Don't Throw It Away

The people of the nation, down to the last forgotten man are being drafted for a war job to which every individual can contribute.

Beginning July 13, we all are asked to help with a renewed, expanded and intensified salvage campaign, designed to help make up deficiencies in raw materials.

There is nothing spectacular in the contribution we are asked to make thus to the war program; nothing danger ous; nothing arduous. In fact, there is nothing verging upon the sacrificial.

All the government asks is that we pick up things we do not use and do not need, but which war industry does need, and turn them over so they can be made into weapons and munitions for the use of our fathers or sons, our brothers or cousins or neighbors on the fighting fronts against Hitler and Hirohito.

Unlike some previous civilian war enterprises, this one is clean cut and crystal clear. Operating details may differ from city to city and town to town, but there is no question about what is wanted-or why.

Tin is needed, because our normal sources of tin have been cut off. Therefore residents in 36 selected communities are asked to save their tin cans, clean them and remove paper, cut off tops and bottoms, flatten them out, and leave them for the tin can collectors.

From these cans the tin will be removed. The drive is limited to 36 centers decause elsewhere there are no facilities for detinning the cans. The remaining steel, making up the bulk of the cans, will go into the steel scrap pile for re-use.

Scrap steel is needed, because without that we can not operate our vital steel-making plant to capacity and produce the maximum of metal for ships, tanks, guns, planes.

Rubber is needed for reclamation, to stretch the inadequate stockpile of virgin gum, both for direct military use and to help get war workers to and from their jobs.

Fats and greases are needed to stimulate production of glycerine, which in turn will be made into explosives, Housewifes are asked to save kitchen fats and sell them to local meat dealers, who will send them back through trade channels until, transformed, they get to Germany and Japan.

This salvage drive isn't a temporary, one-week spurt, says Lessing Rosenwald, its director, any more than this is a one-week or one-month war.

It's something to be kept up day after day, week after week. But that doesn't mean it's something to be put off until tomorrow or next week.

The quicker our soldiers and sailors get armaments us and the more of them we'll get back.

Read These New Government Regulations Limiting Extensions of Utility Service

In order to conserve materials for the war effort, the government, through the War Production Board, has issued new rules regarding service extensions by public utilities, effective June 23 and expiring September 30, 1942.

Under these new WPB regulations, we will not be permitted to build extensions to our distribution system to serve customers, except under the following conditions:

(1) The extension must not exceed 250 feet in length. (Including service line from distribution system to building to be served.)

(2) Building to be served must have been piped or wired ready to receive service prior to July 1, 1942.

(3) In case of new construction, foundation under main part of building must have been completed prior to July 1. 1942.

(4) Cost of material for extension must not exceed $1,500 for underground jobs or $500 for overhead extensions.

defense extensions. In case of new consumer building projects bearing a preference rating of A-5 or better, we are permitted to use such rating in placing orders for material necessary to serve such projects without prior approval from the War Production Board, although this does not guntantee that the material will be immediately available.

The above regulations apply only to ordinary non-

SIMPLE ARITHMETIC THE MORE PEOPLE SEE YOUR AD THE MORE RESULTS YOU'LL CET

Place your ad in the newspaper that goes into the homes of Ranger and you will be sure of a large reader group and big results. These results are based on the fa t that your ad in the Ranger Times is not only seen by a large group of readers, but is accepted by them. Plan a Summer advertising campaign in the Telegram and watch the business roll in.

One plus one equal two. The formula for successful advertising is simple: a large reader group plus reader acceptance equals more results. Let us put this formula to work for you.

Slowly he maneuvered for position, lifting his bound legs and propping them against the high rough edge. Muttering a silent prayer that the packing case wouldn't move with the weight of his legs, he drew them up and down so that the rope binding his ankles scraped on the edge. Until he got the use of his legs he couldn't stand up to free his hands the same way.

It was a long, tedious jobnours it seemed—while the gray light changed to bright sunlight. Frequently he felt his head swimming, but Dawson continued scraping. It had to be done easily lest the made it, panting for breath.

Livestock Pest Control Is To Be Taught Friday

Announcement has been made to be held at the Eppier Lake located on the Barton Eppler place, 17th, beginning at 10:00 a. m. of being a back seat driver.

Included in the demonstration will be the dipping of goats for the control of lice, Roteone-Sulphur will be used in charging the vat. This dipping material is recommended highly by livestock specialist of the Extension Service. It will not burn, is not poisonus, kills, in addition to the red and blue lice, the short-nosed ox louse, and is economical.

If some one who has a case of screw worms among their livestock on the day the demonstration is to be held will bring the animal to the demonstration the use of a screw worm smear, U. S. Formula No. 62, for killing screw worms and protecting the wound will be demonstrated. This is the latest screw worm medicine developed by the Senora Experiment

The Regional Office of the War

WE THANK YOU

Naturally we are proud of our boys in the service, of the job we are doing, and prouder still to be a vital part of America's great transportation system. We are also proud of the way you are co-operating with us in making our civilian transportation efforts less difficult. Your patience and understanding of these problems are aiding us immensely in our war effort.

Today, Uncle Sam comes first.... Troop trains that transport our fine boys to their own particular jobs, and important freight shipments consisting of raw materials and finished products, that constantly glide across the country for our fighting forces, naturally come first and we know that is the way you want it.
