NEW YORK—Branch Rickey should insert the word "professional" when he expresses the opinion that if the war lasts three more years, he doesn't see how baseball can survive.

What the new head of the Brooklyn means to say is that the war continues for that length of time, professional baseball will have to fold up until the last shot has been fired.

Rickey sees lack of manpower as professional baseball's greatest danger.

That is as it should be. There are vastly more important jobs to be done than playing baseball.

There is a report that Brooklyn scouts may be sent in search of competent farmers and cowhands.

After all, baseball has been around for more than 100 years.

Baseball will emerge from the war healthier than ever.

Professional baseball would be wise to go easy. It might be best to call the whole thing off until victory is achieved.

But a long war would not mean the end of baseball. It would be played behind the lines and by service teams, war workers and boys too young to be in uniform.

BEGINNING today, fresh apples are on the Victory Food Special list. In price they will be reasonable in relation to the price of other foods, because they are particularly abundant now.

The more important commercial varieties of apples at the present time are the Wealthy in New York and the New England tart. These are noted for their out-of-hand eating and salad use qualities. The Wealthy is a cooking apple also.

In the other states east of the Mississippi, the Grimes Golden and Jonathan are fine for out-of-hand eating, salads, and cooking. East of the Mississippi, the main commercial variety is the Jonathan, for fresh eating, salad, and cooking.

A favorite use for fresh apples is in turnovers, hot and crispy. Use your favorite biscuit recipe.

Prepared biscuit mix. Roll out the dough and cut in large rounds. On one half of the round, lay thinly sliced apples and sprinkle with mixture of sugar, cinnamon and a little salt. Dot with butter or margarine. Fold over the other half of biscuit and, moisten edges and pinch together, with tines of a fork, and tuck the dough to allow steam to escape. Bake in moderately hot oven (400 deg. F.) for about 20 minutes. Serve as is, or with cream or hard sauce.

TOMORROW'S MENU

BREAKFAST: Sliced peaches, corn bread, bacon, syrup, coffee, milk.

LUNCHEON: Potato soup, hard enriched rolls, cabbage and apple salad with sour cream dressing, peanut cookies, tea, milk.

DINNER: Braised beef heart, mashed potatoes, buttered lima beans, green salad, apple turnovers and cream, coffee, milk.

COLLEGE STATION, Tex.—All farmers engaged in cotton production in 1942 are eligible to vote in the cotton marketing quota referendum Saturday, December 12.

Not only are they eligible, but they are urged to participate in the balloting which will decide the course of cotton during 1943, Fred Rennels, assistant AAA administrative officer, declared.

If two-thirds of the farmers voting in Saturday's referendum, favor quotas, then they will be in effect in the 1943 crop, but Rennels pointed out that for the vote to be truly representative of grower opinion, a large vote is necessary.

AAA regulations provide that

IN all the screaming about doctor shortages here and there since the war got going, a lot of the hypochondriacs who threw tantrums and tears into their telephones if the doc didn't dash right over have completely forgotten what the medical situation in the country was in peace times.

In the dear, dim days beyond recall, when depression stalked the land, the continental United States had in active practice one doctor for every 3,000 inhabitants, on the average. It varied all the way from one doctor for every 500 inhabitants in the District of Columbia and one doctor for every 436 in New York state to one doctor for every 3,020 in Alabama and Mississippi.

But the national average was one doctor to every 1,000 men, women and children, more than in any other country in the world, and no one complained except the social workers who thought there should be more doctors to take care of all the rural people who weren't getting adequate medical care.

During the depression a lot of people were going without doctors because they didn't have the money to pay the bills. Now that they have more money, many are catching up.

Now take a census of the doctors. Top estimates place the number at 179,000. Thirteen thousand of them have to be checked off as whereabouts unknown or relieved from practice, but the remaining 166,000 are registered with the Procurement and Assignment Service of the War Manpower Commission.

Of the 166,000, some 18,000 are considered too old for practice—physicians over 65. By age groups, they will divide like this:

Under 35 years 42,000
Between 35 and 44 42,000
Between 45 and 54 32,000
Between 55 and 65 32,000

For active duty, the Army and Navy want the doctors under 35. But 42,000 won't fill the quota for the services, so they must reach into the second age group to get the most active men who are under 45. By the end of this year, the Armed Services will have commissioned 45,000 doctors, including 20,000 internes right out of the hospitals who have never practiced privately a day in their lives. For 1942, the services have been told they can have 10,000 more doctors.

Knock this $5,000 off of the 146,000 available and you have left 141,000 doctors who must take all farmers who were engaged in the production of cotton in 1942 as owner-operator, cash tenant, standing-rent or fixed-rent tenant, or landlord of a share tenant, or as share tenant or sharecropper are eligible to vote, except that farmers who produce only cotton with a staple length of one and one-half inches or more in length are not eligible. Such cotton is not subject to quotas.

Rennels emphasized that the referendum would not affect the 1943 crop, and he pointed out that if quotas are rejected then no government loan can be offered on the 1943 crop. According to law, loans at 90 per cent of parity will be offered if necessary to support the price of cotton.

Rent Control Charges Filed

DALLAS, Tex.—With the announcement that 2 complaints alleging price and rent control and rationing violations have been filed within the past two weeks in the Dallas Office of Price Administrator, Regional Administrator Max McCullough stated today that OPA's enforcement program was now getting into full swing in Texas, Oklahoma, Missouri, Arkansas, Louisiana and Kansas.

Regional OPA attorneys filed complaints Monday in the United States district court for the Southern District of Louisiana charging five leading New Orleans hotels with violating maximum rent regulations. The New Orleans, Roosevelt, St. Charles, DeSoto, and Jung Hotels were alleged to have charged rates in excess of the legal maximum rent and to have filed incomplete and inaccurate registration statements with the area rent office. Hearing on OPA's motion for a preliminary injunction has been set for December 28.

McCullough declared that similar action against other hotels in this region was contemplated shortly.

THE holiday season always means bright orange tangerines. And grapefruit always means vitamin C for the family. Both these favorite fruits are now the Victory Special at your fruit stores. Use them frequently in the menus. They are cheap and abundant now.

Tangerine Salad
Cream cottage cheese with grated onion, Worcestershire sauce, salt and pepper. Form into balls. Place each ball in center of leaf of chervil on individual salad plates; garnish with grape halves into cheese. Peel tangerines; separate sections. Remove membranes. Arrange tangerine sections in a double ring around cottage cheese. Serve with French dressing to which a little grated tangerine rind has been added.

Christmas Fruit Cup
Carefully peel tangerines, keeping sections together. Place each tangerine on an individual plate partially separate tangerine sections at top, forming open petals. Fill center with mixture of very finely chopped raw cranberries and celery.

For the holiday parties for the boys home for the Christmas leave, try this beautiful salad.
Grapefruit Mint Cup
Prepare grapefruit sections, chill. Arrange sections in individual sherbet glasses. Crust "after dinner mints" into fruit sections and sprinkle generous over grapefruit. Let stand before serving. Garnish with fresh green mint.

TOMORROW'S MENU
BREAKFAST: Grapefruit juice, fried corn meal mush, syrup, toast, coffee, milk.
LUNCHEON: Toasted peanut butter sandwiches, chopped egg and mayonnaise sandwiches, cabbage salad, cookies, tea, milk.
DINNER: Christmas fruit cup, fried fillet of sole, Tartar sauce, parsley boiled potatoes, buttered beets, green salad, pumpkin pie, cheese, coffee, milk.

MONTGOMERY WARDS SECOND STATEMENT TO NATIONAL WAR LABOR BOARD

The Following Statement Was Submitted to the National War Labor Board at its Meeting in Washington on December 8, 1942:

The War Labor Board on November 5, 1942, issued an order that Wards "incorporate" in a contract with a C. I. O. union at Chicago:

1. A clause establishing a form of the closed shop, called "Maintenance of Membership", together with a checkoff of union dues from wages.
2. A clause providing for compulsory arbitration on any question the union wishes to raise.
3. A clause guaranteeing in these uncertain times present ways and working conditions for a year.

Wards rejected this order of the board for these reasons:

1. The Board is without authority. Congress, the only law-making authority under the Constitution, has not empowered the board to order any employer to do any of the things which the board demanded of Wards.
2. The order violated the fundamental principles of liberty. Liberty requires that an employe be free to join or to resign from a union without jeopardizing his livelihood. Liberty requires that an employer be free to employ the person best suited for the work.
3. The order was in itself illegal. The order required Wards, first, to interfere with the free choice of its employes to resign from the union; second, to give support to the union for a checkoff of union dues; and third, to discriminate against employes if they resigned their membership in the union, all in direct violation of the National Labor Relations Act.

4. Wards operates in a highly competitive field composed of one million seven hundred fifty thousand retail establishments. It is unfair to impose burdens upon Wards and not upon those with whom it is competition.

The imposition of the closed shop against Wards cannot be justified by reference to the so-called not strike agreement. Wards was not a party to this agreement. Wards had no voice in the selection of those who, as representatives of industry, attended the conference in December, 1941, which formulated this agreement. Wards has never ratified the results of that conference.

Furthermore, the conference itself did not agree that the War Labor Board might impose the closed shop principle. Those acting as representatives of industry expressly recommended to the president that this issue not be considered by the Board. The Board, in ordering a form of closed shop at Wards, has acted contrary to those expressed recommendations of the industry representatives.

If Wards had had the right to test the legality of the Board's demands in a court, Wards would have done so. But Wards was deprived of a remedy in the courts by the Board's complete lack of legal authority to compel obedience of its order. The court will only act when legal rights have been violated. The courts have declared that the mere making of demands which do not have to be obeyed does not, in the eyes of the law, violate any legal right. The Board's very lack of authority thus resulted in denial to Wards, as it has to the employers, of a right to relief in the courts.

The President of the United States, as well as the Board is wholly without constitutional authority to order any employer to do things demanded of Wards.

Nevertheless, in deep respect for the President and his great responsibility in time of war, Wards, in rejecting the Board's order, "If Congress imposes closed shops as compulsory arbitration or contract for a year's duration on employers, or if the President of the United States, as Commander-in-Chief in time of war, directs that Wards accept the Board's ruling, which we earnestly believe are illegal and unconstitutional, we will respectfully obey. For the President, on November 18, wrote the company, saying:

"As Commander-in-Chief in time of war . . . I . . . direct Montgomery Ward and Company to comply, without further delay, with the National War Labor Board's directive order of November 5, 1942."

Wards immediately answered: "Your order of November 18th has been received and will be promptly obeyed."

Wards thereupon altered the general form of its contract with unions and incorporated, word for word, the clause ordered by the War Labor Board. This document was offered the union. The company has fully complied with the President's direction and will continue to do so.

The document which the President has directed Wards to sign is not a contract. The requisite of a contract is that there be a meeting of and agreement between the parties. There has been no agreement between Wards and the union. The document which the president has ordered Wards to sign affects the rights and liberties of Wards and of its employes. Therefore, in order that the document itself may be clear and state the facts Wards informatively included these three sentences.

"The following provisions are not voluntarily agreed to by the company. In the company's opinion they are illegal and unscound. These provisions are copied verbatim from the War Labor Board's order of November 5, 1942, and reincorporated herein, on the company's part, under duress and only because the President of the United States as Commander-in-Chief in time of war, has expressly ordered that they be included."

These three sentences are in all respects true. They do not alter the effects of the provisions ordered by the Board—provisions which Wards will carry out. Nevertheless, the union has refused to sign the offered document.

Wards will be happy to accept any improvement in the wording of this statement, but Wards will resist any attempts to hide the truth by a change in its substance.

On January 9, 1941, the President said: "In the future days which we seek to make secure we look forward to a world founded upon four essential human freedoms. The first is freedom of speech and expression everywhere in the world."

Wards feels that it is bound by the rules of good citizenship to make sure that the simple truth about these provisions and Wards' acceptance of them are not hidden from, or misrepresented, to its hundred thousand employes, its sixty thousand shareholders and its many millions of customers. The elimination of this statement would serve no purpose but to conceal the truth from readers of the document.

Wards has cheerfully met with the union and with this board whenever requested. Wards has promptly obeyed the direction of the President. Wards insists that its right to tell the truth not be destroyed.

MONTGOMERY WARD AND COMPANY
SEWELL AVERY,
President.

Hodges Oak Park P. T. A. Meets

A program by students featured the meeting of the Hodges Oak Park Parents-Teachers Association held Tuesday afternoon at the school. Opening the program were choral readings given by the second grade students under the direction of Miss Johnnie Cox. The Rhythm Band directed by Miss Dora Baskin presented several numbers and the Choral Club directed by Mrs. David M. Phillips presented songs and scripture readings.

Weasley Mickey was the guest speaker for the afternoon and gave a through discussion of the subject "Developing Spiritual Toughness."

In a business meeting Mrs. George Rogers was elected to the presidency and Mrs. W. G. Powell was selected as secretary to fill vacancies created by resignations.

Miss Lillian Strain reported that since the opening of school the students have purchased better than $475 worth of war stamps and bonds.

ST. LOUIS (UP) — Twenty-four years ago Armistice Day Frank A. Gauding of St. Louis stood in Union Station along with several other draftees awaiting induction into the nation's armed forces. He remembers it was one of those days when word came that the armistice was official, and he was returned to civilian life.

Things were different this Nov. 11, however. Gauding, 24 years after the day, reported for induction at Jefferson Barracks. This time there was no one to clock return to civilian life.

NEA Service Staff Waco, Tex.

SOYBEANS are a valuable substitute, providing grade protein at low cost. The following recipe was used at the National Council on Nutrition in the U. S. A., and is recommended by family nutritionists.

Chili Soybean (6 servings)
One pound soybean, pour ground beef, 1 1/2-cup onion, 1 clove garlic, 1 green pepper, diced, 2 tablespoons meat drippings, 1 teaspoon salt, 3 1/2 cups cooked tomatoes (No. 21 can), 1 1/2 teaspoon chili powder. Wash soybeans and cover with water; let soak 48 hours before using. Then add 1 teaspoon salt and enough additional water to cover. Cover and simmer 3 hours or until tender. Saute beef, onion and green pepper in meat drippings until slightly browned. Add salt and tomatoes and simmer about 30 minutes, until thick. Then add chili powder. Drain soybeans (reserving liquid for a soup base). Combine beans and saute heat well. Serve in individual casseroles, if possible.

The following unusual and nutritionally important recipe was served at the same luncheon.

Cabbage Salad With Wheat Sprouts (6 to 8 servings)
Six cups crisp shredded cabbage, 2 cups coarsely grated carrots, 1 cup wheat sprouts.

Herb Dressing (6 to 8 servings)
One-half cup peanut oil, 1-4 cup vinegar, 1-4 cup sweet pickle juice, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 1-2 teaspoon paprika, 3-4 teaspoon dry mustard, 3-4 teaspoon sugar, 1-4 green pepper, chopped, 1 small onion sliced, 1-2 clove garlic, 1-8 teaspoon marjoram, 1-8 teaspoon crushed basil.

Combine ingredients for dressing; stand over night. Remove onion, green pepper and garlic shake before using. Pour over combined cabbage, carrots or wheat sprouts.

SUNDAY'S MENU
BREAKFAST: Orange juice, oatmeal, scrambled eggs, enriched toast, coffee, milk.
DINNER: Celery, beef, veal and onion soup, green bean sauce, baked potatoes, green beans, lettuce and parsley salad, French dressing, prune pie, cream cheese top, coffee, milk.

SUPPER: Chili soybeans, cabbage salad with wheat sprouts, herb dressing, cookies, tea, milk.

Be Quick To Treat Bronchitis

Chronic bronchitis may develop if your cough, chest cold, or acute bronchitis is not treated and you cannot afford to take a chance with any medicine less potent than Creomulsion which goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel the laden phlegm and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. Creomulsion blends benzoin wood croscote by special process with other time tested medicines for coughs. It contains no narcotics.

No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly silences the cough, permitting rest and sleep, or you are to have your money back. (Adv.)
