WASHINGTON COLUMN

BY PETER EDSON

NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, D. C.—In spite of the last surrender of Japanese forces, that two-day binge in celebration of the end of the fighting, President Truman's V-J Day proclamation and various other justifiable causes for rejoicing, the lawyers in government are having a tough job trying to decide whether the war is over and, if not, just when it will be.

Any erroneous reflection upon the character, standing or reputation of any person, firm or corporation which may appear in the columns of this paper will be gladly corrected upon being brought to the attention of the publishers.

What the difference is between these and other trick phrases is something that only lawyers and congressmen could think up. If Congress didn't pass something to make it official, the war might go on forever and you wouldn't know the difference.

Even an act of Congress doesn't end the war adequately. Every individual has his own final V-Day, and the dates will differ. For some people the war won't be over till the last tin can can be stepped on, the last pound of fat turned in, the last scrap of paper saved.

SPORTS

BY HARRY GRAYSON

NEA Sports Editor

HALF a century ago—on Sept. 9, 1895, to be exact—a handful of New York and Brooklyn bowlers met at Beethoven Hall in Manhattan and formed the American Bowling Congress.

No fewer than 1150 city associations are staging 30th anniversary celebrations on any date they choose. The ABC really has something to shout about. It boasts a million members in a sport in which at least 16,000,000 participate.

Prohibition poked its high forehead through the door in the ABC's 26th year, but the congress surprised the blue noses and everybody else with a record-breaker, 5100 teams joining. Two years later 11,000 teams, 40 times the membership in 1918-19, conclusively proved that the sport thrived in the temperance league.

The peak membership of the prohibition skin came in 1930-31, distinguished by the nation's longest and severest depression, yet the congress had 44,000 teams, or 130 times as many as in its last season prior to the enactment of the dry law.

Emerging from the depression saw teeming membership skyrocket

SAVINGS FOR HOMES REACH RECORD HIGH

CHICAGO (UP) - Assets of Illinois and Wisconsin savings building and loan associations reached a new high of approximately $500,000,000 at the end of June, according to A. E. Gardner, president of the Federal Home Loan Bank of Chicago. The associations faced the post-war period with 29.7 per cent of these assets in liquid form, ready to finance expansion of some building and small home ownership in the Illinois and Wisconsin area, he said. 'This financial preparedness to play a vital role in the postwar era of home-building expansion and job-making was made possible by an unprecedented inflow of savings during the war,' Gardner said. During the war, he concluded, there was a 92 per cent increase in the money invested in savings building and loan associations.

WE FLEW Without GUNS

By Gen. Genovese

ST. ELMO'S FIRE

YOU may remember the first ones in a lifetime, and when you do, you lean back and say, "Thanks, God." After that, if you have time, you say it again and again, and then again. But I didn't have time for more than the first one.

I kept the motors at full throttle and took the highest altitude the ship would take, 21,000 feet; then I motioned Fox to take off his mask. I put on my own and took a couple of deep draughts. I looked back at Tsui and saw the blues filtering through his yellow skin. He was out cold.

Even while we were gaining our course, pulling the ship hard off to the southwest, and the fight became a battle not only against the winds blowing north but against the ice that kept dragging us down. We could hold only to 21,100 feet even at full throttle for a matter of 10 or 15 minutes; then the altimeter began to show a steady decline. Our only hope was to get out of the high mountain ranges before we were dragged too low.

At the time of that fight, in February of 1943, Bill Fox had only been with us a couple of months. He still hadn't checked out as a full pilot, and there were a lot of things he hadn't seen that most of us with C. N. A. C. were more or less accustomed to—and I say "more or less" advisedly.

St. Elmo's Fire, for instance. I don't care how many times a man sees that, it always does something to him.

completely out the moment he had finished his hysterical scream.

OUR emergence from that Himalayan storm was one of the most abrupt things I've ever encountered in the air, in either fog-bound England or in China. It was just as if a window shade had snapped up to let in the sunshine. We were out of the storm. The grayness of the windows turned to silver light. From that brilliant gleam they took on the myriad hues of a rainbow. India's sun, even at 10,000 feet, was turning our world of ice into water.

I took the ship down at 1000 feet per minute and at 10,000 feet I reached over and pushed with gigantic effort to open the side window and get a breath of air.

At 6000 feet we swept out of the clouds. Below us I could see the Brahmaputra River running its smooth blue ribbon through the deep green blanket of India's Assam Valley. Fox had come around and was sleepily reorganizing himself at the auxiliary controls; Tsui was stirring behind us, and he and the passengers would soon be all right.

As we came in over the airfield at Dinjan and Tsui went back to sell our passengers to get ready to land, I said to Fox, "I'm going to make it this time, Bill. I'm going to set her down neat as a pin, and Captain Bridgit, that old dog, won't have a chance to wash me out this time."

Fox, of course, didn't know what I was talking about. I hadn't seen Captain Bridgit for years. He had nothing whatever to say about me or about anything I did or did not do now. He was in the Army Air Corps and I was a civilian pilot for the China National Aviation Corporation. But what I was thinking about was all the trouble I had gone through to get into Randolph Field back in 1938—and then that last flight of mine as a cadet when Bridgit (a damned nice guy, I had always thought before) washed me out as an Army pilot with the remark on my final papers: "A dangerous flyer."

Charles Bueg, left, co-owner of the Aero Pattern and Engineering Co., jokes with picketing patternmakers in front of his Detroit shop as he joins them. A member of the Patternmakers Association, he was ordered to report for picket duty. "I would have picketed anyway," he said. "I want more money like my men. I'm only getting $15 a week and they're making between $2.25 and $2.45 an hour."

SAYS SECRETARY OF AGRICULTURE:

Despite Victory Used Fat Saving Must Go On!

Every woman in America should know that our country continues to face a serious fat shortage. And victory over Japan won't solve the problem immediately. We must keep on saving used fats in our kitchens!

If you have any thought that saving used fats is one of those wartime chores we can drop, now that Victory is here, please consider these facts and tell them to your neighbors.

America still needs salvaged fats. Not even at the peak of our war effort, when fats were required for mountains of shells and bombs and medicines, in addition to the ever-present need for soap, were our needs for salvaging fat greater than now. Our stocks have been drained by four long years of war, and there isn't enough on hand to meet all requirements.

Don't let "Victory psychology" blind you to this national need! If housewives stop saving fats now, the shortage will become even more critical.

Don't let a single drop of used fats go to waste! Little trimmings of fat left on the platter at the table, scraps left on plates, and even the skimmings of soups and gravies are important. It is the consistent saving of even these small amounts that counts.

Don't turn in fats that can be re-used! But some fats, such as those rendered from lamb and mutton, are not suitable for re-use. Put them immediately in the salvage can. And, with other fats, after you've got all cooking good out of them, there is always a little left. No matter how little it is, save it.

Your butcher will still give you 4¢ and 2 red points for every pound you turn in. Save consistently—save every drop you can—every day—until Uncle Sam says the job is done.

Newsman Pleased With Attitude Of State Board

AUSTIN, Tex., (UP)—Newsman are always annoyed at having to sit outside offices and "cool their heels" while state boards, bureaus and commissions hold executive sessions.

But not so when it comes to meetings of the State Board of Education. At their last three meetings here they have held executive sessions. Spectators are asked to leave the session but newsmen are allowed to remain.

There are some things which transpire which are off the record, and the Fourth Estate respects them, though they do not invite confidence. It is highly beneficial from the standpoint of reporting state governmental affairs to have a wealth of background material. And executive sessions generally furnish a wealth of it.

Reconversion

Keeps Long Distance busier than ever

Long distance lines, which rushed through messages for the army, navy, and war industries, now are loaded with calls important to the nation's reconversion.

Businessmen—as they switch from war to peacetime production—are making more calls than ever before. Individuals, too, are using long distance more often as they locate new jobs and new homes in other cities.

These important calls have added to the load on crowded telephone circuits, a load—believe it or not—unequaled even in the busiest days of the war.

And servicemen—even though the war is over—still need to make hundreds of long distance calls every day from army camps, debarkation points, separation centers, and hospitals. Their calls home are just as important as ever.

So if the operator says, "The circuits are busy," and your long distance call is delayed, we hope you'll understand.

Thanks for your patience.

How To Get Ahead Outlined By Dr. Purdom

ANN HOBBER, Mich (UP)—What makes the difference between success and failure?
The answer to this, Dr. T. Luther Purdom, director of the University of Michigan's Bureau of Appointments and Occupational Information, says can be found if a person possesses five certain qualities.
Dr. Purdom has made a study of 18,000 students who have gone off into industry, business and teaching and he lists the following "hard boiled" qualities:
1. He abounds with activity and energy, thus enabling him to make and seize upon opportunities.
2. He concentrates on doing the things—little and big—that count in getting ahead.
3. He makes it a point to know people who count and is ready to "play the game" if need be.
4. He studies the weaknesses and strength of the people with whom he deals, especially his superiors—and acts accordingly.
5. He develops a little color—to make himself stand out and be noticed.
Purdom insists that one of the worst things a person can do so far as getting ahead is concerned is to become a "handyman" who is always doing everything for everybody else.
He says that is definitely no guarantee that a person will succeed just because he is doing "a whale of a job."

weapons. From El Arish, on the Mediterranean coast, to the tip of Sinai Peninsula in the Red Sea, a strict vigil is kept by police patrols to stop wily smugglers bringing dope to the Nile Valley market.
Head of the police who patrol the 11,600 square miles of rugged and parched mountainous territory is an Englishman, Lewis A. H. Hamersley Pasha. The high prices of Egyptian markets and the constant stream of military traffic through the sparsely populated desert has pitted Hamersley's small force of policemen against large and well-organized dope combines.
But seizures of narcotics have increased 40 per cent in the last two years due to the vigilance of the police force. Even so, an estimated 15,400,000 (Egyptian) worth of drugs have been smuggled into the country. In the last five years the narcotics seizures per year rose from 723 to 1,688 kilograms.

Your Opportunity IS HERE..
IN the great Southwest, along the Texas and Pacific Railway, New Orleans to El Paso, in Louisiana and Texas, are many economic "green pastures."
"Here is some of the most fertile land in the world; the biggest oil fields known to mankind, the richest mineral deposits, and the most boundless grazing lands. There is elbow room in this far-flung land of economic "green pastures"—enough to go around—to the returning veteran, the demobilized war worker, the industrialist looking for new locations and to the resourceful people who have made this prosperous territory what it is today.
"As an integral part of the life of the cities and communities it serves, the Texas and Pacific Railway is deeply interested in working together with its friends and neighbors towards a full and prosperous development of its resources.
"Your constructive criticism and suggestions are earnestly solicited."

HOLLYWOOD has its eye on Audrey Totter because film fans can't keep their eyes off her. Designated by M-G-M as "likely to achieve stardom in 1945," the studio has given her a choice role in "Dangerous Partners."

Certain Something

KATHRYN GRAYSON has a lot more than a beautiful voice to get by on. She's easy on the eyes too — or are we just being obvious? Next screen stint is "Anchors Aweigh," M-G-M musical in which Frank (Voice) Sinatra and Gene Kelly fight to be her number 1 man.

Bonehead Club Solves Plant's Reconversion

DALLAS, Tex. (UP) — Reconversion is no problem to the Dallas Bonehead Club, a collection of leading businessmen who meet at lunch once a week to specialize in zany doings.

The Boneheads came up with four suggestions for peacetime use of the big North American Aviation plant at Dallas, closed down by end of the war.

Suggested the boneheads:

1. Convert it into an indoor dude ranch. No mosquitoes, no sunburn.
2. Make it a 36-hole indoor golf course.
3. Turn it into an indoor garden.
4. Continue atomic bomb experiments there.

The last, the Boneheads said, no doubt would result in destruction of the plant and, thus removal of the source of worry.

In 1920, California-Arizona production of winter oranges was slightly more than that of Florida. Through this Western production has now more than doubled; it is less than half that of the Southern state.
