Razor Sharp Souvenirs

Pfc. Vincent Smith of Dady, Florida perches atop a large pile of Jap Samurai swords and cautiously tests the razor sharpness of one blade. Demobilization of the Jap military machine in the Northern Honshu area has been maintained on schedule by special units from the 3445rd Ordnance Co. of the US 8th Army. SERGEANT'S MEMORIES OF IMPRISONMENT BITTER McCLOSKEY GENERAL HOSPITAL, Temple, Tex. (UP)—Staff Sgt. Warren Williams of Killeen, Tex., a Jap prisoner for three years as a member of Texas' ill-fated Lost Battalion, recalls with reluctance his days of confinement.

"As a member of the 131st Field Artillery, he landed with his unit at Java in the early days of the war when the Japs were surging across Malaya. After eight days of fighting, his unit was decimated and remnants of it surrendered to the Nips.

Williams was first imprisoned for nine months at a camp in Batavia, and then followed treks to numerous camps which ended upon liberation at a camp in Nopaton, Bangkok.

Worst prison experiences recalled by the soldier center around a Japanese guard, named Makin, and an interpreter, called Hitojira. These guards were always especially brutal when American forces were winning battles, he said.

Speaking almost perfect English, Hitojira beat and slapped American prisoners, and, during the American campaign in New Guinea, remarked, "Your people in New Guinea are steam rolling my people to death—I'll beat you to death."

Williams recalled a beating given him by Jap guard Makin. Walking through the camp while on a work detail, the Texan saw Makin line up all sick prisoners, about 40 men, for a beating. One of the sick prisoners had taken time out to bathe his ulcerated feet and legs and overlooked saluting a Jap soldier.

Makin noticed Williams standing nearby and shoved him into the line of sick men lined up for a beating. The Americans were beaten with bamboo poles, and hit with rifle butts and bare fists. When a man fell, he was kicked in the stomach, Williams said.

"One of their favorite tricks was to kick the men on their ulcers," Williams related. After beating, the sickest were forced to stand at attention until they fainted.

Typical of the heavy work forced upon American prisoners were 225 pounds of rice that the men had to carry 100 yards. "When we were building the railroad, ten men lifted ten ton pilings," Williams said.

Through all the misery and headache, the prisoners managed an occasional laugh at Japanese propaganda. One Jap paper written in English and entitled, "The Greater Asia," told how a Jap brought forth his resourcefulness when his landing flaps wouldn't lower. According to the paper, the pilot merely broke holes through the bottom of his plane and stopped the ship with his feet when he landed.

But, the prisoners were really depressed when they read in another Jap paper, "The Nippon Times," that Texas' 36 Division, of which they had once been a part, had suffered heavy casualties in the battle of Cassino, Italy. All copies of the paper were finally ordered destroyed by an imprisoned colonel.

Williams is now convalescing from malaria and malnutrition sustained during his long years of imprisonment.

5,000th Soldier Enlists

Lt. General Walton H. Walker, Commanding General of the Eighth Service Command, Dallas, Texas congratulates the 5000th soldier of his command to enlist since the beginning of the Army's current recruiting drive. He is Sgt. Bernard N. Helfert, Jr., 24, of Arlington, Virginia. Helfert is a six-year Army veteran with overseas service and said that enlistment benefits allowed by Congress were "too much for me to turn down." (Signal Corp Photo From NEA Telephoto).

WTCC MOVES UP ABILENE MEET DATE

ABILENE, Oct. 19 (Spl.)—The West Texas Chamber of Commerce announced today it was advancing by two days—from Wednesday, Nov. 7, to Monday the 5th—its 1945 Directors & Referendum assembly, to be held at the Abilene headquarters.

The change, explained WTCC President E. W. Hardin in letters to affiliates, was made necessary by discovery of a conflict in dates with a large church group. The Northwest Texas Methodist Conference months ago arranged to hold its annual meeting in Abilene for five days beginning Nov. 7, preceded by committee sessions on the 6th. In consequence, Hardin said, "rooms in Abilene hotels for our WTCC delegates would have been impossible to obtain during that midweek. In order not to discommodate the delegates the Officers Committee has moved up the assembly, the windup of the 1945 referendum convention season, to Monday the 6th of November. Early delegates, those from a distance, will leave their homes Sunday afternoon the 4th and will find room accommodations in Abilene reserved for them."

The regional assembly as usual will be a one-day all-business session adjourning at 4 p. m. The annual noon luncheon will be a freight-rate victory celebration with Olin Colburn, chairman of the Texas Railroad Commission, the speaker.

The assembly agenda also calls for the formal termination of the WTCC's inter-county Agricultural Production & Improvement contest with award of $1,000 in cash prizes to four winning West Texas counties. The contest has been in progress two years, having been launched at the 1943 referendum.

Camp Fire Girls Leaders Needed By Ranger Units

Mrs. Edwin George, sponsor for the Camp Fire Girls movement in Ranger, and Mrs. W. A. Fleming, leader of two of the groups, today appealed for assistance in direction of the organizations.

It was pointed out that the organizations have been so enthusiastically received by the girls of Ranger that more leaders are needed and any mother willing to assist in the work is asked to contact either of the two women.

There are three groups and due to lack of leadership two have been combined under the leadership of Mrs. Fleming. This, it was explained, is not a satisfactory arrangement as the work of the two units is entirely different and it should be separated.

Jap Cabinet Takes No Action On Monopolies

TOKYO (UP)—The Japanese cabinet today balked at immediate action on Gen. Douglas MacArthur's demand that industrial monopolies be broken up.

A Japanese source said the cabinet discussed the demand for some time at today's meeting, but failed to reach a decision.

The issue concerns the very foundation of the Japanese industrial system and has immediate, far-reaching effects on the people's livelihood, the informant said in explaining the government's apparent reluctance to take immediate action.

American sources long have contended that such family industrial trusts as Mitsui, Mitsubishi, Yasuda and Sumitomo helped finance, then exploited Japan's conquests in China and the Pacific.

Battleship Texas May Be Retired After Two Wars

HOUSTON, Texas (UP)—Battleship "Texas"—the "mighty T"—a veteran of two world wars—may at last give up her commission to defend American seas, and anchor in retirement at the San Jacinto battleground.

At least, such a homecoming is predicted by Representative Albert Thomas of Houston, who says that the Navy will eventually agree to his proposal.

The story of her operations in the war brought this comment from the Navy:

"Anything that can happen to her from now on will be anticlimactic. She is past retirement age. . . . And, when she retires, like old sailors, she will finally pass on to 'Snug Harbor.'"

"We know that the fighting heroes of the Alamo, could they voice their opinions, would be just as proud of her as are the men who have sailed on her."

From 1941 to 1945 she patrolled the Atlantic, and then sailed over to the Pacific to take part in campaigns there. In actual operation against the enemy for 78 days, she took part in the North African invasion, the Normandy and Southern invasions. Then, she aided in the capture of Iwo Jima and Okinawa.

She is the only battleship to have engaged in the enemy in planned operations off the coasts of Africa, northern and southern Europe and in the Pacific.

"Texas" did not escape unscathed, however. For the first time in 30 years, the battleship of the Lone Star state was "targeted" by the enemy during exchange of fire with coastal defense batteries at Cherbourg. Two enemy 288mm. projectiles exploded, hit the conning tower, wiped out the navigation bridge, killed one man and wounded 14 others.

The "Mighty T" bombarded Okinawa with four complete shiploads of ammunition in support of ground forces.

Venezuela's Government Is Overthrown

TEXAS COUNTIES MAKING FIGHT AGAINST RODENTS

AUSTIN, Texas (UP)—If you want to get in on a job of rat killing, see the State Health Department.

The rodent eradication program now being conducted in about 50 Texas counties is the largest in the nation, says Dr. George W. Cox, State Health Officer.

Purpose of the campaign, for which most funds are furnished by the federal government, is to reduce the prevalence of typhus fever.

All told, this year $100,000 will be spent in Texas to get rid of rats and the fleas which they carry. Not only that, the research laboratory which the state operates at Hallettsville, Lavaca County, in connection with the rat killing program is also the largest of its kind in the United States, Dr. Cox says.

While the rat slaying work is a year old, it has not been until recently that it grew so in size.

The use of two new powerful poisons, "1080" and "DDT" has proven so effective that workers can cover more territory in less time.

The pesky rats are carriers of dreaded typhus fever. They're also carriers of fleas, who, in turn, are also carriers of typhus. That sounds complicated, but that's the cycle.

BULLDOGS PLAY LION 11 TONIGHT

The Ranger Bulldogs left this afternoon about 3:30 o'clock for Brownwood where they will meet the Brownwood Lions in a conference game tonight.

This is the first conference game of the season for both teams but Ranger goes into the game, much the underdog. Brownwood is reported to have one of the strongest teams in the district and is likely to be a strong contender for the district championship.

Coach Jimmie Marshall has been putting the Bulldogs through some strenuous workouts but is still handicapped through injuries to some of his best players. Frankie Ford, Ranger's star passer will be out of the game with an injured arm and will be replaced in the backfield by J. G. Wright.

A large group from Ranger planned to attend the game and a pep rally held in the lobby of the Gholson hotel Thursday night at 7:30 o'clock was regarded as one of the best yet held. Pep rallies are held in the hotel through the courtesy and invitation of the owner, Morris Kight and Mrs. W. L. Kight.

Starting line up for the game will likely be as follows: center, Don Ford; guards, Wayne Terry and Andy Jackson; tackles, Worth Carlin and Bob Balch; ends, Pete Dawn and Paul MacDonald and backs, J. G. Wright, Junior Arterburn, Jack Parrish and Bob Williams.

WAR CRIMES TRIALS TO OPEN SOON

NUERNBERG (UP)—The trial of Nazism's foremost surviving war criminals will open November 20 in this one-time shrine city of the party which started the second world war, it was announced officially today.

The four-power Allied military tribunal which will conduct the Nuernberg trial announced that the date of its opening had been set for four weeks and four days from today.

The trial date was set shortly after the Allied war crimes indictment was served on the bulk of the defendants—a who's who of the remainder of the Nazi hierarchy—in the Nuernberg prison.

The proceedings cleared the way for the trial save for the grace period given Reichsmarschall Herman Goerring and his cohorts to arrange for their defense against the historic document.

The United States signed the war crimes indictment only after stipulating that she does not recognize Soviet claims to the Baltic states and "certain other territories", it was revealed today.

Tags Reveal Names of Yank Airmen Executed

SHANGHAI (UP)—Small, white tags attached to a row of plain wooden boxes in a funeral parlor revealed today the names of 14 American airmen executed by the Japanese on Formosa last June after a perfunctory military trial.

Inside the boxes were urns containing the ashes of the airmen and records of their execution. They showed that the men were killed by a firing squad at Taihoku, June 19.

Elsewhere labor tension eased, although 429,000 workers still were idle and the result of strikes. Eighteen thousand of the 35,000 AFL longshoremen who struck New York harbor in an intra-union dispute were back at the docks today. The back-to-work movement was expected to continue.

MOSCOW (UP)—An American delegation announced today that it would oppose any further delay in making "loans or grants to the Soviet Union." Russia has asked the United States for $6,000,000,000 credit.

DETROIT (UP)—Representatives of the United Automobile Workers—CIO—and General Motors Corp., met today in negotiations over the union's demand for a 30 per cent wage increase.

TRUMAN INVITED TO TEXAS MARSHALL (UP)—President Truman was invited today to visit Texas during the latter part of November to participate in exercises in dedicating the Lake Brownwood State Park in honor of heroes of the 36th Division.

WASHINGTON COLUMN

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The recruiting sergeant and petty officer are about to take their places again as familiar fixtures on court house squares throughout the land. But what a difference there will be. Gone will be the call to the rough and ready life and high adventure. This is another age. And the Army and Navy and Marine Corps, and probably the Coast Guard too, will be offering the young man—of all things—Social Security. Join the Marines and get social security. Join the Navy and see your benefits pile up. Rewrite the words to the old bugle call, "You're in the Army now; you're not behind the plow. You're gonna get rich," and so forth.

Did you know, for instance, that a young man of 18 to 20, enlisting in the armed services today, can retire after 30 years of service at the ripe young age of 48 or 50 and live on a pension? If the recruit is reasonably smart and minds his spit and polish he can rise to the equivalent grade of a master sergeant and retire on $145 a month, which is clover and not hay.

Next to this social security song, the recruiters will be singing the endearing young charms of: 2—training for a technical career, 3—education through courses in the armed services extension university, 4—travel. It will look like a life such as rich men used to offer their ne'er-do-well sons. And when the Navy comes along with its old offer of a girl in every port, the line becomes positively sylvan.

First thing you know, the taxpayers will be complaining about having to support so many strong, healthy males in such luxury.

Seriously, the services are finding it necessary to adopt this new line to get any takers. The Navy needs half a million volunteers and the Army may need twice that number. Recruiting falls off after every war. Reform of Army and Navy life is necessary, therefore, and the soldier, sailor and marine have been visibly elevated in the social scale over the past 30 years.

Preventing the next war will be increasingly a job for technicians in all grades to push the buttons and operate the gadgets. That's why the appeal has to be made to a higher type of young man.

Whether all these blandishments will work, remains to be seen. Plenty of people are skeptical. Four and five years of war are a lot of war and most men have had a bellyful. Yet a special campaign will be waged to secure enlistments from men now in service. Those who have put in five years have only 25 more to go before retirement.

They will be offered bonuses in mustering out pay, immediate furloughs home, bonuses for length of service on re-enlistment, no reductions in rank, choice of branch of service in which to "study" and choice of country in which they wish to serve.

If inducements such as these don't produce the required number of volunteers, it will mean continuation of the draft.

SPORTS

BY HARRY GRATSON
NEA Sports Editor

NAVY was supposed to be shot in the line, what with no robust replacements for Don Whitmire and some more, but—

The Midshipmen can't be so bad when the coaches don't know what to do with Dick Duden. As the Middies were brushed up for the seasonal kickoff against Villanova the 6-foot 2-inch, 205-pound Captain Duden was fighting the 6-foot 2-inch, 185-pound Art Markel for the right end position.

Duden was one of the country's outstanding blocking backs last autumn. Annapolis has a multiple of fine backs, and in view of the shortage of forwards and with the advent of the T in Crabtown, it was thought that Duden's blocking and pass-spearer would be of greater value at a flank than in a fast-breaking backfield. And there is nothing wrong with a first-string basketball center being put in position to snag passes as an end.

DUDEN is not accustomed to playing second fiddle in any orchestra, and no doubt will wind up with the starting job, which would free Markel to spell both him and the 6-foot 1-inch, 195-pound Leon Bramlett, fine left end of 1944. Markel, you see, has been coached to play both positions, and Cmdr. Oscar Hagberg considers him the most improved athlete on the squad.

That takes care of the ends, and the staff admits the middle of the line is stronger than the rest of it, with the 6-foot 2-inch, 185-pound Rich Scott at center, and the 6-foot 2-inch, 205-pound Jim Carrington and the 5-foot-11, 198-pound Ed Deramee at the guards.

The coaches seem to figure the tackles the major problem, although the 6-foot-3, 215-pound Bo Coppedge and the 5-foot-9, 192-pound Chuck Kiser and other able-bodied blokes are around to look after them.

Coppedge, a wrestler and trackman, saw considerable service last fall and participated in the frolics the season before. He had previous experience at Blytheville, Ark., High and Virginia Military Institute. It's about time he made the varsity.

The aggressive and determined Kiser, a piebe center in 1943, won his letter as a guard last trip.

OFFHAND, most any competent critic would say it was a bit too early to feel sorry for Navy's line.

In the backfield, Bruce Smith and Indiana's phenomenal passer, Hunchy Haernachemeyer, alternate at calling signals, with Bob Jenkins and Clyde Scott fixtures and Bill Barron dependable of the past two campaigns, backing up Notre Dame's Bob Kelly, Barron, a tricky runner, clever pass receiver and a splendid defensive back, got in a year of football at Vanderbilt before entering the Academy.

Navy may not beat Army, but the Sailors should be there or thereabouts.

And if the coaches don't know what to do with Dick Duden, it is respectfully suggested that they send him to Notre Dame, Southern California, Texas, Alabama or any other school that goes in for high-pressure football. They'll know what to do with Dick Duden.

UNDIPLOMATIC ANGER

Some members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee are distressed by the methods which the State Department used in persuading the Brazilian government to call off the Pan-American conference scheduled for Oct. 20 in Rio de Janeiro.

They have scolded the State Department for its abrupt criticism of Argentina, and showed it the error of its ways. They have pointed out that the other American nations should have been consulted. They have chided the department for taking foreign policy into its own hands without asking the senators' advice.

One senator accused the department of making this country look once more like the unloved "Colossus of the North." Another said the proper thing would have been to go ahead with the Argentine representatives. A third suggested that the Argentine delegation wouldn't have shown up, anyway.

There was more advice than Tom Sawyer got in his fence painting job. Maybe it was all good. But at the same time there was something refreshing and warmly human about the State Department's impulsive gesture of disingenuous with a thoroughly respectable government.

The United States, as this hemisphere's strongest and most active foe of fascism, has been remarkably patient with the fascist government in Buenos Aires. In fact, it actually helped to prolong that government by another impulsive gesture at San Francisco a few months ago.

To counter the Russian government's insistence that the Lublin Poles be represented at the United Nations Conference, this country's delegation led the way in securing a conference seat for Argentina. It was a move to show the Russians that we could be champion as unrepresentative a government as we believed the Russian-sponsored Lublin group

Many American military men will have to remain on foreign soil for many months to come. To feed, clothe and care for them will take huge sums of money. Your Victory Bond purchases will ease their burdens.

We can make the years ahead good years—by using the energy and enterprise, the brains and the will with which we won the war. Make doubly sure of future financial security by buying and keeping Victory Bonds.

Born in Oran, North Africa, Alan Joseph's mother died before she could bring him to America, so his father brought him aboard the Italian liner when he was sent home after three years overseas.

Making the Home Christian

Scripture: Luke 10:35-42; I Corinthians 13:11; 13:1-13

BY WILLIAM E. GILROY, D. D. CHRISTIAN homes don't just happen. They have to be made; and it takes all the members of the family to make them.

are utterly unprepared for the exigencies of life on their own. Helping ought to be a part of every well-regulated Christian home. Little duties should be assigned to, and done by all.

Children need discipline and training, as well as affection and devotion. They need to learn to bear the burdens and responsibilities that will be theirs when they grow up, and it is no kindness to shield them from everything hard or unpleasant.

THESE things are inherent in the Christian way, and they are important factors in a happy home. Love implies mutual relationships and obligations.

THE spirit of demanding, rather than that of giving, may easily become the dominant characteristic of children who grow up in a home where parents are thoughtless generous.

The test of love is in the trials and hard things of life, and these are not avoidable in the home. In fact, the home which can be the place of the finest relationships, and consequent happiness, can be the place of the worst irritations and frictions.

Pullman Co. Plans DeLuxe Rail Travel

CHICAGO, (UP)—Revolutionary advances in railroad travel will help the nation release its pent up desire for luxury transportation, Arthur M. Unger, of Pullman Standard Mfg. Co., predicts.

The "Junior club car" a playground on wheels, will provide supervised amusement for young travelers, he said.

The new "living room car," successor to the parlor car, with its magazine racks, built in radio, full view windows, and smart interior styling, will, he said, strike a keynote in the coming era of luxury travel.

Unger discussed a "day nite" coach featuring new type chairs with leg rests that unfold from the back of the seat to provide full length body support for sleeping.

A recreation car that offers dining and movies, will further increase travel comfort, he added.

Railway Makes Tests With A. M. And F. M. Radio

LOS ANGELES (UP)—The frequency modulation and amplitude modulation radio systems were tested simultaneously for the first time in railway communications history recently by the Santa Fe railway and the Farnsworth Television Corp.

Also tested for future use on railroads was an "auto pulse" system in which a small light flashes in the locomotive cab every few seconds when the engine is near another radio equipped unit.

Gal From Small Town Making Good In City

PENDELTON, Ore. (UP) The story of the small town girl who made good is the story of Wilma Roesch, 23, Pendleton, who went to New York and became a professional model.

Pictures of Miss Roesch, 23, over model, appear in full color in Vogue, Harper's Bazaar, Glamour, Mademoiselle. When she went to New York, pretty Miss Roesch had no intention of being a model.

Her career got started when she became interested in self-improvement and worked away at whitening herself into shape, liberally. So pleased with the result was she that she went to a photographer so she could have pictures to send home. She persuaded a commercial photographer to take her picture. Afterward, he told her she was photogenic—and that started the whole thing. Miss Roesch said.

"I want to see if the little gal from the sticks can't beat the city slickers at their own game," the model daughter of prominent Pendleton residents, said. But when she goes back, she'll be from the tall timber instead of the sticks, for she is one of only two women forest range fire lookouts in the Umatilla national forest of Oregon.

Marriage is a Serious Business
by Randolph Ray

"There's a Little Church Around the Corner..."

THE marriage relation has been my constant preoccupation, and naturally so, for during the 20 years in which I have been pastor of the Little Church Around the Corner, more than 50,000 marriages have been performed there. Indeed, the 95 years of the church's existence have witnessed the weddings of over 100,000 couples. More marriages take place at the Little Church than anywhere else in the world and, paradoxically, it is probably the most difficult church in which to be married.

The Church of the Transfiguration was founded in 1848 on 29th Street in the heart of New York City—now a busy thoroughfare but once oddly enough, known as Lovers' Lane. Its founder and first pastor, Dr. George Hendric Houghton, has been described as the First Saint of the American Episcopal Church. Unshaken in principle and gentle in person, he was at once an upholder of the most conservative views and a bold supporter of unconventional action when he believed it to be right.

"Be kind," was his constant admonition to those he married. "To be kind, you must be of one mind—you must really understand each other."

THE strangest of all the paradoxes concerning the church is the fact that it was a funeral which made it famous for marriages.

It happened in 1870, when a well-known English actor named George Holland died. His wife wanted him to be buried from the Church of the Atonement on Madison Avenue and 28th Street. Joseph Jefferson, the most beloved actor of his day and a close friend of Holland, went to the minister with his request.

The minister listened to his story and shook his head. "We cannot," he said firmly, "bury an actor from this church. It is impossible." He saw Jefferson's expression and added, "However, there is a little church around the corner where they do that sort of thing."

Jefferson answered, "Then, if this be so, God bless the little church around the corner." Dr. Houghton heard Jefferson's account of the death of his friend and his desire that Holland should be buried from the church. The actor went on to explain his friend's profession.

Dr. Houghton stopped him. "I only know," he said, "that your friend is dead and my services are asked. That is quite enough."

AT that time the theatrical district was downtown and actors, learning the story of George Holland's funeral, began to attend the Little Church Around the Corner in great numbers. Many of them were married there. Little by little, more and more people desired to be married from the church which had a reputation for turning out happy marriages.

The brides came from New York City and from near-by towns; they came from the Middle West and the Far West; later, they came from Europe and the distant corners of the earth. Eventually, children and grandchildren of those early brides came to the church to be married.

During those years, almost a century, fashions have changed. Brides have come to their weddings in hansom cabs and taxicabs; they have worn bustles and short skirts and—more recently—uniforms. They have worn trailing robes and been surrounded by large parties; they have worn simple street clothes and borrowed attendants at the church. The one thing that has not changed during all this time is the institution of marriage itself. Marriage, indeed, is one of the few things that have not changed during the Christian Era. It is one of a Trinity with Birth and Death.

Next: Marriage Must Be Permanent Relation.

47 Years Is Enough

Sgt. John Westervelt, 77, above, of Long Beach, Calif., believed to be the nation's oldest soldier, finally is getting out of the Army after 47 years. He's waiting for his disability discharge at Santa Ana, Calif., hospital.

Louisiana was the scene of the longest prize fight in the history of pugilism. In 1895, two lightweights in New Orleans fought 110 rounds, lasting more than seven hours.

POINT REWARD FOR USED FATS DOUBLED
4 points instead of 2 for every pound!

EVERY one of you housewives in America, in your own kitchen, can speed the return of larger supplies of soaps and all the peacetime things you have been waiting for so long. You can do it by saving more used fats . . . every drop you can scrape or skim. It's as urgently needed as ever. So keep doing it, won't you?

You women of America have done a magnificent job of saving used fats during the war, but victory has not ended the need. The fat supply for the manufacture of soap and other long-wanted products is millions of pounds less in 1945 than it was in 1944. That is why the government offers four ration points instead of two for every pound of used fats you turn in.

By skimming, scooping and scraping every last drop of used fat, you can help increase your own home supplies of soaps, soap flakes and powders more quickly. And not only soaps. But the nylons, cottons, electric washers, irons, refrigerators, automobiles and hundreds of other peacetime products we've all been waiting for.

The fats saved in your kitchen are urgently needed to help get peacetime goods back into production . . . and back to you . . . more quickly. So won't you keep up the good work even though the war is over? You'll help to fill your own needs for soaps and the civilian goods you're dreaming of. Remember, every drop of used fat is still vitally important. Keep saving, won't you?

SOCIETY

Masquers Initiate The New Members

The Masquers Club of Ranger Junior College entered into its fourteenth year of activities with the initiation of new members Wednesday night in the Little auditorium. Mrs. Hal Hunter, sponsor of the club since its organization, assisted members in the initiation. That improvisation and characterization ability of the candidates might be evaluated, each was required to present in costume, assembled without cost, a dramatic impersonation of popular radio stars and scenes from Shakespearean plays.

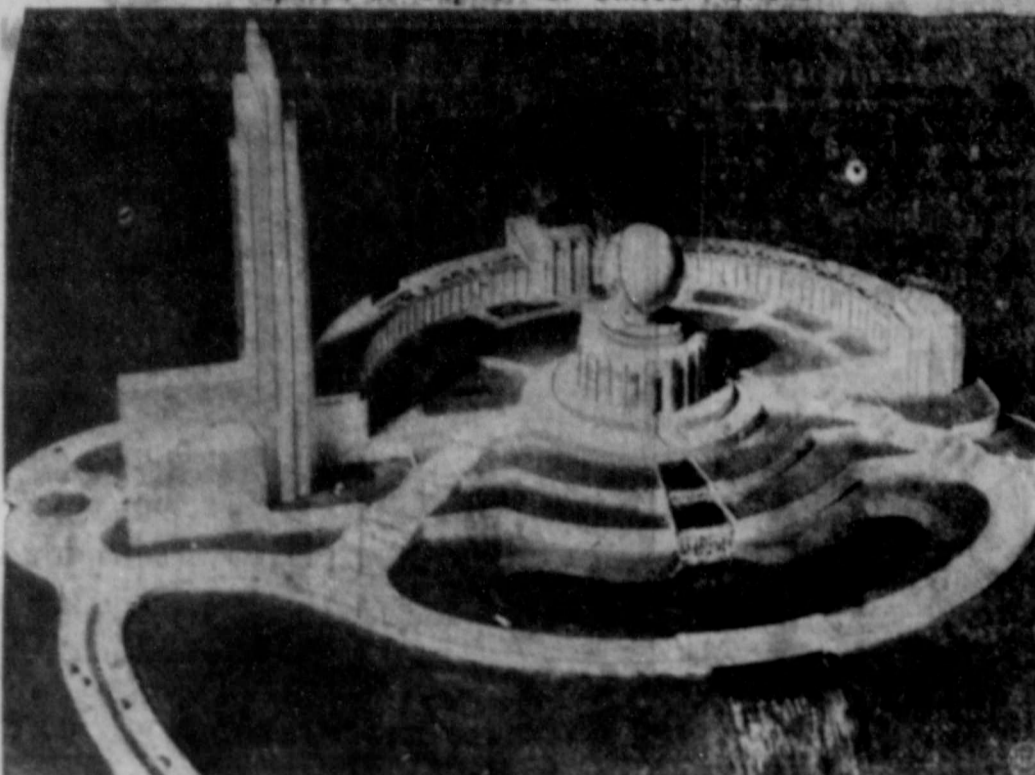

Initiates and characterizations introduced by Robert McCall, club president, were: Bob Eakin as the Great Gildersleeve; Gilbert Cogburn and Norma Jean Heinlen as Romeo and Juliet; Betty Zussman and Betty Cooper as Fibber McGee and Molly; Billy Jeanne Crawley as Lady MacBeth; Valerie Leonard as Baby Snooks; Lillian Ashcraft as Vera Vague; Mary Frances Orr as Portland; Mary Frances Guess as Minnie Pearl; Myra Sue Lee as Judy Foster; Jean Roberts, Little Audrey; Carolyn Ducker as Ginny Simms; Gwendolyn Tunnell as Hildegarde and Vera Gordon as Gracie Allen.

In a business meeting following the program, club officers were elected for the current year and are as follows: president, Robert McCall; secretary - treasurer, Carolyn Ducker; reporter, Reynolds Cosby; stage manager, Bob Eakin; property manager, Gilbert Cogburn; costuming and make up, Dorris McCrum; program committee, Betty Zussman, Betty Cooper, Mary Frances Orr; student council representative, Norma Jean Heinlen and sergeant-at-arms P. B. Stevens. After the close of the business meeting the new members were escorted in parade and costume to a drug store for refreshments. -Hold War And V Bonds-

Proposed as Capitol for United Nations.

Model of a proposed United Nations Center, designed by Architect Vincent G. Raney for location on San Francisco's Twin Peaks, is pictured above. Dominant feature would be lofty modernist skyscraper, at right, for the Secretariat, Security Council, chiefs of staff and archives. Other features would include wings for Economic and Social Council, separate buildings for 60-odd participating nations, 10,000-seat assembly hall and museum in center capped by 150-foot translucent globe which would overlook waterfalls stair-stepping down hillside.

-Save VIA V Bonds- Calf Island, Home Of Little Theatre Is Gone

BOSTON (UP) - The beautiful home on Calf Island in Boston Harbor where the little theater movement in America was begun has been torn down.

The building was the home of actress Julia Arthur and her husband, Benjamin P. Cheney. The only part left standing was a stone chimney on which the initials "J.A." and "B.C." are still visible. They are worked in colored stone above the mantel of a great fireplace.
