WASHINGTON COLUMN

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, D. C.—How things get done in Washington and how the wires get pulled are always revealing.

The opportunity to sponsor MVA was given to Sen. James E. Murray of Montana, a Missouri Valley state.

Interior therupon proceeded to draft a bill of its own. This was a more general "authority" bill, intended to make it possible to create not just a Missouri Valley Authority but others as well.

Assuming sponsorship of the MVA bill, Murray looked around for support. Among other places, he went to Department of Interior.

Interior therupon proceeded to draft a bill of its own. This was a more general "authority" bill, intended to make it possible to create not just a Missouri Valley Authority but others as well.

Marriage is a Serious Business

Marriage Must Be Permanent Relation

THE marriage relation between men and women appeared in earlier days in many strange guises. In the beginning, among our savage ancestors, the woman was the spoil of war, the property of the man strong enough to seize her and carry her away.

EDITORIALS

Readers whose memory of the theater or movies spans 10 years or so may recall a play called "The Deluge." It was the story of a group of people, a small town group full of social, political and personal animosities, who took refuge from a flood in a watertight basement.

Though in temporary safety, all faced death from suffocation in the unventilated refuge. And as breathing became more difficult and death drew nearer, their enmities seemed less and less important.

At last the oxygen in the room was nearly exhausted. Preferring quick drowning to suffocation one of the characters threw open the door in expectation of a torrent of water. But the flood had receded. And, with peril past, the had feeling returned. All departed for home as bitter as when they entered.

The point of that play is uncomfortably applicable to the present state of this country and of the world. The tragic truth is that it takes the dire peril of war to bring out the best in men.

So in this war nations forgot ambition and jealousy and ideological differences, and pooled their strength to crush the forces of tyranny. Here at home workers and employers found a way to settle disputes and work together in turning out the arms that made victory possible.

But now that the flood of war has receded, the differences are with us again in greater intensity. Selfishness and stubbornness have returned. The domestic front is threatened with economic war.

MANPOWER EXPECTS JOBS BE PLENTIFUL IN LOUISVILLE

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—The defense plant city is expected to have a plentiful supply of jobs for returning veterans, according to the War Relocation Administration.

Only four plants—a rubber plant at the Charlestown and Indiana Ordnance Works and the Curtiss-Wright plant—were shut down entirely.

The WRC reported peace time industry should afford enough jobs for former war workers and for returning veterans. In fact, the WRC report showed, there are between 3,000 and 4,000 jobs which will not be filled immediately.

With the employment outlook bright for peace time Louisville, there was one problem for which no immediate relief was seen.

The Area War Housing Center reported a housing shortage which had eased practically none at all since the end of the war.

Housing centers, officials pointed out that many immigrant workers, from the farms and mountainous regions of Kentucky and from other states, were remaining in Louisville for peace time work.

As a result, there was not enough emigration to make room for returning veterans who were applying for homes at the rate of 200 a month.

N. H. Dosker, chairman of the housing center, said Louisville's war workers were housed for the most part in dwellings which already existed before the war.

There were no temporary government housing projects in the city and living space was provided through a "share the home" program through which 7,481 homes and 5,781 furnished rooms were rented to war workers.

With the outbreak of war, Louisville was a city of similar size with a similar heavy industry and workers. Sixteen war plants developed to handle more than $444,000,000 worth of war contracts, and the population of Jefferson county plus Floyd and Clark counties across the river in Indiana grew from 451,477 in 1940 to 530,000 in 1945.

With the end of Japan, industrial workers who had increased from 42,000 in 1939 to a peak of 100,000 in the fall of 1944, began to decrease until at the present number approximately 75,000.

W. Fraysure, Louisville War Relocation Administration director, said some 20,000 workers in the area were laid off and four of the biggest plants in the area closed completely.

He added, however, there was no unemployment block in the city. It was fairly certain expansion-time industry would take up any employment slack.

Fraysure said the WRC had predicted months before V-J Day that employment would continue at its not very far from those set in the war—a prediction which brought many a wry smile.

"But we were essentially correct," the WRC director said, and added that expanding industry result in unusually good employment prospects in the Louisville area.

Fraysure pointed out that the later part of Louisville's war plants were developed merely by conversion of peace-time industry. The plants accepted government contracts, he said, and with cancellation of the contracts were ready to convert almost immediately to peace time production.

Learns The Hard Way That Crime Does Not Pay

FORT WORTH, Tex. (UP)—It is often said that crime does not pay—unless you know how. One law violator probably realizes this fact by now.

Hailed into court on a charge of speeding, the man pled "not guilty" but was fined $3 by the judge.

He begrudgingly wrote out a check for the amount, and then wrote a letter, with a copy sent to the judge's court, which halted payment on the check.

When the 10 days allowed for appealing cases lapsed, the police warrant officer paid a little visit to the offenders office, with the warrant for his arrest.

A settlement was made. The man paid $3 for the speeding charge and $2 for the warrant fee.

PARKED 18 and Railroad Maps Out Northwest Cattle Trails

BELLE FOURCHE, S. D. (UP)—Reminiscent of the Chisholm Trail are the cattle trails which are mapped each fall from the northern Montana to the Northwestern railroad terminal here.

In this country of poor roads and no railroads—cattlemen still trail their herds to the loading yards over routes arranged by the railroad.

The trails are mapped to include numerous watering pounds and grazing pastures.

We can make the years ahead good years—by using the energy and enterprise, the brains and the will with which we won the war. Make doubly sure of future financial security by buying and keeping Victory Bonds.

Says Winter Sees More Rabies Than Summer

AUSTIN, Texas — Contrary to popular belief, rabies is more prevalent in winter than in the so-called "dog-days" of summer.

In a statement released this week by Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, it was disclosed that in the mid-winter month of February last year the State Laboratory examined 312 animal brains for the presence of rabies, over thirty-seven per cent of which tested positive, whereas in August only 155 brains were examined, thirty per cent of which were positive.

"If all stray dogs were destroyed, and all pets vaccinated for rabies, it would go far toward stamping out this justly feared fatal disease," Dr. Cox said.

The doctor stressed that dogs suspected of having rabies should not be killed immediately, but should instead be confined ten days for observation to see if the disease develops. If a dog sickens and dies during the observation period, the head should be packed in ice and sent to the State Health Department for examination. Freezing the brain, or killing the dog permanently, or in such a manner as to injure the brain may make correct laboratory findings uncertain, if not impossible.

Dr. Cox declared that after a dog is confined ten days and then killed, there is still ample time for a veterinarian to be treated for rabies prevention, but he cautioned that if the disease is found to be present in the dog, the victim should then begin treatment without further delay.

Mrs. Marie Sommerville was cashing a check in a downtown bank when a woman near her struck up a conversation. The two walked out of the bank together. Suddenly the stranger pointed out a man who had just picked up a purse from the sidewalk.

At first the man was going to split the "find" with the two women. He told them the purse contained $3,000—and he would split it with them if they could show him they had some money.

Mrs. Sommerville hastened back to the bank and withdrew $200. To that she added the $50 she had with her and gave the whole sum to the other two. She saw neither $650 nor the woman again.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICE

"Doctrine of Atonement" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, October 21.

The Golden Text is: "The Son of man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister, and to give his life a ransom for many" (Mark 10:45).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson - Sermon is the following from the Bible: "The Lord hath made bare his holy arm in the eyes of all the nations; and all the ends of the earth shall see the salvation of our God" (Isaiah 52:10).

The Lesson - Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Jesus aided in reconciling man to God by giving man a truer sense of Love, the divine Principle of Jesus' teachings, and this truer sense of Love redeems man from the law of matter, sin, and death by the law of Spirit, the law of divine Love" (page 19).

MISS BAGWELL, MR. WATSON MARRIED

On Thursday evening at 8:30 in a candle lighted room in the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. White Pine Street, Miss Ruby Bagwell, daughter of W. W. Bagwell of Eastland, and a niece of Mrs. E. C. White, with whom she made her home, became the bride of Mr. Bill R. Watson, son of Mrs. Jasil Watson of Phoenix, Arizona, formerly of Lubbock, Texas. They were married by the Rev. Fred Porter, Baptist minister of Eastland in a double ring ceremony.

The bride wore a winter white two piece dress with navy blue accessories. Her corsage was of pink and white carnations, for something old she wore a yellow gold lapel watch belonging to her aunt.

The room was decorated with white roses, ferns, and crimson lilies.

Only close members of the family were present for the ceremony. After the wedding a reception was held and a few close friends of the bride called. The dining table was laid with a lace cloth and a three tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom. The cake was cut by the bride and groom while pictures were made.

The couple left immediately after the reception for a short honeymoon trip from which they will return to Ranger for a few days before continuing on to Phoenix, Arizona to make their home. Mr. Watson was recently discharged from the army after having served 32 months in the South West Pacific.
