Big Guns Guard Our Ships On The Pacific

Strung out along the horizon, ships of an American convoy head for a southern battle zone across the war-infested Pacific under the protecting guns of a U. S. destroyer.

SEVASTOPOL IS BEING PRESSED IN NEW DRIVE

MOSCOW, Russia, June 10.—Plane-supported German troops, pressing forward over thousands of their own dead, stormed the approaches to Sevastopol fortress today, while sharp fighting flared in three other key sectors of the 1,800-mile Soviet front.

A dispatch to the Russian Red Army newspaper, Red Star, acknowledged that the situation at Sevastopol was becoming increasingly grave.

Heavy fighting also was reported on the Bryansk Front, midway between Moscow and Kharkov, in the Kalinin Area, northwest of Moscow and on the Northwestern Front between Leningrad and Lake Ilmen.

The Germans were reported to have sent hundreds of bombers and fighters, including dive bombers, against the Sevastopol Fortress defenses, in an effort to break the seven-month old siege.

German losses were reported to be terrific, with infantrymen advancing over piles of their own dead.

NEW METHOD IN OBTAINING SUGAR TO "CAN"

There have been some changes in the manner of rationing sugar for canning purposes, it is announced by Jack Frost, chairman of the Eastland County Rationing Board.

Previously persons desiring sugar for canning purposes were allowed five pounds per person for that purpose. This has been changed, however, and now one pound is allowed for each quart of fruits it is desired to can.

Chairman Frost pointed out that the following rules must be observed in obtaining sugar for canning purposes and warned that the regulations are very strict and penalties severe for violations.

Before you go to the Rationing Board to apply for sugar compile the following information which you will need:

- (1)—How much fruits did you can last year?
- (2)—How much of that fruit do you now have?
- (3)—How much fruit do you propose to can now?

Persons who secured canning sugar at the rate of five pounds per person must use it on the basis of one pound per four quarts of fruits.

It is necessary in order to save time that as few certificates as possible are allowed one person and for that reason it is necessary that you ascertain your needs and make one certificate cover your entire canning operations if possible.

Chairman Frost also pointed out that should any person for any reason fail to use for canning all the sugar allotted them for that purpose, they are required to report the amount left over and under no circumstances use it for any other purpose without proper authority. The penalty for violation of this regulation is heavy.

JAPS ADMIT NAVAL LOSS BUT CLAIM VICTORY IN ALEUTIAN ISLAND AREAS

GOVERNORS TO MEET TO TALK WAR PROGRAM

ASHEVILLE, N. C. (UP)—The nation's state governors, faced with the complex and confusing task of coordinating the widely varied war programs of the 48 states, will attempt to solve the problems at the 34th annual National Governors Conference here June 21-24.

A full day of the conference will be devoted to a round-table on "Progress of the War Effort" in which not only the entire roster of state chief executives but five federal officials most intimately connected with the war effort.

The five federal officials who have agreed to attend the round-table discussion are Donald Nelson, chairman of the war production board; Leon Henderson, price administrator; Jesse Jones, secretary of commerce; Robert Patterson, under secretary of war; and Paul V. McNutt, chairman of the war manpower commission.

At least 35 of the nation's 48 state executives are expected to attend the conference in person, and the others will send representatives.

In addition to the day-long round-table discussion, the governors will hear reports from their own membership on how war problems have been solved in individual states, and will hear addresses by three outstanding members of the foreign diplomatic corps in Washington.

Lord Halifax, British Ambassador to the United States, Dr. Hsi Shih, Chinese Ambassador, and Dr. A. Loudon, Netherlands Ambassador, are scheduled to address sessions of the conference.

Indications are that all domestic discussions and problems at the conference will be subordinated to consideration of war-time programs and measures.

Entertainment features for the visiting chief executives have not been neglected. Several trips to the Great Smoky Mountains National Park and the Cherokee Indian Reservation have been planned.

The conference sessions will be held in the Grove Park Inn, where Axis diplomats were interned at intervals.

The state executives, including Gov. Charles Harwood of the Virgin Islands, the only territorial representative, will gather at the Biltmore Estate for a buffet supper Sunday night, June 21. First formal session will be held Monday morning when Gov. Harold Stassen of Minnesota will set the conference theme with an address on "The States and the War Effort."

Monday afternoon the conference will hear four of its members discuss individual war problems. Gov. Herbert Lehman of New York will speak on "Organization and Administration of Civilian Defense." Gov. Prentice Cooper of Tennessee will discuss "Victory Home Food Supply Program for the Nation," and Gov. Dwight H. Green of Illinois will speak on "State Revenues in the Wartime Emergency." Gov. Murray D. Van Wagener of Michigan will discuss "Operating the Tool Shop of America."

The entire day Tuesday will be devoted to the round-table discussion of progress of the war effort. Before adjournment on Wednesday, the governors will hear Gov. Spessard L. Holland of Florida on "Guarding Strategic Areas," Gov. Henry F. Schriever of Indiana on "Agriculture's Contribution to Victory," Gov. Arthur B. Langlie of Washington on "Organization and Training of State Guards," and Gov. Julius F. Hall of Wisconsin on "Interstate Trade Barriers and the War Effort."

United Nations Planes Down 13 Japanese Planes in One Raid with Loss of Only Two of Own Planes and Down Eight, Possibly 10 Other in Another Raid.

Commissioner Not To Be Named Until After Nomination

AUSTIN, June 10—Gov. Coke Stevenson said today he will appoint no member of the State Railroad Commission to succeed Jerry Sadler until after a nomination for the office is made by the Democratic Party.

Stevenson announced that he then would appoint whomever is nominated. The appointment would serve the remainder of this term, which ends in January, 1943, and the new term would begin at that time, ending in 1945.

Japan officially admitted a part of her heavy naval losses in the Battle of Midway Island today, but sought to offset its first big naval defeat in history by reporting that Aleutian Island footholds had been seized near Dutch Harbor.

The communique, issued by the Japanese imperial headquarters, acknowledged the loss of an aircraft carrier and 35 planes, and damage to two other warships, while claiming that two American airplane carriers and 134 airplanes were destroyed.

Despite the week-late efforts of the Japanese to exaggerate the American losses and the claim their attack had frustrated any United States plans to bomb Tokyo from Dutch Harbor, the enemy statement served chiefly to emphasize the American success off Midway.

A United States Navy Department spokesman in Washington, denied any Japanese had landed on any of the inhabited islands of the Aleutians, and it was pointed out that if enemy forces should land on any outlying, desolate bits of Alaska's Atchafalpa, it would offer no real threat to the North American Mainland.

Reports from other fronts showed the following activity:

Farmers Petition For Price Ceiling

WACO, June 10—Farmers of more than 200 Texas counties were sending "petition letters" to the State office of the Texas Farm Bureau Federation today, urging retention of the present price ceilings on farm products.

China—Guerrillas and regulars press counter attacks upon the Japanese in the Nanchang, Ichang and Kiangsi areas in an effort to offset powerfully-reinforced enemy drives in Chkiang Province.

Anti-Sub Plan Forcing U-Boats Further To Sea

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 10—Members of a special Senate Committee, investigating the war program, said after a secret session with Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox that the Navy's anti-submarine campaign has succeeded in driving most of the U-boats away from the immediate coastal waters and was forcing them to operate about 50 miles out from shore.

Libya—British armored units reinforce Free French who may have turned the tide in the Libyan Desert warfare by smashing repeated enemy assaults on Bir Hacheim stronghold.

THE WEATHER

West Texas—Local thunder showers today and tonight, except on the lower coast. Little temperature change tonight.

Australia—Allied planes blast 13 Japanese fighter planes in one of the biggest aerial battles of the South-western Pacific, following strong attacks on the Japanese base at New Guinea. Eight and perhaps 10 enemy planes were shot down. (Continued on page 3)

Mowing Machine Is Durable
CLAREMONT, N. H. (UP)—S. L. Fontaine is sifting up his 29-year-old mowing machine for another season's work. The cutter, which has mowed an average of 100 acres of hay annually, should last another 10 years according to Fontaine.

FLYING SQUADRON FROM OPA OFFICE TO START JUNE 15

DALLAS (Sp)— Hoping to reach thousands of merchants who were most during previous tours, "flying squadrons" of price control specialists from the Southwestern OPA office launch simultaneous week-long speaking tours in East and West Texas Monday, June 15.

Two speakers, one representing the price division, the other the legal division, will discuss different phases of the price control program. Citing the impossibility of the task of visiting every city in the six-state region, OPA officials urged extensive attendance at meetings in cities on the itinerary.

The following West Texas cities will be visited: June 15, Vernon; June 16, Pampa; June 17, Plainview; June 18, Sweetwater; and June 19, Eastland.

Following is the East Texas itinerary: June 15, Mexia; June 16, Brenham; June 17, Port Arthur; June 18, Nacogdoches; and June 19, Gladewater.

All meetings are scheduled for 8 o'clock at night.

WOMEN TAKING PROMINENT PLACE IN ATHLETICS NOW

AUSTIN, Texas, June 10—Because so many men teachers have gone into military service or war industries, leaving even boy's physical training classes in the hands of women, the University of Texas this summer is offering a course in new physical education methods.

The course, taught by Miss Gertrude Moseley of the University's physical education staff, will be adapted to the problems the students themselves—who are largely physical education teachers from the Texas high schools—bring to class.

"Who knows?" she said. "We may before long be having football and basket ball coached by women."

I would not advise most women teachers to attempt to coach football, but with the exception of this sport, they could—by developing strong leadership among the boys themselves—handle instruction and coaching in other games. And the responsibility which would be placed upon the boys themselves would be a fine thing.

GYMNASTICS ARE COMING BACK IN UNIVERSITIES NOW

AUSTIN, Tex., June 10—Long banished from the educational scene, gymnastics are coming back.

Throughout the state colleges and high schools are placing a fresh emphasis on gymnastics as a basic part of their physical education and physical educational programs, Miss Gertrude Moseley, University of Texas physical education instructor, points out.

The advantages of calisthenics over sports, she explained, are (1) that you can condition a large number of students in small practice space and in a short time, (2) you can increase the stiffness of the work-out as the students progress, and (3) you can devise exercises which will bring into play every muscle in the body.

She did not advocate replacing team sports and games of skill with gymnastics, but suggested supplementing them with formal calisthenics.

Dr. Brazda Leaves For Army Service

Dr. A. W. Brazda, who has enlisted in the United States Army Medical Corps, has left for Chico, Cal., where he will be attached to the Chico Air Corps training station.

Mrs. Brazda and the two children will remain in Ranger until the end of the war, at which time Dr. Brazda expects to return to resume his medical practice.

LABOR VIOLENCE LAW HELD VALID

AUSTIN (UP)—The Texas Court of Criminal Appeals was sustained in its holding that the Texas law against violence in labor disputes is valid when the U. S. Supreme Court declined to review the opinion.

The ruling in Texas was in an opinion written by Commissioner Charles Kreuger and adopted by the court.

Two other cases decided by the Texas court were reversed. One was an indictment of a negro by a Dallas county grand jury that was composed entirely of white men. The Texas court had held this was insufficient to void the indictment because there were no affirmative showing that there were negroes eligible.

In the other case a negro had been given a three year sentence for strangling a white man. Commissioner Lloyd Davidson had written a Texas opinion reversing the case on the ground that the negro had not had due process of law, but on a rehearing in the Texas court, the majority of the court affirmed the case. Judge T. L. Baughman dissented, agreeing with Davidson's opinion.

Seal Adopts Men In Army, Won't Leave Them Now

SANTA BARBARA, Cal. (UP)—A young seal, accompanied by its mother, swam the Santa Barbara channel from Santa Cruz Island and attached itself to an army group here.

It attached itself especially to Pvt. Mike Milobar and Martin Collins. They have repeatedly thrown it back into the sea, but it invariably comes back to them.

They have named it Oscar and all it does is to demand about 50 baths a day, administered by sousing it with buckets of water, which it enjoys vociferously.

Grim Facts

Let no amount of wishful thinking deceive you. Next only to shipping, the rubber shortage is the most tragic bottleneck facing this nation today.

In one respect, the rubber situation is even grimmer than the maritime. We are on the way to solving our shortage of ships. If we have not quite turned the corner, we are about to, but the alarming deficiency in rubber remains a major problem.

Our vaunted industrial capacity depends, more than the layman realizes even yet, upon use of the automobile, which in turn hinges upon rubber for tires.

Take away our tires, immobilize our automobiles and we bring creeping paralysis upon the marvelous plant which we have builded and converted to supply the anti-Hitler world with armament and munitions.

Rubber is utterly essential to the task remaining before us of destroying the ability of totalitarianism to attack democracy.

Yet 97 per cent of the rubber we use came from Malaya and the Dutch East Indies, seized by Japan. We raise, at home hardly enough of the gum to make a month's supply of hot water bottles.

The American people stubbornly resist these brutal facts, and grab at every item of false hope they can find.

Such items are unfortunately common. There are literally scores of potential sources of rubber right at home. Day after day enthusiasts report that they can extract rubber from some hitherto unpublicized source.

Sure they can. Anything that can be fermented to make alcohol is a potential source of rubber.

But that is incompetent, immaterial and irrelevant, to use our favorite legal objection. Petroleum, of which we have relatively unlimited supplies, will produce synthetic rubber better, quicker, more cheaply than the alcohol-producing plants. There is no problem there.

The difficulty is one of plant. Presently we are making synthetic rubber at the rate of 40,000 tons a year. By a supreme effort, the capacity of existing plants can be tripled to produce 120,000 tons a year. The Army will gobble that up and still be starved.

We have 455,000 tons in the stockpile. This can be raised to almost 600,000 tons by dilution with reclaimed used rubber. That still is less than a year's consumption.

We can and will construct plants to make more synthetic but every such plant diverts steel, manpower, and other items needed to build the immediate implements of war.

Let's get wise to the facts of life. When we wear out our present tires, we will stop using our cars. We have all there is. There won't be any more for a long time, for civilians.

We Don't Want To Be Over-Optimistic

American Mothers "Can Take It" Is Observation Of War Department

By JOSEPH L. MYLER United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, June 9—American mothers "can take it." That's what they say these days at the war department's "women's interest section."

Since Pearl Harbor the WIS, headed by Mrs. Emily Newell Blair, has had to revise its approach to the mothers of fighting men.

Before the war, when the country was trying to get used to conscription, the Women's Interest Section spent much of its time assuring mothers that their boys in camp were receiving good treatment, plenty of vitamins, and ample recreational and religious opportunities.

"Since Pearl Harbor, however, everything has changed," a spokeswoman of the section said today. "Mothers no longer need to be soothed. They have what it takes to win a war."

Mothers still address a lot of questions to the WIS but the gist of most of them is, "what can I do to help?"

do to help?"

"All over the country," the spokeswoman said, "mothers have organized to do things for soldiers in camps—such things as mending their socks, having them out for Sunday dinner, providing furniture for 'day rooms.'"

"These mothers more often than not aren't working for their own sakes, who may be in camps hundreds or thousands of miles away, but for other women's sakes."

The WIS used to send out pretty booklets filled with reassuring details of camp life. Addressed to mothers, the booklets devoted considerable space to sprightly accounts of what soldiers-in-training were doing, eating, wearing and thinking. Such booklets are no longer being published.

The WIS has broadened its activities. Its speakers address wives of war workers, it sends information to women interested in getting war jobs, it distributes by printed word and the radio nutritional data, including "master menus," which war department experts have compiled for the armed forces.

The WIS is proud of the women who have gone to work in war industries. Pointing to a poster of an attractive girl in coveralls beside a huge drill press, the spokeswoman said: "We could reproduce her 50,000 times."

Reminded that the topic under discussion was mothers, she replied: "Well—she's a potential mother."

Texas Athletes Enter Air Corps

Buses of the Bureau Boys Beat the Bans By Use of Officials' Cars—Tires and All

BY PETER EDSON NEA Service Washington Correspondent

NOBODY paid much attention to the blast which Senator Harry Flood Byrd of Berryville, Va., loosed the other day against the 18,948 government automobiles which the non-military federal agencies operate traveling 211,866,978 miles at a cost in 1941 to the taxpayers of $4,813,561. Nor were there very many eyebrows raised when the senator disclosed that these bureaucrats had to get along with only 862 chauffeurs whose combined salary amounted to less than a million dollars.

Edson

Maybe all this is chicken feed and maybe the great men of the administrative end of your government shouldn't be annoyed by trifles, but the folks back home seemed a trifle annoyed by the handout of X gasoline ration cards to congressmen. That being the case, maybe it should be called to the attention of the public servants in the executive end of the government that there's a war on, that gasoline is being rationed on the Atlantic seaboard, that there's a rubber shortage, and that to have rubber, gasoline may have to be rationed all over this broad and beautiful land.

Consequently, Senator Byrd was doing a useful service when, as chairman of the Joint Committee on Reduction of Nonessential Expenditures, he figuratively put the pinching shoe of national economy on Uncle Sam's other foot and cautioned the old gent to take that foot off the accelerator.

Of course the government is big, of course it has a lot of extra wartime duties, and of course $5 million for car operation is nothing at all when compared to the billions for war. Five million is even practically nothing at all when compared to the $147 million total travel expenses which government paid out last fiscal year. But this matter of saving gas and rubber has become a symbol.

SAVING rubber is a holy crusade with all the significance of the widow's mite. Therefore, it behooves every government third deputy assistant co-ordinator, before stepping into one of Uncle Sam's jalopies, to raise his right hand and swear by St. Christopher and Harold Ickes that this trip he is about to make is absolutely necessary. The image of 18,948 government-owned cars roaming the country roads on unlimited X ration cards contributes nothing to the peace of mind of the average taxpayer, or the fellow trying to get along on three gallons a week.

The point of this little homily is that an executive assistant section chief is no better than a congressman and if you're again to raise Cain with your representa-

SERIAL STORY CARIBBEAN CRISIS

BY EATON K. GOLDTHWAITE

THE STORY—Four visitors arrive at a Dubuo West Indian island to complete the life of Bill Talcott, who is finishing six years there as branch manager for an American chemical firm. They are Halsey, Bill's successor; an auditor, who immediately accuses Bill of a large shortage in his accounts; MacDowell, a detective brought to take Bill back to the States if any irregularity were found; and June Paterson, beautiful cousin of Bill's former roommate. At dawn two more visitors arrive, demitted by a smuggling shipper after a fight in which MacDowell is wounded and Halsey coats the shipper.

EVE OF DEPARTURE

INEXPLICABLE as Bill Talcott's actions might have seemed to June Paterson, they were the direct and simple result of a combination of circumstances which, in the space of half a day, had changed the course of his life.

For link by link about him was being woven a chain. Twist and struggle as he might, the thing only bit deeper into his flesh, throttled his spirit, threatened not alone his freedom of movement but his mental balance as well.

It is true that in questioning Halsey's orders and resenting his presence he had acted with ill grace, scarcely in the manner of one upon whom responsibility had rested for six long years. But therein, where lay his greatest strength, was also his greatest weakness. Believe as he might that he wanted to be clear of Abas Island, wanted to put behind him its small and filthy and oppressive heat, one uncompromising fact remained.

For six however long and lonely years they might have been, Bill Talcott had been monarch of a tiny kingdom. His subjects were half-thousand natives; his chancellor Sebastian. That he had ruled fairly and justly, that he had acquitted his responsibility with honor and measurable success was no longer a matter of moment. He was being demitted, kicked out; it was not an admission. For him there were no bonuses, no poet laureate to sing his praises. He was being forced out under suspicion. Manufactured out of whole cloth though they might be, the circumstances were intended to ruin him.

Halsey was so coward and he was so dead. He had shown that clearly enough in handling the rubber situation. He had done so well that already black Thomas and Sebastian were looking upon him as a kind of super being; even June Paterson's eyes became starry as she gazed the rangy, lantern-jawed new manager. What were Halsey's private thoughts about the guilt or innocence of Bill Talcott? Halsey was a Federal Chemical man. His life was routine, his blood was business. To him Plant Number Six was just a job, Bill Talcott just a plant manager being relieved. Bill Talcott knew, as surely as he knew that there were sharks in Anegada Passage, that loss of his head would bring the end. His personal feelings must not control him; whatever cause he might have to suspect Halsey of intrigue, however much he might resent the new man's calm efficiency in supplanting him, he must fight to keep his mind clear so that his powers of observation would not be dulled. For Talcott had come to realize that only by ceaseless watchfulness could he be sure.

BILL TALCOTT suddenly chuckled. No matter how badly off he might be, he was in better shape than MacDowell. "Welcome to Abas," he chuckled aloud, and June Paterson, turning at his words, stared coldly.

Over a hastily assembled breakfast, the newest arrivals relaxed somewhat. First audience by any right belonged to the woman, and after having reiterated that she was Martha Swenson, she told of her escape from Norway. "Through Sweden, where I have friends, I went to Murmansk," Martha Swenson said in her throaty, disturbing voice with its trace of accent. "From Murmansk to Moscow and then along the route to Vladivostok I rode the Trans-Siberian railway to Tokyo. I sold my camera in Tokyo, it was a good price, with part of the money I took passage on a freighter to the Panama Canal. It was in Colon that the Captain Jackson offered to take me to Puerto Rico where I could get a boat for New York. I wanted to go to New York because I have people there."

As her voice died silence came out of the rocky barrenness of the island and settled on the terrace. It was as if the lesser beings in their flight for existence recognized and paid silent tribute to one of their number.

June Paterson's sharply indrawn breath broke the spell. "You poor dear! You must forget all that now. If you like you may travel home with me. I'll be leaving Saint Thomas Monday on the 'Blue Petrel' and I'm sure arrangements can be made."

PROFESSOR CONSTANTINE had surrounded himself with an imposing array of bottles, and already a strange assortment of pills of various colors and shapes had been chased down his throat with several glasses of water. "It's an outrage!" the old man in the top-large clothing muttered. "That Jackson— What he did to me—I'm not well—I was in Martinique, gathering anthropological data for my studies— You know, the Martiniquian is most interesting. Different background completely—came from a different section of Africa. These island blacks, you know, are all descended from slaves. Still practice voodoo— Where was I?"

"You were in Martinique," Bill Talcott said drily. The professor held the bow of his glasses, peering through the lenses at Bill Talcott as if inspecting a new and interesting specimen. "Hm— Of course," he murmured. "This man Jackson brought in some four from Panama, and said he was going to Puerto Rico. Since it's— ah— rather difficult at the present time to get around the islands I accepted his offer of transportation. But I certainly didn't expect to be dumped at dawn in the midst of a lot of shooting! Is this town Fajardo?"

"Sincerely, You're still a good hundred and fifty miles from Puerto Rico. This is Abas Island. We'll see that you get to Saint Thomas. Under the circumstances it will be impossible for you to remain here."

"Abas! I don't want to remain here. There's no anthropology here. Whatever natives you have are imports from the other islands. That huge man on the pier, for example—probably an Amdia. Interesting type but unreliable." And the Professor lapsed to grumblings.

"Can't say as I blame you," June Paterson put in tartly. "I'm not any too fond of this place myself."

Halsey handed her a cigarette. "I understand there's a supply boat due tomorrow," he said. "We'll see that you're safely delivered. We've all been— He broke off, turned to look at Struthers who was rapidly approaching along the path.

The auditor appeared not to have slept. His eyes were bloodshot and sweat beaded on his puffed face. Struthers on his case, avoiding Bill Talcott, to stop by Halsey's chair. "If you can beg leave of your guests I'd like to complete our business," he said, and pausing, added in a significant tone, "before you return to New York."

FRENCH WINE IS BEING DISTILLED FOR GAS TANKS

By RALPH HEINZEN
 United Press Staff Correspondent
VICHY — (UP) — The finest French wines have been distilled into motor fuel to help the Axis war effort.
 Entire trainloads of red and white wines, cognac, armagnac, champagne and sparkling wines head eastward almost every day across Alsace and Lorraine into Germany.
 Germany has pumped France dry of wine so that tanks and motor transports can keep running despite the lack of gasoline. Every Frenchman now is rationed to one quart of wine a week. In normal times he drank a quart to quench his thirst.

At the peak of the eastward flow of wine, more than 100 trains were sent to Germany within a week. They carried the choicest old stocks. Green, tasteless new wine is just as good as the rare old vintages for distilling for fuel. Some of the finest wines of Bordeaux and Burgundy were dumped into tankers along with cognac and green wines in a gigantic cocktail headed for the German distilleries.

Fire Prevention Courses Lead To A Rate Reduction

AUSTIN — Eighteen Texas towns got a reduction in fire insurance premiums effective June 1, merely because fire prevention courses have been established in the public schools. The reduction was five cents on each $100 of insurance, so it total quite an amount in a community.
 The reduction applies only to rural areas. In the larger cities credit for fire prevention courses is handled another way.
