out that the increased cost of county government operation and addition of county hospital costs have been paid for by the addition to the tax rolls of new homes, businesses, and personal property.

Another proposition on the ballot will be to separate the office of Tax Assessor-Collector from that of Sheriff. For more than ten years deputy sheriff Kent Birdwell has handled the operation of the Tax Assessor-Collector's division of the Sheriff's Department. If the separation is approved the new office will be filled by an elected official, without an increase in the number of personnel needed to operate the office. This means that no increase in cost will come with the separation.

All counties neighboring Castro have adopted the separation measure. Purpose in the proposal is to put the important post of Tax Assessor-Collector under the jurisdiction and responsibility of one full-time official who can devote his full attention to its operation which the sheriff cannot do. It is also to relieve the Sheriff's Department of some of its duties which have increased with the population of the county and to make for more general efficiency.

If the second proposal passes, there will be another election soon to name a new Castro County Tax Assessor-Collector.

Balloting will be in the usual voting places by precincts, from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. Tuesday.

THIRTY FIRST YEAR DIMMITT, CASTRO COUNTY, TEXAS, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 16, 1958 16 PAGES — NUMBER 51

BIG HARVEST—This elevator, like others now and in years gone by, is in milo up to its knees. While the presence of grain sorghum upon the ground is not particularly significant of a bumper crop, it does give some visual evidence of the tremendous amount of grain taken from the fields of Castro County. By the time harvest is completed, the pile above would compare to the total production like a golf ball to a basketball. The grain sorghum harvest is between 65 and 70 percent completed.

Crops to Break Record

A fantastic 1958 harvest season has set in for Castro County. An expected record average yield of 3,500 pounds of grain sorghum per acre should amount to more than 300,000 tons from within the borders of the county when all the cutting is finished.

Grain sorghum alone will bring almost $10 million to county farmers. At present loan milo is netting $1.60 to the farmer with the market price at $1.55.

Local farm experts estimate that the current milo crop is from 65 to 70 percent harvested which is in marked contrast to last year when some grain was still being brought to elevators as late as the first of this year. Last year's struggle by farmers against freezing, wet weather, saw a long drawn harvest period with much of the milo falling down in the fields and requiring special combine attachments to pick it up. This year has proven almost ideal and conditions point to a completed grain harvest by about the first of November.

The cotton picture is about as bright, except from a labor standpoint. An estimated 35,000 acres in the county are ready for harvesting but no hands are available. This situation was brought on by a later season south of here due to heavy late summer rains and earlier maturing of cotton in this region. There are 54,852 acres of cotton in Castro County and apparently the production will fall between 60,000 and 70,000 bales for the county.

Most of the cotton produced so far has averaged netting 32 cents per pound for the grower and is grading mostly middling white. This good grade is the result of earlier watering and a hot summer. According to one local cotton expert, of the half-dozen or so Texas, the South Plains area is major producing cotton areas in producing about the third best cotton—despite a shorter growing season.

The first freeze is expected around the 20th of October as usual. The actual time of the freeze will determine the quality and quantity of Castro County cotton this year.

This will be a generally bumper year for farmers in the county. Except for hail, conditions have been almost ideal for agricultural production for cotton, wheat, milo and most vegetables.

One note of caution has been voiced about this crop. Since remnants affect bales adversely as to grading, all farmers have been urged to avoid having remnants whenever possible.

Insects and grasshoppers have been more of a nuisance than a distinct financial liability to farmers this year, although some cases were reported where fields were seriously damaged.

Bobcats Dump Olton, 28-6, Have Open Date Friday Before Taking On Friona Next Week

The Dimmitt Bobcats plowed under the Olton Mustangs here Friday night, 28-6, to chalk up their fifth win of the season.

The Mustangs' lone score was the third made against Dimmitt this year. With the 12 points scored by Abernathy in its defeat of the Bobcats, the Olton score brought Dimmitt's season record to 124-18. This is probably one of the most lopsided season scoring records in the entire state.

The Bobcats will not have to defend their 5-1 record this week since Friday is an open date on their schedule. Next week they play a strong Friona Chiefs team to start conference competition. Friona played Muleshoe to a scoreless tie Friday night to foul up Friona's unbeaten and untied record. Muleshoe was defeated once by Dimmitt, 18-0.

In the game with Olton, the Bobcats commanded an early lead when halfback Norman Nelson picked up 6 points from the 12 followed by a Carlos Barnes to Jimmy Curtis pass conversion.

Barnes scored around right end on a keeper in the second period that saw him run 15 yards. The extra point try failed.

Quarterback Barnes figured again in the second period scoring when he tossed a pass to end Junior Coffey. Coffey juggled the ball, then loped the 12 yards to paydirt. The conversion attempt failed.

Dimmitt's scoring ended after a third-quarter drive that took the Bobcats to the one-yard line. Jimmy Curtis punched the ball over and again the extra point try was no good.

The Mustangs, who turned out to be a good team despite the lopsided score, managed to punch its lone score over late in the third quarter halfback Rande Buchanan carried the ball over from the 7-yard line. Their try for extra point failed.

Dimmitt added to its outstanding pass-completion record when Barnes completed exactly half his attempted passes for 106 yards, averaging almost 18 yards per completion.

Curtis picked up 133 yards in 19 tries and Nelson made 101 in 18. Ends Don Warren and Coffey were regular steel doors on defense, aided by Jerry Hyatt, Ben Holcomb and Mike Bailey.

Last Rites For Alvin White Held In Tahoka

Charles Alvin White, 36, of 909 Evergreen, Amarillo, died of injuries suffered at 8:20 p.m. Monday when his car rolled over once on Highway 136, about three miles outside the Amarillo city limits.

White had lived in Dimmitt from 1951 to 1956. He had been a farmer and operated a sign painting business while here.

He was pronounced dead on arrival at St. Anthony's Hospital, where he was rushed by Amarillo Ambulance Service.

Funeral services were held Wednesday at the First Methodist Church in Tahoka at 2:30 p.m. Burial was in the Tahoka cemetery.

White, a native of Tahoka, came to Dimmitt from Muleshoe in 1951. According to Highway Patrolmen who investigated the accident, White was thrown from his 1956 model car as it went off the left side of the highway and rolled over once. The car came to a halt standing on its wheels on the shoulder of the road.

White, a traveling salesman for Terk Distributing Co. Inc., of Amarillo, apparently was returning from Borger, according to Highway Patrolmen.

His survivors include his wife, Billie; two girls, Carol and Elaine and one son, Mike.

Cotton Production Now 4,280 Bales

Castro County gins have turned out 1,435 bales of cotton since last Thursday, to raise the total for this year's crop to 4,280—still less than 10 percent of a predicted 65,000-bale final production. Weather has remained ideal for cotton production this week.

Dimmitt Bobcat Band Is Operation of Many Details

When the Dimmitt Bobcat High School Band marches out to a public performance they are bringing with them a background of hard work, efforts and plaudits.

An additional contribution to the hard work and effort line of thought will be experienced by the band Saturday when they work the city in an effort to sell a thousand band Boosters Club memberships for a dollar or more each.

This will not be the first time they have gone out trying to raise funds. But this time the youngsters have the gigantic job of trying to buy new uniforms and finance a trip either to Enid Band Festival in Enid, Oklahoma, or to the Buccaneer Festival at Corpus Christi, both in May. Every time the band has been successful in promoting a trip they have managed to bring back even more additions to their bulging trophy cases.

Band members will sell the membership cards to everyone willing to buy them. Band operation is not particularly costly. While a band uniform will cost $67.50, complete, they are good for many years. The present uniforms have been in use for seven years and are beginning to need replacing. According to capable Dimmitt Bobcat Band Director Ralph Smith, the uniforms are worn about twenty five times a year. They are extremely well made, which accounts for their long life under rugged conditions. Most of the wear on the uniforms comes from sitting on the football bleacher seats, Smith says. The major cost of the band is borne by parents of the players, since they must furnish the $200-$300 musical instruments. The school furnishes about $2,000 per year for general maintenance and supplies such as music, music stands, repairs, big musical instruments (bassoons, tubas, etc) and other miscellaneous and expensive items. The uniforms, originally purchased by local band enthusiasts, are passed down from member to member. Uniform cost is less than $10 per member per year.

Since many of the uniforms are still in good repair, and band officials feel they have an outstanding design, the new uniforms will be the same as the old. In this manner wastage will be reduced to an absolute minimum.

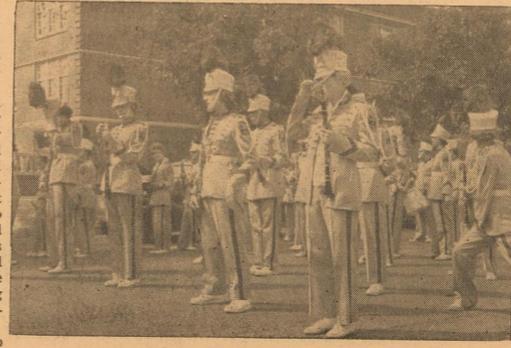

"Over a period of years we will require thousands of dollars for uniforms, band trips and other things that must come from fund raising campaigns," Smith said this week, "and asking for donations is as distasteful to us as it is to anyone else. So we try to use the selling approach with band booster club memberships, cakes and other things. Most of the band members really work at these things and seem to enjoy raising the money they need for their activities."

every other year. This more or less guarantees each band member a trip during his or her high school career. Year before last, in 1957, the band went to the Festival at Enid, Oklahoma. There they won the outstanding concert band award for its class. There were bands at Enid from 18 states. Cost for Dimmitt band members was $35 each. Most of the members' parents paid their children's way, but again some fund raising was necessary for those whose parents couldn't afford it.

There are 100 band members, but only 86 march in the activities. During the past six years, Smith's charges have won 22 first place trophies in contests all over this area and in Oklahoma. The Enid plaque has been returned since it is a traveling trophy. The Bobcat Band has been the Regional Sweepstakes Winner five years out of seven at the area competitions at Canyon.

According to Smith "We're going to try to go to either Enid or Corpus Christi next May for one of their band festivals. We will also try to obtain new uniforms for next fall. Whatever we do in either instance will depend upon our financial situation at the time."

Despite increased competition for people's time, newspaper circulation in the U.S. has reached a new all-time high of 58 million newspapers purchased daily. With Canada added, the figure is over 61 million newspapers purchased daily.

CONTROL JOHNSON GRASS (AND OTHER GRASSES)
CHEMICALLY ...
WITH

Unwanted grasses are usually the toughest problem where farming is best. They thrive on the very climate and soils that should produce top crops.

Now you can control grasses, without cutting, cultivating, or oiling. Dowpon, is the new chemical way to keep grasses from invading your fields, throttling irrigation and drainage ditches. Hoeing, chopping, cultivating, and oiling only get grass out of sight temporarily. Dowpon gets rid of it.

How DOWPON works

Dowpon is a systemic grass killer—meaning that it kills by working through the plant's system. You simply spray the foliage. Dowpon is absorbed through the leaves and works down through the plant, right into the roots, usually killing the entire plant.

Because it works inside the plant, a Dowpon spray is less likely to be affected by weather conditions. Rain can't wash it off after it has been absorbed.

You can use Dowpon with safety on your farm—foliage sprayed with Dowpon is non-hazardous to grazing livestock.

rate, the county would receive the same as before.

To vote yes to this proposition would mean the voter is cutting his own taxes and at the same time giving the county slightly more to operate with. Loser in this voting would be the state, whose income would be cut considerably.

Many counties are doing this. They are simply voting some state taxes off their backs. Approval of this measure would give the county $4,952.62 additional next year and save the county taxpayers $5,744.26. The state would receive about $10,000 less from the county.

One part of this election has our wholehearted approval. The separation of the tax assessor-collector and county sheriff's job is long overdue. All neighboring counties have taken this step. We doubt these two offices should have ever been combined, even if the county were sparsely populated when the practice started. The idea of combining the tax collector and sheriff probably dates back to the days of Robin Hood when the high sheriff would come to collect taxes. But that was a long time ago and there's no point in our continuing these medieval practices any longer. The local high sheriff will still be available to take bow and arrows in hand and trounce out into the boondocks to collect delinquent taxes from the peasants, so there's no point in worrying about that part of the game.

More automotive advertising dollars are invested in newspapers than in any other medium.

Newspapers are keeping modern. In 1957, over $87,000,000 was invested by newspapers to improve plants, equipment and product.

At the turn of the century, on an average day, 15 million newspapers were purchased. Today, 58 million newspapers are purchased on an average day.

Have you ever ridden in an Upper berth on a Pullman or a LONG train? Well, I can now say that I have.

Upon boarding the train, I located my berth and, being that it was already made-up, I tossed some of the extras I was carrying up into it. Then I looked about for my train-case . . . only to find it had been checked along with my other piece of luggage by my "over-thoughtful" husband, so I wouldn't have so much to keep-up with.

I looked, again at that berth, after saying good-bye to my better half, and tried to size up the situation. It looked impossible and proved to be almost that way. I immediately retreated to the Ladies Lounge to think the matter over and to get up enough nerve to tackle the ordeal.

Finally, in order that I wouldn't just toss that extra fare away, I stuck out my chin and, somewhat swaying, stumbled to that upper berth. HOW?! Well, the Porter very gallantly produced a nice carpeted ladder for the purpose of getting into that place.

After bumping my head not more than two or three times and nearly getting tossed off that ladder, the engineer decided to go around a bend. I got in, fast . . . head first!

I looked the place over . . . with bent head . . . I'm short, but I still couldn't sit up without banging my head. Over the exit through which I had just been thrown was a sign . . . "DO NOT descend with out ladder. Ring bell for Porter" I looked around for that bell. I finally decided I would have to resort to my "hog-calling" voice as there wasn't a bell in sight.

The bed looked inviting, but . . . how could one sit on the covers and pull them back at the same time? It wasn't easy, but I finally got the job done by discovering how to sorta doing a sittin'-down hop and pulling the covers at the same time.

Then I struggled into bed . . . There were two pillows. I first tried to use them both. Too high. I laid one aside. Too flat. I rolled one up. Too hard. Oh, well, I thought that soon I would be so exhausted that even a morgue slab of stone would feel good.

After I finally got settled . . . and I won't say comfortably, I tried to sleep. Have you ever played "pop-the-whip"? I have, but never in an upper berth on the TAIL END of a long train. I'll bet that Engineer was laughing up his sleeve as he dashed around this curve and sped around that one. Wow!

I reached over and tested those straps on the exit side. They seemed pretty strong so I grabbed one. About that time I made sort of a big bulge on the curtain as the train rounded a curve and, determined to give me my money's worth, nearly threw me out . . . the straps held, but I then grabbed the other side. This worked for awhile, at least until we got around that curve . . . but it was too good to last . . . suddenly I found myself flattened against that cold metal side of the train. Then the train stopped. Certain we had been derailed, I tried to look out . . . no windows. I laid there panting . . . if my time had come, I wished it would hurry and get me out of the perils of that derailed upper. But soon, I heard another train approaching and passing. We were on a siding. I tried, and oh, how I tried, to get to sleep before we started rolling again . . . no such luck.

Finally, I looked at my watch. I had previously asked the Conductor to call me about one hour out of Dallas, but when I saw that it was around 6 a.m. I decided I'd taken this as long as I could.

I again started on that search for the Porter's bell . . . so well advertised. On the verge of giving up and resorting to my questionable trapeze instincts and swinging down out of that trap, I finally spotted a little button on the far side of a light, that was burned out. I gritted my teeth and pushed it . . . wondering all the time if the berth would fold up with me in it, the train would suddenly stop, or what might happen, as I couldn't get my head over far enough to read the inscription above it, if there was one, without butting my head on the end of the berth.

The bell rang! And the Porter, smilingly put the ladder in place and said he hoped I rested well. Believe it or not, I was speechless! He asked if I needed my bags. I started to tell him I was carrying them . . . under my eyes. I retreated, again, to the Ladies Lounge. Frantically I looked for a comb . . . it was in the baggage car, in my train-case, as well as the other artillery . . . make-up, etc.

I then, hoping no one knew me, timidly left in search of the Diner. I found it. I was afraid to eat . . . my stomach had taken such a beating, but I ordered a cup of coffee. I sipped it slowly as I couldn't do much else . . . it sloshing from side-to-side right in time with the train . . . but, as usual, I was out of step, so I had to sip on the upward slosh.

When the waiter brought my ticket, I found I had been drinking and spilling 35c worth of coffee. I paid with a dollar. When he brought back my change on the little silver tray, he brought me two quarters, a dime and a nickel. I needed the dime for a phone call and I wasn't about to leave a quarter for a tip, so I left the nickel, and quickly left.

Incidentally, I finally slept . . . After changing trains in Dallas, I left the pullman and went up to a chair car and found a seat where I curled up and slept incomplete oblivion for almost the remainder of the trip. AND . . . I rode the chair car home!!! I'll take my thrills and spills at the Carnivals and for much less in price.

'nuff said,
Mary

KFDA-TV Team To Visit Here

AMARILLO (SPL)—A real old time bandwagon, sturdily built and outfitted for fun and frolic by the competent personnel of KFDA-TV here, is going to roll through Dimmitt on Saturday November 1. "KFDA-TV has gratitude galore for its thousands of loyal watchers and listeners, and wants to visit in person with its audience, each and everyone of whom it wishes to please," says Ed Moore, manager of the station.

Dill Spiller, its director of operations, has announced that "Our bandwagon is about ready to roll. The tailgate on that bandwagon is down. We want you to climb on and ride with us to some rollicking entertainment."

"We will let you know," said Spiller via newspaper and KFDA-TV, "the exact time we will have the privilege of being in Dimmitt. We are looking forward to it, and by 'we', I mean Ed Moore, Billy Briggs and his band, Warren Anderson, Ralph Wayne, Doug Raines and all the TV personalities, with whom I am sure you feel you have a personal acquaintance after seeing them on the TV screen. It is our aim and object to give them the opportunity of meeting you in person."

"KFDA-TV, with the help of its multitude of viewers," says Spiller, "is endeavoring to cover the Panhandle like the dew covers Dixie. The purpose of this bandwagon brigade of KFDA-TV is to take the folks from the station through the screen direct to the folks in the living room, den or kitchen. The KFDA-TV bandwagon brigade is making 15 stops on successive Saturdays, beginning on October 25, and is looking forward to its visit in your city."

SENIOR BOY OF THE WEEK

On the morning of February 8, 1941, the sun could hardly come up. A bright and noisy little boy was added to the family of Giles Tate. This certain little boy was named Boyce Wayne. Through the past twelve school years, and of course the past seventeen, Boyce has been a leading figure in Dimmitt.

At the present Boyce has a few favorites including a certain little girl. Boyce is especially fond of war movies with "To Hell and Back" at the top of the list. Rock Hudson and Debbie Reynolds are his favorite actor and actress. Shrimp, blue, and Chevrolet seem to be favorites of Boyce.

Boyce has lettered in football the past two years and was chosen all-district guard both years. He has also played bass in the band for six years and this year he was elected president of the Bobcat Band.

Incidentally Boyce's pet peeve is women.

Senior Girl of the Week

The Dimmitt Hospital proudly chalked up one more victory February 15, 1941, when Charlotte Hestand was born. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hestand.

At the end of this year, Charlotte will finish her twelfth year of school in Dimmitt, where she has lived all of her life. Her favorite color is blue. Her favorite food is Mexican food. Debbie Reynolds and Russ Tamblyn are her favorite actress and actor.

Charlotte is active in several school organizations. She is a member of the band, which is her favorite subject. She also belongs to FHA and the Lyre Club. Her favorite sport is basketball, in which she is the manager. Charlotte's pet peeve is assignments on Monday morning.

JUST FOR JUNIORS

By Me and You
The Junior Class wants to commend the Bobcats on the fine game they played against Olton Friday night. We were proud of all the boys that participated in the game.

The first seven weeks of school are over, and there are only twenty-nine weeks left. The Juniors took some pretty good report cards home, but there were a few cards that just happened to get lost on the way home. It is hard to explain to parents now days that the grading system has changed and F's are good now.

FHA Attends Lubbock Fair

Saturday, October 4, the Dimmitt FHA spent a very wonderful and exciting day at the Lubbock Fair.

The FHA girls left Dimmitt about 8:30 and arrived at the fair grounds in Lubbock at 10:30.

The girls enjoyed the exhibits, the rides, and trying to win teddy bears. However, there were only two teddy bears and two poodles won.

The girls were chaperoned by Mrs. Joanne Snider, Mrs. Clingingsmith, and Mrs. June Gladman. All of them helped make Saturday a very happy occasion.

The group left Lubbock at 4:00 and arrived in Dimmitt at 6:30. They were all tired but admitted that the trip was worth it.

DHS Has Fire Drill

The students of the Dimmitt school system had their first fire drill at ten-thirty Tuesday, October 7. According to Mr. Hilburn, principal, and the Fire Department, it took only one minute and forty-five seconds to empty the high school. The officials of the Fire Department said that was very good for the first fire drill of the season.

Mr. Hilburn stated that the whole school system was to have six fire drills during the entire school year.

"B" Team Wins Over Littlefield, 10-6

The Dimmitt B Team took Littlefield 10-6 there last Thursday. The DHS boys scored on a safety and a touchback. One was a fumbled ball covered in the end zone, and the other was scored when the Littlefield kicker on the fourth down stepped out of the end zone the wrong way. Then Littlefield ran a touchdown to lead 6-4.

In the last few minutes of the game Marshall Young ran a touchdown to lead 10-6. The game was called when a Littlefield player received a dislocated vertebrae. The B Cats meet Friona here next Thursday night.

BOBCATS ROLL PAST OLTON 28-6

Led by Carlos Barne's passing and Hal Ratcliff and Junior Coffey's pass catching, the Dimmitt Bobcats rolled over the Olton Mustangs 28-6 here last Friday night. The Bobcats gained an early lead in the first quarter when Norman Nelson swept right end for 12 yards and a touchdown. For the extra point quarterback Barnes passed to Jimmy Curtis.

The next score came in the second quarter when Barnes went around right end on a keeper play for 15 yards. Barnes passed to Ratcliff for the conversion and two more points. The quarter ended with the Cats leading 16-0.

The Bobcats scored again in the second quarter when Barnes threw a 12-yard pass to Coffey. The try for extra point was no good.

In the third quarter Curtis plunged over from the one-yard line for six more points. The extra point again failed.

Olton's scoring came in the third quarter with halfback Randece Buchanan running over from the 7-yard line. The try for extra point was no good.

Barnes threw 12 passes and completed 6 for 106 yards. Curtis and Nelson led the backfield with 133 and 101 yards in 19 and 18 tries for an average of 7.0 and 5.5 respectively. The line did a very good job considering that this was their first time to play against a single wing formation. Don Warren, Coffey, Jerry Hyatt, Ben Holcomb, and Mike Bailey did outstanding jobs on defense, while Jack Ragland and Romiro Garza stood out on offense.

The Bobcat's now have a won-five and lost-one record. This week is open and next week the Cats meet Friona there in their first conference game. Friona was added to District 1-AA this year.

Sophomores Elect Room Parents

Members of the Sophomore Class met last week to elect room parents. Out of nine nominated, the following were elected: Messrs. and Mesdames George Gabel (chairman), A. L. SENATE PLANS HOMECOMING

The Student senate met Monday, October 13. We had as our guests six members of the Hart High School student body and their principal. They are interested in setting up a student government in their school and came to visit our Senate to learn how we function. President Jack Bradley told them how the Senate of our high school was set up and of its functions and purposes.

We have named committees and work has begun on activities for our Homecoming on November 14. The chairman of these committees are publicity, Morris Westberry; Tea, Mary Behrends; registration, Sandra Leeth; Bonfire, Jack Bradley; and Pep Rally, Verna Brown.

It has been a tradition in DHS to honor a different class each year, and the Class of 43 is to be honored at the Pep Rally this year. Many plans are being made in hopes that this will be the biggest Homecoming ever.

Signal Light Adds To Campus Safety

DHS has added a new measure of safety to its campus. A new traffic signal has been installed at the intersection of Jones and Seventh. Every student and faculty member should feel it his responsibility to obey these traffic regulations in order to reduce the possibility of accidents.

Ninth Street going to the North Grade School and Jones Street running east to the intersection of Jones and Seventh Streets will soon be turned into a one-way street.

These two safety measures should speed up travel and make it safer for pedestrians.

PAT'S PATTERN

The Pep Squad appeared for the first time last Friday in their uniforms. They are purple gabardine slim jims and white blouses.

The Library has a new shipment of books. They include science fiction stories, home economics, biographies, scientific experiments, and short stories. A few of the novels are "Buckaroo," "The Enemy Below," and "Light 'n Hitch." Some of the science fiction books are "The Third Level," "The Door Into Summer" and "Colonial Survey."

Last week most of the students in Dimmitt High wore serious expressions and carried books home. Six weeks examinations were being administered.

The winner of the mystery slogan was revealed at the Pep Rally Friday by the mystery person, Mr. Newman. Receiving the cash prize was Linda Waller who said for the 100th time "Beat the Mustangs," which was the mystery slogan.

Mothers presented with corsages Friday at the Pep Rally were Mrs. James Slough, whose son, Jimmie, plays guard, Mrs. Swain Burkett whose son, Joe, plays center, and Mrs. L. T. Morrison whose brother, Jack, plays tackle. Mrs. Morrison was unable to attend the Pep Rally but her corsage was delivered afterwards.

Our next Pep Rally will be held the 24th of October since the 17th is Dimmitt's open date.

A hep porcupine bumped into a cactus plant one night and said, "Crazy baby, kiss me again."

NOTICE OF ELECTION

The Commissioners Court of Castro County Has Called An Election for October 21, 1958 In Which To Submit the Following Two Propositions To the Voters of Castro County:

PROPOSITION NO. 1:

AUTHORIZING THE LEVY OF AN ADDITIONAL SPECIAL 30c AD VALOREM TAX AS PROVIDED IN HOUSE BILL 107, ACTS OF THE 51st LEGISLATURE:

Should the proposition of authorizing the special .30c Ad Valorem tax be passed by the voters of Castro County and become effective in the 1959 tax year, the Commissioners Court will, at the same time, lower the county valuations sufficiently to off set the increased rate. In other words the cost to each individual tax payer on his county, state, water district, and precinct no. 2 road taxes (all levied on county valuation) will be no greater than it has been in the past and in many instances the cost will be considerably lowered.

From the examples below you will note that the total savings to each tax payer will vary from a few cents to 17% of his total tax due on the county, state, water district, and precinct no. 2 road levies. The reason that the savings to each tax payer will vary will be due to the type of property, homestead exemptions, and whether or not the real estate is located in precinct no. 2.

The 30c special tax proposed herein will not be levied against the homestead exemption granted to each taxpayer since the special levy will be figured on the state tax value of your property. This proposal has been checked by the county auditor and has been declared by him to produce a total savings to the taxpayers of Castro County in the amount of $5744.26 and at the same time increase county revenue by $4952.63. Many other counties over the state have adopted this plan.

With the 30c special tax adopted and with all county valuations reduced 17½% for the year 1959 the following are examples taken from the 1958 tax rolls showing what the 1958 totals amount to now as compared to what the 1959 totals would be after this plan is put into operation.

Note: This proposal does not in any way affect the school or city taxes.

The final effect this proposal will have on the tax rolls of the county, state, water district, and special road district no. 2 are as follows:

|--------------------------------------|-------------------|
| County (.95c levy) reduction | $18,999.19 |
| County (.30c levy) new tax increase | 23,951.82 |
| COUNTY GAINS $4,952.63 | |
| State (.42c levy) reduction | 7,111.41 |
| Water district (.05c levy) reduction | 966.51 |
| Road district (.60c levy) reduction | 2,618.97 |
| 1959 SAVINGS TO ALL TAXPAYERS | |
| OVER 1958 | $5,744.26 |

Castro County has not had a general increase in taxes since 1946. THIS PROPOSAL IS NOT AN INCREASE.

Castro County had only a re-evaluation of property in 1955 (where one item of property went up in valuation there was a corresponding decrease in another item.)

The increased cost of county government operation and addition of county hospital costs have been paid for by the addition to the tax rolls of new homes, businesses, and personal property.

NEWS FROM FRIO

By Mrs. Owen Andrews
The rain clouds that brought one and two inches of moisture to the Hereford area, Sunday afternoon, only brought light showers in this community. The damp air prevented combining of maize on Monday, but the ground was practically dry. Most of the maize has fairly high moisture content anyway, so any degree of dampness stops the cutting. Wheat and barley drilling are continuing, however.

word that Mrs. Schmidts father, Lonnie Hinds, was stricken seriously ill. They returned home on Wednesday night, but another message of his worsening condition came Thursday and Mrs. Schmidt returned to be near him. She came home on Sunday, but reports indicate her father has not shown much if any improvement. Tommy and Dale stayed with the Bill Boyds in Hereford while their mother was away.

Mr. and Mrs. Herb Schmidt, Tommy and Dale went to Cordell, Oklahoma Tuesday night, upon

Mrs. Floyd Cole, Cheryl and Beverly, visited Mrs. Luther Smithson and children at Hart, on Monday afternoon. The Smithsons

Mrs. Floyd and children attended P.T.A. at Hereford Central School on Thursday night.

Several girls met at the Frio Baptist Church Friday afternoon with Mrs. Sybil Stringer, H. D. Agent of Castro County to talk about the organization of a local 4-H Club. On October 24 the group will meet in the Floyd Cole home to organize, elect officers and select sponsors. Also, they will have a program on "Uncooked Candy".

LIVESTOCK MARKET REPORT

This week's supply totaled 9229 head as the result of the special stocker and feeder sale and show last Friday, which comprised 3529 head. This is about 20 percent greater than the previous week and 50 percent larger than the same week a year ago. Slaughter classes comprised less than 10 percent of the total run while feeder steers made up about half of Monday's supply with stock calves predominating Tuesday's run. Slaughter cows were mainly weak to mostly 25 lower than last weeks low close. Bulls uncovered losses of mostly 1.00. Prices for stockers and feeders were erratic on Monday, some early sales 25-50 higher while the bulk of the run sold steady to 50 lower, instances 75 off. Part of this loss was recovered on the following session, leaving feeder steers weak to mostly 25 lower, stocker steers and heifers and stock calves weak to 25 lower, spots 50 off. Stock calves were in the narrowest demand, especially weights over 400 lbs.

SOIL CONSERVATION NEWS

With favorable weather the maize and cotton harvest will soon be over. With the harvest drawing to a close many of you will be considering dirt moving jobs such as land leveling, diversion construction, farm ponds and others. Mr. Clyde Davis near Flag is completing a land leveling job now and Hubert Lilley of Sunnyside plans to start construction on a farm pond soon. Roy Pyeatt who lives between Hart and Nazareth plans to start construction on some terraces soon. Pyeatt will put his terraces in under the Great Plains Conservation Program. Lilley and Davis will do their pond construction and land leveling under ACP. Now and through the winter is a fine time to do dirt moving jobs. Summer crops are off the land and there is usually more time also. There are several dirt moving contractors in this district who can handle any kind of dirt moving job at a reasonable price. Of course land plaining or land smoothing is also important at this time of year. For those of you who don't already know, the Ranning Water SCD has nine land planes for rent to farmers in this area. John Alldredge west of Dimmitt is equipment custodian.

The Soil Conservation Service will gladly assist those interested in earth moving jobs for soil and water conservation.

In 1957, makers of automotive parts and accessories increased their advertising in newspapers by 141 per cent over the previous year.

In 1922, several makes of cars introduced gasoline gauges on their instrument panels.

Last year, gasoline and oil advertisers invested over $30,000,000 in newspaper advertising.

In 1922, the first balloon tires were introduced on U.S. cars.

Practically every sale of every product manufactured in the U.S. will be purchased by one of the 100 million people who read a newspaper on an average day.

FEDERAL HIGHWAY PROGRAM

There are several schools of thought relating to Federal aid for any purpose, but Federal aid to highway construction has been with us for some time. This type of program has been expanded many, many times by the new highway program adopted by the Federal government in 1956. I say expanded many, many times because the magnitude of the program staggers the imagination.

The network is intended to link most of the cities, towns, and villages with populations of 50,000 or more. Many smaller cities, towns, and villages will also be served by this network. Efforts were made to follow present highway routes. For instance, the famous Highway 66 with which we are all so familiar, will be utilized but will be known as Interstate Highway 40. The routing of these roads has been left primarily with the state highway agencies. The Federal Bureau of Public Roads retained veto powers only. I have been advised by the Bureau that such powers would be exercised only in extreme cases where the routes chosen by the State agencies were not in conformity to the general requirements and specifications of the Federal highway program, the Bureau taking the position that it would be preferable to permit State agencies to determine the routings of the highways within their respective States.

The Federal contribution in this program will be far in excess of the contributions in previous programs. Under this program the Federal government will provide 90 percent of the cost, which leaves 10 percent to be provided by the States. This was intended to provide a method of leaving much of the State funds in the hands of the States to be used for roads and streets under the 50-50 State and Federal matching funds program.

The program was intended to be worked out over a 13-year period and brought to completion by the end of that time. It is anticipated that it could be completed earlier.

The cost of this program will be in excess of $50 billion, more than half of which will be spent on the interstate system. The interstate system will be controlled-access, or limited-access, highways, which means there will be no crossroads or intersection on the roads, and no railroad grade crossings. Much of the thinking that was employed in the designing of this highway system was prompted by the anticipation that by 1975 there would be at least 100 million cars on the highways of this nation. With only 65 million cars in 1956, 40,000 people were killed and 13,500,000 injured, many suffering permanent disabilities. The property loss was tragic, to say nothing of the tremendous loss of man-hours and its effect on the national product.

From the standpoint of the economy, the leading proponents of the program foresee and predict great benefits. They point out that during the period of construction an average of 880,000 jobs concerning 190 industries will be generated. Steel requirements will exceed present highway steel demands by more than five times. An estimated 12 billion gallons of paint, and 12 million new traffic signs will be needed, 1,339 million barrels of cement, 710 million tons of aggregate and 128 million tons of bituminous material will be used. The markets for aluminum, seeds, fertilizer, chemicals, engineering tools, electronic computers, and a host of other items will be immeasurably increased.

World Trade and Foreign Aid
Many students of world problems are writing at length recently on the world trade and foreign aid. A recent book was written by Mr. Howard K. Smith and five other correspondents of CBS News. This book was published by Smith, Keynes, and Marshall, Publishers, as one of its ECONOMICA BOOKS, books on economics, politics and business. The name of the book is "The Ruble War" and is referred to as a study of Russia's economic penetration versus U.S. foreign aid.

It is not my purpose to be selling books for anyone, and I certainly am not advising any of my readers to make a mad dash to the book store to purchase one of these books. However, it does have some statements in it that are somewhat alarming to me which seem to be the general object of the publication, and with which I would certainly take issue. The Church Council met Sunday afternoon to begin formulating the church calendar for the new year.

is the following statement: "In conclusion, I would reaffirm two points. One is that the American people must be aroused to the urgent necessity of increasing and improving our foreign aid. The American people are not so aroused at the present time.

"The other point is that Congress must be made to realize that this effort is a necessary part of our national life. We should not have to debate foreign aid and reciprocal trade as strange and controversial proposals each year. They must be commonplaces, the natural things to do. Debate on them should not be as to whether they should be done; it should be limited to the question, what is the most effective way to do them?"

The adoption of such a doctrine would, in my opinion, seriously threaten many segments of our economy, as well as endanger some of the basic rights which we should be seeking to preserve under our Constitution.

News is the plural of the word

'new'. The Greeks' word for it was "neos" and it became in Anglo-Saxon "neow" and later in middle English "news". It is akin to the French "nouvelles."

RELIGION AND SATISFACTION

Most people are satisfied religiously as they are. Robert Owen was satisfied with Atheism, even though he had no hope beyond the grave. The Pharisee was satisfied with his religion, Lk. 18:10-12. The Jews at the time of Christ was satisfied with their religion, John 1:11. The Hindu mother who throws her child to the crocodiles to appease the wrath of the River god, is satisfied. Cain was satisfied with his offering, but God was not, Gen. 4:3-5. Nadab and Abihu were satisfied with their offering, but God was not, Num. 3:4. Therefore, what may satisfy me is no guarantee that I am right in the sight of God.

Religious people throughout Biblical history have been constantly changing. Some examples: The eunuch, Acts 8; Paul, Acts 9; the 3,000 on Pentecost, Acts 2:5; Apollos, Acts 18:24; the Ephesians, Acts 19. When new truth is learned, it must be accepted. To do otherwise would be dishonest.

Church of Christ

ENERGY BUILDS

The use of energy resources is the basis of man's standard of living everywhere. The United States has both the highest standard of living in the world and the highest per capita consumption of energy. With the aid of increased investment, better techniques and a five-fold expansion in energy use, the United States produces almost six times as great a volume of goods and services as it did just fifty years ago.

Natural gas is playing an increasingly important role in the expanding use of energy in our economy. In 1957, natural gas and related liquids supplied 27.9% of the nation's energy as compared to 19.7% in 1950, 12.4% in 1940, 9.9% in 1930, and 4.4% in 1920. Largely a regional fuel before the Second World War, natural gas has become increasingly useful to the entire nation because of the construction of large-diameter, long-distance pipelines.

El Paso Natural Gas Company supplies gas to communities and industries in west Texas, New Mexico, Arizona, Colorado, Nevada and California. The Company pledges its continued wholehearted efforts to help keep energy in abundant supply so that our economy can continue to grow and expand.
