We Won't Starve

Approximately a year ago we went overboard, in the desire to be cheerful, and promised there would be no gasoline shortage in this country.

We argued the matter learnedly, starting from the fact that we alone of all the great nations possess more petroleum and more refining capacity than we and our allies could use.

Something — perhaps a Washington rumor — tells us we were wrong. For 17 states and the District of Columbia there is a very distinct shortage of motor fuel, and the rest of the country probably will not escape.

About the same time we were certain, but the notion was too silly to dignify with even passing mention, that the United States never would face a troublesome food shortage.

The reasoning was similar to that in the case of gasoline. Well, now we're drinking coffee with only one lump of sugar. Many restaurants are refusing second cups to patrons. Pepper and paprika are rationed to the trade. Bananas are six cents each, and the fruiterer wonders whether there will be any soon. Tea is on the way out. So is pineapple.

All these, of course, are imported. The premium upon shipping space makes them hard to get.

Just to clear our conscience of the bad advice on gasoline, however, let us record today that we are going to meet up soon with scarcities in a lot of foodstuffs that do not have to be brought into the United States by sea—things that we raise on our own mainland in huge quantities.

We shall find these foods scarce for two simple reasons that didn't occur to us a year ago.

First, because the Army, the Navy and war manufacture are drafting our manpower so heavily that the farmers can not get enough help to plant, cultivate and harvest the crops.

Second, because our railroads are coming close to the limits of their carrying capacity.

Soon, the movement of foodstuffs will be regulated strictly so they will not impede the movement of military material. Then we shall wind less variety on grocers' shelves.

But — and this is the important thing — we can still be certain that we are not going to face starvation or malnutrition. Up to that point, foods will have to give way to war freight. At that point, war freight will give way to foodstuffs.

Why? Merely because only a properly fed nation can meet adequately the production demands that will save democracy.

COMMITTEES BEGIN WORK; ENTRIES ARE RECEIVED IN INVITATION TOURNEY

While some of the committees named in connection with the annual Ranger Country Club Invitation Golf Tournament, to be held May 29, 30 and 31, some of the committees are already functioning and all indications are that this will be one of the outstanding tournaments the club has ever held.

Plans for the barbecue Friday night, May 29th, which will be served just before the calcutta pool, have already been made and the meat and other things to be served have already been ordered.

The barbecue committee is composed of Lester Crossley, chairman, R. O. Bray and Jack Rawls. Other committees which are expected to be active this week, and throughout the tournament are:

Rules and Grounds — Roy Trower, chairman; E. L. Norris, and H. B. Vaughn.

Ticket Committee — L. W. Meador, chairman; E. L. Perkins, Joe Dennis and John Kindig.

Calcutta Pool — H. P. Earnest, chairman; Sam Gamble, Felton Brasher, Fred Dreinhofner, Coe Hartnett, Pete Jensen and Dr. W. L. Dewntain.

Driving Contest and Starting Committee — J. P. Dreinhofner, chairman; Fire Chief G. A. Murphy, Hal Lavery and Rice Herrington.

Fairways and greens are both in good condition for the tournament and unless rain falls before, or during the tournament the field should be fast. Grass in the roughs is getting high, as it always does at this time of the year, but not as high as usual, making the whole course in excellent condition.

Larson and Pless E. Moore, general chairman of the tournament, have made plans to have the grounds decorated for the tournament, with United States flags flying from every available vantage point around the clubhouse.

The caddy house, which was purchased some time ago, was moved to the club grounds today, and while it will not be painted and remodeled by tournament time it is expected to be in usable condition by then.

Ten out-of-town entries in the event from Fort Worth, Waco, Bridge and Eastland, while four out-of-town entrants have already qualified. Local players who do not expect to compete for medal score have been urged to qualify this week. To be eligible for the medal prize one must qualify on Friday.

It is expected that Dick Martin of Dallas defending champion, will be on hand to defend his laurels, though he had not, as yet, entered.

Former Rangerite Writes About Her Experience At Sea

Mrs. Chester Fuller, the former Miss Ruth Black, a teacher in Ranger High school, has written friends of her interesting experiences while enroute to San Juan, Puerto Rico, to join her husband, who is now radio monitoring officer for the Coast Guard, and is stationed there.

While enroute to Puerto Rico the boat on which he was a passenger was torpedoed and she, with other passengers and crew members, spent 14 hours in a lifeboat, before being rescued by a navy patrol boat and taken to Cuba.

From Cuba she was flown to Puerto Rico in a United States Navy seaplane.

The letter was passed by United States censor, but nothing had been deleted from it.

While stationed in Ranger Fuller was in charge of the NYA radio shop, being the first supervisor of that department of the NYA in Ranger.

TOUCHES BEING ADDED TO THE SENIOR PLAY

Members of the cast of "Lucky" comedy which the Senior Class of Ranger High School will present Thursday evening, May 28, in the Recreation Building, are putting the finishing touches on the production and hope to make it the outstanding entertainment of the school year.

The play is a comedy somewhat different from the usual farce given by students. The acting of the play centers around a clean-cut, who is known as "Lucky". It is tag day at Larkspur College and to be tagged means that a young man has made good with his college and fellowmen. Three generations of Luckreans have made the grade, but "Lucky" fails to live up to his nickname and isn't tagged. His father feels that he is disgraced, and even the girl he adores leaves without saying good-bye.

SENIOR CLASS HAS PROGRAM HERE MONDAY

Senior Class Day exercises for the graduating class of Ranger High School were held Monday at the school auditorium, with seniors having charge of the program, and no faculty members having any part.

After the processional the invocation was pronounced by Rev. H. E. Johnson, pastor of the First Christian Church of Ranger, after which the program was turned over to the seniors.

The Salutatory was given by Mary Bourdeau and the valedictory by Reid Hunter, both being pronounced masterpieces.

The class history was given by Mary Irene Wilson and Johnnie Mae Gable and the class will by Lillian Ruth Carter.

A clarinet solo by Ruth Cox furnished the musical portion of the program, in addition to the professional and regional.

After the exercises the seniors were entertained with a reception and theatre party.

Ranger Girl Wins In State Contest

Betty Louise White, a junior in Ranger High School, has received an award of Defense Stamps as one of the 13 winners among 4,000 contestants in a statewide health essay contest, sponsored by the State Medical Auxiliary.

The local girl was the only winner in the Northwest District of the state. All high school juniors were eligible to compete in the contest.

An old timer is one who remembers when two girls discovered a man following them they called a cop. Now they match for him.

OCCUPATIONAL PAPERS SENT REGISTRANTS

Occupational questionnaires to list the civilian occupations and skills of registrants in the first and second selective service registrations (October 1940 and July 1941) who have not been inducted into the armed forces will be mailed to them by the end of May, it was announced today by Gen. J. Watt Page, State Selective Service Director. The questionnaire must be filled out by the registrant and mailed to his local board within ten days after he receives it, the director said.

Pointing out the vital importance to the nation's war efforts of the most efficient use of its manpower for war production, Gen. Page urged all registrants receiving this questionnaire to give careful thought to their skills, experience and attitudes.

Active poll bearers were Turner McCleskey, J. B. Morton, Alvin Mayhall and George Morris, Ranger and J. W. Morrow and W. J. Richards, Breckenridge.

when filling it out. He said: "The government wants to know not only what you are doing now, but also what you can or might be able to do to assist in the war efforts. It is not merely a question of training and experience, for you might have some aptitudes that could be developed for important use in war production."

The handling of the occupational questionnaires for men of the first and second registrations will be entirely separate from that of the registrants of the third (February 16, 1942) registration, most of whom already have received their questionnaires, Page said.

Many of the registrants of the first and second registrations already are in the armed forces, he pointed out, and, therefore, the questionnaires to them will be mailed from the classification records in each local board office instead of from the list of registrants. Furthermore, the local boards will add to the questionnaires, when they are returned by the registrants, their current classification of each registrant and whatever information is available pertaining to his physical status.

When the occupational questionnaires are returned to the local boards they will be checked for completeness and accuracy and divided into the various sections of which they are composed. One section will be forwarded through state headquarters for use by the national roster of scientific and specialized personnel in locating persons with certain professional and scientific qualifications. Another section will be relayed to the proper United States Employment Office for the area in which the local board has jurisdiction.

Dawn Patrol Of CAP Makes A Stop In Ranger Sunday Morning, With Fifteen Planes In Patrol Group

A group of 15 Civil Air Patrol planes, with the pilots and a number of passengers, under the command of Lou Foote, owner and operator of the Lou Foote Flying Service, made a trip from Grand Prairie to Ranger Sunday morning. The pilots were on a cross county dawn patrol when they made the trip from Grand Prairie.

The pilots and their passengers arrived unheralded, but Fire Chief G. A. Murphy commanded several automobiles and brought them to town, where they had breakfast at the Paramount Cafe.

At the conclusion of the breakfast Mayor Hall Walker made them a short address of welcome, after which he conducted them on a tour of the NYA barracks, recreation hall and mess hall, before they were taken back to the airport.

The group left Grand Prairie about 7:30 arriving in Ranger in time for breakfast, and left Ranger on the return trip at 11:00 a. m.

The CAP is composed of civilian pilots, most of whom own their own planes, who have volunteered for patrol duty. They have been particularly active in scouting duties along the border, and on the west and east coast, where they have spotted a number of submarines, which have been reported to the air arms of the Army or Navy, and in several instances have forced submarines to submerge and flee. Saving of several merchant ships is accredited to the CAP.

Instructors, pilots and passengers who made the trip to Ranger Sunday included D. C. Noques, J. D. Farnell, William Bairdridge, S. N. Wood, Bobby Williamson, J. E. Connor, Stephen Bruck, Elizabeth McHenry, Frances White, G. M. Bullard, Paul Thompson, G. R. Little, Jack Vandenberg, Herbert Noble, Wiltz Talton, E. W. Elliott, Robert Hamon, Natalie Griffin, Newton Rudy, Jack Foote, Harry Boucher, Fred Crooks, H. L. Matler, Mike Glasscock, Ira Hall, Lloyd Graham, Eldon Wright, Mike Rosenthal, C. J. Jount, Alfred Ellis and Huston Newman.

A MEMBERSHIP DRIVE PLANNED BY THE C OF C

A breakfast and membership drive, to be held sometime in the very near future, was planned at a meeting of the directors of the Ranger Chamber of Commerce Monday evening. Joe N. Graham, chairman of the membership committee and he will have charge of the details in connection with the breakfast and drive. Other members of the committee are Lee Dockery, A. N. Larson and Jess Hancy.

A telegram received from Benjamin H. Namm, chairman of the retail advisory committee of the Treasury Department, was read to the members. It urged that all merchants devote 15 minutes, from 12 noon to 12:15 p. m. July 1, exclusively to the sale of war bonds and stamps.

The telegram read: "All retailers are asked to cooperate in a nationwide tribute to America on July 1, at 12 noon by suspending all sales of merchandise for 15 minutes and devoting this time to the sale of War Savings Stamps and Bonds exclusively. We are counting on your personal cooperation so that we may report 100 per cent unity in this sales program to launch a nationwide campaign of retailers for victory. Will you advise how many of your local retailers will participate. Please advise by wire as soon as possible so that I may advise Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau, Jr., and President Roosevelt on Monday morning."

The members voted to hold but one meeting a month, on the second Monday in the month, throughout the summer. A. N. Larson invited all the members to attend, and participate if they desired, in the Ranger Country Club's annual invitation golf tournament, to be held this week end.

The group went on record as disapproving gasoline rationing for this section, because of economic reasons, and agreed to urge citizens to write letters of protest to their congressmen and senators.

John Kindie made a brief report on the USO drive, stating that it went over the top in Ranger.

Those present at the meeting were L. W. Meador, A. N. Larson, Dr. Ross Hodges, John Kindie, B. E. Garner, Lee Dockery, Joe N. Graham, Jess Hancy, A. J. Ratloff and Paul MacDonald.

Dr. Brazda Will Leave For Army, Report On June 8

Dr. A. W. Brazda has received a telegram telling him to report for duty on June 8, at the Chico, Cal., Army Flying School, where he will be a captain in the Medical Corps. Dr. Brazda received his appointment several days ago, but expected that he would not be called for service for two or three weeks.

Dr. Brazda stated today that his family would remain in Ranger while he was in army service, and that he would return here to resume his practice as soon as the war was over and he could secure his release.

The telegram instructing Dr. Brazda to report for duty reads: "Proceed on June 8 to Chico, Cal., reporting for duty to the commanding officer of the Chico Army Flying School for duty. Appointment letter follows."

Former Teacher Files Suit Against School Trustees

Miss Margaret Boyce of Johnson county has brought suit in the 91st district court against C. E. Williams, Tom Butler Jr., E. L. Gains, Joe M. Bush and J. T. Hopper as trustees of the Rising Star Independent school district, for $100 actual damage and $500 exemplary damages.

The plaintiff alleges that she was due a balance for her services as teacher in the Rising Star schools for the years 1936-37 and 1937-8, and that on Oct. 18, 1941, she secured a judgment in Precinct No. 7 for $124 principal and interest, but that the said judgment had not been paid.

Although Texas showed a larger percentage of gain in population from 1930 to 1940 (10.1) than the United States as a whole, the gain was smaller than any in Texas history.

CHAPTER XXI

"It's like this," Nigel had found out all he could from Baldy before calling a meeting. "She wanted a chance. Baldy thought she was at least as good as average from what he saw last night and that there was a possibility she might be better. She wanted a break and he's spotted a job in the chorus line of some dump in New York."

"Did he tell you the name?"

"No. Some cheap place, probably on the East Side."

Fay was thoughtful. "Baldy knows every joint in town, the good as well as the dumps, but I don't see how he could get her anything as easily as that unless it is a hole in the wall. I'll find out about it."

Michael turned to her with a slow smile. "It's after your blood too. Maybe Baldy isn't bad on the surface, but underneath he's just plain parasite."

"You read my thoughts," muttered Myra. Her face was gloomy. "I knew I was taking a risk when I brought her out of the cotton-wood, but who'd have thought she could find trouble up here?"

"Wait till Danny hears about this," said Michael with a rueful smile. "He'll go after Baldy with a gun."

"And he'll blame me," said Myra. "Danny is the father of the Mack family," she announced to the others. "Noted for his impulsiveness rather than his forethought when it comes to disciplinary action on his family."

"What shall we do?" said Nigel. "Simple enough," said Michael. "Sign his guns. Stop him and we'll have her. But why shouldn't she have her chance?"

"A chance is all right," Fay's voice was serious. "But she is only a kid and she'll be starting the hard way. Believe me, I've seen so much of it. I was lucky and went the easy way, but I wouldn't want a sister of mine to have the hard road. Baldy is straight enough. He does his best according to his lights. But I don't like his lights. Neither would you."

"The point is," said Nigel, "we ought to solve this thing so that nobody is hurt—pleasant feelings all round and all that kind of thing."

Michael grinned at Nigel. "You and I could fix Baldy."

"What about Peggy?"

"She'll have to lump it," said Myra. "Why do I always land in other people's troubles? They chase me even when I'm trying to get a vacation."

"Can't be helped," said Michael. "Any suggestions for a plan?"

IN the house Baldy wiped the perspiration from his brow. It gave him a sense of power and fulfillment to be working over an act again, even if it was with the greenest of green kids. The idea was glimmering in his brain that through Peggy he could hold out to Fay. How or why he did not as yet know, but since they all were up here together they must be linked some way—maybe relatives—and if he was going to get Fay over this run-out spell he would have to play every card in his bag of tricks.

"That's swell, kid," he said at last. "In that line-up that Benny's got you'll stick out like green grass in a bunch of dried hay. He'll have to pull you out in your own act or fire you, and that's your funeral. Come on, let's go over that again."

Then Marie came in and Peggy paused. "Have you seen any of the others, Marie?" she asked.

Marie said that she thought she had seen them all going into the rockery.

Peggy stopped. A warning signal flashed in her brain. At home, whenever the family gathered in conference it meant trouble for someone.

"Wait for me, Baldy," she said, and slipped out of the room, through the kitchen and out of the back of the house.

PEGGY made her way cautiously to the back of the rockery which was screened from the house by bushes. Here she looked and listened. She ran back to the house a little later and grabbed a surprised Baldy by the arm.
