Inside WASHINGTON

Russian Diplomacy Still is an Enigma
Post War Measures Worry Washington

Special to Central Press

WASHINGTON—WHITHER POST-WAR RUSSIA?—The significance of Russia continues to perplex diplomatic circles in Washington, London and elsewhere. Militarily, the USSR has been the most active Allied nation in the war against Hitlerism and she appears today on the verge of achieving her greatest triumphs. She stands as the first Allied nation to invade the soil of the Nazi Reich and likewise has become the predominant factor in the world's hope for any early end to the five-year-old European war.

But already, with the war still to be won, diplomatic observers find reasons for grave misgivings in the diplomatic course that the Soviet has elected to pursue. Her most recent announcement on her policy toward Poland is but a forerunner of her attitude towards post-war boundary and government problems both in Europe and in the Middle East. The opinion of international experts. They see in the Polish policy a serious ambiguity in that Russia hastily assumes jurisdiction over 40 per cent of pre-war Poland on the unilateral assertion that it is historically Russian territory, and then asserts publicly that she stands for a "free" Poland—that is, for the un-annexed remainder.

There can be found ample indications that the Russian course pursued with regard to Poland may be duplicated in a Russian-annexed Germany. Both Britain and the United States have shown a willingness—albeit somewhat reluctant—to accede to Russia's Polish claims. But it is beyond the realm of the western imagination to picture the English-speaking Allies capitulating to Russian rule of post-war Germany.

It is in this latter point that competent and concerned observers of the international scene see the seeds of a third world war.

RELIEF FOR SEDITION TRIAL ATTORNEYS?—To countless persons Washington's mass sedition trial, which currently features 26 defendants being held on charges of conspiracy to undermine the morale of the armed forces, is one of the war's whacky sideshows. But to some 14 lawyers, 22 jurors and innumerable court-appointed aides, the trial has become a first class financial headache.

As the mass trial moves to the end of its 15th and 16th weeks—without the end anywhere in sight—these persons can justly call themselves martyrs of the war.

The hardest hit are the 14 defense lawyers appointed by the court. There is no provision in law providing compensation for these attorneys. Unless Congress appropriates funds or fees are forthcoming from some other source, many of the lawyers—and very capable men with respectable practices—will be nearly destitute.

Presiding Justice Edward C. Weicher is reported seeking assistance from bar groups for the formulation of some type of program providing relief for these attorneys.

JOY THROUGH STRENGTH—After being kicked around two or three years and getting nowhere, it looks as if administration moves to make the U. S. healthier might be getting somewhere through the National Council on Physical Fitness.

This high-sounding title belongs now to a group under the Federal Social Security Agency which hopes that at last it can get something concrete done toward improving health on a national scale and—after that—shoot Nationwide Health Move Progresses

The spark that may put the program over is being supplied in part by the American Medical Association which was called in to revive sagging plans which, according to critics, ran too much in former days to such things as co-ordinating ballet dancing and other nebulous programs.

What the National Council and the AMA's joint committee on physical fitness now has in mind will be worked out at a Washington meeting in August.

Demonstrators Of County Ask For Fertilizer

TVA demonstrators of which there are 13 in Eastland county, met Saturday and made requisition for a car load of superphosphate and ammonia nitrate fertilizer. These demonstrators plan their farming operations so that summer and winter legumes have an important part in the program. Such summer legumes as cow peas, crotalaria, and mung beans can be used in strip cropping program of 4 of one of these legumes and 8 with peanuts.

If the cowpeas are used they should be interplanted with grain sorghum or cane, if a holding crop is needed. Cow peas are not new to any farmer and the value of them to improve the land is unquestioned. Crotalaria is practically new crop in this section but offers many advantages in that it has a deeper, larger, root system and will grow when hot and dry. All of the stalks and roots are retained on the ground for soil building. Stock will not eat it. These farmers are planning a winter cover crop program that will consist of planting rye, Austrian Winter Peas and vetch following peanut harvest. From 100 lbs. to 200 lbs. of superphosphate will be planted on each acre seeded to the above mixture. On J. D. Inabnet's farm in the Pioneer community, five times as much tonnage was produced where 100 lbs. of Superphosphate was applied per acre on cowpeas. This demonstrator plans to fertilize his entire field within a period of 5 years. This method of farming will enable the farmers to grow their own nitrogen.

Says War Put Emphasis On Language Need

MEXICO CITY (UP)—Dr. Albert R. Marckwardt, resident director of the English Language Institute, cautioned educators directing the teaching of foreign languages in the United States to determine suitable objectives that will be in line with present linguistic demands, have become accelerated because of the war. Marckwardt, on leave from the University of Michigan, directed his comments to the 100 North American teachers of Spanish from Universities and high schools in the United States enrolled in the first Spanish Language Institute of the U. S. Department of Education and the University of Mexico.

"There is today a stronger initial emphasis upon the spoken or productive rather than the reading or receptive ability in languages. The work of linguistic scientists is teaching many of the lesser known languages in connection with the war effort has developed devices which will undoubtedly alter post-war language study."

full duties upon the home front. Series E purchases in the county, paid for over the counter at your banks and post offices, were as follows:

Eastland	$87,381.25
Cisco	$72,674.00
Ranger	$55,987.50
Rising Star	$43,200.00
Gorman	$39,075.00
Olden	$4,668.75
Carbon	$4,556.25
Desdemona	$975.00

making a total of $308,517.75. This deducted from overall sale of $404,537.50 leaves $96,019.75. Of this $96,019.75, $47,800 was allocated to Eastland County representing purchases made by our boys and girls in the Armed Service and the balance of $48,219.75 was credited to Eastland County from employer-employee deductions. By allocating to each town in the county on a percentage basis the $96,019.75, which was allocated to Eastland County on purchases made out of the county, as hereinabove just stated, then each town and community in Eastland County far exceeds its Series E quota for the Fifth War Loan Drive, quotas with which you are familiar.

Each town and community in the county far exceeded its part of the overall quota, a total of all of such community sales giving us the figure in the beginning of $1,219,200.00 as against our overall quota of $725,000.

Our quota for the month of August is $49,500 and this is to be subscribed by the purchase of Series E, F and G War Savings Bonds only.

The undersigned, as your regular County Chairman and Mrs. Paul M. Woods, as Chairman of the Women's Division, wish to extend our heartfelt thanks to the newspapers of Eastland County, the banks, post offices, service clubs, churches, city and community chairmen and their committees, and each and every individual citizen who aided or cooperated in any way in making possible the successful Fifth War Loan Drive. Of course, you expected your County Chairman, the Chairman of the Women's Division, the Chairmen of the several city and community committees, officers and helpers of all of your banks and the postmasters, and all of their helpers to take the lead in this drive, but the undersigned speaking in behalf of all of such official leaders, want to assure all the rest of the helping organizations and each and every individual citizen that you so named are entitled to all the commendation and praise for making the Fifth War Loan such a great success. We who worked officially want all the rest of you to know that we know that our efforts would have been in vain but for the untiring efforts and patriotism on your part.

Again we want to thank you and say "well done" and we do hope and trust that what you have done will in some way become known to the boys and girls in the Armed Services everywhere.

Very kindly yours,
Cyrus B. Frost,
Eastland County Chairman.
Mrs. Paul M. Woods,
Chairman, Women's Division.

Demonstrator In Poultry Getting Excellent Results

Wyman Blair, Poultry Demonstrator, of the Corinth Community is getting record production with his flock of White Leghorn chickens in spite of the hot weather. The reason for this success is that Mr. Blair provides an abundance of fresh, clean water located in houses that are properly ventilated, and have plank lofts in them for insulation. On the hottest days the chickens are very comfortable in the houses.

As a matter of fact, it is cooler in the houses than under the trees. The 873 hens are fed laying mash and grain. The average production per hen was 13.6 eggs. The income for labor and investment is $231.60 for the month.

 Association.

The compulsory school for delinquent fathers and mothers, begun 18 months ago, now has more than 250 "alumni."

Parents are referred to the school from three groups:

1. Those appearing in juvenility court because of their children's delinquency and those charged with neglect or other illegal acts

2. Those appearing in the lower courts for misdemeanors and whose children might be influenced by drunkenness and family fights.

3. Parents whose attendance is "suggested" by truant officers or social agencies.

The parents are told to attend a course of lectures or face the alternative heavier penalty. They then must appear in court after completing the course for final disposition of their cases. Graduates are usually rewarded with a suspended sentence.

Many parents remain after the lectures to seek individual advice.
 The school costs the city nothing.
 The hall and the time of the speakers is donated. Average classes include about 20 parents and the highest enrolment was 50.
