Zip Your Lip

The lives of relatives, friends, neighbors - even of stranger Americans one never has met-make up too high a price to pay for the pleasure of gossiping.

Loose talk may continue for weeks without the slightest concrete damage. Then a bit of gossip, no more important seeming and just as innocently meant, may give the Germans or the Japs a tipoff that can result in the sinking of a ship, the death of brave men, the defeat of an important military or naval venture.

All of us know this. We intend to be discreet. But we love, most of us, to seem important. We dote on knowing inside stuff, and proving that we know, by telling it. Usually we stop to consider who it is to whom we are telling our supposed war secrets. But often we haven't the slightest idea who may be listening in.

In California, whose citizenry has been more danger conscious from the beginning than are the residents of most areas, the Monterey Peninsula folk have done an outstandingly good job at controlling this sort of dangerous gossip

Their slogan, apt if not genteel, is Zip Your Lip. An NEA Service article told how the campaign, brain child of the Fort Ord public relations officer, was inspired because soldiers in their casual gossiping downtown were keeping the entire peninsula informed about everything that happened at the fort.

Newspapers, civic groups, radio stations, chambers of commerce, the mayors of Monterey and Salinas, telephone and telegraph companies co-operated.

As a result of this co-ordinated community effort, a complete stranger no longer can drop into Monterey or Salinas, keep his ears open, perhaps buy a drink and ask a comradely question and go away with all the information he wants about troop movements into and out of Fort Ord.

"Spilling inside dope" has ceased to be the mark of a "big shot." Instead of creating admiration for the talker's; "pipelines," gossip on the Monterey Peninsula has become very bad form, an indication of ignorance or dangerous ex-

It Looks As Though Red Tape Would Be Cut To Put Those Goldbacks Back in Circulation

BY PETER EDSON NEA Service Washington Correspondent

THERE'S a move on now to get back into general circulation some $4 billion worth of gold certificates-meaning folding mone; of various important denominations—bills which have been stored in those mysterious U. S. Treasury vaults ever since 1934, when the country went off the gold standard and all those beautiful yellow bank notes were called in.

These $4 billion worth of masterpieces of the engravers' art are of the new, small series of 1928 size—not the old bedspread or tarpaulin size that adorned pocketbooks in the last war. Furthermore, this $4 billion worth of the short yellow is all brand-new spending money of the crispy, crunchy kind that crackles and snaps like a boot-black's shine rag playing a tune over new byogans. black's shine rag playing a tune over new brogans.

This neat government hoard of the root of all evil represents a reserve stock that was printed up back in the days when such currency still was legal tender and spendable paper of the realm.

The move to get this money back into circulation represents no deep dark inflationary plot. The alarmist fear that the printing presses might be started to reduce some of the public debt hasn't been realized yet. The idea is simply a sign that in an emergency it's possible to cut through red tape and use common sense, like this:

As business expands and national income goes up, there is an in-

As business expands and national income goes up, there is an increasing demand for more money in circulation. This $4 billion reserves supply of gold obtes represents a $2 million printing job, taking into account the cost of paper, ink, nylon and time on the presses. All these materials are now scared to be sufficient to take care of the war desands would cost another, $2 million or so. The logical conclusion would be to bring these old gold certificates out of the safe and put them to work.

One obstacle to this plan which has apparently been overcome concerns a literal translation of the language printed on these gold notes. On each bill it says, "Redeemable in gold," meaning that if you wanted to get tough, you could shove one of these through the bank teller's window and demand gold coins for it. Of course there aren't any gold coins in circulation and there can't be as long as the country is off the gold standard, unless the law is changed.

At first it looked as though these cold storage gold notes couldn't be used unless they were run through he printing presses again, and that "Redeemable in gold you couldn't circu'ste gold coinage, it incided and silver into use.

since the law of 1934 said you with it, so as to get the copper couldn't circutate gold coinage, it nickel and silver into use.

"Is Miss Carole Fiske in?" he asked, fairly holding his breath for the answer. "In what way?"

The dean showed the investigator a number of photographs. Le-moy Statler was undoubtedly Dar-here."

"Now here's the story about O'Meara, a kindly-mannered "Ju Who?"

CHAPTER V

A T LaGuardia airport in New York, a cable caught up with Clyde Dawson just as he was boarding an evening plane for Chicago. It was from the chief of police at St. John's and read:

"Body of man executed here December six found by cemetery caretaker to have been mutilated in vault STOP Right hand missing the son. "This month, in two weeks time. But we had no report from Darwin Lemoy. The publicity committee tried to locate him, but all letters came back stamped with 'No Such Person at This committee tried to locate him, but all letters came back stamped with 'No Such Person at This weekly cash award."

Address. Perhaps you can give me some idea about what happened . "I'm sofry," replied Dawson concealed his eagarness. "If she won a cash award that quietly. "I capacit like Dawson means your careas award that guietly. "I capacit like Dawson means your careas award that guietly."

e available for this reunion." O'Meara was already on the The dean dismissed the matter phone. "I'll have it in a jiffy—if "The only other information I huh?"

you get any news, give me a call, huh?"

The dark woman glared at him

THE dean of State University received Dawson the next afternoon and got to the point immediately.

"Now here's the state of the state of the state of the point immediately.

"Now here's the state of t

"Now here's the story about Darwin Lemoy."
"Darwin Lemoy, the man whose picture was sent to me by your department at Ottawa."
So that was it, mused Dawson. Lemoy Statler's real name was Darwin Lemoy, "Well, Lemoy was one of the university's all-time, all-round athletic stars. He was partic larly able in hockey.."
"Baseball too, perhaps?"
"Oh yes, baseball too. He captained a championship diamond tained a championship diamond to the family in town on business I thought you, as his most loyal in the parior."

Thanking her, Dawson entered. Abruptly Dawson tensed as he saw a framed photograph on the fireplace ledge. It was that of an American soldier—a sharp-faced man of about 28. There was no mist aking him—remembering faces was Dawson's forte,
"Just a minute, for a friend of Darwin Lemoy's," he boomed at American soldier—a sharp-faced man of about 28. There was no mist aking him—remembering faces was Dawson's forte,
"Just a minute, Mr. O'Meara,"
"Just a minute, of indication of the family in town on business I thought you, as his most loyal historian, might be able to give historian."
