

This business of disgruntled so-called students taking over college campuses and buildings has gone far enough. A task force should give them a haircut, shave and bath, by force if necessary, and send them home to their parents. If their parents won't have them and make them behave, they should either be inducted into the army or marooned on an island where they could protest to their heart's content without bothering other people. Students who are in colleges and universities for the purpose of getting an education deserve a better environment than a campus cluttered with a bunch of irresponsible half-baked morons. The nonsense should be stopped immediately.

Some people didn't like the way Mayor Daley handled the mohs and rioters in Chicago a while back, but so far as we have heard there hasn't been any attempts by the troublemakers to repeat the performance. Might be that the Mayor would set a good example as president of some college or university. He might not teach the scholarly students very much but chances are he could teach the demonstrators and malcontents quite a bit.

We won't have any state or national elections this year to hold our interest and to create daily newspaper headlines, but we can always look forward with interest to the sometimes comical and, sometimes tragic political news that makes Amarillo the national center of attention on off-election years. It is interesting to note that a goodly number of Amarillo housewives have banned together in an effort to lend aid to the Mayor in protecting that city from the rest of the country. It must be a miserable existence to mistrust your country and your fellowman.

There was a time when I predicted the outcome of Bobcat football and basketball schedules, and events invariably proved my predictions to be correct. This I haven't done in several years, why I don't know unless it was that I just got tired of tolling people things that they should figure out for themselves. Everybody is aware of the fact that the Bobcats are a fine basketball team and that they will move out of their district in the state playoffs next week. Like I said, I don't make predictions anymore, but I do plan to go to Central Texas next month and I have always enjoyed a few days visit in the state capitol.

It's funny how a little thing can irritr'e a person. Viola and I became bored with our house as it was, or maybe we just couldn't stand not being head over heels in debt, anyway we did a remodeling job on part of our house a year or so ago. In the process we came up with new kitchen cabinets in the area where the garage used to be and the car never was. That kitchen cabinet has any number of little drawers and doors and the irritating part is that one of those cabinet doors won't stay shut. All you have to do to close any of our kitchen cabinet doors is to gently push them shut and the catch works and the place looks orderly. But that one door is always open. You can push it shut or you can slam it shut and it will fly open in your face. The only way to get it to cooperate is to slap it shut with the flat part of your hand, only then will it get the message. I hope we never get it fixed. When I get irritated about something and need to let off a little steam I can always go into the kitchen and slap that cabinet door shut without fear of back talk or contradiction.

Grant is awarded for 'master plan'

The Department of Housing and Urban Development Tuesday approved a Church. $9,334 grant to the City of Dimmitt for development of its "master plan" of future growth and municipal services. CONGRESSMAN Bob Price notified the News of the grant Tuesday. The federal money is to help pay for 18 months of comprehensive planning toward the city's future needs. The federal share is two-thirds of the expected cost of the planning, and the city's share of matching funds will be $4,658. The city commission approved the master plan project and applied for the grant last June.

In a significant merger of political and economic views, directors of the county's three major farm organizations this week drafted 12 points of common unity and sent them to Congressman Bob Price to present to the House Agriculture Committee.

THE STATEMENT of unity was drafted by leaders of the Farm Bureau, Farmers Union and National Farmers Organization.

In drawing the statement after a month of study, the local leaders were telling their state and national organizations, in effect, "If you can't get together at your level, we'll work from our level toward solution of our common problems."

Congressman Price has repeatedly told local audiences that farmers themselves are hobbling the farm program because their different organizations, when testifying before the House Agriculture Committee, continually give opposing views on how to solve the problems of

Here are the 12 points of unity they drafted for Congressman Price:

1. "We recognize the need for banding together for a higher market price for all farm products."

2. "WE FAVOR a national public relations program to inform our urban brothers of the agri-business world-not just through farm magazines, but TV and major magazines which will reach the masses and inform our city cousins that farmers' problems are their problems . . . The time is more critical than ever that we have a strong rural America.

"Included in this publicity should be the facts on the cost of food as it relates to the cost of other items, calling special attention to the fact that in reality the American farmer has been subsiphasis made on this comparison.

3. "We oppose the take over of the family and commercial type farm by large corporations under the guise of hobby farming.

4. "WE ARE in favor of legislation on basic crops that will strengthen our bargaining power in the marketplace.

5. "Being fully aware that we aren't getting our fair share of the nation's economy, we are willing to join hands and use any means necessary to attain a fair price for our products.

REPENT OR PERISH

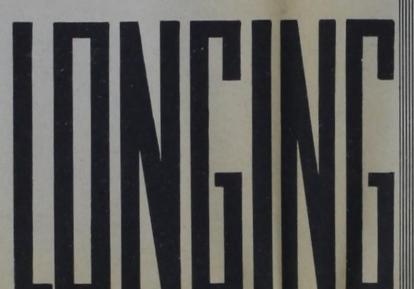

By Ronnie Parker

Is is as plain as that. Change from sin to righteousness or you will perish. And do not forget that the truth came from the Lord. "Except ye repent, ye shall all likewise perish" (Luke 13:3). To remain in the way of rebellion against God is in fact a show of stubborn refusal to submit to divine commands. The penitent person will have one great concern — to obey the Lord in all things.

Saving grace is free but it is not cheap. When a person changes his mind regarding the practice of sin he must be willing to pay the price of discipleship. It must be the giving of "self" without reservation to Christ. Jesus called it "self-denial." There are many people who will accept the fact that Jesus is the Son of God and the Savior of the world yet they continue in the way of sin because their impenitent hearts will not allow them to pay the price.

Do you truly appreciate the goodness of God shown in the gift of His Son for your sins? Is there any godly sorrow for sins in your life? Then change your stubborn will into repentance unto salvation.

for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world

Many retirees facing poverty

More than a third of all rural southerners will face poverty in some de-gree during retirement, predicts a re-"THE SURVEY indicates that the public should act to solve some of the human issues involved in rural retire-ment," says Dr. Alice Stubbs, head of the home economics department of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Sta-

Some of these issues are substandard housing and the social adversities of rural isolation, she said.

The research was conducted by cooperative experiment stations in Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Tennessee and Dr. H. O. Kunkel, dean of Texas A&M's College of Agriculture, served the project as administrative advisor.

The research was to find how rural families were preparing economically for old age. Results showed that at least 11/2 million rural families in the five states will eventually receive an-nual retirement incomes of less than $75 a month for a family of two persons. This will come from Social Security and Welfare.

THE STUDY also showed that preretirement family incomes relate directly to economic expectations for retirement. In general, most Negroes and many whites reported their annual incomes were less than $3,000. The average monthly retirement income was estimated at $165 for whites and $1 for More families saved money through life insurance than by cash savings, Dr. Stubbs reported.

People are aware of their need for money income and medical care in older age, she said, but they are not aware of the need to prepare for using their increased leisure time.

Final rites held for Jack Sisson

Last rites for A. J. "Jack Sisson of Littlefield, brother of Mrs. Calvin Petty of Dimmitt, were held Tuesday of last week in the First Methodist Church of Littlefield.

MR. SISSON, 59, a cotton ginner who had lived in Littlefield 44 years, died Feb. 10 in Littlefield Hospital-Clinic following several months' illness. Rev. Wallace Kirby, pastor of the First Methodist Church, officiated. Burial was in Littlefield Memorial Park under the direction of Hammons Funeral Home.

In addition to his sister here, Mr. Sisson is survived by his wife, Irlene, a son, his mother, four brothers, two other sisters, and two grandchildren.

Lillie Mae Hunter, lady historian, does it again

By MYRTLE SHEFFY

Hazel Merritt attended the autograph party at the Dalhart Library for Lillie Mae Hunter, who has written another book. It is "Book of Years," a two-part history of Dallam and Hartley Counties, first about the land, then the people. This is a pretty book, hard back, gold with black lettering on the cover. It sells for $10. You know Mrs. Hunter also wrote "The Moving Finger," a bistory of Castro County.

ANN SINGER was visiting her son Robert and family at Tulia Sunday. She fell and broke her arm and will be in the Tulia Hospital for a few days.

DIMMITT was a busy place Sunday. Many people went to the ground-breaking services for the First Baptist Church on Western Circle Drive. Dr. Raymond Perkins, the pastor was there. Mayor Bradford welcomed the new church to be, in the name of the city. Gene Morrison, building committee chairman, Charlie Hays, finance committee chairman and R. B. Strother, chairman of the deacons, gave the response.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Morrison were hosts at a dinner at the Colonial Inn Restaurant for Rev. and Mrs. Perkins, Mr. and Mrs. Hoyse McMurtry, Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Craig, all of Lubbock (the men are architects) and Mr. Eugene Brand, also of Lubbock.

IN THE AFTERNOON probably 900 people heard Ralph Smith's Bobcat

Lanelle and Gerald Stephenson of Grapevine and Georgene and her husband of Lubbock were weekend guests of the girls' parents Mr. and Mrs. George Blanton. The Stephensons were guest special singers at church Sunday. They teach voice at Grapevine.

ABOUT 40 high school students from the Highland Church of Christ in Abilene were guests of the members of the Bedford Street Church of Christ from Friday through the Sunday morning services. This was a fellowship promotion thing. They stayed in the homes of the members of the church.

Jackie McLeroy, Aural Davis, Gladys Benson and Maxie Horton went to Lubbock Friday to hear a voice recital by their friend Martha Pender. Martha teaches voice at Tech, and has sang in operas in Europe and here in the Susan Benson was hostess Sunday to friends Linda Bennett and Marsha Baldridge of Lubbock and several of the Dimmitt friends of the girls.

Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Onstead of Littlefield were Sunday guests of their daughter Mrs. Don Gilreath and family. They also attended the band concert in which the two granddaughters played.

JUANITA BRUEGEL and Sue Miller flew down to Dallas for a few days visit with Sandy Bruegel and Sue's nieces and nephews. They had breakfast one morning with Walt and Glenna Walker. Walt is helping the Killingsworths build a church in Mesquite. They also visited with Mae Simmons, who now lives on South Buckner Road. They also saw Jo Kirkpatrick at Arlington.

Lois Young was visiting relatives in and around Ada, Okla. I believe she saw one cousin in Fort Worth. Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Buckley, sons, FIVE generations got together in Amarillo Saturday when Mrs. Ida Dorothea Maas Finch celebrated her 101st birthday. Three of the generations were from Dimmitt. They were Mrs. Nita Beavers, Mrs. Finch's granddaughter; Mrs. Beavers' daughter, Mrs. Alene Thomas, and Mrs. Thomas' son, Jerry Wayne.

The second generation represented was Mrs. Beavers' father, Charlie F. Finch of Plainview.

Mrs. Finch, a native of Germany, came to the US in 1882 and to the Panhandle in 1907 — a real pioneer.

SEVERAL of the city officials attended a meeting and a breakfast with the State Legislature in Austin one day recently. Going from here were Mayor George Bradford, and Commissioners Troy Kirby, Noel Gollehon, and Jimmy Ross and E. B. Noble.

Nettie Graham and Josie Bradford spent the night with their friends Bess Jones and Rob Roberts in Amarillo. Rob came to Dimmitt with them and they went to Memphis for a few days visit with Grace Monzingo, Mary Lenoir and a call on Mrs. Murry, Oleta Gollehon's mother, who is recuperating from a recent stroke. Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Stafford and little Dondra of Oklahoma City have been here for a few days visit with his folks the Roy Staffords and Grandmother Dora Houtchens. The Valentine motif was used to decorate a big table full of pickup foods. Bennie Gollehon and his band made music, but I hear so many people were there it turned into a visiting party instead of dancing. And some of the members went over to the Hereford Country Club. Many parties going on.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Dannevik of Moriarity, N.M. were weekend guests of their son Bill and family. They attended church at the Methodist.

MY YOUNG friend Jan Willis decided to get married - so she did. The groom is Mike Baca of Navisota, a senior student in agriculture at Tech, where Jan is attending school. Jan is the second daughter of G. L. and Ouida Willis.

Is your acreage report correct?

By CHARLEY HILL County Office Manager

Producers will again this year be responsible for measuring and reporting their program acreages. We cannot stress too much the importance of measuring and reporting your acreage accurately. We have measuring service available for wheat until March 14 and for row crops until June 13. We will be happy to planimeter irregular plots from your photograph at no cost to

IF YOU have any questions concerning the above, please come by the office and we will be glad to help and discuss it with you.

THE ASC State Committee has again reinstated the policy that deliberate burning of any crop residue violates reasonable conservation principles and will be considered a practice tending to defeat the purposes of the program. Deliberate burning of crop residue will result in loss of ACP cost-sharing received throughout the year.

We have received information that advance payments will be authorized on 50 percent of the feed grain and wheat diversion payments. Program signup will end March 21.

This office will be closed on Feb. 21, in observance of George Washington's birthday. THOUGHT: Trouble is a sieve through which we sift our acquaintances. Those who are too big to pass through are our friends.

Soybean research increased by A&M

Soybean acreage in Texas expanded this area vary from May 20 to June to more than a quarter million acres 20. in 1967, and research programs are continuing to move forward, according to Dr. Raymond D. Brigham, of Texas A&M's Agricultural Research and Extension Center at Lubbock.

BRIGHAM IS responsible for soybean breeding in the state, and during the past year set up trial plantings at 12 A&M research stations and cooperators. Major soybean research locations conducted by Texas A&M are at Lubbock, Etter, Bushland, Beaumont and College Station. Here, variety trials and cultural tests are conducted to determine the best adapted varieties and optimum dates and rates of planting along with irrigation, fertilizer and herbicide re-

Reports on results of soybean plantings at the Northern High Plains' station at Etter showed varieties Clark 63 and Wayne have consistently produced high yields under irrigation. Patterson has yielded somewhat less while Amsoy appears promising as an early variety. Brigham noted the optimum planting date was May 20 with an average yield reduction of one-half bushel per acre for each day of delay in planting after

In the Southern High Plains, Hill and Lee have been consistent high yielding varieties. Lee is best adapted to the Lubbock area southward while Hill performs best from Lubbock north to the Plainview-Tulia area. Hood has also produced high yields in the Lubbock-Plainview area. Patterson, an earlier variety, does best from Plainview north to the Amarillo area. Planting dates in

Get address right on your tax return

If you have a refund due on your 1968 federal income tax return, a sure way to slow it up is to mail your return to an incorrect address.

ELLIS CAMPBELL Jr., district director of Internal Revenue for northern Texas, said this week that northern Texas taxpayers should mail returns showing refunds directly to the Southwest Service Center, 3651 S. Interregional Highway, Austin, 78740.

A pre-addressed envelope for this purpose is included with your tax-forms package. If it was mislaid or lost, a mailing label may be obtained from your nearest IRS office.

Checks or money orders in payment of the tax should be made payable to Internal Revenue Service.

USDA discontinues local dairy base

The US Department of Agriculture has discontinued the base and excess plans for paying dairy farmers under the Lubbock-Plainview and Texas Panhandle federal milk marketing orders.

U.S.D.A.'S CONSUMER and Marketing Service officials said under the plans, each dairy farmer had a base reflecting his average daily deliveries of milk to the market in some fall and winter months. Later on, in spring and summer months, when milk production increased, the farmer was paid a base price for milk delivered up to his base amount, and a lower price for any excess milk.

Milk Producers, Inc., representing 99 percent of the dairy farmers supplying the two markets, requested that the plans be dropped from the two orders, because of a conflict with its own Class I base plan for paying its members.

Notice of the termination action, as proposed, appeared in the Federal Register Jan. 29, but no one has opposed

REP. BILL CLAYTON of Springlake resolutions will be introduced within the next 30 days.

House committees heard several bills during the past week that will be up for floor debate in the near future. Clayton said one of these is the controversial liquor-by-the-drink proposal. This is a constitutional amendment which would provide that mixed beverages be sold in cities, precincts, and counties where the people vote in favor of the measure in a local option election. Clayton said he doubts that this measure will receive the required two-thirds vote before being submitted to the electorate.

Two proposed amendments sponsored by Clayton were to be heard Tuesday night before the Constitutional Amendments Committee. One of these, House Joint Resolution 7, would remove the constitutional ceiling of 4 percent interest rates on revenue bonds issued by the Water Development Board, the Veterans Land Board, the Parks and Wildlife Fund, the Student Loan Bond Fund and the Junior College Bond Fund.

Hart girls finish with 8-15 record

Hart High School's Longhornettes have closed out their basketball season with eight victories and 15 losses.

LEADING scorer for the girls was Rebecca Futrell, a senior, who posted 408 points during the year for a pergame average of 18.5.

Margaret Swindle, a senior, was the second leading scorer with 302 points and a 13.7 per-game mark. Other forwards and their season point totals were Debbie Newsom 90, Bobbie Ethridge 142, Sue Bates 34, and Cindy Dyer 17.

Guards were Linda Bailey, Reba English, Nanci Reed, Roni Cox, Becky King, Kathy Crawford and Lisa Lacy. Leading the guards in rebounds was Roni Cox, a sophomore, with 114 for the season. Linda Bailey, a senior, was the second leading rebounder with 97.

THE HART girls played their opponents closer than the won-lost record indicates. The Longhornettes scored 955 points during the season for a per-game average of 43.4. Their opponents scored fear of another cavity? I do. It seems that I always have at least one. I am very excited about the new research in cavity prevention.

Dental science is currently exploring a broad range of decay prevention methods, ranging from phosphate-enriched cereals and chewing gum containing enzymes, to different forms of fluoride preparations. The phosphate in the breakfast cereals is thought to act in the system, rather than in direct contact with the teeth. Studies show a 20 to 40 percent reduction in tooth decay in test groups using the cereals.

Research being conducted with enzymes is one of the newer developments in dental science. Enzymes are the basic chemical catalysts in the body and are vital to body processes. Some researchers are convinced that an enzyme gum or tablet will prevent one form of tooth decay, but as yet little clinical evidence has been gathered to support their claims.

OTHER DENTAL research is being conducted with the traditional decay preventive - fluoride - to further reduce the incidence of tooth decay. Fluoride injections into the gums are being tested at the School of Dentistry at UCLA, and fluoride gels placed in mouthpieces are being used in studies among pre-school children at Governor's Island, New York.

The most widely used method of decay prevention is fluoridation of public water supplies. Today, however, only 52 percent of public water supplies are fluoridated.

In areas where the water supplies are not fluoridated, some physicians and dentists may prescribe vitamin-fluoride supplements. One study showed that children given vitamin-fluoride supplements daily reduced tooth decay by as much as 68 percent. This form of decay prevention is practicularly convenient if the habit of taking daily vitamins has already been established.

WITH BOTH the vitamin-fluoride supplements and fluoridated water supplies, children are assured of getting fluoride when they need it the most - from birth to 12-14 years of age.

Infants need this protection because their teeth are already forming in the gums, and by 14 years of age the permanent teeth are nearing full develop-

Dental research will continue, but until a complete preventative is found fluoride treatment in one form or another will be the primary defense against

Financial Facts

By Willis A. Hawkins, Jr.

Did you know that Benjamin Franklin designed a coin? One side showed a sun glowering at a sundial under which these scholastic words appeared: MIND YOUR BUSINESS.

Rounding the curve at the left was the word FUGIO, and the curve at the right gave the date 1787. The reverse side depicted a 13 link chain loop, in the center of which these words stood out-"WE ARE ONE"-representing the 13 original colonies. Records show that this coin, pegged as the "Fugio" was short-lived. Soon after issuance, the demise of this first one cent piece followed.

In 1866, the U.S. government issued fractional currency in 50 cent denominations. It was a small bill, measuring only 41/2" by 21/4". A big "50" appeared

The future of the Castro County Country Club rests largely with 66 members who are lagging in their dues, President Truman Touchstone reported at the club's quarterly membership meeting Monday night.

HE SAID 59 of the club's original 302 members have been dropped from the rolls because they owed more than $50 in dues, and 177 members are paid up. "We have 66 members who owe less than $40," Touchstone said, "and they will have a great influence on whether we can pull ahead. If we can stick together and get the support of these 66, we can make it."

The club is up to date on its 1969 bills, and has almost $2,000 in the bank, Touchstone reported, but it still owes the first year's mortgage note.

ship active, we can start chipping away at last year's note," he said.

AFTER A debate developed over dances and the use of alcoholic beverages in the clubhouse, members adopted a motion to instruct the social activior couples to serve as the official hosts and hostesses for such events, to avoid the implication that the entire membership was sponsoring these social func-

The motion stipulated that the hosts and hostesses would not be personally liable for debts incurred by these dances or parties. The social activities committee maintains its own fund to make these functions self-supporting.

The 48 members attending the meeting also heard reports from golf pro Gidd Faircloth; Mrs. Ann Touchstone, "I think if we can keep our member- social activities chairman; Jack Miller, secretary; and Don Nelson, who is heading a fishing-lake project.
