Pioneer, 77 Years Old, Full Of Lore of Old West

HOLDREGE, Neb. (UP)—Capt. Jack Lloyd is one of five men living today who style his hair in long locks, wears a beard and recollects eye-witnessing events of explorative days of the West. The 77 year old pioneer, who was born "down Texas way," makes his livelihood by selling interviews, his pictures, and speaking to clubs.

Lloyd traveled as a child in the first cattle drive from south Texas to Abilene, Kan., after his parents were killed in the last of the Indian fights on the banks of the Red River. At Abilene, he was "adopted" by an old timer, who took him to the gold rush country. Gen. George Custer and his men passed through Lloyd's camp on Custer's "last stand" took place. When Lloyd reached Deadwood, S. D., he sold papers that came from the east via stage coach. While he was selling papers Aug. 5, 1876, he witnessed the killing of "Wild Bill" Hickok. Lloyd claims that after Hickok was shot, the observing crowd tried to pull his boots off his feet, but finally cut them off. Hickok did not die with his boots on. "Calamity Jane," picturesque gun toting woman, took care of Lloyd when he was about eight years old until he was 12, according to Lloyd. Then Lloyd became independent, hauling freight through Nebraska territory, hunting gold and silver, serving as a peace officer, hauling gold and silver out of the western deserts and finally joining the Texas Rangers when he was 18.

Houston Drivers Will Have To Prove Sobriety

HOUSTON, Tex. (UP)—It will take a college education to get out of the clutches of the law in Houston if you are picked up for intoxication. A new report form has been devised for testing the alcoholic content of persons suspected of driving while under the influence. One test of sobriety is spelling of such words as "electricity," "Methodist," and "Episcopal." Then there is the old stand-by: "Around the rugged rock the rugged rascal ran." There is a space for the officer to insert his idea of the suspect's personality. Another test is for the officer to scatter coins on the floor and tell the victim to pick them up. The suspect is asked if he has been sick, seen a dentist, taken insulin or otherwise in a condition which might resemble intoxication.

The culture of cotton began in Louisiana in 1740, and sugar cane was introduced successfully from Santa Domingo by the Jesuits in 1751.

It costs the American Red Cross about $6 a second to operate.

Ranger Man With 33rd Division Gets Promotion

With the 33rd Division on Luzon—Private First Class Matt P. Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Matt F. Davis, RFD No. 1, Ranger, Texas, has been promoted from the rank of private. He is a rifleman in Company "L", 136th, "Bearcat" Infantry Regiment, 33rd Division.

Pfc. Davis was inducted into the service August 27, 1944, and completed his basic training at Camp Roberts, Calif., before being shipped overseas. He was assigned to his company on the island of Luzon in April of this year.

Propose Pearl Harbor Inquiry

WASHINGTON (UP)—Senate Democratic Leader Alben Barkley today proposed, with the approval of President Truman, that Congress investigate the Pearl Harbor disaster.

He introduced a resolution to set up a special 10-man joint Senate-House committee to conduct the inquiry. The Senate at once adopted the resolution.

President Truman in Jovial Mood

Wearing a Shrine fez presented him by Imperial Shrine Potentate William Woodfield of San Francisco, President Truman in a particularly jovial mood models his new desk gadget for photographers. A "scram," "yes" and "no" on the sides of the triangle are designed to indicate his attitude. During the meeting with shriners, Truman was invited to attend the 1946 Shrine convention in San Francisco, next summer. (NEA Telephoto.)

GI In Pacific Sends Super V-Mail Letter

PHILADELPHIA (UP)—A super V-Mail letter measuring three feet by two and one half feet came to Dorothy E. Hall recently from her soldier fiance in the Pacific.

The huge V-Mail letter contained the 12th of a series of sketches of "life in the Marianas" drawn for Miss Hall by Cpl. Charles D. Magrath, 23.

Old Ironsides To Get Overhauling

BOSTON (UP)—"Old Ironsides," America's oldest warship, soon undergoes a "face lifting" operation designed to "beautify" the nation's welcoming ship.

A total of $45,000 has been allocated for the renovation. "Old Ironsides," which is on the books as the U. S. Constitution, was launched in 1797. She distinguished herself in the war with Tripoli and again in the War of 1812. Now, she serves as the flagship for the commandant of the First Naval District.

Truman Appeals For Quick Action On Reconversion Plans

ARMY AIDS GI VICTIMS OF APHASIA

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. (UP)—Wounded soldiers who have forgotten the functions of speech—reading, writing and comprehension of a spoken language—are relearning their native tongue at the Army's O'Reilly General Hospital here.

Aphasia, scientific name for the affliction which is a result of brain injuries incurred in battle, varies with the extent of injury, according to Lt. Matthew Diamond, psychologist and speech therapist at O'Reilly.

Diamond said some patients understand what is said to them, but cannot speak; some understand, but have forgotten to organize the words into sentences, and others can reconstruct entire sentences, but cannot form the sounds to make the words.

A new system of treatment, based primarily on the background of the patient, is given to each victim of aphasia, Diamond revealed. He said the treatment for any two patients is rarely the same.

Speech and language tests are given to ascertain how many of the functions of language the patient has lost. Then the actual treatment begins.

Building and retaining a patient's morale is one of the important factors in the treatment of aphasia, Diamond said.

He said that perhaps the largest morale-building factor is the weekly singing class for aphasics. Diamond explained that although many of the men can speak only a few words, the majority of them sing perfectly without a mistake in lyrics.

This proves to be a help in improving their vocabularies, he said, since, having sung the words once many of the men then can repeat them without issue.

Diamond said the results of the treatment are not always perfect, but he told of an air corps officer who was unable to speak, write or read after a plane crash in England.

When the officer arrived at O'Reilly, Diamond continued, he could say only "Yes," "No" and "Well." Five months later he spoke almost normally and made a grade of 95 on a civil service examination for a clerical position.

Sgt. Calvert In University At Biarritz, Spain

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Calvert of Route 1, Ranger have received word that their son, Staff Sgt. James O. Calvert, is now enrolled in the American University at Biarritz, Spain where he is studying agriculture.

Sgt. Calvert has been in Europe about nine months and while in France was with the 9th Air Force. He holds the presidential unit citation.

He informed his parents in a letter that while he was visiting the Riviera in France he was permitted to make a recording and that record will be played over radio station WPAB Saturday morning at 9:00 o'clock.

FRIGHTENS JAP INTO COMMITTING SUICIDE

OKINAWA (UP)—When husky Marine Cpl. Rodney E. Snyder of Richmond, Cal., jumped from his foxhole to escape explosion of a live grenade accidentally dropped, he so frightened a Japanese soldier in another hole ten feet away that the latter committed suicide.

The Japanese had been hurling hand grenades. Snyder promptly started to retaliate. He pulled the pin from one of his own grenades, but fumbled and dropped it.

Snyder disregarded the enemy and jumped from his foxhole. The Japanese committed suicide by holding a grenade to his face and firing it.

Ancient Type Sailing Craft Helped In East

BOMBAY (UP)—Six thousand ocean going "dhows" "Sambhooka" and "booms"—small sailing ships of types that have made the voyage to India since Biblical days—played a role in the Allied war effort against Japan, carrying essential war supplies between Iraq and India.

The small Arabian sailing craft effectively helped the Allied Command during the first years of the war in building up the Middle East forces in Iraq and in between the transport difficulties, between Basrah and Karachi, and other ports in Northern India. These ancient-type sailing craft were possibly the first ocean going vessels in the history of man and their designs are much the same today as they were in the times of "Sinbad the Sailor" of the "Thousand and One Nights." They served as transportation for the invading Arabs who crossed from Basrah to Zanzibar and from there to the Netherlands East Indies when the Moslem religion spread to Africa and Oceania.

The vessels vary in size from 150 to 500 tons. The larger types have comfortable cabins in which those who are not inclined to sea-sickness can enjoy long cruises. Recently an American missionary toured the West Coast of India from Karachi to Cape Comorin in such a vessel.

The ships' crews range from five to 20 men. In normal times they carry grain, spices, salt fish, and other cargo from India to the Persian Gulf ports. To Basrah they bring rice, charcoal, firewood, bamboo, cheap piece goods, sugar and odd consumer goods, returning with dates, figs, grapes and often race horses.

But with the outbreak of war the military authorities took over many of the vessels. Thousands of tons of front line equipment and war supplies were moved in these bottoms. Others were chartered by the Indian government to replace coastal steamers that were put on war jobs.

Elks Bingo Games To Be Held At 8:30 Tonight

Bingo games will be conducted at the Willows Park this evening at 8:30 o'clock for the benefit of the Elks Lodge crippled children's fund.

Merchants of Ranger have provided three grand prizes and others will be supplied by the Lodge. Those in charge of the games asked that outstanding cards be brought to the games tonight so that all may be accounted for before the close of the season.

It was also announced by the lodge today that next Thursday night, September 13 will be the last in the series of games and officials expressed their appreciation to the public for the cooperation given them in this worthy cause.

Former Ranger Resident Made Ensign In Navy

Announcements have been received of the graduation of Charles Richard Overly, of Longview, formerly of Ranger, from the Midshipmen's school at Columbia University in New York. He is now an ensign in the United States Naval Reserve and has been sent to foreign service.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Overly of Longview, formerly of Ranger and is the nephew of Mrs. A. E. Ernst and Hal Lavery.

BRUTALITIES TOLD SAN FRANCISCO

High ranking Allied officers, including Lt. Gen. Jonathan Wainwright, were slapped, beaten and forced to strip publicly at a Japanese camp on Formosa, a returning prisoner said today.

WHITE HOUSE FLAG TO FLY OVER TOKYO

General MacArthur's Headquarters, Yokohama (UP)—Advance parties of the U. S. First Cavalry and 11th Corps recommissioned Tokyo Bay today, hoisting quarters for the main occupation forces who will enter Saturday and raise the famed American flag that flew over the White House on Pearl Harbor Day.

Simultaneously with the entry of Gen. Douglas MacArthur's bulleting parties, Marines and units of the 11th Air Borne Division were making a rapid and unopposed occupation of Tokyo's outlying areas.

The 11th Airborne landed troops on Okino Shima in Tokyo Bay today, and found the island deserted.

A detachment of the Fourth Marine Regiment took over two small Naval bases at Uruga.

American troops were still pouring into Japan by sea and air, building up an occupational army that headquarters said would eventually number more than 250,000 men.

Elements of the 11th Airborne still were being landed from transport planes at Atsugi airbase.

MacArthur announced that Allied occupation forces for Japan will consist of 18 army divisions in addition to a service air force and the Navy.

Headquarters also announced that a total of 7,000,000 Jap troops will have been disarmed and demobilized by Oct. 15.

85,000 Japanese Lay Down Arms In Singapore

SINGAPORE (UP) More than 85,000 Japanese troops laid down their arms and evacuated Singapore today as British Imperial forces moved in to re-occupy the far eastern naval base.

Marching smartly, British and Indian troops took over the dockyards and fortifications they lost to the Japs more than three years ago.

A communique said the re-occupation was proceeding according to plan without opposition.

British Sergeant Sang As Japs Fired On Ship

LONDON (UP)—The ship on which I left Singapore, two days before the surrender, was built to carry a maximum of 80 passengers.

There were 650 aboard as the little ship slipped out of the harbor which was lighted by the ruddy glow from massive oil tank fires near the harbor.

Singapore was literally ringed with fire.

The little ship was passing through the narrow Banks Straits when a searchlight suddenly snapped on from shore. The Japanese had installed artillery there and they had spotted us.

The searchlight held steady, silencing the silent men standing in tiers on the little ship's deck and around its upper structure and smokestacks.

Nobody even whispered. Then came the first salvo from shore. It brought an audible sigh from 650 souls as it fell short.

The little ship kept chugging along and the searchlight held steady. The second salvo came and fell some 200 yards beyond the ship.

Again that audible sigh and in all minds was the unspoken thought, "The third one will get us for sure."

Then spotlighted by the searchlight's unwavering beam, a Royal Air Force sergeant perched high up in the little ship's super structure began to sing in a fine rich baritone the refrain of "The Holy City."

"Hosanna to Our King," his voice rang high and true.

The searchlight held steady. All listeners momentarily expected the song to be drowned by the blast of the third salvo.

But that third salvo never came.

The singer's "Hosanna" rang out to high heaven. The searchlight held steady. The searchlight the night and all was calm and bright.

PROGRAM IS FOR LIMITED TAX RELIEF, EMPLOYMENT

WASHINGTON (UP)—President Truman told Congress in a message today that prompt and courageous handling of reconversion is essential to launch the United States upon "the greatest peacetime industrial activity we have ever seen."

His message gave Congress the administration's emergency and long-range programs including "limited" business tax relief in 1946. It was an urgent invitation to legislators to join Mr. Truman in "determined action now."

The 16 thousand word document arrived on Capitol Hill with supplementary reports. The President did not deliver it in person.

Said the message—"The next few months are crucial. What we do now will affect our life for the decades to come."

Mr. Truman said there will be a "pre-deal of inevitable unemployment." But he said there was no reason to fear either the immediate future or the years that lie ahead.

With the promise of almost immediate but limited and unspecified tax relief and more to come later—at least business—the message warned that price lines must be held on reconversion and cost of living issues.

The President urged Congress to avoid any arbitrary juggling of the numerous war powers voted to President Roosevelt. The time has not arrived, he said, for proclamation of "termination of the war."

The President promised firm enforcement of price control.

The President urged Congress to make substantial upward revision in the present legal minimum wage of 40 cents an hour. He asked that the minimum be boosted to a level which will eliminate "substandards" of living. He is expected to support legislation now before Congress to set a new minimum of 65 cents an hour at once and raise it to 75 cents in two years.

He also asked Congress to expand the minimum wage law to cover agricultural, processing workers and others now excluded.

The President also asked for a $100,000,000 increase at once in the appropriation for the U. S. Employment Service.

Legislation for full employment, a permanent fair employment practice committee and unemployment compensation up to $25 weekly for 26 weeks for all workers.

Texas Airfields Among 9 That Will Be Closed

FORT WORTH (UP)—The Army Air Forces Training Command announced today it will discontinue operations at nine airfields in the United States by Sept. 30.

It was the first major cutback of air forces training since before Pearl Harbor. Three installations in Texas will be closed down—air fields at Pampa and Del Rio and a gunnery school at Laredo.

To Fight 18-19 Year Old Draft

WASHINGTON (UP)—Four senators—two Republicans and two Democrats—said today they will seek to end the drafting of 18 and 19 year olds if Congress passes a law continuing the draft.

Sen. Albert Thomas of Utah will sponsor a bill to increase enlistment inducements and ending the teen-age draft.

Official nickname of Arkansas is "The Wonder State."

Tired Kidneys Often Bring Sleepless Nights

When function of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging headache, rheumatic pains, big throats, loss of sleep and energy, getting up early, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or steady passages with ammonia and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stomachic diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. Doan's gives happy relief and will help the 15 million of kidney trouble. Don't let poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.
